19 ¶ And the men of the citie sayde vnto Elisha, Beholde, wee pray thee: the situation of this citie is pleasant, as thou, my lorde, seest, but the water is nought, and the ground [m] baren.

[m] Or, killeth the inhabitants.

20 Then he sayd, Bring me a new cruse, & put salt therein. And they brought it to him.

21 And he went vnto the spring of the waters, and cast there [m] the salt, and sayd, Thus saith the Lord, I haue healed this water: death shal no more come thereof, neither barrennesse to the ground.

[m] Thus God gaue him power, euen contrary to nature, to make that water profitable for mans vse, which before was hurtfull.

22 So the waters were healed vntill this day, according to the worde of Elisha which hee had spoken.

23 ¶ And hee went vp from thence vnto Beth-el. And as hee was going vp the way, little children came out of the citie, and mocked him and sayde vnto him, Come vp, thou balde head, come vp, thou balde head.

24 And he turned backe, & looked on them, and [n] cursed them in the name of the Lorde. And two beares came out of the forest, and tare in pieces two and fourtie children of them.

[n] Perceiuing their malicious heart against the lord and his word, he desireth God to take vengeance of that iniurie done vnto him.

25 So he went from thence to mount Carmel, and from thence he turned to Samaria.

CHAP. III.

1 The reigne of Iehoram. 6 He and Iehoshaphat goe to warre against Moab, which rebelled. 13 Elisha reproueth him, 17 and giueth their hoste water. 24 The Moabites are ouercome. 27 Their King sacrificeth his sonne.

[a] Reade the annotation in the first chapter and seuenteenth verse.

NOwe Iehoram the sonne of Ahab beganne to reigne ouer Israel in Samaria, the [a] eighteenth yeere of Iehoshaphat King of Iudah, and reigned twelue yeeres.

2 And hee wrought euill in the sight of the Lord, but not like his father nor like his mother: for hee tooke away the image of Baal that his father had made.

3 Neuertheless, he cleaued vnto [b] the sinnes of Ieroboam, the sonne of Nebat, which made Israel to sinne, and departed not therefrom.

[b] He sacrificed to the golden calues, that Ieroboam had made.

4 ¶ Then [c] Mesha King of Moab had store of sheepe, and rendred vnto the King of Israel an hundreth thousand lambes, & an hundreth thousand rammes with the woll.

[c] This was done after that Dauid had made the Moabite tributarie to his successors.

5 But, when Ahab was dead, the King of Moab rebelled against the King of Israel.

6 Therefore King Iehoram went out of Samaria the same season, and numbred all Israel,

7 And went, and sent to Iehoshaphat King of Iudah, saying, The King of Moab hath rebelled against me: wilt thou goe with me to battell against Moab? And he answered, I will goe vp: for [d] I am, as thou art, my people, as thy people, and mine horses, as thine horses.

[d] Reade 1. King. 22.4.

8 Then said he, What way shal we go vp? And he answered, The way of the wildernes of Edom.

9 ¶ So went the King of Israel & the King of Iudah, and the [e] King of Edom, and when they had compassed the way seuen dayes, they had no water for the hoste, nor for the cattell that † followed them.

† Ebr. that were at their feete.

10 Therefore the King of Israel saide, Alas, that the Lorde hath called these three Kings, to giue them into the hand of Moab.

11 But Iehoshaphat saide, Is there not here a Prophet of the Lorde, that wee may inquire of the Lorde by him? And one of the King of Israels seruants answered, and said, Heere is Elisha the sonne of Shaphat, which [f] powred water on the hands of Eliiah.

[f] That is, who was his seruant.

12 Then Iehoshaphat saide, [g] The worde of the Lord is with him. Therefore the King of Israel, and Iehoshaphat, and the King of Edom went downe to him.

[g] He is able to instruct vs what is Gods will in this point.

13 And Elisha sayde vnto the King of Israel, [h] What haue I to doe with thee? get thee to the prophets of thy father and to the prophets of thy mother. And the King of Israel saide vnto him, [i] Nay: for the Lord hath called these three Kings, to giue them into the hand of Moab.

[h] He knewe that this wicked King would haue bene vsed his counsell to serue his turne, and therefore he disdained to answere him.
[i] The wicked esteeme not the seruants of God, but when they are driuen by very necessitie and feare of the present danger.

14 Then Elisha said, As the Lord of hostes liueth, in whose sight I stand, if it were not, that I regarde the presence of Iehoshaphat the King of Iudah, I would [k] not haue looked toward thee, nor seene thee.

[k] God suffereth his word to be declared to the wicked, because of the godly that are among them.

15 But now bring me a minstrell. And when the minstrell [l] played, the hand of the Lord came vpon him.

[l] He sang songs to Gods glorie, and so stirred vp the Prophets gift to prophecie.

16 And he saide, Thus saith the Lorde, Make this valley full of ditches.

17 For thus saith the Lord, Yee shall neither see winde nor see raine, yet the valley shall be filled with water, that ye may drinke, both ye and your cattell, and your beasts.

18 But this is a [m] small thing in the sight of the Lord: for he will giue Moab into your hand.

[m] Though God bestow his benefites for a time vpon his enemies, yet he hath his seasons, when he will take them away, to the intent they might see his vengeance, which is prepared against them.

19 And ye shall smite euery strong towne and euery chiefe citie, and shall fell euery faire tree, & shal stoppe all the fountaines of water, & [n] marre euery good field with stones.

20 And in the morning when the meat offring was offred, beholde, there came water by the way of Edom: and the countrey was filled with water.

21 And when all the Moabites heard that the Kings were come vp to fight against them, they gathered gathered all that was able † to put on harneſſe, and vpward, and ſtoode in their border.

22 And they roſe early in the morning, when the ſunne aroſe vpon the water, and the Moabites ſawe the water ouer againſt them, as red as blood.

23 And they ſaid, o This is blood: the Kings are ſurely ſlaine, and one hath ſmitten another: now therefore, Moab, to the ſpoyle.

24 And when they came to the hoſte of Iſrael, the Iſraelites aroſe vp, and ſmote the Moabites, ſo that they fled before them, but they p inuaded them, and ſmote Moab.

25 And they deſtroyed the cities: and on all the good fielde euery man caſt his ſtone, and filled them, and they ſtopt all the fountaines of water, and felled all the good trees: onely in q Kir-haraſeth left they the ſtones thereof: howbeit they went about it with ſlings, and ſmote it.

26 And when the King of Moab ſaw that the battel was too ſore for him, he tooke with him ſeuen hundreth men that drew the ſword, to breake through vnto r king of Edom: but they could not.

27 Then he tooke his eldeſt ſonne, that ſhould haue reigned in his ſteade, and ſ offered him for a burnt offering vpon the wall: ſo that Iſrael was ſore grieued, and they departed from him, and returned to their countrey.

CHAP. IIII.

4 God increaſeth the oyle to the poore widow e by Eliſha. 12 He obteineth for the Shunammite a ſonne at Gods hand. 18 Who dying, 32 he raiſeth him vp againe. 40 Hee maketh ſweete the pottage, 42 And multiplieth the loaues.

AND one of the wiues a of the ſonnes of the Prophets cryed vnto Eliſha, ſaying, Thy ſeruant mine husband is dead, and thou knoweſt that thy ſeruant did b feare the Lord: and the creditour is come to take my two ſonnes to bee his c bondmen.

2 Then Eliſha ſaid vnto her, What ſhall I doe for thee? tell me, what haſt thou at home? And ſhe ſaid, Thine handmaid hath nothing at home, ſaue a d pitcher of oyle.

3 And hee ſayde, Goe, and borow thee veſſels abroad of all thy neighbours, emptie veſſels, and ſpare not.

4 And when thou art come in, thou ſhalt ſhut the doore vpon thee and vpon thy ſonnes, and powre out into e all thoſe veſſels, and ſet aſide thoſe that are full.

5 So ſhee departed from him, and ſhut the doore vpon her, and vpon her ſonnes. And they brought to her, and ſhe powred out.

6 And when the veſſels were full, ſhee ſayde vnto her ſonne, Bring me yet a veſſell. And hee ſayd vnto her, There is no moe veſſels. And the oyle f ceaſed.

7 Then ſhe came & tolde the man of God. And he ſayd, Goe, and ſell the oyle, and pay them that thou art in debt vnto, and liue thou and thy children of the g reſt.

8 ¶ And on a time Eliſha came to Shunem, and there a woman of great eſtimation conſtrained him to eate bread: and as he paſſed by, he turned in thither to eate bread.

9 And ſhe ſayd vnto her husband, Beholde, I know now, that this is an holy man of God that paſſeth by vs continually.

10 Let vs make h him a little chamber, I pray thee, with walles, & let vs ſet him there a bed, and a table, and a ſtoole, and a candleſticke, that hee may turne in thither when he commeth to vs.

11 ¶ And on a day, he came thither and turned into the chamber, and lay there in.

12 And ſayd to Gehazi his ſeruant, Call this Shunammite: and when he called her, ſhe ſtoode before him.

13 Then he ſaid vnto him, Say vnto her now, Beholde, thou haſt had all this great care for vs, i what ſhall we doe for thee? Is there any thing to be ſpoken for thee to the King or to the captaine of the hoſte? And ſhe anſwered, I k dwell among mine owne people.

14 Againe hee ſayd, What is then to be done for her? Then Gehazi anſwered, In deede ſhee hath l no ſonne, and her husband is olde.

15 Then ſayd he, Call her. And he called her, and ſhee ſtood in the doore.

16 And he ſayd, * At this time appointed, according to the time of life, thou ſhalt embrace a ſonne. And ſhe ſayd, Oh my Lord, thou man of God, doe not lye vnto thine handmayd.

17 So the woman conceiued, and bare a ſonne at that ſame ſeaſon, according to the time of life, that Eliſha had ſayd vnto her.

18 ¶ And when the childe was growen, it fell on a day, that hee went out to his father, and to the reapers.

19 And he ſaide vnto his father, m Mine head, mine head. Who ſaide to his ſeruant, Beare him to his mother.

20 And he tooke him & brought him to his mother, and he ſate on her knees til noone, and died.

21 Then ſhe went vp, and layed him on the bed of the man of God, and ſhut the doore vpon him, and went out.

22 ¶ Then ſhe called to her husband, & ſaid, Send with me, I pray thee, one of the yong men and one of the aſſes: for I will haſte to the man of God, and come againe.

23 And he ſaide, Wherefore wilt thou goe to him to day? it is neither n newe moone nor Sabbath day. And ſhe anſwered, † All ſhall be well.

24 Then ſhe ſadled an aſſe, and ſaide to her ſeruant, Driue, and goe forward: ſtay not for mee to get vp, except I bid thee.

25 ¶ So ſhe went, and came vnto the man of God to mount Carmel. And when the man of God ſawe her ‖ ouer againſt him, hee ſaide to Gehazi his ſeruant, Behold, the Shunammite.

26 Runne now, I ſay, to meete her, and ſay vnto her, Art thou in health? is thine husband in health? and is thy childe in health? And ſhe anſwered, We are in health.

27 And when ſhe came to the man of God vnto the mountaine, ſhe o caught him by the feete: and Gehazi went to bet, to thruſt her away: but the man of God ſaid, Let her alone: for her ſoule is † vexed within her, and the Lorde hath hid it from me, and hath not tolde it me.

28 Then ſhe ſaide, Did I deſire a ſonne of my lorde? did I not ſay, Deceiue me not?

29 Then he ſaid to Gehazi, Gird thy loynes, and take my ſtaffe in thine hand, and go thy way: p if thou meete any, ſalute him not: and if any ſalute thee, anſwere him not: and lay my ſtaffe vpon the face of the childe.

35 And he went from him, and walked vp and downe in the house, and went vp and spred himselfe vpon him: then the childe neesed r seuen times, and opened his eyes.

37 And shee came, and fell at his feete, and bowed herselfe to the ground, and tooke vp her sonne, and went out.

38 Afterward Elisha returned to Gilgal, and a famine was in the s land, and the children of the Prophets dwelt with him. And he saide vnto his seruant, Set on the great pot, and seethe pottage for the children of the Prophets.

39 And one went out into the fielde, to gather herbes, and found as it were a wilde vine, and gathered thereof t wilde gourdes his garment full, and came & shred them into the pot of pottage: for they knewe it not.

41 Then he sayd, Bring meale. And he cast it into the potte, and sayde, Powre out for the people, that they may eate: and there was none euill in the pot.

43 And his seruant answered, Howe should I set this before an hundreth men? He sayd againe, Giue it vnto the people, that they may eate: for thus sayeth the Lorde, They shall eate, and there x shall remaine.

44 So he set it before them, & they did eate, and left ouer, according to the word of the Lord.

CHAP. V.

1 Naaman the Syrian is healed of his leprosie. 16 Elisha refuseth his gifts. 27 Gehezi is striken with leprosie, because he took money and raiment of Naaman.

NOwe was there one Naaman captaine of the a hoste of the King of Aram, a great man and honourable in the sight of his lorde, because that by him the Lorde had b deliuered the Aramites. He also was a mightie man and valiant, but a leper.

2 And the Aramites had gone out by bands, and had taken a litle mayde of the land of Israel, and she † serued Naamans wife.

3 And she sayd vnto her mistris, Would God my lord were with the c Prophet that is in Samaria, he would soone deliuer him of his leprosie.

4 And d he went in, & tolde his lorde, saying, Thus and thus sayth the mayde that is of the land of Israel.

5 And the King of Aram sayde, Goe, thy way thither, and I wil send a letter vnto the King of Israel. And he departed, and e tooke † with him ten talents of siluer, and sixe thousand pieces of golde, and ten change of raiments,

6 And brought the letter to the King of Israel to this effect, Now when this letter is come vnto thee, vnderstand, that I haue sent thee Naaman my seruant, that thou mayest heale him of his leprosie.

7 And when the King of Israel had read the letter, hee rent his clothes, and sayd, Am I God, to kill and to giue life, that he doeth send to me, that I should heale a man frō his leprosie? wherefore consider, I pray you, and see how he seeketh a quarell against me.

8 But when Elisha the man of God had heard that the King of Israel had rent his clothes, hee sent vnto the King, saying, f Wherfore hast thou rent thy clothes? Let him come nowe to me, and he shal know that there is a Prophet in Israel.

9 ¶ Then Naaman came with his horse, and with his charets, and stoode at the doore of the house of Elisha.

10 And Elisha sent a messenger vnto him, saying, Go and wash thee in Iorden seuen times, and thy flesh shal come againe to thee, and thou shalt be clensed.

11 But Naaman was g wroth and went away, and saide, Beholde, I thought with my selfe, Hee will surely come out, and stand, and call on the Name of the Lorde his God and put his hand on the place, and heale the leprosie.

12 Are not Abana and Pharpar riuers of Damascus, better then all the waters of Israel? may I not wash me in them, and be cleansed? so he turned, and departed in displeasure.

13 But his seruantes came, and spake vnto him, and said, h Father, if the Prophet had commanded thee a great thing, wouldest thou not haue done it? how much rather then, when hee saith to thee, Wash, and be cleane?

14 Then went he downe, and * washed himselfe seuen times in Iorden, according to the saying of the man of God: and his flesh came againe, like vnto ỹ flesh of a little child, & he was cleane.

15 ¶ And he turned againe to the man of God, hee, and all his companie, and came and stoode before him, and said, Beholde now, I knowe that there is no God in all the world but in Israel: now therfore I pray thee, take a reward of thy seruat.

16 For hee saide, As the Lorde liueth (before whom I stand) I will not receiue it. And he would haue cōstrained him to receiue it, but he refused.

17 Moreouer Naaman saide, Shall there not be giuen to thy seruant two mules loade of this earth? for thy seruant wil henceforth offer neither burnt sacrifice nor offering vnto any other god, saue vnto the Lord.

18 Herein the Lorde be i merciful vnto thy seruant, that when my master goeth into the house of Rimmon, to worship there, and leaneth on mine hand, and I bowe my selfe in the house of Rimmon: when I doe bowe downe, I say, in the 6 Elisha maketh yron to swimme aboue the water. 8 He discloseth the King of Syrias counsell to the king of Israel. 13 Who sending certaine to take him, were kept fast in Samaria. 24 Samaria is besieged, and endureth extreme famine.

3 And one said, Vouchsafe, I pray thee, to goe with thy seruants. And he answered, I will goe.

4 So he went with them, & when they came to Iorden, they cut downe wood.

5 And as one was felling of a tree, the ‖ yron fell into the water: then he cryed, and saide, Alas master, it was but borowed.

6 And the man of God saide, Where fell it? And hee shewed him the place. Then hee cut downe a piece of wood, and cast in thither, and he caused the yron to [b] swimme.

7 Then he saide, Take it vp to thee. And hee stretched out his hand, and took it.

8 ¶ Then the King of Aram warred against Israel, and tooke counsel with his seruants, and said, In [c] such and such a place shall be my campe.

9 Therefore the man of God sent vnto the King of Israel, saying, Beware thou goe not ouer to such a place: for the there Aramites are come downe.

10 So the King of Israel sent to the place which the man of God tolde him, and warned him of, and [d] saued himselfe from thence, not once, nor twise.

18 So [i] they came downe to him, but Elisha prayed vnto the Lord, and said, Smite this people, I pray thee with blindnesse. And he smote them with blindnes, according to the worde of Elisha.

19 And Elisha said vnto them, This is not the way, neither is this the citie: followe mee, and I will leade you to the man whome yee seeke. But he [k] ledde them to Samaria.

20 And when they were come to Samaria, Elisha said, Lord, open their eyes that they may see. And the Lorde opened their eyes, and they sawe, and beholde, they were in the mids of Samaria.

22 And hee answered, Thou shalt not smite them: doest thou not smite them that thou hast taken with thy sworde, and with thy bowe? but set bread and water before them, that they may eate and drinke and goe to their master.

23 And he made great preparation for them: and when they had eaten & drunken, he sent them away: and they went to their master. So [y] bands of Aaram came [m] no more into the land of Israel.

24 But afterwarde Ben-hadad King of Aram gathered all his hoste, and went vp and besieged Samaria.

f Though it had bene nothing in mans iudgement to haue taken Elisha, yet the wicked euer doubt & thinke they are neuer able to prepare power ynough, though it be but against one or a fewe.

l The wicked vse reuerent and graue wordes towards the seruants of God, when they thinke to haue any commoditie by them, though in their heart they can not abide them.

CHAP. VII.

1 Elisha prophecieth plentie of victaile and other thinges to Samaria. 6 The Syrians runne away, and leave no man following them. 17 The prince that would not beleeue the worde of Elisha is troden to death.

THen Elisha saide, Heare ye the worde of the Lorde: thus saith the Lord, a To morow this time a measure of fine floure shalbe sold for a shekel, and two measures of barley for a shekel in the gate of Samaria.

a The godly are euer assured of Gods help in their necessities, but the times and houres are onely reuealed by Gods Spirit.

2 Then a prince, on whose hande the King b leaned, answered the man of God, and saide, Though the Lorde would make c windowes in the heauen, could this thing come to passe? And he saide, Behold, thou shalt see it with thine eyes, but thou shalt not d eate thereof.

b To whome the king gaue ȳ charge and ouersight of things, as verse 17.

c He mocketh at ȳ Prophets words, saying, that if God rayned downe corne from heauē, yet this could not come to passe.

d Thy infidelitie shalbe punished herein when thou shalt see this miracle and yet not be partaker thereof.

3 Nowe there were foure leprous men at the e entring in of the gate: and they saide on to an other, Why sit we here vntill we die?

e For it was commanded in the law that they shoulde dwell apart and not among their brethrē. Leu. 13. 46.

4 If we say, We will enter into the citie, the famine is in the citie, and we shall die there: and if we sit here, we die also. Nowe therefore come, and let vs fall into the campe of the Aramites: if they saue our liues, we shall liue: and if they kill vs, we are but dead.

5 So they rose vp in the twilight, to goe to the campe of the Aramites: and when they were come to the vtmost part of the campe of the Aramites, loe, there was no man there.

6 For the Lorde had caused the campe of the Aramites to heare a f noyse of charets & a noyse of horses, and a noyse of a great armie, so that they said one to another, Beholde, the King of Israel hath hired against vs the Kings of the Hittites, and the Kings of the Egyptians to come vpon vs.

f Thus God needeth no great preparatiō to destroy the wicked, though they be neuer so many: for he can scatter them with a small noyse or shaking of a leafe.

7 Wherefore they arose, and fled in the twilight, and left their tentes and their horses, and their asses, euen the campe as it was, and g fledde for their liues.

g The wicked needeth no greater enemie then their owne consciences to pursue them.

8 And when these lepers came to the vtmost part of the campe, they entred into one tent, and did eate and drinke, and caried thence siluer and golde, and raiment, and went and hid it: after they returned, and entred into another tent, and caried thence also, and went and hid it.

9 Then said one to another, We doe not well: this day is a day of good tidings, and wee holde our peace. if wee tarie till day light, some ‖ mischiefe will come vpon vs. Now therefore, come, let vs goe, and tell the Kings housholde.

‖Or, we shall misse for our

10 So they came, and called vnto the porters of the citie, and tolde them, saying, We came to the campe of the Aramites, and loe, there was no man there, neither voyce of man, but horses tyed and asses tyed: and the tents were as they were.

11 And the porters cryed and declared to the Kings house within.

12 Then the King arose in the night, and saide vnto his seruants, h I wil shew you now, what the Aramites haue done vnto vs. They know that we are a famished, therefore they are gone out of the campe to hide themselues in the fielde, saying, When they come out of the citie, we shall catch them aliue, and get into the citie.

h He misunderstood the Prophets wordes, and therefore could beleeue nothing, as they which are more politike then godly euer call perilh then neede.

13 And one of his seruants answered, and saide, Let men take now fiue of the horses that remaine, and are left in the citie, (behold, they are euen as all the i multitude of Israel that are left therein: beholde, I say, they are as the multitude of the Israelites that are consumed) and we wil send to see.

i There are no more left, but they, or the rest are consumed with the famine as the rest of the people.

14 So they tooke ‖ two charets of horses, and the King sent after the hoste of the Aramites, saying, Goe and see.

‖Or, two horse of the charet, which were accustomed to draw in the charets.

15 And they went after them vnto Iorden, and loe, all the way was full of clothes and vessels which the Aramites had cast from them in their haste: & the messengers returned, & told the king.

16 Then the people went out and spoyled the campe of ȳ Aramites: so a measure of fine floure was at a shekel, and two measures of barley at a shekel k according to the worde of the Lorde.

k Which he spake by the mouth of Elisha, verse 1.

17 And the King gaue the prince (on whose hand he leaned) the charge of the gate, and the people l trode vpon him in the gate, and he dyed, as the man of God had saide, which spake it, when the King came downe to him.

l As the people preased out of the gate to runne to the Syrians tents where they had heard was meate and great spoyle left.

18 And it came to passe, as the man of God had spoken to the King, saying, Two measures of barly at a shekel, and a measure of fine floure shall be at a shekel, to morowe about this time in the gate of Samaria.

19 But the prince had answered the man of God, and sayde, Though the Lorde woulde make windowes in the heauen, coulde it come so to passe? And he said, Behold, thou shalt see it with thine eyes, but thou shalt not eate thereof.

20 And so it came vnto him: for the people trode vpon him in the gate, and he dyed.

CHAP. VIII.

1 Elisha prophecieth vnto the Shunamite the death of seuen yeeres. 12 Hee prophecieth to Hazael what he shall be King of Syria. 15 Hee reigneth after Benhadad. 16 Iehoram reigneth ouer Iudah. 20 Edom falleth from Iudah. 23 Ahaziah succeedeth Iehoram.

THen spake Elisha vnto the woman, * whose sonne he had restored to life, saying, Vp, and goe, thou, and thine house, and soiourne where thou a canst soiourne: for the Lorde hath called for a famine, and it commeth also vpon the land seuen yeere.

*Chap. 4. 35.

a Where thou canst finde a commodious place to dwell, where as is plentie.

2 And

2 And the woman arose, and did after the saying of the man of God, and went both she and her housholde and soiourned in the land of the Philistims seuen yeeres.

3 ¶ And at the seuen yeeres ende, the woman returned out of the land of the Philistims, and went out [b] to call vpon the King for her house and for her land.

4 And the King talked with Gehazi the seruant of the man of God, saying, Tell me, I pray thee, all the great actes that Elisha hath done.

5 And as he tolde [c] the King, how he had restored one dead to life, behold, the woman, whose sonne he had raised to life, called vpon the King for her house and for her land. Then Gehazi said, My Lord, O King, this is the woman, and this is her sonne, whome Elisha restored to life.

6 And when the King asked the woman, shee told him: so the King appoynted her an Eunuch, saying, Restore thou all that are hers, and all the [d] fruites of her landes since the day shee left the land, euen vntill this time.

7 ¶ Then Elisha came to Damascus, and Benhadad the King of Aram was sicke, and one tolde him, saying, The man of God is come hither.

8 And the king sayd vnto Hazael, Take a present in thine hand, and go meete the man of God, that thou mayest inquire of the Lorde by him, saying, Shall I recouer of this disease?

9 ¶ So Hazael went to meete him, and tooke the present in his hand, and of euery [e] good thing of Damascus, euen the burden of fourtie camels, and came and stoode before him, and sayde, Thy sonne Ben-hadad King of Aram hath sent me to thee, saying, Shall I recouer of this disease?

10 And Elisha sayd to him, Goe, and say vnto him, Thou shalt [f] recouer: howbeit the Lord hath shewed me, that he shall surely dye.

11 And hee looked vpon him stedfastly, till Hazael was ashamed, and the man of God wept.

12 And Hazael sayde, Why weepeth my lord? And he answered, Because I knowe the euill that thou shalt doe vnto the children of Israel: for their strong cities shalt thou set on fire, and their yong men shalt thou slay with the sworde, and shalt dash their infants against the stones, and rent in pieces their women with childe.

13 Then Hazael said, What? is thy seruant a [g] dogge, that I should doe this great thing? And Elisha answered, The Lord hath shewed me, that thou shalt be King of Aram.

14 ¶ So he departed from Elisha, and came to his master, who said to him, What said Elisha to thee? And hee answered, He tolde mee that thou shouldest recouer.

15 And on the morow he tooke a thicke cloth and dipt it in water, and [h] spread it on his face, and he dyed: and Hazael reigned in his stead.

16 ¶ * Nowe in the first yeere of Ioram the sonne of Ahab King of Israel, and of Iehoshaphat King of Iudah, [i] Iehoram the sonne of Iehoshaphat King of Iudah began [k] to reigne.

17 He was two & thirty yere old, when he began to reigne: and he reigned eight yeere in Ierusalem.

18 And hee walked in the wayes of the Kings of Israel, as did the house of Ahab: for the [l] daughter of Ahab was his wife, and hee did euill in the sight of the Lord.

19 Yet the Lord would not destroy Iudah, for Dauid his seruants sake, *as he had promised him to giue him a light, and to his children for euer. *2.Sam.7.13.

20 ¶ In those dayes Edom [m] rebelled from vnder the hand of Iudah, and made a King ouer themselues.

21 Therefore Ioram went to Zair, and all his charets with him, and hee arose by night, and smote the Edomites which were about him with the captaines of the charets, and the people fled into their tents.

22 So Edom rebelled from vnder the hand of Iudah vnto this day. then [n] Libnah rebelled at that same time.

23 Concerning the rest of the actes of Ioram and all that hee did, are they not written in the booke of the Chronicles of the Kings of Iudah?

24 And Ioram slept with his fathers, and was buried with his fathers in the citie of Dauid. And *Ahaziah his sonne reigned in his steade. * 2.Chro.22.1.

25 ¶ In the twelfe yeere of Ioram the sonne of Ahab King of Israel did Ahaziah the sonne of Iehoram King of Iudah begin to reigne.

26 * Two and twentie yeere olde was Ahaziah when he began to reigne, and he reigned one yeere in Ierusalem, & his mothers name was Athaliah the daughter of Omri King of Israel. [o]

27 And he walked in the way of the house of Ahab, and did euill in the sight of the Lorde, like the house of Ahab: for he was the sonne in lawe of the house of Ahab.

28 And he went with Ioram the sonne of Ahab to warre against Hazael King of Aram in [p] Ramoth Gilead, and the Aramites smote Ioram.

29 And King Ioram returned to be healed in [q] Izreel of the wounds which the Aramites had giuē him at Ramah, whē he fought against Hazael King of Aram. And Ahaziah the sonne of Iehoram king of Iudah went downe to see Ioram the sonne of Ahab in Izreel, because he was sicke.

CHAP. IX.

6 Iehu is made King of Israel, 24 And killeth Iehoram the King thereof, 27 And Ahaziah otherwise called Ochozias, the King of Iudah, 33 And causeth Iezebel to be cast downe out of a window, and the dogges did eate her.

THen Elisha the Prophet called one of [a] children of the Prophets, and saide vnto him, * Gird thy loines and take this boxe of oyle in thine hand, and get thee to Ramoth Gilead.

2 And when thou commest thither, looke where is Iehu the sonne of Iehoshaphat, the son of Nimshi, and go, & make him arise vp from among his brethren, & leade him † to a secret chamber.

3 Then take the boxe of oyle and powre it on his head, and say, Thus sayeth the Lord, I haue anointed thee for King ouer Israel. then open the doore, and flee without any tarying.

4 So the seruant of the Prophet gate him vp to Ramoth Gilead.

5 And when he came in, behold, the captaines of the armie were sitting. And he saide, I haue a message to thee, O captaine. And Iehu saide, Vnto which of all vs? And he answered, To thee, O captaine.

6 And he arose, and went into the house, and hee powred the oyle on his head and saide vnto him, Thus sayth the Lorde God of Israel, I haue [b] anoynted thee for King ouer the people of the Lorde, euen ouer Israel.

10 And the dogges shall eate Iezebel in the fielde of Izreel, and there shalbe none to burie her. and he opened the doore, and fled.

11 ¶ Then Iehu came out to the c seruants of his lord. And one said vnto him, Is all well? wherefore came this d madde fellow to thee? And hee sayd vnto them, Ye know the man, and what his talke was.

c That is, the rest of the armie, whom he called before, his brethren, verse 2.

d In this estimation the world hath the ministers of God: notwithstanding forasmuch as the world hath euer slandered the children of God (yea they called the sonne of God a deceiuer, and said he had the deuil:) therefore they ought not to be discouraged.

12 And they sayde, It is false, tell vs it nowe. Then he sayd, Thus and thus spake he to me, saying, Thus saith the Lord, I haue anoynted thee for King ouer Israel.

13 Then they made haste, and tooke euery man his garment, & put it vnder him on the top of the staires, and blew the trumpet, saying, Iehu is King.

14 So Iehu the sonne of Iehoshaphat the sonne of Nimshi conspired against Ioram: (Now Ioram kept Ramoth Gilead, he and all Israel, because of Hazael King of Aram.

15 And * King Ioram returned to be healed in Izreel of the woundes, which the Aramites had giuen him, when he fought with Hazael King of Aram) and Iehu sayde, If it be your mindes, let no man depart and escape out of the citie, to goe and tell in Izreel.

*Chap. 8. 29.

16 So Iehu gate vp into a charet, and went to Izreel: for Ioram lay there, and e Ahaziah King of Iudah was come downe to see Ioram.

e God had thus ordeined, as is read, 2. Chro. 22. 7. that this wicked and idolatrous King, who was more ready to gratifie wicked Ioram, then to obey the will of God, should perish with him, by whose meanes he thought to haue bene stronger.

17 And the watchman that stood in the towre in Izreel spyed the company of Iehu as he came, and said, I see a company. And Iehoram said, Take a horseman and send to meete them, that he may say, Is it peace?

18 So there went one on horsebacke to meete him, and sayde, Thus saith the King, Is it peace? And Iehu said, What hast thou to doe with peace? ‖ Turne behinde me. And the watchman tolde, saying, The messenger came to them, but he commeth not againe.

‖ Or, followe me.

19 Then he sent out another on horsebacke, which came to them, and sayde, Thus sayeth the King, Is it peace? And Iehu answered, What hast thou to doe with peace? turne behinde me.

20 And the watchman tolde, saying, He came to them also, but commeth not againe, and the marching is like the marching of Iehu the sonne of Nimshi: for he marcheth f furiously.

f As one that went earnestly about his enterprise.

21 ¶ Then Iehoram sayd, Make ready: and his charet was made ready. And Iehoram King of Israel and Ahaziah King of Iudah went out either of them in his charet against Iehu, and met him in the fielde of Naboth the Izreelite.

22 And when Iehoram sawe Iehu, he sayd, Is it peace, Iehu? And he answered, What g peace? whiles the whoredomes of thy mother Iezebel, and her witchcraftes are yet in great number?

g Meaning, that forasmuch as God is their enemie because of their sinne, that he will euer stirre vp some to reuenge his cause.

23 Then Iehoram turned his hand, and fled, and said to Ahaziah, O Ahaziah, there is treason.

24 But Iehu tooke a bowe in his hand, and smote Iehoram betweene the shouldets, that the arowe went through his heart and he fel downe in his charet.

25 Then said Iehu to Bidkar a captaine, Take, and cast him in some place of the fielde of Naboth the Izreelite; for I remember that when I and thou rode together after Ahab his father, the Lord ‖ layed this burden vpon him.

26 *Surely I haue seene yesterday h blood of Naboth, and the blood of his i sonnes, sayde the Lord, and I will render it thee in this fielde, saith the Lorde: nowe therefore take and cast him in the fielde according to the worde of the Lord.

*2. King. 9. 36.

h By this place it is euident, that Iezebel caused Naboth and his sonnes to be put to death, that she might enioy their vineyard and inheritance: for else the children should not haue claimed possession.

i After that he was wounded in Ramoth Gilead, he fled to Megiddo, which was a citie of Iudah.

27 But when Ahaziah the King of Iudah sawe this, he fled by the way of the garden house. And Iehu pursued after him, and sayd, Smite him also in the charet: and they smote him in the going vp to Gur, which is by Ibleam. And he fled to k Megiddo, and there died.

k That is, almost a whole yeare: for in the 11. chap. 8. & 21. when he ioyned he began to reigne the twelfth yeere of Ioram, he tooke part of the yeere for the whole.

28 And his seruants caried him in a charet to Ierusalem, and buried him in his sepulchre with his fathers in the citie of Dauid.

29 ¶ And in the l eleuenth yere of Ioram the sonne of Ahab, began Ahaziah to reigne ouer Iudah.

l Being of a hautie and cruell nature, she would still retaine her princely state and dignitie.

30 And when Iehu was come to Izreel, Iezebel heard of it, and painted her face, and tired her head, and m looked out at a windowe.

m As though she would say, Can any traitor or any that riseth against his superior, stand good fore-sight? trade 2. King. 9. 30.

31 And as Iehu entred at the gate, shee saide, Had n Zimri peace, which slew his master?

n This he did by the motion of the Spirit of God, that her blood should be shed, that had shed the blood of innocents, to his spectacle & example of gods iudgements to all tirants.

32 And he lift vp his eies to the windowe, and said, Who is on my side, who? Then two or three of her ‖ Eunuches looked vnto him.

33 And he saide, Cast her downe: and they cast her downe, o and hee sprinckled of her blood vpon the wall, and vpon the horses, and he trode her vnder foote.

o To wit, of the King of Zidon, 1. King. 16. 31.

34 And when he was come in, he did eate and drinke, and saide, Visite now yonder cursed woman, and burie her: for she is a p kings daughter.

†Et. by the hand of *1. King. 21. 23.

35 And they went to burie her, but they found no more of her, then the skull and the feete, and the palmes of her hands.

p Thus Gods iudgements appeare euen in the world against them that despise his word and persecute his seruants.

36 Wherefore they came againe and told him. And he said, This is the worde of the Lord, which he spake † by his seruant Eliiah the Tishbite, saying, * In the field of Izreel shal the dogs eate the flesh of Iezebel.

37 And the carkeis of Iezebel shalbe as doung vpon the ground in the fielde of Izreel, so that none shall say, ‖ This is Iezebel.

CHAP. X.

6 Iehu causeth the seuentie sonnes of Ahab to be slaine, 14. And after that fourtie and two of Ahaziahs brethren, 25 He killeth also all the Priestes of Baal. 33 After his death his sonne reigneth in his stead.

AHab had nowe seuentie a sonnes in Samaria. And Iehu wrote letters, and sent to Samaria vnto the rulers of Izreel, and to the Elders, and to the bringers vp of Ahabs childre, to this effect, a The Scripture vseth to call those sonnes, which are either children or nephewes.

2 Now when this letter commeth to you, (for ye haue with you your masters sonnes, yee haue with you both charets and horses, and a defenced citie, and armour)

3 Consider therefore which of your masters sonnes is best & most meete, and b set him on his fathers throne, and fight for your masters house.

b He wrote this to proue them whether they would take his part or no.

4 But they were exceedingly afraide, and said, Behold, two Kings could not stand before him, how shall we then stand?

5 And

5 And he that was gouernour of Ahab house, and he that ruled the citie, & the Elders, and the bringers vp of the children sent to Iehu, saying,
Wee are thy seruants, and will doe all that thou shalt bid vs: wee will make no King: doe what seemeth good to thee.

6 ¶ Then hee wrote another letter to them, saying, If ye be mine, and will obey my voyce, [c] take the heads of the men that are your masters sonnes, and come to me to Izreel by to morowe this time. (Now the Kings sonnes, euen seuentie persons were with the great men of the citie, which brought them vp)

7 And when the letter came to them, they tooke the Kings sonnes, and slewe the seuentie persons, and laid their heads in baskets, and sent them vnto him to Izreel.

8 ¶ Then there came a messenger & tolde him, saying, They haue brought the heads of the Kings sonnes. And he said, Let them lay them on two heapes at ỹ entring in of ỹ gate vntill ỹ morning.

9 And when it was day, he went out, & stoode and said to all the people, Ye be [d] righteous: behold, I conspired against my master, and slew him: but who slewe all these?

10 Knowe nowe that there shall fall vnto the earth nothing of the word of the Lord, which the Lord spake concerning the house of Ahab: for the Lord hath brought to passe the things that hee spake † by his seruant * Eliah.

11 So Iehu slew al that remained of the house of Ahab in Izreel, and all that were great with him, and his familiars and his [e] Priestes, so that hee let none of his remaine.

12 ¶ And he arose, and departed and came to Samaria. And as Iehu was in the way by an house where the shepheards did sheare, 13 He met with the brethren of Ahaziah king of Iudah, and sayd, Who are ye? And they answered, Wee are the brethren of Ahaziah, and goe downe to salute the children of the King and the children of the Queene.

14 And hee sayde, Take them aliue. And they tooke them aliue and slew them at the wel beside the house where the sheepe are shorne, euen two and fourtie men, and he [f] left not one of them.

15 ¶ And when hee was departed thence, he mette with Iehonadab the sonne of Rechab comming to meete him, and he [g] ‖ blessed him, and sayd to him, Is thine heart vpright, as mine heart is toward thine? And Iehonadab answered, Yea, doubtlesse. Then giue me thine hand. And when he had giuen him his hand, hee tooke him vp to him into the charet.

16 And he sayde, Come with mee, and see the zeale that I haue for the Lord: so they made him ride in his charet.

17 And when he came to Samaria, he slewe all that remained vnto Ahab in Samaria, till hee had destroyed him, according to the word of the Lord, which he spake to Eliah.

18 Then Iehu assembled all the people, and sayde vnto them, Ahab serued [h] Baal a little, but Iehu shall serue him much more.

19 Now therfore call vnto me al the prophets of Baal, all his seruants, & all his priests, & let not a man be lacking: for I haue a great sacrifice for Baal: whosoeuer is lacking, he shal not liue. But Iehu did it by a subtilty to destroy ỹ seruãts of Baal,

20 And Iehu sayd, † Proclaime a solemne assemblie for Baal. And they proclaimed it. † Or, sanctifie

21 So Iehu sent vnto all Israel, & al the seruants of Baal came, and there was not a man left that came not. And they came into the house of Baal, and the house of Baal was full from ende to ende.

22 Then he said vnto him that had the charge of the vestrie, Bring forth vestments for al the seruants of Baal. And he brought the out vestments.

23 And when Iehu went, and Iehonadab the sonne of Rechab into the house of Baal, he said vnto the seruants of Baal, Search diligently, and looke, lest there be here with you any of the [i] seruants of the Lord, but the seruants of Baal only.

24 And when they went in to make sacrifice and burnt offering, Iehu appoynted foure score men without, and sayd, If any of the men whom I haue brought into your hands, escape, ‖ his soule shalbe for his soule.

25 And when hee had made an ende of the burnt offring, Iehu sayde to the garde, and to the captaines, Goe in, slay them, let not a man come out. And they smote them with the edge of the sword. And the gard, and the captaines cast them out, and went vnto the [k] citie, where was the temple of Baal.

26 And they brought out the images of the temple of Baal, and burnt them.

27 And they destroyed the image of Baal, and threwe downe the house of Baal, and made a iakes of it vnto this day.

28 So Iehu destroyed Baal out of Israel.

29 But from the sinnes of Ieroboam the sonne of Nebat which made Israel to sinne, Iehu departed not from them, neither from the golden calues that were in Beth-el and that were in Dan.

30 ¶ And the Lord sayd vnto Iehu, Because thou hast diligently executed that which was right in mine eyes, and hast done vnto the house of Ahab according to all things that were in mine heart, therefore shall thy [l] sonnes vnto the fourth generation sit on the throne of Israel.

31 But Iehu regarded not to walke in the law of the Lord God of Israel with all his heart: for hee departed not from the sinnes of Ieroboam, which made Israel to sinne.

32 In those dayes the Lord began to ‖ lothe Israel, and Hazael smote them in all the coastes of Israel, 33 From Iorden Eastward, euen all the land of Gilead, the Gadites, and the Reubenites, & them that were of Manasseh, from Aroer (which is by the riuer Arnon) and Gilead and Bashan.

34 Concerning the rest of the actes of Iehu, and all that he did, and all his valiant deedes, are they not written in the booke of the Chronicles of the Kings of Israel?

35 And Iehu slept with his fathers, and they buried him in Samaria, and Iehoahaz his sonne reigned in his stead.

36 And the time that Iehu reigned ouer Israel in Samaria is eight and twentie yeeres.

3 And hee was with her hid in the house of the Lord sixe yeere: and Athaliah did reigne ouer the land.

4 ¶ * And the seuenth yeere d Iehoiada sent and tooke the captaines ouer hundreths, with other captaines and them of the garde, and caused them to come vnto him into the house of the Lord, and made a couenant with them, and tooke an othe of them in the house of the Lord, and shewed them the Kings sonne.

8 And ye shall compasse the King round about, euery man with his weapon in his hand, & whosoeuer cōmeth within the ranges, let him be slaine: be you with the King, as he goeth out and in.

9 ¶ And the captaines of the hundreths did according to all that Iehoiada the Priest cōmanded, and they tooke euery man his men that entred in to their charge on the i Sabbath with them that went out of it on the Sabbath, and came to Iehoiada the Priest.

10 k And the Priest gaue to the captaines of hundreths the speares and the shieldes that were King Dauids, and were in the house of the Lord.

11 And the gard stoode, euery man with his weapon in his hand, from the right side of the house to the left side, about the altar and about the house, round about the King.

12 Then hee brought out l the Kings sonne, and put the crowne vpon him, and gaue him m the Testimonie, and they made him King: also they anoynted him, and clapt their handes, and sayd, God saue the King.

13 ¶ And when Athaliah heard the noyse of the running of the people, she came in to the people in the house of the Lord.

14 And when shee looked, beholde, the King stood by a n pillar, as the maner was, and the princes and the trumpetters by the King, and all the people of the land reioyced, and blew with trumpets. Then Athaliah rent her clothes, and cryed, Treason, treason.

15 But Iehoiada the Priest commaunded the captaines of the hundreths that had o rule of the hoste, and said vnto them, Haue her ‖ forth of the ranges, and he that p followeth her, let him die by the sword: for the Priest had sayd, Let her not be slaine in the house of the Lord.

16 Then they laid hands on her, and she went by the way, by the which the horses goe to the house of the King, and there was she slaine.

17 And Iehoiada made a couenant betweene the Lord, and q the King & the people, that they should be the Lords people: likewise betweene the q King and the people.

18 Then all the people of the land went into the house of Baal, and destroyed it with his altars, and his images brake they downe courageously, and slewe Mattan the Priest of Baal before the r altars: and the s Priest set a garde ouer the house of the Lord.

6 Iehoash maketh prouision for the repairing of the Temple. 16 Hee payeth the King of Syria by a present from comming against Ierusalem. 20 He is killed by two of his seruants.

IN* the seuenth yeere of Iehu Iehoash began to reigne, and reigned fourtie yeeres in Ierusalem, and his mothers name was Zibiah of Beer-sheba.

2. Chron. 24. 1.

2 And Iehoash did that which was good in the sight of the Lord all his time that a Iehoiada the Priest taught him.

a So long as they gaue eare to the true ministers of God, they prospered.

3 But b the hie places were not taken away: for the people offred yet and burnt incense in the hie places.

b So hard a thing it is for them, that are in authoritie, to be brought to the perfite obedience of God.

4 ¶ And Iehoash sayd to the Priestes, All the siluer of dedicate things that bee brought to the house of the Lord, that is, the money of them that are vnder the c count, the money that euery man is set at, and all the money that one offereth willingly, and bringeth into the house of the Lord, c That is, the money of redemptiō, Exo. 30. 12: also the money which the Priest valued the vowes at, Leuit. 27. 2. and their liberalitie.

5 Let the Priestes take it to them, euery man of his acquaintance: and they shall repaire the d broken places of the house, whereiocuer any decay is found.

d For the Temple which was built an hundreth fifth and fiue yeeres before, had many things decayed in it, both by the negligence of the kings his predecessors, and also by the wickednes of the idolaters.

6 ¶ Yet in the three and twentieth yeere of King Iehoash the Priestes had not mended that which was decayed in the Temple.

7 Then King Iehoash called for Iehoiada the Priest, and the other Priestes, and sayd vnto them, Why repaire yee not the ruines of the Temple? now therefore e receiue no more money of your acquaintance, except ye deliuer it to repaire the ruines of the Temple.

e Hee taketh from them the ordering of the money, because of their negligence.

8 So the Priestes consented to receiue no more money of the people, neither to repaire the decayed places of the Temple.

9 Then Iehoiada the Priest tooke a chest, and bored a hole in the lid of it, and set it beside the altar, on the f right side, as euery man commeth into the Temple of the Lord. And the Priestes that kept the ‖ doore, put therein all the money that was brought into the house of the Lord.

h For these men had onely the charge of the reparation of the Temple, and the rest of the money was brought to the King, who caused these afterward to be made, 2.Chro.24.14.

13 Howbeit there was h not made for the house of the Lord bowles of siluer, instruments of musicke, basons, trumpets, nor any vessels of golde, or vessels of siluer of the money that was brought into the house of the Lord.

14 But they gaue it to the workemen, which repayred therewith the house of the Lord.

15 Moreouer, they reckoned not with y men, into whose handsthey deliuered that money to be bestowed on workemen: for they dealt faithfully.

16 The money of the trespasse offring, and the money of the sinne offrings was not brought into the house of the Lord: for it was the Priests.

17 ¶ Then came vp Hazael king of Aram, and fought against Gath and tooke it, and Hazael set his face to goe vp to Ierusalem.

18 And Iehoash King of Iudah tooke all the i halowed things that Iehoshaphat, and Iehoram, and Ahaziah his fathers Kings of Iudah had dedicated, and that he himselfe had dedicated, and all the golde that was found in the treasures of the house of the Lord and in the Kings house, & sent it to Hazael king of Aram, and he departed from Ierusalem.

i After the death of Iehoiada Ioash fell to idolatrie: therefore God reiecteth him, and stirreth vp his enemie against him whom he pacified with the treasures of the Temple: for God would not be serued with those gifts seeing the Kings heart was wicked.

7 For hee had left of the people to Iehoahaz but fiftie horsemen, and tenne charets, and tenne thousand footemen, because the King f of Aram had destroyed them, & made them like dust beaten to pouder.

9 And Iehoahaz slept with his fathers, and they buried him in Samaria, and Ioash his sonne reigned in his steade.

10 ¶ In the seuen and thirtieth yeere of Ioash King g of Iudah began Iehoash the sonne of Iehoahaz to reigne ouer Israel in Samaria, & reigned sixteene yeere, g His chiefe purpose is to describe the kingdome of Iudah and howe God performed his promise made to the house of Dauid: but by the way he sheweth how Israel was afflicted and punished for their great idolatrie, who though they had now degenerate, yet God both by sending them sundry Prophets and diuers punishments did call them vnto him againe.

11 And did euill in the sight of the Lord: for he departed not from all the sinnes of Ieroboam the sonne of Nebat that made Israel to sinne, but he walked therein.

12 Concerning the rest of the actes of Ioash and all that hee did, and his valiant deedes, and how he fought against Amaziah King of Iudah, are they not written in the booke of the Chronicles of the Kings of Israel?

13 And Ioash slept with his fathers, and Ieroboam sate vpon his seate: and Ioash was buried in Samaria among the Kings of Israel.

14 ¶ When Elisha fell sicke of his sickneſſe whereof he dyed, Ioash the King of Israel came downe vnto him, and wept vpon his face, & said, h O my father, my father, the charet of Israel, and the horsemen of the same.

h Thus they vsed to call the Prophets and seruants of God by whom God blessed his people, as Chap. 2.12. meaning that by their prayer they did more prosper their countrey then by force of armes.

15 Then Elisha sayd vnto him, Take a bowe and arrowes. And hee tooke vnto him bowe and arrowes.

16 And he said to the King of Israel, Put thine hand vpon the bowe. And hee put his hand vpon it. And Elisha put his hands vpon † Kings hands, † prosper their countrey then by force of armes.

17 And sayde, Open the windowe i Eastward. And when he had opened it, Elisha sayd, Shoote. And he shot. And he sayd, Behold the arrowe of the Lordes deliuerance and the arrowe of deliuerance against Aram: for thou shalt smite the Aramites in Aphek, till thou hast consumed them.

i That is, toward Syria, so that he did not onely prophecie with wordes, but also confirmed him by these signes that he should haue the victorie.

18 Againe he sayd, Take the arrowes. And he tooke them. And he sayde vnto the King of Israel, Smite the ground. And he smote thrise, and ceased.

19 Then the man of God was k angrie with him, and sayde, Thou shouldest haue smitten fiue or sixe times, so thou shouldest haue smitten Aram, till thou hadst consumed it, where now thou shalt smite Aram but thrise.

k Because he seemed conceipt to haue victorie against the enemies of God for twise or thrise, and had not a zeale to ouercome them continually and to destroy them vtterly.

20 ¶ So Elisha died, and they buried him. And certaine bandes of the Moabites came into the land that yeere.

21 And as they were burying a man, beholde, they sawe the souldiers: therefore they cast the man into the sepulchre of Elisha. And when the man was downe, & touched the bones of Elisha, * he reuiued and stood vpon his feete.

22 ¶ But Hazael King of Aram vexed Israel all the dayes of Iehoahaz.

24 So Hazael the King of Aram dyed: and Ben-hadad his ſonne reigned in his ſtead.

25 Therefore Iehoash the ſonne of Iehoahaz returned, and tooke out of the hand of Ben-hadad the ſonne of Hazael the cities which he had taken away by warre out of the hand of Iehoahaz his father: for three times did Ioash beate him, and reſtored the cities vnto Iſrael.

9 Then Iehoash the King of Iſrael ſent to Amaziah King of Iudah, ſaying, The thiſtle that is in Lebanon, ſent to the [e] cedar that is in Lebanon, ſaying, Giue thy daughter to my ſonne to wife: and the wilde beaſt that was in Lebanon, went and trode downe the thiſtle.

10 Becauſe thou haſt ſmitten Edom, thine heart hath made thee proud: [f] brag of glory, and tary at home. why doeſt thou prouoke to thine hurt, that thou ſhouldeſt fall, & Iudah with thee?

12 And Iudah was put to the worſe before Iſrael, and they fled euery man to their tents.

16 And Iehoash ſlept with his fathers, & was buried at Samaria among the Kings of Iſrael: and Ieroboam his ſonne reigned in his ſtead.

17 ¶ And Amaziah the ſonne of Ioash King of Iudah liued after the death of Iehoash ſonne of Iehoahaz King of Iſrael fifteene yeere.

18 Concerning the reſt of the actes of Amaziah, are they not written in the booke of the Chronicles of the Kings of Iudah?

19 But they * wrought treaſon againſt him in Ieruſalem, and he fled to [h] Lachiſh, but they ſent after him to Lachiſh, and ſlewe him there.

20 And they brought him on horſes, and hee was buried at Ieruſalem with his fathers in the citie of Dauid.

21 Then all the people of Iudah tooke [i] Azariah, which was ſixteene yeere olde, and made him King for his father Amaziah.

22 He built [k] Elath, and reſtored it to Iudah, after that the King ſlept with his fathers.

23 ¶ In the fifteenth yeere of Amaziah the ſonne of Ioash King of Iudah, was Ieroboam the ſonne of Ioash made King ouer Iſrael in Samaria, and reigned one and fourtie yeere.

24 And he did euil in the ſight of the Lord: for he departed not from all the [l] ſinnes of Ieroboam the ſonne of Nebat, which made Iſrael to ſinne.

7 So Azariah ſlept with his fathers, and they buried him with his fathers in the citie of Dauid, and Iotham his ſonne reigned in his ſtead.

8 ¶ In the eight and thirtieth yeere of Azariah King of Iudah did Zachariah the ſonne of Ierobam reigne ouer Iſrael in Samaria ſixe [d] moneths, 9 And did euil in the ſight of the Lord, as did his fathers: for hee departed not from the ſinnes of Ieroboam the ſonne of Nebat, which made Iſrael to ſinne.

13 ¶ Shallum the ſonne of Iabeſh began to reigne in the nine and thirtieth yeere of Vzziah King of Iudah: and hee reigned the ſpace of a moneth in Samaria.

14 For Menahem the ſonne of Gadi went vp from Tirzah, and came to Samaria, and ſmote Shallum the ſonne of Iabeſh in Samaria, and ſlew him, and reigned in his ſtead.

15 Concerning the reſt of the acts of Shallum, and the treaſon which hee wrote, beholde, they are written in the booke of the Chronicles of the Kings of Iſrael.

16 ¶ Then Menahem deſtroyed [f] Tiphſah, and all that were therein, and the coaſtes thereof from Tirzah, becauſe they opened not to him, and hee ſmote it, and ript vp all their women with childe.

17 The nine and thirtieth yeere of Azariah King of Iudah, beganne Menahem the ſonne of Gadi to reigne ouer Iſrael, and reigned ten yeeres in Samaria.

18 And he did euil in the ſight of the Lord, and departed not al his dayes from the ſinne of Ieroboa ỹ ſonne of Nebat, which made Iſrael to ſinne.

19 ¶ Then Pul the king of Aſſhur came againſt the [g] land: and Menahem gaue Pul a thouſand [h] talents of ſiluer, that his hand might be with him, and eſtabliſh the kingdome in his hand.

24 And hee did euill in the ſight of the Lord: for he departed not from the ſinnes of Ieroboam the ſonne of Nebat, which made Iſrael to ſinne.

25 And Pekah the ſonne of Remaliah, his captaine conſpired againſt him, and ſmote him in Samaria in the place of the Kings palace with [i] Argob, & Arieh, and with him fiftie men of the Gileadites: ſo he killed him, and reigned in his ſteade.

26 Concerning ỹ reſt of the acts of Pekahiah, and all that he did, behold, they are written in the booke of the Chronicles of the Kings of Iſrael.

27 ¶ In the two and fiftieth yeere of Azariah King of Iudah began Pekah the ſonne of Remaliah to reigne ouer Iſrael in Samaria, and reigned twentie yeere.

28 And he did euil in the ſight of the Lord: for he departed not from the ſinnes of Ieroboam the ſonne of Nebat, that made Iſrael to ſinne.

29 In the dayes of Pekah king of Iſrael [k] came Tiglath Pileſer king of Aſſhur, & tooke Iion, and Abel Beth-maachah, and Ianoah, & Kedeſh, and Hazor, and Gilead, and Galilah, and all the land of Naphtali, and caryed them away to Aſſhur.

6 At the same time Rezin king of Aram restored [d] Elath to Aram, and droue the Iewes from Elath: so the Aramites came to Elath, and dwelt there vnto this day.

11 And Vriiah the Priest made an altar [g] in all poyntes like to that which King Ahaz had sent from Damascus, so did Vriiah the Priest against King Ahaz came from Damascus.

IN the twelft yeere of Ahaz King of Iudah began Hoshea the sonne of Elah to reigne in Samaria ouer Israel, and reigned nine yeeres.

2 And he did euill in the sight of the Lord, [a] but not as the Kings of Israel, that were before him.

3 And Shalmaneser king of Asshur came vp against him, and Hoshea became his seruant, and gaue him presents.

4 And the King of Asshur found treason in Hoshea: for he had sent messengers to So king of Egypt, and brought no present vnto the King of Asshur, [b] as he had done yeerely: therfore the king of Asshur shut him vp, and put him in prison.

5 Then the king of Asshur came vp throughout all the land, and went against Samaria, & besieged it three yeere.

6 ¶ * In the ninth yeere of Hoshea, the king of Asshur tooke Samaria, and caried Israel away vnto Asshur, and put them in Halah, and in Habor by the riuer of Gozan, & in the cities of the [c] Medes.

7 For when the children of Israel [d] sinned against the Lorde their God, which had brought them out of the land of Egypt, from vnder the hand of Pharaoh king of Egypt, and feared other gods,

8 And walked according to the facions of the Heathen, whom the Lord had cast out before the children of Israel, and after the maners of the Kings of Israel, which they vsed,

9 And the children of Israel had done secretly things that were not vpright before the Lord their God, & throughout all their cities had built hie places, both from the tower [e] of the watch, to the defensed citie,

10 And had made them images & grooues vpon euery hie hill, and vnder euery greene tree,

11 And there burnt incense in all the hie places, as did the heathen, whom the Lord had taken away before them, and wrought wicked things to anger the Lord,

14 Neuertheless they would not obey, * but hardened their neckes, like to the neckes of their [f] fathers, that did not beleeue in the Lorde their God.

15 And they refused his statutes and his couenant, that he made with their fathers, & his testimonies (wherewith he witnessed vnto them) and they followed vanitie, and became vaine, and followed the heathen that were round about them: concerning whom the Lord had charged them, that they should not doe like them.

18 Therefore the Lord was exceeding wroth with Israel, and put them out of his sight, and none was left but the tribe of Iudah k onely.

19 Yet Iudah kept not the commandements of the Lord their God, but walked according to the facion of Israel, which they vsed.

20 Therefore the Lorde cast off all the seede of Israel, and afflicted them, and deliuered them into the handes of spoylers, vntill hee had cast them out of his l sight.

21 m For he cut off Israel from the house of Dauid, and they made Ieroboam the sonne of Nebat King: and Ieroboam drewe Israel away from following the Lord, and made them sinne a great sinne.

22 For the children of Israel walked in all the sinnes of Ieroboam, which he did, and departed not therefrom, 23 Vntill the Lorde put Israel away out of his sight, as he had said † by all his seruants the * Prophets, and caried Israel away out of their land to Assur vnto this day.

24 And the King of Assur brought folke from Babel, and from n Cuthah, and from Aua, and from Hamath, and from Sepharuaim, & placed them in the cities of Samaria in steade of the children of Israel: so they possessed Samaria, and dwelt in the cities thereof.

25 ¶ And at the beginning of their dwelling there, they o feared not the Lord: therefore the Lord sent Lions among them, which slewe them.

26 Wherefore they spake to the King of Assur, saying, The nations which thou hast removed, and placed in the cities of Samaria, knowe not the maner of the God of the land: therefore he hath sent lions among them, and beholde, they slay them, because they knowe not the maner of the God of the land.

27 Then the King of Assur commaunded, saying, Carie thither one of the Priestes whome yee brought thence, and let him goe and dwell there, and teache them the maner of the God of the country.

28 So one of the Priests, which they had caried from Samaria, came and dwelt in Beth-el, and taught them howe they shoulde feare the Lorde.

29 Howbeit euery nation made their gods, and put them in the houses of the hie places, which the Samaritanes had made, euery nation in their cities, wherein they dwelt.

30 For the men of Babel made q Succoth-Benoth: and the men of Cuth made Nergal, and the men of Hamath made Ashima, 31 And the Anims made Nibhaz, & Tartak: and the Sepharuims burnt their children in the fire to Adrammelech, and Anammelech the gods of Sepharuaim.

32 Thus they feared the Lorde, and appointed out Priestes out of them selues for the hie places, who prepared for them sacrifices in the houses of the hie places.

33 * They † feared the Lord, but serued their gods after the maner of the nations whome they caried thence.

34 Vnto this day they doe after the olde maner: they neither feare God, neither doe after their ordinances, nor after their customes, nor after the Lawe, nor after the commaundement, which the Lord commanded the children of Iakob, * whome he named Israel,

35 And with whome the Lorde had made couenant, and charged them, saying, * Feare none other gods, nor bowe your selues to them, nor serue them, nor sacrifice to them:

36 But feare the Lord which brought you out of the land of Egypt with great power, and a stretched out arme: him feare yee, and worship him, and sacrifice to him.

37 Also keepe yee diligently the statutes and the ordinances, and the Lawe, and the commandement, which he wrote for you, that ye do them continually, and feare not other gods.

38 And forget not the couenant that I haue made with you, neither feare ye other gods.

39 But feare the Lord your God, & he wil deliuer you out of the hands of all your enemies.

40 Howbeit, they obeyed not, but did after their olde custome.

41 So these t nations feared the Lord, and serued their images also: so did their children, and their childrens children: as did their fathers, so do they vnto this day.

11 Then the King of Asshur did carie away Israel vnto Asshur, and put them in Halah and in Habor, by the riuer of Gozan, and in the cities of the Medes, 12 Because they would not obey the voyce of the Lorde their God, but transgressed their couenant: that is, all that Moses the seruant of the Lord had commanded, and would neither obey nor doe them.

13 ¶ * Moreouer, in the fourteenth yeere of King Hezekiah, Sancherib King of Asshur came vp against all the strong cities of Iudah, & tooke them.

14 Then Hezekiah king of Iudah sent vnto the King of Asshur to Lachish, saying, d I haue offended: depart from me, and what thou layest vpon me, I will beare it. And the King of Asshur appointed vnto Hezekiah king of Iudah three hundreth talents of siluer, and thirtie talents of golde.

15 Therefore Hezekiah gaue all the siluer that was found in the house of the Lord, and in the treasures of the Kings house.

16 At the same season did Hezekiah pull off the plates of the doores of the Temple of the Lord, and the pillars (which the sayde Hezekiah King of Iudah had couered ouer) and gaue them to the King of Asshur.

17 ¶ And the King of Asshur sent e Tartan, and Rab-saris, and Rabshakeh from Lachish to King Hezekiah with a great hoste against Ierusalem. And they went vp and came to Ierusalem, and when they were come vp, they stoode by the conduit of the vpper poole, which is by the path of the fullers fielde, 18 And called to the King. Then came out to them Eliakim the sonne of Hilkiah, which was steward of the house, and Shebnah the chancellor, and Ioah the sonne of Asaph the ‖ Recorder.

19 And Rabshakeh sayd vnto them, Tell ye Hezekiah, I pray you, Thus sayth the great King, euen the great King of Asshur, What confidence is this wherein thou trustest?

20 Thou thinkest, Surely I haue †eloquence, f but counsell and strength are for the warre. On whome then doest thou trust, that thou rebellest against me?

21 Lo, thou trustest nowe in this broken staffe of reede, to wit, on g Egypt, on which if a man leane, it wil goe into his hand, and pearce it: so is Pharaoh king of Egypt vnto all that trust on him.

22 But if ye say vnto me, We trust in the Lord our God, is not that hee whose hie places, and whose altars Hezekiah hath h taken away, & hath sayd to Iudah and Ierusalem, Ye shal worship before this altar in Ierusalem?

23 Now therefore giue i hostages to my lorde the King of Asshur, & I wil giue thee two thousand horses, if thou bee able to set riders vpon them.

24 For howe canst thou despise any captaine of the least of my masters seruants, and put thy trust on Egypt for charets and horsemen?

25 Am I now come vp without the k Lord to this place, to destroy it? the Lord sayd to me, Goe vp against this land, and destroy it.

26 Then Eliakim the sonne of Hilkiah, and Shebnah, & Ioah sayd vnto Rabshakeh, Speake, I pray thee, to thy seruants in the ‖ Aramites language, for we vnderstand it, and talke not with vs in the Iewes tongue, in the audience of the people that are on the wall.

27 But Rabshakeh sayd vnto them, Hath my master sent me to thy master & to thee to speake these words, and not to the men which sit on the wall, that they may eate their owne doung, and drinke † their owne pisse with you?

28 So Rabshakeh stoode and cryed with a loude voyce in the Iewes language, and spake, saying, Heare the wordes of the great King, of the King of Asshur.

29 Thus sayth the King, Let not Hezekiah deceiue you: for hee shall not be able to deliuer you ‖ out of mine hand.

30 Neither let Hezekiah make you to trust in the Lord, saying, The Lorde will surely deliuer vs, and this citie shal not be giuen ouer into the hand of the King of Asshur.

31 Hearken not vnto Hezekiah: for thus sayth the King of Asshur, Make † appointment with mee, and come out to me, that euery man may eate of his owne vine, and euery man of his owne figge tree, and drinke euery man of the water of his owne well,

32 Till I come, and bring you to a land like your owne land, euen a land of wheate and wine, a land of bread and vineyardes, a land of oliues oyle, and hony, that ye may liue and not die: and obey not Hezekiah, for he deceiueth you, saying, The Lord will deliuer vs.

33 Hath any of the gods of the nations deliuered his lande out of the hand of the King of Asshur?

34 Where is the god of Hamath, and of Arpad? where is the god Sepharuaim, Hena and Iuah? howe haue they deliuered Samaria out of mine hand.

35 Who are they among all the gods of the nations, that haue deliuered their lande out of mine hand, that the m Lord should deliuer Ierusalem out of mine hand?

36 But the people helde their peace and answered not him a worde: for the Kings commandement was, saying, Answere ye him not.

37 Then Eliakim, the sonne of Hilkiah which was steward of the house, and Shebnah the chancellor, and Ioah the sonne of Asah the recorder came to Hezekiah with their clothes rent, and tolde him the wordes of Rabshakeh.

h Thus the idolaters thinke that Gods religion is destroyed, when superstition and idolatrie are reformed.

i Meaning, that it was best for him to yeelde to the King of Assyria, because his power was so small that he had not men to furnish two thousand horses.

4 It so be the Lorde thy God hath heard all the wordes of Rabshakeh, whome the King of Asshur his master hath sent to raile on the liuing God, and to reproch him with wordes which the Lorde thy God hath heard, then lift thou vp thy prayer for the remnant that are left.

5 ¶ So the seruants of King Hezekiah came to Isaiah.

6 And Isaiah sayd vnto them, So shall ye say to your master, Thus saith the Lorde, Be not afraide of the words which thou hast heard, wherewith the seruantes of the King of Asshur haue blasphemed me.

c Meaning, for Ierusalem, which onely remained of all the cities of Iudah.

7 Beholde, I will sende a blast d vpon him, and hee shall heare a noyse, and returne to his owne land: and I will cause him to fall by the sworde in his owne land.

d The Lord can with one blast blowe away all the strength of man and turne it into dust.

8 ¶ So Rabshakeh returned, and founde the King of Asshur fighting against Libnah: for hee had heard that he was departed from Lachish.

9 e He heard also men say of Tirhakah King of ‖ Ethiopia, f Beholde, he is come out to fight against thee: he therefore departed and sent other messengers vnto Hezekiah, saying, e That is, Sancherib.

f For the Kings of Ethiopia and Egypt ioyned together against the King of Assyria because of his oppression of other countreys.

10 Thus shall ye speake to Hezekiah King of Iudah, and say, Let not thy g God deceiue thee in whom thou trustest, saying, Ierusalem shall not be deliuered into the hand of the King of Asshur.

g The more neere that the wicked are to their destruction, the more they blaspheme.

11 Beholde, thou hast heard what the Kings of Asshur haue done to all landes, how they haue destroyed them: and shalt thou be deliuered?

12 Haue the gods of the Heathen deliuered them which my fathers haue destroyed? as Gozan, and Haran, and Rezeph, and the children of Eden, which were in Thelasar?

13 Where is the King of Hamath, & the King of Arpad, and the King of the citie of Sepharuaim, Hena, and Iuah?

14 ¶ So Hezekiah receiued the letter of the hand of the messengers, and read it: and Hezekiah went vp into the house of the Lorde, and Hezekiah spread it before the h Lord.

h Before the Arke of the couenant.

15 And Hezekiah i prayed before the Lorde, and saide, O Lord God of Israel, which dwellest betweene the Cherubims, thou art very God alone ouer all the kingdomes of the earth: thou hast made the heauen and the earth.

i He sheweth what is the true refuge and succour in all dangers, to wit, to flee to the Lorde by earnest prayer.

16 Lord, k bow downe thine eare, and heare: Lorde open thine eyes and beholde, and heare the wordes of Sancherib, who hath sent to blaspheme the l liuing God.

k Shewe by effects that thou wilt not suffer thy name to be blasphemed.

l By this title he discerneth God from all idoles and false gods.

17 Trueth it is, Lord, that the Kings of Asshur haue destroyed the nations and their landes, 18 And haue set fire on other gods: for they were no gods, but the worke of mans hands, euen wood and stone: therefore they destroyed them.

19 Now therefore, O Lord our God, I beseech thee, saue thou vs out of his hand, that all the m kingdomes of the earth may knowe, that thou, O Lord, art onely God.

m He sheweth for what ende the faithfull desire of God to be deliuered: to wit, that he may be glorified by their deliuerance.

20 ¶ Then Isaiah the sonne of Amoz sent to Hezekiah, saying, Thus sayeth the Lorde God of Israel, I haue heard that which thou hast prayed me concerning Sancherib King of Asshur.

21 This is the worde that the Lord hath spoken against him, O n Virgine, daughter of Zion, he hath despised thee, and laughed thee to scorne. O daughter of Ierusalem, hee hath shaken his head at thee.

n Because as yet Ierusalem had not been taken by the enemie, therefore he calleth her virgine.

22 Whom hast thou railed on? and whome hast thou blasphemed? and against whome hast thou exalted thy voyce, and lifted vp thine eyes on hie? euen o against the Holie one of Israel.

o God counteth that iniurie done to him, and will reuenge it, which is done to any of his Saints.

23 By thy messengers thou hast railed on the Lorde, and said, By the multitude of my charets I am come vp to the toppe of the mountaines, by the sides of Lebanon, and will cut downe the hie cedars thereof, and the faire firre trees thereof, and I will goe into the p lodging of his borders, and into the forest of ‖ his Carmel.

p Meaning, Ierusalem, which Isaiah calleth the height of his borders, to wit, of Iudah, Ita. 37.24.

24 I haue digged, and drunke the waters of others, and with the plant of my feete haue I dried all the ‖ floods closed in.

‖ Or, the waters of cities besieged.

25 Hast thou not heard, howe I haue of olde time made it, and haue formed it long agoe? q and should I now bring it, that it should be destroyed, & laid on ruinous heapes, as cities defensed?

q He declareth that forasmuch as he is the author and beginning of his Church, he will neuer suffer it vtterly to be destroyed, as other cities, and kingdomes.

26 Whose r inhabitants haue small power, and are afraid, & confounded: they are like the grasse of the field, and greene herbe, or grasse on y house toppes, or as corne blasted before it be growen.

r Thus he describeth the wicked, which for a time florish, and afterward fade and decay like flowers.

27 I knowe thy dwelling, yea, thy going out, and thy comming in, and thy furie against me.

28 And because thou rageste against me, and thy tumult is come vp to mine eares, I will put mine f hooke in thy nostrels, and my bridle in thy lippes, and will bring thee backe againe the same way thou camest.

f I will bridle thy rage & turne thee to and fro as pleaseth me.

29 And this shalbe a s signe vnto thee, O Hezekiah, Thou shalt eate this yeere such things as growe of themselues, and the next yeere such as growe without sowing, and the third yeere sowe ye and reape, and plant vineyardes, and eate the fruites thereof.

s God did not onely promise him victorie, but giueth him a signe to confirme his faith.

30 And the remnant that is escaped of the house of Iudah, shall againe take t roote downeward, and beare fruite vpwarde.

t The Lord will multiplie in great number that small remnant of Iudah that is escaped.

31 u For out of Ierusalem shall goe a remnant, and some that shall escape out of mount Zion: the x zeale of the Lord of hostes shall doe this.

u The lone that God beareth toward his Church shall ouercome the counsels and enterprises of men. Isa.37.38.

x The lone that God beareth toward his Church shall ouercome the counsels and enterprises of men. Isa.37.38. Iob.1.21. eccles.48.24. 1.mac.7.42. 2.mac.8.19.

32 Wherefore thus saith the Lorde, concerning the King of Asshur, He shall not enter into this citie, nor shoote an arrowe there, nor come before it with shield, nor cast a mount against it:

33 But he shall returne the way he came, and shall not come into this citie, sayth the Lorde.

34 For I will defende this citie to saue it for mine owne sake, and for Dauid my seruants sake.

35 ¶ y And the same night the Angel of the Lorde went out and smote in the campe of Asshur an hundreth fourescore and fiue thousande: so when they rose earely in the morning, behold, they were all dead corpses.

y This was the iust iudgement of God for his blasphemie, that he shoulde be slaine before the idole, whome he preferred to the liuing God, and by whome he ought by nature to haue been defended.

36 So Sancherib King of Asshur departed, and went his way, and returned, & dwelt in Nineueh.

37 z And as he was in the Temple worshipping Nisroch his god, Adrammelech and Sharezer his sonnes y slewe him with the sworde: and they escaped into the land of Ararat, and a Esarhaddon his sonne reigned in his steade.

Amoz came to him, and said vnto him, Thus saith the Lorde, Put thine house in an order: for thou shalt die, and not liue.

2 Then he turned his face to the a wall, and prayed to the Lord, saying,

3 I beseech thee, O Lorde, remember nowe, howe I haue walked before thee in trueth & with a[b] perfite heart, & haue done that which is good in thy sight: and Hezekiah [c] wept sore.

4 ¶ And afore Isaiah was gone out into the middle of the court, the worde of the Lord came to him, saying,

5 Turne againe, and tell Hezekiah the captaine of my people, Thus saith the Lorde God of Dauid thy father, I haue heard thy [d] prayer, and seene thy teares: behold, I haue healed thee, and [f] the third day thou shalt goe vp to [g] the house of [g] the Lord,

6 And I wil adde vnto thy dayes fifteene yere, and wil deliuer thee and this citie out of the hand of the King of Assiur, and will defende this citie for mine owne sake, & for Dauid my seruats sake.

7 Then Isaiah saide, Take a [f] lumpe of drie figges. And they tooke it, and layed it on the boile, and he recouered.

8 ¶ For Hezekiah had saide vnto Isaiah, What shalbe the signe that the Lorde will heale me, and that I shall goe vp into the house of the Lorde the third day?

9 And Isaiah answered, This signe shalt thou haue of the Lorde, that the Lord will doe that he hath spoken, Wilt thou that the shadowe goe forward ten degrees, or * goe backe ten degrees?

10 And Hezekiah answered, It is a light thing for the shadowe to passe forward ten degrees: nor so then, but let the shadow [g] goe backe ten degrees.

11 And Isaiah the Prophet called vnto the Lord, and he brought againe the shadowe ten degrees backe by the degrees whereby it had gone downe in the [h] diall of Ahaz.

12 ¶ * The same season Berodach Baladan the sonne of Baladan King of Babel, sent letters and a [i] present to Hezekiah: for hee had heard how that Hezekiah was sicke.

13 And Hezekiah heard them, and shewed them all his treasure house, to wit, the siluer, and the golde, and the spices, and the precious ointment, and all the house of his armour, and all that was founde in his treasures: there was nothing in his house, and in all his [k] realme, that Hezekiah shewed them not.

14 Then Isaiah the Prophet came vnto King Hezekiah, and saide vnto him, What saide these men? and from whence came they to thee? And Hezekiah saide, They be come from a farre countrey, euen from Babel.

15 Then saide hee, What haue they seene in thine house? And Hezekiah answered, All that is in mine house haue they seene: there is nothing among my treasures, that I haue not shewed the.

16 And Isaiah said vnto Hezekiah, Heare the word of the Lorde.

17 Behold, the dayes come, that all that is in thine house, and what so euer thy fathers haue layed vp in store vnto this day, * shall be caried into Babel: Nothing shal be left, sayth the Lord.

18 And of thy sonnes, that shall proceede out of thee, and which thou shalt beget, shal they take away, & they shalbe eunuches in the palace of the King of Babel.

19 Then Hezekiah said vnto Isaiah, The word of the Lord which thou hast [l] spoken, is good: for he said he, shall it not be good, if [m] peace and trueth be in my dayes?

20 Concerning the rest of the actes of Hezekiah, and all his valiant deeds, and how he made a poole & a conduit, and brought water into the citie, are they not written in the booke of the Chronicles of the Kings of Iudah?

21 And Hezekiah slept with his fathers: and Manasseh his sonne reigned in his stead.

CHAP. XXI.

3 King Manasseh restoreth idolatrie, 16 And vseth great cruelti. 18 He dieth, and Amman his sonne succeedeth, 23 Who is killed of his owne seruants. 26 After him reigneth Iosiah.

MAnasseh * was twelue yeeres olde when hee began to reigne, and reigned fiftie and fiue yeeres in Ierusalem: his mothers name also was Hephzi-bah.

2 And hee did euill in the sight of the Lorde after the abomination of the heathen, whom the * Lord had cast out before the children of Israel.

3 For he went backe and built the hie places, * which Hezekiah his father had destroyed: and he erected vp altars for Baal, and made a groue, as did Ahab King of Israel, & worshipped all the host of heauen and serued them.

4 Also hee * built altars in the house of the Lord, of the which the Lord said, * In Ierusalem will I put my Name.

5 And he built altars for all the host of [g] heauen in the two courts of the house of the Lorde.

6 And he caused his sonnes [a] to passe through the fire, and gaue himselfe to witchcraft and sorcerie, and he vsed them that had familiar spirits and were sooth-sayers, and did much euill in the sight of the Lord to anger him.

7 And he set the image of the groue, that he had made in the house, whereof the Lord had said to Dauid & to Salomon his sonne, * In this house and in Ierusalem, which I haue chosen out of all the tribes of Israel, will I put my Name for euer.

8 Neither will I make the feete of Israel moue any more out of the lande, which I gaue their fathers: so that they will [b] obserue and doe all that I haue commanded them, and according to all the Lawe that my seruant Moses commanded them.

9 Yet they obeyed not, but Manasseh ledde them out of the way, to doe more wickedly then did the heathen people, whom the Lord destroyed before the children of Israel.

10 Therefore the Lorde spake by his seruants the Prophets, saying,

11 * Because that Manasseh King of Iudah hath done such abominations, and hath wrought more wickedly then all that the Amorites (which were before him) did, and hath made Iudah sinne also with his idoles, 12 Therefore thus sayeth the Lord God of Israel, Behold, I will bring an euill vpon Ierusalem and Iudah, that who so heareth of it, both his * eares shall [c] tingle.

13 And I will stretch ouer Ierusalem the line [d] of Samaria, and [f] plummet of [f] house of Ahab: and I will wipe Ierusalem, as a man wipeth a dish, which he wipeth, and turneth it vpside downe.

Iosiah repaireth the Temple. 8 Hilkiah findeth the booke of the Law, and causeth it to be presented to Iosiah, 12 Who sendeth to Huldah to prophesie to inquire the Lords will.

IOsiah was *eight yeere olde when he began to reigne, and he reigned one and thirtie yeere in Ierusalem. His mothers name also was Iedidah the daughter of Adaiah of Bozcath.

2 And he did vprightly in the sight of [§] Lord, and [a] walked in all the wayes of Dauid his father, & bowed neither to the right hand, nor to [§] left.

3 ¶ And in the eighteenth yeere of King Iosiah, the King sent Shaphan the sonne of Azaliah the sonne of Meshullam the chancellor to the house of the Lord, saying,

4 Goe vp to Hilkiah the high Priest, that hee may [‖] summe the siluer which is brought into the house of the Lorde, which the keepers of the [b] doore haue gathered of the people.

5 And let them [c] deliuer it into the hand of them that doe the worke, and haue the ouersight of the house of the Lord: let them giue it to them that worke in the house of the Lorde, to repaire the decayed places of the house:

7 Howbeit, let no reckoning bee made with them of the money, that is deliuered into their hand: for they deale [d] faithfully.

8 And Hilkiah the high Priest said vnto Shaphan the chancellor, I haue found the [e] booke of the Lawe in the house of the Lorde: and Hilkiah gaue the booke to Shaphan, and hee read it.

9 So Shaphan the chancellor came to [§] King, and brought him word againe, and sayd, Thy seruants haue [†] gathered the money, that was found in the house, & haue deliuered it vnto the hands of them that doe the worke, and haue the ouersight of the house of the Lord.

10 Also Shaphan the chancellor shewed the King, saying, Hilkiah the Priest hath deliuered me a booke. And Shaphan read it before the King.

11 And when the king had heard the wordes of the booke of the Law, he rent his clothes.

12 Therefore the King commanded Hilkiah the Priest, & Ahikam the sonne of Shaphan, and Achbor the sonne of Michaiah, and Shaphan the chancellor, and Asahiah the kings seruant, saying,

13 Go ye and [f] inquire of the Lord for me, and for the people, and for all Iudah concerning the wordes of this Booke that is founde: for great is the wrath of the Lord that is kindled against vs, because our fathers haue not obeyed the wordes of this Booke, to doe according vnto all that which is written therein for vs.

14 ¶ So Hilkiah the Priest and Ahikam, and Achbor & Shaphan, and Asahiah wẽt vnto Huldah the propheteſſe the wife of Shallum, the sonne of Tikuah, the sonne of Harhas keeper of the wardrobe: (and she dwelt in Ierusalem in the [g] colledge) and they communed with her.

15 And she answered thẽ, Thus saith the Lorde God of Israel, Tell the man that sent you to me,

16 Thus saith the Lorde, Behold, I will bring euil vpon this place, and on the inhabitants therof, euen all the wordes of the booke which the King of Iudah hath read, 17 Because they haue forsaken mee, and haue burnt incẽse vnto other gods, to anger me withal the [h] works of their hands: my wrath also shall be kindled against this place & shal not be quẽched.

18 But to the king of Iudah, who sent you to inquire of the Lord, so shal ye say vnto him, Thus sayeth the Lorde God of Israel, The wordes that thou hast heard, shall come to passe.

19 But because thine heart did [i] melt, & thou hast humbled thy selfe before the Lorde, when thou heardest what I spake against this place, and against the inhabitants of the same, to wit, that it should be destroyed and accursed, and hast rent thy clothes, & wept before me, I haue also heard it, saith the Lorde.

20 Beholde therefore, I wil gather thee to thy fathers, and thou shalt bee put in thy graue in [k] peace, and thine eyes shall not see all the euill, which I will bring vpon this place. Thus they brought the King word againe.

THen * the King a sent, and there gathered vnto him all the Elders of Iudah and of Ierusalem.

2 And the King went vp into the house of the Lord, with all the men of Iudah and all the inhabitants of Ierusalem with him, and the Priests and Prophets, and all the people both small & great: and hee read in their eares all the wordes of the booke of the couenant, which was found in the house of the Lord.

3 And the King stood by b the pillar, and made a c couenant before the Lord, that they shoulde walke after the Lord, and keepe his commandements, and his testimonies, and his statutes with all their heart, and with all their soule, that they might accomplish the wordes of this couenant written in this booke. And all the people stoode to the couenant.

4 Then the King commanded Hilkiah the hie Priest and the d priestes of the second order, and the keepers of the doore, to bring out of the Temple of the Lord all the vessels that were made for Baal, and for the groue, and for all the hoste of heauen, and he burnt them without Ierusalem in the fieldes of Kedron, and caried e the pouder of them into Beth-el.

5 And he put downe the f Chemarims, whom the Kings of Iudah had founded to burne incense in the hie places, and in the cities of Iudah, and about Ierusalem, & also them that burnt incense vnto Baal, to the sunne and to the moone, and to the planets, and to all the hoste of heauen.

6 And hee brought out the g groue from the Temple of the Lord without Ierusalem vnto the valley of Kedron, & burnt it in ỹ valley Kedron, and stampt it to pouder, and cast the dust thereof vpon the h graues of the children of the people.

7 And he brake downe the houses of the Sodomites, that were in the house of the Lord, where the women woue hangings for the groue.

8 Also he brought all the priests out of the cities of Iudah, and defiled the hie places where the Priestes had burnt incense, euen from Geba to Beer-sheba, and destroyed the hie places of the gates, that were in the entring in of the gate of Ioshua the gouernour of the citie, which was at the left hand of the gate of the citie.

9 Neuertheless the Priestes of the hie places i came not vp to the altar of the Lorde in Ierusalem, saue onely they did eate of the vnleauened bread among their brethren.

10 He defiled also k Topheth, which was in the valley of the children of Hinnom, that no man should make his sonne or his daughter to passe through the fire to Molech.

11 Hee put downe also the l horses that the Kings of Iudah had giuen to the sonne at the entring in of the house of the Lorde, by the chamber of of Nethan-melech the Eunuch, which was ruler of the suburbes, & burnt the charets of the sunne with fire.

12 And the altars that were on the top of the chamber of Ahaz, which the King of Iudah had made, and the altars which Manasseh had made in the two courts of the house of ỹ Lord, did the King breake downe, and hasted thence, and cast the dust of them in the || brooke Kidron.

13 Moreouer the King defiled the hie places that were before Ierusalem and on the right hand of the m mount of corruption, which * Salomon the King of Israel had built for Ashtoreth the idole of the Zidonians, & for Chemosh the idole of the Moabites, and for Milchom the abomination of the children of Ammon.

14 And he brake the images in pieces, and cut downe the groues and filled their places with the bones of men.

15 Furthermore n the altar that was at Beth-el, and the hie place made by Ieroboam the sonne of Nebat, which made Israel to sinne, both this altar and also the hie place, brake he downe, and burnt the hie place, and stampt it to pouder and burnt the groue.

16 And as Iosiah turned himselfe, he spied the graues, that were in the mount, and sent & tooke the bones out of the graues, and burnt them vpon the altar & polluted it, according to the worde of the Lorde, that the o man of God proclaimed, which cryed the same wordes.

17 Then hee sayde, What title is that which I see? And the men of the citie sayd vnto him, It is the sepulchre of the man of God, which came from Iudah, and tolde these things that thou hast done to the altar of Beth-el.

18 Then saide he, Let him alone: let none remoone his bones. So his bones were saued with ỹ bones of the p Prophet that came from Samaria.

19 Iosiah also tooke away all the houses of the hie places, which were in ỹ cities of Samaria, which the Kings of Israel had made to anger the Lord, and did to them according to all the facts that he had done in Beth-el.

20 And he sacrificed all the Priestes of the hie places that were there vpon the altars, and burnt mens bones vpō them, & returned to Ierusalem.

21 ¶ Then the king cōmanded al the people, saying, * Keepe the Passeouer vnto the Lord your God, as it is written in ỹ booke of this couenant.

22 And there was no Passeouer holden q like that from the dayes of the Iudge that iudged Israel, nor in al the daies of the Kings of Israel, and of the Kings of Iudah, 23 And in the eighteenth yeere of king Iosiah was this Passeouer celebrated vnto the Lorde in Ierusalem.

24 Iosiah also tooke away them that had familiar spirits, and the soothsayers, and the images, and the idoles, & all the abhominations that were espied in the land of Iudah and in Ierusalem, to performe the wordes of the * Lawe, which were written in the booke that Hilkiah the Priest founde in the house of the Lord.

25 Like vnto him was there no King before him, that turned to the Lord with all his heart, and with all his soule, and with all his might, according to all the Lawe of Moses, neither after him arose there any like him.

26 Notwithstanding the Lord turned not frō the r fiersenesse of his great wrath wherewith he was angrie against Iudah, because of all the prouocations wherewith Manasseh had prouoked him.

27 Therefore the Lorde saide, I will put Iudah also out of my sight, as I haue put away Israel, and will cast off this citie Ierusalem, which I haue chosen, and the house whereof I saide, * My name shall be there.

30 Then his seruants caryed him dead from Megiddo, and brought him to Ierusalem, and buried him in his owne sepulchre. And the people of the lande tooke Iehoahaz the sonne of Iosiah, and anointed him, and made him king in his fathers stead.

31 *Iehoahaz was three and twentie yeere old when hee beganne to reigne, and reigned three moneths in Ierusalem. His mothers name also was Hamutal the daughter of Ieremiah of Libnah.

33 And Pharaoh Nechoh put him in bonds u at Riblah in the lande of Hamath, ‖ while he reigned in Ierusalem, and put the land to a tribute of an hundreth talents of siluer, and a talent of golde.

34 ¶ And Pharaoh Nechoh made Eliakim the sonne of Iosiah King in stead of Iosiah his father, and turned his name to Iehoiakim, and tooke Iehoahaz away, which when he came to Egypt, died there.

35 And Iehoiakim gaue the siluer and the golde to Pharaoh, and taxed the land to giue the money, according to the commandement of Pharaoh: hee leauied of euery man of the people of the land, according to his value, siluer and golde to giue vnto Pharaoh Nechoh.

36 Iehoiakim was fiue & twentie yeeres olde, when he began to reigne, and he reigned eleuen yeeres in Ierusalem. His mothers name also was Zebudah the daughter of Pedaiah of Rumah.

3 Surely by the b commaundement of the Lorde came this vpon Iudah, that hee might put them out of his sight for the sinnes of Manasseh, according to all that he did,

4 And for the innocent blood that hee shed, (for hee filled Ierusalem with innocent blood) therefore the Lorde would not pardon it.

5 Concerning the rest of the actes of Iehoiakim, and all that he did, are they not written in the booke of the Chronicles of the Kings of Iudah?

6 So Iehoiakim c slept with his fathers, and Iehoiachin his sonne reigned in his stead.

10 * In that time came the seruants of Nebuchad-nezzar king of Babel vp against Ierusalem: so the citie was besieged.

11 And Nebuchad-nezzar King of Babel came against the citie, and his seruants did besiege it.

12 Then Iehoiachin the king of Iudah d came out against the King of Babel, he, and his mother and his seruants, & his princes, & his eunuches: & the King of Babel tooke him in the eight yere e of his reigne.

13 * And hee caryed out thence all the treasures of the house of the Lorde, and the treasures of the Kings house, and brake all the vessels of golde, which Salomon King of Israel had made in the Temple of the Lord, as the Lord had saide.

14 And he caryed away all Ierusalem, and all the princes, and all the strong men of warre, euen ten thousande into captiuitie, and all the workemen, and cunning men: so none remained sauing the poore people of the land.

15 * And he caryed away Iehoiachin into Babel, and the Kings mother, and the Kings wiues, & his Eunuches, & the mightie of the land caryed he away into captiuitie from Ierusalem to Babel, 16 And all the men of warre, euen seuen thousand, and carpenters, & lockesmithes a thousand: all that were strong & apt for warre, did the King of Babel bring to Babel captiues.

17 ¶ * And the King of Babel made Mattaniah his vnckle King in his stead, and changed his name to Zedekiah.

18 Zedekiah was one and twentie yeere olde, when he began to reigne, and he reigned eleuen yeeres in Ierusalem. His mothers name also was Hamutal the daughter of Ieremiah of Libnah.

19 And he did euill in the sight of the Lorde, according to all that Iehoiakim had done.

20 Therefore certainely the wrath of the Lord was against Ierusalem and Iudah vntill hee cast them out of his f sight. And Zedekiah rebelled against the King of Babel.

16 With the two pillars, one Sea and the bases, which Salomon had made for the house of the Lorde: the brasse of all these vessels was without weight.

17 * The height of the one pillar was eighteene cubites, and the chapiter thereon was brasse, and the height of the chapiter was with networke three cubites, and pomegranates vpon the chapiter round about, all of brasse: and likewise was the second pillar with the networke.

18 And the chiefe steward tooke Seraiah the chiefe Priest, and Zephaniah the i second Priest, and the three keepers of the doore.

19 And out of the citie hee tooke an Eunuch that had the ouersight of the men of warre, and k fiue men of them that were in the Kings presence, which were found in the citie, and Sopher captaine of the hoste, who mustred the people of the land, and threescore men of the people of the land, that were found in the citie.

20 And Nebuzar-adan the chiefe steward tooke them, and brought them to the King of Babel to Riblah.

21 And the King of Babel smote them, & slew them at Riblah in the land of Hamath. So Iudah was caryed away captiue out of his owne land.

22 * Howbeit there remained people in the land of Iudah, whom Nebuchad-nezzar King of Babel left, and made Gedaliah the sonne of Ahikam the sonne of Shaphan ruler ouer them.

23 Then when all the captaines of the hoste & their men heard, that the king of Babel had made Gedaliah gouernour, they came to Gedaliah to Mizpah, to wit, Ishmael the sonne of Nethaniah, and Iohanan the sonne of Kareah, and Seraiah the sonne of Tanhumeth the Netophathite, & Iaazaniah the sonne of Maachathi, they and their men.

24 And Gedaliah l sware to them, and to their men, and said vnto them, Feare not to be the seruants of the Caldees: dwell in the land, and serue the King of Babel, and ye shalbe well.

25 * But in the seuenth moneth Ishmael the sonne of Nethaniah the sonne of Elishama of the Kings seede, came, and ten men with him, and smote Gedaliah, & he died, & so did he the Iewes, and the Caldees that were with him at Mizpah.

THE ARGVMENT.

THe Iewes comprehend both these bookes in one, which the Grecians because of the length diuide into two: and they are called Chronicles, because they note briefly the histories from Adam to the returne from their captiuitie in Babylon. But these are not those bookes of Chronicles, which are so oft mentioned in the bookes of the Kings of Iudah & Israel, which did at large set forth the storie of both the kingdoms, and afterward perished in the captiuitie: but an abridgement of the same, and were gathered by Ezra, as the Iewes write, after their returne from Babylon. This first booke conteineth a briefe rehearsall of the children of Adam vnto Abraham, Isaak, and the twelue Patriarches, chiefly of Iudah and the reigne of Dauid, because Christ came of him according to the flesh. And therefore it setteth forth more amply his actes, both concerning ciuil gouernement, and also the administration, and care of things concerning religion, for the good successe whereof he reioyceth, and giueth thankes to the Lord.

NOw *the Philistims fought against Israel: and the men of Israel fled before the Philistims, and fell downe slaine in mount Gilboa.

2 And the Philistims pursued after Saul and after his sonnes, & the Philistims smote Ionathan,

and Abinadab, & Melchishua the sonnes of Saul.

3 And the battell was sore against Saul, and the archers † hit him, & he was wounded of the archers.

4 Then sayde Saul to his armour bearer, Drawe out thy sworde, and thrust me thorowe therewith, least these vncircumcised come and mocke at me: but his armour bearer would not, for he was sore afrayd: therefore Saul tooke the sword and fell vpon it.

5 And when his armour bearer saw ỹ Saul was dead, he fell likewise vpon the sword and died,

6 So Saul died and his three sonnes, & all his house, they died together.

7 And when all the men of Israel that were in the valley, sawe how they fledde, and that Saul and his sonnes were dead, they forsooke their cities, and fled away, and the Philistims came and dwelt in them.

8 And on the morowe when the Philistims came to spoyle them that were slaine, they found Saul and his sonnes † lying in mount Gilboa.

† Or, fallen.

9 And when they had stript him, they tooke his head and his armour, and sent them into the land of the Philistims round about, to publish it vnto their idoles, and to the people.

3 After the death of Saul is Dauid anoynted in Hebron. 7 The Iebusites rebell against Dauid, from whome hee taketh the tower of Zion. 6 Ioab is made captaine. 10 His valiant men.

* 1.Sam.5.1.

THen * all Israel a gathered themselues to Dauid vnto Hebron, saying, Behold, we are thy bones and thy flesh.

a This was after the death of Ishbosheth Sauls sonne, when Dauid had reigned ouer Iudah seuen yeeres and sixe moneths in Hebron, 2.Sam.5.5.

2 And in time past, euen when Saul was King, thou leddest Israel out & in: and the Lord thy God sayd vnto thee, Thou shalt feede my people Israel, and thou shalt be captaine ouer my people Israel.

† 1.Sam.16.13.

3 So came all the Elders of Israel to the King to Hebron, & Dauid made a couenant with them in Hebron before the Lord. And they anoynted Dauid King ouer Israel, † according to the worde of the Lord by the hand of Samuel.

4 ¶ And Dauid and all Israel went to Ierusalem, which is Iebus, where were the Iebusites, the inhabitants of the land.

5 And the inhabitants of Iebus sayd to Dauid, Thou shalt not come in hither. Neuertheless Dauid tooke the tower of Zion, which is the citie of Dauid.

* 2.Sam.5.8.

6 And Dauid sayd, * Whosoeuer smiteth the Iebusites first, shalbe the chiefe and captaine. So Ioab the sonne of Zeruiah went first vp, and was captaine.

7 And Dauid dwelt in the tower: therefore they called it the citie of Dauid.

8 * And he built the citie on euery side, from Millo euen round about: and Ioab repayred the rest of the citie.

* 2.Sam.5.9.

16 And when Dauid was in the hold, the Philistims garison was at Beth-lehem.

17 And Dauid longed, and sayde, * Oh, that one would giue me to drinke of the water of the well of Beth-lehem that is at the gate.

* 2.Sam.23.15.

18 Then these three brake thorowe ỹ hoste of the Philistims, and drew water out of the well of Beth-lehem that was by the gate, & tooke it and brought it to Dauid: but Dauid would not drinke of it, but powred it for an oblation to the Lord,

19 And said, Let not my God suffer me to doe this: should I drinke the e blood of these mens liues? for they haue brought it with the ieopardie of their liues: therefore he would not drinke it: these things did these three mightie men.

e That is, this water, for the which they ventured their blood.

20 ¶ And Abishai the brother of Ioab, he was chiefe of the three, & he lift vp his speare against three hundreth, and slew them, and had the name among the three.

21 Among the three hee was more honourable then the two, and he was their captaine: * but he attained not vnto the first three.

* 2.Sam.23.19.

22 Benaiah the sonne of Iehoiada (the sonne of a valiant man) which had done many actes, and was of Kabzeel, hee slewe two ‖ strong men of Moab: he went downe also and slew a lion in the middes of a pit in time of snowe.

e The spirit of boldnesse & courage moued him to speake thus.

19 ¶ And of Manasseh some fell to Dauid, when hee came with the Philistims against Saul to battell, but they f helped them not: for the Princes of the Philistims * by aduisement sent him away, saying, He will fall to his master Saul ‖ for our heads.

f They came onely to helpe Dauid and not to inuade the Philistims, which were enemies to their countrey. * 1. Sam. 29. 4. ‖ Or on the ieopardie of our heads.

CHAP. XIII.

7 The Arke is brought againe from Kiriath-iearim to Ierusalem. 9 Vzza dieth because he touched it.

AND Dauid counselled with the captaines of thousands and of hundreths, and with all the gouernours.

2 And Dauid saide to all the Congregation of Israel, If it seeme good to you, and that it proceedeth of the Lorde our God, we wil sende to and fro vnto our brethren, that are left in all the land of Israel (for with them are the Priestes and the Leuites in the cities and their suburbes) that they may assemble themselues vnto vs.

3 And we will bring againe the [a] Arke of our God to vs: for we sought not vnto it in the dayes of Saul.

4 And all the Congregation answered, Let vs doe so: for the thing seemed good in the eies of all the people.

5 [o] So Dauid gathered all Israel together from ‖Shihor in Egypt, euen vnto the entring of Hamath, to bring the Arke of God from [b] Kiriath-iearim.

6 And Dauid went vp and all Israel to ‖Baalath in Kiriath-iearim, that was in Iudah, to bring vp from thence the Arke of God the Lorde that dwelleth betweene the Cherubims, where his Name is called on.

8 And Dauid and all Israel plaied before [d] God with all their might, both with songes and with harpes, and with violes, and with timbrels & with cymbals and with trumpets.

9 ¶And when they came vnto the threshing floore of [e] Chidon, Vzza put forth his hand to holde the Arke, for the oxen did shake it.

10 But the wrath of the Lord was kindled against Vzza, and he smote him, because he layed his hande vpon the Arke: so he died there [f] before God.

11 And Dauid was angrie, because the Lorde had made a breach in Vzza, and hee called the name of that place Perez-Vzza vnto this day.

12 And Dauid feared God that day, saying, How shall I bring in to me the Arke of God?

13 Therefore Dauid brought not the Arke to him into the citie of Dauid, but caused it to turne into the house of [g] Obed Edom the Gittite.

14 So the Arke of God remained in the house of Obed Edom, euen in his house three moneths: and the Lord blessed the house of Obed Edom, and all that he had.

CHAP. XIIII.

9 And the Philistims came, and spred themselues in the valley of Rephaim.

10 Then Dauid asked counsell at God, saying, Shall I goe vp against the Philistims, and wilt thou deliuer them into mine hande? And the Lorde saide vnto him, Goe vp: for I will deliuer them into thine hand.

diuided mine enemies with mine hand, as waters are diuided: therefore they called the name of that place, c Baal-perazim.

c That is, the valley of diuisions, because the enemies were dispersed there like waters.

12 And there they had left their gods; and Dauid said, Let them euen be burnt with fire.

13 Againe the Philistims came & spread them selues in the valley.

14 And when Dauid asked againe counsell at God, God saide to him, Thou shalt not goe vp after them, but turne away from them, that thou maiest come vpon them ouer against the mulberie trees.

15 And when thou hearest the noyse of one going in the toppes of the mulberie trees, then goe out to battell: for God is gone foorth before thee, to smite the hoste of the Philistims.

16 So Dauid did as God had commaunded him: and they smote the hoste of the Philistims from Gibeon euen to Gezer.

17 And the fame of Dauid went out into all landes: and the Lorde brought the feare of him vpon all nations.

CHAP. XV.

1 Dauid prepareth an house for the Arke. 4 The number and order of the Leuites. 16 The singers are chosen out among them. 25 They bring againe the Arke with ioye. 29 Dauid dauncing before it, is despised of his wife Michal.

a That was in the place of the citie called Zion, 2. Sam. 5. 7, 9.

AND Dauid made him houses in the a citie of Dauid, and prepared a place for the Arke of God, and pitched for it a tent.

2 Then Dauid said, *None ought to carie the Arke of God, but the Leuites: for the Lord hath chosen them to beare the Arke of the Lorde, and to minister vnto him for euer.

*Num. 4. 2, 3, 20.

3 ¶ And Dauid gathered all Israel together to Ierusalem to bring vp the b Arke of the Lorde vnto his place, which he had ordeined for it.

b From the house of Obed Edom, 2. Sam. 6. 10, 12.

4 And Dauid assembled the sonnes of Aaron, and the Leuites.

5 Of the sonnes of Kohath, Vriel the chiefe, and his ‖ brethren sixe score.

6 Of the sonnes of Merari, Asaiah the chiefe, and his brethren two hundreth and twentie.

7 Of the sonnes of Gershom, Ioel the chiefe, and his brethren an hundreth and thirtie.

8 Of the sonnes of c Elizaphan, Shemaiah the chiefe, and his brethren two hundreth.

c Who was the sonne of Vzziel, the fourth sonne of Kohath, Exod. 6. 18, 22. & numb. 3. 30.

9 Of the sonnes of d Hebron Eliel the chiefe, and his brethren fourescore.

d The third sonne of Kohath, Exod. 6. 18.

10 Of the sonnes of Vzziel, Amminadab the chiefe, and his brethren an hundreth and twelue.

11 ¶ And Dauid called Zadok and Abiathar the Priestes, and of the Leuites, Vriel, Asaiah and Ioel, Shemaiah, and Eliel, and Amminadab:

12 And he saide vnto them, Ye are the chiefe fathers of the Leuites: e sanctifie your selues, and your brethren, and bring vp the Arke of the Lord God of Israel vnto the place that I haue prepared for it.

e Prepare your selues and be pure, abstaine from all things whereby ye might be polluted, and so not able to come to the Tabernacle. *Chap. 13. 10.

13 For *because ye were not there at the first, the Lord our God made a breach among vs: for we sought him not after due f order.

f According as he hath appointed in the Lawe.

14 So the Priestes and the Leuites sanctified themselues to bring vp the Arke of the Lorde God of Israel.

15 ¶ And the sonnes of the Leuites bare the Arke of God vpon their shoulders with the barres as Moses had commanded, * according to the word of the Lorde.

*Exod. 25. 14, 15.

16 And Dauid spake to the chiefe of the Leuites, that they should appoint certaine of their brethren to sing with g instruments of musicke, with violes and harpes, and cymbals, that they might make a sounde, and lift vp their voyce with ioye.

g These instruments and other ceremonies with they obserued were instructions of their infancie, which continued to the comming of Christ.

17 So the Leuites appointed Heman the sonne of Ioel, and of his brethren Asaph the sonne of Berechiah, and of the sonnes of Merari their brethren, Ethan the sonne of Kushaiah, 18 And with them their brethren in the h second degree, Zechariah, Ben, and Iaaziel, and Shemiramoth, and Iehiel, and Vnni, Eliab, and Benaiah, and Maaseiah, and Mattathiah, and Eliphelehu, & Mikneah, & Obed Edom, & Ieiel the porters.

h Which were inferior in dignitie.

19 So Heman, Asaph, and Ethan were singers to make a sounde with cymbals of brasse, 20 And Zechariah, and Aziel, and Shemiramoth, and Iehiel, and Vnni, and Eliab, and Maaseiah, and Benaiah with violes on i Alamoth, i This was an instrument of musicke, or a certaine tune, whereunto they accustomed to sing Psalmes.

21 And Mattithiah, and Eliphelehu, and Mikneah, and Obed Edom, and Ieiel, and Azaziah, with harpes vpon k Sheminith Ienazzeah.

k Which was the eight tune, ouer the which he that was most excellent had charge.

22 But Chenaniah the chiefe of the Leuites had l the charge, bearing y burden in the charge, for he was able to instruct.

l To wit, to appoint Psalmes and songs to them to sung.

23 And Berechiah and Elkanah were porters for the Arke.

24 And Shecaniah, and Iehoshaphat, and Nethaneel, and Amasai, and Zechariah, and Benaiah, and Eliezer the Priestes did blowe with trumpets before the Arke of God, and Obed Edom and Iehiah were porters m for the Arke.

m With Berechiah and Elkanah, verse 23.

25 * So Dauid and the Elders of Israel and the captaines of thousands went to bring vp the Arke of the couenant of the Lord from the house of Obed Edom with ioye.

*2. Sam. 6. 12.

26 And because that God n helped the Leuites that bare the Arke of the couenant of the Lorde, they offered o seuen bullockes and seuen rammes.

n That is, gaue them strength to execute their office.

o Besides the bullocke and the beast which Dauid offred at euery sixt pace, 2. Sam. 6. 13.

27 And Dauid had on him a linnen garment, as all the Leuites that bare the Arke, and the singers, and Chenaniah that had the chiefe charge of the singers: and vpon Dauid was a linnen p Ephod.

p Reade 1. Sam. 2. 14.

28 Thus all Israel brought vp the Arke of the Lordes couenant with shouting, and sounde of corner, and with trumpets, and with cymbales, making a sound with violes and with harpes.

29 And when the Arke of the q couenant of the Lorde came into the citie of Dauid, Michal the daughter of Saul looked out at a windowe, and sawe King Dauid dauncing and playing, and * she despised him in her heart.

q It was so called because it put the Israelites in remembrance of the Lordes couenant made with them. *2. Sam. 6. 16.

CHAP. XVI.

1 The Arke being placed, they offer sacrifices. 4 Dauid ordaineth Asaph and his brethren to minister before the Lord. 8 He appointeth a notable Psalme to be sung in praise of the Lorde.

SO * they brought in the Arke of God, and set it in the middes of the Tabernacle that Dauid had pitched for it, and they offred burnt offrings and peace offrings before God.

*2. Sam. 6. 17.

2 And when Dauid had made an ende of offering the burnt offering and the peace offerings, he r blessed the people in the Name of the Lorde.

r He called vpon the Name of God, declaring that he prospered the people, and gaue successe to their beginnings.

3 And

3 And hee dealt to euery one of Israel both man and woman, to euery one a cake of bread, and a piece of flesh, and a bottell of wine.

4 And he appointed certaine of the Leuites to minister before the Arke of the Lord, and to [b] rehearse & to thanke & praise the Lord God of Israel.

5 Asaph the chiefe, and next to him Zechariah, Ieiel, and Shemiramoth, and Iehiel, and Mattithiah, and Eliab, and Benaiah, and Obed Edom, and Ieiel with instruments, violes and harpes, and Asaph to make a sound with cymbales, 6 And Benaiah and Iahaziel Priestes, with trumpets continually before the Arke of the couenant of God.

7 Then at that time Dauid did [c] appoynt at the beginning to giue thankes to the Lord by the hand of Asaph and his brethren.

8 * Praise the Lord, and call vpon his Name: declare his [d] works among the people.

9 Sing vnto him, sing praise vnto him, and talke of his [e] wondetfull workes.

10 Reioyce in his holy Name: let the hearts of them that seeke the Lord, reioyce.

11 Seeke the Lord and his strength: seeke his face continually.

12 Remember his marueilous workes that he hath done, his wonders, and the [f] iudgements of his mouth, 13 O seede of Israel his seruant, O the children of Iaakob his [g] chosen.

14 Hee is the Lord our God: his iudgements are throughout all the earth.

15 Remember his couenant for euer, and the word, which he commanded to a thousand generations.

16 * Which he made with Abraham, and his othe to Izhak:

17 And hath confirmed it to Iaakob for a Law, and to Israel for an euerlasting couenant, 18 Saying, To thee will I giue the land of Canaan, the [h] lot of your inheritance,

19 When yee were [i] fewe in number, yea, a very fewe, and strangers therein,

20 And walked about from nation to nation, and from one kingdome to another people,

21 He suffered no man to doe them wrong, but rebuked [k] Kings for their sakes, saying, 22 Touch not mine [l] anoynted, and doe my [m] Prophets no harme.

23 * Sing vnto the Lord all the earth: declare his saluation from day to day.

24 Declare his glory among the nations, and his wondetfull workes among all people.

25 For the Lord is great and much to be praised, and he is to be feared aboue all gods:

26 For all the gods of the people are [n] idoles, but the Lord made the heauens.

27 Praise and glory are before him: power and beautie are in his place.

28 Giue vnto the Lord ye families of the people: giue vnto the Lord glory and power.

29 Giue vnto the Lorde [o] glory of his Name: bring an offering, and come before him, and worship the Lord in the glorious Sanctuarie.

30 [p] Tremble yee before him, all the earth: surely the world shalbe stable and not moue.

31 Let the heauens reioyce, and let the earth be glad, and let them say among the nations, The Lord reigneth.

32 Let the sea roare, and all that therein is: Let the fielde be ioyfull, and all that is in it.

33 Let the trees of the wood then reioyce at the presence of the Lorde: for hee commeth to [p] iudge the earth.

34 Praise the Lorde for hee is good, for his mercy endureth for euer.

35 And say ye, Saue vs, O God, our saluation, and gather vs, and deliuer vs from the heathen, that we may praise thine holy Name, and [q] glory in thy prayse.

36 Blessed be the Lord God of Israel for euer and euer: and let all people say, [r] So be it, and praise the Lord.

37 ¶ Then hee left there before the Arke of the Lordes couenant Asaph and his brethren to minister continually before the Arke, that which was to be done euery day:

38 And Obed Edom and his brethren, three score and eight: and Obed Edom the sonne of Ieduthun, and Hosah were porters.

39 And Zadok the Priest and his brethren the Priestes were before the Tabernacle of the Lord, in the hie place that was at Gibeon, 40 To offer burnt offrings vnto the Lord vpon the burnt offering altar continually, in the morning and in the euening, euen according vnto al that is written in the law of the Lord, which he commanded Israel.

41 And with [s] them were Heman, and Ieduthun, and the rest that were chosen, (which were appointed by names) to praise the Lord, because his mercie endureth for euer.

42 Euen with them were Heman & Ieduthun, to make a sound with the cornets and with the cymbales, with excellent instruments of musike: and the sonnes of Ieduthun were at the gate.

43 And al the people departed, euery man to his house: & Dauid returned to [t] blesse his house.

CHAP. XVII.

3 Dauid is forbidden to builde an house vnto the Lorde. 11 Christ is promised vnder the figure of Salomon. 18 Dauid giueth thankes, 23 And prayeth vnto God.

NOwe * afterward when Dauid dwelt in his house, hee side to Nathan the Propher, Beholde, I dwel in an house of [a] cedar trees, but the Arke of the Lordes couenant remaineth vnder [b] curtaines.

2 Then Nathan said to Dauid, Doe [c] all that is in thine heart: for God is with thee.

3 And the same [d] night euen the word of God came to Nathan, saying,

4 Goe, and tell Dauid my seruant, Thus saith the Lorde, Thou shalt not builde me an house to dwell in:

5 For I haue dwelt in no house since the day that I brought out the children of Israel vnto this day, but I haue bene from [e] tent to tent, and from habitation to habitation.

6 Wheresoeuer I haue [f] walked with all Israel, spake I one word to any of the iudges of Israel (whome I commanded to feede my people) saying, Why haue ye not built me an house of cedar trees?

7 Now therefore thus shalt thou say vnto my seruant Dauid, Thus saith the Lord of hostes, I [g] tooke thee from the sheepecote, and from following the sheepe, that thou shouldest be a ruler ouer my people Israel.

15 According to all these wordes, and according to all this vision. So Nathan spake to Dauid.

m He went into the tent where the Arke was, shewing what we ought to doe when we receiue any benefites of the Lord.

o Thou hast promised a kingdome that shall continue to me and my posteritie, and that Christ shall proceede of me.

18 What can Dauid desire more of thee for the honour of thy seruant? for thou knowest thy seruant.

19 O Lord, for thy seruants sake, euen according to thine [p] heart hast thou done all this great thing to declare all magnificence.

CHAP. XVIII.

1 The battell of Dauid against the Philistims, 2 And against Moab, 3 Zobah, 5 Aram, 12 And Edom.

AND after this, Dauid smote the Philistims, & subdued them, and tooke [a] Gath, and the villages thereof out of the hand of the Philistims.

a Which 2. Sam. 8. 1. is called the bridle of bondage, because it was a strong towne, and kept the countrey round about in subiection.

2 And he smote Moab, and the Moabites became Dauids seruants, and ‖ brought gifts.

‖Or, payed tribute.

3 ¶ And Dauid smote ‖ Hadarezer King of Zobah vnto Hamath, as hee went to stablish his border by the riuer ‖ Perath.

4 And Dauid tooke frō him a thousand charets, and seuen thousand horsemen, and twentie thousand footemen, and * destroyed all the charets, but he reserued of them an hundreth charets.

* 2. Sam. 8. 9.

5 ¶ Then came the Aramites of Damascus to succour Hadarezer King of Zobah, but Dauid slew of the Aramites two and twentie thousand.

6 And Dauid put a garison in Aram of ‖ Damascus, & the Aramites became Dauids seruants, and brought gifres: and the Lorde [b] preserued Dauid whersoeuer he went.

‖Or, Damasek.

b That is, in all things that he enterprised.

7 And Dauid tooke the shields of gold that were of the seruants of Hadarezer, and brought them to Ierusalem.

8 And from [c] Tibhath, and from Chun (cities of Hadarezer) brought Dauid exceeding much brasse, wherewith Salomon made the brasen * Sea, and the pillars and the vessels of brasse.

9 ¶ Then Tou king of Hamath heard howe Dauid had smitten all the hoste of Hadarezer king of Zobah:

10 Therefore he sent [d] Hadoram his sonne to king Dauid, to salute him, & to reioice with him, because he had fought against Hadarezer, & beaten him (for Tou had warre with Hadarezer) who brought all vessels of golde and siluer and brasse.

d Called Ioram, 2. Sam. 8. 10.

11 And king Dauid did dedicate them vnto the Lorde, with the siluer and golde that hee brought from all the nations, from [e] Edom, and from Moab, and from the children of Ammon, and from the Philistims, and from Amalek.

e Because the Edomites and the Syrians ioyned their power together, it is said, 2. Sam. 8. 12. that the Aramites were spoyled.

12 ¶ And Abishai the sonne of Zeruiah smote of Edom in the salt valley [f] eighteene thousand.

f Which letter did stood for 8. shewe twelue thousand, as in the title of the three score Psal. and Abishai the rest.

13 And he put a garrison in Edom, and all the Edomites became Dauids seruants: and the Lord preserued Dauid whersoeuer he went.

14 So Dauid reigned ouer all Israel, and executed iudgement and iustice to all his people.

15 And Ioab the sonne of Zeruiah was ouer the hoste, and Iehoshaphat the sonne of Ahilud recorder,

16 And Zadok the sonne of Ahitub, and Abimelech the sonne of Abiathar were the Priests, & ‖ Shausha the Scribe,

CHAP. XIX.

1 Hanun King of the children of Ammon doth great iniuries to the seruants of Dauid. 6 He prepareth an armie against Dauid, 15 And is ouercome.

AFter this also * Nahash the King of the children of Ammon died, and his sonne reigned in his stead.

* 2. Sam. 10. 1.

2 And

2 And Dauid saide, I will shew kindnesse vnto Hanun the sonne of Nahash, because his [a] father shewed kindnesse vnto me. And Dauid sent messengers to comfort him for his father. So the seruants of Dauid came into the land of the children of Ammon to Hanun to comfort him.

3 And the princes of the children of Ammon saide to Hanun, Thinkest thou that Dauid doeth honour thy father, that hee hath sent comforters vnto thee? Are not his seruants come to thee to [b] search, to seeke and to spie out the land?

4 Wherefore Hanun tooke Dauids seruants, and [c] shaued them, & cut off [d] their garments by the halfe vnto the buttocks, and sent them away.

5 And there went certaine and tolde Dauid concerning the men: and hee sent to meete them (for the men were exceedingly ashamed) and the King saide, Tarie at Iericho, vntill your beardes be growen: then returne.

6 ¶ When the children of Ammon saw that they ‖ stanke in the sight of Dauid, then sent Hanun, and the children of Ammon a thousande talents of siluer to hire them charets and horsemen out * of Aram Naharaim and out of Aram Maachah, and out of [e] Zobah.

7 And they hired them two and thirtie thousande charets, and the King of Maachah and his people, which came and pitched before [f] Medeba: & the children of Ammon gathered themselues together from their cities, and came to the battel.

8 ¶ And when Dauid heard, he sent Ioab and all the host of the valiant men.

9 And the children of Ammon came out, and set their battell in aray at the gate of the citie. And the Kings that were come, were by themselues in the field.

10 When Ioab sawe that the front of the battel was against him before and behinde, then hee chose out of all the choise of Israel, & set himselfe in aray to meete the Aramites.

11 And the rest of the people hee deliuered vnto the hande of Abishai his brother, and they put them selues in aray against the children of Ammon.

12 And he said, If Aram be too strong for me, then thou shalt succour me: and if the children of Ammon preuaile against thee, then I will succour thee.

13 Be strong, and let vs shewe our selues valiant for our [g] people, and for [h] cities of our God, and let the Lorde doe that which is good in his owne sight.

14 So Ioab and the people that was with him, came neere before the Aramites vnto the battell, and they fled before him.

15 And when the children of Ammon saw that the Aramites fled, they fled also before Abishai his brother, and entred into the citie: so Ioab came to Ierusalem.

16 ¶ And when the Aramites saw that they were discomfited before Israel, they sent messengers, and caused the Aramites to come forth that were beyond the [i] riuer: and Shophach the captaine of the host of Hadarezer went before them.

17 And when it was shewed Dauid, he gathered all Israel, and went ouer Iorden, and came vnto thē, and put himselfe in aray against them: And when Dauid had put himselfe in battell aray to meete the Aramites, they fought with him.

18 But the Aramites fled before Israel, & Dauid destroyed of the Aramites [k] seuen thousande charets, and fourtie thousand footemen, and killed Shophach the captaine of the hoste.

19 And when the seruants of Hadarezer sawe that they fell before Israel, they made peace with Dauid, and serued him. And the Aramites would no more succour the children of Ammon.

CHAP. XX.

1 Rabbah destroyed. 3 The Ammonites tormented. 4 The Philistims are thrise ouercome with their giants.

AND *when the yeere was expired, in the time that Kings goe out a warfare, Ioab caried out the strength of the armie, & destroyed the countrey of the children of Ammon, and came and besieged [a] Rabbah (but Dauid taried at Ierusalem) and Ioab smote Rabbah and destroyed it.

2 *Then Dauid tooke the crowne of their King from off his head, and founde it the weight of a [b] talent of golde, with precious stones in it: and it was set on Dauids head, and he brought away the spoile of the citie exceeding much.

3 And he caried away the people that were in it, and cut them with sawes, and with harrowes of yron, and with axes: euen thus did Dauid with all the cities of the children of Ammon. Then Dauid and all the people came againe to Ierusalem.

4 ¶ *And after this also there arose warre at ‖ Gezer with the Philistims, then Sibbechai the Hushathite slewe ‖ Sippai, of the children of ‖ Haraphah, and they were subdued.

5 And there was yet another battell with the Philistims: and Elhanan the sonne of Iair slewe [c] Lahmi, the brother of Goliath the Gittite, whose spearestaffe was like a weauers beame.

6 And yet againe there was a battell at Gath, where was a man of a great stature, & his fingers were by [d] sixes, euen foure and twentie, and was also the sonne of Haraphah.

7 And when he reuiled Israel, Iehonathan the sonne of Shimea Dauids brother did slay him.

8 Then Dauid saide vnto God, I haue sinned greatly, because I haue done this thing: but now, I beseech thee, remoue the iniquitie of thy seruant: for I haue done very foolishly.

9 And the Lord spake vnto Gad Dauids ‖Seer, saying,

‖Or, Prophet.

10 Goe and tell Dauid, saying, Thus saith the Lord, I offer thee three things: choose thee one of them that I may doe it vnto thee.

11 So Gad came to Dauid, and said vnto him, Thus saith the Lord, Take to thee

12 Either three yeres famine, or three moneths to be destroyed before thine aduersaries, and the sword of thine enemies ‖ to take thee, or els the sword of the Lord and pestilence in the land three dayes, that the Angell of the Lorde may destroy throughout all the coastes of Israel: now therefore aduise thee, what word I shall bring againe that sent me.

‖Or, smite thee.

13 And Dauid said vnto Gad, I am in a wonderfull strait, let me now fall into the hand of the Lorde: for his mercies are exceeding great, and let me not fall into the hand of man.

14 So the Lord sent a pestilence in Israel, and there fell of Israel seuentie thousand men.

15 ¶ And God sent the Angell into Ierusalem to destroy it. And † as he was destroying, the Lord beheld, and ‖ repented of the euill, and said to the Angell that destroyed, It is now enough, let thine hand cease. Then the Angell of the Lord stood by the threshing floore of ‖ Ornan the Iebusite.

16 And Dauid lift vp his eyes, and saw the Angel of the Lord stand betweene the earth and the heauen, with his sworde drawen in his hande and stretched out toward Ierusalem. Then Dauid and the Elders of Israel, which were clothed in sacke, fell vpon their faces.

17 And Dauid said vnto God, Is it not I that commanded to number the people? It is euen I that haue sinned and haue committed euill, but these sheepe what haue they done? O Lorde my God, I beseech thee, let thine hand be on me and on my fathers house, and not on h thy people for their destruction.

h Thus he both sheweth a true repentance and a fatherly care toward his people, which desireth God to spare them and to punish him and his.

18 ¶ Then the Angel of the Lord commanded Gad to say to Dauid, that Dauid should go vp, & set vp an altar vnto the Lorde in the threshing floore of Ornan the Iebusite.

19 So Dauid went vp according to the saying of Gad, which hee had spoken in the name of the Lord.

20 And Ornan turned about, and saw the Angel, and his foure sonnes that were with him, i hid themselues, and Ornan threshed wheat.

i If man hide him selfe at the sight of an Angell which is a creature, howe much lesse is a sinner able to appeare before the face of God?

21 And as Dauid came to Ornan, Ornan looked and saw Dauid, & went out of the threshing floore, and bowed himselfe to Dauid with his face to the ground.

22 And Dauid saide to Ornan, Giue mee the place of thy threshing floore, that I may builde an k altar therein vnto the Lorde: giue it me for sufficient money, that the plague may be stayed from the people.

k Thus he did by the commandement of God, as verse. 18. for els it had bene abominable, except he had either God's word, or reuelation.

23 Then Ornan saide vnto Dauid, Take it to thee, and let my lord the King do that which seemeth him good: loe, I giue thee bullockes for burnt offrings, and threshing instruments for wood, and wheat for meate offring, I giue it all.

24 And King Dauid saide to Ornan, Not so: but I wil bye it for sufficient l money: for I will not take that which is thine for the Lord, nor offer burnt offrings without cost.

l That is, as much as it is worth: for hauing inough of his owne, and yet to haue taken of another mans goods to offer vnto the Lord, it had bene theft and not acceptable to God.

26 And Dauid built there an altar vnto the Lorde, and offered burnt offerings, and peace offrings, and called vpon the Lorde, and he n answered him by fire from heauen vpon the altar of burnt offring.

27 And when the Lorde had spoken to the Angell, hee put vp his sworde againe into his sheath.

28 At that time when Dauid saw that the Lord had heard him in the threshing floore of Ornan the Iebusite, then he sacrificed there.

2 Dauid prepareth things necessarie for the building of the Temple. 6 He commandeth his sonne Salomon to build the Temple of the Lorde, which thing he himselfe was forbidden to doe. 9 Vnder the figure of Salomon Christ is promised.

AND Dauid saide, This is the a house of the Lorde God, and this is the altar for the burnt offring of Israel.

a That is, the place wherein he will be worshipped.

2 And Dauid commanded to gather together the b strangers that were in the land of Israel, and he set masons to hew and polish stones to builde the house of God.

b Meaning, coming men of other nations which dwelt among the Iewes.

3 Dauid also prepared c much yron for the nayles of the doores and of the gates, and for the ioynings, and abundance of brasse passing weight, c To wit, which weighed fiftie shekels of golde, 2.Chron. 3.9.

4 And cedar trees without number: for the Zidonians and they of Tyrus brought much cedar wood to Dauid.

5 And Dauid saide, Salomon my sonne is yong and tender, and wee must build an house for the Lorde, magnificall, excellent and of great fame and dignitie throughout all countreyes. I will therefore nowe prepare for him. So Dauid prepared very much before his death.

6 Then he called Salomon his sonne, & charged him to build an house for the Lorde God of Israel.

7 And Dauid said to Salomon, * My sonne, I purposed with my selfe to builde an house to the Name of the Lord my God,

8 But the word of the Lord came to me, saying, * d Thou hast shed much blood, & hast made great battels: thou shalt not builde an house vnto my Name: for thou hast shed much blood vpon the earth in my sight.

d This declareth how greatly God detesteth the shedding of blood, seeing Dauid for this cause is stayed to build the Temple of the Lord, although he enterprised no warre, but by Gods commandement and against his enemies.

9 Beholde, a sonne is borne to thee, which shalbe a man of rest, for I will giue him rest from all his enemies rounde about, therefore his name is Salomon: and I will sende peace and quietnes vpon Israel in his dayes.

12 Onely the Lord giue thee f wisedome and vnderstanding, and giue thee charge ouer Israel, euen to keepe the Lawe of the Lord thy God.

13 Then thou shalt prosper, if thou take heede to obserue the statutes and the iudgements which the Lord commanded Moses for Israel: be strong and of good courage: feare not, neither be afraid.

14 For beholde, according to my g pouertie haue I prepared for the house of the Lord an hundreth thousand talents of golde, and a thousand thousand talents of siluer, and of brasse and of yron passing weight: for there was abundance: I haue also prepared timber and stone, and thou mayest prouide more thereto.

15 Moreouer thou hast workemen with thee ynough, ‖ hewers of stone, and workemen for timber, and all men expert in euery worke.

16 Of golde, of siluer, and of brasse, and of yron there is no number: h Vp therefore, and be doing, and the Lord will be with thee.

17 Dauid also commanded all the princes of Israel to helpe Salomon his sonne, saying,

18 Is not the Lord your God with you, and hath giuen you rest on euery side? for hee hath giuen the i inhabitants of the land into mine hand, and the land is subdued before the Lord, and before his people.

19 Nowe set k your hearts and your soules to seeke the Lord your God, and arise, and builde the Sanctuarie of the Lord God to bring the Arke of the couenant of the Lord, and the holy vessels of God into the house built for the Name of the Lord.

SO when Dauid was olde and full of dayes, *he made Salomon his sonne King ouer Israel.

2 And hee gathered together all the princes of Israel with the Priestes and the Leuites.

3 And the Leuites were numbred from the age of thirtie yeere and aboue, and their number according to their summe was eight and thirtie thousand men.

4 Of these foure and twentie thousand were set ‖ to aduance the worke of the house of the Lord, and sixe thousand were ouerseers & iudges.

5 And foure thousand were porters, & foure thousand praised ℣ Lord with instruments which † he made to prayse the Lord.

6 * So Dauid diuided offices vnto them, to wit, to the sonnes of Leui, to * Gershon, Kohath, and Merari.

8 The sonnes of Laadan, the chiefe was Iehiel, and Zetham and Ioel, three.

9 The sonnes of Shimei, Shelomith, and Haziel, and Haram, three: these were the chiefe fathers of Laadan.

10 Also the sonnes of Shimei were Iahath, Zina, Ieush, and Beriah. these foure were ℣ sonnes of Shimei.

11 And Iahath was the chiefe, and ‖ Zizah the second, but Ieush and Beriah had not many sonnes: therefore they were in the families of their father, counted but as one.

12 ¶ The sonnes of Kohath were Amram, Izhar, Hebron and Vzziel, foure.

13 * The sonnes of Amram, Aaron and Moses: and Aaron was separated to a sanctifie the most holy place, hee and his sonnes for euer to burne incense before ℣ Lorde, to minister to him, and to blesse in his name for euer.

16 Of the sonnes of * Gershom was Shebuel the chiefe.

18 The sonne of Izhar was Shelomith ℣ chiefe.

19 The sonnes of Hebron were Ieriah the first, Amariah the second, Iahaziel the third, and Iekamiam the fourth.

20 The sonnes of Vzziel were Michah the first, and Isshiah the second.

21 ¶ The sonnes of Merari were Mahli and Mushi. The sonnes of Mahli, Eleazar and Kish.

22 And Eleazar died, and had no sonnes, but daughters, and their d brethren the sonnes of Kish tooke them.

23 The sonnes of Mushi were Mahli, and Eder, and Ierimoth, three.

24 These were the sonnes of Leui according to the house of their fathers, euen the chiefe fathers according to their offices, according to the number of names and their summe that did the worke for the seruice of the house of the Lorde from the age of e twentie yeeres and aboue.

26 And also the Leuites shall no more beare ℣ Tabernacle & al the vessels for the seruice therof.

27 Therefore according to the last wordes of Dauid, the Leuites were numbred from twentie yeere and aboue,

28 And their office was vnder the hand of the sonnes of Aaron, for the seruice of the house of the Lord in the courtes, and chambers, and in the f purifying of all holy things and in the worke of the seruice of the house of God, Dauid assigneth offices vnto the sonnes of Aaron.

THese are also the * diuisions of the sonnes of Aaron: The sonnes of Aaron were Nadab, and Abihu, Eleazar, and Ithamar.

2 But Nadab and Abihu died a before their father, and had no children: therefore Eleazar and Ithamar executed the Priests office.

3 And Dauid distributed them, euen Zadok of the ‖ sonnes of Eleazar, and Ahimelech of the sonnes of Ithamar, according to their offices in their ministration.

3 Because Dauid was forbidden to builde the Temple, he willeth Salomon and the people to performe it, 8 Exhorting him to feare the Lord.

7 I will stablish therefore his kingdome for euer, if he endeuour himselfe to doe my commandements and my iudgements, as it is this day.

8 Nowe therefore in the sight of all Israel the Congregation of the Lorde, and in the audience of our God, keepe & seeke for all the commandements of the Lord your God, that ye may possesse this d good land, and leaue it for an inheritance for your children after you for euer.

9 And thou, Salomon my sonne, knowe thou the God of thy father, and serue him with a perfite heart, and with a willing minde: * for the Lorde searcheth all hearts, and vnderstandeth all the imaginations of thoughtes: if thou seeke him, he will be found of thee, but if thou forsake him, he will cast thee off for euer.

MOreouer Dauid the King sayde vnto all the Congregation, God hath chosen Salomon mine onely sonne yong & tender, and the worke a great: for this house is not for man, but for the Lord God.

a And therefore it ought to be excellent in all points.

2 Nowe I haue prepared with all my power for the house of my God, golde for vessels of golde, and siluer for things of siluer, and brasse for things of brasse, yron for things of yron, & wood for things of wood, and onix stones, and stones to be set, and carbuncle stones and of diuers colours, and all precious stones, and marble stones in abundance.

3 Moreouer, because I haue b delite in the house of my God, I haue of mine owne golde and siluer, which I haue giuen to the house of my God, beside all that I haue prepared for the house of the Sanctuarie, b His great zeale towarde the furtherance of the Temple made him to spare no expenses, but to bestow his owne peculiar treasure.

d Hee was not onely liberall himselfe, but prouoked others to set forth the worke of God.

6 So the princes of the families, and the princes of the tribes of Israel, and the captaines of thousands and of hundreths, with the rulers of the Kings worke, offered willingly,

7 And they gaue for the seruice of the house of God fiue thousand talents of golde, and ten thousand pieces, and ten thousand talents of siluer, and eighteene thousand talents of brasse, and one hundreth thousand talents of yron.

8 And they with whom precious stones were e found, gaue them to the treasure of the house of the Lord, by the hand of Iehiel the Gershunnite.

9 And the people reioyced when they offered willingly: for they offred willingly vnto the Lord, with a f perfite heart. And Dauid the King also * reioyced with great ioy.

f That is, with a good courage and without hypocrisie.

* Psal. 122.1.

10 Therefore Dauid blessed g Lord before all the Cõgregation, & Dauid said, Blessed be thou, O Lord God, of h Israel our father, for euer & euer.

11 Thine, O Lord, is greatnesse & power, and glory, and victorie, & praise: for all that is in heauen and in earth is thine: thine is the kingdome, O Lord, and thou exaltest as head ouer all.

h We gaue thee nothing of our owne, but that which wee haue received of thee: for whether the gifts be corporall or spirituall, we must receiue them all of God: & therefore giue him the glory.

13 Now therefore our God, we thanke thee, and praise thy glorious Name.

14 But who am I and what is my people, that we should be able to offer willingly after this sort? for all things i come of thee, and of thine owne hand we haue giuen thee.

22 And they did eate and drinke before the Lord the same day with great ioy, and they made Salomon the sonne of Dauid King the second time, and anoynted him Prince before the Lord, and Zadok for the hie Priest.

THE SECOND BOOKE OF THE CHRONICLES.

THE ARGVMENT.

THis second booke conteineth briefly in effect that, which is comprehended in the two bookes of the Kings: that is, from the reigne of Salomon to the destruction of Ierusalem, and the carying away of the people captiue into Babylon. In this story are certaine things declared and set foorth more copiously then in the bookes of the Kings, and therefore serue greatly to the vnderstanding of the Prophets. But three things are here chiefly to be considered. First that the godly Kings, when they sawe the plagues of God prepared against their countrey for sinne, had recourse to the Lord, and by earnest prayer were heard, and the plagues remoued. The second, how it is a thing that greatly offendeth God, that such as feare him and professe his religion, should ioyne in amitie with the wicked. And thirdly, how the good rulers euer loued the Prophets of God, and were very zealous to set forth his religion throwout all their dominions, & contrariwise the wicked hated his ministers, deposed them, and for the true religion and worde of God, set vp idolatrie, and serued God according to the fantasie of men. Thus haue we hitherto the chiefe actes from the beginning of the world to the building againe of Ierusalem, which was the two and thirtieth yeere of Darius, and conteine in the whole, three thousand, fiue hundreth, threescore and eighteene yeeres, and sixe moneths.

CHAP. I.

3 So Salomon and all the Congregation with him went to the hie place that was at b Gibeon: for there was the Tabernacle c of the Congregation of God which Moses the seruant of the Lord had made in the wilderneſſe.

5 Moreouer the d brasen altar * that Bezaleel the sonne of Vri, the sonne of Hur had made, did hee set before the Tabernacle of the Lorde: and Salomon and the Congregation sought it.

6 And Salomon offred there before the Lord vpon the brasen altar that was in the Tabernacle of the Congregation: *euen a thousand burnt offrings offered he vpon it.

9 Nowe therefore, O Lord God, let thy promise vnto Dauid my father be *a true: for thou hast made me King ouer a great people, like to the dust of the earth.

10 Giue me nowe wisedome and knowledge, that I may *b goe out and goe in before this people: for who can iudge this thy great people?

11 And God sayde to Salomon, Because this was in thine heart, & thou hast not asked riches, treasures nor honour, nor the c liues of thine enemies, neither yet hast asked long life, but hast asked for thee wisedome and knowledge that thou mightest iudge my people, ouer whome I haue made the King,

12 Wisdome and knowledge is granted vnto thee, and I will giue thee riches and treasures and honour, so that there hath not d bene the like among the Kings which were before thee, neither after thee shall there be the like.

13 Then Salomon came from the hie place, that was at Gibeon, to Ierusalem from before the Tabernacle of the Congregation, and reigned ouer Israel.

14 *And Salomon gathered the charets and horsemen: and he had a thousand and foure hundreth charets, and twelue thousand horsemen, whom hee placed in the h charet cities, and with the King at Ierusalem.

15 And the King gaue siluer and gold at Ierusalem as i stones, and gaue cedar trees as the wilde figge trees, that are abundantly in the plaine.

16 Also Salomon had horses brought out of Egypt, and *fine linen: k the Kings marchants receiued the fine linen for a price.

17 They came vp also and brought out of Egypt some charet, worth sixe hundreth shekels of siluer, that is an horse for an hundreth and fiftie: and thus they brought horses to all the Kings of the Hittites, and to the Kings of Aram by their †meanes.

2 The number of Salomons workemen to builde the Temple.
3 Salomon sendeth to Hiram the King of Tyrus for wood and workemen.

THen Salomon determined to builde an house for the Name of the Lord, and an ‖ house for his kingdome.

2 And Salomon tolde out seuentie thousand that bare burdens, and fourescore thousand men to hewe stones in the mountaine, and three thousand and a sixe hundreth to ouersee them.

3 And Salomon sent to ‖ Huram the king of Tyrus, saying, As thou hast done to Dauid my father, and *didst send him cedar trees to build him an house to dwell in, so doe to me.

4 Beholde, I builde an house vnto the Name of the Lord my God, to sanctifie it vnto him, and to burne sweete incense before him, and for the continuall shewbread, and for the burnt offrings of the morning and euening, on the Sabbath dayes, and in the new moneths, & in the solemne feastes of the Lord our God: this is a perpetuall thing for Israel.

5 And the house which I builde, is great: for great is our God aboue all gods.

6 Who is hee then that can be able to builde him an house, when the heauen, and the heauen of heauens cannot conteine him? who am I then that I should builde him an house? but I doe it to burne b incense before him.

7 Send mee nowe therefore a cunning man that can worke in gold, in siluer, and in brasse, and in yron, and in purple, and ‖ crimson & blue silke, and that can graue in grauen worke with the cunning men that are with me in Iudah and in Ierusalem, whom Dauid my father hath prepared.

8 Send mee also cedar trees, firre trees and c ‖ Algummim trees from Lebanon: for I knowe that thy seruants can skill to hewe timber in Lebanon: and beholde, my seruants shalbe with thine, 9 That they may prepare me timber in abundance: for the house which I doe builde, is great and wonderfull.

10 And behold, I will giue to thy seruants the cutters & the hewers of timber twentie thousand † measures of beaten wheate, & twentie thousand measures of barley, and twentie thousand baths of wine, and twentie d thousand baths of oyle.

11 Then Huram King of Tyrus answered in writing which he sent to Salomon, because the Lord hath loued his people, hee hath made thee King ouer them.

12 Huram sayd moreouer, Blessed be the Lord God of Israel, which made the heauen and the earth, and that hath giuen vnto Dauid the King a e wise sonne, that hath discretion, prudence and vnderstanding to builde an house for the Lord, and a place for his kingdome.

13 Now therefore I haue sent a wise man, and of vnderstanding of my father Hurams, 14 The sonne of a woman of the f daughters of Dan: and his father was a man of Tyrus, and he can skill to worke in golde, in siluer, in brasse, in yron, in stone, and in timber, in purple, in blue silke, and in fine linen, and in crimosin, and can graue in all grauen workes, and broyder in all broydered worke that shalbe giuen him, with thy cunning men, and with the cunning men of my lord Dauid thy father.

15 Nowe therefore the wheate and the barley, the oyle and the wine, which my Lord hath spoken of, let him send vnto his seruants.

16 And we will cut wood in Lebanon as much as thou shalt neede, and will bring it to thee in ‖ rafts by sea to ‖ Iapho, so thou mayest cary them to Ierusalem.

17 ¶ And Salomon numbred all the strangers that were in the land of Israel, after the numbring that his father Dauid had numbred them: and they were found an hundreth and three and fiftie thousand, and sixe hundreth.

18 And hee set seuentie thousand of them to the burden, and fourescore thousand to hewe stones in the mountaine, and three thousand and sixe hundreth ouerseers to cause the people to worke.

SO *Salomon began to build the house of the Lord in Ierusalem, in mount a Moriah which had bene declared vnto Dauid his father, in the place that Dauid prepared in the threshing floore of *Ornan the Iebusite.

2 And hee beganne to builde in the second moneth and the second day, in the fourth yeere of his reigne.

3 And these are the measures, whereon Salomon grounded to builde the house of God: the length of cubites after the first [b] measure was three score cubites, & the breadth twenty cubites:

4 And the porch, that was before the length in the front [c] of the breadth was twentie cubites, and the height was an [d] hundreth and twentie, and he ouerlayd it within with pure golde.

5 And the greater house hee fieled with firre tree which he ouerlayd with good gold, and graued thereon palme trees and chaines.

6 And hee ouerlayde the house with precious stone for beautie: and the golde was golde of [e] Paruaim.

7 The house, I say, the beames, postes, and walles thereof and the doores thereof ouerlaid he with gold, & grained Cherubims vpon the walles.

8 ¶ He made also the house of the most holy place: the length thereof was in the front of the breadth of the house, twentie cubites, and the breadth thereof twentie cubites: and he ouerlaid it with the best gold, of sixe hundreth talents.

9 And the weight of the nayles was fiftie shekels of gold, and he ouerlaid the chambers with gold.

10 ¶ And in the house of the most holy place he made two Cherubims wrought like children, and ouerlaid them with gold.

11 * And the wings of the Cherubims were twentie cubites long: the one wing was fiue cubites, reaching to the wall of the house, and the other wing fiue cubites, reaching to the wing of the other Cherub.

12 Likewise the wing of other the Cherub was fiue cubites, reaching to the wall of the house, and the other wing fiue cubites ioyning to the wing of the other Cherub.

13 The wings of these Cherubims were spread abroad twentie cubites: they stood on their feete, and their faces were toward the house.

14 ¶ He made also [f] the vaile of blew silke and purple, and crimosin, and fine linen, and wrought Cherubims thereon.

15 ¶ And he made before the house two pillars [g] of fiue and thirtie cubites hie: and the chapiter that was vpon the top of ech of them was fiue cubites.

16 Hee made also chaines for the oracle, and put them on the heads of the pillars, and made an [h] hundreth pomegranates, and put them among the chaines.

17 And hee set vp the pillars before the Temple, one on the right hand, and the other on the left, and called that on the right hand Iachin, and that on the left hand Boaz.

CHAP. IIII.

1 The altar of brasse. 2 The molten sea. 6 The caldron. 7 The candlesticks, &c.

AND he made an altar of brasse twentie cubites long, and twentie cubites broade, and ten cubites hie.

2 And he made a molten [a] Sea of ten cubites from brim to brim, round in compasse, and fiue cubites hie: and a line of thirtie cubites did compasse it about.

3 And vnder [b] it was the facion of oxen, which did compasse it round about, [c] tenne in a cubite compassing the Sea about: two rowes of oxen were cast when it was molten.

4 It stoode vpon twelue oxen: three looked toward the North, and three looked toward the West, and three looked toward the South, and three looked toward the East, and the Sea stoode about vpon them, and all their hinder parts were inward.

5 And the thickenesse thereof was an hand breadth, and the brim thereof was like the worke of the brim of a cuppe, with floures of ‖ lilies: it conteined [d] three thousand baths.

6 ¶ Hee made also ten caldrons, and put fiue on the right hand, and fiue on the left, to wash in them, and to clense in them that which apperteined to the burnt offrings: but the Sea was for the Priests to wash in.

7 ¶ And hee made ten candlestickes of golde (according to [e] their forme) and put them in the Temple, fiue on the right hand, & fiue on the left.

8 ¶ And he made ten tables, and put them in the Temple, fiue on the right hand, and fiue on the left: and he made an hundreth basens of gold.

9 And he made the court of the Priestes, and the great [f] court and doores for the [illegible], and ouerlayde the doores thereof with brasse.

10 And he set the Sea on the right side Eastward toward the South.

11 And Huram made ‖ pots and besoms, & basens, & Huram finished the worke that he should make for King Salomon for the house of God,

12 To wit, two pillars, and the bowles and the chapiters on the top of the two pillars, and two grates to couer the two bowles of the chapiters which were vpon the toppe of the pillars:

13 And foure hundreth pomegranates for the two grates, two rowes of pomegranates for euery grate to couer the two bowles of the chapiters, that were vpon the pillars.

14 He made also bases, and made caldrons vpon the bases:

15 And a Sea, and twelue bulles vnder it:

16 Pottes also and besoms, and fleshhookes, and all these vessels made Huram [g] his father, to King Salomon for the house of the Lorde, of shining brasse.

17 In the plaine of Iorden did the king cast them in clay betweene Succoth and Zeredathah.

18 And Salomon made al these vessels in great abundance: for the weight of brasse could not be reckoned.

19 And Salomon made al the vessels that were for the house of God: the golden altar also & the tables, whereon the [h] shewbread stood.

20 Moreouer the candlestickes, with their lampes to burne them after the maner, before the oracle, of pure golde.

21 And the floures and the lampes, and the snuffers of gold, which was fine golde.

22 And the ‖ hookes, and the basens, and the spoones, and the ashpans of pure gold: the entrie also of the house and doores thereof within, euen of the most holy place: and the doores of the house, to wit, of the Temple were [i] of golde.

brought in the things that Dauid his father had dedicated, with the siluer and the golde, and all the vessels, and put them among the treasures of the house of God.

2 Then Salomon assembled the Elders of Israel, and all the heads of the tribes, the chiefe fathers of the children of Israel vnto Ierusalem to bring vp the Arke of the couenant of the Lorde from the [a] citie of Dauid, which is Zion.

3 And all ỹ men of Israel assembled vnto the King at the [b] feast: it was in ỹ seuenth [c] moneth.

4 And all the Elders of Israel came, and the Leuites tooke vp the Arke.

5 And they caried vp the Arke and the Tabernacle of the Congregation: and all the holy vessels that were in the Tabernacle, those did the Priestes and Leuites bring vp.

6 And King Salomon and all the Congregation of Israel that were assembled vnto him, were before ỹ Arke, offering sheepe & bullocks, which could not be told, nor numbred for multitude.

7 So the Priestes brought the Arke of the couenant of the Lord vnto his place, into the Oracle of the house, into the most Holy place, euen vnder the wings of the Cherubims.

8 For ỹ Cherubims stretched out their wings ouer the place of the Arke, and the Cherubims couered the Arke and the barres thereof aboue.

10 Nothing was in the Arke, saue [d] the two Tables, which Moses gaue at Horeb, where the Lorde made a couenant with the children of Israel, when they came out of Egypt.

13 And they were [f] as one, blowing trumpets, and singing, and made one sounde to bee heard in praysing, and thanking the Lorde, and when they lift vp their voyce with trumpets and with cymbales, and with instruments of musicke, and when they praysed the Lord, singing, [g] For he is good, because his mercy lasteth for euer) then the house, euen the house of the Lorde was filled with a cloude, 14 So that the Priestes could not stand to minister, because of the cloude: for the glory of the Lord had filled the house of God.

CHAP. VI.

3 Salomon blesseth the people. 4 He prayseth the Lord. 14 He prayeth vnto God for those that shall pray in the Temple.

THen *Salomon [a] sayd, The Lorde hath sayde that he would dwell in the darke cloude:

2 And I haue built thee an house to dwell in, an habitation for thee to dwell in for euer.

3 And the King turned his face, and blessed all the Congregation of Israel (for all the Congregation of Israel stoode there)

4 And he said, Blessed be the Lord God of Israel, who spake with his mouth vnto Dauid my father, and hath with his ‖ hand fulfilled it, saying,

5 Since the day that I brought my people out of the land of Egypt, I chose no citie of all the tribes of Israel to build an ‖ house, that my Name might be there, neither chose I any man to be a ruler ouer my people Israel:

6 But I haue chosen Ierusalem, that my Name might be there, & haue chosen Dauid to be ouer my people Israel.

7 *And it was in the heart of Dauid my father to build an house vnto the Name of the Lord God of Israel,

8 But the Lorde sayde to Dauid my father, Whereas it was in thine heart to build an house vnto my Name, thou diddest well, that † thou wast so minded.

9 Notwithstanding thou shalt not build the house, but thy sonne which shall come out of thy loynes, he shall build an house vnto my Name.

10 And the Lorde hath performed his worde that he spake: and I am risen vp in the roume of Dauid my father, and am set on the throne of Israel as the Lord promised, & haue built an house to the Name of the Lord God of Israel.

11 And I haue set the Arke there, wherein is the [b] couenant of the Lorde, that he made with the children of Israel.

12 ¶ And the King [c] stoode before the altar of the Lord, in the presence of all the Congregation of Israel, and stretched out his hands,

13 (For Salomon had made a brasen scaffold and set it in the middes of the court, of fiue cubites long, and fiue cubites broad, and three cubites of height, & vpon it he stood, & kneeled downe vpon his knees before all the Congregation of Israel, and [d] stretched out his hands toward heauen)

14 And said, O Lord God of Israel, there is no God like thee in heauen nor in earth, which keepeth couenant, and mercy vnto thy seruants, that walke before thee with all their heart.

15 Thou that hast kept with thy seruant Dauid my father, that thou hast promised him: for thou spakest with thy mouth, and hast fulfilled it with thine ‖ hand, as appeareth this day.

16 Therefore now Lord God of Israel, keepe with thy seruant Dauid my father, that thou hast promised him, saying, Thou † shalt not want a man in my sight, that shall sit vpon the throne of Israel: so that thy sonnes take heede to their wayes, to walke in my Law, as thou hast walked before mee.

17 And now, O Lord God of Israel, let thy worde be verified, which thou spakest vnto thy seruant Dauid.

18 (Is it true in deede that God will dwell with man on earth? beholde, the * heauens, and the heauens of heauens are not able to conteine thee: how much more vnable is this house, which I haue built?)

19 But haue thou respect to the prayer of thy seruant, and to his supplication, O Lord my God, to heare the crye and prayer which thy seruant prayeth before thee,

20 That thine [e] eyes may be open toward this house day & night, euen toward the † place, whereof thou hast said, that thou wouldest put thy name there, that thou mayest hearken vnto the prayer, which thy seruant prayeth in this place.

8 And Salomon made b a feast at that time seuen dayes, and all Israel with him, a very great Congregation, from the entring in of Hamath, vnto the riuer of Egypt.

11 * So Salomon finished the house of the Lord, and the Kings house, and all that came into Salomons heart to make in the house of the Lord: and he prospered in his house.

12 ¶ And the Lord * appeared to Salomon by night, and saide to him, I haue heard thy prayer, and haue chosen this place for my selfe to be an house of sacrifice.

13 If I shut the heauen that there bee no raine, or if I commaunde the grashopper to deuonre the land, or if I send pestilence among my people,

17 And if thou wilt walke before me, as Dauid thy father walked, to doe according vnto all that I haue commanded thee, and shalt obserue my statutes and my iudgements, 18 Then will I stablish the throne of thy kingdome, according as I made the couenant with Dauid thy father, saying, * Thou shalt not want a man to be ruler in Israel.

19 But if ye turne away, and forsake my statutes and my commandements which I haue set before you, and shall goe and serue other gods, and worship them,

22 And they shall answere, Because they forsooke the Lord God of their fathers, which brought them out of the lande of Egypt, and haue taken holde on other gods, and haue worshipped them, and serued them, therefore hath he brought all this euill vpon them.

AND * after a twentie yeere when Salomon had built the house of the Lord, and his owne house,

2 Then Salomon built the cities that Huram b gaue to Salomon, and caused the children of Israel to dwell there.

3 And Salomon went to Hamath Zobah, and ouercame it.

4 And he built Tadmor in the wildernesse, & repayred all c the cities of store which he built in Hamath.

5 And he built d Beth-horon the vpper, and Beth-horon the nether, cities defensed with wals, gates, and barres:

6 Also Baalath, and all the cities of store that Salomon had, and all the charet cities, and the cities of the horsemen, & euery pleasant place that Salomon had a minde to builde in Ierusalem, and in e Lebanon, and throughout all the land of his dominion.

7 And all the people that were left of the Hittites, & the Amorites, and Perizzites, & the Hiuuites, & the Iebusites, which were not of Israel, 8 But of their children which were left after them in the land, whom the children of Israel had not consumed, euen them did Salomon make †tributaries vntill this day.

9 But of the children of Israel did Salomon make no seruantes for his worke: for they were men of warre, and his chiefe princes, and the captaines of his charets and of his horsemen.

10 So these were the chiefe of the officers which Salomon had, euen f two hundreth & fiftie that bare rule ouer the people.

11 ¶ Then Salomon brought vp the daughter of Pharaoh out of the citie of Dauid, into the house that he had built for her: for he saide, My wife shall not dwell in the house of Dauid King of Israel: for it is holy, because that the Arke of the Lord came vnto it.

12 ¶ Then Salomon offered burnt offrings vnto the Lorde, on the * altar of the Lord, which he had built before the porch, 13 To * offer according to the commandement of Moses, euery day, in the Sabbaths, and in the new moones, and in the solemne feastes, g three times in the yeere, that is, in the feast of the Vnleauened bread, and in the feast of the Weekes, and in the feast of the Tabernacles.

14 And hee set the courses of the Priestes to their offices, according to the order of Dauid his father, and the Leuites in their watches, for to praise and minister before the Priestes euery day, and the porters by * their courses, at euery gate: for so was the commandement of Danid the man of God.

15 And they declined not from the commandement of the King, concerning the Priestes and the Leuites, touching all things, and touching the treasures.

16 ¶ Nowe Salomon had made prouision for all the h worke, from the day of the foundation of the house of the Lord, vntill it was finished: so the house of the Lord was perfite.

17 Then went Salomon to Ezion-geber, and to Eloth by the i sea side in the lande of Edom.

18 And Huram sent him by the handes of his seruants, shippes, and seruants that had knowledge of the sea: and they went with the seruants of Salomon to Ophir, and brought thence k foure hundreth and fiftie talents of golde, and brought them to King Salomon.

2 And when Ieroboam the sonne of Nebat heard it, (which was in Egypt, whither he had fled from the presence of Salomon the King) hee returned out of Egypt.

3 And they sent and called him: so came Ieroboam and all Israel, and communed with Rehoboam, saying,

4 Thy father b made our yoke grieuous: now therefore make thou the grieuous seruitude of thy father, and his sore yoke, that he put vpon vs, lighter, and we will serue thee.

b That is, handled vs rudely. It seemeth that God hardened their heartes, so that they thus murmured without cause: which declareth also the inconstancie of the people.

5 And hee saide to them, Depart yet three dayes, then come againe vnto me. And the people departed.

6 And King Rehoboam tooke counsell with the the olde men that had ſtood before Salomon his father, while he yet liued, ſaying, What counſell giue ye that I may anſwere this people?

7 And they ſpake vnto him, ſaying, If thou be kinde to this people, and pleaſe them, and ſpeake louing words to them, they will be thy ſeruants for euer.

8 But he left the counſell of the ancient men that they had giuen him, and tooke counſell of the yong men that were brought vp with him, and [c] waited on him.

9 And he ſaid vnto them, What counſell giue ye, that we may anſwere this people, which haue ſpoken to me, ſaying, Make the yoke which thy father did put vpon vs, lighter?

10 And the yong men that were brought vp with him, ſpake vnto him, ſaying, Thus ſhalt thou anſwere the people that ſpake to thee, ſaying, Thy father made our yoke heauie, but make thou it lighter for vs: thus ſhalt thou ſay vnto them, My [d] leaſt part ſhalbe bigger then my fathers loynes.

11 Nowe whereas my father did burden you with a grieuous yoke, I will yet increaſe your yoke: my father hath chaſtiſed you with rodes, but I will correct you with ‖ ſcourges.

14 And ſpake to them after the counſel of the yong men, ſaying, My father made your yoke grieuous, but I wil increaſe it: my father chaſtiſed you with rodes, but I will correct you with ſcourges.

15 So the King hearkened not vnto the people: for it was the [e] ordinance of God that the Lord might performe his ſaying, which hee had ſpoken † by Ahiiah the Shilonite to Ieroboam the ſonne of Nebat.

AND * when Rehoboam was come to Ieruſalem, he gathered of the houſe of Iudah and [a] Beniamin nine ſcore thouſand choſen men of warre to fight againſt [b] Iſrael, and to bring the kingdome againe to Rehoboam.

2 But the worde of the Lorde came to Shemaiah the man of God, ſaying,

4 Thus ſayth the Lorde, Ye ſhall not goe vp, nor fight againſt your brethren: returne euery man to his houſe: for this thing is done of mee. They obeyed therefore the worde of the Lorde, and returned from going againſt Ieroboam.

5 And Rehoboam dwelt in Ieruſalem, and [c] built ſtrong cities in Iudah.

IN the eighteenth yeere of King Ieroboam began Abiiah to reigne ouer [a] Iudah.

2 He reigned three yere in Ierusalem: (his mothers name also was [b] Michaiah the daughter of [c] Vriel of Gibea) and there was warre betweene Abiiah and Ieroboam.

3 And Abiiah set the battell in aray with the armie of the valiant men of warre, euen foure hundreth thousand chosen men. Ieroboam also set the battell in aray against him with eight hundreth thousand chosen men which were strong and valiant.

4 And Abiiah stoode vp vpon mount [d] Zemeraim, which is in mount Ephraim, and sayde, O Ieroboam, and all Israel, heare you me,

5 Ought you not to know that the Lord God of Israel hath giuen the kingdome ouer Israel to [e] Dauid for euer, euen to him & to his sonnes by a couenant [f] of salt?

6 And Ieroboam the sonne of Nebat the seruant of Salomon the sonne of Dauid is risen vp, and hath * rebelled against his lord:

7 And there are gathered to him vaine men and † wicked, and made themselues strong against Rehoboam the sonne of Salomon: for Rehoboam was [h] but a childe and ‖ * tender hearted, and could not resist them.

8 Now therefore ye thinke that ye be able to resist against the kingdome of the Lord, which is in the handes of the sonnes of Dauid, and yee be a great multitude, and the golden calues are with you which Ieroboam made you for gods.

9 * Haue yee not driuen away the Priestes of the Lorde the sonnes of Aaron and the Leuites, & haue made you Priests like the people of other countries? whosoeuer commeth to † consecrate with a [i] yong bullocke & seuen rammes, the same may be a Priest of them that are no gods.

10 But wee belong vnto the Lorde our God, and haue not forsaken him, and the Priestes the sonnes of Aaron minister vnto the Lord, and the Leuites in their office.

11 And they burne vnto the Lorde euerie [k] morning and euery euening burnt offerings and sweete incense, and the bread is set in order vpon the pure table, and the candlesticke of gold with the lampes thereof, to burne euery euening: for we keepe the watch of the Lord our God: but ye haue forsaken him.

12 And behold, this God [l] is with vs, as a captaine, and his Priests with the sounding trumpets, to crie an alarme against you. O yee children of Israel, fight not against the Lorde God of your fathers: for ye shall not prosper.

13 ¶ But Ieroboam caused an ambushment [m] to compasse, and come behind them, when they were before Iudah, and the ambushment behinde them.

14 Then Iudah looked, & beholde, the battell was before & behinde them, & they cried vnto ȳ Lorde, and the Priestes blewe with the trumpets, 15 And the men of Iudah gaue a shoute: and euen as the men of Iudah shouted, God ‖ smote Ieroboam and also Israel before Abiiah & Iudah.

16 And the children of Israel fledde before Iudah, and God delinered them into their hand.

17 And Abiiah and his people slewe a great slaughter of them, so that there fel downe wounded of Israel fiue hundreth thousand chosen men.

18 So the children of Israel were brought vnder at that time: and the children of Iudah preuailed, [n] because they stayed vpon the Lord God of their fathers.

19 And Abiiah pursued after Ieroboam, and tooke

CHAP. XIIII.

3 Asa destroyeth idolatrie, & commandeth the people to serue the true God. 8 He prayeth vnto God when he should goe to fight. 12 He obteineth the victorie.

SO * Abiiah slept with his fathers, & they buried him in the citie of Dauid, and Asa his sonne reigned in his stead: in whose dayes the land was quiet ten yeere.

* 1. King 15. 8.

2 And Asa did that was good and right in the eyes of the Lord his God.

3 For he tooke away the altars of the strange gods and the hie places, and brake downe the images, and cut downe the a groues, a Which were planted contrary to the lawe, Deut. 16. 21.

4 And commanded Iudah to seeke the Lorde God of their fathers, and to doe according to the Lawe and the commandement.

5 And hee tooke away out of all the cities of Iudah the hie places, and the images: therefore the kingdome was b quiet before him.

b He sheweth that the rest and quietnes of kingdomes standeth in abolishing idolatrie, and aduancing true religion.

6 He built also strong cities in Iudah, because the land was in rest, and he had no warre in those yeeres: for the Lord had giuen him rest.

7 Therefoe he saide to Iudah, Let vs builde these cities and make walles about, and towers, gates, and barres, whiles the lande is c before vs: because we haue sought the Lorde our God, wee haue sought him, and he hath giuen vs rest on euery side: so they built and prospered.

c Whiles wee haue the full gouernment thereof.

8 And Asa had an armie of Iudah that bare shieldes and speares, three hundreth thousand, & of Beniamin that bare shieldes and drew bowes, two hundreth and fourescore thousand: all these were valiant men.

9 ¶ And there came out against them Zerah d of Ethiopia with an host of ten hundreth thousand, and three hundreth charets, and came vnto e Mareshah.

d The King of Ethiopia, or Egypt.

e Which was a citie in Iudah, Iosh. 15. 44. where Michaiah the Prophet was borne. * 1. Sam. 14. 6.

10 Then Asa went out before him, and they set the battell in aray in the valley of Zephathah beside Mareshah.

11 And Asa cryed vnto the Lord his God, and said, Lord, *it is nothing with thee to helpe ‖ with many, or with no power: helpe vs, O Lorde our God: for we rest on thee, and in thy Name are we come against this multitude: O Lorde, thou art our God, f let not man preuaile against thee.

‖ Or, against many, without power.

f Thus the children of God neither trust in their owne power or policie, neither feare the strength and subtiltie of their enemies, but consider the cause and see whether their enterprises tend to Gods glorie, and thereupon assure themselues of the victorie by him, which is only Almightie and can turne all flesh into dust with ¶ breath of his mouth.

¶ The Lord had stricken them with feare.

12 ¶ So the Lord smote the Ethiopians before Asa and before Iudah, and the Ethiopians fled.

13 And Asa and the people that was with him, pursued them vnto Gerar. And the Ethiopians host was ouerthrowen, so that there was no life in them: for they were destroyed before the Lord & before his host: and they caryed away a mightie great spoyle.

14 And they smote all the cities round about Gerar: for the g feare of the Lorde came vpon them, & they spoyled all the cities, for there was exceeding much spoyle in them.

g Which they had taken of the Ethiopians.

15 Yea, and they smote the tents of cattel, and caried away plentie of sheepe and camels, and returned to Ierusalem.

CHAP. XV.

1 The exhortation of Azariah. 8 Asa purgeth his country of idolatrie. 11 Hee sacrificeth with the people. 14 They sweare together, to serue the Lord. 16 He deposeth his mother for her idolatrie.

THen the Spirit of God came vpon a Azariah the sonne of Obed.

a Who was called Obed, as his father was, vers 8.

2 And he went out to meete Asa, and said vnto him, O Asa, and all Iudah, and Beniamin, heare ye me. The Lord is with you, while ye be with him: and if ye seeke him, he will be found of you, but if ye forsake him, he will forsake you.

3 Nowe for a long season Israel hath beene without the b true God, and without Priest to teach and without Law.

b For the space of twelue yeeres vnder Rehoboam, and three yeeres vnder Abiiah, religion was neglected and idolatrie planted.

4 But whosoeuer returned in his affliction to the Lord God of Israel, and sought him, he c was found of them.

c He sheweth, that notwithstanding the wickednesse of tyrants & their rage, yet God hath his, whom he heareth in their tribulation, as he deliuered his from Zerah King of the Ethiopians, Chap. 14. 9, 12. and out of all other dangers, when they call d vpon the Lord.

d Your confidence and trust in God shall not be frustrate.

5 And in that time there was no peace to him, that did goe out and goe in: but great troubles were to all the inhabitants of the earth.

6 For nation was destroyed of nation, and citie of citie: for God troubled them with all aduersitie.

7 Be yee strong therefore, and let not your hands be weake: for your d worke shall haue a reward.

8 ¶ And when Asa heard these wordes, and the prophesie of Obed the Prophet, he was encouraged, and tooke away the abominations out of all the lande of Iudah, and Beniamin, and out of the cities which he had taken of mount Ephraim, and he renued the altar of the Lorde, that was before the porch of the Lord.

9 And he gathered all Iudah and Beniamin, and the strangers with them out of Ephraim, and Manasseh, and out of Simeon: for there fell many to him out of Israel, when they sawe that the Lord his God was with him.

10 So they assembled to Ierusalem in the e third moneth, in the fifteenth yeere of the reigne of Asa.

e Called Shinan, conteining part of May and part of Iune.

11 And they offred vnto the Lorde the same time of the f spoile, which they had brought, euen seuen hundreth bullockes, and seuen thousande sheepe.

f Which they had taken of the Ethiopians.

12 And they made a couenant to seeke the Lord God of their fathers, with all their heart, and with all their soule.

13 And g whosoeuer will not seeke the Lorde God of Israel, shalbe slaine, whether he were small or great, man or woman.

g These were the words of their couenant, which commanded all idolaters to be put to death according to the lawe of God, Deut. 13. 3, 9, 15.

14 And they sware vnto the Lorde with a loude voyce, and with shouting & with trumpets, and with cornets.

15 And all Iudah reioyced at the othe: for they had sworne vnto the Lorde with all their heart, and sought him with a whole desire, and he was h founde of them. And the Lorde gaue them rest round about.

h So long as they serued him aright, so long did he preserue and prosper them.

16 ¶ And King Asa deposed * Maachah his i mother from her regencie, because shee had made an idole in a groue: and Asa brake downe her idole, and stamped it, and burnt it at the brooke Kidron.

* 1. King. 15. 13.

i Or, grandmother: & herein he shewed that he lacked zeale: for shee ought to haue died both by the couenant, as vers 13. and by the Law of God: but he gaue place to foolish pitie, and would also seeme after a sort to satisfie the Lawe.

17 But

17 But the hie places were not k taken away out of l Israel: yet the heart of Asa was m perfite all his dayes.

18 Also he brought into the house of God the things that his father had dedicate, and that hee had dedicate, siluer, and golde, and vessels.

19 And there was no warre vnto the fiue and thirtieth yeere of the reigne of Asa.

k Which partly came through lacke of zeale in him, partly through the negligence of his officers, and partly by the superstition of the people, that all were not taken away.

l Because that God was called the God of Israel by reason of his promise to Iaakob: therefore Israel is sometime taken for Iudah, because Iudah was the chiefe people.

m In respect of his predecessours.

CHAP. XVI.

2 Asa for feare of Baasha King of Israel, maketh a couenant with Benhadad King of Aram. 7 He is reproued by the Prophet, 10 Whome he putteth in prison. 12 He putteth his trust in the Physicians 13 His death.

IN the sixe and thirtieth yeere of the reigne of Asa came a *Baasha king of Israel vp against Iudah, and built b Ramah to let none passe out or goe in to Asa king of Iudah.

2 Then Asa brought out siluer and golde out of the treasures of the house of the Lorde, and of the Kings house, and sent to Benhadad King of Aram that dwelt at ‖ Damascus, saying,

3 There is a couenant betweene me and thee, and betweene my father and thy father: behold, I haue sent thee siluer and golde: come, c breake thy league with Baasha King of Israel that hee may depart from me.

4 And Benhadad hearkened vnto King Asa, and sent the captaines of the armies which he had, against the cities of Israel. And they smote Iion, and Dan, and Abel-maim, and all the store cities of Naphtali.

5 And when Baasha heard it, he left building of Ramah, and let his worke cease.

6 Then Asa the King tooke all Iudah, and caried away the stones of Ramah and the timber thereof, wherewith Baasha did build, and he built therewith Geba and Mizpah.

7 ¶ And at that same time Hanani the ‖ Seer came to Asa King of Iudah, and saide vnto him, Because thou hast rested vpon the king of Aram, and not rested in the Lord thy God, therefore is ỹ host of ỹ King of Aram escaped of thine hand.

8 *The Ethiopians and the Lubims, were they not a great host with charets & horsemen, exceeding many? yet because thou didst rest vpon the Lord, he deliuered them into thine hand.

9 * For the eyes of the Lorde beholde all the earth to shewe himselfe strong with them that are of perfite heart toward him: thou hast then done foolishly in this: therefore from henceforth thou shalt haue warres.

10 Then Asa was wroth with the Seer, and put him into a † prison: for he was d displeased with him, because of this thing. And Asa oppressed certaine of the people at the same time.

11 And behold, the Actes of Asa first and last, loe, they are written in the booke of the Kings of Iudah and Israel.

12 ¶ And Asa in the nine and thirtieth yeere of his reigne was ‖* diseased in his feete, & his disease was ‖ e extreme: yet he sought not the Lorde in his disease, but to the f Physicians.

13 So Asa slept with his fathers, and died in the one and fourtieth yeere of his reigne.

14 And they buried him in one of his sepulchres, which he had made for him selfe in the citie of Dauid, and layed him in the bed, which they had filled with sweete odours and diuers kindes of spices, made by the arte of the Apoticarie: and they burnt odours for him with an exceeding great fire.

CHAP. XVII.

5 Iehoshaphat trusting in the Lord, prospereth in riches and honour. 6 He abolisheth idolatrie, 7 And causeth the people to be taught. 11 He receiueth tribute of strangers. 13 His munitions, and men of warre.

AND Iehoshaphat his sonne reigned in his stead, and preuailed against Israel.

2 And he put garisons in all the strong cities of Iudah, and set bandes in the land of Iudah and in the cities of Ephraim, which Asa his father had taken.

3 And the Lord was with Iehoshaphat, because he walked in the a first wayes of his father Dauid, and sought not b Baalim, 4 But sought the Lord God of his father, and walked in his commandements, and not after the † trade of Israel.

5 Therefore the Lorde stablished the kingdome in his hande, and all Iudah brought presents to Iehoshaphat, so that he had of riches and honour in abundance.

6 And he c list vp his heart vnto the wayes of the Lorde, and he tooke away moreouer the hie places and the groues out of Iudah.

7 ¶ And in the third yeere of his reigne hee sent his princes, Ben-hail, and Obadiah, and Zechariah, and Nethaneel, and Michaiah, that they should d teach in the cities of Iudah,

8 And with them Leuites, Shemaiah, and Nethaniah, and Zebadiah, and Asahel, and Shemiramoth, and Iehonathan, and Adoniiah, and Tobiiah, and Tob-adoniiah, Leuites, and with them Elishama and Iehoram Priestes.

9 And they taught in Iudah, and had the booke of the lawe of the Lorde with them, and went about throughout all the cities of Iudah, and taught the people.

10 And the feare of the Lord fell vpon all the kingdomes of ỹ lands that were round about Iudah, and they e fought not against Iehoshaphat.

11 Also some of the Philistims brought Iehoshaphat giftes and tribute siluer, and the Arabians brought him flocks, seuen thousand and seuen hundreth rammes, and seuen thousand and seuen hundreth hee goates.

12 So Iehoshaphat prospered and grewe vp on hie: and he built in Iudah palaces and cities of store.

13 And hee had great workes in the cities of Iudah, and men of warre, and valiant men in Ierusalem.

14 And these are the numbers of them after the house of their fathers, In Iudah were captaines of thousands, Adnah the captaine, & † with him of valiant men three hundreth thousand.

3 And Ahab King of Israel sayde vnto Iehoshaphat King of Iudah, Wilt thou goe with me to Ramoth Gilead? And he answered him, I am as thou art, and my people as thy people, and we will ioyne with thee in warre.

4 And Iehoshaphat sayd vnto the King of Israel, Aske counsell, I pray thee, at the d word of the Lord this day.

d Heare the aduise of some Prophets, to know whether it be Gods will.

5 Therefore the King of Israel gathered of e Prophets foure hundreth men, and sayde vnto them, Shall we goe to Ramoth Gilead to battell, or shall I cease? And they sayd, Goe vp: for God shall deliuer it into the Kings hand.

e Which were the Prophets of Baal, signifying that the wicked careme not but harmers and such as will beare with their inordinate affections.

6 But Iehoshaphat sayd, Is there heere neuer a Prophet more of the Lord that wee might inquire of him?

f Yet the true ministers of God ought not to cease to doe their duety, though the wicked magistrates can not abide them to speake the trueth.

7 And the King of Israel sayde vnto Iehoshaphat, There is yet one man, by whome wee may aske counsell of the Lord, but I f hate him: for he doeth not prophecie good vnto me, but alway euill: it is Michaiah the sonne of Imla. Then Iehoshaphat sayd, Let not the King say g so.

f Meaning, that he ought not to rejoice to heare any thing that was of God.

9 ¶ And the King of Israel, and Iehoshaphat King of Iudah sate either of them on his throne clothed in their h apparell: they sate euen in the threshing floore at the entring in of the gate of Samaria: & all the Prophets prophecied before them.

10 And Zidkiah the sonne of Chenaanah made him i hornes of yron, and sayde, Thus sayth the Lorde, With these shalt thou push the Aramites vntill thou hast consumed them.

i Thinking that vnlesse foure hundreth Prophets had agreed in one thing, that he being but one man, and in least estimation, durst not gainesay it.

11 And all the prophets prophecied so, saying, Goe vp to Ramoth Gilead, and prosper: for the Lord shall deliuer it into the hand of the King.

12 ¶ And the messenger that went to call Michaiah, spake to him, saying, Beholde, the wordes of the Prophets declare good to the King with one k accorde: let thy word therefore, I pray thee, be like one of theirs, and speake thou good.

k He spake this by derision of the false prophets, as the thing wel perceiued.

13 And Michaiah sayde, As the Lorde liueth, whatsoeuer my God sayth, that will I speake.

14 ¶ So hee came to the King, and the King sayd vnto him, Michaiah, shal we goe to Ramoth Gilead to battell, or shal I leaue off? And he said, l Goe ye vp, and prosper, and they shall be deliuered into your hand.

15 And the King sayd to him, Howe oft shall I charge thee, that thou tell me nothing but the trueth in the Name of the Lord?

16 Then he sayd, I sawe all Israel scattered in the mountaines, as sheepe y haue no shepheard: and the Lord sayd, m These haue no Master: let them returne euery man to his house in peace.

m He prophecieth howe the people should be dispersed, and Ahab slaine.

17 And the King of Israel sayde to Iehoshaphat, Did I not tell thee, that he would not prophecie good vnto me, but euill?

18 Againe he sayde, Therefore heare yee the worde of the Lord: I sawe the Lord sit vpon his throne, and all the n hoste of heauen standing at his right hand, and at his left.

n Meaning, his Angels.

19 And the Lord sayd, Who shall ‖ perswade Ahab King of Israel, that he may goe vp, and fall at Ramoth Gilead? And one spake and said thus, another sayd that.

‖ Or, deceiue.

20 Then there came foorth a spirit and stood before the Lord, and sayde, I will perswade him. And the Lord sayd vnto him, Wherein?

21 And he sayd, I will goe out, and be a false spirit in the mouth of all his Prophets. And o hee sayd, Thou shalt perswade, and shalt also preuaile: goe foorth, and doe so.

o That is, the Lorde.

22 Now therefore behold, the Lord hath put a p false spirit in the mouth of these thy prophets, and the Lord hath determined euill against thee.

p To them that will not beleeue the trueth, God sendeth strong delusion, that they should beleeue lies. 2. Thes. 2. 10.

23 Then Zidkiah the sonne of Chenaanah came neere, & smote Michaiah vpon the q cheeke, and saide, By what way went the Spirite of the Lord from me, to speake with thee?

q By this cruelty, his ambition and hypocrisie was discouered: thus the hypocrites boast of the Spirite which they haue not, and declare their malice against them in whome the true spirit is.

24 And Michaiah saide, Behold, thou shalt see that day when thou shalt goe from chamber to chamber to hide thee.

25 And the king of Israel said, Take yee Michaiah, and carry him to Amon the gouernour of the citie, and to Ioash the Kings sonne, 26 And say, Thus saith the king, Put this man in the prison house, and feede him with bread of r affliction and with water of affliction vntil I returne in peace.

r Keepe him streitely in prison, and let him feele hunger and thirst.

27 And Michaiah saide, If thou returne in peace, the Lord hath not spoken by me. And ‖ he said, Heare, al ye people.

‖ Or, Michaiah.

28 So the King of Israel and Iehoshaphat the King of Iudah went vp to Ramoth Gilead.

29 And the King of Israel said vnto Iehoshaphat, I will s change my selfe, and enter into the battell: but put thou on thine apparell. So the King of Israel changed himselfe, and they went into the battell.

s Thus the wicked thinke by their owne subtilnesse to escape Gods iudgements which he threatneth by his word.

30 And the King of Aram had commanded the captaines of the charets that were with him, saying, Fight you not with small nor great, but against the King of Israel onely.

31 And when the captaines of the charets saw Iehoshaphat, they saide, It is the King of Israel: and they compassed about him to fight. But Iehoshaphat t cryed, and the Lord holped him and moued them to depart from him.

t He cried to the Lord by acknowledging his fault in going with this wicked King to warre against the word of the Lord by his Prophet, and also by desiring mercie for the same.

32 For when the captaines of the charets sawe that he was not the King of Israel, they turned backe from him.

33 Then a certaine man drewe a bowe † mightily, and smote the King of Israel betweene the ioyntes of ‖ his brigandine: Therefore he saide to his charet man, Turne thine hand, and carie mee out of the hoste: for I am hurt.

† Or, in his simplicitie, or ignorantly. ‖ Or, betweene the habergine.

34 And

34 And the battell increased that day: and the King of Israel [u] stoode still in his charet against the Aramites vntill euen, and died at the time of the sunne going downe.

u He dissembled his hurt, that his souldiers might fight more courageously.

CHAP. XIX.

4 After Iehoshaphat was rebuked by the Prophet, he called again the people to the honouring of the Lord. 5 He appointeth iudges and ministers, 9 And exhorteth them to feare God.

AND Iehoshaphat the King of Iudah returned [†] safe to his house in Ierusalem.

†Ebr. in peace.

2 And Iehu the sonne of Hanani the Seer went out to meete him, and sayde to King Iehoshaphat, [a] Wouldest thou helpe the wicked, and loue them that hate the Lord? therefore for this thing the wrath [†] of the Lord is vpon thee.

a He declareth that the wrath and iudgement of God is ouer all such, that support the wicked, and rather shew not in deede that they are enemies to all such as hate the Lord.
†Ebr. wrath from the Lord.

3 Neuertheless good things are found in thee, because thou hast taken away [ỹ] groues out of the land, and hast prepared thine heart to seeke God.

4 ¶ So Iehoshaphat dwelt at Ierusalem, and returned and went [b] through the people from Beer-sheba to mount Ephraim, and brought them againe vnto the Lord God of their fathers.

b He visited all his countrey, and brought his people from idolatrie to the knowledge of the true God.

5 And he set iudges in the land throughout all the strong cities of Iudah, citie by citie,

6 And said to the iudges, Take heede what he doe: for ye execute not the iudgements of man, but of the Lord, and he will be [c] with you in the cause and iudgement.

c Both to preserue you, if you do iustly, or to punish you, if you doe the contrary.

7 Wherefore nowe, let the feare of the Lord be vpon you: take heede, & doe it: for there is no [d] iniquity with the Lord our God, neither [e] respect of persons, nor receiuing of reward.

d He will declare by the sharpenesse of the punishment, that he hateth all iniquitie.

8 Moreouer in Ierusalem did Iehoshaphat set of the Leuites, and of the Priests, & of the chiefe of the families of Israel, for the iudgement and cause of the Lord: & they [e] returned to Ierusalem.

9 And he charged them, saying, Thus shall ye doe in the feare of the Lord faithfully and with a perfite heart.

10 And in euery cause that shall come to you of your brethren that dwell in their cities, betweene [f] blood & blood, betweene law and precept, statutes and iudgements, ye shall iudge them, and admonish them that they trespasse not against the Lord, that [g] wrath come not vpon you and vpon your brethren. This shall ye doe and trespasse not.

11 And behold, Amariah the Priest shalbe the chiefe ouer you in all matters of the Lord, & Zebadiah the sonne of Ishmael, a ruler of [ỹ] house of Iudah, shalbe for all the [h] kings affaires, & the Leuites shalbe officers [i] before you. Be of courage, and doe it, and the Lord shalbe with the [k] good.

3 Iehoshaphat and the people pray vnto the Lorde. 22 The marueilous victorie that the Lorde gaue him against his enemies. 30 His reigne and actes.

AFter this also came the children of Moab and the children of Ammon, & with them of the [a] Ammonites against Iehoshaphat to battell.

a That is, which counterfaited the Ammonites in language and apparell. The Hebrewes thinke that they were the Amalekites, but as may appeare by the tenth verse, they were the Idumeans of mount Seir.

2 Then there came that told Iehoshaphat saying, There cōmeth a great multitude against thee from beyond the [b] Sea, out of Aram: and behold, they be in Hazzon Tamar, which is En-gedi.

b Called the dead Sea, where God destroyed the fiue cities for sinne.

3 And Iehoshaphat feared, and set himselfe [c] to seeke the Lord, & proclaimed a fast throughout all Iudah.

c This declareth what the estate of the godly is: as a preacher to stirre them to prayer, and to depend on the Lord, where as it commeth the wicked either to flie after wordly meanes and policies, or els to fall into despaire.

4 And Iudah gathered them selues together to take counsell of the Lord: they came euen out of all the cities of Iudah to inquire of the Lorde.

5 And Iehoshaphat stoode in the Congregation of Iudah and Ierusalem in the house of the Lord before the new court,

6 And sayd, O Lord God of our fathers, art not thou God in heauen? and reignest not thou on all the kingdomes of [ỹ] heathen? and in thine hand is power and might, and none is able to withstand thee.

7 Diddest not thou our God cast out the inhabitants of this land before thy people Israel, and [d] gauest it to the seede of Abraham thy friende for euer?

d He grounded his prayer vpon Gods power, whereby he is able to helpe, and also on his mercie, which he will continue toward his for as much as he hath once chosen them and begun to shew his grace toward them.

e Meaning, wars which commeth by Gods iust iudgements for our sinnes.
f That is, is called vpon, and thou declarest thy presence and honour.

10 And now beholde, the children of * Ammon and Moab, and mount Seir, by whome thou wouldest not let Israel goe, when they came out of the land of Egypt: but they turned aside from them, and destroyed them not:

* Deut. 2. 9. nehem. 9. 22.

11 Behold, I say, they reward vs, in comming to cast vs out of thine inheritance, which thou hast caused vs to inherit.

12 O our God, wilt thou not iudge them? for there is no strēgth in vs to stand before this great multitude that commeth against vs, neither doe we know what to do: but our eyes [g] are toward thee.

g We onely put our trust in thee and waite for our deliuerance from heauen.

13 And al Iudah stood [h] before the Lord with their yong ones, their wiues, and their children.

h That is, before the Arke of the couenant.

14 And Iahaziel the sonne of Zechariah the sonne of Benaiah, the sonne of Ieiel, the sonne of Mattaniah, a Leuite of the sonnes of Asaph, was there, vpon whome came [i] the Spirit of the Lord, in the middes of the Congregation, i Which was mued by the Spirit of God to prophecie.

15 And he said, Hearken ye, all Iudah, and ye inhabitants of Ierusalem, and thou, King Iehoshaphat: thus saith the Lord vnto you, Feare you not, neither be afraide for this great multitude: for the [k] battell is not yours, but Gods.

k They fight against God not against you, therefore he will fight for you.

16 To morowe goe yee downe against them: beholde, they come vp by the clift of Ziz, and ye shall finde them at the ende of the brooke before the wilderneſse of Ieruel.

17 Ye shall not neede to fight in this battell: *stand still, mooue not, and behold the [‖] saluation of the Lord towardes you: O Iudah, and Ierusalem, feare ye not, neither be afraid: to morowe go out against them, & the Lord wil be with you.

*Exod. 14. 13. [‖] Or, deliuerance.

18 ¶ Then Iehoshapaht [l] bowed downe with his face to the earth, and all Iudah and the inhabitants of Ierusalem fell downe before the Lorde, worshipping the Lord.

l Declaring his faith and obedience to the word of the Lord, and giuing thanks for the deliuerance promised.

19 And the Leuites of the children of the Kohathites and of the children of the Corhites stood vp to praise the Lord God of Israel with a loude voyce on hie.

20 And when they arose early in the morning, they went forth to the wilderneſse of Tekoa: and as they departed, Iehoshaphat stood and side,

Heare

Heare ye me, O Iudah, and ye inhabitants of Ierusalem: put your trust in the Lorde your God, and ye shalbe assured: beleeue his [m] Prophets, and ye shall prosper.

21 And when he had consulted with the people, and appoynted singers vnto the Lord, and them that should praise him that is in the beautifull Sanctuarie, in going forth before the men of armes, and saying, [n] Prayse yee the Lord, for his mercy lasteth for euer, 22 And when they began to shoute, and to prayse, the Lord layed ambushments against the children of Ammon, Moab, and [o] mount Seir, which were come against Iudah, and they slewe one another.

23 For the children of Ammon & Moab rose against the inhabitants of mount Seir, to slay and to destroy them: and when they had made an end of the inhabitants of Seir, euery one helped to [p] destroy another.

24 And when Iudah came towarde Mizpah in the wildernes, they looked vnto the multitude: and behold, the carkeises were fallen to the earth, and none escaped.

25 And when Iehoshaphat & his people came to take away the spoyle of them, they founde among them in abundance both of substance and also of bodies laden with precious iewels, which they tooke for themselues, till they coulde cary no more: they were three dayes in gathering of the spoyle: for it was much.

26 And in [q] the fourth day they [q] assembled themselues in the valley of Berachah: for there they blessed the Lord: therfore they called the name of that place, The valley of Berachah vnto this day.

27 Then euery man of Iudah and Ierusalem returned with Iehoshaphat their head, to goe againe to Ierusalem with ioy: for the Lord had made them to reioyce ouer their enemies.

28 And they came to Ierusalem with viols and with harpes, and with trumpets, euen vnto the house of the Lord.

29 And the [r] feare of God was vpon all the kingdomes of the earth, when they had heard that the Lord had fought against the enemies of Israel.

30 So the kingdom of Iehoshaphat was quiet, and his God gaue him rest on euery side.

31 ¶ And * Iehoshaphat reigned ouer Iudah, and was fiue and thirtie yeere olde, when hee began to reigne: and reigned fiue and twentie yeere in Ierusalem, and his mothers name was Azubah the daughter of Shilhi.

32 And he walked in the [s] way of Asa his father, and departed not therefrom, doing that which was right in the sight of the Lord.

33 Howbeit the hie places were [t] not taken away: for the people had not yet prepared their hearts vnto the God of their fathers.

34 Concerning the rest of the actes of Iehoshaphat first and last, beholde, they are written in the booke of Iehu the sonne of Hanani, which *is mentioned in the booke of the kings of Israel.

35 ¶ Yet after this did Iehoshaphat King of Iudah ioyne himselfe with Ahaziah King of Israel, who was giuen to doe euill.

36 And he ioyned with him, to *make ships to goe to Tarshish: and they made the ships in Ezion Gaber.

37 Then Eliezer the sonne of Dodauah of Mareshah prophecied against Iehoshaphat, saying, Because thou hast [u] ioyned thy selfe with Ahaziah, the Lord hath broken thy workes. and the shippes were broken, that they were not able to goe to Tarshish.

CHAP. XXI.

1 Iehoshaphat dyeth. 3 Iehoram succeedeth him, 4 which killeth his brethren. 6 He was brought to idolatrie, 11 And seduceth the people. 16 Hee is oppressed of the Philistims. 18 His miserable ende.

IEhoshaphat then slept with his fathers, and was buried with his fathers in the citie of Dauid: and Iehoram his sonne reigned in his steade.

2 And he had brethren the sonnes of Iehoshaphat, Azariah, and Iehiel, and Zechariah, and Azariah, and Michael, and Shephatiah. All these were the sonnes of Iehoshaphat King of [a] Israel.

3 And their father gaue them great giftes of siluer and of golde, and of precious things, with strong cities in Iudah, but the kingdome gaue he to Iehoram: for he was the eldest.

4 *And Iehoram rose vp vpon the kingdome of his father, and made himselfe strong, and [b] slew all his brethren with the sworde, and also of the princes of [c] Israel.

5 Iehoram was two and thirtie yeere olde, when hee began to reigne, and hee reigned eight yeere in Ierusalem.

6 And he walked in the way of the Kings of Israel, as the house of Ahab had done: for he had the daughter of Ahab to [d] wife, and he wrought euill in the eyes of the Lord.

7 Howbeit the Lord would not destroy the house of Dauid, because of the * couenant that he had made with Dauid, and because he had promised to giue a light to him, and to his sonnes for euer.

8 ¶ In his dayes Edom rebelled from vnder the hand of Iudah, and made a King ouer them.

9 And Iehoram went foorth with his princes, and all his charets with him: and hee rose vp by night, and smote Edom, which had compassed him in, and the captaines of the charets.

10 But Edom rebelled from vnder the hande of Iudah vnto this day. then did [e] Libnah rebell at the same time from vnder his hand, because he had forsaken the Lord God of his fathers.

11 ¶ Moreouer hee made hie places in the mountaines of Iudah, and caused the inhabitants of Ierusalem to commit [f] fornication, and compelled Iudah thereto.

12 And there came a writing to him from [g] Eliiah the Prophet, saying, Thus saith the Lord God of Dauid thy father, Because thou hast not walked in the wayes of Iehoshaphat thy father, nor in the wayes of Asa King of Iudah,

13 But hast walked in the way of the kings of Israel, and hast made Iudah & the inhabitants of Ierusalem to go a whoring, as the house of Ahab went a whoring, and hast also slaine thy brethren of thy fathers house, which were better then thou,

14 Beholde, with a great plague will the Lord smite thy people, and thy children, and thy wiues, and all thy substance, 15 And thou shalt bee in great diseases in the disease of thy bowels, vntill [h] thy bowels fall out for the disease, day by day.

15 ¶ So the Lord stirred vp against Iehoram the spirit of the Philistims, and the Arabians that were beside the [i] Ethiopians.

i There were other Arabians in Affrica Southward toward Aegypt.

u Thus God would not haue his seruants in societie with idolaters and wicked men.

17 And they came vp into Iudah, and brake into it, and caried away all the substance that was found in the Kings house, and his sonnes also, and his wiues, so that there was not a sonne left him, saue k Iehoahaz, the yongest of his sonnes.

18 And after all this, the Lord smote him in his bowels with an incurable disease.

19 And in processe of time, euen after the end of two yeeres, his guttes fell out with his disease: so he dyed of sore diseases: and his people made no burning for him like ỹ burning of his fathers.

CHAP. XXII.

1 Ahaziah reigneth after Iehoram. 9 Iehu king of Israel killeth Ahaziah. 10 Athaliah putteth to death all the Kings linage. 11 Ioash escapeth.

AND *the inhabitants of Ierusalem made Ahaziah his yongest sonne King in his steade: for the armie that came with a the Arabians to the campe, had slaine al the eldest: therefore Ahaziah the sonne of Iehoram King of Iudah reigned.

2 Two and b fourtie yeere olde was Ahaziah when he began to reigne, and hee reigned c one yeere in Ierusalem. and his mothers name was Athaliah the daughter d of Omri.

3 Hee walked also in the wayes of the house of Ahab: for his mother counselled him to doe wickedly.

4 Wherefore hee did euill in the sight of the Lord, like the house of Ahab: for they were his e counsellers after the death of his father, to his destruction.

5 And he walked after their counsell, and went with Iehoram the sonne of Ahab King of Israel to fight against Hazael king of Aram at Ramoth Gilead: and the Aramites smote Ioram.

6 ¶ And hee returned to be healed in Izreel, because of the woundes wherewith they had wounded him at Ramah, when hee fought with Hazael King of Aram. Nowe Azariah the sonne of Iehoram King of Iudah went downe to see Iehoram the sonne of Ahab at Izreel, because he was diseased.

7 And the destruction of Ahaziah f came of God in that he went to Ioram: for when he was come, he went foorth with Iehoram against Iehu the sonne of Nimshi, * whom the Lord had anointed to destroy the house of Ahab.

8 Therefore when Iehu ‖ executed iudgement vpon the house of Ahab, and found the princes of Iudah and the sonnes of the brethren of Ahaziah that waited on Ahaziah, he slewe them also.

9 And hee sought Ahaziah, and they caught him where he was hid in Samaria, and brought him to Iehu, and slewe him, and buried him, because, said they, he is the sonne of g Iehoshaphat, which sought the Lord with all his heart. So the house of Ahaziah was not able to reteine the kingdome.

10 ¶ * Therefore when Athaliah the mother of Ahaziah sawe that her sonne was dead, she arose and h destroyed all the Kings seede of the house of Iudah.

11 But Iehoshabeath the daughter of the King, tooke Ioash the sonne of Ahaziah, and stale him from among the Kings sonnes, that shoulde bee slaine, and put him and his nource in the bedde chamber: so Iehoshebeath the daughter of King Iehoram the wife of Iehoiada the Priest (for she was the sister of Ahaziah) hid him from Athaliah: so she slewe him not.

12 And hee was with them hid in the i house of God sixe yeeres, whiles Athaliah reigned ouer the k land.

CHAP. XXIII.

2 And they went about in Iudah, & gathered the Leuites out of all the cities of Iudah, and the chiefe fathers b of Israel: & they came to Ierusalē.

3 And all the Congregation made a couenant with the King in the house of God: and he sayde vnto them, Behold, the Kings sonne must reigne, * as the Lord hath sa'd of the sonnes of Dauid.

4 This is it that ye shall doe, The third part of you that come on the Sabbath of the Priests, and the Leuites, shalbe porters of the doores.

5 And another third part towarde the Kings house, and another third part at the * gate of the c foundation, and all the people shalbe in the courts of the house of the Lord.

6 But let none come into the house of the Lord, saue the Priestes, and the Leuites that minister: they shall goe in, for they are holy: but al the people shall keepe the watch of the Lord.

7 And the Leuites shall compasse the King round about, and euery man with his weapon in his hand, and he that entreth d into the house, shal be slaine, and be you with the King, when he commeth in, and when he goeth out.

8 ¶ So the Leuites and all Iudah did according to all things that Iehoiada the Prieſt had commanded, and tooke euery man his men that came on the Sabbath, with them that e went out on the Sabbath: for Iehoiada the Priest did not discharge the courses.

9 And Iehoiada the Priest deliuered to the captaines of hundreths, speares, and shieldes, and bucklers which had bene King Dauids, and were in the house of God.

10 And he caused all the people to stand (euery man with his weapon in his hand) from the right side of the house, to ỹ left side of the house by the altar, & by the f house round about ỹ king.

11 Then they brought out the Kings sonne, and put vpon him the crowne, and gaue him the g testimonie, and made him King. And Iehoiada and his sonnes anoynted him, and sayd, God saue the King.

12 ¶ But when Athaliah heard the noyse of the people running and praising the king, shee came to the people into the house of the Lord.

13 And when she ‖ looked, behold, the King stoode by his pillar at the entring in, and the princes and the trumpets by the King, and all the people of the land reioyced, and blew the trumpets, and the singers were with instruments of musike, and

2 And Ioash did vprightly in the sight of the Lord, all the dayes of a Iehoiada the Priest.

3 And Iehoiada ‖ tooke him two wiues, and he begate sonnes and daughters.

4 ¶ And afterward it came into Ioash minde, to renew the house of the Lorde.

5 And he assembled the Priestes and the Leuites, and sayd to them, Goe out vnto the cities of Iudah, and gather of all b Israel money to repaire the house of your God, from yeere to yeere, and haste the thing: but the Leuites hasted not.

6 Therefore the King called Iehoiada, the c chiefe, and sayd vnto him, Why hast thou not required of the Leuites to bring in out of Iudah and Ierusalem, the taxe of Moses the seruant of the Lord, and of the Congregation of Israel, for the Tabernacle of the testimonie?

7 For d wicked Athaliah, and her children brake vp the house of God: and all the things that were dedicate for the house of the Lord, did they bestow vpon Baalim.

8 Therefore the King commanded, and they made a chest, and set it at the gate of the house of the Lord without.

9 And they made proclamation thorowe Iudah and Ierusalem, to bring vnto the Lorde * the taxe of Moses the seruant of God, layde vpon Israel in the wildernesse.

10 And all the princes and all the people reioyced, and brought in, and cast into the chest, vntill they had finished.

11 And when it was time, e they brought the chest vnto ỹ Kings officer by the hand of the Leuites: and when they saw that there was much siluer, then the Kings Scribe (and one appointed by the hie Priest) came & emptied the chest, & tooke it, and caried it to his place againe: thus they did day by day, and gathered siluer in abundance.

12 And the King & f Iehoiada gaue it to such as did the labour and worke in the house of the Lord, & hired masons & carpenters to repaire the house of the Lord: they gaue it also to workers of yron and brasse, to repaire the house of the Lord.

13 So the workemen wrought, and the worke † amended through their hands: and they restored the house of God to his state, & strengthened it.

14 And when they had finished it, they brought the rest of ỹ siluer before the King and Iehoiada, and thee made thereof g vessels for the house of the Lord, euen vessels to minister, both morters and incense cuppes, and vessels of golde, and of siluer: and they offred burnt offrings in the house of the Lorde continually all the dayes of Iehoiada.

15 ¶ But Iehoiada waxed olde, and was full of dayes, and dyed. An hundreth and thirtie yeere olde was he when he died.

16 And they buried him in the citie of Dauid with the h kings, because he had done good in Israel, and toward God and his house.

17 ¶ And after the death of Iehoiada, came the i princes of Iudah, and did reuerence to the King, and the King hearkened vnto them.

18 And they left the house of the Lorde God of their fathers, and serued groues and idoles: and wrath came vpon Iudah and Ierusalem, because of this their trespasse.

19 And God sent Prophets among them, to bring them againe vnto the Lord: and they k made protestation among them, but they would not heare.

20 And the Spirite of God came vpon Zechariah the sonne of Iehoiada the Priest, which stoode l aboue the people, and sayde vnto them, Thus sayth God, Why transgresse yee the commandements of the Lord? surely ye shal not prosper: because ye haue forsaken the Lorde, hee also hath forsaken you.

21 Then they conspired against him & stoned him with stones at the m commandement of the King, in the court of the house of the Lord.

22 Thus Ioash the King remembred not the kindenesse which Iehoiada his father had done to him, but slewe his sonne. And when hee died, hee sayd, The Lord n looke vpon it, and require it.

23 ¶ And when ỹ yeere was out, ỹ hoste of Aram came vp against him, & they came against Iudah & Ierusalem, and destroyed all the princes of the people from among the people, and sent all the spoyle of them vnto the King of Damascus.

24 Though the armie of Aram came with a small company of men, yet the Lorde deliuered a very

CHAP. XXV.

3 Amaziah putteth them to death which slewe his father. 10 Hee sendeth backe them of Israel. 11 Hee ouercommeth the Edomites. 14 He falleth to idolatrie. 17 And Ioash King of Israel ouercommeth Amaziah. 27 He is slaine by a conspiracie.

AMaziah was fiue & twentie yeere olde when he began to reigne, and he reigned nine and twentie yeere in * Ierusalem: and his mothers name was Iehoaddan, of Ierusalem.

2 And hee did [a] vprightly in the eyes of the Lord, but not with a perfite heart.

3 And when the kingdome was established vnto him, hee slewe his seruants, that had slaine the King his father.

4 But he slewe not their children, but did as it is written in the Lawe, and in the booke of Moses, where the Lord commanded, saying, * The fathers shall not die for the [b] children, neither shall the children die for the fathers, but euery man shall die for his owne sinne.

5 ¶ And Amaziah assembled Iudah, and made them captaines ouer thousands, and captaines ouer hundreths, according to the houses of their fathers, throughout all Iudah & Beniamin: and he numbred them from [c] twentie yeere olde and aboue, and found among them three hundreth thousand chosen men, to goe foorth to the warre, and to handle speare and shielde.

6 He hired also an hundreth thousand valiant men [d] out of Israel for an hundreth talents of siluer.

7 But a man of God came to him, saying, O King, let not the armie of Israel go with thee: for the Lord is not [e] with Israel, neither with all the house of Ephraim.

8 If thou goe, doe it, make thy selfe strong to the battel, but God shall make thee fall before the enemie: for God hath power to helpe, and to cast downe.

9 And Amaziah sayde to the man of God, What shall we doe then for the hundreth talents, which I haue giuen to the hoste of Israel? Then the man of God answered, The Lorde is able to [g] giue thee more then this.

10 So Amaziah separated them, to wit, the armie that was come to him out of Ephraim, to returne to their place: wherefore their wrath was kindled greatly against Iudah, and they returned to their places with great anger.

11 Then Amaziah was encouraged, and led forth his people, and went to the salt valley, and smote of the children of [h] Seir, ten thousand.

12 And other ten thousand did the children of Iudah take aliue, and caried them to the top of a [i] rocke, & cast them downe from the top of the rocke, and they all burst to pieces.

13 But the men of the [k] armie, which Amaziah sent away, that they should not goe with his people to battel, fell vpon the cities of Iudah from Samaria vnto Beth-horon, and smote three thousand of them, and tooke much spoyle.

14 Nowe after that Amaziah was come from the slaughter of the Edomites, he brought [l] gods of the children of Seir, and set them vp to be his gods, and worshipped them, and burned incense vnto them.

15 Wherefore the Lord was wroth with Amaziah, and sent vnto him a Prophet, which said vnto him, Why hast thou sought the gods of [m] people, which were not able to deliuer their owne people out of thine hand?

16 And as he talked with him, [n] he sayd vnto him, Haue they made thee the Kings counseler? cease thou: why should they [o] smite thee? And the Prophet ceased, but sayd, I knowe that God hath determined to destroy thee, because thou hast done this, and hast not obeyed my counsell.

17 ¶ Then Amaziah King of Iudah tooke counsell, and sent to Ioash the sonne of Iehoahaz, the sonne of Iehu King of Israel, saying, Come, [p] let vs see one another in the face.

18 But Ioash King of Israel sent to Amaziah King of Iudah, saying, The thistle that is in Lebanon, sent to the cedar that is in Lebanon, saying, * Giue thy daughter to my sonne to wife: and the wilde beast that was in Lebanon went and trode downe the thistle.

19 Thou thinkest: lo, thou hast smitten Edom, and thine heart lifteth thee vp to bragge: abide now at home: why doest thou prouoke to thine hurt, that thou shouldest fall, & Iudah with thee?

20 But Amaziah would not heare: for [q] it was of God, that he might deliuer them into his hand, because they had sought the gods of Edom.

21 So Ioash the King of Israel went vp: and he, and Amaziah King of Iudah saw one another in the face at Beth-shemesh which is in Iudah.

22 And Iudah was put to the worse before Israel, and they fled euery man to his tents.

23 But Ioash the King of Israel tooke Amaziah King of Iudah, the sonne of Ioash, the sonne of Iehoahaz in Beth-shemesh, & brought him to Ierusalem, & brake downe the wall of Ierusalem, from the gate of Ephraim vnto the corner gate, foure hundreth cubites.

24 And he tooke all the golde & the siluer, and all the vessels that were found in the house of God with [r] Obed Edom, & in the treasures of the Kings house, & the children that were in hostage, and returned to Samaria.

25 ¶ And Amaziah the sonne of Ioash King of Iudah liued after the death of Ioash sonne of Iehoahaz King of Israel, fifteene yeere.

26 Concerning [s] rest of the acts of Amaziah first and last, are they not written in the booke of the Kings of Iudah and Israel?

27 Nowe after the time that Amaziah did turne away from the Lord, * they wrought treason against him in Ierusalem: & when he was fled to Lachish, they sent to Lachish after him, and slewe

5 And he sought God in the dayes of c Zechariah (which vnderstoode the visions of God) and when as d he sought the Lord, God made him to prosper.

6 For hee went forth and fought against the Philistims and brake downe the wall of Gath, and the wall of Iabneh, and the wall of Ashdod, and built cities in Ashdod, and among the Philistims.

7 And God helped him against the Philistims, and against the Arabians that dwell in Gur-baal and Hammeunim.

8 And the Ammonites gaue e gifts to Vzziah, and his name spred to the entring in of Egypt: for he did most valiantly.

9 Moreouer Vzziah built towres in Ierusalem at the corner gate, and at the valley gate, and at the * f turning, and made them strong.

10 And he built towres in the wildernesse, and digged many ‖ cisternes: for he had much cattell both in the valleyes and playnes, plowmen, and dressers of vines in the mountaines, and in g Carmel: for he loued husbandrie.

11 Vzziah had also an hoste of fighting men that went out to warre by bands, according to the count of their number vnder the hand of Ieiel the Scribe, and Maaseiah the ruler, and vnder the hand of Hananiah, one of the Kings captaines.

12 The whole h number of the chiefe of the families of the valiant men, were two thousand and sixe hundreth.

13 And vnder their hand was the armie for warre, three hundreth and seuen thousand, and fiue hundreth that fought valiantly to helpe the King against the enemie.

14 And Vzziah prepared them throughout all the hoste, shieldes, and speares, and helmets, and brigandines, and bowes, and stones to sling.

15 He made also very † artificial engins in Ierusalem, to be vpon the towres and vpon the corners, to shoote arrowes and great stones: and his name spred farre abroade, because God did helpe him marueilously, till he was mightie.

16 ¶ But when he was strong, his heart i was lift vp to his destruction, for he transgressed against the Lord his God, & went into the Temple of the Lord to burne incense vpon the altar of incense.

17 And Azariah the Priest went in after him, and with him foure score Priests of the Lord, valiant men.

18 And they withstoode Vzziah the King, and said vnto him, k It pertaineth not to thee, Vzziah, to burne incense vnto the Lord, but to the Priests the sonnes of Aaron, that are consecrated for to offer incense: l goe forth of the Sanctuarie: for thou hast transgressed, and thou shalt haue none honour of the Lord God.

19 Then Vzziah was wroth, and had incense in his hand to burne it: and while he was wroth with the Priestes, the leprosie rose vp in his forehead before the Priestes in the house of the Lord beside the incense altar.

20 And when Azariah the chiefe Priest with all the Priestes looked vpon him, beholde, he was leprous in his forehead, & they caused him hastily to depart thence: and he was euen compelled to goe out, because the Lord had smitten him.

21 * And Vzziah the king was a leper vnto the day of his death, and dwelt as a leper in an ‖ house apart, because he was cut off from the house of the Lord: and Iotham his sonne ruled ouer the Kings house, and iudged the people of the land.

22 Concerning the rest of the acts of Vzziah, first and last, did Isaiah the Prophet the sonne of Amoz write.

23 So Vzziah slept with his fathers, and they buried him with his fathers in the fielde of the burial, which perteined to the kings: for they said, He m is a leper. And Iotham his sonne reigned in his steade.

3 He built the hie c gate of the house of the Lord, and he built very much on the wall of the castle.

4 Moreouer hee built cities in the mountaines of Iudah, and in the forests he built palaces and towres.

5 And hee fought with the King of the children of Ammon, and preuailed against them. And the children of Ammon gaue him the same yeere an hundreth talents of siluer, and ten thousand † measures of wheate, and ten thousand of barley: this did the children of Ammon giue him ‖ both in the second yeere and the third.

22 And in the time of his tribulation did he yet treſpas more againſt ỹ Lord, (This is King Ahaz)

23 For he ſacrificed vnto the gods of Damaſcus, which o plagued him, and he ſaid, Becauſe the gods of the Kings of Aram helped them, I will ſacrifice vnto them, and they will p helpe me: yet they were his ruine, and of all ‖ Iſrael.

o As he falſely ſuppoſed.
p Thus the wicked meaſure Gods fauour by proſperitie & aduerſitie: for if idolaters proſper, they make their idoles gods, not conſidering that God puniſheth them oftimes whom he loueth, and giueth his enemies good ſucceſſe for a time, whom afterward he will deſtroy.
‖Or, Iudah and Beniamin.

24 And Ahaz gathered the veſſels of the houſe of God, & brake the veſſels of the houſe of God, and ſhut vp the doores of the houſe of the Lord, and made him altars in euery corner of Ieruſalem.

25 And in euery citie of Iudah hee made hie places, to burne incenſe vnto other gods, and prouoked to anger the Lord God of his fathers.

26 Concerning the reſt of his actes, and al his wayes firſt and laſt, behold, they are written in the booke of the Kings of Iudah, and Iſrael.

27 And Ahaz ſlept with his fathers, and they buried him in the citie ‖ of Ieruſalem, but brought him not vnto the q ſepulchres of the Kings of Iſrael: and Hezekiah his ſonne reigned in his ſtead.

‖Or, in Ieruſalem.
q They buried him not in the citie of Dauid, where were the ſepulchres of the Kings.

3. 3 Hezekiah repaireth the Temple, & aduertiſeth the Leuites of the corruption of religion. 12 The Leuites prepare the Temple. 20 The King & his princes ſacrifice in the Temple. 25 The Leuites ſing praiſe. 31 The oblation of the people.

HEzekiah * began to reigne, when he was fiue and twentie yeere olde, and reigned nine and twentie yeeres in Ieruſalem: and his mothers name was ‖ Abijah the daughter of Zecharish.

*2.King.18.2.
‖Or, Abi.

2 And he did vprightly in ỹ ſight of the Lord, according to all that Dauid his father had done.

3 He opened the a doores of the houſe of the Lord in the firſt yeere, and in the firſt b moneth of his reigne, and repaired them.

a Which Ahaz had ſhut vp, Chap. 28.24.
b This is a notable example for all princes, firſt to eſtabliſh the true religion of God: to procure that the Lord may be honoured and ſerued aright.

4 And he brought in the Prieſtes and the Leuites, and gathered them into the Eaſt ſtreete,

5 And ſaid vnto them, Heare me, yee Leuites: ſanctifie nowe your ſelues, and ſanctifie the houſe of the Lord God of your fathers, and cary foorth c the filthineſſe out of the Sanctuarie.

c Meaning, all the idoles, altars, groues & whatſoeuer was coupled in their religion: & wherewith the Temple was polluted.

6 For our fathers haue treſpaſſed, and done euill in the eyes of the Lord our God, and haue forſaken him, & turned away their faces from the Tabernacle of the Lord, and turned their backes.

7 They haue alſo ſhut the doores of the porch, and quenched the lampes, and haue neither burnt incenſe, nor offred burnt offrings in the Sanctuarie vnto the God of Iſrael.

d He ſheweth that the contempt of religion is the cauſe of all Gods plagues.

8 d Wherefore the wrath of the Lord hath bin on Iudah and Ierusalem: and he hath made them ‖ a fearing, a desolation, and an hissing, as ye see with your eyes.

9 For lo, our fathers are fallen by the sword, and our sonnes, and our daughters, and our wiues are in captiuitie for the same cause.

10 Now † I purpose to make a couenant with the Lord God of Israel, that he may * turne away his fierce wrath from vs.

11 Nowe my sonnes, be not deceiued: for the Lord hath * chosen you to stand before him, to serue him, and to be his ministers, and to burne incense.

12 ¶ Then the Leuites arose, Mahath the sonne of Amasai, and Ioel the sonne of Azariah of the sonnes of the Kohathites: & of the sonnes of Merari, Kish the sonne of Abdi, & Azariah the sonne of Iehalelel: and of the Gershonites, Ioah the sonne of Zimmah, and Eden the sonne of Ioah:

13 And of the sonnes of Elizaphan, Shimri, and Iehiel: and of the sonnes of Asaph, Zechariah, and Mattaniah:

14 And of the sonnes of Heman, Iehiel, and Shimei: and of the sonnes of Ieduthun, Shemaiah and Vzziel.

15 And they gathered their brethren, and sanctified them selues and came according to the commandement of the King, and ‖ by the wordes of the Lord, for to cleanse the house of the Lorde.

16 And the Priests went into the inner partes of the house of the Lord, to f cleanse it, & brought out all the vncleannesse that they found in the Temple of the Lord, into the court of the house of the Lorde: and the Leuites tooke it, to cary it out vnto the brooke Kidron.

17 They began † first day of the ‖ first moneth to sanctifie it, and the eight day of the moneth came they to † porch of the Lord: so they sanctified the house of the Lorde in eight dayes, & in the sixteenth day of † first moneth, they made an end.

18 ¶ Then they went in to Hezekiah the king, and sayd, Wee haue cleansed all the house of the Lord and the altar of burnt offering, with all the vessels thereof, and the ‖ shewbread table, with all the vessels thereof:

19 And all the vessels which King Ahaz had cast aside when he reigned, and transgressed, haue we prepared and sanctified: and beholde, they are before the altar of the Lord.

20 ¶ And Hezekiah the King h rose early, and gathered the princes of the citie, and went vp to the house of the Lord.

21 And they brought seuen bullockes, and seuen rammes, and seuen lambes, and seuen hee goates, for a * sinne offring for the kingdome, and for the Sanctuarie, and for Iudah. And hee commanded the Priests the sonnes of Aaron, to offer them on the altar of the Lord.

22 So they slew the bullocks, and the Priests receiued the blood, and i sprinkled it vpon the altar: they slew also the rammes & sprinkled the blood vpon the altar, and they slewe the lambes, and they sprinkled the blood vpon the altar.

23 Then they brought the hee goates for the sinne offering before the King and the Congregation, k and they layde their hands vpon them.

24 And the Priests slewe them, and with the blood of them they cleansed the altar to reconcile all Israel: for the King had commanded for all Israel the burnt offering and the sinne offering.

25 He appointed also the Leuites in the house of the Lord with cymbales, with violes, and with harpes, * according to the commandement of Dauid, and Gad the Kings Seer, & Nathan the Prophet: for the l commandement was by the hand of the Lord, and by the hand of his Prophets.

26 And † Leuites stood with the instruments of Dauid, and the Priests with the trumpets.

27 And Hezekiah commanded to offer the burnt offring vpon the altar: and when the burnt offring began, the song of m the Lorde beganne with the trumpets, and the instruments n of Dauid King of Israel.

28 And all the Congregation worshipped, singing a song, and they blew the trumpets: all this continued vntill the burnt offering was finished.

29 And when they had made an ende of offring, the King & all that were present with him, bowed themselues, and worshipped.

30 ¶ Then Hezekiah the King and the princes commaunded the Leuites to prayse the Lorde with the o wordes of Dauid, and of Asaph the Seer. so they praysed with ioy, and they bowed themselues, and worshipped.

31 And Hezekiah spake, and sayde, Nowe ye haue † consecrate your selues to the Lord: come neere and bring the sacrifices and offerings of prayse into the house of the Lord. And the Congregation brought sacrifices, & offerings of prayses, and euery man that was willing in heart, offered burnt offerings.

32 And the number of the burnt offerings, which the Congregation brought, was seuentie bullockes, an hundreth rammes, and two hundreth lambes: all these were for a burnt offering to the Lord:

33 And for p sanctification sixe hundreth bullocks, and three thousand sheepe.

34 But the Priests were too few, and were not able to flay all the burnt offerings: therefore their brethren the Leuites did helpe them, till they had ended the worke, & vntill other Priests were sanctified: for the Leuites were q more vpright in heart to sanctifie themselues, then the Priests.

35 And also the burnt offerings were many with the * fat of the peace offerings & the drinke offrings for the burnt offring. so the seruice of the house of the Lord was set in order.

36 Then Hezekiah reioyced and all the people, that God had made the people so r ready: for the thing was done suddenly.

AND Hezekiah sent to all Israel & Iudah, and also wrote letters to * Ephraim & Manasseh, that they should come to the house of the Lorde at Ierusalem, to keepe the Passeouer vnto † Lord God of Israel.

2 And the King and his princes and all the Congregation had taken counsel in Ierusalem to keepe the Passeouer in the b second moneth.

4 And the thing pleased the King, and all the Congregation.

5 And they decreed to make proclamation throughout all Israel from c Beersheba euen to Dan, that they should come to keepe the Passeouer vnto the Lorde God of Israel at Ierusalem: for they had not done it of a great time, d as it was written.

6 ¶ So the postes went with letters by the commission of the King, & his princes, thorowout all Israel and Iudah, and with the commandement of the King, saying, Ye children of Israel, turne againe vnto the Lorde God of Abraham, Izhak and Israel, and e he will returne to the remnant that are escapeed of you, out of the hands of the Kings of Ashur.

7 And be not yee like your fathers, and like your brethren, which trespassed against the Lord God of their fathers: and therefore he made them desolate, as ye see.

8 Be not yee nowe stiffenecked like your fathers, but f giue the hand to the Lorde, and come into his Sanctuarie, which he hath sanctified for euer, and serue the Lord your God, & the fiercenesse of his wrath shall turne away from you.

9 For if ye returne vnto the Lorde, your brethren and your children shall g*finde* mercie before them that led them captiues, and they shall g returne vnto this land: for the Lorde your God is gracious and mercifull, & will not turne away his face from you, if ye conuert vnto him.

10 ¶ So the postes went from citie to citie thorowe the land of Ephraim and Manasseh, euen vnto Zebulun: but they h laughed them to scorne, and mocked them.

11 Neuertheless diuers of Asher, and Manasseh, and of Zebulun submitted themselues, and came to Ierusalem.

12 And the hand of God was in Iudah, so that he gaue them one i heart to doe the commandement of the King, and of the rulers, according to the worde of the Lorde.

13 And there assembled to Ierusalem much people, to keepe the feast of ỹ vnleauened bread in the second moneth, a very great assemblie.

14 ¶ And they arose, and tooke away the k altars that were in Ierusalem: and all those for incense tooke they away, and cast them into the brooke Kidron.

15 Afterwarde they slewe the Passeouer the fourteenth day of the second moneth: and the Priestes and Leuites were l ashamed, and sanctified themselues, and brought the burnt offerings into the house of the Lord.

16 And they stoode in their place after their maner, according to the Lawe of Moses the man of God: and the Priestes sprinkled the m blood, receiued of the handes of the Leuites.

17 Because there were many in ỹ Congregation that were not sanctified, therefore the Leuites had the charge of ỹ killing of the Passeouer for all that were not cleane, to sanctifie it to ỹ Lord.

18 For a multitude of the people, euen a multitude of Ephraim, & Manasseh, Issachar and Zebulun had not cleansed themselues, yet did eate the Passeouer, but not as it was written: wherfore Hezekiah prayed for them, saying, The n good Lord be mercifull toward him, 19 That prepareth his whole heart to seeke the Lord God, the God of his fathers, though he be not cleansed, according to the purification of the Sanctuarie.

20 And the Lord heard Hezekiah, and o healed the people.

21 And the children of Israel that were present at Ierusalem, kept the feast of the vnleauened bread seuen dayes with great ioye, and the Leuites and the Priestes prayed the Lorde, day by day, singing with loude instruments vnto the Lorde.

22 And Hezekiah † spake comfortably vnto all the Leuites that had good knowledge to sing vnto the Lorde: and they did eate in that feast seuen dayes, and offered peace offerings, & prayssed the Lord God of their fathers.

23 And the whole assembly tooke counsell to keepe it other seuen dayes. So they kept it seuen dayes with ioy.

24 For Hezekiah King of Iudah had giuen to the Congregation a p thousand bullocks, and seuen thousand sheepe. And the princes had giuen to the Congregation a thousand bullocks, & ten thousand sheepe: & many Priests were sanctified.

25 And all the Congregation of Iudah reioyced with the Priestes and the Leuites, and all the Congregation that came out of Israel, and the strangers that came out of the land of Israel, and that dwelt in Iudah.

26 So there was great ioye in Ierusalem: for since the time of Salomon the sonne of Dauid King of Israel there was not the like thing in Ierusalem.

27 Then the Priestes & the Leuites arose, and q blessed the people, and their voyce was heard, and their prayer came vp vnto heauen, to his holy habitation.

1 The people destroy idolatrie. 2 Hezekiah appointeth Priestes and Leuites, 4 and prouideth for their liuing. 13 He ordaineth ouerseers to distribute to euery one his portion.

AND when all these things were finished, all Israel that were found in the cities of Iudah, went out and a brake the images, and cut downe the groues, and brake downe the hie places, and the altars thorowout all Iudah and Beniamin, in Ephraim also and Manasseh, vntill they had made an ende: afterwarde all the b children of Israel returned euery man to his possession, into their owne cities.

2 And Hezekiah appointed the courses of the Priests and Leuites by their turnes, euery man according to his office, both Priests and Leuites, for the burnt offring and peace offrings, to minister and to giue thankes, & to prayse in the gates of the c tents of the Lord.

honie, and of all the increase of the fielde, and the tithes of all things brought they abundantly.

6 And the children of Israel and Iudah that dwelt in the cities of Iudah, they also brought the tithes of bullockes and sheepe, and the holy tithes f which were consecrate vnto the Lord their God, and laid them on g many heapes.

f Which they had dedicated to the Lord by a vow.

g For the releife of the Priestes, Leuites, widowes, pupils, fatherlesse, strangers, and such as were in necessitie.

7 In the third moneth they began to lay the foundation of the heapes, and finished them in the seuenth moneth.

8 ¶ And when Hezekiah and the princes came, and saw the heapes, they h blessed the Lord and his people Israel.

h They praised the Lord, and prayed for all prosperitie to his people.

9 And Hezekiah questioned with the Priestes and the Leuites concerning the heapes.

10 And Azariah the chiefe Priest of the house of Zadok answered him, and saide, Since the people beganne to bring the offrings into the house of the Lord, we haue i eaten and haue bene satisfied, and there is left in abundance: for the Lord hath blessed his people, and this abundance that is left.

i He sheweth that this plenteous liberalitie is expedient for ye maintenance of the ministers, and that God therefore prospereth his people, and increaseth by his blessing that which is giuen.

11 ¶ And Hezekiah commanded to prepare chambers in the house of the Lord: and they prepared them, 12 And caried in the first fruits, and the tithes, and the dedicate things faithfully: and ouer them was Conaniah the Leuite, the chiefe, and Shimei his brother the second.

15 And at his hand were Eden, and Miniamin, and Iesshua, and Shemaiah, Amariah, and Shechaniah, in the cities of the Priestes, to distribute with fidelitie to their brethren by courses, both to the great and small,

16 Their dayly portion: beside their generation being males k from three yeere olde & aboue, euen to all that entred into the house of the Lord to their office in their charge, according to their courses:

k Who had also a portion and allowance in this distribution.

17 Both to the generation of the Priestes after the house of their fathers, and to the Leuits from twentie yeere olde and aboue, according to their charge in their courses:

18 And to the generation of all their children, their wiues, and their sonnes and their daughters throughout all the Congregation: for by their l fidelitie are they partakers of the holy things.

l Meaning, that vther by the faithfull distribution of the offrers, euery one had their part in the things that were offered, or els that their wiues and children were relieued, because the Leuites were faithfull in their office, and so deputed ouerthem.

19 Also to the sonnes of Aaron, the Priestes, which were in the fieldes and suburbes of their cities, in euery citie the men that were appointed by names, shoulde giue portions to all the males of the Priests, and to all y generation of the Leuites.

20 And thus did Hezekiah throughout all Iudah, and did well, and vprightly, and truely before the Lord his God.

21 And in all the workes that he beganne for the seruice of the house of God, both in the Lawe and in the commandements, to seeke his God, he did it with all his heart, and prospered.

† Ebr. he spake to their heart.

7 Be strong and couragious: feare not, neither be afraide for the King of Ashur, neither for all the multitude that is with him: * for there be mo with vs, then is with him.

* 2. King. 6. 16.

8 With him is an d arme of flesh, but with vs is the e Lord our God for to helpe vs, and to fight our battels. Then the people were confirmed by the wordes of Hezekiah King of Iudah.

d That is, the power of man.

e This declareth that Hezekiah did euer put his trust in God, and yet made him selfe streng, and vsed lawfull meanes, least he should seeme to tempt God.

9 * After this, did Sancherib King of Ashur send his seruants to Ierusalem (while hee was f against Lachish, and all his dominion with him) vnto Hezekiah King of Iudah and vnto all Iudah that were at Ierusalem, saying,

* 2. King. 18. 17.

f While he besieged Lachish,

10 Thus saith Sancherib the King of Ashur, Wherein doe ye trust, that ye will remaine in Ierusalem, during the siege?

g Thus the wicked put no difference betwene true religion and false, God and idoles: for Hezekiah onely destroyed idolatrie, and placed true religion, thus the Papists slander the seruants of God: for when they destroye idolatrie, they say that they abolish religion.

11 Doeth not Hezekiah entice you to giue ouer your selues vnto death by famine & by thirst, saying, The Lord our God shall deliuer vs out of the hand of the King of Ashur?

12 Hath not the same Hezekiah taken away his hie places and his g altars, and commanded Iudah and Ierusalem, saying, Ye shall worship before one altar, and burne incense vpon it?

13 Knowe ye not what I and my fathers haue done vnto all the people of other countries? were the gods of the nations of other lands able to deliuer their land out of mine hand?

14 Who is he of all the h gods of those nations (that my fathers haue destroyed) that could deliuer his people out of mine hand? that your God should be able to deliuer you out of mine hand?

h This is his blasphemie, that he will compare the liuing God to vild idoles.

15 Nowe therefore let not Hezekiah deceiue you, nor seduce you after this sort, neither beleeue ye him: for none of all the gods of any nation or kingdome was able to deliuer his people out of i mine hand and out of the hand of my fathers: how much lesse shal your gods deliuer you out of mine hand?

i When man hath prosperitie, he swelleth in pride and thinketh himselfe able to resist and ouercome euen God himselfe.

16 And

16 And his seruants spake yet more against the Lord God, and against his k seruant Hezekiah.

17 He wrote also letters, blaspheming the Lord God of Israel and speaking against him, saying, As the gods of the nations of other countries could not deliuer their people out of mine hande, so shall not the God of Hezekiah deliuer his people out of mine hand.

18 Then they l cried with a loude voyce in the Iewes speech vnto the people of Ierusalem that were on the wall, to feare them and to astonish them, that they maight take the citie.

19 Thus they spake against the God of Ierusalem, as against the gods of the people of the earth, euen the m workes of mans hands.

20 But Hezekiah the King, and the Prophete Isaiah the sonne of Amoz n prayed against this & cried to heauen.

21 And the Lord sent an Angel which destroyed all the valiant men, and the princes & o captaines of the host of the King of Asshur: so he returned † with shame to his owne land. And when he was come into the house of his god, they that came foorth of his p owne bowels, slew him there with the sword.

22 So the Lord saued Hezekiah and the inhabitants of Ierusalem from the hand of Sancherib King of Asshur, & from the hand of all other, and ‖ maintained them on euery side.

23 And many brought offrings vnto the Lord to Ierusalem, and presents to Hezekiah King of Iudah, so that he was q magnified in the sight of all nations from thencefoorth.

24 * In those dayes Hezekiah was sicke vnto the death, and prayed vnto the Lord, who spake vnto him, and gaue him r a signe.

25 But Hezekiah did not render according to the reward bestowed vpon him: for his heart s was lift vp, and wrath came vpon him, & vpon Iudah and Ierusalem.

26 Notwithstanding Hezekiah humbled himselfe (after that his heart was lifted vp) he and the inhabitants of Ierusalem, and the wrath of the Lord came not vpon them in the dayes of Hezekiah.

27 Hezekiah also had exceeding much riches and honour, and he gate him treasures of siluer, and of golde, and of precious stones, and of sweete odours, and of shieldes, and of all pleasant vessels:

28 And of store houses for the increase of wheat and wine and oyle, and stalles for all beasts, and ‖ rowes for the ‖ stables.

29 And he made him cities, and had possession of sheepe and oxen in abundance: for God had giuen him substance exceeding much.

30 This same Hezekiah also stopped the vpper water springs of t Gihon, and led them streight vnderneath toward the citie of Dauid Westward. So Hezekiah prospered in all his workes.

31 But because of the ambassadours of the princes of Babel, which sent vnto him to enquire of the wonder that was done in the land, God left him to u trie him, and to know all that was in his heart.

32 Concerning the rest of the actes of Hezekiah, and his goodnes, beholde, they are written in the vision of Isaiah the Prophet, the sonne of Amoz, in the booke of the Kings of Iudah and Israel.

33 So Hezekiah slept with his fathers, and they buried him in the highest sepulchre of the sonnes of Dauid: and all Iudah and the inhabitantes of Ierusalem did him honour at his death: and Manasseh his sonne reigned in his stead.

CHAP. XXXIII.

1 Manasseth an idolater. 9 He causeth Iudah to erre. 11 He is led away prisoner into Babylon. 12 He prayeth to the Lord, and is deliuered. 14 He aboliseth idolatrie. 16 And setteth vp true religion. 20 He dieth and Amon his sonne succeedeth. 24 Whome his owne seruants slay.

MAnasseh was twelue yeere olde, * when hee began to reigne, and he reigned fiue and fifty yeere in Ierusalem.

2 And he did euill in the sight of the Lorde, like the abominations of the heathen, * whom the Lord had cast out before the children of Israel.

3 For he went backe and built the hie places, * which Hezekiah his father had broken downe: * and he set vp altars for Baalim, & made groues, and worshipped all the hoste of the heauen, and serued them.

4 Also he built altars in the house of the Lord, whereof the Lord had said, * In Ierusalem shall my Name be for euer.

5 And hee built altars for all the hoste of the heauen in ‖ two courtes of the house of the Lord.

6 * And he caused his sonnes to passe through the fire in the valley of Ben-hinnom: hee gaue him selfe to witchcraft and to charming, and to sorcerie, and he vsed them that had familiar spirits, and soothsayers: hee did very much euill in the sight of the Lord to anger him.

7 He put also the carued image, which he had made, in the house of God: whereof God had said to Dauid and to Salomon his sonne, * In this house and in Ierusalem, which I haue chosen before all the tribes of Israel, will I put my Name for euer,

8 Neither will * I make the foote of Israel to remooue any more out of the lande which I haue appointed for your fathers, so that they take heed, and doe all that I haue commanded them, according to the Lawe and statutes and iudgements by the b hand of Moses.

9 So Manasseh made Iudah and the inhabitants of Ierusalem to erre, and to doe worse then the heathen, whom the Lord had destroyed before the children of Israel.

10 ¶ And the Lorde spake c to Manasseh and to his people, but they would not regard.

11 Wherefore the Lord brought vpon them the captaines of the hoste of the King of Asshur, which tooke Manasseh and put him in fetters, and bound him in chaines, and caried him to Babel.

12 And when he was in tribulation, he prayed to the Lord his God, and humbled himselfe greatly before the God of his fathers, 13 And prayed vnto him: and God was d entreated of him, and heard his prayer, and brought him againe to Ierusalem into his kingdome: then Manasseh knew this the Lord was God.

14 Nowe after this he built a wall without the citie of Dauid, on the West side of e Gihon in the valley, euen at the entrie of the fish gate, and compassed about f Ophel, and raised it verie hie, and put captaines of warre in all the strong cities of Iudah.

4 And they brake downe * in his ſight the altars of Baalim, and he caused to cut downe the images that were on hie vpon them: he brake alſo the groues, & the carued images, & the molten images, and ſtampt them to pouder, and ſtrowed it vpon the graues of them that had ſacrificed vnto them.

5 Alſo he burne the d bones of the Priests vpon their altars, and purged Iudah and Ierusalem.

7 And when he had e destroyed the altars and the groues, and had broken and ſtamped to pouder the images, and had cut downe all the idoles throughout all the land of Israel, hee returned to Ierusalem.

8 ¶ * Then in † eighteenth yeere of his reigne, when he had purged the land and the Temple, he ſent Shaphan the ſonne of Azaliah, and Maaſeiah the gouernour of the citie, and Ioah the ſonne of Ioahaz the recorder, to repaire the house of the Lord his God.

9 And when they came to Hilkiah the hie Prieſt, they deliuered † money that was brought into the house of God, which the Leuites that kept the doore, had gathered at the hand of Manasseh, and Ephraim, and of all the reſidue of Israel, and of all Iudah and Beniamin, and ‖ of the inhabitants of Ierusalem.

13 And they were ouer the bearers of burdes, and them that ſet forward all the workemen in euery worke: and of the Leuites were ſcribes, and officers and porters.

14 ¶ And when they brought out the money that was brought into the house of the Lord, Hilkiah the Prieſt found the h booke of the Lawe of the Lord giuen by the hand of Moſes.

15 Therefore Hilkiah anſwered and ſaide to Shaphan the chanceller, I haue found the booke of the Law in the house of the Lord: and Hilkiah gaue the booke to Shaphan.

32 And he caused all that were found in Ierusalem, and Beniamin to stand to it: and the inhabitants of Ierusalem did according to the couenant of God, euen the God of their fathers.

CHAP. XXXV.

1 Iosiah keepeth the Passeouer. 2 Hee setteth forth Gods seruice. 20 Hee fighteth against the King of Egypt, and dyeth. 24 The people bewayle him.

MOreouer * Iosiah kept a Passeouer vnto the Lord in Ierusalem, and they slew the a Passeouer in the fourteenth day of the first moneth.

2 And he appointed the Priestes to their charges, and incouraged them to the seruice of the house of the Lorde,

3 And he sayd vnto the Leuites that b taught all Israel, and were sanctified vnto the Lord, Put the holy Arke in the house which Salomon the sonne of Dauid King of Israel did build: it shalbe no more a c burden vpon your shoulders: serue now the Lord your God, and his people Israel,

4 And prepare your selues by the houses of your fathers according to your courses, as * Dauid the King of Israel hath written, & according to the writing of Salomon his sonne,

5 And stand in the Sanctuarie according to the diuision of the families of your brethren ‖ the children of the people, and after the diuision of the familie of the Leuites:

6 So kil the Passeouer, & sanctifie your selues, and d prepare your brethren t they may do according to t word of the Lord by the hand of Moses.

7 Iosiah also gaue to the † people sheepe, lambs and kiddes, all for the Passeouer, euen to all that were present, to the number of thirtie thousand, and three thousand bullockes: these were of the Kings substance.

8 And his princes offered willingly vnto the people, to the Priests and to the Leuites: Hilkiah, and Zechariah, and Iehiel, rulers of the house of God, gaue vnto the Priests for the Passeouer, euen two thousand and six hundreth sheepe, and three hundreth bullockes.

9 e Conaniah also and Shemaiah and Nethaneel his brethren, and Hashabiah and Ieiel, & Iozabad, chiefe of the Leuites gaue vnto the Leuites for the Passeouer, fiue thousand sheepe, and fiue hundreth bullockes.

10 Thus the seruice was prepared, and the Priestes stoode in their places, also the Leuits in their orders, according to t kings comandement:

11 And they slew the Passeouer, & the Priests f sprinckled the blood with their hands, and the Leuites flayed them.

12 And they tooke away from the burnt offering to giue it according to the diuisions of the families of the children of the people, to offer vnto the Lord, as it is written in the booke of Moses, and so of the bullockes.

13 And * they rosted the Passeouer with fire, according to t custome, but the sanctified things they sod in pots, pannes and cauldrons, and distributed them quickely to all the people.

14 Afterwarde also they prepared for them selues and for the Priestes: for the Priestes the sonnes of Aaron were occupied in offering of burnt offrings, and the fat vntill night: therefore the Leuites prepared for themselues, and for the Priestes the sonnes of Aaron.

16 So all the seruice of the Lord was prepared the same day, to keepe the passeouer, and to offer burnt offerings vpon the altar of the Lord accordding to the comandement of King Iosiah.

17 And the children of Israel that were present, kept the Passeouer the same time, and the feast of the vnleauened bread seuen dayes.

The prayer of Manasseh King of the Iewes.

This prayer is not in the Ebrew but is translated out of the Greeke.

O Lorde Almightie, God of our fathers, Abraham, Isaac and Iacob, and of their righteous seede, which hast made heauen and earth with all their ornament, which hast bounde the sea by the worde of thy commaundement, which hast shut vp the deepe and sealed it by thy terrible and glorious Name, whome all doe feare and tremble before thy power: for the Maiestie of thy glorie can not be borne, and thine angrie threatning toward sinners is importable, but thy mercifull promise is vnmeasurable and vnsearchable. For thou art the most high Lord, of great compassion, long suffering, and most mercifull, and repentest for mans miseries. Thou, O Lord, according to thy goodnes hast promised [a] repentance and forgiuenesse to them that sinne against thee, & for thine infinite mercies hast appointed repentance vnto sinners that they may be saued. Thou therefore, O Lord, that art the God of the iust, hast not appointed repentance to the iust, as to Abraham, & Isaac and Iacob, which haue not [b] sinned against thee, but thou hast appointed repentance vnto me that am a sinner: for I haue sinned aboue the number of the sand of the sea. My transgressions, O Lord, are multiplied: my transgressions are exceeding many: and I am not worthie to beholde and see the height of the heauens for the multitude of mine vnrighteousnes. I am bowed downe with many yron bands, that I cannot lift vp mine head, neither haue any release. For I haue prouoked thy wrath and done euil before thee. I did not thy will, neither kept I thy commandements. I haue set vp abominations and haue multiplied offences. Now therefore I bowe the knee of mine heart, beseeching thee of grace. I haue sinned, O Lord, I haue sinned, and I acknowledge my transgressions: but I humbly beseech thee, forgiue me: O Lord, forgiue me, and destroy me not with my transgressions. Be not angrie with me for euer by reseruing euill for me, neither condemne me into the lower partes of the earth. For thou art the God, euen the God of them that repent: and in me thou wilt shew all thy goodnes: for thou wilt saue me that am vnworthie, according to thy great mercie: therefore I will praise thee for euer all the dayes of my life. for all the power of the heauens praise thee, and thine is the glory for euer and euer, Amen.

a Thou hast promised that repentance shalbe the way for them to returne to thee. b He speaketh this in comparison of himselfe & those holy fathers which haue their commendation in the Scriptures, so that in respect of himselfe he calleth the sinnes nothing, but attributeth vnto them righteousnesse.

EZRA.

THE ARGVMENT.

As the Lord is euer mercifull vnto his Church, and doeth not punish them, but to the intent they should see their owne miseries, and be exercised vnder the crosse, that they might contemne the world and aspire vnto the heauens: so after that he had visited the Iewes and kept them now in bondage seuentie yeeres in a strange country among infidels and idolaters, he remembred his tender mercies and their infirmities, and therefore for his owne sake raised them vp a deliuerer, and moued both the heart of the chiefe rulers to pitie them, and also by him punished such, which had kept them in seruitude. Notwithstanding least they should growe into a contempt of Gods great benefite, he keepeth them still in exercise, and raiseth domesticall enemies, which endeuour as much as they can to hinder their most worthie enterprise, yet by the exhortation of the Prophets they went forwarde by little and little till their worke was finished. The author of this booke was Ezra, who was Priest, and Scribe of the Law, as chap. 7. 6. He returned to Ierusalem the sixt yeere of Darius, who succeeded Cyrus, that is, aboue sixtie yeeres after the returne of the first vnder Zerubbabel, when the Temple was built. He brought with him a great companie, and much treasures, with letters to the Kings officers for all such thinges as should be necessarie for the Temple: and at his comming he reformed that which was amisse, and set the things in good order.

CHAP. I.

1 Cyrus stirreth vp the hearts of the Israelites, 8 and restoreth them their holy vessels.

NOw in the first yeere of Cyrus King of Persia (that the worde of the LORD, spoken by the [b] mouth of Ieremiah, might be accomplished) the Lorde stirred vp the [c] spirite of Cyrus King of Persia, and he made a Proclamation thorowe all his Kingdome, and also by writing, saying, m Called alſo Cheeneth, as verſ. 10.

18 ¶ The letter which yee ſent vnto vs, hath bene openly read before me, 19 And I haue commanded & they haue ſearched, and founde, that this citie of olde time hath made inſurrection againſt kings, & hath rebelled, and rebellion hath bene committed therein.

20 There haue bene mightie kings alſo ouer Ieruſalem, which haue ruled ouer all beyond the Riuer, and tolle, tribute, and cuſtome was giuen vnto them.

21 Make ye now a decree, that thoſe men may ceaſe, and that the citie be not built, till I haue giuen another commandement.

22 Take heede nowe that ye faile not to doe this: why ſhould domage grow to hurt the King?

23 When the copie of king Artahſhaſhtes letter was read before Rehum and Shimſhai the ſcribe, and their companions, they went vp in all the haſte to Ieruſalem vnto the Iewes, and cauſed them to ceaſe by force and power.

24 Then n ceaſed the worke of the houſe of God, which was in Ieruſalem, and did ſtay vnto the ſecond yeere of Darius King of Perſia.

n Not altogether for the Prophets exhorted them to continue, but they vſed leſſe diligence becauſe of the troubles.

CHAP. V.

1 Haggai and Zechariah doe propheſie. 3 The works of the Temple goeth forward contrary to the minde of Tatnai. 6 His letters to Darius.

THen ‖ *Haggai a Prophet and Zechariah the ſonne of Iddo a Prophet prophecied vnto the Iewes that were in Iudah, and Ieruſalem, in the name of the God of Iſrael, euen vnto them.

‖Or, Haggeus. *Hag.1.1. & 2.1.

2 Then Zerubbabel the ſonne of Shealtiel, and Ieſhua the ſonne of Iozadak aroſe, and began to build the houſe of God at Ieruſalem, & with them were the Prophets of God, which a helped them.

a Which incouraged them to go forward, and accuſed them that they were more careſull to build their owne houſes then zealous to build the Temple of God.

3 ¶ At the ſame time came to them Tatnai, which was captaine beyond the Riuer, and Shether-boznai and their companions, and ſayd thus vnto them, Who hath giuen you commaundement to builde this houſe, and to lay the foundations of theſe walles?

4 b Then ſayde wee vnto them after this maner, What are the names of the men that builde this building?

b That is, the enemies asked this, as verſe 10.

5 But the c eye of their God was vpon the Elders of the Iewes, that they could not cauſe them to ceaſe, till the matter came to Darius: and then they anſwered by letters thereunto.

c His fauour and the ſpirite of ſtrength.

6 The copie of the letter, that Tatnai captaine beyond the Riuer, and Shether-boznai and his companions, Apharſechaie (which were beyond the Riuer) ſent vnto King Darius.

7 They ſent a letter vnto him, wherein it was written thus, VNTO DARIVS the King, all peace.

8 Bee it knowen vnto the King, that we went into the prouince of Iudea, to the houſe of the great God, which is builded with ‖great ſtones, and beames are layd in the walles, and this worke is wrought ſpeedily, and proſpereth in their hands.

‖Or, marble.

9 Then asked we thoſe Elders, and ſayd vnto them thus, Who hath giuen you commandement to builde this houſe, and to lay the foundation of theſe walles?

10 We asked their names also that we might certifie thee, and that we might write the names of the men that were their rulers.

11 But they answered vs thus, and said, We are the seruants of the God of heauen and earth, and builde the house that was built of olde and many yeeres agoe, which a great King of Israel * builded, and founded it.

d To wit, Salomon. * 1. King. 6. 2. & 1. chro. 3. 2. * 2. King. 24. 12. and 25. 9.

12 But after that our fathers had prouoked the God of heauen vnto wrath, * he gaue them ouer into the hand of Nebuchadnezzar King of Babel the Caldean, and he destroyed this house, and caried the people away captiue vnto Babel.

e Read chap. 1. 1. 2.

13 But in the e first yeere of Cyrus King of Babel, King Cyrus made a decree to builde this house of God.

14 And the vessels of golde and siluer of the house of God, which Nebuchadnezzar tooke out of the Temple, that was in Ierusalem, & brought them into the Temple of Babel, those did Cyrus the king take out of the Temple of Babel, and they gaue them vnto one f Sheshbazzar by his name, whom he had made captaine.

f Read chap. 1. 8.

15 And he saide vnto him, Take these vessels and go thy way, and put them in the Temple that is in Ierusalem, and let the house of God be built in his place.

16 Then came the same Sheshbazzar, and laid the foundation of the house of God, which is in Ierusalem, and since that time euen vntill nowe, hath it bene in building, yet is it not finished.

17 Nowe therefore if it please the King, let there bee search made in the house of the Kings g treasures, which is there in Babel, whether a decree hath bene made by King Cyrus, to build this house of God in Ierusalem, and let the King send his minde concerning this.

g Meaning, In the Librarie, or, places where lay the registers, or records of times.

CHAP. VI.

At the commandement of Darius King of Persia, after the Temple was builded and dedicate, the children of Israel keepe the feast of vnleauened bread.

THen * King Darius gaue commandement, and they made search in the † librarie of the treasures, which were there layd vp in Babel.

* 1. Esd. 6. 22. † Ebr. house of bookes.

2 And there was found in a a coffer (in the palace that was in the prouince of the Medes) a volume, and therein was it thus written, as a memoriall, a Wherein were the actes of the Kings of Medes and Persians.

3 In The First yeere of King Cyrus, King Cyrus made a decree for the house of God in Ierusalem, Let the house be built, euen the place where they offred sacrifices, and let the walles therof be ioyned together: let the height thereof be three score cubites, and the breadth thereof three score cubites,

4 Three ‖ orders of ‖ great stones, and one order of timber, and let the expenses be giuen of the Kings house.

‖ Or, yowes, or courses. ‖ Or, marble.

5 And also let them render the vessels of the house of God (of golde and siluer, which Nebuchadnezzar tooke out of the Temple, which was in Ierusalem, and brought vnto Babel) and let b him goe vnto the Temple that is in Ierusalem to his place, and put them in the house of God.

b Meaning, Zerubbabel, to whom he giueth charge.

6 Therefore Tatnai captaine beyond the Riuer, and Shethar Boznai, (and their companions Apharsecaie, which are beyond the Riuer) be yee farre c from thence.

c Meddle not with them, neither hinder them.

7 Suffer yee the worke of this house of God, that the captaine of the Iewes and the Elders of the Iewes may builde this house of God in his place.

8 For I haue giuen a commandement what ye shall do to the Elders of these Iewes, for the building of this house of God, that of the reuenues of the King, which is of the tribute beyond the Riuer, there be incontinently expenses giuen vnto these men that they d cease not.

d For lacke of money.

9 And that which they shall haue neede of, let it be giuen vnto them day by day, whether it be yong bullockes, or rams, or lambes for the burnt offrings of the God of heauen, wheate, salt, wine, and oyle, according to the appoyntment of the Priestes that are in Ierusalem, that there be no fault,

10 That they may haue to offer sweete odours vnto the God of heauen, and pray for the Kings life, and for his sonnes.

11 And I haue made a decree, that whosoeuer shall alter this sentence, the wood shall be pulled downe from his house, and shall be set vp, and he shalbe hanged thereon, and his house shalbe made a dunghill for this.

12 And the God that hath caused his Name e to dwell there, destroy all Kings and people that put to their hand to alter and to destroy this house of God, which is in Ierusalem. I Darius haue made a decree, let it be done with speede.

e Who hath appoynted that place to haue his Name called vpon thee.

13 ¶ * Then Tatnai the captaine beyond the Riuer, and Shethar Boznai and their companions, according to that which Darius had sent, so they did speedily.

* 1. Esd. 7. 1.

14 So the Elders of the Iewes builded, & they prospered by the prophecying of f Haggai the Prophet, & Zechariah the sonne of Iddo, & they builded & finished it, by the appoyntment of the God of Israel, and by the commandement of Cyrus and Darius, and Artahshashte king of Persia.

f Whome God stirred vp to assist them that he [4] would giue their worke good successe.

15 And this house was finished the thirde day of the moneth g Adar, which was h the sixt yeere of the reigne of King Darius.

g This is the twelft moneth, and conteineth part of February and part of March.

16 ¶ And the children of Israel, the Priests, and the Leuites, and the residue of the children of the captiuitie kept the dedication of this house of God with ioy, h And the two and fourtieth after their first return.

17 And offred at the dedication of this house of God an hundreth bullockes, two hundreth rams, foure hundreth lambes, and twelue goates, for the sinne of all Israel, according to the number of the tribes of Israel.

18 And they set i Priests in their order, & the Leuites in their courses ouer the seruice of God in Ierusalem, as it is written in the * booke of Moses.

* Num. 3. 6. & 8. 6.

19 And the children of the captiuitie kept the Passeouer on k fourteenth day of the first moneth.

20 (For the Priests and the Leuites were purified al together) and they killed the Passeouer for all the children of the captiuitie, and for their brethren the Priests, and for themselues.

21 So the children of Israel which were come againe out of captiuitie, and all such as had l separated themselues vnto them, from the filthines of the Heathen of the land to seeke the Lord God of Israel, did eate, i Which were of the heathen, and forsaken their idolatrie to worship the true God.

22 And they kept the feast of vnleauened bread seuen dayes with ioy: for the Lord had made them glad, and turned the heart of the King of k Asshur vnto them, to † incourage them in the worke of the house of God, euen the God of Israel.

CHAP. VII.

1 By the commandement of the King, Ezra and his companions come to Ierusalem. 27 He giueth thankes to God.

NOw after these things, in the reigne of [a] Artahshashte King of Persia, was Ezra the sonne of Seraiah, the sonne of Azariah, the sonne of Hilkiah,

2 The sonne of Shallum, the house of Zadok, the sonne of Ahitub,

3 The sonne of Amariah, ỹ sonne of Azariah, the sonne of Meraioth,

4 The sonne of Zeraiah, the sonne of Vzzi, the sonne of Bukki,

5 The sonne of Abishua, the sonne of Phinehas, the sonne of Eleazar, the sonne of [b] Aaron, the chiefe Priest.

6 This Ezra came vp from Babel, and was a [c] Scribe prompt in the Law of Moses, which the Lord God of Israel had giuen, and the King gaue him all his request according to the hand of the Lord his God, which was vpon him.

7 And there went vp certaine of the children of Israel, & of the Priestes, & the Leuites, and the singers, & the porters, & the Nethinims vnto Ierusalem, in the seuenth yere of king Artahshashte.

8 And hee came to Ierusalem in the [d] fift moneth, which was in the seuenth yeere [e] of the King.

9 For vpon the first day of the first moneth began he to goe vp from Babel, and on the first day of the fift moneth came he to Ierusalem, according to the good hand of his God that was vpon him.

10 For Ezra had prepared his heart to seeke the Lawe of the Lord, and to doe it, and to teach the precepts and iudgements in Israel.

11 ¶ And this is the copie of the letter that king Artahshashte gaue vnto Ezra the Priest and scribe, euen a writer of the words of the commandements of the Lord, & of his statutes ouer Israel.

12 ARTAHSHASTE King of Kings to Ezra the Priest and perfite Scribe of the Lawe of the God of heauen, and to [f] Cheeneth.

13 I haue giuen commaundement, that euery one, that is willing in my kingdome of the people of Israel, and of the Priestes and Leuites [g] to goe to Ierusalem with thee, shall goe.

14 Therefore art thou sent of the King & his seuen counselers, to [h] enquire in Iudah and Ierusalem, according to the lawe of thy God, which is in [i] thine hand,

15 And to cary the siluer & the golde, which the king & his counselers willingly offer vnto the God of Israel (whose habitation is in Ierusalem)

16 And all the siluer & golde that thou canst finde in all the prouince of Babel, with the free offring of the people, and that which the Priestes offer willingly to the house of their God which is in Ierusalem, 17 That thou mayest bye speedily with this siluer, bullocks, rammes, lambes, with their meate offrings and their drinke offerings: and thou shalt offer them vpon the altar of the house of your God, which is in Ierusalem.

18 And whatsoeuer it pleaseth thee and thy brethren to doe with the rest of the siluer, & gold, doe ye it according to the will of your [k] God.

19 And the vessels that are giuen thee for the seruice of the house of thy God, those deliuer thou before God in Ierusalem.

20 And the residue that shall be needefull for the house of thy God, which shall be meete for thee to bestowe, thou shalt bestowe it out of the Kings treasure house,

21 And I King Artahshashte haue giuen commandement to all the treasurers which are beyond [l] the Riuer, that whatsoeuer Ezra the Priest and Scribe of the Lawe of the God of heauen shal require of you, that it be done incontinently, 22 Vnto an hundreth talents of siluer, vnto an hundreth †measures of wheate, and vnto an hundreth baths of wine, & vnto an hundreth [m] baths of oyle, and salt without writing.

23 Whatsoeuer is by the cõmandement of the God of heauen, let it be done speedily for ỹ house of the God of heauen: for why should he be wroth [n] against the realme of the King, & his children?

24 And we certifie you, that vpon any of the Priestes, Leuites, singers, porters, Nethinims, or Ministers in the house of God, there shall no gouernour lay vpon them tolle, tribute nor custome.

25 And thou Ezra (after the wisedome of thy God, that is in thine hand) [o] set iudges and arbiters, which may iudge all the people that is beyond the Riuer, euen all that know ỹ Law of thy God, and teach ye them that know it not.

26 And whosoeuer will not doe the Lawe of thy God, and the Kings lawe, let him haue iudgement without delay, whether it be vnto death, or to banishment, or to confiscation of goods, or to imprisonment.

27 [p] Blessed be the Lord God of our fathers, which so hath put in the Kings heart, to beautifie the house of the Lord that is in Ierusalem, 28 And hath enclined mercy toward me, before the King and his counsellers, and before all the Kings mightie Princes: and I was comforted by the hand of the Lord my God which was vpon me, and I gathered the chiefe of Israel to goe vp with me.

7 And of the sonnes of Elam, Iesaiah the sonne of Athaliah, and with him seuentie males.

a The Ebrewes write, that diuers of the Kings of Persia were called by this name, as Pharaoh was a common name to the Kings of Egypt, and Cæsar to the Emperours Romane.

b Ezra deduceth his kinred, till he commeth to Aaron, to proone that he came of him.

c Hee sheweth here what a scribe is, who had charge to write the Lawe and to expound it, whom Marke calleth a scribe, Mar. 12.28. Matt. and Luke call him a Lawyer, or doctor of the lawe, Matt. 22.35. Luke 10.25.

‖ Or, captaine of Moab.

9 Of the ſonnes of Ioab, Obadiah the ſonne of Iehiel, and with him two hundreth and eighteene males.

10 And of the ſonnes of Shelomith the ſonne of Ioſiphiah, and with him an hundreth & threeſcore males.

11 And of the ſonnes of Bebai, Zechariah the ſonne of Bebai, and with him eight and twentie males.

12 And of the ſonnes of Azgad, Iohanan the ſonne of Hakkatan, and with him an hundreth and ten males.

13 And of ỹ ſonnes of Adonikam, that were the [b] laſt, whoſe names are theſe: Eliphelet, Iehiel, and Shemaiah, and with them threeſcore males.

14 And of the ſonnes of Biguai, Vthai, and Zabbud, and with them ſeuentie males.

15 And I gathered them to the [c] Riuer that goeth toward Ahaua, and there abode wee three dayes: then I viewed the people, and the Prieſts, and found there none of the ſonnes of Leui.

16 Therefore ſent I to Eliezer, to Ariel, to Shemeiah, and to Elnathan, and to Iarib, and to Elnathan, and to Nathan, and to Zechariah, and to Meſhullam the chiefe, and to Ioiarib and to Elnathan, men of vnderſtanding, 17 And I gaue them commandement, to Iddo the [d] chiefeſt at the place of Caſiphia, & I † tolde them the words that they ſhould ſpeake to Iddo, and to his brethren the Nethinims at the place of Caſiphia, that they ſhould cauſe the miniſters of the houſe of our God to come vnto vs.

18 So by the good hand of our God which was vpon vs, they brought vs a man of vnderſtanding of the ſonnes of Mahali the ſonne of Leui the ſonne of Iſrael, and Sherebiah with his ſonnes and his brethren, euen eighteene.

19 Alſo Haſhabiah, and with him Ieſhaiah of the ſonnes of Merari, with his brethren, and their ſonnes twentie.

20 And of the [e] Nethinims, whom Dauid had ſet, and the Princes for the ſeruice of the Leuites, two hundreth & twenty of the Nethinims, which all were named by name.

21 And there at the Riuer, by Ahaua, I proclaimed a faſt, that we might humble [f] our ſelues before our God, and ſeeke of him a right way for vs, and for our children, and for all our ſubſtance.

22 For I was [g] aſhamed to require of the king an armie and horſemen, to helpe vs againſt the enemie in the way, becauſe we had ſpoken to the King, ſaying, The hand of our God is vpon all them that ſeeke him in goodneſſe, but his power and his wrath is againſt all them that forſake him.

23 So we faſted, & beſought our God for this: and he was intreated of vs.

24 Then I ſeparated twelue of the chiefe of the Prieſts, Sherebiah, and Haſhabiah, and ten of their brethren with them,

25 And weighed them the ſiluer and the gold, and the veſſels, euen the offring of ỹ houſe of our God, which the King and his counſelers, and his Princes, & all Iſrael that were preſent had offred.

26 And I weighed vnto their hand ſixe hundreth and fiftie [h] talents of ſiluer, & in ſiluer veſſels, an hundreth talents, and in gold an hundreth talents;

27 And twentie baſins of golde, of a thouſand [i] drammes, and two veſſels of ſhining braſſe very good, and precious as golde.

28 ¶ And I ſaid vnto them, Ye are conſecrate vnto the Lord, and the veſſels are conſecrate, and the golde & the ſiluer are freely offered vnto the Lord God of your fathers.

29 Watch ye, and keepe them vntill ye weigh them before the chiefe Prieſtes and the Leuites, and ỹ chiefe fathers of Iſrael in Ieruſalem in the chambers of the houſe of the Lord.

30 So the Prieſtes & the Leuites receiued the weight of the ſiluer and of the golde, and of the veſſels to bring them to Ieruſalem, vnto ỹ houſe of our God.

31 ¶ Then we departed from the Riuer of Ahauah on the twelft day of ỹ firſt moneth, to goe vnto Ieruſalem, and the hand of our God was vpon vs, and deliuered vs from the hand of the enemie, and of ſuch as layde [k] waite by the way.

32 And we came to Ieruſalem, & abode there three dayes.

33 And on the fourth day was ỹ ſiluer weighed, and the golde and the veſſell in the houſe of our God by the hand of Meremoth the ſonne of Vriah the Prieſt, and with him was Eleazar the ſonne of Phinehas, and with them was Iozabad the ſonne of Ieſhua, and Noadiah the ſonne of Binnui the [l] Leuites, 34 By number & by weight of euery one, and all the weight was written at the ſame time.

35 Alſo the children of the captiuitie, which were come out of captiuitie, offred burnt offrings vnto the God of Iſrael, twelue bullockes for all Iſrael, ninetie and ſixe rammes, ſeuentie & ſeuen lambes, and twelue hee goates for ſinne: all was a burnt offering of the Lord.

36 And they deliuered the Kings commiſſion vnto the Kings officers, and to the captaines beyond the Riuer: and they promoted the people, and the houſe of God.

CHAP. IX.

1 Ezra complaineth on the people that had ſtirred themſelues from God, and married with the Gentiles. 5 He prayeth vnto God.

WHen * as theſe things were done, the rulers came to me, ſaying, The people of Iſrael, & the Prieſts, and the Leuites are not [a] ſeparated from the people of the lands (as touching their abominations) to wit, of the Canaanites, the Hittites, ỹ Perizzites, the Iebuſites, ỹ Ammonites, the Moabites, the Egyptians, and the Amorites.

2 For they haue taken their daughters to themſelues, and to their ſonnes, and they haue mixed the holy ſeede with the people of ỹ lands, and the hands of the [b] princes and rulers hath bene chiefe in this treſpaſſe.

3 But when I heard this ſaying, I rent my clothes and my garment, and pluckt off the haire of mine head, and of my beard, and ſate downe [c] aſtonied.

4 And there aſſembled vnto mee all that feared the words of the God of Iſrael, becauſe of the tranſgreſſion of them of the captiuitie. And I ſate downe aſtonied vntill the * euening ſacrifice.

5 And at the euening ſacrifice I aroſe vp from mine heauineſſe, and when I had rent my clothes and my garment, I fell vpon my knees, and ſpred out mine hands vnto the Lord my God,

1 The people repent and turne, and put away their ſtrange wiues.

WHiles * Ezra prayed thus, and [a] confeſſed himſelfe weeping, and falling downe before the houſe of God, there aſſembled vnto him of Iſrael a very great Congregation of men and women and children: for the people wept with a great lamentation.

2 Then Shechaniah the ſonne of Iehiel one of the ſonnes of Elam anſwered, and ſayd to Ezra, We haue treſpaſſed againſt our God, & haue taken ſtrange wiues of the people of the land, yet nowe there is [b] hope in Iſrael concerning this.

3 Now therefore let vs make a couenant [i] our God, to put away [c] all the wiues (and ſuch as are borne of them) according to the counſell of the Lord, & of thoſe that feare the commandements of our God, & let it be done according to [k] Law.

4 Ariſe: for the matter [d] belongeth vnto thee: we alſo wil be with thee: be of comfort & doe it.

5 ¶ Then aroſe Ezra, and cauſed the chiefe Prieſts, the Leuites, and all Iſrael, to ſweare [l] they ſhould doe according to this word. So they ſware.

6 * And Ezra roſe vp from before the houſe of God, and went into the chamber of Iohanan the ſonne of Eliaſhib: he went euen thither, but hee did eate neither bread, nor drunke water: for he mourned, becauſe of the tranſgreſſion of them of the captiuitie.

7 And they cauſed a proclamation to goe throughout Iudah and Ieruſalem, vnto † all them of the captiuitie, that they ſhould aſſemble themſelues vnto Ieruſalem.

8 And whoſoeuer woulde not come within three dayes according to the counſell of the Princes and Elders, al his ſubſtance ſhould be ‖ forfait, and he ſhould be ſeparate from the Congregation of them of the captiuitie.

9 ¶ Then al the men of Iudah and Beniamin aſſembled themſelues vnto Ieruſalem within three dayes, which was the twentieth day of the [e] ninth moneth, and all the people ſate in the ſtreete of the houſe of God, trembling for this matter, and for the [f] raine.

10 And Ezra the Prieſt ſtood vp, and ſaid vnto them, Ye haue tranſgreſſed, & haue taken ſtrange wiues, to [g] increaſe the treſpaſſe of Iſrael.

11 Now therefore [h] giue praiſe vnto the Lord God of your fathers, and do his will, and ſeparate your ſelues from the people of the land, and from the ſtrange wiues.

12 And all the Congregation anſwered, and ſayd with a loude voyce, So will we do according to thy wordes vnto vs.

13 But the people are many, and it is a raynie weather, and wee are not able to ſtand without, neither is it the worke of one day or two: for we are many that haue offended in this thing.

14 Let our rulers ſtand therefore [i] before all the Congregation, and let al them which haue taken ſtrange wiues in our cities, come at the time appointed, and with them the Elders of euery citie and the Iudges thereof, till the fierce wrath of our God for this matter turne away from vs.

15 Then were appointed Ionathan the ſonne of Aſah-el, and Iahaziah the ſonne of Tikuah ouer this matter, and Meſhullam and Shabbethai the Leuites helped them.

16 And they of the captiuitie did ſo, and [k] departed, euen Ezra the Prieſt, and the men that were chiefe fathers to the familie of their fathers by name, and ſate downe in the firſt day of the tenth moneth to examine the matter.

17 And vntill the firſt day of the firſt moneth they were finiſhing the buſineſſe with all the men that had taken ſtrange wiues.

18 And of the ſonnes of the Prieſtes there were men found, that had taken ſtrange wiues, to wit, of the ſonnes of Ieſhua, the ſonne of Iozadak, and of his brethren, Maaſeiah, Aeliezer, and Iarib and Gedaliah.

19 And they gaue [l] their handes, that they would put away their wiues, and they that had treſpaſſed, gaue a ramme for their treſpaſſe.

NEHEMIAH.

THE ARGVMENT.

GOd doeth in all ages and at all times set vp worthie persons for the commoditie and profite of his Church, as nowe within the compasse of seuentie yeeres he raised vp diuers excellent men for the preseruation of his people, after their returne from Babylon, as Zerubbabel, Ezra, and Nehemiah. Whereof the first was their captaine to bring them home, and prouided that the Temple was builded: the second reformed their maners and planted religion: and the third builded vp the walles, deliuered the people from oppression, and prouided that the Lawe of God was put in execution among them. He was a godly man and in great authoritie with the King, so that the King fauoured him greatly, and gaue him most ample letters for the accomplishment of all things which he could desire. This booke is also called of the Latines the second of Ezra, because he was the writer thereof.

CHAP. I.

1 Nehemiah bewaileth the calamitie of Ierusalem. 5 He confesseth the sinnes of the people, and prayeth God for them.

THe wordes of Nehemiah the sonne of Hachaliah. In ỹ moneth [a] Chisleu, in the twentieth yeere, as I was in the palace of Shushan,

2 Came Hanani, one of my [b] brethren, he and the men of Iudah, and I asked them concerning the Iewes that were deliuered, which were of the residue of the captiuitie, and concerning Ierusalem.

3 And they sayde vnto me, The residue that are left of the captiuitie there in the [c] prouince, are in great affliction and in reproch, and the wall of Ierusalem is broken downe, and the gates thereof are burnt with fire.

4 And when I heard these wordes, I sate downe and wept, and mourned certaine dayes, and I fasted and prayed before the God of heauen,

5 And sayde, * O Lord God of heauen, the great and terrible God, that keepeth couenant and mercy for them that loue him, and obserue his commandements,

6 I pray thee, let thine eares be attent, & thine eies open, to heare ỹ praier of thy seruant, which I pray before thee daily, day & night for ỹ children of Israel thy seruants, & confesse the sinnes of the children of Israel, which we haue sinned against thee, both I and my fathers house haue sinned:

7 We haue † grieuously sinned against thee, and haue not kept the commandements, nor the statutes, nor the iudgements, which thou commandedst thy seruant Moses.

8 I beseech thee, remember the worde that thou commandedst thy seruant Moses, saying, Ye will transgresse, and I * will scatter you abroade among the people.

9 But if ye turne vnto me, and keepe my commandements, and doe them, * though your scattering were to the vttermost part of the heauen, yet will I gather you from thence, and will bring you vnto the place that I haue chosen to place my Name there.

10 Now these are thy seruants, and thy people, whome thou hast redeemed by thy great power, and by thy mightie hand.

11 O Lord, I beseech thee, let thine eare now hearken to the prayer of thy seruant, and to the prayer of thy seruants, who desire to [d] feare thy Name, & I pray thee, cause thy seruant to prosper this day, and giue him fauour in the presence of [e] this man: for I was the Kings butler.

CHAP. II.

1 After Nehemiah had obteined letters of Artaxerxes, 11 he came to Ierusalem, 17 and builded the walles.

NOwe in the moneth [a] Nisan in the twentieth yeere of king [b] Artahshashte, the wine stood before him, and I tooke vp the wine, and gaue it vnto the King. now I was not before time sad in his presence.

2 And the king said vnto me, Why is thy countenance sad, seeing thou art not sicke? this is nothing, but sorow of heart. Then was I sore afraid,

3 And I said to the King, God saue the King for euer: why should not my countenance be sad, when the citie and house of the sepulchres of my fathers lieth waste, and the gates thereof are deuoured with fire?

4 And the King said vnto me, For what thing doest thou require? Then I prayed [c] to the God of heauen, a Which was the first moneth of the yeere, and conteineth part of March, and part of April.

b Who is also called Darius reade Ezra.vi. and was the sonne of Hystaspis.

c I desired God in mine heart to prosper mine enterprise.

5 And sayde vnto the King, If it please the King, and if thy seruant haue found fauour in thy sight, I desire that thou wouldest send me to Iudah vnto the citie of the sepulchres of my fathers, that I may build it.

6 And the King sayd vnto me, (the Queene also sitting by him) Howe long shall thy iourney be? and when wilt thou come againe? So it pleased the King, and he sent me, and I set him a time.

7 After I sayd vnto the King, If it please the King, let them giue mee letters to the captaines beyond the ‖ Riuer, that they may conuay me ouer, till I come into Iudah,

8 And letters vnto Asaph the keeper of the Kings ‖ parke, that hee may giue mee timber to build the gates of the palace (which apperteined to the house) and for the walles of the citie, and for the house that I shal enter into. And the King gaue mee according to [d] the good hand of my God vpon me.

9 ¶ Then came I to the captaines beyond the Riuer, and gaue them the Kings letters. And the King had sent captaines of the armie and horsemen with me.

10 But [e] Sanballat the Horonite, and Tobiah a seruant an Ammonite heard it, and it grieued them sore, that there was come a man which sought the wealth of the children of Israel.

11 So I came to Ierusalem, & was there three dayes.

12 And I rose in the night, I, and a fewe men with me: for I told no man, what God had put in mine heart to doe at Ierusalem, & there was not a beast with me, saue the beast whereon I rode.

13 And I went out by night by the gate of the valley, & came before the dragon well, and to the dung porte, and viewed the walles of Ierusalem, howe they were broken downe, and the portes thereof deuoured with the fire.

14 Then I went forth vnto [y] gate of the ‖ fountaine, and to the Kings fishpoole, & there was no rowme for the beast that was vnder me to passe.

15 Then went I vp in the night by the brooke, and viewed the wall, and turned backe, and comming backe, I entred by the gate of the valley and returned.

16 And the rulers knewe not whither I was gone, nor what I did, neither did I as yet tell it vnto the Iewes, nor to the Priests, nor to the noble men, nor to the rulers, nor to the rest that laboured in the worke.

17 Afterward I said vnto them, Ye see the miserie that we are in, howe Ierusalem lyeth waste, and the gates thereof are burnt with fire: come and let vs build the wall of Ierusalem, that we be no more [f] a reproche.

18 Then I tolde them of the hand of my God, (which was good ouer mee) and also of the Kings wordes that hee had spoken vnto me. And they sayd, Let vs rise, and build. So they [g] strengthened their hand to good.

19 But when Sanballat the Horonite, & Tobiah the seruant an Ammonite, and [h] Geshem the Arabian heard it, they mocked vs and despised vs, and said, What a thing is this that ye doe? Will ye [i] rebell against the King?

20 Then answered I them, and sayd to them, The God of heauen, he wil prosper vs, and we his seruants will rise vp and build: but as for you, ye haue no portion nor right, nor [k] memoriall in Ierusalem.

k Neither yet are of the number of the children of God (to whome he hath appointed this citie only) neither did any of your predecessours euer feare God.

CHAP. IIII.

7 The building of Ieruſalem is hindered, 15 but God breaketh their enterpriſe. 17 The Iewes build with one hand, and holde their weapons in the other.

BVt when Sanballat heard that we builded the wall, then was he wroth and ſore grieued, and mocked the Iewes,

2 And ſayd before his [a] brethren and the armie of Samaria, thus hee ſayd, What doe theſe [b] weake Iewes? will they fortifie themſelues? will they ſacrifice? will they finiſh it in a day? will they make the ſtones whole againe out of the heapes of duſt, ſeeing they are burnt?

3 And Tobiah the Ammonite was beſide him, and ſaid, Although they build, yet if a foxe goe vp, he ſhall euen breake downe their ſtonie wall.

4 [c] Heare, O our God (for wee are deſpiſed) and turne their ſhame vpon their owne head, and giue them vnto a pray [d] in the land of their captiuitie,

5 And couer not their [e] iniquitie, neither let their ſinne be put out in thy preſence: for they haue prouoked vs before the builders.

6 So we built the wall, and all the wall was ioyned vnto the ‖ halfe thereof, and the heart of the people was to worke.

7 ¶ But when Sanballat, & Tobiah, and the Arabians, and the Ammonites, and the Aſhdodims heard that the walles of Ieruſalem were repaired, (for the breaches beganne to be ſtopped) then they were very wroth,

8 And conſpired all together to come and to fight againſt Ieruſalem, and to † hinder them.

9 Then we prayed vnto our God, & ſet watchmen by them, day and night, becauſe of them.

10 And Iudah ſayd, The ſtrength of the bearers is weakened, and there is much earth, ſo that we are not able to build the wall.

11 Alſo our aduerſaries had ſayde, They ſhall not know, neither ſee, till we come into the mids of them & ſlay them, & cauſe the worke to ceaſe.

12 But when the Iewes (which dwelt beſide them) came, they tolde vs [f] ten times, [g] From all places, whence yee ſhall returne, they will be vpon vs.

13 Therefore ſet I in the lower places behinde the wall vpon the roppes of the ſtones, & placed the people by their families, with their ſwordes, their ſpeares and their bowes.

14 Then I beheld, and roſe vp, and ſayd vnto the Princes, and to the rulers, and to the reſt of the people, Be not afrayde of them: [h] remember the great Lord, and fearefull, and fight for your brethren, your ſonnes, and your daughters, your wiues, and your houſes.

15 And when our enemies heard that it was knowen vnto vs, then God brought their counſell to nought, and we turned all againe to the wall, euery one vnto his worke.

16 And from that day, halfe of the yong men did the labour, and the other halfe part of them helde the ſpeares, & ſhields, and bowes, & habergins: and the rulers ſtoode [i] behinde all the houſe of Iudah.

17 They that builded on the wall, and they that bare burdens, and they that laded, did the worke with one hand, and with the other held the ſworde.

18 For euery one of ‖ builders had his ſword girded on his loynes, and ſo builded: and hee that blew the trumpet, was beſide me.

19 Then ſayd I vnto the Princes, and to the rulers, and to the reſt of the people, The worke is great and large, and wee are ſeparated vpon the wall, one farre from another.

i To ouerſee them and to encourage them to their worke.

20 In what place therefore ye heare the ſound of the trumpet, [k] reſort yee thither vnto vs: our God ſhall fight for vs.

21 So we laboured in the worke, and halfe of them held the ſpeares, from the appearing of the morning, till the ſtarres came foorth.

22 And at the ſame time ſaide I vnto the people, Let euery one with his ſeruant lodge within Ieruſalem, that they may be a watch for vs in the night, and labour in the day.

3 And there were that ſaid, We muſt gage our lands, and our vineyards, and our houſes, and take vp corne for the famine.

4 There were alſo that ſaid, We haue borowed money for the Kings [c] tribute vpon our landes and our vineyards.

5 And nowe our fleſh is as [d] the fleſh of our brethren, and our ſonnes as their ſonnes: and loe, we bring into ſubiectiō our ſonnes & our daughters, as ſeruants, & there be of our daughters now in ſubiection, and there is no power [e] in our hands: for other mēn haue our lands and our vineyards.

6 Then was I very angrie when I heard their crie and theſe wordes.

7 And I thought in my minde, and I rebuked the princes, and the rulers, and ſaide vnto them, You lay [f] burthens euery one vpon his brethren: and I ſet a great [g] aſſemblie againſt them,

8 And I ſaide vnto them, We (according to our abilitie) haue redeemed our brethren [h] Iewes, which were ſolde vnto the heathen: and will you ſell your brethren againe, or ſhall they be [i] ſolde vnto vs? Then held they their peace, and coulde not anſwere.

9 [j] I ſaid alſo, That which ye doe, is not good. Ought ye not to walke in the feare of our God, for the [k] reproch of the heathen our enemies?

10 For euen I, my brethren, and my ſeruants doe lend them money and corne: I pray you, let vs leaue off this ‖ burden.

11 Reſtore, I pray you, vnto them this day their lands, their vineyardes, their oliues, and their houſes, and remit the hundreth part of the ſiluer and of the corne, of the wine, and of the oile [l] that ye exact of them.

12 Then ſaid they, We will reſtore it, and will not require it of them: we wil do as thou haſt ſaid. Then I called [m] Prieſts, & cauſed them to ſweare, that they ſhould doe according to this promiſe.

13 So I ſhooke my lappe, and ſaid, So let God ſhake out euery man that will not performe this promiſe from his houſe, and from his labour: euen thus let him be ſhaken out, and emptied. And all the Congregatiō ſaid, Amen, & praiſed the Lord. and the people did according to this promiſe.

14 And from the time that the King gaue me charge to be gouernour in the lande of Iudah, from the twentieth yeere, euen vnto the two and thirtieth yeere of King Artahſhaſhte, that is, twelue yeere, I, and my brethren haue not eaten the [n] bread of the gouernour.

15 For the former gouernours that were before me, had bene chargeable vnto the people, and had taken of them bread and wine, beſides fourtie ſhekels of ſiluer: yea, and their ſeruants bare rule ouer the people: but ſo did not I, becauſe of the feare of God.

16 But rather I fortified a portion in the worke of this wall, and we bought no land, and all my ſeruants came thither together vnto the worke.

17 Moreouer there were at my table an hundreth and fiftie of the Iewes, and rulers, which came vnto vs from among the heathen that are about vs.

18 And there was prepared dayly an oxe, and ſixe choſen ſheepe, and birds were prepared for me, and ‖ within ten dayes wine for all [o] in abundance. Yet for all this I required not the bread of the gouernour: for the bondage was grieuous vnto this people.

19 Remember me, O my God, in goodneſſe, according to all that I haue done for this people.

CHAP. VI.

8 Nehemiah anſwereth with great wiſedome, and zeale to his aduerſarie. 11 He is not diſcouraged by the falſe Prophets.

ANd when Sanballat, and Tobiah, & Geſhem the Arabian, & the reſt of our enemies heard that I had built the wall, and that there were no [a] breaches therein, (though at that time I had not ſet vp the doores vpon the gates)

2 Then ſent Sanballat and Geſhem vnto me, ſaying, Come thou that we may meete together in the villages in the plaine of Ono: and they thought to doe me euill.

3 Therefore I ſent meſſengers vnto them, ſaying, I haue a great worke to doe, and I can not come downe: [b] why ſhoulde the worke ceaſe, whiles I leaue it, and come downe to you?

4 Yet they ſent vnto me foure times after this ſort. And I anſwered them after the ſame maner.

5 Then ſent Sanballat his ſeruant after this ſort vnto me the fift time, with an open letter in his hand,

6 Wherein was written, It is reported among the heathen, and ‖ Gaſhmu hath ſaid it, that thou and ỹ Iewes thinke to rebell, for the which cauſe thou buildeſt the wal, & thou wilt be their King according to theſe [c] wordes.

7 Thou haſt alſo ordeined [d] the Prophets to preach of thee at Ieruſalem, ſaying, There is a King in Iudah: and now according to theſe wordes it ſhall come to the Kings eares: come now therefore, and let vs take counſell together.

8 Then I ſent vnto him, ſaying, It is not done according to theſe wordes that thou ſayeſt: for thou feineſt them of thine owne heart.

9 For all they afraied vs, ſaying, Their hands ſhalbe weakened from the worke, and it ſhall not be done: now therefore † encourage thou me.

10 ¶ And I came to the houſe of Shemaiah the ſonne of Delaiah the ſonne of Mehetabeel, and he was [e] ſhut vp, and he ſaid, Let vs come together into the houſe of God in the middes of the Temple, and ſhut the doores of the Temple: for 11 Then I said, f Should such a man as I, flee? Who is he, being as I am, that would go into the Temple to liue? I will not goe in.

12 And loe, I perceiued, that God had not sent him, but that he pronounced this prophecie against me: for Tobiah and Sanballat had hired him.

13 Therefore was hee hired, that I might be afraide, and doe thus, and sinne, and that they might haue an euill report that they might reproch me.

14 My God, remember thou Tobiah, and Sanballat according vnto these their works, and Noadiah the g Prophetesse also, and the rest of the Prophets that would haue put me in feare.

15 ¶ Notwithstanding the wall was finished on the fiue and twentieth day of h Elul, in two and i fiftie dayes.

16 And when all our enemies heard thereof, euen all the heathen that were about vs, they were afraid, & their courage failed them: for they knew, that this worke was wrought by our God.

17 And in these dayes were there many of the princes of Iudah, whose k letters went vnto Tobiah, and those of Tobiah came vnto them.

18 For there were many in Iudah, that were sworne vnto him: for he was the sonne in law of Shechaniah, the sonne of Arah: and his sonne Iohonathan had the daughter of Meshullam, the sonne of Berechiah.

19 Yea, they spake in his praise b. fore me, and tolde him my wordes, and Tobiah sent letters to put me in feare.

f He doubted not but God was able to preserue him, & knew that if he had obeyed this counsell, he should haue discouragad all the people, thus God giueth power to his, to resist false prophecies though they seeme to haue neuer so much probabilitie.

g Very griefe caused him to pray against such, which vnder the pretence of being the ministers of God, were aduersaries to his glorie, and went about to ouerthrowe his Church, declaring also hereby that where there is one true minister of God, the deuill hath a great sort of hirelings.

2 Ezra gathereth together the people, and readeth to them the Law. 12 They reioyce in Iſrael for the knowledge of the word of God. 13 They keepe the feaſt of Tabernacles or boothes.

AND all the people aſſembled themſelues † together, in the ſtreete that was before the watergate, and they ſpake vnto Ezra the a Scribe, that he would bring the booke of the Law of Moſes, which the Lord had commanded to Iſrael.

a Reade Ezra 7. 6.

2 And Ezra the Prieſt brought the Law before the congregation both of men and women, and of all that b could heare and vnderſtand it, in the firſt day of the ſeuenth moneth, b Which had age and diſcretion to vnderſtand.

3 And he read therein in the ſtreete that was before the watergate (from the morning vntill the midday) before men and women, and them that vnderſtoode it, and the eares of all the people hearkened vnto the booke of the Lawe.

c This declareth the great zeale, that the people had to heare the word of God.

4 And Ezra the Scribe ſtood vpon a pulpit of wood which he had made for the preaching, and beſide him ſtoode Mattithiah, and Shema, and Ananiah, and Vriiah, and Hilkiah, and Maaſeiah on his right hand, and on his left hand Pedaiah, and Miſhael, and Malchiah, and Haſhum, and Haſhbadana, Zechariah, and Meſhullam.

5 And Ezra opened the booke before all the people: for hee was d aboue all the people: and when he opened it, all the people ſtoode vp.

d To the intent that his voyce might be the better heard.

6 And Ezra praiſed the Lord the great God, and all the people anſwered, Amen, Amen, with lifting vp their hands: & they bowed themſelues, and worſhipped the Lord with their faces toward the ground.

7 Alſo Ieſhua, and Bani, and Sherebiah, Iamin, Akkub, Shabbethai, Hodiiah, Maaſeiah, Kelita, Azariah, Iozabad, Hanan, Pelaiah, and the Leuites cauſed the people to vnderſtand the lawe, and the people ſtoode in their place.

8 And they read in the booke of the Lawe of God diſtinctly, and gaue the ſenſe, and cauſed them to vnderſtand the reading.

9 Then Nehemiah (which is Tirſhatha) and Ezra the Prieſt and Scribe, and the Leuites that inſtructed the people, ſaide vnto all the people, This day is holy vnto the Lord your God: mourne not, neither weepe: for all the people e wept, when they heard the wordes of the Lawe.

e In conſidering their offences againſt the Lawe. Therefore the Leuites doe not reproue them for mourning, but aſſure them of Gods mercies forаſmuch as they are repentant.

10 He ſaid alſo vnto them, Go, and eate of the fat, and drinke the ſweete, & ſend part vnto them, for whome none is prepared: for this day is holie vnto our Lord: be ye not ſory therefore: for the the g ioy of the Lord is your strength.

11 And the Leuites made silence throughout all the people, saying, Holde your peace: for the day is holy, be not sad therefore.

12 Then all the people went to eate and to drinke, and to send away part, and to make great ioy, because they had vnderstood the wordes that they had taught them.

13 And on the second day the chiefe fathers of all the people, the Priests and the Leuites were gathered vnto Ezra the scribe, that he also might instruct them in the wordes of the Lawe.

14 And they found written in the Law, (that the Lord had commanded by Moses) that the children of Israel should dwell in * Boothes in the feast of the seuenth moneth,

*Leuit.23.34.

15 And that they shoulde cause it to bee declared and proclaimed in all their cities, and in Ierusalem, saying, Goe forth vnto the mount, and bring oliue branches, and pine branches, & branches of ‖ myrtus, & palme branches, & branches of thicke trees, to make boothes, as it is written.

‖ Or, goodly branches, as Leuit.23.40.

16 So the people went foorth and brought them, and made them boothes, euery one vpon the h roofe of his house, and in their courtes, and in the courtes of the house of God, and in the streete by the watergate, and in the streete of the gate of Ephraim.

h For their houses were made flat aboue, reade Deut. 22.8.

17 And all the Congregation of them that were come againe out of the captiuitie, made boothes, and sate vnder the boothes: for since the i time of Ieshua the sonne of Nun vnto this day, had not the children of Israel done so, and there was very great ioy.

i Which was almost a thousand yeeres.

18 And he read in the booke of the Lawe of God euery day, from the first day vnto the last day. And they kept the feast seuen dayes, and on the eight day a solemne assemblie, according vnto the maner.

* Numb.21.26.

33 And thou diddeſt multiplie their children, like the ſtarres of the heauen, and broughteſt them into the lande, whereof thou haddeſt ſpoken vnto their fathers, that they ſhould goe, and poſſeſſe it.

24 So the children went in, and poſſeſſed the lande, and thou ſubduedſt before them the inhabitants of the lande euen the Canaanites, and gaueſt them into their handes, with their Kings and the people of the lande, that they might doe with them what they would.

25 And they tooke their ſtrong cities and the fat land, and poſſeſſed houſes full of all goods, ciſternes digged out, vineyards, and oliues, and trees for foode in abundance, and they did eate, and were filled, and became fat, and liued in pleaſure through thy great goodneſſe.

26 Yet they were diſobedient, and rebelled againſt thee, and caſt thy Law behinde their backs, and ſlew thy Prophets (which e proteſted among them to turne them vnto thee) and committed great blaſphemies.

27 Therefore thou deliueredſt them into the hande of their enemies that vexed them: yet in the time of their affliction, when they cried vnto thee, thou heardeſt thē from ‖ heauē, & through thy great mercies thou gaueſt them ſauiours, who ſaued them out of the hand of their aduerſaries.

28 But when they had f reſt, they returned to doe euill before thee: therefore lefteſt thou them in the hand of their enemies, ſo that they had the dominion ouer them, yet when they conuerted & cried vnto thee, thou heardeſt them from heauen, and deliueredſt them according to thy great mercies many times,

29 And proteſtedſt among them that thou mighteſt bring them againe vnto thy Lawe: but they behaued them ſelues proudely, and hearkened not vnto thy commandements, but ſinned againſt thy iudgements (*which a man ſhoulde doe and liue in them) and g pulled away the ſhoulder, and were ſtiffenecked, and would not h heare.

30 Yet thou † diddeſt forbeare them many yeeres, and proteſtedſt among them by thy Spirite, euen by the hand of thy Prophets, but they would not heare: therefore gaueſt thou them into the hand of the people of the lands.

31 Yet for thy great mercies thou haſt not conſumed them, neither forſaken them: for thou art a gracious and mercifull God.

32 Nowe therefore our God, *thou great God, mightie and terrible, that keepeſt couenant and * mercie, let not all the affliction that hath come vnto vs, ſeeme a little before thee, that is, to our Kings, to our princes, and to our Prieſts, and to our Prophets, and to our fathers, and to all thy people ſince the time of the Kings of i Aſſhur vnto this day.

33 Surely thou art iuſt in all that is come vppon vs: for thou k haſt dealt truely, but we haue done wickedly.

34 And our kings and our princes, our Prieſts and our fathers haue not done thy Lawe, nor regarded thy commandements, nor thy proteſtations, wherewith thou haſt l proteſted among thē.

35 And they haue not ſerued thee in their kingdome, and in thy great goodneſſe that thou ſhewedſt vnto them, and in the large and fat land which thou diddeſt ſet before them, and haue not conuerted from their euill workes.

36 Beholde, we are ſeruants this day, and the land that thou gaueſt vnto our fathers, to eate the m fruite thereof, and the goodneſſe thereof, beholde, we are ſeruants therein.

37 And it yeeldeth much fruite vnto the kings whom thou haſt ſet ouer vs, becauſe of our ſinnes: and they haue dominion ouer our bodies and ouer our cattel at their pleaſure, and we are in great affliction.

38 Nowe becauſe of all this we make n a ſure couenant, and write it, and our princes, our Leuites, and our Prieſtes ſeale vnto it.

23 The sonnes of Leui, the chiefe fathers were written in the booke of [g] Chronicles euen vnto the dayes of Iohanan the sonne of Eliashib.

24 And the chiefe of the Leuites were Hashabiah, Sherebiah, & Ieshua the sonne of Kadmiel, and their brethren about them to giue praise and thankes, according to the ordinance of Dauid the man of God, ward ouer [g] against ward.

25 Mattaniah and Bakbukiah, Obadiah, Meshullam, Talmon and Akkub were porters keeping the warde at the threshholdes of the gates.

26 These were in the dayes of Ioiakim, the sonne of Ieshua, the sonne of Iozadak, and in the dayes of Nehemiah the captaine, and of Ezra the Priest and Scribe.

27 And in the dedication of the wall at Ierusalem they sought the Leuites out of all their places to bring them to Ierusalem to keepe the dedication and gladnesse, both with thankesgiuings and with songs, cymbales, violes & with harpes.

28 Then the [†] singers gathered themselues together both from the plaine countrey about Ierusalem, and from the villages of [h] Netophathi, 29 And from the house of Gilgal, and out of the countreys of Geba, and Azmaueth: for the singers had built them villages round about Ierusalem.

30 And the Priests and Leuites were purified, & clensed the people, and the gates, and the wall.

31 And [i] I brought vp the princes of Iudah vpon the wall, and appointed two great companies to giue thanks, and the one went on the right hand of the wall toward the dung gate.

32 And after them went Hoshaiah, and halfe of the princes of Iudah, 33 And Azariah, Ezra and Meshullam,

35 And of the Priests sonnes with trumpets, Zechariah the sonne of Ionathan, the sonne of Shemaiah, the sonne of Mattaniah, the sonne of Michaiah, the sonne of Zaccur, the sonne of Asaph, 36 And [k] his brethren, Shemaiah, & Azareel, Milalai, Gilalai, Maai, Nethaneel, and Iudah, Hanani, with the musicall instruments of Dauid the man of God: & Ezra the scribe went before the.

37 And to the gate of the fountaine, euen ouer against them went they vp by [l] the staires of the citie of Dauid, at the going vp of the wall beyond the house of Dauid, euen vnto the water gate Eastward.

38 And the second companie of them that gaue thankes, went on the other side, and I after them, and the halfe of the people was vpon the wall, and vpon the towre of the furnaces euen vnto the broad wall.

39 And vpon the gate of Ephraim, and vpon the olde gate, and vpon the fishgate, & the towre of Hananeel, and the towre of Meah, euen vnto the sheepegate: and they stoode in the gate of the warde.

40 So stoode the two companies (of them that gaue thankes) in the house of God, and I and the halfe of the rulers with me.

41 The Priestes also, Eliakim, Maaseiah, Miniamin, Michaiah, Elioenai, Zechariah, Hananiah, with trumpets, Elam, and Ezer: and the singers † sang loud, hauing Izrahiah which was the ouerseer.

43 And ‖ same day they offred great sacrifices and reioyced: for God had giuen them great ioy, so that both the women, & the children were ioyfull: and the ioy of Ierusalem was heard farre off.

44 Also at the same time were men appointed m ouer the chambers of the store for the offerings (for the first fruites, and for the tithes) to gather into them out of the fieldes of the cities, the portions of the Lawe for the Priests and the Leuites: for Iudah reioyced for the Priests and for the Leuites, that serued.

45 And both the singers and the Leuites kept the ward of their God, and the ward of the purification according to the commandement of Dauid, and Salomon his sonne.

46 * For in the dayes of Dauid and Asaph, of olde were chiefe singers, and songs of praise and thankesgiuing vnto God.

47 And in the dayes of Zerubbabel, and in the daies of Nehemiah did al Israel giue portions vnto the singers and porters, euery day his portion, and they gaue the holy things vnto the Leuites, and the Leuites n gaue the holy things vnto the sonnes of Aaron.

CHAP. XIII.

1 The Lawe is read. 3 They separate from them all strangers. 25 Nehemiah reproueth them that breake the Sabbath. 30 An ordinance to serue God.

AND on that day did they reade in the booke of Moses, in the audience of the people, and it was found written therein, that the Ammonite, and the Moabite * should not enter into the Congregation of God,

2 Because they met not the children of Israel with bread and with water, * but hired Balaam against them, that he should curse them: and our God turned the curse into a blessing.

3 Now when they had heard the Lawe, they separated from Israel a all those that were mixed.

4 ¶ And before b this had the Priest Eliashib the ouersight of the chamber of the house of our God, being c kinseman to Tobiah:

5 And he had made him a great chamber, and there had they aforetime layde the offrings, the incense, and the vessels, and the tithes of corne, of wine, and of oyle (appointed for the Leuites, and the singers, and the porters) and the offerings of the Priests.

6 But in all this time was not I in Ierusalem: for in the two & thirtieth yeere of d Artashashte King of Babel, came I vnto the King, and ‖ after certaine dayes I obteined of the King.

7 And when I was come to Ierusalem, I vnderstood e the euil that Eliashib had done for Tobiah, in that he had made him a chamber in the court of the house of God,

8 And it grieued me sore: therefore I cast forth all the vessels of the house of Tobiah out of the chamber.

9 And I commanded them to clense the chambers: and thither brought I againe the vessels of the house of God with the meate offring and the incense.

10 And I perceiued that the portions of the Leuites had not bene giuen, and that euery one was fled to his land, euen the Leuites and singers that executed the worke.

11 Then reprooued I the rulers & said, Why is the house of God forsaken? And I assembled them, and set them in their place.

12 Then brought all Iudah the tithes of corne and of wine, and of oyle vnto the treasures.

13 And I made treasurers ouer the treasures, Shelemiah the Priest, and Zadok the scribe, and of the Leuites, Pedaiah, and vnder their hand Hanan the sonne of Zaccur the sonne of Mattaniah: for they were counted faithfull, and their office was to distribute vnto their brethren.

14 Remember me, O my God, herein, & wipe not out my f kindnesse that I haue shewed on the house of my God, and on the offices thereof.

15 In those dayes sawe I in Iudah them, that trode wine presses on ‖ Sabbath, & that brought in sheaues, and which laded asses also with wine, grapes, & figs, & all burdens, & brought them into Ierusalem vpon the Sabbath day: and g I protested to them in the day that they solde vitailes.

16 There dwelt men of Tyrus also therein, which brought fish and all wares, and solde on the Sabbath vnto the children of Iudah euen in Ierusalem.

17 Then reproued I the rulers of Iudah, and said vnto them, What euill thing is this that yee do, and breake the Sabbath day?

18 Did not your fathers h thus, and our God brought all this plague vpon vs, and vpon this city? yet yee increase the wrath vpon Israel, in breaking the Sabbath.

19 And when the gates of Ierusalem beganne to be i darke before the Sabbath, I cómanded to shut the gates, and charged that they should not be opened till after the Sabbath, and some of my seruants set I at the gates, that there should no burden be brought in on the Sabbath day.

20 So the chapmen and marchants of al marchandise remained once or twise al night without Ierusalem.

21 And I protested among them, & said vnto them, Why tary ye all night about the walls? If ye do it once againe, I wil lay hands vpon you. From that time came they no more on the Sabbath.

22 ¶ And I said vnto the Leuites, that they should clense themselues, and that they shoulde come and k keepe the gates, to sanctifie the Sabbath day. Remember me, O my God, concerning this, & pardon me according to thy great mercy.

23 In those dayes also I sawe Iewes that married wiues of l Ashdod, of Ammon, and of Moab.

24 And their children spake halfe in the speach of Ashdod, and coulde not speake in the Iewes language, and according to the language of the one people, and of the other people.

THE ARGVMENT.

Because of the diuersitie of names, whereby they vsed to name their Kings, and the supputation of yeeres wherein the Hebrues, and the Grecians do varie, diuers authors write diuersly as touching this Ahashuerosh, but it seemeth Daniel 6. 1. & 9. 1. that he was Darius King of the Medes, and sonne of Astyages, called also Ahashuerosh, which was a name of honour, and signified great & chiefe as chiefe head. Herein is declared the great mercies of God toward his Church: who neuer forsaketh them in their greatest dangers, but when all hope of worldly helpe faileth, he euer stirreth vp some by whom he sendeth comfort, and deliuerance. Herein also is described the Ambition, pride and cruelty of the wicked, when they come to honour, and their sudden fall when they are at highest: and how God preserueth, and preferreth them which are zealous of his glory, and haue a care and loue toward their brethren.

CHAP. I.

1 King Ahashuerosh maketh a royall feast, 12 wherunto the Queene Vashti will not come. 16 Memucan counselleth to put her away. 20 The Kings decree touching the gouernment of wiues.

NOw in the dayes of a Ahashuerosh (this is Ahashuerosh this reigned from India euen vnto Ethiopia, ouer an b hundreth, and seuen and twentie prouinces)

2 In those dayes when the King Ahashuerosh c sate on his throne, which was in the palace of d Shushan,

3 In the third yeere of his reigne, he made a feast vnto all his princes and his seruants, euen the power of Persia and Media, and to the capitaines and gouernours of the prouinces which were before him,

4 That he might shewe the riches and glorie of his kingdome, and the honour of his great maiestie many dayes, euen an hundreth and foure score dayes.

5 And when these dayes were expired, the King made a feast vnto all the people that were found in the palace of Shushan, both vnto great and small, seuen dayes, in the court of the garden of the Kings palace,

6 Vnder an hanging of white, greene, and blue clothes, fastened with cordes of fine linen and purple, in siluer rings, & pillars of marble: the e beds were of guld, & of siluer vpon a pauement of porphyre, and marble and alabaster, and blue colour.

7 And they gaue them drinke in vessels of golde, and changed vessell after vessell, and royall wine in abundance according to the f power of the King.

8 And the drinking was by an order, none might g compell: for so the King had appointed vnto all the officers of his house, that they should doe according to euery mans pleasure.

9 ¶ The Queene Vashti made a feast also for the women in the royall house of King Ahashuerosh.

10 Vpon the h seuenth day when the King was merie with wine, he commanded Mehuman, Biztha, Harbona, Bigtha, and Abagtha, Zethar, and Carcas, the seuen eunuches, (that serued in the presence of King Ahashuerosh)

11 To bring Queene Vashti before the King with the crowne royall, that he might shewe the people and the princes her beautie: for shee was faire to looke vpon.

12 But the Queene Vashti refused to come at the Kings word, i which he had giuen in charge vnto the eunuches: therefore the King was very angrie, and his wrath kindled in him.

13 Then the King said to the wise men, k that knewe the times (for so was the Kings maner towards all that knew the law and the iudgement:

14 And the next vnto him was Carshena, Shethar, Admatha, Tarshish, Meres, Marsena, and Memucan the seuen princes of Persia, and Media, which sawe the l Kings face, and sate the first in the kingdome)

15 What shall we do vnto the Queene Vashti according to the lawe, because she did not according to the word of the King Ahashuerosh by the commission of the eunuches?

16 Then Memucan answered before the King and the Princes, The Queene Vashti hath not onely done k euill against the King, but against all the princes, and against all the people that are in all the prouinces of King Ahashuerosh.

17 For the l acte of the Queene shall come abroade vnto all women, so that they shall despise their husbands in their owne eyes, & shall say, The King Ahashuerosh cõmanded Vashti the Queene to be brought in before him, but she came not.

18 So shall the m princesses of Persia and Media this day say vnto all the Kings Princes, when they heare of the acte of the Queene: thus shall there be much despitefulnesse and wrath.

19 If it please the King, let a royal decree proceede from him, and let it be written among the statures of Persia, & Media, (& let it not be transgressed) that Vashti come n no more before King Ahashuerosh: & let the King giue her royal estate vnto her companion that is better then she.

20 And when the decree of the King which shalbe made, shalbe published throughout all his kingdome (though it be o great) all the women shall giue their husbands honour, both great and small.

21 And this saying pleased the King, and the princes, and the King did according to the word of Memucan.

22 For he sent letters into all the prouinces of the King, into euery prouince according to the writing thereof, and to euery people after their language, c Called also Darius, who was now the soueraigne Monarch, and had the gouernment of the Medes, Persians and Chaldeans, some think hee was Darius Hystaspis sonne, called also Artaxerxes.

CHAP. II.

1 After the Queene is put away, certaine yong maydes are brought to the King. 10 Esther pleaseth the King, and is made Queene. 22 Mordecai discloseth vnto the King, those that would betray him.

a That is, he called the matter againe into communication.
b By the seuen wise men of his counsell.

AFter these things, when the wrath of King Ahashuerosh was appeased, he a remembred Vashti, and what she had done, and what was decreed b against her.

2 And the Kings seruants that ministred vnto him, sayd, Let them seeke for the King beautifull yong virgins.

3 And let the King appoynt officers through all the prouinces of his kingdome, & let them gather all the beautiful yong virgins vnto the palace of Shushan, into the house of the women, vnder the hand of Hege the Kings eunuch, keeper of the women, to giue them things c for purification.

c The abuse of these counteys was so great, that they inuented many meanes to serue the lusts of Princes: and therefore, as they ordeined wicked lawes that the King might haue whose daughters he would, so they had diuers houses appointed, as one for them, whiles they were virgins, another when they were concubines, and for the Queenes another.

4 And the mayde that shall please the King, let her reigne in the steade of Vashti. And this pleased the King, and he did so.

5 ¶ In the citie of Shushan, there was a certaine Iewe, whose name was Mordecai the sonne of Iair, the sonne of Shimei, the sonne of Kish a man of Iemini, 6 Which had bene caryed away from Ierusalem * with the captiuitie that was caried away with Ieconiah King of Iudah, whom Nebuchad-nezzar King of Babel had caryed away.

7 And he nourished Hadassah, that is Esther, his vncles daughter: for she had neither father nor mother, and the mayd was fayre, and beautifull to looke on: & after † death of her father, & her mother, Mordecai tooke her for his owne daughter.

d Reade what this purification was, verse 12.

* 2. King. 24. 15.

8 And when the Kings commandement, and his decree was published, and many maydes were brought together to the palace of Shushan, vnder the hand of Hege, Esther was brought also vnto the Kings house vnder the hand of Hege the keeper of the women.

9 And the mayde pleased him, and she founde fauour in his sight: therefore he caused her things for purification to be giuen her speedily, and her † state, and seuen comely maides to be giuen her out of the Kings house, and hee gaue change to her and to her maydes of the best in the house of the women.

10 But Esther shewed not her people and her kinred: for Mordecai had charged her, that shee should not tell it.

e For though she was taken away by cruell law, yet he ceased not to haue a fatherly care ouer her, and therefore did resort oft times to heare of her.

11 And Mordecai walked e euery day before the court of the womens house, to know if Esther did well, and what should be done with her.

12 And when the course of euery maid came, to go in to King Ahashuerosh, after that she had bene twelue moneths according to the maner of the women (for so were the dayes of their purifications accomplished, sixe moneths with oyle of myrhe, and sixe moneths with sweete odours, and in the purifying of the women:

13 And thus went the maydes vnto the King) whatsoeuer she required, was f giuen her, to go with her out of the womens house vnto † kings house.

f What apparel she asked of the eunuch that was hee bound to giue her.

14 In the euening she went, and on the morow she returned into the second house of the women vnder the hand of Shaashgaz the Kings eunuche, which kept the concubines: shee came in to the King no more, except she pleased the King, and that she were called by name.

15 Now when the course of Esther the daughter of Abihail the vncle of Mordecai (which had taken her as his owne daughter) came, that shee should go in to the King, she desired nothing, but what g Hege the Kings eunuche the keeper of the women sayde: and Esther founde fauour in the sight of all them that looked vpon her.

g Or, Hegai.

16 ¶ So Esther was taken vnto King Ahashuerosh into his house royall in the tenth moneth, which is the h moneth Tebeth, in the seuenth yeere of his reigne.

h Which conteined part of December, and part of Ianuarie.

17 And the King loued Esther aboue all the women, and shee found grace and fauour in his sight more then all the virgins: so that hee set the crowne of the kingdome vpon her head, and made her Queene in stead of Vashti.

18 Then the King made a great feast vnto all his princes, and his seruants, which was the feast of Esther, and gaue rest i vnto the prouinces, and gaue gifts, according to the † power of a King.

i That is, made for her sake.
k He released their tribute.
l That is, great and magnificall.

19 And when k virgins were gathered the second time, then Mordecai sate in the l Kings gate.

m That is, at the mariage of Esther, which was the second mariage of the King.

20 Esther had not yet shewed her kindred nor her people, as Mordecai had charged her: for Esther did after the word of Mordecai, as when she was nourished with him.

21 ¶ In those dayes when Mordecai sate in the Kings gate, two of the Kings eunuches, Bigthan and Teresh, which kept † doore, were wroth, and sought to lay m hand on the King Ahashuerosh.

n Meaning, to kill him.

22 And the thing was knowen to Mordecai, and he tolde it vnto Queene Esther, and Esther certified the King thereof in Mordecais name: and when inquisition was made, it was found so: therefore they were both hanged on a tree: and it was written in the booke of the o Chronicles before the King.

o In the Chronicles of the Medes and Persians, as Chap. 10. 2.

CHAP. III.

1 Haman, after he was exalted, obtained of the King, that all the Iewes should bee put to death, because Mordecai had not done him worship as other had.

AFter these things did King Ahashuerosh promote Haman the sonne of Hammedatha the Agagite, and exalted him, and set his seate aboue all the princes that were with him.

2 And all the Kings seruants that were at the Kings gate, bowed their knees, and reuerenced Haman: for the King had so commanded concerning him: but Mordecai p bowed not the knee, neither did reuerence.

p The Persian maner was to kneele downe and reuerence their Kings, and such as he appointed in chiefe authoritie, which Mordecai would not do in this ambitious and proud man.

3 Then the Kings seruants which were at the Kings gate, said vnto Mordecai, Why transgressest thou the Kings commandement?

4 And albeit they spake dayly vnto him, yet he would not heare them: therefore they q tolde Haman, that they might see how Mordecais matters would stand: for he had tolde them, that he was a Iewe.

q Thus we see that there is none so wicked, but they haue their flatterers to excuse the godly.

5 And when Haman saw that Mordecai bowed not the knee vnto him, nor did reuerence vnto him, then Haman was full of wrath.

6 Now he † thought it too lide to lay handes onely on Mordecai: and because they had shewed him the people of Mordecai, Haman sought to destroy all the Iewes, that were throughout the whole kingdome of Ahashuerosh, euen the people of Mordecai.

† Or, despised in his eyes.

7 In the first moneth (that is the moneth Nisan) in the twelfe yere of King Ahasuerosh, they cast Pur (that is a lot) before Haman, from day to day, and from moneth to moneth, vnto the twelfe moneth, that is the moneth Adar.

8 Then Haman said vnto King Ahasuerosh, There is a people scattered, and dispersed among the people in all the prouinces of thy kingdome, and their lawes are diuers from all people, and they doe not obserue the kings lawes: therefore it is not the Kings profite to suffer them.

9 If it please the King, let it be written that they may be destroyed, and I wil † pay ten thousand talents of siluer by the handes of them that haue the charge of this businesse, to bring it into the Kings treasurie.

10 Then the King tooke his ring from his hand, & gaue it vnto Haman the sonne of Hammedatha the Agagite the Iewes aduersarie.

11 And the King sayd vnto Haman, Let the siluer be thine, and the people to doe with them as it pleaseth thee.

12 Then were ‖ Kings scribes called on the thirteenth day of the first moneth, and there was written (according to all that Haman comanded) vnto the Kings officers, and to the captaines that were ouer euery prouince, & to the rulers of euery people, and to euery prouince, according to the writing thereof, and to euery people according to their language: in the name of King Ahasuerosh was it written, & sealed with the Kings ring.

13 And the letters were sent † by postes into all the Kings prouinces, to roote out, to kill and to destroy all the Iewes, both yong & olde, children and women, in one day vpon the thirteenth day of the twelfe moneth, (which is the moneth Adar) and to spoyle them as a praye.

14 The contents of the writing was, that there should be giuen a commandement in all prouinces, & published vnto all people, that they should be ready against the same day.

15 And the postes compelled by the Kings commandement went foorth, and the commandement was giuen in the palace at Shushan: and the King and Haman sate drinking, but the ‖ citie of Shushan was in perplexitie.

CHAP. IIII.

Mordecai giueth the Queene knowledge of the cruell decree of the King against the Iewes. 16 She willeth that they pray for her.

NOwe when Mordecai perceiued all that was done, Mordecai rent his clothes, and put on sackecloth, and ashes, and went out into the middes of the citie, and cryed with a great crye, and a bitter.

2 And he came euen before the Kings gate, but he might not enter within the Kings gate, being clothed with sackecloth.

3 And in euery prouince, and place, whither the Kings charge and his commission came, there was great sorowe among the Iewes, and fasting, and weeping and mourning, and † many lay in sackecloth and in ashes.

4 ¶ Then Esters maydes and her eunuches came and tolde it her: therefore the Queene was very heauie, and she sent rayment to clothe Mordecai, and to take away his sackecloth from him, but he receiued it not.

5 Then called Ester Hatach one of the Kings eunuches, whom he † had appointed to seruе her, and gaue him a commandement vnto Mordecai, to knowe what it was, and why it was.

6 So Hatach went forth to Mordecai vnto the streete of the citie, which was before the kings gate.

7 And Mordecai tolde him of all that which had come vnto him, and of the † summe of the siluer that Haman had promised to pay vnto the Kings treasures, because of the Iewes, for to destroy them.

8 Also he gaue him the ‖ copy of the writing and commaundement that was giuen at Shushan, to destroy them, that he might shew it vnto Ester and declare it vnto her, and to charge her that she should goe in to the King, and make petition and supplication before him for her people.

9 ¶ So when Hatach came, he tolde Ester the wordes of Mordecai.

10 Then Ester sayd vnto Hatach, and commaunded him to say vnto Mordecai, 11 All the Kings seruants and the people of the Kings prouinces doe knowe, that whosoeuer, man or woman, that commeth to the King into the inner court, which is not called, there is a law of his, that he shal die, except him to whome the King holdeth out the golden rodde, that hee may liue. Nowe I haue not bene called to come vnto the King these thirtie dayes.

12 And they certified Mordecai of Esters wordes.

13 And Mordecai sayde, that they should answere Ester thus, Thinke not with thy selfe that thou shalt escape in the Kings house, more then all the Iewes.

14 For if thou holdest thy peace at this time, † comfort and deliuerance ᵇ shall appeare to the Iewes out of another place, but thou and thy fathers house shall perish: and who knoweth whether thou art come to the kingdome for ᶜ such a time?

15 Then Ester commanded to answere Mordecai,

16 Goe, and assemble all the Iewes that are found in Shushan, & fast ye for me, and eate not, nor drinke in three dayes, day nor night. I also and my maydes wil fast likewise, and so wil I goe in to the King, which is not according to the law: and if I perish, ᵈ I perish.

17 So Mordecai went his way, and did according to all that Ester had commanded him.

CHAP. V.

Ester entreth in to the King, and biddeth him and Haman to a feast. 13 Haman prepareth a gallow for Mordecai.

AND on the third ᵃ day Ester put on her royall apparell, and stoode in the court of the Kings palace within, ouer against the Kings house: and the King sate vpon his royall throne in the Kings palace ouer against the gate of the house.

2 And when the King saw Ester the Queene standing in the court, she found fauour in his sight, and the King ᵇ helde out the golden scepter that was in his hand: so Ester drew neere, and touched the top of the scepter.

3 Then sayde the King vnto her, What wilt thou, Queene Ester? & what is thy request? it shall be euen ᶜ giuen thee to the halfe of my kingdome.

4 Then sayd Ester, If it please the King, let the King & Haman come this day vnto the banket that I haue prepared for him.

c Which answereth to part of March and part of April.
d To know what moneth and day should be good to enterprise this thing, that it might haue good successe: but God disappointed their lots and expectation.
e Containing part of Februarie, and part of March.

b Thus Mordecai spake in the confidence of that faith which all Gods children ought to haue: which is, that God will deliuer them, though all worldly meanes faile.

d I will put my life in danger and referre the successe to God, seeing it is for his glory and the deliuerance of his Church.
a To wit, after that the Iewes had begun the fast.
b Which was a signe that her comming was agreeable vnto him, as Chap. 4. 11.
c Meaning hereby, that whatsoeuer she asked, should be granted, as Mat. 6. 33.

5 And the King sayde, Cause Haman to make haste that he may doe as Ester hath sayd. So the King and Haman came to the banket that Ester had prepared.

6 And the King sayde vnto Ester at the banket of [d] wine, What is thy petition, that it may be giuen thee? and what is thy requeſt? it ſhall euen be performed vnto the halfe of the kingdome.

7 Then anſwered Ester, and ſayd, My petition and requeſt is,

8 If I haue found fauour in the ſight of the King, and if it pleaſe the King to giue me my petition, and to perfourme my requeſt, let the King and Haman come to the banket that I ſhall prepare for them, and I will doe to morowe according to the Kings [e] ſaying.

9 ¶ Then went Haman foorth the ſame day ioyfull and with a glad heart. But when Haman ſawe Mordecai in the Kings gate, that he ſtoode not vp, nor mooued for him, then was Haman full of indignation at Mordecai.

10 Neuertheleſſe Haman refrained himſelfe: and when he came home, he ſent, and called for his friendes, and Zereſh his wife.

11 And Haman tolde them of the glory of his riches, and the multitude of his children, and all the things wherein the King had [f] promoted him, & howe that he had ſet him aboue the princes and ſeruants of the King.

12 Haman ſayde moreouer, Yea, Ester the Queene did let no man come in with the King to the banket that ſhe had prepared, ſaue me: and to morow am I bidden vnto her alſo with the King.

13 But all this doth nothing auaile me, as long as I ſee Mordecai the Iew ſitting at [g] Kings gate.

14 Then ſayde Zereſh his wife and all his friendes vnto him, Let them make a tree of fiftie cubites hie, and to morowe ſpeake thou vnto the King, that Mordecai may be hanged thereon: then ſhalt thou goe ioyfully with the King vnto the banket. And the thing pleaſed Haman, and he cauſed to make the tree.

CHAP. VI.

1 The King turneth ouer the Chronicles, and findeth the fidelitie of Mordecai, 10 and commaundeth Haman to cauſe Mordecai to be had in honour.

THe ſame night † [h] King ſlept not, & he commanded to bring the booke of [i] records, and the Chronicles: & they were read before [k] King.

2 Then it was found written that Mordecai * had tolde of Bigtana, and Tereſh two of the Kings eunuches, keepers of the doore, who ſought to lay hands on the King Ahaſhueroſh.

3 Then the King ſaid, What honour and dignitie hath bene giuen to Mordecai [a] for this. And the Kings ſeruants that miniſtred vnto him, ſayd, There is nothing done for him.

4 And the King ſayde, Who is in the court? (Nowe Haman was come into the inner court of the Kings houſe, that hee might ſpeake vnto the King to [b] hang Mordecai on the tree that he had prepared for him.)

5 And the Kings ſeruants ſayd vnto him, Beholde, Haman ſtandeth in the court. And [l] King ſayd, Let him come in.

6 And when Haman came in, the King ſayde vnto him, What ſhalbe done vnto Haman, whome the King will honour? Then Haman thought in his heart, To whome ſhould the King doe honour more then to me?

7 And Haman anſwered the King, The man whome the King would honour,

8 Let them bring for him royall apparell, which the King [m] vſeth to weare, & the [c] horſe that the King rideth vpon, and that the crowne royall may be ſet vpon his head.

9 And let the raiment and the horſe be deliuered by [n] hand of one of the Kings moſt noble princes, & let them apparell the man (whome the King wil honour) and cauſe him to ride vpon the horſe thorow the ſtreete of the citie, & proclaime before him, Thus ſhall it be done vnto the man, whome the King will honour.

10 Then the King ſaid to Haman, Make haſte, take [o] raiment & the horſe as thou haſt ſaid, & do ſo vnto Mordecai the Iew, [p] ſitteth at the Kings gate: let nothing faile of all that thou haſt ſpoken.

11 So Haman tooke the raiment & the horſe, and arayed Mordecai, and brought him on horſe backe thorowe the ſtreete of the citie, and proclaimed before him, Thus ſhall it be done to the man whome the King will honour.

12 And Mordecai came againe to the Kings gate, but Haman haſted home mourning and his head couered.

13 And Haman tolde Zereſh his wife, and all his friends all that had befallen him. Then ſaid his wiſe men & Zereſh his wife vnto him, If Mordecai be of the ſeede of [q] Iewes, before whom thou haſt begun to fall, thou ſhalt not preuaile againſt him, [r] but ſhalt ſurely fall before him.

14 And while they were yet talking with him, came the Kings eunuches and haſted to bring Haman vnto the banket that Ester had prepared.

CHAP. VII.

1 The Queene biddeth the King and Haman againe & prayeth for her ſelfe and her people. 6 She accuſeth Haman, and he is hanged on the gallow, which he had prepared for Mordecai.

SO the King and Haman came to banket with the Queene Ester.

2 And the King ſaid againe vnto Ester on the ſecond day at the banket of [a] wine, What is thy petition, Queene Ester, that it may be giuen thee? and what is thy requeſt? It ſhall be euen perfourmed vnto the halfe of the kingdome.

3 And Ester the Queene anſwered, and ſayd, If I haue found fauour in thy ſight, O King, and if it pleaſe the King, let my life be giuen me at my petition, and my people at my requeſt.

4 For we are ſolde, I, and my people, to be deſtroyed, to be ſlaine and to periſh: but if we were ſolde for ſeruants, and for handmaides, I would haue held my tongue: although the aduerſarie could not [b] recompence the Kings loſſe.

5 Then King Ahaſhueroſh anſwered, and ſayd vnto the Queene Ester, Who is he? and where is he that † preſumeth to doe thus?

6 And Ester ſayd, The aduerſarie and enemie is this wicked Haman. Then Haman was afrayd before the King and the Queene.

7 And the King aroſe from [s] banket of wine in his wrath, and went into the palace garden: but Haman ſtood vp, to make requeſt for his life to the Queene Ester: for he ſawe that there was a [c] miſchiefe prepared for him of the King.

whereupon Ester spake: therefore the King arose. Will he force the Queene also before me in the house? As the word went out of the Kings mouth, they couered Hamans face.

9 And Harbonah one of the chamberlaines, sayde in the presence of the King, Behold, there standeth yet the tree in Hamans house fifty cubites hie, which Haman had prepared for Mordecai, that spake good for the King. Then the King said, Hang him thereon.

10 So they hanged Haman on the tree that he had prepared for Mordecai: then was the Kings wrath pacified.

CHAP. VIII.

1 After the death of Haman was Mordecai exalted. 14 Comfortable letters are sent vnto the Iewes.

ON the same day did King Ahasuerosh giue the house of Haman the aduersarie of the Iewes vnto the Queene Ester. And Mordecai came before the King: for Ester tolde what he was vnto her.

2 And the King tooke off his ring, which he had taken from Haman, and gaue it vnto Mordecai: and Ester set Mordecai ouer the house of Haman.

3 And Ester spake yet more before the King, and fell downe at his feete weeping, & besought him that he would put away the wickednesse of Haman the Agagite, and his deuice that he had imagined against the Iewes.

4 And the King held out the golden sceepter toward Ester. Then arose Ester, and stoode before the King,

5 And said, If it please the King, and if I haue found fauour in his sight, and the thing be acceptable before the King, and I please him, let it be written, that the letters of the deuice of Haman the sonne of Ammedatha the Agagite may be called againe, which he wrote to destroy the Iewes, that are in all the Kings prouinces.

6 For howe can I suffer and see the euill, that shall come vnto my people? Or howe can I suffer and see the destruction of my kinred?

7 And the King Ahasuerosh sayde vnto the Queene Ester, and to Mordecai the Iewe, Behold, I haue giuen Ester the house of Haman, whome they haue hanged vpon the tree, because he laid hand vpon the Iewes.

8 Write yee also for the Iewes, as it liketh you in the Kings name, and seale it with the Kings ring (for the writings written in the Kings name, and sealed with the Kings ring, may no man reuoke.)

9 Then were the Kings Scribes called at the same time, euen in the third moneth, that is the moneth Siuan, on the three and twentieth day thereof: and it was written, according to all as Mordecai commanded vnto the Iewes and to the princes, and captaines, and rulers of the prouinces, which were from India euen vnto Ethiopia, an hundreth and seuen and twentie prouinces, vnto euery prouince, according to the writing thereof, and to euery people after their speech, and to the Iewes, according to their writing, and according to their language.

10 And hee wrote in the King Ahasuerosh name, and sealed it with the Kings ring, and hee sent letters by posters on horsebacke, and that rode on swifte horses of price, and dromedaries, and coltes of mares.

CHAP. IX.

1 At the commandement of the King, the Iewes put their aduersaries to death. 14 The ten sonnes of Haman are hanged. 17 The Iewes keepe a feast in remembrance of their deliuerance.

SO in the twelfth moneth, which is the moneth Adar, vpon the thirteenth day of the same, when the Kings commandement and his decree drew neere to be put in execution, in the day that the enemies of the Iewes hoped to haue power ouer them (but it turned contrary, for the Iewes had rule ouer them that hated them),

2 The Iewes gathered themselues together into their cities throughout all the prouinces of the King Ahasuerosh, to lay hand on such as sought their hurt, and no man couldе withstande them: for the feare of them fell vpon all people.

3 And all the rulers of the prouinces, and the princes and the captaines, and the officers of the King exalted the Iewes: for the feare of Mordecai fell vpon them.

4 For Mordecai was great in the kings house, and the report of him went through all the prouinces: for this man Mordecai waxed greater and greater.

5 Thus the Iewes smote all their enemies with strokes of the sword and slaughter, and destruction, and did what they would vnto those that hated them.

6 And at Shushan the palace slewe the Iewes and destroyed fiue hundreth men.

7 And Parshandatha, and Dalphon, and Aspatha,

8 And Poratha, and Adalia, and Aridatha,

9 And Parmashta, and Arisai, and Aridai, and Vaizatha,

10 The ten sonnes of Haman, the sonne of Ammedatha, the aduersarie of the Iewes slewe they: but they layd not their hands on the spoile.

11 On the same day came the number of those that were slaine, vpon the palace of Shushan before the King.

12 And the King sayd vnto the Queene Hester, The Iewes haue slaine in Shushan the palace and destroyed fiue hundreth men, & the ten sonnes of Haman: what haue they done in the rest of the Kings prouinces? and what is thy petition, that it may be giuen thee? or what is thy request moreouer, that it may be performed?

13 Then sayd Ester, If it please the King, let it be granted also to morow to the Iewes that are in Shushan, to do according f vnto this daies decree, & they may hang vpon y tree Hamans ten sonnes.

14 And the King charged to doe so, and the decree was giuen at Shushan, and they hanged Hamans ten sonnes.

15 ¶ So the Iewes that were in Shushan, assembled themselues vpon the fourteenth day of the moneth Adar, & slew three hundreth men in Shushan, but on the spoyle they laid not their hand.

16 And the rest of the Iewes that were in the Kings prouinces assembled themselues, and stood for g their liues, and had rest from their enemies, and slew of them that hated them, h seuentie and fiue thousand: but they layde not their hand on the spoyle.

17 This they did on the i thirteenth day of the moneth Adar, and rested the fourteenth day thereof, and kept it a day of feasting and ioy.

18 But the Iewes that were in Shushan assembled themselues on the thirteenth day, and on the fourteenth thereof, & they rested on the fifteenth of the same, and kept it a day of feasting and ioy.

19 Therefore the Iewes of the villages that dwelt in the vnwalled townes, k kept the fourteenth day of the moneth Adar with ioy and feasting, and a ioyfull day, and euery one sent presents vnto his neighbour.

20 ¶ And Mordecai wrote l these words, and sent letters vnto all the Iewes that were through all the prouinces of the King Ahashuerosh, both neere and farre, 21 Inioyning them that they shoulde keepe the fourteenth day of the moneth Adar, and the fifteenth day of the same, euery yeere.

22 According to the dayes wherein the Iewes rested from their enemies, and the moneth which was turned vnto them from sorowe to ioy, and from mourning into a ioyfull day, to keepe them the dayes of feasting, and ioy, and m to send presents euery man to his neighbour, and gifts to the poore.

23 And the Iewes promised to doe as they had begun, and as Mordecai had written vnto them, 24 Because Haman the sonne of Hammedatha the Agagite al the Iewes aduersarie, had imagined against the Iewes, to destroy them, and had n cast Pur (that is a lot) to consume and destroy them.

25 And when o she came before the King, hee commanded by letters, Let his wicked p deuise (which hee imagined against the Iewes) turne vpon his owne head, and let them hang him and his sonnes on the tree.

26 Therefore they called these dayes Purim, by the name of Pur, and because of all the words of this letter, & of that which they had seene beside this, and of that which had come vnto them.

27 The Iewes also ordeined, and promised for them and for their seede, and for all that ioyned vnto them, that they would not ‖ faile to obserue those q two dayes euery yeere, according to their writing, and according to their season,

28 And that these dayes shoulde bee remembred and kept throughout euery generation and euery familie, and euery prouince, and euery citie: euen these daies of Purim should not faile among the Iewes, and the memorial of them should not perish from their seede.

29 And the Queene Ester the daughter of Abihail & Mordecai the Iew wrote with all ‖ authoritie (to confirme this letter of Purim y second time)

30 And he sent letters vnto all the Iewes to the hundreth and seuen and twentie prouinces of the kingdome of Ahashuerosh, with r words of peace and trueth, 31 To confirme these dayes of Purim, according to their seasons, as Mordecai the Iewe and Ester the Queene had appointed them, & as they had promised for them † selues and for their seede, with † fasting and prayer.

32 And the decree of Ester confirmed these words of Purim, and was written in the booke.

IOB.

THE ARGVMENT.

IN this historie is set before our eyes the example of a singular patience. For this holy man Iob was not only extremely afflicted in outward things & in his body, but also in his minde and conscience, by the sharpe tentations of his wife, and three friends: which by their vehement words, and subtill disputations brought him almost to despaire: for they set forth God as a seuere Iudge, and moreouer enuied vnto him, which had cast him off, therfore in vaine he should seeke vnto him for succour. These friends came vnto him vnder pretence of consolation, and yet they tormented him more then did al his affliction. Notwithstanding he did constantly resist them, & at length had good successe. In this story we haue to marke that Iob maintaineth a good cause, but handleth it euil: againe his aduersaries haue an euil matter, but they defend it craftily. For Iob held that God did not alway punish men according to their sinnes, but that he had secreter iudgements, wherof man knew not the cause, and therfore man could not reason against God therein, but he should be conuicted. Moreouer, he was assured that God had not reiected him, yet through his great torments, and affliction he breaketh forth into many inconueniences both of words and sentences, from euery euil, and shroweth himselfe as a defender vnto many things, and is euer ready to serue God: and this is his good cause which he doeth not handle well. Against the aduersaries maintenance vseth many goodly arguments, that God punisheth continually according to the trespasse, grounding vpon Gods prouidence, his iustice, & meane sinners, yet them intendeth to build: for they labour to bring Iob into despaire, and so they maintaine an euill cause. Ezekiel commendeth Iob as a iust man, Ezek. 14. 14. and Iames setteth out his patience for an example, Iames 5. 11.

CHAP. I.

1 The holinesse, riches, and care of Iob for his children. 10 Satan hath permission to tempt him. 13 He tempteth him by taking away his substance, and his children. 20 His faith and patience.

THere was a man in the lande of [a] Vz called Iob, & this man [b] was an vpright and iust man, [c] one that feared God, and eschewed euill.

2 And he had seuen sonnes, & three daughters.

3 His [d] substance also was seuen thousande sheepe, and three thousand camels, and fiue hundreth yoke of oxen, and fiue hundreth shee asses, and his familie was very great, so that this man was the greatest of all the [†] men of the [e] East.

4 And his sonnes went and banketed in their houses, euery one his day, and sent, & called their three sisters to eate and drinke with them.

5 And when the dayes of their banketing were gone about, Iob sent, and [f] sanctified them, and rose vp earely in the morning, and [g] offered burnt offrings according to the number of them all. For Iob thought, It may be that my sonnes haue sinned, & [h] blasphemed God in their hearts: thus did Iob [i] euery day.

6 ¶ Nowe on a day when the [k] children of God came and stoode [l] before the Lorde, Satan [m] came also among them.

7 Then the Lorde sayd vnto Satan, Whence [n] commest thou? And Satan answered the Lord, saying, [o] From compassing the earth to and fro, and from walking in it.

8 And the Lorde sayd vnto Satan, Hast thou not considered my seruant Iob, howe none [u] like him in the earth? an vpright and iust man, one that feareth God, and eschweth euill?

9 Then Satan answered the Lorde, and sayd, Doeth Iob feare God for [p] nought?

10 Hast thou not made [q] an hedge about him and about his house, and about all that hee hath on euery side? thou hast blessed the worke of his hands, & his substance is increased in the land.

11 But stretch out now thine hand & [r] touch all that he hath, so sure if shee will not blaspheme thee to [s] thy face.

12 Then the Lorde sayde vnto Satan, Lo, all that he hath [t] is in [†] thine hand: onely vpon himselfe shalt thou not stretch out thine hand. So Satan departed from the [u] presence of the Lord.

13 ¶ And on a day, when his sonnes and his daughters were eating and drinking wine in their eldest brothers house,

14 There came a messenger vnto Iob, & sayd, The oxen were plowing, and the asses feeding in their places,

15 And the [x] Shabeans came violently, and tooke them: yea, they haue slaine the seruants with the edge of the sword: but I onely am escaped alone to tell thee.

16 And whiles he was yet speaking, another came, and sayd, The [y] fire of God is fallen from the heauen, and hath burnt vp the sheepe and the seruants, and deuoured them: but I onely am escaped alone to tell thee.

17 And whiles hee was yet speaking, another came, and said, The Caldeans set out three bands, and fell vpon the camels, & haue taken them, and haue slaine the seruants with the edge of [?] sword: but I onely am escaped alone to tell thee.

18 And whiles he was yet speaking, came an other, and sayd, Thy [z] sonnes, and thy daughters were eating, & drinking wine in their eldest brothers house,

19 And behold, there came a great winde from beyond the wildernesse, and smote the foure corners of the house, which fell vpon the children, and they are dead, and I onely am escaped alone to tell thee.

20 Then Iob arose, and [a] rent his garment, and shaued his head, & fell downe vpon the ground, and worshipped, 21 And sayd, [*] Naked came I out of my mothers wombe, and naked shall I returne [b] thither: the Lord hath giuen, and the Lord hath taken it: [c] blessed be the Name of the Lord.

22 In all this did not Iob sinne, nor charge God [d] foolishly.

[l] Because our infirmitie cannot comprehende God in his glorie, he is set foorth vnto vs as a King, that our capacitie may be able to vnderstand that which is spoken of him. [m] This declareth that although Satan be a rebellious enemie to God, yet he is compelled to obey him, and shew all humane wishing whose permission and appointment hee can doe nothing. [n] That is, from whom is he sent? for this question is asked for our infirmitie: for God knewe whence hee came. [o] Hereby he is described the nature of Satan, which is euer ranging for his praye, 1. Pet. 5. 8. [p] He searcheth thee not for this end, but for euil, and maketh all things to serue his purpose. [s] Satan noteth the vice, whereunto men are commonly addicted: that is, to hide their rebellion, and to be content with God in the time of prosperitie, which vice is disclosed in the time of aduersitie.

[t] God giueth vnto Satan power to enter into to grieue him, but to the end that he hath no power ouer man, but that which God giueth him.

[u] That is, went to execute that which God had permitted him to doe: for else hee can neuer goe out of Gods presence.

[y] Which thing was also done by the craft of Satan, to tempt Iob the more grieuously, for sinners he might see, that not onely men were his enemies, but that God made warre against him.

[z] This sore plague declareth that when one plague is past which commeth hard to his house, God doth send vnto him some more grieuous, to trie him, and make him to obedience.

[a] Which came not of impatience, but declareth that the children of God are insensible like blockes, but that in their paines they feele affliction, and griefe of minde: yet they keepe a meane herein, and rebell not against God, as the wicked doe. [*] Eccl. 5. 14. 1. Tim. 6. 7.

[b] That is, into the belly of the earth, which is the mother of all. [c] Hereby he confesseth that God is iust, and good, although his hand be sore vpon him. [d] That is, declared that God did all things according to iustice and equitie.

CHAP. II.

6 Satan hath permission to assault Iob. 9 His wife tempteth him to forsake God. 11 His three friendes visite him.

AND on a day the [a] children of God came and [b] stood before the Lord, and [c] Satan came also among them, and stood before the Lord.

2 Then the Lord sayde vnto Satan, Whence commest thou? And Satan answered the Lorde, and sayd, From compassing the earth to and fro, and from walking in it.

3 And the Lord sayd vnto Satan, Hast thou not considered my seruant Iob, howe none [†] him in the earth? [*] an vpright and iust man, one that feareth God, and eschweth euill? he continueth in his vprightnesse, although thou mouedst me against him, to destroy him without cause.

[a] That is, the Angels. [b] Read Chap. 1. 6. [c] Read Chap. 1. 7. [†] Read Chap. 1. 8. [*] Ezek. 14. 14. [c] He compareth Iob, but against his will, to shew that he cannot preuaile against the godly.

4 And Satan answered the Lorde, and sayde, a Skin for skin, and all that euer a man hath, will he giue for his life.

5 But stretch nowe out thine hand, and touch his f bones and his flesh, to see if he will not blaspheme thee to thy face.

6 Then the Lord sayd vnto Satan, Loe, he is in thine hand, but saue g his life.

7 ¶ So Satan departed from the presence of the Lord, and smote Iob with sore h boyles, from the sole of his foote vnto his crowne.

8 And hee tooke a i potshard to scrape him, and he sate downe among the ashes.

9 Then sayd his k wife vnto him, Doest thou I continue yet in thine vprightnes? m Blaspheme God, and dye.

10 But he sayd vnto her, Thou speakest like a foolish woman: what? shall we receiue good at the hand of God, and not n receiue euill? In all this did not Iob sinne with his o lippes, 11 Now when Iobs three p friendes heard of all this euill that was come vpon him, they came euery one from his owne place, to wit, Eliphaz the Temanite, & Bildad the Shuhite and Zophar the Naamathite: for they were agreed together to come to lament with him, and to comfort him.

12 So when they lift vp their eyes a farre off, they knewe him not: therefore they lift vp their voyces and wept, and euery one of them rent his garment, and sprinkled q dust vpon their heads toward the heauen.

13 So they sate by him vpon the ground seuen dayes, and seuen nightes, and none spake a worde vnto him: for they sawe, that the griefe was very r great.

a Here by hee meant that a mans owne skin is dearer vnto him then another mans.
f Meaning, his owne person.
g Thus Satan goeth no further in punishing, then God hath limitted him.
h This sore was most vehement, wherewith also God plagued the Egyptians, Exod. 9.9. and threatneth to punish the rebellious people, Deut. 28.27. so that this tentation was most grieuous: for if Iob had mistrusted Gods fauour by the vehemencie of his disease, hee might haue thought that God had cast him off.
i As destitute of all other helpe and meanes, and wonderfully afflicted with the sorowe of his disease.
k Satan vseth the same instrument against Iob, as hee did against Adam.
l Meaning, what gaineth thou to serue God, seeing he thus plagueth thee as though he were thine enemie? This is the most grieuous tentation of the faithfull, when their faith is assailed, and when Satan goeth about to perswade them, that they trust in God in vaine.
m For death was appointed to the blasphemer, and so she meant that he should be soone rid out of his paine.
n That is, to be patient in aduersitie, as we reioyce when he sendeth prosperitie, and so to acknowledge him to be both mercifull and iust.
o Hee so bridled his affections, that his tongue through impatiencie did not murmure against God.
p Which were men of authoritie, wise and learned, and as the the Septuagint write, Kings, & came to comfort him, but when they saw how he was visited, they conceiued an euill opinion of him, as though he had bene but an hypocrite, and so iustly plagued of God for his sinnes.
q This was also a ceremonie, which they vsed in those countreys, as in renting of their clothes in signe of sorow, &c.
r And therefore thought that he would not haue hearkened to their counsell.

b Here Iob beginneth to feele his great imperfection in this battell betweene the spirit and the flesh, Rom. 7.18. and after a manner yeeldeth, yet in the end he getteth victorie, though here and in the whole booke greatly troubled.

AFterward a Iob opened his mouth, and b cursed his day.

2 And Iob cryed out, and sayd,

3 Let the day c perish, wherein I was borne, and the night when it was sayde, There is a man childe conceiued.

4 Let that day be darkenesse, let not God d regard it from aboue, neither let the light shine vpon it,

6 Let darkenesse possesse that night, let it not be ioyned vnto the dayes of the yeere, nor let it come into the count of the moneths.

7 Yea, desolate be that night, and let no ioye be in it.

8 Let them that curse the day, (being f ready to renue their mourning) curse it.

9 Let the starres of that twilight be dimme through darkenesse of it: let it looke for light, but haue none: neither let it g see the † dawning of the day,

10 Because it shut not vp the doores of my mothers wombe, nor hid sorowe from mine eyes.

11 h Why dyed I not in the birth? or why dyed I not, when I came out of the wombe?

12 Why did the knees preuent me? and why did I sucke the breasts?

13 For so should I nowe haue i lyen and bene quiet, I should haue slept then, and bene at rest,

14 With the Kings & counselers of the earth, which haue builded themselues k desolate places:

15 Or with the princes that had golde, and haue filled their houses with siluer.

16 Or why was I not hid as an vntimely birth, either as infants, which haue not seene the light?

17 The wicked l haue there ceased from their tyrannie, and there they that laboured valiantly, are at rest.

18 The m prisoners rest together, and heare not the voyce of the oppressour.

19 There are small and great, and the seruant is free from his master.

20 Wherefore is the light giuen to him that is in miserie? and n life vnto them that haue heauie hearts?

21 Which long for death, and if it come not, they would euen search it more then treasures:

22 Which ioy for gladnesse, and reioyce when they can finde the graue.

23 Why is the light giuen to the man whose way is o hid, and whom God hath hedged in?

24 For my sighing commeth before I eate, and my roarings are powred out like the water.

25 For the thing I p feared, is come vpon me, and the thing q I was afrayd of, is come vnto me.

26 I had no peace, neither had I quietnesse, neither had I rest, q yet trouble is come.

f Which curse day of their birth, let them lay curse vpon the night.
g Let it bee alwayes night, and neuer be day.
† Ebr. the eye lid of the morning.
h This and that which followeth, declareth that when man giueth place to his passions, he is not able to stay nor keepe measure, but runneth headlong into all euill, except God call him backe.
i The vehemencie of his afflictions made him to vtter these words, as though death were the end of all miseries, and as if there were no life after this, which he speaketh not, though it were true, but the infirmities of his flesh caused him to beat out into this excesse of the wicked.
k He noteth the ambition of those which for their pleasure, as it were, change the order of nature, & build in most barren places, because they would hereby make their name immortall.
l That is, by death the cruelties of the tyrants hath ceased.
m All they that suffraine any kinde of calamitie and miserie in this world: which he speaketh after the iudgement of the flesh.
n Hee sheweth that the benefites of God are not comfortable, except the heart be ioyfull, and the conscience quieted.
o That seeth not how to come out of his miseries, because hee dependeth not on Gods prouidence.
p In my prosperitie I looked euer for a fall, as is come more to passe.
q The feare of troubles that should ensue, caused my prosperitie to seeme to me as nothing, and yet I am not exempted from trouble.

CHAP. IIII.

5 Iob is reprehended of impatiencie, 7 and vniustice, 17 and of the presumption of his owne righteousnesse.

THen Eliphaz the Temanite answered, and sayd,

2 If wee assay to commune with thee, wilt thou be grieued? but a who can withholde himselfe from speaking?

3 Beholde, thou hast taught many, and b hast strengthened the weake hands.

4 Thy wordes haue confirmed him that was falling, and thou hast strengthened the weake knees.

5 But now it is come vpon thee, and thou art grieued: it toucheth thee, and thou art troubled.

6 Is not this thy c feare, thy confidence, thy patience, and the vprightnesse of thy wayes?

7 Remember, I pray thee: who euer perished being a Seeing this cannot be auoided.

b Thou hast comforted others in their afflictions, and canst not now comfort thy selfe.
c Thus he vnderstandeth that Iob was but an hypocrite, and had no true faith in God.

being an c innocent? or where were the vpright destroyed?

8 As I haue seene, they that c plow iniquitie, and sowe wickednesse, reape the same.

9 With the f blast of God they perish, and with the breath of his nostrels are they consumed.

10 The roaring of the g Lion, and the voyce of the Lionesse, and the teeth of the Lions whelps are broken.

11 The Lion perisheth for lacke of pray, and the Lions whelps are scattered abroad.

12 But a thing was brought to me h secretlie, and mine eare hath receiued a litle thereof.

13 In the thoughts of the visions of the night, when sleepe falleth on men, 14 Feare came vpon me, & dread which made all my bones i to tremble.

15 And the winde passed before me, and made the haires of my flesh to stand vp.

16 Then stoode one, and I knew not his face: an image was before mine eyes, and in k silence heard I a voyce, saying,

17 Shall man be more l iust then God? or shall a man be more pure then his maker?

18 Beholde, he founde no stedfastnesse in his Seruants, and laid follie vpon his m Angels.

19 Howe much more in them that dwell in houses of n clay, whose foundation is in the dust, which shall be destroyed before the moth?

20 They be destroyed from o the morning vnto the euening: they perish for euer, p without regarde.

21 Doth not their dignitie goe away with thē? doe they not die, and that without q wisedome?

f Signifying that I haue not before, was declared vnto me by vision: that is, that whosoeuer stirreth vp his ire, shall be found a finner, when he commeth before God. g In these visions which God sheweth to his creatures, there is euer a certaine feare ioyned, that the authoritie thereof might bee had in greater reuerence. h When all things were quiet, & when the feare was somewhat ouergone, God appeared to Eliab. 1 King. 19. d. i He propoundeth that if God did punish the innocent, the creature should be more iust then the Creator, which were blasphemie. m If God finde imperfection in his Angels, when they are not maintained by his power, how much more shal he lay follie to mans charge, when he would iustifie himselfe against God? n That is, in this mortall bodie, subiect to corruption. 2. Cor. 5. 1. o They see death continually before their eyes and daily approching toward them. p No man for all this doth consider it. q That is, before that any of them were so wise as to thinke on death.

CHAP. V.

1. 2 Eliphaz sheweth the difference betweene the children of God and the wicked. 3 The fall of the wicked. 9 Gods power who destroyeth the wicked, and deliuereth his.

CAll nowe, if any will r answere thee, and to which of the Saints wilt thou turne?

2 Doubtlesse s anger killeth the foolish, and enuie slayeth the idiot.

3 I haue seene the t foolish well rooted, and suddenly I u curſed his habitation, saying,

4 His c children shall be farre from saluation, and they shal be destroyed in the f gate, and none shall deliuer them.

5 The hungrie shall eate vp his harueſt, yea, they shall take it from among the g thornes, and the thirſtie shall drinke vp their substance.

6 For miserie commeth not forth of the dust, neither doth affliction spring out of the earth.

7 But man is borne vnto x trauell, as the sparks flie vpward.

r He willeth Iob to consider the example of all them that haue liued or doe liue godly, whether any of them be like vnto him in raging against God as he doeth. s Murmuring against God in afflictions increaseth the paine, and wasteth mans substance. t That is, the sinner that hath not the feare of God. u I was not moued with his prosperitie but knew that God had ouerthrowne him and his. c Though God sometimes suffer the fathers to perish in this world, yet his iudgements shall light vpon their wicked children. f By publique iudgements they shall be cut off and rooted out. g Though there be but two or three eares left in the hedges, yet these shall be taken from him. h That is, the earth is not the cause of barrennesse and manifold sorrowes, but his owne sinne. i Which declareth that sinne is not cast into mens natures; for before sinne it was not found to grow in mans nature.

8 But I would inquire h of God, and vnto God would I commit my cause:

9 Which i doeth great things and vnsearchable, and marueilous things without number.

10 He m giueth raine vpon the earth, & sendeth waters vpon the fieldes.

11 And setteth vp on hie them that be low, that the sorowfull may be exalted to saluation.

12 He scattereth the deuises of the crafty, that their hands can not accomplish that which they doe enterprise.

13 n He taketh the wise in their craftinesse, and the counsell of the wicked is made foolish.

14 They meete with o darkenesse in the day time, and o grope at noone day, as in the night.

15 But he saueth the p poore from the sword, from their q mouth, and from the hand of the violent man.

16 So that the poore hath his hope, but iniquitie shall r stop her mouth.

17 Beholde, blessed is the man whome God correcteth: therefore refuse not thou the chastising of the Almightie.

18 For he maketh the wound, and bindeth it vp: he smiteth, and his hands make whole.

19 He shall deliuer thee in f six troubles, and in the seuenth the euill shall not touch thee.

20 In famine he shall deliuer thee from death: and in battell from the power of the sword.

21 Thou shalt be hid from the scourge of the tongue, and thou shalt not be afraide of destruction when it commeth.

22 But thou shalt t laugh at destruction and dearth, and shalt not be afraid of the beast of the earth.

23 For the stones of the fielde u shall be in league with thee, and the beasts of the fielde shall be at peace with thee.

24 And thou shalt knowe, that peace shalbe in thy tabernacle, and thou shalt visit thine habitation, and shalt not x sinne.

25 Thou shalt perceiue also, that thy seede shalbe great, and thy posteritie as the grasse of the earth.

26 Thou shalt goe to thy graue in y a full age, as a ricke of corne commeth in due season into the barne.

27 Lo, z this haue we inquired of it, and so it is: heare this and know it for thy selfe.

h It is declared as though he would seeke vnto God. i He commendeth Iob to bee humble himselfe vnder God, as without his consolation to be in great vnhappinesse. k Signifying that man is not able, except he glorifie God in all his workes. m His fauours by particular examples, what the mightie God doeth. n 1. Cor. 3. 19. o In things plaine and euident they shew that we be fooles in stead of wise men. p This declareth that God punisheth the wicked by wise and iust meanes. Deut. 8. 19. q That is, he that humbleth himself before God. r He compareth the slander of the wicked to sharpe swordes. s If the wicked be compelled to stay Gods workes to stoppe their mouthes, much more they that professe God. t He will send trouble after trouble, that his children may not for one trouble continually mourne in him: but shall haue seuerall ones, euen in the greatest and the last, which is here called the seuenth. u When as the wicked liue safe in their troubles, thou shalt haue creatures shall serue thee. x God shall so bleſſe thee, that thou shalt haue occasion to reioyce in all things, and not to be offended. y Though the children of God haue not alwayes this promise performed, yet God doeth it sometimes: other wise to their aduantage. z We haue learned these points by experience, that God punisheth not the innocent, that man can not compare in iustice with him, that the wicked cities shall not long prosper, and that the affliction which [illegible] meth for the wicked sinne.

CHAP. VI.

1 Iob answereth, that his paine is more grieuous then his sinne. 8 He desireth death. 14 He complaineth of his friends.

BVt Iob answered and said,

2 Oh that my griefe were well weighed, and my miseries were layed together in the a balance!

3 For it would be now heauier then the sande of the sea: therefore my words are swallowed vp.

4 For the arrowes of the Almightie are in me, the venime whereof doth drinke vp my spirit, and the terrours of God c fight against me.

wounded in conscience, which is the greatest [illegible]

5 Doeth

5 Doeth the d wilde asse bray when hee hath grasse? or loweth the oxe when he hath fodder?

6 That which is e vnsauerie, shall it be eaten without salt? or is there any taste in the white of an egge?

7 Such things as my soule refused to touch, are were sorowes, are my meate.

8 Oh that I might haue my f desire, and that God would grant me the thing that I long for!

9 That is, that God would destroy me: that he would let his hand go, and cut me off,

10 Then should I yet haue comfort, (though I burne with sorowe, let him not spare) g because I haue not denied the wordes of the Holy one.

11 What power haue I that I should endure? or what is mine h end, if I should prolong my life?

12 Is my strength the strength of stones? or is my flesh of brasse?

13 Is it not so, that there is in me no i helpe? and that k strength is taken from me?

14 He that is in miserie, ought to be comforted of his neighbour: but men haue forsaken the feare of the Almightie.

15 My brethren haue deceiued me as a brooke, and as the rising of the riuers they passe away.

16 Which are blackish with yce, and wherein the snow is hid.

17 But in time they are dried vp with heate and are consumed: and when it is hote they faile out of their places, 18 Or they depart from their way and course, you, they vanish and perish.

19 They that goe to Tema, l considered them, and they that goe to Sheba, waited for them.

20 But they were confounded: when they hoped, they came thither and were ashamed.

21 Surely nowe are ye like m vnto it: ye haue seene my fearefull plague, and are afraide.

22 Was it because I saide, Bring vnto me? or giue a rewarde to me of your n substance?

23 And deliuer me from the enemies hand, or ransome me out of the hand of tyrants?

24 Teach me, and I will o holde my tongue: & cause me to vnderstand, wherein I haue erred.

25 How p sterkfast are the wordes of righteousnesse? and what can any of you iustly reproue?

26 Doe ye imagine to reproue q wordes, that the talke of the afflicted should be as the winde?

27 Ye make your wrath to fall vpon the fatherlesse, and digge a pit for your friend.

28 Now therefore be content to r looke vpon me, for I will not lie before your face.

29 Turne, I pray you, let there be none iniquitie: returne, I say, and ye shall see yet my righteousnesse in that behalfe. Is there iniquitie in my tongue? doeth not my mouth feele sorowes?

CHAP. VII.

1 Iob sheweth the shortnesse and miserie of mans life.

IS there not an appointed time to man vpon earth? and are not his dayes as the dayes of an hireling?

2 As a seruant longeth for the shadowe, and as an hireling looketh for the ende of his worke,

3 So haue I had as an inheritance the b monethes of vanitie, and painefull nights haue bene appointed vnto me.

4 If I layed me downe, I sayde, When shall I arise? and measuring the euening I am euen full with tossing to and fro vnto t dawning of t day.

5 My flesh is c clothed with wormes and filthinesse of the dust: my skin is rent, and become horrible.

6 My dayes are swifter then d a weauers shittle, and they are spent without hope.

7 Remember that my life is but a winde, and that mine eye shall not returne to see pleasure.

8 The eye that hath seene me, shall see mee no more: thine eyes are vpon me, and I shall be no longer.

9 e As the cloude vanisheth and goeth away, so he that goeth downe to the graue, shall f come vp no more.

10 He shall returne no more to his house, neither shall his place knowe him any more.

11 Therefore I will not g spare my mouth, but will speake in the trouble of my spirite, and muse in the bitternesse of my minde.

12 Am I a sea h or a whale fish, that thou keepest me in warde?

13 When I say, My couch shall relieue me, and my bed shall bring comfort in my meditation, 14 Then feareste thou me i with dreames, and astonishest me with visions.

15 Therefore my soule k chuseth rather to be strangled and to die, then to be in my bones.

16 I abhorre it, I shall not liue alway: l spare me then, for my dayes are but vanitie.

17 What is man, that thou m doest magnifie him, and that thou setteste thine heart vpon him?

18 And doest visite him euery morning, and triest him euery moment?

19 How long will it be yet thou depart from me? thou wilt not let me alone whiles I may swallow my spittle.

20 I haue n sinned, what shal I do vnto thee? O thou preseruer of men, why hast thou set me as a marke against thee, so that I am a burden vnto my selfe?

21 And why doest thou not pardon my trespasse? and take away mine iniquitie? for nowe shall I sleepe in the dust, and if thou seekest me in the morning, I shall o not be founde.

a Hath not an hired seruant some rest and ease? & so in this my continuall torment I am worse then an hireling.

b My seruant hath couted from moneth to moneth, and haue looked for hope in vaine.

c This signifieth that his disease was rare and horrible.

d Thus he speaketh in respect of the breuitie of mans life, which passeth without hope of returning: in consideration whereof he desireth God to haue compassion on him.

e If thou beholde me in thine anger, I shall not be able to stand in thy presence.

f Shall no more enioy this mortall life.

g Seeing I can by none other meanes comfort my selfe, I will declare my griefe by words, and thus he speaketh as one ouercome with griefe of minde.

h Am not I a poore wretch? what needeth thou then to lay so much paine on me?

i So that I can haue no rest, night nor day.

k He speaketh as one ouercome with sorow, and not of indignation or of the examination of his faith.

l Seeing my time of life is so short, let me haue some rest and ease.

m Seeing the man of himselfe is so vile, why doest thou giue him that power to couple against him? Iob vseth all these speeches in such perfection, that he could bridle himselfe from reasoning with God, because that he ended his faith.

o That is, I shall be dead.

CHAP VIII.

1 Bildad reproueth that Iob is a sinner, because God punisheth the wicked and prefereth the good.

THen answered Bildad the Shuhite, and said,

2 Howe long wilt thou talke of these things? & how long shal the words of thy mouth be as a mightie winde?

3 Doeth God peruert iudgement? or doeth the Almightie subuert iustice?

4 If thy sonnes haue sinned against him, and he hath sent them into the place of their b iniquitie, a He declareth that their wordes which they spake out of their owne imagination, were frowarde, and of God reproued.

b That is, that he rewarded them according to their wickednesse: meaning that Iob might take warning by the example of his children, when he offended not God.

5 Yet if thou wilt earely seeke vnto God, and pray to the Almightie,

6 If thou be pure and vpright, surely he will awake vp vnto thee, and he will make the habitation of thy righteousnesse prosperous.

7 And though thy beginning be small, yet thy latter ende shall greatly encrease.

8 Inquire therefore, I pray thee, of the former age, & prepare thy selfe to search of their fathers.

9 (For we are but of yesterday, and are ignorant: for our dayes vpon earth are but a shadow)

10 Shall not they teach thee, and tell thee, and vtter the wordes of their heart?

11 Can a rush grow vp without myre? or can the grasse growe without water?

12 Though it were in greene and not cutte downe, yet shall it wither before any other herbe.

13 So are the paths of all that forget God, and the hypocrites hope shall perish.

14 His confidence also shalbe cut off, and his trust shalbe as the house of a spyder.

15 He shall leane vpon his house, but it shall not stand: he shall holde him fast by it, yet shall it not endure.

16 The tree is greene before the sunne, and the branches spread ouer the garden thereof.

17 The rootes thereof are wrapped about the fountaine, & are folden about the house of stones.

18 If any plucke it from his place, and it denie, saying, I haue not seene thee, 19 Beholde, it will reioyce by this meanes that it may growe in another molde.

20 Behold, God will not cast away an vpright man, neither will he take the wicked by the hand.

21 Till he haue filled thy mouth with laughter, and thy lippes with ioye.

22 They that hate thee, shall be clothed with shame, and the dwelling of the wicked shall not remaine.

CHAP. IX.

Iob declareth the mighty power of God, and that mans righteousnesse is nothing.

THen Iob answered, and sayd,

2 I knowe verily that it is so: for howe should man compared to God be a iustified?

3 If he would dispute with him, he could not answere him one thing of a thousand.

4 He is wise in heart, & mighty in strength: who hath bene fierce against him and hath prospered?

5 He remoueth the mountaines, & they feele not when he ouerthroweth them in his wrath.

6 He remoueth the earth out of her place, that the pillars thereof doe shake.

7 He commandeth the sunne, & it ariseth not: he closeth vp the starres, as vnder a signet.

8 Hee himselfe alone spreadeth out the heauens, and walketh vpon the height of the sea.

9 He maketh the starres, As Arcturus, Orion, and Pleiades, and the climates of the South.

10 He doeth great things, and vnsearchable: yea, marueilous things without number.

11 Lo, when he goeth by me, I see him not: and when he passeth by, I perceiue him not.

12 Behold, when he taketh away, who can make him to restore it? who shall say vnto him, What doest thou?

13 God will not withdraw his anger, and the most mighty helpers doe stoupe vnder him.

14 Howe much lesse shall I answere him? or howe should I finde out my wordes with him?

15 For though I were iust, yet could I not answere, but I would make supplication to my Iudge.

16 If I cry, and he answere me, yet would I not beleeue that he hearkened vnto my voyce.

17 For he destroyeth me with a tempest, and woundeth me without cause.

18 He will not suffer me to take my breath, but filleth me with bitternesse.

19 If we speake of strength, beholde, he is strong: if we speake of iudgement, who shall bring me in to pleade?

20 If I should iustifie my selfe, mine owne mouth shall condemne me: if I would be perfite, he shall iudge me wicked.

21 Though I were perfite, yet I know not my soule: I stand in feare of my life.

22 This is one point: therefore I said, He destroyeth the perfite and the wicked.

23 If the scourge should suddenly slay, should God laugh at the punishment of the innocent?

24 The earth is giuen into the hand of the wicked: hee couereth the faces of the Iudges thereof: if not, where is he? or who is he?

25 My dayes haue bin more swift then a post, they haue fled, and haue seene no good thing.

26 They are passed as with the most swift shippes, and as the eagle that flyeth to the pray.

27 If I say, I will forget my complaint, I will cease from my wrath, and comfort me, 28 Then I am afraid of all my sorrowes, knowing that thou wilt not iudge me innocent.

29 If I be wicked, why labour I thus in vaine?

30 If I wash my selfe with snowe water, and purge mine hands most cleane, 31 Yet shalt thou plunge me in the pit, and mine owne clothes shall make me filthie.

32 For he is not a man as I am, that I should answere him, if we come together to iudgement.

33 Neither is there any vmpire betweene vs, that might lay his hand vpon vs both.

34 Let him take his rod away from me, and let not his feare astonish me:

35 Then will I speake, and feare him not: but because I am not so, I hold me still.

1 Iob here answereth to that point of Eliphaz and Bildads oration, touching the iustice of God, and his mercie, in afflicting God to humiliate in iudgement, & man to be nothing in respect. b Of a thousand things which God could lay to his charge, man cannot answere him one.

c Hee declareth what is the infirmitie of man, by whom if he would set forth his power.

d These are the names of certaine starres, whereby hee meaneth that all starres both knowen and vnknowen are at his appointment.

e I am not able to comprehend his workes, which are common & daily before mine eyes, much lesse in these things, which are hid and secret.

f Iob here answereth to the obiection of his friends, that God punished him for his sinnes. g God will not take away his anger for any mans righteousnesse. h This is a notable confession of Iob, that man can not be iustified before God. i How can I answere him, seeing he is so mighty? k Though I were neuer so iust, yet I could not answere him, but I would make my complaint vnto him. l Though I were neuer so iust, yet I could not answere him, but I would make my complaint vnto him. m Though I were neuer so iust, yet I could not answere him, but I would make my complaint vnto him. n Though I were neuer so iust, yet I could not answere him, but I would make my complaint vnto him. o Though I were neuer so iust, yet I could not answere him, but I would make my complaint vnto him. p Though I were neuer so iust, yet I could not answere him, but I would make my complaint vnto him. q Though I were neuer so iust, yet I could not answere him, but I would make my complaint vnto him. r Though I were neuer so iust, yet I could not answere him, but I would make my complaint vnto him. s Though I were neuer so iust, yet I could not answere him, but I would make my complaint vnto him. t Though I were neuer so iust, yet I could not answere him, but I would make my complaint vnto him. u Though I were neuer so iust, yet I could not answere him, but I would make my complaint vnto him. x Though I were neuer so iust, yet I could not answere him, but I would make my complaint vnto him. y Though I were neuer so iust, yet I could not answere him, but I would make my complaint vnto him. z Though I were neuer so iust, yet I could not answere him, but I would make my complaint vnto him. a Though I were neuer so iust, yet I could not answere him, but I would make my complaint vnto him. b Though I were neuer so iust, yet I could not answere him, but I would make my complaint vnto him. c Though I were neuer so iust, yet I could not answere him, but I would make my complaint vnto him. d Though I were neuer so iust, yet I could not answere him, but I would make my complaint vnto him. e Though I were neuer so iust, yet I could not answere him, but I would make my complaint vnto him. f Though I were neuer so iust, yet I could not answere him, but I would make my complaint vnto him. g Though I were neuer so iust, yet I could not answere him, but I would make my complaint vnto him. h Though I were neuer so iust, yet I could not answere him, but I would make my complaint vnto him. i Though I were neuer so iust, yet I could not answere him, but I would make my complaint vnto him.

c He would not that God should proceede against him by his secret iudge, but by the euidence of matters that he punisheth others.
d Is it agreeable to thy iustice to doe me wrong?
e Wilt thou be without compassion?
f Wilt thou giue the wicked and condemne me?
g Dost thou this of ignorance?
h Art thou inconstant and changeable, as the times, to day a friend, to morow an enemie?
i By affliction thou keepest me as in a prison, and restrainest me from doing euill, whether can any let me at liberty?
k In these eight verses following, he describeth the mercie of God in the wonderfull creation of man, and theron groundeth that God should not shew himselfe rigorous against him.
l Ardruide as a pot of clay.
m That is, reason and understanding, and many other gifts whereby man excelleth all earthly creatures.
n That is, thy fatherly care and prouidence, whereby thou preseruest me, and without the which I should perish straightway.
o Though I be not fully able to comprehend these things, yet I must needes confesse that it is so.
p I will alway walke in feare and humilitie, knowing that none is iust before thee.
q Iob being sore assaulted in this battell betweene the flesh and the spirite, breaketh out into these affections, wishing rather short dayes then long paine.
r That is, diuersitie of distresses and in great abundance, shewing that God hath infinite meanes to punish man.
s He witheth that God would leaue off his affliction, considering his great miserie and the brcuitie of his life.
t He speaketh thus in the person of a sinner, that is ouercome with passions & with the feeling of Gods iudgements, & therefore can not apprehend in that state the mercies of God and comfort of the resurrection.
u No difference betweene light & darknes, but where all is very darknes it selfe.

CHAP. XI.

Iob is sharply reprehended of Zophar. 7 God is incomprehensible. 14 He is mercifull to the repentant. 18 Their assurance that liue godly.

THen answered Zophar the Naamathite, and sayd,

2 Should not the multitude of wordes be answered? or should a great talker be iustified?

3 Should men hold their peace at thy lies? and when thou mockest others, shall none make thee ashamed?

4 For thou hast sayde, a My doctrine is pure, and I am cleane in thine eyes.

5 But oh that God would speake and open his lippes against thee!

6 That he might shewe thee the b secrets of wisedome, how thou hast deserued double according to right: know therefore that God hath forgotten thee for thine iniquitie.

7 Canst thou by searching finde out God? canst thou finde out c Almightie to be perfection?

8 The heauens are hie, what canst thou do? d it is deeper then hell, how canst thou know it?

9 The measure thereof is longer then y earth, and it is broader then the sea.

10 If he cut off and e shut vp, or gather together, who can turne him backe?

11 For he knoweth vaine men, and seeth iniquitie, and him that vnderstandeth nothing.

12 Yea vaine man would be wise, though man newe borne is like a wilde asse f colte.

13 If thou g prepare thine heart, and stretch out thine hands toward him:

14 If iniquitie be in thine h hand, put it farre away, & let no wickednesse dwel in thy Tabernacle.

15 Then truly shalt thou lift vp thy face without spot, and shalt be stable, and shalt not feare.

16 But thou shalt forget thy miserie, and remember it as waters that are past.

17 Thine age also shall appeare more cleare then the noone day: thou shalt shine and be as the morning.

18 And thou shalt be bolde, because there is hope: and thou shalt digge pittes, and shalt lie downe safely.

19 * For when thou takest thy rest, none shal make thee afraide: yea, many shall make sute vnto thee.

20 But the eies k of the wicked shall faile, and their refuge shall perish, and their hope shal be sorowe of minde.

h Renounce thine owne euill workes, & see that they offend not God, ouer whom thou hast charge. i He declareth what quietnes of conscience and successe in all things such shall haue, which turne to God by true repentance. k He sheweth that contrary things shall come vnto them that do not repent.

CHAP. XII.

Iob accuseth his friendes of ignorance. 7 He declareth the might, and power of God, 17 And howe he changeth the course of things.

THen Iob answered, and sayde,

2 In deede because that ye are the people only, a wisedome must dye with you.

3 But I haue vnderstanding aswell as you, and am not inferiour vnto you, yea, who knoweth not such things?

4 * I am b as one mocked of his neighbour, who calleth vpon God, and he c heareth him: the iust and the vpright is laughed to scorne.

5 d Hee that is readie to fall, is as a lampe despised in the opinion of the rich.

6 The tabernacles of robbers doe prosper, and they are in safetie, that prouoke God, e whome God hath enriched with his hand.

7 Aske now the beastes, & they shall teach thee, and the foules of the heauen, & they shall tell thee.

a Should he perswade by his great talke, that he is iust?

b Hee that is Iob with the rest should know that that thing which he said was true, and that he was without sinne in the sight of God.
c Which is not to stand in iustifying of thy selfe, he signifieth that man will neuer be ouercome, which he reasoneth with another, & therefore God must breake off the controuersie, and stop mans mouth.
d That is, the perfection of God, and if man be not able to comprehend the height of the heauen, the depth of hell, the length of the earth, the breadth of the sea, which are but creatures, how can he attaine to the perfection of the Creator?
e If God should turne the face of things, and establish anewe order in nature, who could controll him?
f That is, without vnderstanding: so that whatsoeuer gifts he hath afterward, come of God, and not of nature.
g If thou repent, pray vnto him.
* Leuit. 26. 36.

thee, and the foules of the heauen, and they ſhall tell thee:

8 Or ſpeake to the earth, and it ſhall ſhewe thee: or the fiſhes of the ſea, and they ſhall declare vnto thee.

9 Who is ignorant of all theſe, but that the hand of the Lorde hath made theſe?

10 In whoſe hande is the ſoule of euery liuing thing, and the breath of all ‖ mankinde.

11 Doeth not the eares f diſcerne the wordes? and the mouth taſte meate for it ſelfe?

12 Among the z ancient is wiſedome, and in the length of dayes is vnderſtanding.

13 With him is wiſedome and ſtrength: hee hath counſell and vnderſtanding.

14 Beholde, he will breake downe, and it can not be built: he ſhutteth a man vp, and he cannot be looſed.

15 Beholde, he withholdeth the waters, and they drie vp: but when he ſendeth them out, they deſtroy the earth.

16 With him is ſtrength & wiſedome: he that is deceiued, and that h deceiueth, are his.

17 He cauſeth the counſellers to goe as ſpoyled, and maketh the iudges fooles.

18 i Hee looſeth k the collet of Kings, and gird-eth their loynes with a girdle.

19 He leadeth away the princes as a pray, and ouerthroweth the mightie.

20 He taketh away the ſpeech from the l faithfull counſellers, and taketh away the iudgement of the ancient.

21 He powreth contempt vpon princes, & maketh the ſtrength of the mightie weake.

22 He diſcouereth the deepe places from their darkeneſſe, and bringeth foorth the ſhadowe of death to light.

23 He m increaſeth the people, and deſtroyeth them: he inlargeth the nations, and bringeth them in againe.

24 He taketh away the hearts of them that are the chiefe ouer the people of the earth, & maketh them to wander in the wilderneſſe out of the way.

25 They grope in the darke without light: and he maketh them to ſtagger like a drunken man.

9 Is it well that hee ſhoulde ſeeke of you? d Your fame ſhall come to nothing. will you make a lie for him, as one lieth for a man?

10 He will ſurely reprooue you, if yee doe ſecretly accept any perſon.

11 Shall not his excellencie make you afraid? and his feare fall vpon you?

12 Your d memories may be compared vnto aſhes, and your bodies to bodies of clay.

13 Holde your tongues in my preſence, that I may ſpeake, and let come vpon what will.

14 Wherefore doe I e take my fleſh in my teeth, and put my ſoule in mine hand?

15 Loe, though he ſlay mee, yet will I treſt in him, and I will reprooue my wayes in his ſight.

16 He ſhall be my ſaluation alſo: for the f hypocrite ſhall not come before him.

17 Heare diligently my wordes, and marke my talke.

18 Behold now: if I prepare me to iudgement, I know that I ſhalbe g iuſtified.

19 Who is he, that will pleade h with me? for if I now holde my tongue, I i die.

20 But doe not theſe two thinges vnto me: then will I not hide my ſelfe from thee.

21 k Withdrawe thine hande from me, and let not thy feare make me afraide.

22 Then call thou, and I will anſwere: or let me ſpeake, and anſwere thou me.

23 How many are l mine iniquities and ſinnes? ſhewe me my rebellion, and my ſinne.

24 Wherefore hideſt thou thy face, and takeſt me for thine enemie?

25 Wilt thou breake a leafe driuen to and fro? and wilt thou purſue the drie ſtubble?

26 For thou writeſt bitter things againſt me, & makeſt me to poſſeſſe the iniquities of my youth.

27 Thou putteſt my feete alſo in the n ſtockes, and lookeſt narrowly vnto all my pathes, and makeſt the print thereof in the † heeles of my feete.

28 Such one conſumeth like a rotten thing, and as a garment that is motheaten.

d Your fame ſhall come to nothing.
e Is not this a manifeſt ſigne of mine affliction, and that I doe not complaine without cauſe, ſeeing that I am thus tormented as though I ſhould teare mine owne fleſh, and put my life in danger?
f Whereby hee declareth that he is not an hypocrite as they charged him.
g That is, cleared, and not caſt off for my ſinnes, as you reaſon.
h To proue that God doeth thus puniſh me for my ſinnes.
i If I defend not my cauſe, euery man will condeme me.
k He ſheweth what theſe two things are.
l His pangs that moue him to reaſon with God, not denying but that he had ſinned; but he deſired to vnderſtand what were his great ſinnes that had deſerued ſuch rigour, wherein he offended that he would know a cauſe of God why he did puniſh him.
m Thou puniſheſt me now for the faultes that I committed in my youth, n Thou makeſt me a priſoner, and doeſt ſo preſſe me that I can not ſtirre hand nor foote. † Eb. rootes.

CHAP. XIII.

1 Iob compareth his knowledge with the experience of his friendes. 16 The penitent ſhalbe ſaued, and the hypocrite condemned. 20 He prayeth vnto God that he would not handle him rigorouſlie.

LOe, mine eye hath ſeene all this: mine eare hath heard, and vnderſtood it.

2 I know alſo as much as you know: I am not inferiour vnto you.

3 But I will ſpeake to the Almightie, and I deſire a to diſpute with God.

4 For in deede ye forge lyes, and all you are b phyſitions of no value.

5 Oh, that you woulde holde your tongue, that it might be imputed to you for wiſedome!

6 Nowe heare my diſputation, and giue eare to the arguments of my lips.

7 Will ye ſpeake c wickedly for Gods defence, and talke deceitfully for his cauſe?

8 Will ye accept his perſon? or will ye contend for God?

CHAP. XIIII.

1 Iob deſcribeth the ſhortnes and miſerie of the life of man. 14 Hope ſuſteineth the godly. 22 The condition of mans life.

MAn a that is borne of woman, is of ſhort continuance, and full of trouble.

2 He ſhooteth foorth as a floure, and is cut downe: he vaniſheth alſo as * a ſhadow, and continueth not.

3 And yet thou openeſt thine eyes vpon ſuch b one, and cauſeſt me to enter into iudgement with thee.

4 * Who can bring a cleane thing out of filthineſſe? there is not one.

5 Are not his dayes determined? the number of his moneths are with thee: thou haſt appointed his bounds, which he cannot paſſe.

6 Turne from him that hee may ceaſe vntill his deſired day, c as an hireling.

7 For there is hope of a tree, if it be cut downe, that it will yet ſproute, and the branches thereof will not ceaſe.

8 Though the roote of it waxe old in the earth, and the ſtocke thereof be dead in the ground,

9 Yet by the ſent of water it will budde, and a Taking occaſion of his aduerſaries wordes, he deſcribeth the ſtate of mans life from his birth to his death.

* Chap.8.9. pſal.144.4.
b His meaning is, that ſeeing that man is ſo fraile a creature, God ſhould not handle him ſo extremely: wherein Iob ſheweth the wickedneſs of the fleſh, when it is not ſubiect to the Spirit.
* Pſal.51.5.
c Vntill the time that thou haſt appointed for him to die, which he deſireth, as the hireling waiteth for the end of his labour to receiue his wages.

bring foorth boughes like a plant.

10 d But man is sicke, and dieth, and man perisheth, and where is he?

11 As the waters passe from the sea, and as the flood decayeth and drieth vp,

12 So man sleepeth and riseth not: for he shal not wake againe, nor be raised from his sleepe till the heauen be no more.

13 Oh that thou wouldest hide me in ỹ graue, and keepe me secret, vntill thy e wrath were past, and wouldest giue me terme, and f remember me.

14 If a man die, shall he liue againe? All the dayes of mine appointed time will I waite, till g my changing shall come.

15 Thou shalt call me, and I shall h answere thee: thou louest the worke of thine owne hands.

16 But now thou * numbrest my steppes, and doest not delay my sinnes.

17 Mine iniquitie is sealed vp, as in a i bagge, and thou addest vnto my wickednesse.

18 And surely as the mountaine that falleth, commeth to nought, and the k rocke that is remoued from his place:

19 As the water breaketh ỹ stones, when thou ouerflowest the things which grow in the dust of the earth: so thou destroyest the hope of man.

20 Thou preuailest alway against him, so that he passeth away: he changeth his face when thou castest him away.

21 And he knoweth not if his sonnes shall be honourable, neither shall he vnderstand concerning them, whether they shall be of low degree, 22 But while his l flesh is vpon him, he shall be sorowfull, and while his soule is in him, it shall mourne.

d He speaketh not here as though he had not hope of the immortalitie, but as a man in extreme paine, when reason is ouercome by affections and torments.

e Hereby he declareth that the feare of Gods iudgement was the cause why he desired to die.

f That is, release my paines, and take me to mercie.

g Meaning, vnto the day of the resurrection when he should be changed, and renued.

h Though I be afflicted in this life, yet in the resurrection I shall feele thy mercies and answere when thou callest me.

* Prouerb. 5 21.

i Thou layest them all together, and suffrest none of my sinnes vnpunished.

k He murmureth through the impatiencie of the flesh against God, as though he vsed a great seuerntie against him as against the hard rockes, or waters that ouerflow, so that hereby all the occasion of his hope is taken away. l Yet whiles he liueth, he shalbe in paine and miserie.

CHAP. XV.

1 Eliphaz reprehendeth Iob, because he ascribeth wisedome, and pureneſſe to himselfe. 16 He describeth the curse that falleth on the wicked, reckoning Iob to be one of the number.

THen answered Eliphaz the Temanite, and saide,

2 Shall a wise man speake wordes of ỹ a winde, and fill his bellie b with the East winde?

3 Shall he dispute with wordes not comelie? or with talke that is not profitable?

4 Surely thou hast cast off c feare, and restrainest prayer before God.

5 For thy mouth declareth thine iniquitie, seeing thou hast chosen d the tongue of the crafty.

6 Thine owne mouth condemneth thee, and not I, and thy lips testifie against thee.

7 Art thou the e first man, that was borne? and wast thou made before the hils?

8 Hast thou heard the secret counsell of God, and doest thou restraine wisedome f to thee?

9 What knowest thou that we know not? and vnderstandest that is not in vs?

10 With vs are both ancient & very aged men, farre older then thy father.

11 Seeme the consolations of God g small vnto thee? is this thing strange vnto thee?

12 Why doeth thine heart h take thee away, and what doe thine eyes meane, 13 That thou answerest to God † at thy pleasure, and bringest such wordes out of thy mouth?

a That is vaine wordes, and without consolation.

b Meaning, with matters that are of none importance, which are forgotten assoone as they are vttered, as the East winde drieth vp the moisture assoone as it falleth.

c He chargeth Iob as though his talke caused men to cast off the feare of God and prayer.

d Thou speakest as doe the mockers and contemners of God.

e That is, the most ancient, and so by reason the most wise?

f Art thou onely wise?

g He accuseth Iobs pride and ingratitude, that will not be comforted by God, nor by their counsell.

h Why doest thou stand in thine owne conceite?

† Ebr. in thy spirite.

14 What is man, that he should be cleane? and he that is borne of woman, that he should i be iust?

15 Beholde, he founde no stedfastnesse in his Saintes: yea, ỹ heauens are not cleane in his sight.

16 How much more is man abominable, and filthie, which k drinketh iniquitie like water?

17 I will tell thee: heare me, and I will declare that which I haue seene:

18 Which wise men haue tolde, as they haue heard of their fathers, and haue not kept it secret:

19 To whome alone the land was l giuen and no stranger passed through them.

20 The wicked man is continually as one that trauelleth of childe, and the number m of yeeres is hid from the tyrant.

21 A sounde of feare is in his eares, and in his prosperitie the destroyer shall come vpon him.

22 He beleeueth not to returne out of n darknesse: for he seeth the sword before him.

23 He wandreth o to and fro for bread where he may: he knoweth that the day of darkenesse is prepared at hand.

24 Affliction and p anguish shall make him afraid: they shall preuaile against him as a King redie to the battell.

25 For he hath stretched out his hand against GOD, and made himselfe strong against the Almightie.

26 Therefore God shall runne vpon him, euen vpon his necke, and against the most thicke part of his shield.

27 Because he hath couered his face with q his fatnesse, and hath collops in his flancke.

28 Though he dwell r in desolate cities, and in houses which no man inhabiteth, but are become heapes, 29 He shall not be rich, neither shall his substance continue, neither shal he prolong the perfection thereof in the earth.

30 He shall neuer depart out of darkenesse: the flame shall drie vp his branches, and he shall goe away with the breath of his mouth.

31 He t beleeueth not that he erreth in vanitie: therefore vanitie shall be his change.

32 His branch shall not be greene, but shall be cut off before his day.

33 God shall destroy him as the vine her sowre u grape, and shall cast him off, as the oliue doeth her flowre.

34 For the congregation of the hipocrite shalbe desolate, and fire shall deuoure the houses of x bribes.

35 For they y conceiue mischiefe and bring foorth vanitie, and their bellie hath prepared deceite.

i His purpose is to proue that as no man is pure, and an vnrighteous man is punished for his sinnes, therefore he did before.

4.18.

k Which hath a desire to sinne, as he that is thirstie to drinke.

l Who by their wisedome so gouerned, that no stranger inuaded them, and so the land seemed to be giuen to them alone.

m The cruell man is euer in danger of death, and is neuer quiet in conscience.

n Out of that miserie whereunto he once falleth.

o God doeth not onely imponish the wicked at times: but euen in their prosperitie he punisheth them with a greedinesse enermore to get: which is as a beggerie.

p He sheweth what weapons God vseth against the wicked, which lift vp themselues against him, to wit, terrour of conscience, and outward afflictions.

q That is, he was so puft vp with great prosperitie and abundance of all things, that he forgate God: noting, that Iob in his felicitie, had not the true feare of God.

r Though he build, and repaire ruinous places to get him fame, yet God shall bring all to nought and turne his great prosperitie into extreme miserie.

s Meaning, that his sumptuous buildings should neuer come to perfection. t He standeth so in his owne conceite, that he will giue no place to good counsell, therefore his owne pride shall bring him to destruction. u As one that gathereth grapes before they be ripe. x Which were built or maintained by powling, and briberie. y And therefore all their euil deuices shall turne to their owne destruction.

CHAP XVI.

1 Iob mooued by the importunacie of his friends, 7 Counteth vp what extremitie he is, 19 And taketh God to witnesse of his innocencie.

BVt Iob answered, and said,

2 I haue oft times heard such things: miserable comforters are ye all.

3 Shall there be none ende of the wordes of a winde

a winde? or what maketh thee bold so to b answere?

4 I could also speake as ye doe: (but would God your c soule were in my soules stead) I could keepe you companie in speaking, and coulde d shake mine head at you,

5 But I woulde strengthen you e with my mouth, and the comfort of my lippes shoulde assuage your sorowe.

6 Though I speake, my sorow f can not be assuaged: though I cease, what release haue I?

7 But nowe g he maketh me wearie: O God, thou hast made all my h congregation desolate,

8 And hast made me full of wrinkles which is a witnesse thereof, and my leannesse riseth vp in me, testifying the same in my face.

9 k His wrath hath torne me, and hee hateth me, and gnasheth vpon me with his teeth: mine enemie hath sharpened his eyes against me.

10 They haue opened their mouthes vpon me, and smitten me on the l cheeke in reproch: they gathered themselues together against me.

11 God hath deliuered me to the vniust, and hath made mee to turne out of the way by the m handes of the wicked.

12 I was in wealth, but he hath brought me to nought: he hath taken me by the necke, and beaten me, and set me as a marke for himselfe.

13 His n archers compasse mee rounde about: he cutteth my reines, and doth not spare, and powreth my gall o vpon the ground.

14 He hath broken me with one breaking vpon another, and runneth vpon me like a gyant.

15 I haue sowed a sackecloth vpon my skinne, and haue abased mine p horne vnto the dust.

16 My face is withered with weeping, and the shadow of death is vpon mine eyes, 17 Though there be no wickednesse in q mine hands, and my prayer r be pure.

18 O earth, couer not thou my s blood, and let my crying finde no place.

19 For lo, now my t witnesse is in the heauen, and my record is on hie.

20 My friends u speake eloquently against me: but mine eye powreth out teares vnto God.

21 Oh that a man might x pleade with God, as a man with his neighbour!

22 For the yeeres accounted come, and I shall goe the way, whence I shall not returne.

a Which come your selues iuste? as Chap.12.4.
b Whome you take to be but beastes, as chap. 12.7.
c That is, like a mad man.
d Shall God change the order of nature for thy sake, by dealing with thee otherwise then he doth with all men?
e When the wicked is in his prosperite, then God changeth his state: and this is his ordinarie working for their sinnes.
f Meaning that the wicked are in continuall danger.
g That which should nourish him, shalbe consumed by famine.
h That is, some strong and violent death shall consume his strengths or as the Ebrewe word signifieth, his members or parts.
i That is, with most great feare.
k Meaning, not truely come by.
l Though all the world would honor him, yet God would destroy him and his.

CHAP. XVII.

1 Iob sayth that he consumeth away, and yet doeth patiently abide it. 10 He exhorteth his friendes to repentance, 13 shewing that he looketh but for death.

MY breath is corrupt: my dayes are cut off, and the graue is ready for me.

2 There are none but a mockers with me, and mine eye continueth in b their bitternesse.

3 c Lay downe nowe and put me in suretie for thee: who is he, that d wil touch mine hand?

4 For thou hast hid their heart frō e vnderstanding: therefore shalt thou not set them vp on hie.

a Instead of comfort, being nowe at death doore, he had but them that mocked at him, and disconraged him.
b I see still that they seeke but to hurte mee.
c Be reasoneth with God as a man beside himselfe, to the intent that his cause might be brought to light.
d And answere for me?
e That these mine afflictions are but iust iudgements, though man know not the cause.

5 f For the eyes of his children shal faile, that speaketh flatterie to his friendes.

6 Hee hath also made me a g byword of the people, and I am as a Tabret h before them.

7 Mine eye therefore is dimme for grieſe, and all my strength is like a shadowe.

8 The righteous shalbe astonied at i this, and the innocent shalbe moued against the hypocrite.

9 But the righteous wil hold his k way, and he whose hands are pure, shall increase his strength.

10 And l you therefore turne you, and come nowe, and I shall not finde one wise among you.

11 My dayes are past, mine enterprises are broken, and the thoughts of mine heart

12 Haue changed the m night for the day, and the light that approched, for darkenesse.

13 Though I hope, n yet the graue shall be mine house, and I shal make my bed in the darke.

14 I shall say to corruption, Thou art my o father, and to the worme, Thou art my mother and my sister.

15 Where is then now mine hope? or who shal consider the thing, that I hoped for?

16 p They shall goe downe into the bottome of the pit: surely it shal lie together in the dust.

f He that flattereth a man, and onely iudgeth him happie in his prosperitie, shall not himselfe onely but in his posteritie be punished.
g God hath made all the world to speake of me, because of mine afflictions.
h That is, as a continuall sound in their eares.
i To wit, when they see the godly punished: but in the ende they shall come to vnderstanding, & know what shalbe the reward of the hypocrite.
k That is, wil not be discouraged, considering that the godly are punished, as well as the wicked.
l Iob speaketh to them three, that came to comfort him.
m That is, haue brought mee sorowe in stead of comfort.
n Though I shoulde hope to come from aduersitie to prosperitie as your discourse pretendeth.
o I haue no more hope in father, mother, sister, or any worldly thing: for the dust and wormes shall be to mee in steade of them.
p All worldly hope, and prosperitie faile, which you say, are only signes of Gods fauour: but seeing that these things perish, I set mine hope in God, and in the life euerlasting.

CHAP. XVIII.

1 Bildad rehearseth the paines of the vnfaithful and wicked.

THen answered Bildad the Shuhite, and saide,

2 Whē wil a ye make an end of your words? b cause vs to vnderstand, and then we will speake.

3 Wherefore are we counted as beastes, and are vile in your sight?

4 Thou art c as one, that teareth his soule in his anger. Shall the d earth bee forsaken for thy sake? or the rocke remooued out of his place?

5 Yea, the light of the wicked shalbe e quenched, and the sparke of his fire shall not shine.

6 The light shalbe darke in his dwelling, and his candle shalbe put out with him.

7 The steps of his strength shalbe restrained, and his owne counsell shall cast him downe.

8 For hee is taken in the net by his feete, and he f walketh vpon the snares.

9 The grenne shall take him by the heele, and the theefe shall come vpon him.

10 A snare is laied for him in the ground, and a trappe for him in the way.

11 Fearefulnesse shall make him afraid on euery side, and shall drive him to his feete.

12 His strength shalbe g famine: and destruction shalbe readie at his side.

13 It shall deuoure the inner partes of his skinne, and the h first borne of death shal deuoure his strength.

14 His hope shalbe rooted out of his dwelling, and shall cause him to go to the i King of feare.

15 Feare shall dwell in his house (because it is not k his) l and brimstone shalbe scattered vpon his habitation.

16 His rootes shalbe dried vp beneath, and a bowe shall his branch be cut downe.

17 His remembrance shall perish from the earth, and he shall haue no name in the streetes.

18 They ſhall driue him out of the m light vnto darkeneſſe, and chaſe him out of the world.

19 Hee ſhall neither haue ſonne nor nephewe among his people, nor any poſteritie in his dwellings.

20 The poſteritie ſhalbe aſtonied at his n day, and feare ſhall come vpon the ancient.

21 Surely ſuch are the habitations of the wicked, and this is the place of him that knoweth not God.

CHAP. XIX.

Iob reproueth his friendes, 15 and reciteth his miſeries and grieuous paines. 25 Hee aſſureth himſelfe of the generall reſurrection.

BVt Iob anſwered, and ſaid,

2 Howe long will yee vexe my ſoule, and torment me with wordes?

3 Ye haue now a ten times reproched me, and are not aſhamed: yeare impudent toward me.

4 And though I had in deede erred, mine error b remaineth with me.

5 But in deede if yee will aduance your ſelues againſt me, and rebuke me for my reproch,

6 Know nowe, that God hath c ouerthrowen me, and hath compaſſed me with his net.

7 Beholde, I crie out of violence, but I haue none anſwere: I crie, but there is no iudgement.

8 Hee hath hedged vp my way that I cannot d paſſe, and he hath ſet darkeneſſe in my paths.

9 Hee hath ſpoyled mee of mine honour, and taken the e crowne away from mine head.

10 He hath deſtroyed me on euery ſide, & I am gone: & he hath remoued mine hope like a f tree.

11 And he hath kindled his wrath againſt me, and counteth me as one of his enemies.

12 His g armies came together, and made their way vpon me, and camped about my tabernacle.

13 He hath remooued my brethren farre from mee, and alſo mine acquaintance were ſtrangers vnto me.

14 My neighbours haue forſaken me, and my familiars haue forgotten me.

15 h They that dwell in mine houſe, and my maydes tooke mee for a ſtranger: for I was a ſtranger in their ſight.

22 Why doe ye perſecute me, as n God? and are not ſatisfied with my o fleſh?

23 Oh that my wordes were now written! oh that they were written euen in a booke, 24 And grauen with p an yron pen in lead, or in ſtone for euer!

25 For I am ſure that my q redeemer liueth, and he ſhall ſtand the laſt on the earth.

27 Whom I my ſelfe ſhall ſee, and mine eyes ſhall beholde, and none other for me, though my reines are conſumed within me.

28 But ye ſayd, Why is hee perſecuted? And there was a ſ deepe matter in me.

Zophar ſheweth, that the wicked and the couetous ſhall haue a ſhort ende, 22 though for a time they floriſh.

THen anſwered Zophar ſ Naamathite, & ſaid,

27 The heauen shall declare his wickednesse, and the earth all rise vp against him.

28 The q increase of his house shall go away: it shall flow away in the day of his wrath.

29 This is the portion of the wicked man from r God, and the heritage that he shall haue of God, for his s wordes.

CHAP. XXI.

Iob declareth howe the prosperitie of the wicked moueth them prowde, 15 In so much that they blaspheme God. 26 Their destruction is at hand. 23 None ought to be iudged wicked for affliction, neither good for prosperitie.

BVt Iob answered, and sayd,

2 Heare diligently my wordes, and this a shalbe in stead of your consolations.

3 Suffer mee, that I may speake, and when I haue spoken, mocke on.

4 Doe I direct my talke to man? If it b were so, how should not my spirit be troubled?

5 Marke mee, and bee abashed, and lay your hand vpon your c mouth.

6 Euen when I remember, I am afraide, and feare taketh hold on my flesh.

7 Wherefore doe the wicked d liue, and waxe olde, and grow in wealth?

8 Their seede is established in their sight with them, and their generation before their eyes.

9 Their houses are peaceable without feare, and the rod of God is not vpon them.

10 Their bullocke gendreth, and faileth not: their cow calueth, and casteth not her calfe.

11 They send forth their children e like sheepe, and their sonnes dance.

12 They take the tabret and harpe, and reioyce in the sound of the organe.

13 They spend their dayes in wealth, and suddenly f they go downe to the graue.

14 They say also vnto God, Depart from vs: for we desire not the g knowledge of thy wayes.

15 Who is the Almightie, that we should serue him? and what profite should wee haue, if we should pray vnto him?

16 Lo, their wealth is not in their h hand: therfore let s counsel of the wicked i be farre from me.

17 How oft shall the candle of the wicked be put out? and their destruction come vpon them? he will diuide their liues in his wrath.

18 They shall be as stubble before the winde, and as chaffe that the storme carieth away.

19 God will lay vp the sorow of the father for his children: when he rewardeth him, hee shall know it.

20 k His eyes shall see his destruction, and hee shall drinke of the wrath of the Almightie.

21 For what pleasure hath he in his house after him, when the number of his moneths is cut off?

22 Shall any teach l God knowledge, who iudgeth the hieft things?

23 One m dyeth in his full strength, being in all ease and prosperitie.

24 His breastes all full of milke, and his bones runne full of marowe.

25 And another n dieth in the bitternesse of his soule, and neuer eateth with pleasure.

26 They shall sleepe both in o the dust, and the wormes shall couer them.

27 Beholde, I knowe your thoughts, and the enterprises wherewith ye do me wrong.

28 For ye say, Where is the princes p house? and where is the tabernacle of the wickeds dwelling?

29 May ye not q aske them that goe by the way? and ye cannot denie their signes, 30 But the wicked is kept vnto the day of r destruction, and they shall be brought forth to the day of wrath.

31 Who shall declare his way t to his face? and who shall reward him for that he hath done?

32 Yet shall he be brought to the graue, and remaine in the heape.

33 The u slime valley shalbe sweete vnto him, and euery man shall draw after him, as before him there were innumerable.

34 How then comfort x ye me in vaine, seeing in your answeres there remaine but lies?

m Your diligent marking of my wordes shalbe to me a great consolation. n As though he should say, I doe not talke with man, but w God, who will not answere me, & therefore my minde could neuer be quieted. o He chargeth them as though they were not able to comprehend this his feeling of Gods iudgement, it offendeth them euen to silence. p He meeteth against his aduersaries that God punisheth not straight, reioyceth the wicked, but oft times giueth them long life, & prosperitie: so that we must not iudge God iust or vniust by the things that appeare to our eyes. q They haue store of children, lusty and healthfull, & in their prayers he answereth to that which Zophar obiected before. r Not hauing respect vnto the loue of God. s Or, counsel. t Or, before. u They shall be couered with slime, as though they should neuer be seene. x Seeing ye alleage nothing to the contrary from the truth, that I haue spoken, this Iob throweth his aduersaries, that if they reason only by that which is seene by common experience, the wicked that hate God, are better dealt withall, then they that loue him. y It is not their owne, but God only that is to be vnto them. z God keepe me from their prosperitie. a When God vseth extremitie vnto the wicked, he shall know that his prosperitie was but vanitie.

34 How then comfort x ye me in vaine, seeing in your answeres there remaine but lies?

reproue him in this world, yet death is a token, that God will bring him to an account. b He shall be glad to lye in a stinke pitt, which before could not bee content with a royall palace. u Saying, that the iust in this world haue aduersities and the wicked aduertisis.

CHAP. XXII.

Eliphaz affirmeth that Iob is punished for his sinnes. 6 He accuseth him of vnmercifulnesse. 13 And that hee denied Gods prouidence. 21 He exhorteth him to repentance.

THen Eliphaz the Temanite answered, and sayde,

2 May a man be a profitable vnto God, as hee that is wise may be profitable to himselfe?

3 * Is it any thing vnto the Almightie, that thou art righteous? or is it profitable to him, that thou makest thy wayes vpright?

4 Is it for feare b of thee that hee will accuse thee? or go with thee into iudgement?

5 Is not thy wickednesse great, and thine iniquities innumerable?

6 For thou hast taken the c pledge fro thy brother for nought, & spoiled † clothes of the naked.

7 To such as were wearie, thou hast not giuen water to drinke, and hast withdrawen bread from the hungrie.

8 But the mightie man d had the earth, and he that was in authoritie, dwelt in it.

9 Thou hast cast out widowes emptie, and the armes of e the fatherlesse were broken.

10 Therefore snares are round about thee, and feare shall suddenly trouble thee.

11 Or, darkenesse that thou shouldest not see, and † abundance of waters shall couer thee.

12 Is not God in g heie in the heauens, and behold the height of the ‡ starres how hie they are?

13 But thou sayest, Howe should God know? can he iudge through the darke cloude?

a Though men were iust, yet God could haue no profite of this iustice: and therefore when he punisheth him, he hath no regard to his iustice, but to his sinne. * 1. chap 35. 7. b Least thou shouldest reproue or hurt him? c Thou hast been cruell and without charitie, and wouldest doe nothing for the poore, but for mine owne aduantage. † Or, cloathes. d Thou hast gotten all by violence. e Thou hast not onely not shewed pitie to fatherlesse children, but also to widowes. † Or, multitude. ‡ Or, starres of the firmament. g Meaning, the greatnesse of Gods maiestie. h That is much like the words of the wicked, that feare God, and reuerence him. i He repeateth Iob as though he denied Gods prouidence, and that he could not see the things that were 14 The cloudes hide him that he can not see, and he walketh in the circle of heauen.

15 Hast thou marked the way of the worlde, k wherein wicked men haue walked?

16 Which were l cut downe before the time, whose foundation was as a riuer that ouerflowed:

17 Which sayde vnto God, Depart from vs, and asked what the Almightie could do for them.

18 Yet hee m filled their houses with good things: but let the counsell of the wicked be farre from me.

19 The righteous shal see them, & shal reioyce, n and the innocent shall laugh them to scorne.

20 Surely o our substance is hid: but the fire hath deuoured the remnant of p them.

21 Therefore acquaint thy selfe, I pray thee, q with him, and make peace: thereby thou shalt haue prosperitie.

22 Receiue, I pray thee, the law of his mouth, and lay vp his words in thine heart.

23 If thou returne to the Almightie, thou shalt r be built vp, & thou shalt put iniquitie farre from thy tabernacle.

24 Thou shalt lay vp golde for r dust, and the gold of Ophir, as the flintes of the riuers.

25 Yea, the Almightie shalbe thy defence, and thou shalt haue plentie of siluer.

26 And thou shalt then delite in the Almightie, and lift vp thy face vnto God.

27 Thou shalt make thy praier vnto him, & he shall heare thee, and thou shalt render thy vowes.

28 Thou shalt also decree a thing, and he shall establish it vnto thee, and the t light shall shine vpon thy wayes.

29 u When others are cast downe, then shalt thou say, I am lifted vp: and God shall saue the humble person.

30 The innocent shal deliuer the x yland, & it shalbe preserued by the pureness of thine hands.

k Howe God hath punished them from the beginning?

l He proueth Gods prouidence by the punishment of the wicked, whom he taketh away before they can bring their wicked purposes to passe.

m He answereth to that, which Iob had sayd, Chap. 21.7. that the wicked haue prosperitie in this world: desiring that he might not be partaker of the like.

n The iust reioyce at the destruction of the wicked for two causes: first, because God sheweth himselfe iudge of the world, and by this meanes continueth his honour and glorie: secondly, because God sheweth that he hath care ouer his in that he punisheth their enemies.

o That is, the state and preseruation of the godly is hid vnder Gods wings.

p Meaning, of the wicked.

q He exhorteth Iob to repentance and to returne to God.

r God will restore vnto thee all thy substance.

s Which shalbe in abundance like dust. t That is, the fauour of God.

u God will deliuer his when the wicked are destroyed round about them, as in the flood and in Sodom.

x God will deliuer from perill, euen for the iust mans sake.

CHAP. XXIII.

Iob affirmeth that he hath knowen and feareth the power and sentence of the Iudge, 10 And that he is not punished onely for his sinnes.

BVt Iob answered and sayd,

2 Though my talke be this day in a bitternesse, and my plague greater then my groning,

3 Would God yet I knew howe to finde him, I would enter vnto his place.

4 I would pleade the cause before him, and fill my mouth with argumentes.

5 I would knowe the wordes, that he would answere me, and would vnderstand what he would say vnto me.

6 Would he b pleade against me with his great power? No, but he would c put strength in me.

7 d There the righteous might reason with him, so I should be deliuered for euer from my Iudge.

8 e Beholde, if I goe to the East, hee is not there: if to the West, yet I cannot perceiue him:

9 If to the North where hee worketh, yet I cannot see him: hee will hide himselfe in the South, and I cannot behold him.

a He sheweth the iust cause of his complaining, and as touching that Eliphaz had exhorted him to returne to God, Cha. 22.21. he declareth, that he desireth nothing more: but it seemed that God would not be found of him.

b Vsing his absolute power, and saying, Because I am God, I may do what I will.

c Of his mercie he would giue me power to answere him.

d When any of his mercie hath giuen strength to maintaine their cause.

e Meaning, that if he consider Gods iustice, he is not able to comprehend his iudgements on what side soeuer he turneth himselfe.

10 But he knoweth my f way, and trieth me, and I shall come forth like the gold.

11 My foote hath followed his steps: his way haue I kept, and haue not declined.

12 Neither haue I departed from the commandement of his lippes, and I haue g esteemed the words of his mouth more then mine appointed foode.

13 Yet he is in one minde, and who can h turne him? yea, he doeth what his minde desireth.

14 For he will performe that which is decreed of me, and i many such things are with him.

15 Therefore I am troubled at his presence, and in considering it, I am afraid of him.

16 For God k hath softened mine heart, and the Almightie hath troubled me.

17 For I am not cut off in l darkenesse, but he hath hid the darkenesse from my face.

f God hath prouided for me.

g He was not able to comprehend the way of God.

h Hee is not able to withstand him.

i Hee is not able to comprehend his iudgements.

k That I should not be without feare.

l He sheweth the cause of his feare, which is, that he being in trouble, seeth none end, neither yet knoweth the cause.

CHAP. XXIIII.

Iob describeth the wickednes of men, and sheweth what curse belongeth to the wicked, 12 How all things are gouerned by Gods prouidence, 17 And the destruction of the wicked.

HOwe shoulde not the times a be hid from the Almightie, seeing that they which knowe him, see not his b dayes?

2 Some remoue the land marks, that rob the flockes and feede thereof.

3 They leade away the asse of the fatherlesse: and take the widowes oxe to pledge.

4 They make the poore to turne out of the way, so that the poore of the earth hide themselues c together.

5 Beholde, others as wilde asses in the wildernesse, goe forth to their businesse, and d rise early for a pray: the wildernesse, e giueth him and his children foode.

6 They reape f his prouision in the fielde, but they gather the late g vintage of the wicked.

7 They cause the naked to lodge without garment, and without couering in the colde.

8 They are wet with the showres of the mountaines, h and they imbrace the rocke for want of a couering.

9 They plucke the fatherlesse i from the breast, and take the pledge k of the poore.

10 They cause him to goe naked without clothing, and take the gleaning from the hungrie.

11 They that make oyle l betweene their walles, and treade their wine presses, suffer thirst.

12 Men m cry out of the citie, and the soules of the slaine n cry out: yet God doth o not charge them with folie.

13 These are they, that abhorre the p light: they know not the way is thereof, nor continue in the paths thereof.

14 The murtherer riseth early, and killeth the poore & the needy: & in q night he is as a theefe.

15 The eye also of the adulterer waiteth for the twilight, and saith, None eye shall see me, and disguiseth his face.

16 They digge through houses in the darke, which they marked for themselues in the day:

a Thus Iob seeketh in his passion, & after the iudgement of the last: that is, that he seeth not the things that are done at times, neither yet hath a peculiar care ouer all, because he punished not the wicked, nor reuenged the godly.

b When he punisheth & reuenged it not as he doth it good.

c And for the feare and oppression dare not shew their faces.

d That is, seeke no diligently.

e He and his by robbing and murthering.

f Meaning, the poore hired seruant.

g Signifying, that one wicked deed will not serue an other, but for necessitie.

h The poore and driuen by the wicked into holes, where they cannot be safe for the rain.

i That is, the poore widow that the cruell cannot be able to pacifie the childe.

k That is, the garment of the poore.

l Meaning, that the poore are driuen to labour for the wicked in their houses & holes, where they cannot be safe for the rain.

m That is, the poore widowes and fatherlesse.

n Signifying, that God will reuenge the oppression of the poore.

o God doth not punish them as they deserue.

19 As the dry ground and heate consume the snowe waters, so shall the graue [t] the sinners.

20 [u] The pitifull man shall forget him: the worme shall feede his sweetenes: he shalbe no more remembred, and the wicked shall be broken like a tree.

21 He [x] doeth euil intreat y barren, that doeth not beare, neither doeth he good to the widowe.

22 He draweth also the [y] mightie by his power, and when he riseth vp, none is sure of life.

CHAP. XXV.

Bildad proueth that no man is cleane nor without sinne before God.

THen answered Bildad the Shuhite, and sayd,

2 [a] Power and feare is with him, that maketh peace in his hie places.

3 Is there any number in his armies? and vpon whom [b] shall not his light arise?

4 And how may a man [c] be iustified with God? or how can he be cleane that is borne of a woman?

5 Beholde, he wil giue no light to the moone, [d] and the starres are vncleane in his sight.

6 Howe much more man, a worme, euen the sonne of man, which is but a worme?

CHAP. XXVI.

Iob sheweth that man can not helpe God, and proueth it by his miracles.

BVt Iob answered, and sayde,

2 [a] Whom helpest thou? him that hath no power? sauest thou y arme that hath no strength?

3 Whome counsellest thou? him that hath no wisedome? thou [b] shewest right well as the thing is.

4 To whom doest thou declare these wordes? or whose spirit [c] commeth out of thee?

5 The [d] dead things are formed vnder the waters, and neere vnto them.

6 The graue is [e] naked before him, and there is no couering for [f] destruction.

7 He stretcheth out the [g] North ouer the emptie place, and hangeth the earth vpon nothing.

8 He bindeth the waters in his cloudes, and the cloude is not broken vnder them.

9 Hee holdeth backe the face of his throne, [h] and spreadeth his cloude vpon it.

10 He hath set bounds about the waters, vntil the [i] day and night come to an ende.

11 The [k] pillars of heauen tremble and quake at his reproofe.

12 The sea is calme by his power, and by his vnderstanding he smiteth the pride thereof.

13 His Spirit hath garnished the heauens, and his hand hath formed the crooked [l] serpent.

14 Loe, these are part of his wayes: but [m] how litle a portion heare we of him? and who can vnderstand his fearefull power?

r Which is a figure of starres fashioned like a serpent, because of the crookednesse. m Is these is fewe things, which we see dayly with our eyes, declare his great power and prouidence, howe much more would they appeare, if we were able to comprehend all his workes?

CHAP. XXVII.

3 The constantie and perseuerance of Iob. 13 The rewards of the wicked and of the tyrants.

MOreouer Iob proceeded and continued his parable, saying,

2 The liuing God hath taken away my [a] iudgement: for the Almightie hath put my soule in bitternesse.

3 Yet so long as my breath is in me, and the Spirit of God in my nostrels, 4 My lips surely shall speake no wickednesse, [b] and my tongue shall vtter no deceite.

5 God forbid, that I should [c] iustifie you: vntill I die, I will neuer take away mine [d] innocencie from my selfe.

6 I will keepe my righteousnesse, and wil not forsake it: mine heart shall not reproue me of my [e] dayes.

7 Mine enemie shall be as the wicked, and he that riseth against me, as the vnrighteous.

8 For what [f] hope hath the hypocrite when he hath heaped vp riches, if God take away his soule?

9 Wil God heare his cry, when trouble commeth vpon him?

10 Will hee set his delight on the Almightie? will he call vpon God at all times?

11 I will teache you what is in the hande of God, and I will not conceale that which is with the Almightie.

12 Beholde, all ye your selues [h] haue seene it: why then doe you thus vanish [i] in vanitie?

13 This is the [k] portion of a wicked man with God, and the heritage of tyrants, which they shall receiue of the Almightie.

14 If his children be in great number, the sworde shall destroy them, and his posteritie shall not be satisfied with bread.

15 His remnant shalbe buried in death, and his widowes [l] shall not weepe.

16 Though he should heape vp siluer as the dust, and prepare raiment as the clay, 17 He may prepare it, but the iust shall put it on, and the innocent shall diuide the siluer.

18 He buildeth his house as the [m] moth, and as a lodge that the watchman maketh.

19 When the rich man sleepeth, [n] he shall not be gathered to his fathers: they opened their eyes, and he was gone.

20 Terrours shal take him as waters, & a tempest shall cary him away by night.

21 The East winde shall take him away, & he shall depart: & it shall hurle him out of his place.

22 And God shall cast vpon him & not spare, though he would faine flee out of his hand.

a To the reuerence for his sacrifice.
r They thinke that all the worlde is bent against them, and are not goe by the hie way. s As dry ground is soone ful of water, so will they soone cease sinning til they come to the graue.
t Though God suffer the wicked a time, yet their ende shall be most vile destruction, and in this point he commeth to himself and sheweth his confidence.
u He sheweth why the wicked shall not be lamented, because he did not preserue others.
x He declareth further that the wicked haue destroied the weakest, they will doe like to the stronger, & therefore they are iustly preuented by Gods iudgements.
y That is, that contrary to your reasoning no man can giue a perfit reason of Gods iudgments, let me be reproued.

a His purpose is to proue, that although God trie and afflict the iust, yet he doth not therefore send prosperitie, & because he did not so to Iob, he condemneth that he is wicked.
b Who can hide him from his presence?
c That is, be iust in the sight of God?
d If God shewe his power, the moone and starres cannot haue that light, which is in them, much lesse can man haue any excellencie, but of God.

a Thou concludest nothing: for neither thou helpest me, which am destitute of all things, neither yet doest sufficiently as Gods beloued, who hath no need of thy deuise.
b But thou doest not apply it to the purpose.
c That is, mooued thee to speake this?
d Iob beginneth to declare y force & power & prouidence of the Lord and mortals in the deepe places of the earth.
e There is nothing hid in the bottome of the earth, but he seeth it.
f Meaning, the graue wherein things perish.
g He spreadeth the whole heauen to turne about the North pole.
h And couereth his throne with his cloude.
i So long as this world endureth.
k Not that heauen hath pillars to vpholde it, but he speaketh by a similitude, as though he would say, The heauen it selfe is not able to abide his reproche.
l Which is a figure of starres fashioned like a serpent, because of the crookednesse.
m Is these is fewe things, which we see dayly with our eyes, declare his great power and prouidence, howe much more would they appeare, if we were able to comprehend all his workes?

a He hath so long afflicted me, that men can not iudge of mine vprightnesse for they iudge only by outward signes.
b Howsoeuer men iudge of me, yet will I not speake contrary to that, which I haue sayd, and so doe wickedly in betraying the truth.
c Which condemne me as a wicked man, because the hand of God is vpon me.
d I will not confesse that God doeth thus punish me for my sinnes.
e Of my life past.
f What aduantage hath the dissembler to gaine neuer so much, seeing he shall lose his owne soule?
g That is, what God reserueth to himselfe, & whereof he giueth not the knowledge to all.
h That is, these secret iudgements of God, and yet doe not vnderstand them.
i Why maintaine you then this vanitie?
k Thus will God order the wicked, and punish him, euen vnto his posteritie.
l None shall lamente him.
m Which beareth his mansion or gate but is soone shaken away.
n He meaneth that the wicked tyrant shall not haue a quiet death, nor be buried honourably.

23 Euery man shall clap their hands at him, and hisse at him out of their place.

CHAP. XXVIII.

Iob sheweth that the wisedome of God is vnsearchable.

THe siluer surely hath his veine, [a] and the gold his place, where they take it.

2 Yron is taken out of the dust, and brasse is molten out of the stone.

3 God putteth an end to darkenesse, [b] and he tryeth the perfection of all things: he searcheth a bond of darkenesse, and of the shadow of death.

4 The flood breaketh out against the [c] inhabitant, and the waters [d] forgotten of the foote, being higher then man, are gone away.

5 Out of the same earth commeth [e] bread, and vnder it, as it were fire is turned vp.

6 The stones thereof are a place [f] of saphirs, and the dust of it is golde.

7 There is a path which no foule hath known, neither hath the kites eye seene it.

8 The lyons whelpes haue not walked it, nor the lyon passed thereby.

9 He putteth his hand vpon the [g] rockes, and ouerthroweth the mountaines by the roote.

10 Hee breaketh riuers in the rockes, and his eye seeth euery precious thing.

11 He bindeth the floods, that they doe not ouerflowe, and the thing that is hid, bringeth he to light.

12 But where is wisdome found? [h] and where is the place of vnderstanding?

13 Man knoweth not [i] the price thereof: for it is not found in the land of the liuing.

14 The depth sayeth, It is not in me: the sea also sayth, It is not with me.

15 [k] Golde shall not be giuen for it, neither shall siluer be weighed for the price thereof.

16 It shall not be valued with the wedge of golde of Ophir, nor with the precious Onix, nor the saphir.

17 The golde nor the chrystall shall be equall vnto it, nor the exchange shalbe for plate of fine golde.

18 No mention shalbe made of corall, nor of the [l] gabish: for wisedome is more precious then pearles.

19 The Topaz of Ethiopia shal not be equall vnto it, neither shall it be valued with the wedge of pure golde.

20 Whence then commeth wisedome? and where is the place of vnderstanding, 21 Seeing it is hid from the eyes of all the liuing, and is hid from the [m] foules of the heauen?

22 Destruction and death say, We haue heard the fame thereof with our eares.

23 But God vnderstandeth the [n] way thereof, and he knoweth the place thereof.

24 For he beholdeth the endes of the world, and seeth all that is vnder heauen, 25 To make the weight of the winde, and to weigh the waters by measure.

26 When he made a decree for the raine, and a way for the lightening of the thunder:

27 Then did he see it, and counted it: he prepared it and also considered it.

28 And vnto man he sayd, Behold, [o] the feare of the Lord is wisedome, and to depart from euill is vnderstanding.

a His purpose is to declare that mā may attaine in this world to diuers secrets of nature, but man is neuer able to comprehend y wisdom of God.

b There is nothing but it is compassed within certaine limites, and hath an end, but Gods wisdome.

c Meaning, him that dwelleth thereby.

d Which a man cannot wade thorowe.

e That is, come, and vnder neath it brimstone or cole, which easily conceiueth fire.

f He alludeth to the mines and secrets of nature, which are vnder the earth, whereinto neither foules nor beastes can enter.

g After that hee hath declared the wisdome of God in the secrets of nature, he describeth his power.

h Though Gods power and wisedome may be vnderstood in earthly things, yet his heauenly wisedome cannot be attained vnto.

i It is too hie a thing for man to attayne vnto in this world.

k It can neither be bought for golde nor precious stones, but is only the gift of God.

l Which is thought to be a kinde of precious stone.

m Meaning, that there is no natural meanes, whereby man might attaine to the heauenly wisdome:

n which he meaneth by the foules that flie hie.

o He maketh God onely the author of his wisdome, & the giuer thereof.

* Prouerb. 1.7.

p He declareth that man hath so much of this heauenly wisdome, as he sheweth by feering God, and departing from euill.

CHAP. XXIX.

Iob complaineth of the prosperitie of the time past. 7. 21 His authoritie, 22 Iustice and gentlenes.

SO Iob proceeded and continued his parable, saying,

2 Oh that I were as [†] in times past, when God preserued me!

3 When his [a] light shined vpon mine head: and when by his light I walked thorowe the [b] darkenesse,

4 As I was in the dayes of my youth: when [c] Gods prouidence was vpon my tabernacle:

5 When the almightie was yet with me, and my children round about me:

6 When I washed my pathes [d] with butter, and when [e] rocke powred me out riuers of oyle:

7 When I went out to the gate, and to the iudgement seate, and when I caused them to prepare my seate in the streete.

8 The yong men saw me, and [f] hid themselues, and the aged arose, and stood vp.

9 The princes stayed talke, and layde their hand on their [g] mouth.

10 The voyce of princes was hidde, and their tongue cleaued to the roofe of their mouth.

11 And when the [g] eare heard me, it blessed me: and when the eye saw me, it gaue witnesse to [h] me.

12 For I deliuered the [i] poore that cryed, and the fatherlesse, and him that had none to helpe him.

13 [k] The blessing of him that was ready to perish, came vpon mee, and I caused the widowes heart to reioyce.

14 I put [l] on iustice, and it couered me: my iudgement was as a robe, and a crowne.

15 I was the eyes to the blinde, and I was the feete to the lame.

16 I was a father vnto the poore, and when I knew not the cause, I sought it out diligently.

17 I brake also the chawes of the vnrighteous man, and pluckt the praye out of his teeth.

18 Then I sayd, I shall dye in my [m] nest, and I shall multiplie my dayes as the sand.

19 For my roote is [n] spread out by the water, and the dew shall lye vpon my branch.

20 My glory shall renue toward me, and my bowe shalbe restored in mine hand.

21 Vnto me men gaue eare, and waited, and helde their tongue at my counsell.

22 After my wordes they replied not, and my talke [o] dropped vpon them.

23 And they waited for me, as for the raine, & they opened their mouth [p] as for the latter raine.

24 If I [q] laughed on them, they beleeued it not: neither did they cause the light of my countenance [r] to fall.

25 I appointed out [s] their way, and did sit as chiefe, and dwelt as a King in the armie, and like him that comforteth the mourners.

CHAP. XXX.

Iob complaineth that he is contemned of the most contemptible, 11. 21 because of his aduersitie and affliction. 23 Death is the house of all flesh.

BVt now they that are yonger then I, [*] mocke me: yea, they whose fathers I haue refused to set with the [b] dogges of my flockes.

a When I felt his fauour.

b I was free from affliction.

c That is, formed by euident tokens to be more precise with me.

d By these similitudes he declareth the great prosperitie, that he was in, so that hee had none occasion to be such a sinner as they accused him.

e Being ashamed of their lightnesse and afraide of my grauitie.

f Acknowledging my wisedome.

g All that heard me praysed me.

h Testifying that I did good iuffies.

i Because his aduersaries did so much charge him with wickednesse, he is compelled to render account of his life.

k That is, I did succour him that was in distresse, so he had cause to praise me.

l I delited to doe iustice, as others did to weare costly apparell.

m That is, at home in my bed, without all trouble, and vnquietnesse.

n My felicitie doeth increase.

o That is, was pleasant vnto me.

p As the drie ground thirsteth for the raine.

q That is, they thought it not to be a iest, or they thought not that I would condescend vnto them.

r They were afrayd to offend me, and could not be angry.

s I had them at commandement.

[*] That is, make a state in contempt, and reproach before the eyes.

[b] Meaning, to be my shepheards, or to keepe my dogges.

2 For

2 For whereto ſhoulde the ſtrength of their handes haue ſerued mee, ſeeing age [c] periſhed in them?

3 For pouertie and famine they were ſolitarie, fleeing into the wildernesſe, which is darke, deſolate and waſte.

4 They cut vp ‖ nettles by the buſhes, and the iuniper rootes was their meate.

5 They were [d] chaſed forth from among men: they ſhouted at them, as at a theefe.

6 Therefore they dwelt in the clefts of riuers, in the holes of the earth and rockes.

7 They roared among the buſhes, and vnder the thiſtles they gathered themſelues.

8 They were the children of fooles and the children of villaines, which were more vile then the earth.

9 And nowe am I their [e] ſong, and I am their talke.

10 They abhorre me, and flee farre from mee, and ſpare not to ſpit in my face.

11 Becauſe that God hath looſed my [f] corde and humbled mee, [g] they haue looſed the bridle before me.

12 The youth riſe vp at my right hande: they haue puſht my feete, and haue trode on me as on the [h] paths of their deſtruction.

13 They haue deſtroyed my paths: they tooke pleaſure at my calamitie, they had none [i] helpe.

14 They came as a great breach of waters, and [k] vnder this calamitie they come on heapes.

15 Feare is turned vpon mee: and they purſue my ſoule as the winde, and mine health paſſeth away as a cloude.

16 Therefore my ſoule is nowe [l] powred out vpon mee, and the dayes of affliction haue taken holde on me.

17 [m] It pearceth my bones in the night, and my ſinewes take no reſt.

18 For the great vehemencie is my garment changed, which compaſſeth me about as the coler of my coate.

19 [n] He hath caſt me into the myre, and I am become like aſhes and duſt.

20 Whē I cry vnto thee, thou doeſt not heare me, neither regardeſt me, when I ſtand vp.

21 Thou turneſt thy ſelfe [o] cruelly againſt me, and art enemie vnto mee with the ſtrength of thine hand.

22 Thou takeſt me vp and cauſeſt mee to ride vpon the [p] wind, and makeſt my ſtrength to faile.

23 Surely I knowe that thou wilt bring mee to death, and to the houſe appoynted for all the liuing.

24 Doubtles none can ſtretch his hand [q] vnto the graue, though they cry in his deſtruction.

25 Did not I weepe [r] him that was in trouble? was not my ſoule in heauineſſe for the poore?

26 Yet when I looked for good, [s] euill came vnto me: and when I waited for light, there came darkeneſſe.

27 My bowels did boyle without reſt: for the dayes of affliction are come vpon me.

28 I went mourning [t] without ſunne: I ſtoode vp in the congregation [t] and cryed.

29 I am a brother to the [u] dragons, and a companion to the oſtriches.

30 My skinne is blacke vpon me, & my bones are burnt with [x] heate.

31 Therefore mine harpe is turned to mourning, and mine organs into the voyce of them that weepe.

CHAP. XXXI.

1 Iob reciteth the innocencie of his liuing, & number of his vertues, which declareth what ought to be the life of the fairhfull.

I Made a conenant with mine [a] eyes: why then ſhould I thinke on [b] a mayde?

2 For what portion ſhould I haue of God from aboue? and what inheritance of the Almightie from on hie?

3 Is not deſtruction to the wicked, & ſtrange puniſhment to [c] the workers of iniquitie?

4 Doeth not hee beholde my wayes, and tell all my ſteps?

5 If I haue walked in vanitie, or if my foote hath made haſte to deceite,

6 Let God weigh me in the iuſt balance, and he ſhall know mine [d] vprightnes.

7 If my ſteppe hath turned out of the way, or mine heart hath [e] walked after mine eye, or if any blot hath cleaued to mine handes,

8 Let me ſowe, and let another [f] eate: yea, let my plantes be rooted out.

9 If mine heart hath bene deceiued by a woman, or if I haue layde waite at the doore of my neighbour,

10 Let my wife [g] grinde vnto another man, and let other men bow downe vpon her:

11 For this is a wickednes, and iniquitie to be condemned:

12 Yea, this is a fire that ſhal deuoure [h] to deſtruction, & which ſhal roote out al mine increaſe.

13 If I did contemne the iudgement of my ſeruant, and of my mayde, when they [i] did contend with mee, 14 What then ſhall I do when [k] God ſtandeth vp? & when he ſhal viſit me, what ſhall I anſwere?

15 He that hath made me in the wombe, hath he not made [l] him? hath not he alone facioned vs in the wombe?

16 If I reſtrained the poore of their deſire, or haue cauſed the eyes of the widow [m] to faile,

17 Or haue eaten my morſels alone, and the fatherleſſe hath not eaten thereof,

18 (For from my youth hee hath growen vp with me [n] as with a father, and from my mothers wombe I haue bene a guide vnto her)

19 If I haue ſeene any periſh for want of clothing, or any poore without couering,

20 If his loynes haue not bleſſed mee, becauſe he was warmed with the fleece of my ſheepe,

21 If I haue lift [o] vp mine hand againſt the fatherles, when I ſaw [ỹ] I might help him in [ỹ] gate, 22 Let mine [p] arme fal from my ſhoulder, and mine arme be broken from the bone.

23 For Gods puniſhment was [q] fearefull vnto me, and I could not be deliuered frō his highneſſe.

24 If I made gold mine hope, or haue ſaide to the wedge of golde, Thou art my confidence,

25 If I reioyced becauſe my ſubſtance was great, or becauſe mine hand had gotten much,

26 If I did behold the [r] ſunne, when it ſhined, or the moone, walking in her brightnes,

27 If mine heart did flatter me in ſecret, or if my mouth did kiſſe mine [ſ] hand,

28 (This alſo had bene an iniquitie to be condemned: for I had denied the God [t] aboue)

29 If I reioyced at his deſtruction that hated a I kept mine eyes from all wanton lookes.

b Would not God then haue puniſhed me?
c Iob declareth that the feare of God was a bridle to ſtay him from all wickednesſe.
d He ſheweth wherein his vprightnes ſtandeth, that is, in aſmuch as he was blameles before men, & ſinned not againſt the ſecond table.
e That is, hath accomplished the luſt of mine eye.

32 The ſtranger did not lodge in the ſtreete, but I opened my doores vnto him, that went by the way.

33 If I haue hid [x] my ſinne, as Adam, concealing mine iniquitie in my boſome, 34 Though I could haue made afrayd a great multitude, yet the moſt contemptible of the families did [y] feare me: ſo I kept [z] ſilence, and went not out of the doore.

35 Oh that I had ſome to heare me! beholde my [a] ſigne that the Almightie will witneſſe for me: though mine aduerſarie ſhould write a booke againſt me, 36 Would not I take it vpon my ſhoulder, and binde it as [b] a crowne vnto me?

37 I will tell him the number of my goings, and goe vnto him as to a [c] prince.

38 If my land [d] crye againſt me, or the furrowes thereof complaine together,

39 If I haue eaten the fruites thereof without ſiluer: of if I haue grieued [e] the ſoules of the maſters thereof,

THE [f] WORDES OF IOB ARE ENDED.

u My ſeruants mooued me to be reuenged of mine enemie, yet did I neuer wiſh him hurt.

x And not confeſſed it freely: whereby it is euident that he iuſtified himſelfe before men and not before God.

y That is, I reuerenced the moſt weake and contemned, and was afrayd to offend them.

z I ſuffered them to ſpeake euill of me, and went not out of my houſe to reuenge it.

a This is a ſufficient token of my righteouſneſſe, that God is my witneſſe and will iuſtifie my cauſe.

b Should not this booke of his accuſations be a prayſe and commendation to me?

c I wil make him a count of all my life, without feare.

d As though I had withholden their wages that laboured in it.

e Meaning, that he was no briber nor extortioner.

CHAP. XXXII.

1 Elihu reproueth them of follie. 8 Age maketh not a man wiſe, but the Spirit of God.

SO theſe three men ceaſed to anſwere Iob, becauſe he †eſteemed himſelfe iuſt.

2 Then the wrath of Elihu the ſonne of Barachel the [a] Buzite, of the familie of [b] Ram, was kindled: his wrath, I ſay, was kindled againſt Iob, becauſe he iuſtified himſelfe [c] more then God.

3 Alſo his anger was kindled againſt his three friendes, becauſe they could not finde an anſwere, and yet condemned Iob.

4 (Now Elihu had waited till Iob had ſpoken: for [d] they were more ancient in yeeres then he)

5 So when Elihu ſawe, that there was none anſwere in the mouth of the three men, his wrath was kindled.

6 Therefore Elihu the ſonne of Barachel, the Buzite, anſwered, and ſayd, I am yong in yeeres, and ye are ancient: therefore I doubted, and was afraide to ſhewe you mine opinion.

7 For I ſayd, The dayes [e] ſhall ſpeake, and the multitude of yeeres ſhall teach wiſedome.

8 Surely there is a ſpirit in man, [f] but the inſpiration of the Almightie giueth vnderſtanding.

9 Great men are not alway wiſe, neither doe the aged alway vnderſtand iudgement.

10 Therefore I ſay, Heare me, and I will ſhew alſo mine opinion.

11 Behold, I did waite vpon your wordes, and hearkened vnto your knowledge, whiles you ſought out [g] reaſons.

12 Yea, when I had conſidered you, lo, there was none of you that reprooued Iob, nor anſwered his wordes:

13 Leſt yee ſhould ſay, We haue [h] found wiſedome: for God hath caſt him downe, and no man.

14 Yet hath [i] he not directed his words to me, neither will I anſwere [k] him by your wordes.

15 Then they fearing, anſwered no more, but left off their talke.

16 When I had waited (for they ſpake not, but ſtood ſtill and anſwered no more)

17 Then anſwered I in my turne, & I ſhewed mine opinion.

18 For I am full of [l] matter, and the ſpirite within me compelleth me.

19 Beholde, my belly is as the wine, which hath no vent, and like the new bottels that braſt.

20 Therefore will I ſpeake, that I may take breath: I wil open my lippes, and will anſwere.

21 I will not nowe accept the perſon of man, [m] neither wil I giue titles to man.

22 For I may not giue [n] titles, leſt my Maker ſhould take me away ſuddenly.

†Ebr. was iuſt in his owne eyes.

a Which came of Buz the ſonne of Nahor Abrahams brother.

b Or, as the Chalde paraphraſt readeth Abram.

c By making himſelfe innocent, and by charging God of rigour.

d That is, the three mentioned before.

e Meaning, the ancient, which haue experience.

f It is a ſpeciall gift of God that man hath vnderſtanding and commeth neither of nature nor by age.

g To proone that Iobs affliction came for his ſinnes.

h And flatter your ſelues, as though you had ouercome him.

i To wit, Iob.

k He vſeth almoſt the like argumẽts, but without taunting, & reproches.

l I haue conceiued in my minde great ſtore of reaſons.

m I wil neither haue regard to riches, credit, nor authoritie, but will ſpeake the very trueth.

n The Ebrewe worde ſignifieth, to change the name, as to call a foole a wiſe man meaning that hee would not cloke the trueth to flatter men.

CHAP. XXXIII.

5 Elihu accuſeth Iob of ignorance. 14 Hee ſheweth that God hath diuers meanes to inſtruct man and to drawe him from ſinne. 19. 29 He afflicteth man and ſuddenly deliuereth him. 26 Man being deliuered giueth thankes to God.

WHerefore, Iob, I pray thee, heare my talke and hearken vnto all my wordes.

2 Beholde nowe, I haue opened my mouth: my tongue hath ſpoken in my mouth.

3 My wordes are in the vprightneſſe of mine heart, & my lippes ſhall ſpeake pure knowledge.

4 The [a] Spirite of God hath made mee, and the breath of the Almightie hath giuen me life.

5 If thou canſt giue me anſwere, prepare thy ſelfe and ſtand before me.

6 Beholde, I am accordiug to thy wiſh in [b] Gods ſtead: I am alſo formed of the clay.

7 Beholde, my terrour ſhall not feare thee, neither ſhall mine hand [c] be heauie vpon thee.

8 Doubtleſſe thou haſt ſpoken in mine eares, and I haue heard the voyce of thy wordes:

9 I am [d] cleane, without ſinne: I am innocent, and there is none iniquitie in me.

10 Lo, he hath found occaſions againſt mee, and counted me for his enemie.

11 He hath put my feete in the ſtockes, and looketh narowly vnto all my paths.

12 Beholde, in this haſt thou not done right: I will anſwere thee, that God is greater then man.

13 Why doeſt thou ſtriue againſt him? for he doeth not [e] giue account of all his matters.

14 For God ſpeaketh [f] once or twiſe, and one ſeeth it not.

15 In dreames and [g] viſions of ỹ night, when ſleepe falleth vpon men, and they ſleepe vpon their beds,

16 Then he openeth the eares of men, euen by their corrections, which he [h] had ſealed,

17 That hee might cauſe man to turne away from his enterpriſe, and that hee might hide the [i] pride of man,

18 And keepe backe his ſoule from the pit, and that his life ſhould not paſſe by the ſword.

19 He is alſo ſtriken with ſorow vpon his bed, a I confeſſe the power of God, and am one of his, therefore thou oughteſt to heare mee.

b Becauſe Iob had wiſhed to diſpute his cauſe with God, Chap. 16. 21. ſo that he might doe it without feare, Elihu ſayth, he will reaſon in Gods ſtead, whom he needeth not to feare, becauſe he is a man made of the ſame matter that he is.

c I will not handle thee ſo roughly as theſe others haue done.

d He repeateth Iobs words, when by he proteſted his innocencie in diuers places, but ſpecially in the 13. 16. and 30. Chapter.

e The cauſe of his iudgements is not alwayes declared to man.

f Though God by ſundry examples of his iudgements ſpeake vnto vs, yet the reaſon thereof is not knowen: yea and though God ſhould ſpeake, yet he is not vnderſtood.

g God ſayth hee ſpeaketh commonly, either by viſions to teach vs the cauſe of his iudgements, or els by afflictions, or by his meſſenger.

h That is, determined to ſend vpõ them.

i He ſheweth for what end God ſendeth afflictions: to beate downe mans pride, and to turne from euill.

and

and the griefe of his bones is sore.

20 So that his [a] life causeth him to abhorre bread, and his soule daintie meate.

21 His flesh faileth that it can not be seene, and his bones which were not seene, clatter.

22 So his soule draweth to the graue, and his life [l] to the buriers.

23 If there be a [m] messenger with him, or an interpreter, one of a thousand [n] to declare vnto man his righteousnesse, 24 Then will he haue [o] mercie vpon him, and will say, [p] Deliuer him, that he go not downe into the pit: for I haue receiued a reconciliation.

25 Then shal his flesh be [q] as fresh as a childes, and shall returne as in the dayes of his youth.

26 He shall pray vnto God, and he wil be fauourable vnto him, and he shall see his face with ioy: for he wil render vnto man his [r] righteousnes.

27 Hee looketh vpon men, and if one say, I haue sinned, and [s] peruerted righteousnesse, and it did not profite [t] me, 28 [u] He will deliuer his soule from going into the pit, and his life shall see the light.

29 Lo, all these things will God worke [x] twise or thrise with a man, 30 That he may turne backe his soule from the pit, to be illuminate in the light of the liuing.

31 Marke well, O Iob, and heare me: keepe silence, and I will speake.

32 If there be [y] matter, answere me, and speake: for I desire to [z] iustifie thee.

33 If thou hast not, heare mee: holde thy tongue, and I will teach thee wisedome.

a Which are esteemed wise of the world.
b Let vs examine the matter vprightly.
c That is, hath afflicted me without measure.
d Should I say I am wicked, being an innocent?
e I am sorer punished, then my sinne deserueth.
f Which is compelled to receiue the reproch and scornes of many for his foolish wordes.
g Meaning, that Iob was like to the wicked, because he seemed not to glorifie God and submit himselfe to his iudgements.
h He wresteth Iobs wordes, who said, y Gods children are oft times punished in this worlde, and the wicked goe free. That is true godly, as Gene. 5 22. Heb. 34.43.

CHAP. XXXIIII.

5 Elihu chargeth Iob, that he called himselfe righteous. 12 He sheweth that God is iust in his iudgements. 24 God destroyeth the mightie. 30 By him the hypocrite reigneth.

MOreouer Elihu answered, and saide,

2 Heare my wordes, ye [a] wise men, and hearken vnto me, ye that haue knowledge.

3 For the eare tryeth the wordes, as the mouth tasteth meate.

4 Let vs seeke [b] iudgement among vs, and let vs know among our selues what is good.

5 For Iob hath saide, I am righteous, & God hath taken [c] away my iudgement.

6 Should I lye in [d] my right? my wound of the arrowe is [e] grieuous without my sinne.

7 What man is like Iob, that drinketh [f] scornfulnesse like water?

8 Which goeth in the [g] company of them that worke iniquitie, and walketh with wicked men?

9 For he hath saide, [h] It profiteth a man nothing that he should [i] walke with God.

10 Therefore hearken vnto mee, yee men of wisedome, God forbid that wickednes should be in God, and iniquitie in the Almightie.

11 For he will render vnto man according to his worke, and cause euery one to finde according to his way.

12 And certainely God wil not doe wickedly, neither will the Almightie peruert iudgement.

13 Whom*hath he appointed ouer [y] earth beside him selfe? or who hath placed [y] whole world?

14 If [k] he set his heart vpon man, and gather vnto himselfe his spirit [l] and his breath, 15 All flesh shal perish together, and man shal returne vnto dust, 16 And if thou hast vnderstanding, heare this and hearken to the voyce of my wordes.

17 Shal he that hateth iudgement, [m] gouerne? and wilt thou iudge him wicked that is most iust?

18 Wilt thou say vnto a King, Thou art [n] wicked? or to princes, Ye are vngodly?

19 How much lesse to him that accepteth not the persons of princes, & regardeth not the rich, more then the poore? for they be all the worke of his handes.

20 They shall die suddenly, [o] and the people shalbe troubled at midnight, [p] and they shal passe foorth and take away the mightie without hand.

21 For his eyes are vpon the wayes of man, and he seeth all his goings.

22 There is no darkenes nor shadowe of death, that [y] workers of iniquitie might be hid therein.

23 For he will not lay on man so much, that he should [q] enter into iudgement with God.

24 He shall breake the mightie without [r] seeking, and shall set vp other in their stead.

25 Therefore shal he declare their [s] workes: he shall turne the [t] night, and they shalbe destroyed:

26 He striketh them as wicked men in the places of the [u] seers,

27 Because they haue turned backe from him, and would not consider all his wayes:

28 So that they haue caused the voyce of the poore to [x] come vnto him, and he hath heard the cry of the afflicted.

29 And when he giueth quietnesse, who can make trouble? and when he hideth his face, who can beholde him, whether it be vpon nations, or vpon a man onely?

30 Because the [y] hypocrite doeth reigne, and because the people are snared.

31 Surely it appertaineth vnto God [z] to say, I haue pardoned, I will not destroy.

32 [a] But if I see not, teach thou mee: if I haue done wickedly, I will doe no more.

33 Wil he performe the thing through [b] thee? for thou hast reproued [c] it, because that thou hast choosen, and not I. now speake what thou knowest.

34 Let men of vnderstanding tell me, and let a wise man hearken vnto me.

35 Iob hath not spoken of knowledge: neither were his wordes according to wisdome.

36 I desire that Iob may be [d] tried, vnto the ende touching the answeres for wicked men.

37 For hee [e] addeth rebellion vnto his sinne: he clappeth his hands among vs, and multiplieth his wordes against God.

i Meaning his workes? c Thus he speaketh in the person of God, as though Iob should chose and refuse affliction at his pleasure. d That he may speake as much as hee can, that we may answere him. and all the wicked that shall vse such arguments.
e He standeth stubburnely in the maintenance of his cause.

CHAP. XXXV.

6 Neither doth godlinesse profite, or vngodlinesse hurt God, but man. 13 The wicked crie vnto God and are not heard.

ELihu spake moreouer, and saide,

2 Thinkest thou this right, that thou hast saide, I am [a] more righteous then God?

3 For thou hast saide, What profiteth it thee and what auaileth it me, to purge me frō my sinne?

k To destroy him.
l The breath of life which he gaue man.
m If God were not iust, howe could he gouerne the worlde?
n If man of nature feare to speake euil of such as haue power, then much more ought they to be afraid to speake euill of God.
o When they looke not for it.
p The messengers of visitation that God shall send.
q God doeth not afflict man aboue measure, so that he should haue occasion to contend with him.
r For all his creatures are at hand to serue him, so that he needeth not to seeke for any other army.
s Make them manifest that they are wicked.
t Declare the things that were hid.
u Meaning openly in the sight of all men.
x By their crueltie and extortion.
y Which reigne for the more part in this worlde vnder pretence of executing iustice are but hypocrites and oppresse the people, it is a signe that God hath drawen backe his countenance and fauour from that place.
z Onely it belongeth to God to moderate his corrections, and not vnto man.
a Thus Elihu speaketh in the person of God, as it were mocking Iob because hee would be wiser then God.
b Will God vse thy counsell in doing?
a Iob never spake these wordes: but because he maintained his innocencie, it seemed as though hee would say, that God tormented him without iust cause.

4 Therefore will I answere thee, and thy [b] companions with thee.

5 Looke vnto the heauen, and see and behold the [c] cloudes which are hier then thou.

6 If thou sinnest, what doest thou [d] against him, yea, when thy sinnes bee many, what doest thou vnto him?

7 If thou be righteous, what giuest thou vnto him? or what receiueth he at thine hand?

8 Thy wickednesse may hurt a man as thou art, and thy righteousnes may profite [e] the sonne of man.

9 They cause many that are oppressed, [e] to crie, which crie out for the violence of the mightie.

10 But none saith, Where is God that made me, which giueth songs in the night?

11 Which teacheth vs more then the beastes of the earth, and giueth vs more wisedome then the foules of the heauen.

12 Then they crye because of the violence of the wicked, but [f] he answereth not.

13 Surely God will not heare vanitie, neither will the almightie regard it.

14 Although thou sayest to God, Thou wilt not regard it, [g] yet iudgement is before him: trust thou in him.

15 But now because his anger hath not visited, nor called to count the euill with great extremitie, 16 Therfore Iob [h] openeth his mouth in vaine, and multiplieth wordes without knowledge.

b Such as are in the like errour.

c If thou canst not controll the clouds, wilt thou presume to instruct God?

d Neither doth thy sinne hurt God, nor thy iustice profite him: for he will be glorified without thee.

e The wicked may hurt man, and cause him to cry, who if he sought to God, which sendeth comfort, should be deliuered.

f Because they pray not in faith, as feeling Gods mercies.

g God is iust, howsoeuer thou iudgest of him.

h For if he did punish thee as thou deseruest, thou shouldest not be able to open thy mouth.

CHAP. XXXVI.

1 Elihu sheweth the power of God, 6 And his iustice, 9 And wherefore he punisheth. 13 The propertie of the wicked.

1 ELihu also proceeded and sayde,

2 Suffer me a litle, and I will instruct thee: for I haue yet to speake on Gods behalfe.

3 I will fetch [a] my knowledge afarre off, and will attribute righteousnesse vnto my Maker.

4 For truely my words shall not be false, and he that is [b] perfect in knowledge, speaketh with thee.

5 Behold, the mighty God casteth away none that is [c] mighty and valiant and of courage.

6 [d] Hee maintaineth not the wicked, but he giueth iudgement to the afflicted.

7 He withdraweth not his eyes from the righteous, but they are with [e] kings in the throne, where he placeth them for euer: thus they are exalted.

8 And if they be bound in fetters and tyed with the cordes of affliction, 9 Then will he shewe them their [f] worke and their sinnes, because they haue bene proude.

10 He openeth also their eare to discipline, and commandeth them that they returne from iniquitie.

11 *If they obey and serue him, they shall end their daies in prosperity, & their yeres in pleasures.

12 But if they wil not obey, they shal passe by the sword, and perish [g] without knowledge.

13 But the hypocrites [h] of heart increase the wrath: for they [i] call not when he bindeth them.

14 Their soule dyeth in [k] youth, and their life among the whoremongers.

15 Hee deliuereth the poore in his affliction, and openeth their eare in trouble.

16 Euen so would hee haue taken thee out of the streight place into a broad place and not shut vp beneath: and [l] that which resteth vpon thy table, had bene full of fat.

17 But thou art full of the [m] iudgement of the wicked, though iudgement and equitie maintaine all things.

18 [n] For Gods wrath is, least hee should take thee away in his abundance: for no multitude of giftes can deliuer thee.

19 Wil he regard thy riches? he regardeth not golde, nor all them that excell in strength.

20 [o] Be not carefull in the night, howe he destroyeth the people out of their place.

21 Take thou heede: looke not to [p] iniquitie: for thou hast chosen it rather then affliction.

22 Beholde, God exalteth by his power: what teacher is like him?

23 Who hath appointed to him his way? or who can say, Thou hast done wickedly?

24 Remember that thou magnifie his worke, which men beholde.

25 All men see it, and men beholde it [q] afarre off.

26 Beholde, God is excellent, [r] and we know him not, neither can the number of his yeeres be searched out.

27 When hee restraineth the drops of water, the raine [s] powreth downe by the vapor thereof, 28 Which raine the cloudes doe drop and let fall abundantly vpon man.

29 Who can know the diuisions of the clouds and the thunders of his [t] tabernacle?

30 Beholde, he spreadeth his light vpon [u] it, and couereth the [x] bottome of the sea.

31 For thereby he iudgeth [y] the people, and giueth meate abundantly.

32 He couereth the light with the clouds, and commandeth them to go [z] against it.

33 [a] His companion sheweth him therof, and there is anger in rising vp.

a He sheweth that when wee speake of God, we must lift vp our spirits more hie, then our naturall sense is able to reach.

b Thou shalt perceiue that I am a faithfull instructour, and that I speake to thee in the name of God.

c Strong and constant, and of vnderstanding: for these are the giftes of God, & he loueth them in man: but forasmuch as God punished now Iob, it is a signe that these are not in him.

d Therefore hee will not preserue the wicked: but to the humble and afflicted heart hee will shew grace.

e He preferreth the godly to honour.

f He will moue their hearts to feele their sinnes that they may come to him by repentance as he did Manasseh.

* Isa. 1.19.

g That is, in their folly or obstination, & so shalbe cause of their owne destruction.

h Which are maliciously bent against God & flatter themselues in their vices.

i When they are in affliction they seeke not to God for succour, as Asa, 2. Chro. 16.12. Reue. 16.11.

k They die of some vile death, & that before they come to age.

l If thou hadst bene obedient to God, he would haue brought thee to libertie and wealth.

m Thou art gether after maner of the wicked: for thou dost murmure against the iustice of God.

n God doeth punish thee, least thou shouldest forget God in thy wealth & soueraintie.

o Be not thou curious in seeking the cause of Gods iudgements, where he destroyeth any.

p And so murmure against God through impatiencie.

q The workes of God are so manifest, that a man may see them afarre off and know God by the same.

r Our infirmitie hindereth vs, so that we cannot attaine to the perfit knowledge of God.

s That is, the raine commeth of those drops of water, which he keepeth in the clouds.

t Meaning of the cloudes, which he calleth the Tabernacle of God.

u Vpon the cloud.

x That men can not come to the knowledge of the springs thereof.

y He sheweth that the raine hath double vse: the one that it declareth Gods iudgements, when it doeth ouerflowe any places, and the other that it maketh the land fruitfull.

z That is, one cloude to dash against another.

a The colde vapour sheweth him: that is, the cloude of the hote exhalation, which being taken in the colde cloude mounteth vp toward the place where the fire is, and so anger is ingendred: that is, noyse and thunder clappes.

CHAP. XXXVII.

2 Elihu prooueth that the vnsearchable wisedome of God is manifest by his workes, 6 As by the thunders, 9 The whirlewinde, 11 And the raine.

1 AT this also mine heart is [a] astonied, and is mooued out of his place.

2 Heare the [b] sound of his voyce, and the noise that goeth out of his mouth.

3 He directeth it vnder the whole heauen, and his light vnto the endes of the world.

4 After it a noyse soundeth: hee thundreth with the voyce of his maiestie, and hee will not stay [c] them when his voyce is heard.

5 God thundreth marueilously with his voyce: he worketh great things, which we know not.

6 For he saith to the snowe, Be thou vpon the earth: [d] likewise to the small raine and to the great raine of his power.

7 With the force thereof he [e] shutteth vp euery man, that all men may knowe his worke.

8 Then the beastes goe into the denne, and remaine in their places.

9 The whirlewind commeth out of the South, and the colde from the [f] North winde.

a At the manelling of the thunder and lightnings: whereby he declareth that the faithfull are liuely touched with the maiestie of God, when they behold his workes.

b That is, the thunder, whereby he speaketh to make waken their dolnesse, and to bring them to the consideration of his workes.

c Meaning the raines & thunders.

d So that neither small raine nor great, snow nor any thing els commeth without Gods appointment.

e By raynes and thunders God causeth men to keepe themselues within their houses.

f In Ebrewe it is called the scattering winde, because it driueth away the cloudes and purgeth the ayre.

10 At 10 At the breath of God the frost is giuen, and the breadth of the waters is made narrow.

11 He maketh also the cloudes to labour, to water the earth, and scattereth the cloude of his light.

12 And it is turned about by his gouernement, that they may doe whatsoeuer he commaundeth them vpon the whole world:

13 Whether it be for punishment, or for his land, or of mercie, he causeth it to come.

14 Hearken vnto this, O Iob: stand and consider the wonderous workes of God.

15 Diddest thou knowe when God disposed them? and caused the light of his cloud to shine?

16 Hast thou knowen the varieties of the cloude and the wonderous workes of him, that is perfite in knowledge?

17 Or howe thy clothes are warme, when he maketh the earth quiet through the South winde?

18 Hast thou stretched out the heauens, which are strong, and as a molten glasse?

19 Tell vs what we shal say vnto him: for we cannot dispose our matter because of darkenesse.

20 Shall it be told him when I speake? or shall man speake when he shalbe destroyed?

21 And nowe men see not the light, which shineth in the cloudes, but the winde passeth and cleanseth them.

22 The brightnes commeth out of the North: the praise thereof is to God, which is terrible.

23 It is the Almightie: we cannot finde him out: he is excellent in power and iudgement, and abundant in iustice: he afflicteth not.

24 Let men therefore feare him: for hee will not regarde any that are wise in their owne conceite.

CHAP. XXXVIII.

God questioneth to rebuke, and declareth the weaknesse of man in the consideration of his creatures, by whose excellencie the power, iustice, and prouidence of the Creator is knowen.

THen answered the Lorde vnto Iob out of the whirle winde, and said,

2 Who is this that darkeneth the counsell by words without knowledge?

3 Gird vp now thy loines like a man: I will demaund of thee and declare thou vnto me.

4 Where wast thou when I layd the foundation of the earth? declare, if thou hast vnderstanding,

5 Who hath layde the measures thereof, if thou knowest, or who hath stretched the line ouer it?

6 Whereupon are the foundations thereof set: or who laid the corner stone thereof:

7 When the starres of the morning praysed me together, and all the children of God reioyced?

8 Or who hath shut vp the Sea with dores, when it issued, and came forth as out of the wombe:

9 When I made the cloudes a couering thereof, and darkenesse as a swadling bande thereof?

10 When I stablished my commaundement vpon it, and set barres and dores

11 And said, Hitherto shalt thou come, but no farther, and there shall it stay thy proud waues.

12 Hast thou commaunded the morning since thy dayes? hast thou caused the morning to know his place?

13 That it might take holde of the corners of the earth, and that the wicked might be shaken out of it?

14 It is turned as clay to fashion, and all stand vp as a garment.

15 And from the wicked their light shalbe taken away, and the hie arme shall be broken.

16 Hast thou entred into the bottomes of the sea? or hast thou walked to seeke out the depths?

17 Haue the gates of death beene opened vnto thee? or hast thou seene the gates of the shadowe of death?

18 Hast thou perceiued the breadth of the earth? declare if thou knowest all this.

19 Where is the way where light dwelleth? and where is the place of darkenesse, 20 That thou shouldest fetche it in the bounds thereof, and that thou couldest know the paths to the house thereof?

21 Knewest thou it, because thou wast then borne, and because the number of thy dayes is great?

22 Hast thou entred into the treasures of the snow? or hast thou seene the treasures of the haile, 23 Which I haue hidde against the time of trouble, against the day of warre and battell?

24 By what way is the light parted, which scattereth the East winde vpon the earth?

25 Who hath diuided the spoute for the raines or the way for the lightning of the thunder, 26 To cause it to raine on the earth where no man is, and in the wildernesse where there is no man?

27 To satisfie the wilde and waste place, and to cause the bud of the herbe to spring forth?

28 Who is the father of the raine? or who hath begotten the droppes of the dewe?

29 Out of whose woombe came the yce? who hath ingendred the frost of the heauen?

30 The waters are hid as with a stone: and the face of the depth is frozen.

31 Canst thou refraine the sweete influences of the Pleiades? or loose the bands of Orion?

32 Canst thou bring forth Mazzaroth in their time? canst thou also guide Arcturus with his sonnes?

33 Knowest thou the course of heauen? or canst thou set the rule thereof in the earth?

34 Canst thou lift vp thy voyce to the cloudes, that abundance of water may couer thee?

35 Canst thou sende the lightnings, that they may walke, and say vnto thee, Loe, here we are?

36 Who hath put wisedome in the reines? or who hath giuen the heart vnderstanding?

37 Who can number cloudes by wisedome? or who can cause to cease the bottles of heauen, 38 When the earth groweth into hardnesse, and the clottes are fast together?

CHAP.

a That is, in fewer vp and dried.
b Whether the vapours, and moysture and fire to water the earth.
c That is the cloud that hath lightning in it.
d Raine, colde, haile, tempests and such like are sent of God, either to punish man, or to profite the earth, or to declare his iudgement toward man, as Chap. 36.31.

CHAP. XXXIX.

The bounte and prouidence of God, which extendeth euen to the young rauens, giueth man full occasion to put his confidence in God: 27 Iob confesseth and humbleth himselfe.

WIlt a thou hunt the pray for the lion? or fil the appetite of the lions whelps,

2 When they couch in their places, and remaine in the couert to lie in waite?

3 Who prepareth for the rauen his meate, when his birdes b crie vnto God, wandering for lacke of meate?

4 Knowest thou the time when the wilde goates bring foorth yong? or doest thou marke when the c hindes doe calue?

5 Canst thou number the moneths that they d fulfill? or knowest thou the time when they bring foorth?

6 They bowe themselues: they e bruise their yong and cast out their sorowes.

7 Yet their yong waxe fatte, & growe vp with corne: they goe forth and returne not vnto them.

8 Who hath set the wilde asse at libertie? or who hath loosed the bonds of the wilde asse?

9 It is I which haue made the wildernesse his house, and the f lie places his dwellings.

10 He derideth the multitude of the citie, he heareth not the crie of the driuer.

11 He f seeketh out the mountaine for his pasture, and searcheth after euery greene thing.

12 Will the vnicorne g serue thee? or will he tary by thy cribbe?

13 Canst thou binde the vnicorne with his band to labour in the furrow? or will he plow the vallies after thee?

14 Wilt thou trust in him, because his strength is great, and cast off thy labour vnto him?

15 Wilt thou beleeue him, that he will bring home thy seede, and gather it vnto thy barne?

16 Hast thou giuen the pleasant wings vnto the peacockes? or wings and feathers vnto the ostrich?

17 Which leaueth his egges in the earth, and maketh them h hote in the dust,

18 And forgetteth that the foote might scatter them, or that the wilde beast might breake them.

19 He sheweth himselfe cruell vnto his yoong ones, as they were not his, and is without feare, as if he trauelled i in vaine.

20 For God hath depriued him of k wisedome, and hath giuen him no part of vnderstanding.

21 When l time is, he mounteth on hie: he mocketh the horse and his rider.

22 Hast thou giuen the horse strength? or couered his necke with m neying?

23 Hast thou made him afraide as the grashopper? his strong neying is fearefull.

24 He n diggeth in the valley, and reioyceth in his strength: he goeth forth to meete the harnesse man.

25 He mocketh at feare, and is not afraid, and turneth not backe from the sword.

26 Though the quiuer rattle against him, the glittering speare and the shielde.

27 He o deuoureth the ground for fiercenes and rage, and he beleeueth not that it is the noise of the trumpet.

28 He saith among the trumpets, Ha, ha: he smelleth the battell afarre off, and the noyse of the captaines, and the shouting.

29 Shal the hawke flie by thy wisedome, stretching out his wings toward the p South?

30 Doeth the egle mount vp at thy commandement, or make his nest on hie?

31 Shee abideth and remaineth in the rocke, euen vpon the top of the rocke, and the tower.

32 From thence she spieth for meate, and her eyes beholde afarre off.

33 His yoong ones also sucke vp blood: and where the slaine are, there is she.

34 Moreouer the Lord spake vnto Iob, & said,

35 Is this to q learne, to striue with the Almightie? he that reproueth God, let him answere to it.

36 ¶ Then Iob answered the Lord, saying,

37 Beholde, I am r vile; what shall I answere thee? I will lay mine hand vpon my mouth.

38 Once haue I spoken, but I will answere no more, yea, twise, but I will proceede no further.

CHAP. XL.

a How weake mans power is, being compared to the workes of God: 10 Whose power appeareth in the creation, and gouerning of the great beastes.

AGaine the Lorde answered Iob out of *the whirle winde, and saide,

2 Gird vp nowe thy loynes like a man: I will demaund of thee, and declare thou vnto me.

3 Wilt thou disanull my iudgement? or wilt thou condemne me, that thou maist be iustified?

4 Or hast thou an arme like God? or doest thou thunder with a voice like him?

5 Decke thy selfe now with b maiestie & excellencie, and aray thy selfe with beautie & glorie.

6 Cast abroad the indignation of thy wrath, & behold euery one that is proude, and abase him.

7 Looke on euery one that is arrogant, and bring him lowe: and destroy the wicked in their place.

8 Hide them in the dust together, and binde c their faces in a secret place.

9 Then will I confesse vnto thee also, that thy right hand can d saue thee.

10 ¶ Behold now e Behemoth (whom I made f with thee) which eateth s grasse as an oxe.

11 Beholde now, his strength is in his loynes, and his force is in the nauill of his belly.

12 When hee taketh pleasure, his taile is like a cedar: y sinewes of his stones are wrapt together.

13 His bones are like staues of brasse, and his small bones like staues of yron.

14 h He is the chiefe of the wayes of God: he that made him, will make his sworde to approch vnto him.

15 Surely the mountaines bring him foorth grasse, where all the beastes of the fielde play.

16 Lieth he vnder the trees in the couert of the reede and fennes?

17 Can the trees couer him with their shadow? or can the willowes of the riuer compasse him about?

18 Behold, he spoileth the riuer, i and hasteth not: he trusteth that he can draw vp Iorden into his mouth.

19 He taketh it with his eyes, and thrusteth his nose through whatsoeuer meeteth him.

20 ¶ Canst thou draw out Leuiathan with an hooke, & with a line which thou shalt cast downe vnto his tongue?

21 Canst thou cast an hooke into his nose? or

CHAP. XLI.

1 By the greatnesse of this monster Liuiathan God sheweth his greatnesse, and his power, which nothing can resist.

NOne q so fearce that dare stirre him vp. Who is he then that can stand r before me?

2 Who hath preuented me that I should s make an ende? All vnder heauen is mine.

3 I will not keepe silence concerning t his partes, nor his power, nor his comely proportion.

4 Who can discouer the face u of his garment? or who shall come to him with a double x bridle?

5 Who shall f open the doores of his face? his teeth are fearefull round about.

6 The maiestie of his scales is like strong shields, and are sure sealed.

7 One is set to another, that no winde can come betweene them.

8 One is ioyned to another: they sticke together, that they cannot be sundered.

9 His nesings g make the light to shine, and his eyes are like the eye lids of the morning.

10 Out of his mouth goe lampes, and sparkes of fire leape out.

11 Out of his nostrels commeth out smoke, as out of a boyling pot or caldron.

12 His breath maketh the coales burne: for a flame goeth out of his mouth.

13 In his necke remaineth strength, and h labour is reiected before his face.

14 The members of his body are ioyned: they are strong in themselues, and cannot be moued.

15 His heart is as strong as a stone, & as hard as the nether milstone.

16 The mightie are afrayd of his maiestie, and for feare they faint in themselues.

17 When the sword doeth touch him, he will not rise vp, nor for the speare, dart nor habergeon.

18 He esteemeth yron as strawe, and brasse as rotten wood.

19 The archer cannot make him flee: ỹ stones of the sling are turned into stubble vnto him.

20 The dartes are counted as strawe: and hee laugheth at the shaking of the speare.

21 Sharpe stones i are vnder him, & he spreadeth sharpe things vpon the myre.

22 He maketh the depth to k boyle like a pot, and maketh the sea like a pot of oyntment.

23 He maketh a path to l shine after him, one would thinke the depth as an hoare head.

24 In the earth there is none like him: he is made without feare.

25 He beholdeth m all hie things: he is a King ouer all the children of pride.

CHAP. XLII.

6 The repentance of Iob. 9 He prayeth for his friends. 12 His goods are restored double vnto him. 13 His children, age and death.

THen Iob answered the Lord, and sayd,

2 I knowe that thou canst doe all things, and that there is no a thought hidde from thee.

3 Who is hee that hideth counsell without b knowledge? therefore haue I spoken that I vnderstood not, euen things too wonderfull for me, c and which I knew not.

4 Heare, I beseech thee, and I will speake: I will demaund of thee, d & declare thou vnto me.

5 I haue e heard of thee by the hearing of the eare, but nowe mine eye seeth thee.

6 Therefore I abhorre my selfe, and repent in dust and ashes.

7 ¶ Now after that the Lord had spoken these wordes vnto Iob, the Lord also said vnto Eliphaz the Temanite, My wrath is kindled against thee, & against thy two friends: for ye haue not spoken of me the thing that is f right, like my seruant Iob.

8 Therefore take vnto you nowe seuen bullockes, and seuen rammes, and goe to my seruant Iob, and offer vp for your selues a burnt offering, and my seruant Iob shall h pray for you: for I wil accept him, lest I should put you to shame, because ye haue not spoken of me the thing, which is right, like my seruant Iob.

9 So Eliphaz the Temanite, and Bildad the Shuhite, and Zophar the Naamathite, went, and did according as the Lord had said vnto them, and the Lord accepted Iob.

10 ¶ Then the Lord turned the i captiuitie of Iob, when he prayed for his friends: also the Lord gaue Iob twise so much as he had before.

11 Then came vnto him al his k brethren, and al his sisters, and all they that had bene of his acquaintance before, & did eate bread with him in his house, and had compassion of him, & comforted him for al the euil, that the Lord had brought vpon him, and euery man gaue him a ‖ peece of money, and euery one an earing of golde.

12 So the Lorde blessed the last dayes of Iob more then the first: for he had l fourteene thousand sheepe, & sixe thousand camels, and a thousand yoke of oxen, and a thousand shee asses.

13 He had also seuen sonnes, & three daughters.

14 And he called the name of one m Iemimah, and the name of the second n Keziah, and the name of the third o Keren-happuch.

15 In all the land were no women founde so faire as the daughters of Iob, and their father gaue them inheritance among their brethren.

16 And after this liued Iob an hundreth and fourtie yeeres, and sawe his sonnes, and his sonnes sonnes, euen foure generations.

17 So Iob died, being old, and full of dayes.

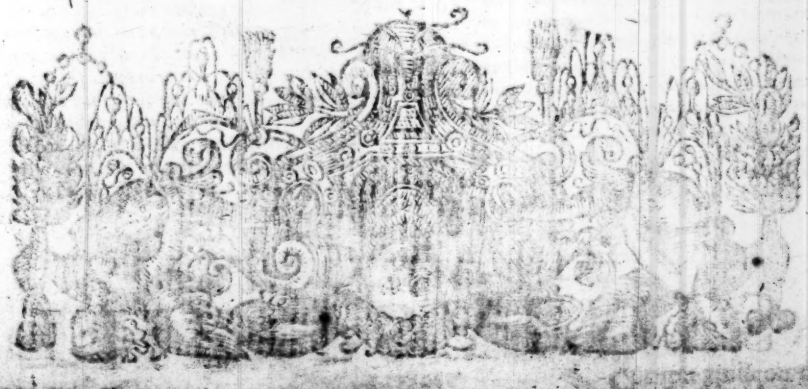
THIS SECOND



THE *PSALMES OF DAVID.

THE ARGVMENT.

THis booke of Psalmes is set forth vnto vs by the holy Ghost to be esteemed as a most precious treasure, wherein all things are contained that appertaine to true felicitie, as wel in this life present as in the life to come. For the riches of true knowledge, and heauenly wisdome are here set open for vs, to take thereof most abundantly. If we would knowe the great, and hie maiestie of God; here we may see the brightnes thereof shine most clearely. If we would seeke his incomprehensible wisdome, here is the schole of the same profession. If we would comprehend his inestimable bountie, and approch neere thereunto, and fill our hands with that treasure, heere we may haue a most liuely, & comfortable taste thereof. If we would know wherein standeth our saluation, and how to attaine to life euerlasting, here is Christ our onely redeemer, & mediatour most euidently described. The rich man may learne the true vse of his riches. The poore man may finde full contentation. He that will reioyce, shall knowe the true ioye, and how to keepe measure therein. They that are afflicted and oppressed, shal see wherein standeth their comfort, and how they ought to praise God when he sendeth them deliuerance. The wicked and the persecuters of the children of God shal see how the hand of God is euer against them: and though he suffer them to prosper for a while, yet he bridleth them, in so much as they cannot touch an haire of ones head, except he permit them, and how in the end their destruction is most miserable. Briefely here we haue most present remedies against al tentations and troubles of minde and conscience, so that being wel practised herein, we may be assured against all dangers in this life, liue in the true feare, and loue of God, and at length attaine to that incorruptible crowne of glorie, which is laide vp for all them that loue the comming of our Lord Iesus Christ.

PSAL. I.

Whether it was Esdras, or any other that gathered the Psalmes into a booke, it seemeth he did set this Psalme first in manner of a preface, to exhort all godly men to studie and meditate in the heauenly wisdome. For the first hereof is, That they be blessed, which giue themselues wholy all their life to the holy Scriptures: And that the wicked contemners of God, though they seeme for a while happie, yet at length shall come to miserable destruction.

BLessed is the man that doeth not walke in the a counsell of the wicked, nor stand in the way of sinners, nor sit in the seate of the scornefull:

2 But his delight is in the *Lawe of the Lorde, and in his b Lawe doeth he meditate day and night.

3 For he shall be like a *tree planted by the riuers of waters, that wil bring foorth her fruite in due season: whose leafe shall not fade: so c whatsoeuer he shall doe, shall prosper.

4 d The wicked are not so, but as the chaffe, which the winde driueth away.

5 Therefore the wicked shall not stand in the e iudgement, nor sinners in the assemblie of the righteous.

6 For the Lorde f knoweth the way of the righteous, and the way of the wicked shal perish.

a When a man hath giuen once place to euil counsell, or to his owne concupiscence, he beginneth to forget himselfe in his sinne, and so falleth into contempt of God, which contempt is called the seate of the scorners.
*Deut.6.6. Iosh.1.8. Psal.8.2. b In the holy Scriptures.
*Iere.17.8.
c Gods children are so moystened euer with his grace, that whatsoeuer commeth vnto them, tendeth vnto their saluation.
d Though the wicked seeme to beate the swinge in this world, yet the Lord driueth them downe that they shall not rise nor stand in the companie of the righteous.
e But tremble when they feele Gods wrath.
f Doeth approoue and not to knowe, is to reproue and reiect.

PSAL. II.

The Prophet Dauid reioyceth that notwithstanding the enemies rage, yet God will continue his kingdome for euer and aduance it euen to the ende of the worlde, to. And therefore exhorteth Kings and rulers, that they would humbly submit themselues vnder Gods yoke, because it is in vaine to resist God. Heereby is figured Christes kingdome.

WHy doe the a heathen *rage, and the people murmure in vaine?

2 The Kings of the earth band themselues, & the princes are assembled together against the Lord, and against his ‖ Christ, a The conspiracie of the Gentiles, the murmuring of the Iewes, and power of Kings, cannot preuaile against Christ.

*Act.4.25.
‖ Or, Anointed.

3 b Let vs breake their bandes, and cast their cordes from vs.

4 *But he that dwelleth in the heauen, shall laugh: the Lord shal haue them in derision.

5 c Then shall hee speake vnto them in his wrath, & vexe them in his sore displeasure, saying,

6 Euen I haue set my king vpon Zion mine holy mountaine.

7 I will declare the d decree: that is, the Lord hath said vnto mee, *Thou art my sonne: this e day haue I begotten thee.

8 Aske of me, and I shall giue thee the heathen for thine inheritance, and the f endes of the earth for thy possession.

9 *Thou shalt crush them with a scepter of yron, & breake thē in pieces like a potters vessel.

10 g Be wise now therefore, ye Kings: be learned ye iodges of the earth.

11 Serue the Lord in feare, and reioyce in trembling.

12 h Kisse the sonne, lest he be angry, and ye perish in the way, when his wrath shall suddenly burne. blessed are all that trust in him.

b Thus the wicked say, that they will cast off the yoke of God and of his Christ.
*Prouerb.1.30.
c Gods plagues will declare that in resisting his Christ, they fought against him.
d To shew that my vocation to the kingdome is of God.
*Act.13.33. Heb.1.5.
e That is to say, as touching mans knowledge, because it was the first time that Dauid appeared to be elected of God. So is it applied to Christ in his first comming and manifestation to the world.
f Not onely the Iewes, but the Gentiles also.
*Rom.1.27.
g How exhorteth all rulers to repentance.
h In signe of homage.
i When the wicked shall say, Peace and reioycing yet to be but in the midway of their purpose, then shall destruction suddenly come, 1.Thes.5.3.

PSAL. III.

Dauid driuen forth of his kingdome, was greatly tormented in mind for the sinne he had committed. And therefore calleth vpon God, and waxeth bolde through his promises against the great rage and terrour of his enemies, yea against death it selfe, which he setteth not by in respect of his eye. Finally he reioyceth for his good successe, that God gaue him, and ouer the Gentiles.

A Psalme of Dauid, when he fled from his sonne Absalom.

LOrd, how are mine aduersaries increased? how many rise against me?

2 Many say to my soule, There is no helpe for him in God. ‖ Selah.

3 But thou Lord art a buckler for me: my glorie, and the lifter vp of mine head.

This was the lamentation of the Church in the time of the captiuitie, and the ende of the verse, to exhort vs to consider the sentence, and the 4 I did call vnto the Lord with my voyce, and he heard me out of his holy mountaine. Selah.

5 I laide mee downe and slept, and rose vp againe: for the Lord susteined me.

6 I will not be afraid for [c] tenne thousand of the people, that should beset me round about.

7 O Lord, arise: helpe me, my God: for thou hast smitten all mine enemies vpon the cheeke bone: thou hast broken the teeth of the wicked.

8 [d] Saluation belongeth vnto the Lord, & thy blessing is vpon thy people. Selah.

c When he considered the trueth of Gods promise, and tried the same, his faith encreased marueilously.
d Be the dangers neuer so great or many, yet God hath euer meanes to deliuer his.

PSAL. IIII.

1 When Saul persecuted him, he called vpon God, trusting most assuredly in his promes, and therefore boldly reproueth his enemies, who wilfully resisted his admition, 7 And finally preferreth the fauour of God before all worldly treasures.

[a] To him that excelleth on Neginoth. A Psalme of Dauid.

HEare me when I call, [b] O God of my righteousnesse: thou hast set me at libertie, when I was [c] in distresse: haue mercie vpon me, and hearken vnto my prayer.

2 O ye [d] sonnes of men, howe long will yee turne my glory into shame, [e] louing vanitie, and seeking lyes? Selah.

3 For be ye sure that the Lord hath chosen to himselfe [f] a godly man: the Lord will heare when I call vnto him.

4 [g] Tremble, and sinne not: examine your owne heart vpon your bed, and be [h] still. Selah.

5 [i] Offer the sacrifices of righteousnesse, and trust in the Lord.

6 Many say, Who will shew vs any [k] good? but Lord, lift vp the light of thy countenance vpon vs.

7 Thou hast giuen me more ioy of heart, then they haue had, when their wheate and their wine did abound.

8 I will laye me downe, and also sleepe in peace: for thou, Lorde, [l] onely makest me dwell in safetie.

a Among them that were appointed to sing the Psalmes, & to play on the instruments, one was appointed chiefe to set the tune, & to begin: who had the charge, because he was most excellent, and he began this Psalme on the instrument called Neginoth, or in a tune so called.
b Thou that art the defender of my iust cause.
c Both of minde and body.
d Ye that thinke your selues noble in this world.
e Though your enterprises please you neuer so much, yet God wil bring them to nought.
f A king that walketh in his vocation.
g For feare of Gods iudgement.
h Cease your rage.
i Serue God purely and not with outward ceremonies.
k The multitude seeke worldly wealth, but Dauid setteth his felicitie in Gods fauour.
l This worde in Ebrew may be referred to God, as it is here translated, or to Dauid, signifying that he should dwell so ioyfully alone, as if he had many about him, because the Lord is with him.

PSAL. V.

1 Dauid oppressed with the cruelsie of his enemies, and fearing greater dangers, calleth to God for succour, shewing how requisite it is that God should punish the malice of his aduersaries. 7 After being assured of prosperous successe, he conceiueth comfort, 12 Concluding that when God shall deliuer him, others also shalbe partakers of the same mercies.

To him that excelleth vpon ‖ Nehiloth. A Psalme of Dauid.

HEare my wordes, O Lorde: vnderstand my [a] meditation.

2 Hearken vnto the voyce of my cry, my king and my God: for vnto thee doe I pray.

3 Heare my voyce in the morning, O Lorde: for in the morning will I direct me vnto thee, and I will [b] waite.

4 For thou art not a God that loueth [c] wickednes: neither shall euil dwell with thee.

5 [d] The foolish shall not stand in thy sight: for thou hatest all them that worke iniquitie.

6 Thou shalt destroy them that speake lyes: the Lorde will abhorre the bloodie man and deceitfull.

‖ Or, a musicall instrument or tune.

a That is, vehement prayer and secret complaint and sighings.
b With patience and trust till I be heard.
c Seeing that God of nature hateth wickednes, hee must needes punish the wicked & saue the godly.
d Which runne most raginglie after their carnall affections.

7 But I [e] will come into thine house in the multitude of thy mercie: and in thy feare will I worship toward thine holy Temple.

8 Leade me, O Lord, in thy righteousnes, [f] because of mine enemies: make thy way plaine before my face.

9 For no constancie is in their mouth: within they are very corruption: their * throte is an open sepulchre, and they flatter with their tongue.

10 Destroy them, O God, ‖ let them [g] fall from their counsels: cast them out from the multitude of their iniquities, because they haue rebelled against thee.

11 And [h] let all thē that trust in thee, reioyce and triumph for euer, and couer thou them: and let them, that loue thy Name, reioyce in thee.

12 For thou Lorde wilt ‖ blesse the righteous, and with fauour [i] wilt compasse him, as with a shielde.

e When he considered the trueth of Gods promise, and tried the same, his faith encreased marueilously.
f Because thou art iust, therefore leade me out of the dangers of mine enemies.
* Rom. 3. 13.
‖ Or cause them to erre.
g Let their deuises come to nought.
h Thy fauour toward me shall confirme the faith of all others.
‖ Or giue good successe.
i So that he shall be safe from all dangers.

PSAL. VI.

1 When Dauid by his sinnes had prouoked Gods wrath, and now felt not onely his hand against him, but also conceiued the horrours of death euerlasting, he desireth forgiuenesse, 6 Bewayling that if God tooke him away in his indignation, he should lacke occasion to praise him as he was wont to doe whiles hee was among men. 8 Then suddenly feeling Gods mercie, hee sharpely rebuketh his enemies which reioyced in his affliction.

To him that excelleth on Neginoth vpon the eight tune. A Psalme of Dauid.

O Lord, * [a] rebuke me not in thine anger, neither chastice me in thy wrath.

2 Haue mercie vpon me, O Lorde, for I am weak: O Lord heale me, for my [b] bones are vexed.

3 [c] My soule is also sore troubled: but Lorde how long wilt thou delay?

4 Returne, O Lord: deliuer my soule: saue me for thy mercies sake.

5 For in [d] death there is no remembrance of thee: in the graue who shall praise thee?

6 I fainted in my mourning, I [e] suse my bed euery night to swimme, and water my couch with my teares.

7 ‖ Mine eye is dimmed for despight, and sunke in because of all mine enemies.

8 [f] Away from me all ye workers of iniquitie: for the Lord hath heard [g] voyce of my weeping.

9 The Lord hath heard my petition: the Lord will receiue my prayer.

10 All mine enemies shall be confounded and sore vexed: they shall be turned backe, and put to shame [h] suddenly.

* Iere. 10. 24.
a Though I deserue destruction, yet let thy mercie pitie my frailtie.
b For my whole strength is abated.
c His conscience is also touched with the feare of Gods iudgement.
d He lamenteth that occasion should be taken from him to praise God in the Congregation.
‖ Or, mine eye is eaten as it were with worme.
e God giueth comfort and boldnes in affliction, that we may triumph ouer our enemies.
f When the wicked thinke that the godly shal perish, God deliuereth them suddenly, and destroyeth their enemies.

PSAL. VII.

1 Being falsely accused by Chush one of Sauls kinsemen, he calleth to God to be his defender, 3 To whome hee commendeth his innocencie, 9 First shewing that his conscience did not accuse him of any euil towards Saul: 10 Next that it touched Gods glory to execute sentence against the wicked. 12 And so entring into the consideration of Gods mercies and powres, he waxeth bolde and deuideth the same with exposts of his enemies, 16 The ceasing that it shall fall on their owne necke that they haue purposed for others.

‖ Shigaion of Dauid, which he sang vnto the Lord, concerning the ‖ wordes of * Chush the sonne of Iemini.

O Lorde my God, in thee I put my trust: saue me frō all that persecute me, & deliuer me,

2 Least * he deuoure my soule like a lyon, and teare it in pieces, while there is none to helpe.

‖ Or, kinde of song.
* 2. Sam. 16. 7.
a He desireth God to deliuer him from the rage of cruel Saul.

3 O Lord

8 O Lord my God, if I haue done [b] this thing, if there be any wickednesse in mine hands,

4 [c] If I haue rewarded euill vnto him that had peace with mee, (yea I haue deliuered him that vexed me without cause)

5 Then let the enemie persecute my soule and take it: yea, let him treade my life downe vpon the earth, and lay mine [d] honour in the dust. Selah.

6 Arise, O Lord, in thy wrath, and lift vp thy selfe against the rage of mine enemies, and awake for mee according to the [e] iudgement that thou hast appointed.

7 So shall the Congregation of the people compasse thee about: for their sakes therefore [f] returne on hie.

8 The Lord shal iudge the people: iudge thou me, O Lord, according to my [g] righteousnesse, and according to mine innocencie, that is in mee.

9 Oh let the malice of the wicked come to an ende: but guide thou the iust: for the righteous God trieth the [h] hearts and reines.

10 My defence is of God, who preserueth the vpright in heart.

11 God iudgeth the righteous, and him that contemneth God [i] euery day.

12 Except [k] he turne, he hath whet his sworde he hath bent his bowe and made it ready.

13 Hee hath also prepared him deadly weapons: hee will ordeine his arrowes for them that persecute me.

14 * Beholde, hee shall trauaile with wickednesse: for he hath conceiued mischiefe, but hee shall bring foorth a lye.

15 Hee hath made a pit and digged it, and is fallen into the pit that he made.

16 His mischiefe shall returne vpon his owne head, & his cruelty shal fall vpon his owne pate.

17 I will praise the Lorde according to his [l] righteousnesse, and will sing praise to the Name of the Lord most high.

PSAL. VIII.

1 The Prophet considering the excellent liberalitie and fatherly prouidence of God towards man, whom he made, as it were a god ouer all his workes, doth not onely giue great thankes, but is astonished with the admiration of the same, as one nothing able to compasse such great mercies.

To him that excelleth on ‖ Gittith. A Psalme of Dauid.

O Lord our Lord, how ‖ excellent is thy Name in all the world! which hast set thy glorie aboue the heauens.

2 Out of the mouth [a] of babes & sucklings hast thou ‖ ordeined strength, because of thine enemies, that thou mightest ‖ still the enemie and the auenger.

3 When I beholde thine heauens, euen the workes of thy fingers, the moone and the starres which thou hast ordeined,

4 What is [b] man, say I, that thou art mindefull of him? and the sonne of man, that thou visitest him?

5 For thou hast made him a little lower then [c] God, and crowned him with glory and worship.

6 Thou hast made him to haue dominion in the works of thine hands: thou hast put al things vnder his feete:

7 All [d] sheepe and oxen: yea, and the beasts of the field:

8 The foules of the aire, and the fish of the sea, and that which passeth through the paths of the seas.

9 O Lorde our Lord, howe excellent is thy Name in all the world!

PSAL. IX.

1 After hee had giuen thanks to God for the sundry victories that he had seene him against his enemies, and also proued by manifold experience, how ready God was to heare him in all his trouble, 9 to be now likewise in danger of new enemies, desireth God to do the same according to his wont, 17 And to destroy the insolencie & arrogancie of the aduersaries.

To him that excelleth vpon ‖ Muth Labben. A Psalme of Dauid.

I Will praise the Lord with my [a] whole heart: I will speake of all thy marueilous workes.

2 I will be glad, and reioyce in thee: I will sing praise to thy Name, O most high,

3 For that mine enemies are turned backe: they shall fall, and perish at thy presence.

4 For [b] thou hast maintained my right & my cause: thou art set in the throne, & iudgest right.

5 Thou hast rebuked the heathen: thou hast destroyed the wicked: thou hast put out their name for euer and euer.

6 [c] O enemie, destructions are come to a perpetuall end, and thou hast destroyed the cities: their memoriall is perished with them.

7 But the Lorde ‖ shall sit for euer: hee hath prepared his throne for iudgement.

8 For he shall iudge the world in righteousnesse, and shall iudge the people with equitie.

9 The Lorde also will bee a refuge for the [d] poore, a refuge in due time, euen in affliction.

10 And they that knowe thy Name, will trust in thee: for thou, Lord, hast not failed them that seeke thee.

11 Sing prayses to the Lord, which dwelleth in Zion: shew the people his works.

12 For [e] when hee maketh inquisition for blood, he remembreth it, and forgetteth not the complaint of the poore.

13 Haue mercie vpon mee, O Lord: consider my trouble which I suffer of them that hate me, thou that liftest me vp from the gates of death, 14 That I may shew all thy praises within the [f] gates of the daughter of Zion, and reioyce in thy saluation.

15 The heathen are [g] sunken downe in the pit that they made: in the nette that they hid, is their foote taken.

16 [h] The Lord is knowen by executing iudgement: the wicked is snared in the worke of his owne hands. ‖ Higgaion. Selah.

17 The wicked shall turne into hell, and all nations that forget God.

18 For [ỹ] poore shal not be alway forgotten: the hope [i] of the afflicted shal not perish for euer.

19 Vp Lord: let not man preuaile: let the heathen be iudged in thy sight.

20 Put them in feare, O Lord, that the heathen may know that they are but [k] men. Selah.

PSAL. X.

1 He complaineth of the spoyle, rapine, tyrannie, and all kinds of wrong, which worldly men vse, assigning the cause thereof, that wicked men, being as it were drunken with worldly prosperitie, and therefore setting apart all feare and reuerence towards God, thinke they may doe all things without controlling. 15 Therefore hee calleth vpon God to shew some vengeance against these desperate ruffians. 16 And at length comforteth himselfe with hope of deliuerance.

PSAL. XI.

1 This Psalme conteineth two parts. In the first Dauid sheweth howe hard assaultes of temptations hee susteined, and in howe great anguish of minde he was, when Saul did persecute him. 4 Then next hee reioyceth that God sent him succour in his necessitie, declaring his iustice aswell in gouerning the good, and the wicked men, as the whole world.

¶ ‖ Michtam of Dauid.

PReserue mee, O God: for in thee doe I [a] trust.

2 O my soule, thou hast saide vnto the Lorde, Thou art my Lorde: my [b] welldoing extendeth not to thee,

3 But to the Saints that are in the earth, and to the excellent: all my delight is in them.

4 The [c] sorowes of them, that offer to an other god, shall be multiplied: [d] their offerings of blood will I not offer, neither make * mention of their names with my lips.

5 The Lorde is the portion of mine inheritance and of my cuppe: thou shalt maineteine my lot.

6 The [e] lines are fallen vnto mee in pleasant places: yea, I haue a faire heritage.

7 I will praise the Lord, who hath giuen mee counsell: my [f] reines also teach me in the nights.

8 I haue set the Lord alwayes before me: for he is at my right hand: therefore I shal not slide.

9 Wherefore [h] mine heart is glad and my tongue reioyceth: my flesh also doth rest in hope.

10 For thou [i] wilt not leaue my soule in the graue: neither wilt thou suffer thine holy one to see corruption.

11 Thou wilt shewe me the path of life: in thy ‖ presence is the fulnesse of ioye: and at thy right hand there are pleasures for euermore.

PSAL. XVII.

1 Here he complaineth to God of the cruel pride and arrogancie of Saul, and the rest of his enemies, who thus raged without any cause giuen on his part. 6 Therefore he desireth God to reuenge his innocencie, and deliuer him.

¶ The prayer of Dauid.

HEare a the right, O Lorde, consider my crye: hearken vnto my prayer of lips vnfained.

2 Let my [b] sentence come forth from thy presence, and let thine eyes behold equitie.

3 Thou hast [c] proued and visited mine heart in the night: thou hast tried me, and foundest nothing: for I was purposed that my [d] mouth should not offend.

4 Concerning the workes of men, by the e wordes of thy lips I kept mee from the paths of the cruel man.

5 Stay my steps in thy paths, that my feete doe not slide.

6 I haue called vpon thee: [f] surely thou wilt heare me, O God: incline thine eare to me, and hearken vnto my wordes.

7 Shew thy marueilous mercies, thou that art the Sauiour of them that trust in thee, from such as [g] resist thy right hand.

8 Keepe me as the apple of the eye: hide mee vnder the shadow of thy wings,

9 From the wicked that oppresse me, from mine enemies, which compasse me rounde about for [h] my soule.

10 They are inclosed in their owne [i] fat, and they haue spoken proudly with their mouth.

11 They haue compassed vs nowe in our steps: they haue set their eyes to bring downe to the ground:

12 Like as a lyon that is greedy of praye, and as it were a lyons whelpe lurking in secrete places.

13 Vp Lord, [k] disappoint him: cast him downe: deliuer my soule from the wicked ‖ with thy sworde, 14 From men by thine [l] hand, O Lord, from men ‖ of the worlde, who haue their [m] portion in this life, whose bellies thou fillest with thine hidde treasure: their children haue ynough, and leaue the rest of their substance for their children.

15 But I will beholde [n] thy face in righteousnesse, and when I [o] awake, I shalbe satisfied with thine image.

testing against all assaults, to haue the face of God and fauourable countenance opened vnto vs. o And am deliuered out of my great troubles.

PSAL. XVIII.

1 This Psalme is the first beginning of his gratulation & thanksgiuing in the entring into his kingdome, wherein he exalteth and praiseth most highly the marueilous mercies and grace of God, who hath thus preferred and defended him. 33 Also he setteth forth the image of Christes kingdome, that the faithfull may be assured that Christ shall alwayes conquer and ouercome by the vnspeakeable power of his Father, though all the whole world should striue there against.

c Dauid here maketh comparison betweene the faithfull and the reprobate, but S. Paul speaketh the same of all men naturally, Rom. 3. 10.
d Where they thinke themselues most sure.
e You mocke them that put their trust in God.
f He prayeth for the whole Church, whom he is assured God will deliuer: for none but he onely can doe it.

a Fast God requireth vprightnes of life, next doing well to others, and finally, trueth and sincerite in our wordes.
b He that flattereth not the vngodly in their wickednes.
c To the hinderance of his neighbour.
d That is, shal not be cast forth of the Church as hypocrites.

a He sheweth that we cannot call vpon God, except we trust in him.
b Though we can not enriche God, yet we must bestowe Gods gifts by the vse of his children.
c As griefe of conscience and miserable destruction.
d He would neither by outward profession, nor in heart, nor in mouth consent to their idolatries.
* Exod. 23. 13.
e Wherewith my portion is measured.
f God teacheth me continually by secret inspiration.
g The faithfull are sure to persevere to the end.
h That is, I rejoyce both in body and in soule.
i This is chiefly meant of Christ, by whose resurrection all his members haue immortalitie.
k Where God fauoureth, there is perfite felicitie.

a My righteous cause.
b The vengeance that thou shalt shew against mine enemies.
c When thy Spirit examined my conscience.
d I was innocent toward mine enemie both in deede and thought.
e Though the wicked proposed me to doe euil for euill, yet thy word kept me backe.
f He was assured that God would not refuse his request.
g For all rebell against thee, and trouble thy Church.
h For their crueltie cannot be satisfied but with my death.
i They are puft vp with pride, as the stomacke that is choked with fatte.

k Stop his rage.
‖ Or, with thy sword.
l By thine heauenly power.
‖ Or, whose tyranny hath too long endured.

¶ To him that excelleth. A Psalme of Dauid the seruant of the Lord, which spake vnto the Lord the words of this song (in the day that the Lorde deliuered him from the hand of all his enemies, and from the hand of Saul) and said,

I Will loue thee dearely, O Lorde my strength.
2 a The Lord is my rocke, & my fortresse, and hee that deliuereth me, my God and my strength: in him will I trust, my shield, the horne also of my saluation, and my refuge.
3 I will call vpon the Lorde, which is worthie to bee [b] praised: so shall I be safe from mine enemies.
4 [c] The sorowes of death compassed me, and the floods of wickednes made me afraide.
5 The ‖ sorowes of the graue haue compassed me about: the snares of death ouertooke me.
6 But in my trouble did I call vpon the Lord, and cryed vnto my God: he heard my voyce out of his Temple, and my cry did come before him, euen into his eares.
7 [d] Then the earth trembled, and quaked: the foundations also of the mountaines mooued and shooke, because he was angrie.
8 Smoke went out at his nostrels, and a * consuming fire out of his mouth: coales were kindled thereat.
9 He bowed the heauens also & came downe, and [f] darkenes was vnder his feete.
10 And he rode vpon a Cherub and did flie, and he came flying vpon the wings of the winde.
11 He made darkenesse his [h] secrete place, and his pauilion rounde about him, euen darkenesse of waters, and cloudes of the ayre.
12 At the brightnes of his presence his cloudes passed, hailestones and coles of fire.
13 The Lord also thundred in the heauen, and the Highest gaue [i] his voyce, hailestones and coales of fire.
14 Then he sent out [k] his arrowes and scattred them, and he increased lightnings and destroyed them.
15 And the chanels of waters were seene, and the [l] foundations of the world were discouered at thy rebuking, O Lorde, at the blasting of the breath of thy nostrels.
16 Hee hath sent downe from aboue and taken mee: hee hath drawen mee out of many [m] waters.
17 Hee hath deliuered me from my [n] strong enemie, and from them which hate me: for they were [o] too strong for me.
18 They preuented me in the day of my calamitie: but the Lord was my stay.
19 He brought me forth also into a large place: [p] he deliuered me because he fauoured me.
20 The Lorde rewarded me according to my [q] righteousnes: according to the pureues of mine handes he recompensed me:
21 Because I kept the wayes of the Lord, and did not wickedly against my God.
22 For all his Lawes were before me, and I did not cast away his [r] commaundements from mee.
23 I was vpright also with him, and haue kept me from my [s] wickednes.
24 Therefore the Lorde rewarded me according to my righteousnesse, and according to the pureuesse of mine handes in his sight.
25 With the [t] godly thou wilt shewe thy selfe godly: with the vpright man thou wilt shew thy selfe vpright.
26 With the pure thou wilt shewe thy selfe pure, and with the frowarde thou wilt shewe thy selfe froward.
27 Thou thou wilt saue the poore people, and wilt [u] cast downe the proude lookes.
28 Surely thou wilt light my candle: the Lord my God will lighten my darkenes.
29 For by thee I haue [x] broken through an hoste, and by my God I haue leaped ouer a wall.
30 The way of God is vncorrupt: the [y] worde of the Lorde is tried in the fire: he is a shield to all that trust in him.
31 For who is God besides the Lord? and who is mightie saue our God?
32 God girdeth me with strength, and maketh my [z] way vpright.
33 He maketh my feete like hindes feete, and setteth me vpon mine [a] high places.
34 He teacheth mine handes to fight: so that a bowe of ‖ braſſe is broken with mine armes.
35 Thou hast also giuen me the [b] shield of thy saluation, & thy right hand hath stayed me, and thy [c] louing kindnes hath caused me to encrease.
36 Thou hast enlarged my steps vnder mee, and mine heeles haue not slid.
37 [d] I haue pursued mine enemies, and taken them, and haue not turned againe till I had consumed them.
38 I haue wounded them, that they were not able to rise: they are fallen vnder my feete.
39 For thou hast girded me with strength to battell: them that rose against me, thou hast subdued vnder me.
40 And thou hast [e] giuen mee the neckes of mine enemies, that I might destroye them that hate me.
41 They [f] cried, but there was none to saue them, euen vnto the Lorde, but he answered them not.
42 Then I did beate them small as the dust before the winde: I did tread them flat as the clay in the streetes.
43 Thou hast deliuered me from the contentions of the people: thou hast made me the head of the [g] heathen: a people, whome I haue not [h] knowen, shall serue me.
44 As soone as they heare, they shal obey me: the strangers shall [i] be in subiection to me.
45 Strangers shall [k] shrinke away, and feare in their priuie chambers.
46 Let the Lorde liue, and blessed bee my strength, and the God of my saluation be exalted.
47 It is God that giueth me power to auenge me, and subdueth the people vnder me.
48 O my deliuerer from mine enemies, euen thou hast set me vp from them, that rose against mee: thou hast deliuered mee from the [l] cruell man.
49 Therefore [m] I will praise thee, O Lorde, among the nations, and will sing vnto thy Name.
50 Great deliuerāces giueth he vnto his king, and sheweth mercie to his anointed, euen to Dauid, and to his [n] seede for euer.

* 2. Sam. 22. 2.
a He vseth this diuersitie of names, to shewe that as the wicked haue many meanes to hurt, so God hath many wayes to helpe.
b For none can obteine their requests of God, that ioyne not his glory with their petition.
c He speaketh of the dangers and malice of his enemies, from the which God had deliuered him.
‖ Or, coardes, or, cables.
d A description of the wrath of God against his enemies after he had heard his prayer.
* Hee sheweth howe horrible Gods iudgements shalbe to the wicked.
f Darkenesse signifieth the wrath of God, as the cleare light signifieth Gods fauour.
g This is described at large, Psal. 104.
h As a king angrie with the people, wil not shew himselfe vnto them.
i Thundred, lightned, and hailed.
k His lightnings,
l That is, the deepe bottoms were seene, when the red Sea was deuided.
m Out of sundry and great dangers.
n To wit, Saul.
o Therefore God sent me succour.
p The cause of Gods deliuerance is his onely fauour and loue to vs.
q Dauid was sure of his righteous cause and good behauiour towarde Saul and his enemies, and therefore was assured of Gods fauour and deliuerance.
r For all his dangers he exercised himselfe in the Lawe of God.
s I neither gaue place to their wicked tentations, nor to mine owne affections.
t Here he speaketh of Gods according to our capacitie, whose eth mercie to his and punisheth the wicked, as is said also, Leuit. 26. 21, 24.
u When their sinne is come to the full measure.
x He attributeth it to God that he both gaue the victorie in the fielde, and also destroyed the cities of his enemies.
y Be the dangers neuer so many or great, yet Gods promise must take effect.
z He giueth good successe to all mine enterprises.
a As towers and fortes, which he tooke out of the handes of Gods enemies.
‖ Or, steele,
b To defend me from dangers.
c He attributeth the beginning, continuance, and increase in well doing onely to Gods fauour.
d Dauid declareth that he did nothing besides his vocation, but was stirred vp by Gods Spirit to execute his iudgement.
e Thou hast giuen them into mine handes to bee slaine.
f They that reiect the crie of the afflicted, God will also reiect them, when they cry for helpe: for either paine or feare cause those hypocrites to cry.
g Which dwell rounde about me.
h The kingdome of Christ is in Dauids kingdome prefigured: which by the preaching of his worde hath gotten all nations in subiection.
i Or, by applying a subiection constrained and not voluntarie.
k Feare shall cause them to be afraide and come foorth of their secret holes and holdes to seeke pardon.
l That is, Saul, who of malice perseuered him.
m This prophesie appertaineth to the kingdome of Christ, and vocation of the Gentiles, as Rom. 15. 9.
n This did not properly appertaine to Salomon, but to Iesus Christ.

PSAL. XIX.

1 To the intent he might moue the faithfull to a deeper consideration of Gods glorie, he setteth before their eyes the most exquisite workmanship of the heauens with their proportion, and ornaments: 8 And afterwards calleth them to the Lawe, wherein God hath reuealed himselfe more familiarly to his chosen people. The which peculiar grace by commending the Lawe he setteth forth more at large.

¶ To him that excelleth. A Psalme of Dauid.

THe *a heauens declare the glory of God, and the firmament sheweth ỹ worke of his hands.

2 b Day vnto day vttereth the same, & night vnto night teacheth knowledge.

3 There is no speach nor c language, where their voyce is not heard.

4 Their d line is gone foorth through all the earth, & their words into the endes of the world: in them hath he set a tabernacle for the sunne.

5 Which commeth foorth as a bridegrome out of his e chamber, and reioyceth like a mightie man to run his race.

6 His going out is from the ende of the heauen, and his compasse is vnto the ends of ỹ same, and none is hid from the heate thereof.

7 The f Lawe of the Lorde is perfite, conuerting the soule: the testimonie of the Lord is sure, and giueth wisedome vnto the simple.

8 The statutes of the Lorde are right, and reioyce the heart: the commandement of the Lord is pure, and giueth light vnto the eyes.

9 The feare of the Lorde is cleane, and endureth for euer: the iudgementes of the Lorde are g trueth: they are righteous h altogether,

10 And more to be i desired then golde, yea, then much fine golde: sweeter also then honie and the hony combe.

11 Moreouer by them is thy seruant made circumspect, and in keeping of them there is great k reward.

12 Who can vnderstand his l faultes? clense me from secret faultes.

13 Keepe thy seruant also from m presumptuous sinnes: let them not reigne ouer me: n so shall I be vpright, & made cleane fro much wickednes.

14 Let the words of my mouth, and the o meditation of mine heart be acceptable in thy sight, O Lord my strength, and my redeemer.

a The reprocheth vnto man his impietie, seeing the heauens, which are dumme creatures, set foorth Gods glorie.
b The continuall succesſe of the day and the night is sufficient to declare Gods power and goodnesse.
c The heauens are a Schoolemaster to all nations, be they neuer so barbarous.
d The heauens are a line of great capitall letters to shewe vnto vs Gods glorie.
e Or vaile. The maner was that the bride & bridegrome shoulde stand vnder a vaile together, and after came foorth with great solemnitie, and reioycing of the assemblie.
f Though the creatures cannot speake, yet this doeth be sufficient to leade vs vnto him.
g So that all inuentions & inuestigations are lyes.
h Euery one without exception.
i Except Gods worde be esteemed aboue all worldly things, it is contemned.
k For God accepteth our indeuour, though it be farre vnperfite.
l Then there is no reward of duetie, but of grace: for where sinne is, there death is the rewarde.
m Which are done purposely and of malice.
n If thou suppresse my wicked affections by thine holy spirit.
o That I may obey thee in thought, worde and deede.

PSAL. XX.

A prayer of the people vnto God, that it would please him to heare their King and receiue his sacrifice, which he offered before he went to battell against the Ammonites.

¶ To him that excelleth. A Psalme of Dauid.

THe a Lorde heare thee in the day of trouble: the b name of ỹ God of Iaakob defend thee:

2 Send thee helpe from the Sanctuarie, and strengthen thee out of Zion.

3 Let him remember all thine offerings, and c turne thy burnt offerings into ashes. Selah:

4 And grant thee according to thine heart, and fulfill all thy purpose.

5 That we may reioyce in thy d saluation, and set vp the banner in the Name of our God, when the Lord shall performe all thy petitions.

6 Now e know I that the Lord wil helpe his anointed, and will heare him from his f Sanctuarie, by the mightie helpe of his right hand.

7 Some trust in chariots, & some in horses: but we wil remember the Name of the Lord our God.

8 g They are brought downe and fallen, but we are risen, and stand vpright.

9 Saue Lord: h let the King heare vs in the day that we call.

a Hereby kings are also admonished to call to God in their affaires.
b The vertue, power and grace of God.
c In token that they are acceptable vnto him.
d Granted to the King in whose wealth our felicitie standeth.
e The Church feeleth that God hath heard their petition.
f As by the visible Sanctuarie Gods familiaritie appeared towards his people, so by the heauenly is meant his power and maiestie.
g The worldlings that put not their only trust in God.
h Let the King be able to deliuer vs by thy strength, when we seeke vnto him for succour.

PSAL. XXI.

1 Dauid in the person of the people praiseth God for the victory, attributing it to God, and not to the strength of man. Wherein the holy Ghost directeth the faithfull to Christ, who is the perfection of this kingdome.

¶ To him that excelleth. A Psalme of Dauid.

THe King shal a reioyce in thy strength, O Lord: yea how greatly shal he reioice in thy saluatiõ!

2 Thou hast giuen him his heartes desire, and hast not denyed him the request of his lips. Selah.

3 For thou b diddest preuent him with liberall blessings, and diddest set a crowne of pure golde vpon his head.

4 c He asked life of thee, and thou gauest him a long life for euer and euer.

5 His glory is great in thy saluation: dignitie and honour hast thou laid vpon him.

6 For thou hast set him as d blessings for euer: thou hast made him glad with the ioy of thy countenance.

7 Beeause the King trusteth in the Lord, & in the mercie of the most High, he shall not slide.

8 e Thine hand shal find out al thine enemies, & thy right hand shall find out them that hate thee.

9 Thou shalt make them like a fierie ouen in time of thine anger: the Lord shall destroy them in his f wrath, and the fire shall deuoure them.

10 Their fruite shalt thou destroy from the earth, and their seede from the children of men.

11 For they g intended euill against thee, and imagined mischiefe, but they shall not preuaile.

12 Therefore shalt thou put them h apart, and the strings of thy bowe shalt thou make ready against their faces.

13 i Be thou exalted, O Lord, in thy strength: so will we sing and praise thy power.

a When he shall ouercome his enemies, and so be assured of his vocation.
b Thou declarest thy liberall fauour toward him before he prayed.
c Dauid did not onely obtaine life, but also assurance that his posteritie should reigne for euer.
d Thou hast made him thy blessings to others, and a perpetuall example of thy fauour for euer.
e Here he describeth the power of Christs kingdome against the enemies thereof.
f This teacheth vs patiently to endure the crosse till God destroy the aduersarie.
g They layd as it were their nets to make Gods power to giue place to their wicked enterprises.
h As a marke to shoote at.
i Maintaine thy Church against thine aduersaries, that we may haue ample occasion to praise thy Name.

PSAL. XXII.

1 Dauid complaineth because he was brought into such extremities that he was past all hope, but after hee had rehearsed the sorowes and griefs, wherewith he was vexed, 10 He remembreth himselfe from the bottomles pit of temptations & groweth in hope. And here vnder his owne person he setteth forth the figure of Christ, whome he did foresee by the Spirit of prophecy, that he should marueilously, and strangely be deiected, and abased, before his Father should raise and exalt him againe.

¶ To him that excelleth vpon ‖ Aiseleth Hasshahar. A Psalme of Dauid.

2 O my God, I crie by day, but thou hearest not, and by night, but ‖ haue no audience.

3 But thou art holy, and doest inhabite the c prayses of Israel.

4 Our fathers trusted in thee: they trusted, and thou diddest deliuer them.

5 They called vpon thee, and were deliuered: they trusted in thee, and were not confounded.

6 But I am a d worme, and not a man: a shame of men, and the contempt of the people.

7 All they that see me, haue me in derision: they make a mowe and nod the head saying,

‖ Or, the hinde of the morning. And this was the name of some common song.
a Here appeareth that horrible conflict, which he sustained betweene faith & desperation.
b Being tormented with extreme anguish.
‖ Or, I cease not.
c He meaneth the place of prayer, euen the Tabernacle: or els it is so called because he gaue the people continually occasion to praise him.
d And seeming most miserable of all creatures, which was ment of Christ. And herein appeareth the vnspeakeable loue of God toward man, that he would thus abase his Sonne for our sakes.

* Mat.27.43.
e Euen from my birth thou hast giuen me occasion to trust in thee.
f For except Gods prouidence preserue the infants, they should perish a thousand times in the mothers wombe.
g He meaneth, that his enemies were so fat, proud and cruell, that they were rather beasts then men.
h Before, he spake of the cruelties of his enemies, and now he declareth the inward griefes of the minde, so that Christ was tormented both in soule and body.
i Thou hast suffered me to be without all hope of life.
k Thus Dauid complaineth as though he were nailed by his enemies both hands and feete: but this was accomplished in Christ.
l My life that is solitarie, left alone and forsaken of al, Psal.35.7.and 25.16.

11 Be not farre from mee, because trouble is neere: for there is none to helpe me.
12 Many yong bulles haue compassed mee: mighty g bulles of Bashan haue closed me about.
13 They gape vpon me with their mouthes, as a ramping and roaring lyon.
14 I am like h water poured out, and all my bones are out of ioynt: mine heart is like waxe: it is molten in the middes of my bowels.
15 My strength is dryed vp like a potsheard, and my tongue cleaueth to my iawes, and thou i hast brought me into the dust of death.
16 For dogges haue compassed me, and the assemblie of the wicked haue inclosed mee: they k perced my hands and my feete.
17 I may tell all my bones: yet they behold, and looke vpon me.
18 They part my garments among them, and cast lottes vpon my vesture.
19 But be not thou farre off, O Lorde, my strength: haste to helpe me.
20 Deliuer my soule from the sword: my l desolate soule from the power of the dogge.

24 For he hath not despised nor abhorred ỹ affliction of the o poore: neither hath he hid his face from him, but when he called vnto him, he heard.
25 My prayse shalbe of thee in the great Congregation: my p vowes will I perfourme before them that feare him.
26 q The poore shall eat and be satisfied: they that seeke after the Lorde, shall prayse him: your heart shal liue for euer.
27 All the endes of the world shal remember themselues, and turne to the Lord: and all the kinreds of the nations shal worship before thee.
28 For the kingdome is the Lords, and he ruleth among the nations.
29 Al they that be fat r in the earth, shall eate and worship: al they that go downe into the dust, shall bow before him, s euen he that cannot quicken his owne soule.

4 Yea, though I shoulde walke through the valley of the d shadowe of death, I will feare no euill: for thou art with me: thy rod and thy staffe, they comfort me.
5 Thou doest prepare a e table before mee in the sight of mine aduersaries: thou doest f anoynt mine head with oyle, and my cuppe runneth ouer.
6 Doubtlesse kindnesse and mercie shall followe mee all the dayes of my life, and I shall remaine a long season in the g house of the Lord.

f As was the maner of great feasts.
g He setteth not his felicitie in the pleasures of this worlde, but in the feare and seruice of God.

PSAL. XXIIII.

Albeit the Lorde God hath made, and gouerneth all the worlde, yet towardes his chosen people his gracious goodnesse doeth most abundantly appeare, in that among them hee will haue his dwelling place. Which though it was appointed among the children of Abraham, yet onely they do enter aright into this Sanctuarie, which are the true worshippers of God, purged from the filthie filth of this world. 7 Finally he magnifieth Gods grace for the building of the Temple, to the ende hee might stirre vp all the faithfull to the true seruice of God.

A Psalme of Dauid.

THe earth * is the Lords, and all that therein is: the world and they that dwell therein.
2 For he hath founded it vpon the a seas: and established it vpon the floods.
3 Who shall ascend into the mountaine of the Lord? and who shall stand in his holy place?
4 Euen he that hath innocent handes, and a pure heart: which hath not lift vp his mind vnto vanitie, nor sworne deceitfully.
5 He shall receiue a blessing from the Lord, and righteousnesse from the God of his saluation.
6 This is the b generation of them that seeke him, of thē ỹ seeke thy face, this is Iaakob. Selah.
7 c Lift vp your heads ye gates, and bee ye lift vp yee euerlasting doores, and the King of glory shall come in.
8 Who is the King of glory? the Lord, strong and mightie, euen the Lord mightie in battell.
9 Lift vp your heads, ye gates, and lift vp your selues, ye euerlasting doores, and the King of glorie shall come in.
10 Who is this King of glorie? the Lorde of hostes, he is the King of glorie, Selah.

* Deut.10.14. iob.28.24.
a He noteth two things: the one, that the earth to mans iudgement seemeth aboue the waters: and next, that God miraculously preserueth the earth, that it is not drowned with the waters, which naturally are aboue it.
b Though circumcision seperate the carnall seede of Iaakob from the Gentiles, yet he that seeketh God, is the true Iaakob, and the very Israelite.
c Dauid desireth the building vp of the Temple, wherein the glorie of God should appeare, and vnder the figure of this temple he also prayeth for the spirituall temple, which is eternall, because of the present which was made to the temple, as it is written, Psal.132.13.

PSAL. XXV.

The prophet touched with the consideration of his sinnes, and also grieued with the cruell malice of his enemies, 6 Prayeth to God most fernently to haue his sinnes forgiuen, 7 Especially such as hee had committed in his youth. He beginneth euery verse according to the Ebrew letters, two or three excepte.

¶A Psalme of Dauid.

VNto thee, a O Lorde, lift I vp my soule.
2 My God, I b trust in thee: let me not be confounded: let not mine enemies reioyce ouer mee.
3 * So all that hope in thee, shall not be ashamed: but let them be confounded, that transgresse without cause.

f That is, call them to repentance.
g He will gouerne and comfort them that are truely humbled for their sinnes.
h And for none other respect.

p For as much as I haue behaued my selfe vprightly towarde mine enemies, let them knowe that thou art the defender of my iust cause.

4 c Shewe me thy wayes, O Lord, and teache me thy paths.
5 Leade me foorth in thy trueth, and teache me: for thou art the God of my saluation: in thee doe I trust d all the day.
6 Remember, O Lorde, thy tender mercies, and thy louing kindnesse: for they haue bene for euer.
7 Remember not the e sinnes of my youth, nor my rebellions, but according to thy kindnesse remember thou me, euen for thy goodnesse sake, O Lord.
8 Gracious and righteous is the Lord: therefore will he f teache sinners in the way.
9 Them that bee meeke, will hee g guide in iudgement, and teach the humble his way.
10 All the pathes of the Lord are mercie and trueth vnto such as keepe his couenant and his testimonies.
11 For thy h Names sake, O Lord, be merciful vnto mine iniquitie, for it is great.
12 What i man is he that feareth the Lorde? him will he teach the way that he shall k chuse.
13 His soule shall dwell at l ease, and his seede shall inherite the land.
14 The m secrete of the Lorde is reuealed to them, that feare him: and his couenant to giue them vnderstanding.
15 Mine eyes are euer toward the Lorde: for he will bring my feete out of the net.
16 Turne thy face vnto mee, and haue mercie vpon me: for I am desolate and poore.
17 The sorowes of mine heart n are enlarged: drawe me out of my troubles.
18 Looke vpon mine affliction and my trauel, and forgiue all my sinnes.
19 Behold mine o enemies, for they are many, and they hate me with cruell hatred.
20 Keepe my soule, and deliuer me: let me not be confounded, for I trust in thee.
21 Let p mine vprightnes and equitie preserue me: for mine hope is in thee.
22 Deliuer Israel, O God, out of all his troubles.

PSAL. XXVI.

1 Dauid oppressed with many iniuries, finding no helpe in the world, calleth for ayde from God: and assured of his integritie toward Saul, desireth God to be his iudge, and to defende his innocence. 6 Finally he maketh mention of his sacrifice, which he will offer for his deliuerance, and desireth to be in the company of the faithfull in the Congregation of God, whence he was banished by Saul, promising integritie of life, and open prayses and thankesgiuing.

¶ A Psalme of Dauid.

a He fleeth to God to be the Iudge of his iust cause, seeing there is no equitie among men.
b My very affections and inward motions of the heart.
c Hee sheweth what staied him, that he did not recompense euill for euill.
d He declareth that they cannot walke in simplicitie before God, that delite in the vngodly.

IVdge me, a O Lord, for I haue walked in mine innocency: my truste hath bene also in the Lord: therefore shall I not slide.
2 Proue mee, O Lorde, and trie me: examine my b reines, and mine heart.
3 For thy c louing kindnesse is before mine eyes: therefore haue I walked in thy trueth.
4 I haue not d hanted with vaine persons, neither kept company with the dissemblers.
5 I haue hated the assemblie of the euil, and haue not companied with the wicked.
6 I will e wash mine hands in innocencie, O Lord, and compasse thine altar,
7 That I may declare with the voyce of thankesgiuing, and set forth all thy wonderous workes.
8 O Lorde, I haue loued the habitation of thine house, and the place where thine honour dwelleth.
9 f Gather not my soule with the sinners, nor my life with the bloodie men:
10 In whose hands is g wickednesse, and their right hand is full of bribes.
11 But I will walke in mine innocencie: redeeme me therefore, and be mercifull vnto me.
12 My foote standeth in h vprightnesse: I will praise thee, O Lord, in the Congregations.

e I will serue thee with a pure affection, and with the godly that sacrifice vnto thee.
f Destroy me not in the ouerthrowe of the wicked.
g Whose cruell handes doe execute the malicious deuises of their hearts.
h I am preserued from mine enemies by the power of God, and therefore will praise him openly.

PSAL. XXVII.

1 Dauid maketh this Psalme being deliuered from great perils as appeareth by the prayses and thankesgiuing annexed: 6 Wherein wee may see the constant faith of Dauid against the assaults of all his enemies, 7 And also the ende wherefore he desireth to liue and to be deliuered, onely to worship God in his Congregation.

¶ A Psalme of Dauid.

THe Lord is my a light & my saluation, whom shall I feare? the Lord is the strength of my life, of whom shall I be afraide?
2 When the wicked, euen mine enemies and my foes came vpon me to eate vp my flesh, they stumbled and fell.
3 Though an hoste pitched against me, mine heart should not be afraide: though warre be raised against me, I will trust in b this.
4 c One thing haue I desired of the Lorde, that I will require, euen that I may dwell in the house of the Lord all the dayes of my life, to beholde the beautie of the Lorde, and to visite his Temple.
5 For in the time of trouble hee shall hide mee in his Tabernacle: in the secrete place of his pauilion shall he hide me, and set me vp vpon a rocke.
6 d And now shall hee lift vp mine head aboue mine enemies round about mee: therefore will I offer in his Tabernacle sacrifices of ioy: I will sing and praise the Lord.
7 Hearken vnto my voyce, O Lorde, when I crye: haue mercie also vpon mee and heare mee.
8 When thou saidest, e Seeke ye my face, mine heart answered vnto thee, O Lorde, I will seeke thy face.
9 Hide not therefore thy face from me, nor cast thy seruant away in displeasure: thou hast bene my succour: leaue me not, neither forsake me, O God of my saluation.
10 f Though my father and my mother should forsake mee, yet the Lorde will gather me vp.
11 Teache mee thy way, O Lorde, and leade me in a right path, because of mine enemies.
12 Giue me not vnto the g lust of mine aduersaries: for there are false witnesses risen vp against me, and such as speake cruelly.
13 I should haue fainted, except I had beleeued to see the goodnesse of the h Lord in the land of the liuing.
14 i Hope in the Lord, be strong, and he shall comfort thine heart, and trust in the Lord.

a Because he was assured of good successe in all his dangers, and that his saluation was surely laide vp in God, he feared not the tyrannie of his enemies.
b That God will deliuer me, & giue my faith the victorie.
c The losse of countrey, wife and all worldly commodities grieue me not in respect of this one thing, that I may not prayse thy Name in the middes of the congregation.
d Dauid assured him selfe by the Spirite of prophecie that he should ouercome his enemies, & serue God in his Tabernacle.
e He groundeth vpon Gods promes, and sheweth that he is most willing to obey his commandement.
f He magnifieth Gods loue towardes his, which farre passeth the most tender loue of parents towards their children.
g But either pacifie their wrath, or bridle their rage.
h In this present life before I die, as Isa. 38. 11.
i He exhorteth himselfe to depend on the Lord, seeing he neuer failed in his promises.

PSAL. XXVIII.

1 Being in great feare and heauinesse of heart to see God dishonoured by the wicked, he desireth to be rid of them. 4 And cryeth for vengeance against them: and at length assureth him selfe, that God hath heard his prayer. 9 Vnto whose suition he commendeth all the faithfull.

¶ A Psalme of Dauid.

VNto thee, O Lord, do I crie: O my strength, be not deafe toward me, lest, if thou answere me not, I be [a] like thē that go downe into the pit.

2 Heare the voyce of my petitions, when I crie vnto thee, when I holde vp mine handes toward thine [b] holy Oracle.

3 [c] Drawe me not away with the wicked, and with the workers of iniquitie: which speake friendly to their neighbours, when malice is in their hearts.

4 [d] Reward them according to their deedes, and according to the wickednesse of their inuentions: recompense them after the worke of their handes: render them their reward.

5 For they regarde not the works of the Lord, nor the operation of his hands: therefore [e] breake them downe, and build them not vp.

6 [f] Praised be the Lord, for he hath heard the voyce of my petitions.

7 The Lorde is my strength and my shielde: mine heart trusted in him, & I was helped: therefore mine heart shall reioyce, and with my song will I prayse him.

8 The Lord is [g] their strength, and he is the strength of the deliuerances of his anointed.

9 Saue thy people, and blesse thine inheritance: feede them also, and exalt them for euer.

a Hee counteth himselfe as a dead man, till God shew his fauour toward him, and grant him his petition.
b He vsed this outward meanes to helpe the weakenesse of his faith: for in that place was the Arke, and there God promised to shewe the tokens of his fauour.
c Destroy not the good with the bad.
d He thus prayeth in respect of Gods glory, and not for his owne cause, being assured that God would punish the persecuters of his Church.
e Let them be vtterly destroyed, as Malac. 1 4.
f Because he felt the assurance of Gods helpe in his heart, his mouth was opened to sing his prayses. g Meaning, his souldiers, who were as meanes, by whom God declared his power.

PSAL. XXIX.

1 The Prophet exhorteth the princes and rulers of the worlde, (which for the most part thinke there is no God) 3 At the least to feare him for the thunders and tempests, for feare whereof all creatures tremble. 11 And though thereby God threatenesh sinners, yet is he alwayes mercifull to his, and moueth them thereby to praise his Name.

¶ A Psalme of Dauid.

GIue vnto the Lord, ye [a] sonnes of the mightie: giue vnto the Lord glorie and strength.

2 Giue vnto the Lorde glorie due vnto his Name: worship the Lorde in the glorious Sanctuarie.

3 The [b] voice of the Lord is vpon the waters: the God of glorie maketh it to thunder: the Lord is vpon the great waters.

4 The voice of the Lord is mightie: the voyce of the Lord is glorious.

5 The [c] voyce of the Lorde breaketh the cedars: yea, the Lorde breaketh the cedars of Lebanon.

6 He maketh them also to leape like a calfe: Lebanon also and [d] Shirion like a yong vnicorne.

7 The voyce of [e] the Lord diuideth the [f] flames of fire.

8 The voyce of the Lord maketh the wildernesse to tremble: the Lorde maketh the wildernesse of [f] Kadesh to tremble.

9 The voyce of the Lord maketh the hindes to [g] calue, and [h] discouereth the forests: therefore in his [i] Temple doth euery mā speake of his glory.

a He exhorteth the proud tyrants to humble themselues vnder Gods hand, and not to be inferiour to brute beastes and dumme creatures.
b The thunder clappes, that are heard out of the cloudes, ought to make the wicked to tremble for feare of Gods anger.
c That is, by thunderbolt breaketh the most strong trees, and shall men thinke their power to be able to resist God?
d Called also Hermon.
e It causeth the lightnings to shoote and glide.
f In places most desolate, whereas seemeth there is no presence of God. g For feare maketh them to cast their calues. h Maketh the trees bare, or pearceth the most secret places. i Though the wicked are nothing moued with these sights, yet the faithfull praise God.

10 The Lord sitteth vpon the [k] flood, and the Lord doeth remaine King for euer.

11 The Lord shall giue strength vnto his people: the Lord shall blesse his people with peace.

k To make the rage of tempest and waters, that they do not hurt.

PSAL. XXX.

1 When Dauid was deliuered from great danger, he rendred thanks to God, exhorting others to doe the like, and to learne by his example, that God is rather mercifull then seuere and rigorous towards his children. 7 And also that the full from prosperitie to aduersitie is sudden. 8 This done, he returneth to prayer, promising to prayse God for euer.

11 Thou hast turned my mourning into ioy: thou hast loosed my sacke and girded mee with gladnesse.

PSAL. XXXI.

1 Dauid deliuered from some great danger, first rehearseth what meditation he had by the power of faith, when death was before his eyes, his enemie being ready to take him. 15 Then he affirmeth that the fauour of God is alwayes ready to those that feare him. 20 Finally hee exhorteth all the faithfull to trust in God and to loue him, because he preserueth and strengtheneth them, as they may see by his example.

9 Haue mercy vpon me, O Lord; for I am in trouble: mine f eye, my soule and my bellie are consumed with griefe.

PSAL. XXXII.

1 Dauid punished with grieuous sickenes for his sinnes, counteth them blessed to whome God doth not impute their transgressions. 5 And after that he had confessed his sinnes and obtained pardon, 8 Hee exhorteth the wicked men to liue godly. 11 And the good to reioyce.

17 A horse is a vaine helpe, and shall not deliuer any by his great strength.

18 Beholde, m the eye of the Lorde is vpon them that feare him, and vpon them, that trust in his mercie, 19 To deliuer their soules from death, and to preserue them in famine.

20 n Our soule waiteth for the Lord: for he is our helpe and our shield.

21 Surely our heart shall reioyce in him, because we trusted in his holy Name.

22 Let thy mercie, O Lord, be vpon vs, as we trust in thee.

PSAL. XXXIIII.

1 After Dauid had escaped Achish, according as it is written in the 1. Sam. 21. 11. whom in this title he calleth Abimelech (which was a generall name to all the Kings of the Philistims) he praiseth God for his deliuerance, 3 Prouoking all others by his example to trust in God, to feare and serue him: 14 Who defendeth the godly with his Angels, 15 And vtterly destroyeth the wicked in their sinnes.

¶ A Psalme of Dauid, when hee changed his behauiour before Abimelech, who droue him away, and he departed.

a He promiseth neuer to become vnmindfull of Gods great benefite for his deliuerance.
b They that are beaten downe with the experience of their owne euils.
c Which I conceiued for the dangers wherein I was.
d They shalbe bolde to flee to thee for succour, when they shall see thy mercies toward me.
e Though Gods power be sufficient to gouerne vs, yet for mans infirmitie he appointeth his Angels to watch ouer vs.
f The godly by their patient obedience, profit more then they, which ranine and spoyle.
g If they abide the last tryall.

I Will a alway giue thankes vnto the Lord: his praise shalbe in my mouth continually.

2 My soule shall glorie in the Lorde: the b humble shall heare it, and be glad.

3 Praise ye the Lord with mee, and let vs magnifie his Name together.

4 I sought the Lord, and he heard me: yea, he deliuered me out of all my c feare.

5 They d shall looke vnto him, and runne to him: and their faces shall not be ashamed, saying,

6 This poore man cried, and the Lord heard him, and saued him out of all his troubles.

7 The e Angel of the Lord pitcheth rounde about them, that feare him, and deliuereth them.

8 Taste ye and see, how gracious the Lord is: blessed is the man that trusteth in him.

9 Feare the Lord, ye his Saints: for nothing wanteth to them that feare him.

10 The f lyons doe lacke and suffer hunger, but they, which seeke the Lord, shall g want nothing that is good.

11 Come children, hearken vnto mee: I will teach you the h feare of the Lord.

12 * What man is he, that desireth life, and loueth long dayes for to i see good?

13 Keepe thy tongue from euill, and thy lips, that they speake no guile.

14 Eschewe euill and doe good: seeke peace and follow after it.

15 The eyes of the Lord are vpon the righteous, and his eares are open vnto their crie.

16 But the k face of the Lord is against them that doe euill, to cut off their remembrance from the earth.

17 The righteous crie, and the Lorde heareth them, and deliuereth them out of all their troubles.

18 The Lord is neere vnto them that are of a l contrite heart, and will saue such as be afflicted in Spirite.

19 Great are the troubles of the righteous: but the Lord deliuereth him out of them all.

20 m He keepeth all his bones: not one of them is broken.

21 But malice shall slay the n wicked: and they that hate the righteous, shall perish.

22 The Lord o redeemeth the soules of his seruants: and none, that trust in him, shall perish.

PSAL. XXXV.

1 So long as Saul was enemie to Dauid, all that had any authoritie vnder him, to flatter their King (as is the course of the world) did also most cruelly persecute Dauid: against whome he prayeth God to pleade and to auenge his cause, 8 That they may be taken in their nets and snares, which they layed for him, that his innocencie may be declared, 27 And that the innocent, which take part with him, may reioyce and praise the Name of the Lorde, that thus deliuereth his seruant. 28 And so hee promiseth to speak foorth the iustice of the Lorde, and to magnifie his Name all the dayes of his life.

¶ A Psalme of Dauid.

h He sheweth that all our felicitie standeth in this, that the Lord is our God.
i He proueth that all things are gouerned by Gods prouidence and not by fortune.
k Therefore he knoweth their wicked enterprises.
l If kings and the mightie of the worlde cannot be saued by worldly meanes, but onely by Gods prouidence, what haue others to trust in, that haue not like meanes?
m God sheweth that toward his of his mercie, which man by no meanes is able to compasse.
n Thus he speaketh in the name of the whole Church, which onely depend on Gods prouidence.

PLeade thou my a cause, O Lorde, with them that striue with me: fight thou against them, that fight against me.

2 b Lay hand vpon the shield and buckler, and stand vp for mine helpe.

3 Bring out also the speare and stop the way against them, that persecute me: say vnto my c soule, I am thy saluation.

4 Let them be confounded and put to shame, that seeke after my soule: let them bee turned backe, and brought to confusion, that imagine mine hurt.

5 Let them be as chaffe before the wind, and let the Angel of the Lord d scatter them.

6 Let their way be darke and slipperie: and let the Angel of the Lord persecute them.

7 For e without cause they haue hid the pit & their net for me: without cause haue they digged a pit for my soule.

8 Let destruction come vpon f him at vnwares, and let his net, that hee hath laide priuily, take him: let him fal into the same destruction.

9 Then my soule shalbe ioyfull in the Lorde: it shall reioyce in his saluation.

10 All my h bones shall say, Lorde, who is like vnto thee, which deliuerest the poore from him, that is too strong for him? yea, the poore & him that is in miserie, from him that spoyleth him?

11 i Cruell witnesses did rise vp: they asked of me things that I knew not.

12 They rewarded me euill for good, to k haue spoyled my soule.

13 Yet I, when they were sicke, I was clothed with a sacke: I humbled my soule with fasting:

a Hee desireth God to vndertake his cause against them that did persecute him and slander him.
b Albeit God can with his breath destroy all his enemies, yet the holy Ghost teacheth vnto him these outward weapons to assure vs of his present power.
c Assure me against these tentations, that thou art the author of my saluation.
d Smite them with the feare of confusion, that their enterprise may be foolish, and they receiue iust reward.
e Shewing that we may not call God to be reuenger, but onely for his glorie, and when our cause is iust.
f When he promiseth to him selfe peace.
g Which he prepared against his children of God.
h He attributeth his deliuerance onely to God, praysing him therefore both in soule and body.
i That would not suffer me to purge my selfe.
k To haue taken from me all comfort, and brought me into dispaire.

and I my prayer was turned vpon my bosome.

14 I behaued my selfe as to my friend, or as to my brother: I humbled my selfe, mourning as one that bewayleth his mother.

15 But in mine [m] aduersitie they reioyced, and gathered themselues together: the abiectes assembled themselues against mee, and I knewe not; they tare [n] me and ceased not,

16 With the false [o] skoffers at [o] bankets, gnashing their teeth against me.

17 Lord, how long wilt thou behold this? deliuer my soule from their tumult, euen my desolate soule from the lions.

18 So will I giue thee thankes in a great Congregation: I wil praise thee among much people.

19 Let not them that are mine enemies, vniustly reioyce ouer mee, neither let them [p] winke with the eye, that hate me without a cause.

20 For they speake not as friendes: but they imagine deceitfull wordes against the [q] quiet of the land.

21 And they gaped on me with their mouthes, saying, Aha, aha, [q] our eye hath seene.

22 Thou hast seene it, O Lorde: keepe not silence: be not farre from me, O Lord.

23 Arise and wake to my iudgement, euen to my cause, my God, and my Lord.

24 Iudge me, O Lorde my God, according to thy [r] righteousnesse, and let them not reioyce ouer me.

25 Let them not say in their hearts, [s] O our soule reioyce: neither let them say, We haue deuoured him.

26 Let them be confounded, and put to shame [t] together, that reioyce at mine hurt: let them be clothed [u] with confusion and shame, that lift vp themselues against me.

27 But let them bee ioyfull and glad, [x] that loue my righteousnesse: yea, let them say alway, Let the Lorde be magnified, which loueth the [y] prosperitie of his seruant.

28 And my tongue shall vtter thy righteousnesse, and thy praise euery day.

[y] He exhorteth the Church to praise God for the deliuerance of his seruants, and not for the destruction of his aduersaries.

PSAL. XXXVI.

[z] The Prophet grieuously vexed by the wicked, doth complaine of their wickednesse. 4 Then hee turneth to consider the vnspeakable goodnesse of God towards all creatures: 9 But specially towards his children, that by the sight thereof he may bee comforted and assured of his deliuerance by this ordinarie course of Gods workes: 13 Who in the ende destroyeth the wicked and saueth the iust.

To him that excelleth. A Psalme of Dauid, the seruant of the Lord.

WIckednes [a] saith to the wicked man, [a] euen in mine heart, that there is no feare of God before his eyes.

2 For he [b] flattereth himselfe in his own eyes, while his iniquitie is found worthy to be hated.

3 The wordes of his mouth are iniquitie and [c] deceit: he hath left off to vnderstand and to doe good.

4 He [d] imagineth mischiefe vpon his bed: he setteth himself vpon a way, that is not good, and doeth not abhorre euill.

5 Thy [e] mercy, O Lord, reacheth vnto the heauens, and thy faithfulnesse vnto the cloudes.

6 Thy righteousnesse is like the † mightie mountaines: thy iudgements are like a great [f] deepe: thou, Lord, doest saue man and beast.

7 How excellent is thy mercy, O God! therefore the children of men trust vnder the shadowe of thy wings.

8 They shalbe [g] satisfied with the fatnesse of thine house, and thou shalt giue them drinke out of the riuer of thy pleasures.

9 For with thee is the well of life, and in thy light shall we see light.

10 Extend thy louing kindnesse vnto them that [h] knowe thee, and thy righteousnesse vnto them that are vpright in heart.

11 Let not [i] the foote of pride come against me, and let not the hand of [i] wicked men moue me.

12 [k] There they are fallen that worke iniquity: they are cast downe, and shall not be able to rise.

[a] Though wickednesse seemeth to ouerflowe all the world, yet by thine heauenly prouidence thou gouernest heauen and earth.

† Ebr. the mountaines of God: for whatsoeuer is excellent, is thus called.

[f] The depth of thy prouidence gouerneth all things, and disposeth them, albeit the wicked seeme to ouerwhelme the worlde.

[g] Onely Gods children haue ynough of all things both concerning this life and the life to come. [h] Hee sheweth who are Gods children, to wit, they that knowe him, and leade their liues vprightly. [i] Let not the proude aduance himselfe against me, neither the power of the wicked driue me away. [k] That is, in their pride wherein they flatter themselues.

PSAL. XXXVII.

[l] This Psalme containeth exhortation and consolation for the weake, that are grieued at the prosperitie of the wicked, and the affliction of the godly. 7 For how prosperously soeuer the wicked doe liue for the time, hee doeth affirme their felicitie to be vaine and transitorie, because they are not in the fauour of God, but in the ende they are destroyed as his enemies, 12 And how miserably that the righteous seemeth to liue in the world, yet his ende is peace, and he is in the fauour of God, he is deliuered from the wicked and preserued.

¶ A Psalme of Dauid.

FRet not [a] thy selfe because of the wicked men, neither be enuious for the euill doers.

2 For they shall soone bee [b] cut downe like grasse, and shall wither as the greene herbe.

3 [c] Trust thou in the Lord & do good: dwell in the land, and thou shalt be fed assuredly.

4 And delite thy selfe in the Lorde, and hee shall giue thee thine hearts desire.

5 [d] Commit thy way vnto the Lord, & trust in him, and he shall bring it to passe.

6 And he shall bring forth thy righteousnes as the light, & thy [e] iudgement as the noone day.

7 Waite patiently vpon the Lord, and hope in him: fret not thy selfe for him [f] which prospereth in his way: nor for the man that bringeth his enterprises to passe.

8 Cease from anger, and leaue off wrath: fret not thy selfe [g] also to doe euill.

9 For euill doers shalbe cut off, and they that wait vpon the Lord, they shall inherit the land.

10 [h] Therfore yet a litle while, and the wicked shall not appeare, and thou shalt looke after his place, and he shall not be found.

11 But [*] meeke men shal possesse the earth, & shall haue their delite in the multitude of peace.

12 [i] The wicked practiseth against the iust, & gnasheth his teeth against him.

13 But the Lorde shall laugh him to scorne: for hee seeth that his day is comming.

14 The wicked haue drawen their sworde, and haue bent their bowe, to cast downe

[a] He admonisheth vs neither to vexe our selues for the prosperous estate of the wicked, neither to desire to be like them to make our state [*] better. b For Gods iudgement cutteth downe their state in a moment.

c To trust in God, and doe according to his will are sure tokens, that his prouidence will neuer faile vs.

d Be not led by thine owne wisdome, but obey God, and he will finish his worke in thee.

e As the hope of the day light causeth vs not to be offended with the darkenesse of the night: so ought we patiently to trust [*] God will cleare our cause & restore vs to our right.

f When God forbeareth the wicked to prosper it seemeth to the flesh that he fauoureth them, but it shall be plaine, Iohn 21. 7. &c.

g Meaning, except he moderate his affections, he shalbe led to doe as they doe. h He correcteth the impatiencie of our nature, which cannot abide till the falnesse of Gods time bee come. [*] Matth. 5. 5. i The godly are assured that the power and craft of the wicked shall not preuaile against them, but fall on their owne necks, and therefore ought patiently to abide Gods time, & in the meane while bewaile their sins, & offer vp their teares as a sacrifice of their obedience, the poore and needie, and to ſlay ſuch as be of vpright conuerſation.

the

15 But their ſword ſhal enter into their owne heart, and their bowes ſhalbe broken.

16 [k] A ſmall thing vnto the iuſt man is better, then great riches to the wicked and mightie.

17 For the armes of the wicked ſhall be broken: but the Lord vpholdeth the iuſt men.

18 The Lord [l] knoweth the dayes of vpright men, & their inheritance ſhalbe perpetuall.

19 They ſhall not be confounded in the perilous time, and in the dayes of famine they ſhall haue [m] ynough.

20 But the wicked ſhall periſh, and the enemies of the Lorde ſhall be conſumed as the [n] fatte of lambes: euen with the ſmoke ſhall they conſume away.

21 The wicked boroweth and payeth not againe: but the righteous is mercifull, & [o] giueth.

22 For ſuch as be bleſſed of God, ſhall inherite the lande, and they that be curſed of him, ſhall be cut off.

23 [p] The pathes of man are directed by the Lord: for he loueth his way.

24 Though he [q] fall, hee ſhall not be caſt off, for the Lord putteth vnder his hand.

25 I haue bene yong, and am olde: yet I ſawe neuer the righteous forſaken, nor his [r] ſeede begging bread.

26 But hee is euer mercifull and lendeth, and his ſeede enioyeth the bleſſing.

27 Flee from euil and doe good, and dwell for euer.

28 For the Lord loueth iudgement, and forſaketh not his Saintes: they ſhall be preſerued for euermore: but the ſeede of the wicked ſhall bee cut off.

29 The righteous men ſhall inherite the land, and dwell therein [s] for euer.

30 The [t] mouth of the righteous wil ſpeake of wiſdome, and his tongue wil talke of iudgement.

31 For the Lawe of his God [u] in his heart, and his ſteppes ſhal not ſlide.

32 The wicked watcheth the righteous, and ſeeketh to ſlay him.

33 But the Lorde will not leaue him in his hand, nor condemne him, when he is [x] iudged.

34 Waite thou on the Lorde, and keepe his way, and he ſhall exalt thee, that thou ſhalt inherite the land: when the wicked men ſhall periſh, thou ſhalt ſee.

35 I haue ſeene the wicked ſtrong, and ſpreading himſelfe like a greene bay tree.

36 Yet he [x] paſſed away, & loe, he was gone, and I ſought him, but he could not be found.

37 [y] Marke the vpright man, and behold the iuſt: for the end of that man is peace.

38 But the tranſgreſſours ſhall be deſtroyed together, and the ende of the wicked ſhall be cut off.

39 But the [z] ſaluation of the righteous men ſhalbe of the Lord: he ſhalbe their ſtrength in the time of trouble.

40 For the Lord ſhall helpe them, and deliuer them: he ſhall deliuer them from the wicked, and ſhall ſaue them, becauſe they truſt in him.

k For they are daily fed as with Manna from heauen, and haue ſufficient, when the wicked haue neuer ynough, but euer hunger.

l God knoweth what dangers hang ouer his, and by what meanes to deliuer them.

m For God will giue them contented mindes, and that which ſhalbe neceſſarie.

n They ſhall vaniſh away ſuddenly: for they are fed for the day of ſlaughter.

o God ſo furniſheth him with his bleſſing, that he is able to helpe others.

p God proſpereth the faithfull, becauſe they walke in his wayes with an vpright conſcience.

q When God doeth exerciſe his faith with diuers tentations.

r Though the iuſt man die, yet Gods bleſſings are extended to his poſteritie, & though God ſuffer ſome iuſt man to lacke temporal benefits, yet he recompenſeth him with ſpirituall treaſures.

s They ſhall continually be preſerued vnder Gods wings, and haue at leaſt inward reſt.

t Theſe three points are required of the faithfull, that their talke be godly, that Gods Lawe be in their heart, & that their life be vpright.

u For though it be ſometime ſo expedient both for Gods glory and their ſaluation, yet he will approue their cauſe, and reuenge their wrong.

x So that the proſperitie of the wicked is but as a cloude, which vaniſheth away in a moment.

y He exhorteth the faithfull to marke diligently the examples both of Gods mercies, and alſo of his iudgements.

z Hee ſheweth that the patient hope of the godly is neuer in vaine, but in the ende hath good ſucceſſe, though not a time God proueth them by ſundry tentations.

PSAL. XXXVIII.

1 Dauid lying ſicke of ſome grieuous diſeaſe, acknowledgeth him ſelfe to bee chaſtiſed of the Lorde for his ſinnes, and therefore prayeth God to turne away his wrath. 5 Hee vttereth the greatneſſe of his griefe by many wordes and circumſtances, as wounded with the arrowes of Gods ire, forſaken of his friends, euill intreated of his enemies. 22 But in the ende with ſome confidence hee commendeth his cauſe to God, and hopeth for ſpeedie helpe at his hand.

¶ A Pſalme of Dauid for [a] remembrance.

O Lorde, rebuke me not in thine [b] anger, neither chaſtiſe me in thy wrath.

2 For thine [c] arrowes haue light vpon me, and thine hand lyeth vpon me.

3 There is nothing ſounde in my fleſh, becauſe of thine anger: neither is there reſt in my bones, becauſe of my [d] ſinne.

4 For [e] mine iniquities are gone ouer mine head, and as a weightie burden they are too heauie for me.

5 My woundes are putrified, and corrupt becauſe of [f] my fooliſhneſſe.

6 I am bowed, and crooked very ſore: I goe ‖ mourning all the day.

7 For my reines are full of burning, and there is nothing ſound in my fleſh.

8 I am weakened and ſore broken: I groane for the very griefe of mine heart.

9 Lord, ſ powre my whole deſire before thee, and my ſighing is not hid from thee.

10 Mine heart † panteth: my ſtrength faileth me, and the light of mine eyes, euen [h] they are not mine owne.

11 My louers & my friendes ſtand aſide from my plague, & my [i] kinſmen ſtand afarre off.

12 They alſo, that ſeeke after my life, lay ſnares, & they that go about to doe me euil, talke wicked things and imagine deceite continually.

13 But I as [k] a deafe man heard not, and am as a dumme man, which openeth not his mouth.

14 Thus am I as a man, that heareth not, and in whoſe mouth are no reproofes.

15 For on thee, O Lord, doe I wait: thou wilt heare me, my Lord, my God.

16 For I ſaid, Heare me, leſt they reioyce ouer me: for [l] when my foot ſlippeth, they extoll themſelues againſt me.

17 Surely I am ready to [m] halt, and my ſorow is euer before me.

18 When I declare my paine, and am ſory for my ſinne.

19 Then mine [n] enemies are aliue, & are mightie, and they that hate me wrongfully are many.

20 They alſo, that reward euill for good, are mine aduerſaries, becauſe I follow [o] goodneſſe.

21 Forſake me not, O Lord: be not thou farre from me, my God.

22 Haſte thee to helpe mee, O my Lord, my [p] ſaluation.

a To put them and others in minde of Gods chaſtiſement for ſinne.

b He deſireth not to be exempted from Gods rod, but that he would ſo moderate his hand, that he might be able to beare it.

c Thy ſickneſſe, wherewith thou haſt viſited me.

d Dauid acknowledgeth God to be iuſt in his iudgements, becauſe ſinners had offended much more.

e He confeſſeth his ſinnes, God iuſtifice, and maketh prayer his refuge.

f That is, the cauſe of mine owne euil diſpoſition to the will of God.

‖ Or, Walke, or am thus ſadly and confounded with ſickneſſe.

g This ſtanding witneth vnto him to deſire helpe of men, not to truſt to it, but to God.

† Or, I haue loſt my breath, or, I faint in and for my ſorow, that he was deſtitute of all helpe and comfort.

h My ſight fayleth me for very ſorowe.

i Partly for feare and partly for pride, they deuiſed all deceite and friendſhip.

k For I can haue no audience before men, and therefore earneſtly waite for the helpe of God.

l That is, if they ſee that thou forſakeſt me not in thine, they will mocke and triumphe, as though thou hadſt forſaken me.

m I am without hope to recouer my ſtrength.

n In my greateſt miſerie they moſt reioyce.

o He had rather haue the hatred of all the world, then to faile in any part of his dueties to God ward.

p The authour of my ſaluation: and this declareth that he prayed with faith of deliuerance.

PSAL. XXXIX.

1 Dauid vttereth with what great griefe and bitternes of minde hee was driuen to theſe vntimorious complaints of his infirmities. 2 For he confeſſeth that when he had determined ſilence, that he might ſhunne the occaſion of ſinning, yet could he not ſo refraine his griefe, but that he muſt needes powre out ſome certaine requeſtes which taſte of the infirmitie of man: & mixeth with them many prayers: but all do ſerue a minde wonderfully troubled, that it may plainely appeare how he did striue mightily against wrath and desperation.

¶ To the excellent musician [a] Iedithun.
A Psalme of Dauid.

I Thought, [b] I will take heede to my wayes, that I sinne not with my tongue: I will keepe my mouth brideled, while the wicked is in my sight.
2 I was dumme & spake nothing: I kept silence euen from good, [c] and my sorow was more stirred.
3 Mine heart was hote within me, and while I was musing, the fire kindled, and [d] I spake with my tongue, saying,
4 Lord, let me know mine ende, and the measure of my dayes, what it is: let me knowe howe long I haue to liue.
5 Beholde, thou hast made my dayes as an hand breadth, and mine age as nothing in respect of thee: surely euery man in his best state is altogether [e] vanitie. Selah.
6 Doubtlesse man walketh in a shadow, and disquieteth himselfe in vaine: he heapeth vp riches, and cannot tell who shall gather them.
7 And now Lord, what wait I for? mine hope is euen in thee.
8 Deliuer me from all my transgressions, and make me not a rebuke vnto the [f] foolish.
9 I should haue beene dumme, and not haue opened my mouth, because [g] thou didst it.
10 Take thy plague away from mee: for I am consumed by the stroke of thine hand.
11 When thou with rebukes dost chastise man for iniquitie, thou as a moth [h] makest his [i] beautie to consume: surely euery man is vanitie. Selah.
12 Heare my prayer, O Lord, & hearken vnto my crie: keepe not silence at my teares, for I am a stranger with thee, & a soiourner as al my fathers.
13 Stay thine anger from me, that I may recouer my strength, [k] before I go hence and be not.

[a] This was one of the chiefe singers, 1. Chro. 16. 41.
[b] Albeit he had appointed with himselfe patiently to haue tried Gods leasure, yet the vehemencie of his paine caused him to breake his purpose.
[c] Though when the wicked ruled, he thought to haue kept silence, yet his zeale caused him to change his minde.
[d] He confesseth that he grudged against God, considering the greatnesse of his sorowes, & the shortnesse of his life.
[e] Yet Dauid offended in that that he reasoned with God, as though that he were too seuere toward his weake creature.
[f] Make me not a mocking stocke to the wicked, or wrappe me not vp with the wicked, when they are put to shame.
[g] Seeing my troubles come of thy prouidence, I ought to haue endured them patiently.
[h] Though thine open plagues light not euermore vpon them, yet thy secret curse continually fretteth them. [i] The word signifieth all that he desireth, as health, force, strength, beautie, and in what soeuer he hath delite, so that the rod of God taketh away all that is desired in this world. [k] For his sorowe caused him to thinke that God would destroy him vtterly: whereby we see how hard it is for the very Saints to keepe a measure in their words, when death and despaire assaile them.

PSAL. XL.

1 Dauid deliuered from great danger, doeth magnifie and praise the grace of God for his deliuerance, and commendeth his prouidence towards all mankinde. 5 Then doeth he promise to giue himselfe wholly to Gods seruice, & so declareth how God is truely worshipped. 14 Afterward he giueth thankes and praiseth God, and hauing complained of his enemies, with good courage he calleth for ayde and succour.

¶ To him that excelleth. A Psalme of Dauid.

a Though God deferred his help, yet he patiently abode, till he was heard.
b He hath deliuered me from most great dangers.
c That is, a special occasion to praise him: for Gods benefites are so many occasions for vs to praise his Name.
d To follow their example, which he must needes doe, that trusteth not onely in the Lord.
e Dauid goeth from one kinde of Gods fauour, to the contemplation of his prouidence ouer all, and confesseth that his counsels towards vs are farre aboue our capacities; we cannot so much as tell them in order.

I Waited [a] patiently for the Lord, and he inclined vnto me, and heard my cry.
2 Hee brought mee also out of the [b] horrible pit, out of the myrie clay, and set my feete vpon the rocke, and ordered my goings.
3 And he hath put in my mouth [c] a new song of praise vnto our God: many shal see it and feare, and shall trust in the Lord.
4 Blessed is the man that maketh the Lorde his trust, and regardeth [d] not the proud, nor such as turne aside to lies.
5 [e] O Lorde my God, thou hast made thy wonderfull workes so many, that none can count in order to thee thy thoughts toward vs: I would declare, and speake of them, but they are moe then I am able to expresse.
6 Sacrifice and offering thou didst not desire: (for [f] mine eares hast thou prepared) burnt offring and sinne offering hast thou not required.
7 [g] Then said I, Lo, I come: for in the rolle of the booke it is written of me,
8 I desired to doe thy good will, O my God: yea, thy Lawe is within mine heart.
9 I haue declared thy righteousnesse in the [h] great Congregation: loe, I will not refraine my lippes: O Lord, thou knowest.
10 I haue not hid thy righteousnesse within mine heart, but I haue declared thy [i] trueth and thy saluation: I haue not conceiled thy mercy and thy trueth from the great Congregation.
11 Withdrawe not thou thy tender mercie from me, O Lord: let thy mercie and thy trueth alway preserue me.
12 For innumerable troubles haue compassed me: my sinnes haue taken such holde vpon me, that I am not able to looke vp: yea, they are moe in number then the haires of mine head: therefore mine heart hath [k] failed me.
13 Let it please thee, O Lord, to deliuer mee: make haste, O Lord, to helpe me.
14 Let them be [l] confounded & put to shame together, that seeke my soule to destroy it: let them be driuen backward and put to rebuke, that desire mine hurt.
15 Let them bee [m] destroyed for a reward of their shame, which say vnto me, Aha, aha.
16 Let all them, that seeke thee, reioyce and be glad in thee: and let them, that loue thy saluation, say alway, [n] The Lord be praysed.
17 Though I be poore and needie, the Lorde thinketh on me: thou art mine helper and my deliuerer: my God, make no tarying.

[f] Thou hast opened mine eares to vnderstand the spirituall meaning of the sacrifices: and here Dauid esteemeth the ceremonies of the Law nothing in respect of the spirituall seruice.
[g] When thou haddest opened mine eares and heart, I was ready to obey thee, being assured that I was written in the booke of thine elect for this end.
[h] In the Church assembled in the Sanctuarie.
[i] Dauid here numbreth 3. degrees of our saluation: Gods mercy, whereby he pitieth vs: his righteousnesse, which signifieth his continuall protection, and his trueth, whereby appeareth his constant fauour, so that hereof proceedeth our saluation.
[k] As touching the iudgement of the flesh, I was vtterly destitute of all counsell: yet faith inwardly mooued mine heart to pray.
[l] He desireth that Gods mercie may contend for him against the rage of his enemies. [m] Let the same shame and confusion light vpon them, which they intended to haue brought vpon me. [n] As the faithfull alwayes praise God for his benefites: so the wicked mocke Gods children in their afflictions.

PSAL. XLI.

1 Dauid being grieuously afflicted, blesseth them, that pitie his case, 9 And complaineth of the treason of his owne friends and familiars, as came to passe in Iudas, Ioh. 13. 18. After he feeling the great mercies of God gently chastising him, and not suffering his enemies to triumph against him, 13 Giueth most heartie thanks vnto God.

¶ To him that excelleth. A Psalme of Dauid.

BLessed is he that [a] iudgeth wisely of the poore: the Lord shal deliuer him in [b] time of trouble.
2 The Lord will keepe him, and preserue him aliue: he shalbe blessed vpon the earth, and thou wilt not deliuer him vnto the will of his enemies.
3 The Lord wil strengthen him vpon [b] bed of sorow: thou hast turned al his [c] bed in his sicknes.
4 Therefore I sayde, Lord haue mercie vpon me: heale my soule, for I haue sinned against thee.
5 Mine enemies [d] speake euill of me, saying, When shall he die, and his name perish?
6 And if he come to see mee, hee speaketh [e] lies, but his heart heapeth iniquitie within him, and when he commeth forth, he telleth it.
7 All they [f] hate me, whisper together against me: euen against me doe they imagine mine hurt.
8 [f] A mischiefe is light vpon him, and he that lieth, shall no more rise.
9 Yea, my † familiar friend, whom I trusted, which did eate of my bread, [g] hath lifted vp the heele against me.

[a] Not condemning him as accused, whom God doth visit, knowing that there are diuers causes, why God layeth his hand vpon vs: yea, and afterward he restoreth vs.
[b] Whē for sorow and griefe of mind he casteth himselfe vpon his bed.
[c] Thou hast restored him in his sicke bed, and sent him comfort.
[d] That is, curse me, and cannot haue their cruell hate quenched, but with my shamefull death.
[e] For pretending to comfort me, he conspireth my death in his heart, and braggeth thereof. [f] The enemies thought by his snare & punishments, that God was become his mortal enemie. † Heb. The man of my peace.
[g] As Dauid felt this falsehood, and as it was chiefly accomplished in Christ, Ioh. 13. 18. so shall his members continually proue the same.

h Meaning, either in prosperitie of life, or in the true feare of God against al tentatiõs.

i Shewing me euident signes of thy fatherly prouidẽce.

k By this repetition, he stirreth vp the faithfull to prayse God.

10 Therefore, O Lord, haue mercy vpon me, and raise me vp: so I shall reward them.

11 By this I know that thou fauourest me, because mine enemie doth not triumph against me.

12 And as for me, thou vpholdest me h in mine integritie, & dost set me before thy i face for euer.

13 Blessed be the Lord God of Israel worlde without end. k So be it, euen so be it.

PSAL. XLII.

1 The Prophet grieuously complaineth, that being letted by his persecuters, hee coulde not bee present in the Congregation of Gods people, protesting that although he was separated in body from them, yet his heart was thitherward affectioned. 7 And last of all he sheweth, that he was not so sore ouercome with these sorowes and thoughts, 8 But that he continually put his confidence in the Lord.

☞ To him that excelleth. A Psalme to giue instruction, a committed to the sonnes of Korah.

AS the Hart brayeth for the riuers of water, so b panteth my soule after thee, O God.

2 My soule thirsteth for God, euen for the liuing God: when shall I come and appeare before the presence of God?

3 c My teares haue bin my meat day & night, while they daily say vnto me, Where is thy God?

4 When I remembred d these things, I powred out my very heart, because I had gone with the multitude, and led them into the House of God with the voice of singing, and praise, as a multitude that keepeth a feast.

5 Why art thou cast downe, my soule, and vnquiet within me? c wait on God: for I will yet giue him thanks for the helpe of his presence.

6 My God, my soule is cast downe within me, f because I remember thee, from the land of Iorden, and Hermonim, and from the mount Mizar.

7 One g deepe calleth another deepe by the noise of the water spoutes: all thy waues and thy floods are gone ouer me.

8 The Lord h will grant his louing kindnesse in the day, and in the night shal I sing of him, euen a prayer vnto the God of my life.

9 I wil say vnto God, which is my rocke, Why hast thou forgotten mee? why goe I mourning, when the enemie oppresseth me?

10 My i bones are cut asunder, while mine enemies reproch me, saying daily vnto me, Where is thy God?

11 k Why art thou cast downe, my soule? and why art thou disquieted within me? wait on God: for I will yet giue him thankes: he is my present helpe, and my God.

a As a treasure to be kept of them, which were of the number of the Leuites.

b By these similitudes of thirst and panting, he sheweth his feruent desire to serue God in his Temple.

c As others take pleasure in eating and drinking, so he was altogether giuen to weeping.

d That is, howe I led the people to serue thee in thy Tabernacle, and now seeing my contrary state, I die for sorowe.

e Though he sustained grieuous assaults of the flesh to cast him into despaire, yet his faith grounded on Gods accustomed mercies, getteth the victorie.

f That is, when I remember thee in this land of my banishment among the mountaines.

g Afflictions came so thicke vpon me, that I felt my selfe as ouerwhelmed: whereby he sheweth there is no end of our miserie, till God be pacified, and tend remedie.

h He assureth himselfe of Gods helpe in time to come.

i That is, I am most grieuously tormented.

k This repetition doth declare that Dauid did not ouercome at once: to teach vs to bee constant for as much as God will certainely deliuer his.

PSAL. XLIII.

1 He prayeth to be deliuered from them which conspire against him, that he might ioyfully praise God in his holy Congregation.

a He desireth God to vndertake his cause against the enemies, but chiefly that he would restore him to the Tabernacle.

b That is, the cruell companie of mine enemies.

c To wit, thy fauour, which appeareth by the performance of thy promises.

d He promiseth to offer a solemne sacrifice of thanksgiuing in token of his great deliuerance.

IVdge a me, O God, & defend my cause against the vnmercifull b people: deliuer me from the deceitfull and wicked man.

2 For thou art the God of my strength: why hast thou put me away? why goe I so mourning, when the enemie oppresseth me?

3 Send thy c light and thy trueth: let them leade mee: let them bring mee vnto thine holy Mountaine and to thy Tabernacles.

4 Then d wil I go vnto the altar of God, euen vnto the God of my ioy & gladnes: and vpon the harp wil I giue thanks vnto thee, O God, my God.

5 Why art thou cast downe, my soule? and why art thou disquieted within mee? e waite on God: for I will yet giue him thankes, he is my present helpe, and my God.

e Whereby he admonisheth the faithfull not to relent, but constantly to waite on the Lord, though their troubles be long and great.

PSAL. XLIIII.

1 The faithful remember the great mercy of God toward his people. 9 After, they complaine, because they feele it no more. 17 Also they alleage the couenant made with Abraham, for the keeping whereof they shew what grieuous things they suffered. 23 Finally they pray vnto God not to contemne their affliction, seeing the same redoundeth to the contempt of his honour.

☞ To him that excelleth. A Psalme to giue instruction, committed to the sonnes of Korah.

a This Psalme seemeth to haue bene made by some excellent Prophet for the vse of the people, when the Church was inextreme miserie, either at their returne from Babylon, or vnder Antiochus, or in such like affliction.

VVEe haue heard with our a eares, O God: our fathers haue told vs the works, that thou hast done in their dayes, in the olde time:

2 Howe thou hast driuen out the b heathen with thine hand, & planted c them: how thou hast destroyed the d people, & caused e them to grow.

3 For they inherited not the land by their owne sworde, neither did their owne arme saue them: but thy right hand, and thine arme, and the light of thy countenance, because thou didst f fauour them.

4 Thou art my King, O God: send helpe vnto g Iaakob.

5 h Through thee haue wee thrust backe our aduersaries: by thy Name haue we troden downe them that rose vp against vs.

6 For I doe not trust in my bowe, neither can my sword saue me.

7 But thou hast saued vs from our aduersaries, and hast put them to confusion that hate vs.

8 Therefore will we praise God continually, and will confesse thy Name for euer. Selah.

9 But now thou art farre off, and puttest vs to i confusion, and goest not forth with our armies.

10 Thou makest vs to turne backe frõ the aduersary, & they, which hate vs, spoile ‖ for thẽselues.

11 * Thou giuest vs k as sheepe to bee eaten, and doest scatter vs among the nations.

12 Thou sellest thy people l without gaine, & doest not increase their price.

13 Thou makest vs a reproch to our neighbours, a iest and a laughing stocke to them that are round about vs.

14 Thou makest vs a prouerbe among the nations, & a nodding of the head among the people.

15 My m confusion is daily before me, and the shame of my face hath couered me, 16 For the voice of the slanderer and rebuker, for the enemie and n auenger.

17 All this is come vpon vs, yet doe wee not o forget thee, neither deale we falsly concerning thy couenant.

18 Our heart is not turned backe: neither our steps gone out of thy paths, 19 Albeit thou hast smitten vs downe into the place of ‖ dragons, & couered vs with the shadow of death.

20 If wee haue forgotten the Name of our God, and holden vp our hands to a pstrange god, 21 Shall not God q search this out? for hee knoweth the secrets of the heart.

b That is, the Canaanites

c To wit, our fathers.

d Of Canaan.

e That is, our fathers.

f Gods free mercy and loue is the only fountaine and beginning of the Church. Deu. 7. 37.

g Because thou art our King, therefore deliuer thy people from their miserie.

h Because they and their forefathers made both one Church, they apply that to themselues, which before they did attribute to their fathers.

i As they confessed before, that their strength came of God, so nowe they acknowledge that this affliction came by his iust iudgement.

‖ Or, as their pleasure.

* Rom 8. 36.

k Knowing God to be author of this calamitie, they murmure not, but seeke remedie at his hands, who wounded them.

l As slaues which are solde for a low price, neither lookest thou for him that offereth most, but takest the first chapman.

m I dare not lift vp mine head for thame.

n Meaning, the proude and cruell tyrant.

o They boast not of their vertues, but declare that they rest vpon God in the mids of their afflictions: who punished not nowe their sinnes, but by hard afflictions called them to the consideration of the heauenly ioyes.

‖ Or, whales: meaning the bottomlesse seas of tentations. here we see the power of faith, which can be ouercome by no perils.

p They shewe that they honoured God aright, because they trusted in him alone.

q They take God to witnesse that they were vpright to himward.

22 Surely for thy sake r are we slaine continually, & are counted as sheepe for the slaughter.
23 Vp, why sleepest thou, O Lorde? awake, be not farre off for euer.
24 Wherefore hidest thou thy face? and forgettest our miserie and our affliction?
25 For our soule is f beaten downe vnto the dust: our belly cleaueth vnto the ground.
26 Rise vp for our succour, and redeeme vs for thy t mercies sake.

r The faithfull make this their comfort, that the wicked punish them not for their sinnes, but for Gods cause, Matt. 5.10. 1.Pet.4.14.
f There is no hope of recouerie, except thou put to thine hand and raise vs vp.
t Which is the onely and sufficient ransome to deliuer both body and soule from all kinde of slauery and miserie.

PSAL. XLV.

1 The maiestie of Salomon, his honor, strength, beautie, riches, and power are praysed, and also his mariage with the Egyptian being an heathen woman is blessed, 10 If that she can renounce her people and the loue of her countrey, and giue her selfe wholly to her husband. Vnder the which figure, the wonderfull maiestie and increase of the kingdome of Christ & the Church his spouse nowe taken of the Gentiles is described.

¶ To him that excelleth on a Shoshannim a song of b loue to giue instruction, committed to the sonnes of Korah.

MIne heart will vtter forth a good matter: I will intreate in my workes of the King: my tongue is as the pen of a swift writer.
2 Thou art c fairer then the children of men: grace is powred in thy lips, because God hath blessed thee for euer.
3 Gird thy sworde vpon thy thigh, O most mightie, to wit, thy worship and thy glory,
4 And prosper with thy glory: d ride vpon the worde of trueth and of meekenes and of righteousnes: so thy right hand shall teach thee terrible things.
5 Thine arrowes are sharpe to pearce the heart of the Kings enemies: therefore the people shall fall vnder thee.
6 Thy e throne, O God, is for euer and euer: the scepter of thy kingdome is a scepter of righteousnes.
7 Thou louest righteousnes, and hatest wickednesse, because God, euen thy God hath f anoynted thee with the oyle of gladnes aboue thy fellowes.
8 All thy garments smell of myrrhe and aloes, and cassia, when thou commest out of the yuorie palaces, g where they haue made thee glad.
9 Kings daughters were among thine honorable wiues: vpon thy right hand did stand the h Queene in a vesture of golde of Ophir.
10 i Hearken, O daughter, and consider, and incline thine eare: forget also thine owne people and thy fathers house.
11 So shal the king haue pleasure in thy beautie: for he is thy Lord, and reuerence thou him.
12 And the daughter of ‖ Tyrus with the rich of the people shall doe homage before thy face with presents.
13 The Kings daughter is all glorious l within: her clothing is of broydred golde.
14 She shalbe brought vnto the King in raiment of needle worke: the virgins that follow after her, and her companions shall bee brought vnto thee.
15 With ioy & gladnes shal they be brought, and shall enter into the Kings palace.
16 In stead of thy fathers shall thy m children be: thou shalt make them princes n through all the earth.
17 I will make thy o Name to be remembred through all generations: therefore shall the people giue thankes vnto thee world without ende.

a This was a certaine tune or an instrument.
b Of that perfite loue that ought to be betweene the husband and the wife.
c Salomons beautie and eloquence to winne fauour with his people, and his power to ouercome his enemies, is here described.
d He alludeth to them that ride in chariots in their triumphes, shewing that the quiet state of a kingdom standeth in trueth, meekenes and iustice, not in worldly pompe and vanitie.
e Vnder this figure of this kingdome of Iustice is set forth the euerlasting kingdome of Christ.
f Hath established thy kingdome as the figure of Christ, which is the peace and ioy of the Church.
g In the which palace the people made thee ioyful to see them giue thankes and reioyce for thee.
h Though he had many kings daughters among his wiues, yet he loued Pharaohs daughter best.
i Vnder the figure of Pharaohs daughter he sheweth that the Church must cast off all carnall affections to obey Christ onely.
k He signifieth that diuers of them that be rich, shalbe benefactors to the Church, albeit they giue not perfite obedience to the Gospel. ‖ Or, Tyr. l There is nothing fained, nor hypocritically, but the is glorious both within and without: and how be it the Church hath not at all times this outward glory, the fault is to be imputed onely to their ingratitude.
m They shall haue greater graces then their fathers.
n He signifieth the great compasse of Christes kingdome, which shall be sufficient to enrich all his members.
o This must onely be referred to Christ and not to Salomon.

PSAL. XLVI.

1 A song of triumph or thankesgiuing for the deliuerance of Ierusalem, after Sennacherib with his armie was driuen away, or some other like sudden & marueilous deliuerance by the mightie hand of God. 8 Whereby the Prophet commending this great benefite, doeth exhort the faithfull to giue themselues wholy into the hand of God, doubting nothing but that vnder his protection they shall be safe against all the assaults of their enemies, because this is his delite to assuage the rage of the wicked, when they are most busie against the iust.

¶ To him that excelleth vpon a Alameth a song committed to the sonnes of Korah.

d He doeth alude vnto the trumpets, that were blowen at solemne feastes: but he doeth further signifie the triumph of Christ and his glorious ascension into the heauens.

e He requireth that vnderstanding be ioyned with singing, least the Name of God be profaned with vaine crying. f He prayseth Gods highnes, for that he ioyneth the great princes of the world (whome he calleth shields) to the fellowship of his Church.

1 *A notable deliuerance of Ierusalem from the hand of many Kings mentioned, for the which thankes are giuen to God, and the state of that citie is praysed, that hath God so presently at all times ready to defend them. 9 We waite for thy louing kindnesse, O God, in the middes of thy Temple.

10 O God, according vnto thy Name, so is thy praise vnto the [i] worlds end: thy right hand is full of righteousnesse.

11 Let [k] mount Zion reioyce, and the daughters of Iudah be glad, because of thy iudgements.

13 Marke well the wall thereof: beholde her towers, that ye may tell your posteritie.

14 For this God is our God for euer and euer: he shall be our guide vnto the death.

a Some put this difference betweene a song, and Psalme, saying that it is called a song, when there is no instrument, but the voyce: and the Psalme, the contrary. The song of the Psalme is when the instruments begin, and the voyce followeth. The Psalme of the song, the contrarie.

b Albeit God shew his wonders through all the world, yet he will be chiefly praysed in his Church.

d That is, so rare, or not to be found, as prophecie was precious in the dayes of Eli, 1. Samuel 3. 1.

e Meaning, it is impossible to liue for euer: also that life and death are onely in Gods hands.

f In that that death maketh no difference betweene the persons.

1 Because the Church is alway full of hypocrites, 8 Which doe imagine that God will be worshipped with outwarde ceremonies onely, without the heart: and especially the Iewes were of this opinion, because of their figures & ceremonies of the law, thinking that their sacrifices were sufficient, 21 Therefore the Prophet doth reproue this grosse errour, & pronounceth the Name of God to be blasphemed, where holinesse is set in ceremonies. 23 For he declareth the worship of God to be spirituall, whereof are two principall partes, inuocation, and thankesgiuing.

THe God of Gods, euen the Lord hath spoken and called the [b] earth from the rising vp of the sunne vnto the going downe thereof.

a Whether the author, or a chiefe singer, to whome it was committed.

b To pleade against his dissembling people before heauen and earth.

2 Out of Zion, which is the c perfection of beautie, hath God shined.

3 Our God shall come, and shal not keepe silence: d a fire shal deuoure before him, & a mightie tempest shall be mooued round about him.

4 Hee shall call the heauen abone, and e the earth to iudge the people.

7 Heare, O my people, & I will speake: heare, O Israel, & I wil testifie vnto thee: for I am God, euen thy God.

8 I wil not h reproue thee for thy sacrifices, or thy burnt offrings, that haue not bene continually before me.

9 I will take no bullocke out of thine house, nor goates out of thy foldes.

10 i For all the beastes of the forest are mine, and the beastes on a thousand mountaines.

11 I knowe all the foules on the mountaines: and the wilde beastes of the fielde are mine.

16 But vnto the wicked said God, m What hast thou to doe to declare mine ordinances, that thou shouldest take my couenant in thy mouth, 17 Seeing thou hatest n to be reformed, and hast cast my words behinde thee?

18 For when thou seest a theefe, o thou runnest with him, & thou art partaker with the adulterers.

19 Thou giuest thy mouth to euill, and with thy tongue thou forgest deceite.

20 Thou p sittest, and speakest against thy brother, and slanderest thy mothers sonne.

21 These things hast thou done, and I held my tongue: therefore thou thoughtest that I was like thee: but I will reproue thee, and q set them in order before thee.

22 Oh cõsider this, ye y forget God, lest I teare you in pieces, & there be none that can deliuer you.

23 He that offereth r praise, shall glorifie me: and to him, that s disposeth his way aright, will I t shew the saluation of God.

When David was rebuked by the Prophet Nathan, for his great offences, he did not only acknowledge the same to God with protestation of his naturall corruption and iniquitie, but also left a memoriall therof to his posteritie. 7 Therefore first hee desireth God to forgiue his sinnes, 10 And to renue in him his holy Spirit, 13 With promise that he will not be vnmindfull of those great graces. 18 Finally fearing least God would punish the whole Church for his fault, he requireth that he would rather increase his graces toward the same.

1 To reproue him because he had cõmitted so horrible sinnes, and lyen in the same without repentance more then a whole yeere. that God would giue him the feeling of his excellent and abundant mercies.

To him that excelleth. A Psalme of Dauid, when the Prophet Nathan a came vnto him, after he had gone in to Bath sheba.

HAue mercy vpon me, O God, b according to thy louing kindnes: according to the multitude of thy cõpassions put away mine iniquities.

2 Wash me c throughly from mine iniquitie, and cleanse me from my sinne.

3 For I d know mine iniquities, and my sinne is euer before me.

4 Against thee, against thee onely haue I sinned, and done euill in thy sight, that thou mayest be iust when thou e speakest, and pure when thou iudgest.

5 Beholde, I was borne in iniquitie, and in sinne hath my mother conceiued me.

6 Beholde, thou f louest trueth in the inward affections: therefore hast thou taught mee wisedome in the secret of mine heart.

7 Purge me with *hyssope & I shalbe cleane: wash me, and I shalbe whiter then snowe.

8 Make me to heare g ioy and gladnesse, that the h bones, which thou hast broken, may reioyce.

9 Hide thy face from my sinnes, and put away all mine iniquities.

10 i Create in mee a cleane heart, O God, and renue a right spirit within me.

11 Cast me not away from thy presence, and take not thine holy Spirit from me.

12 Restore to me the ioy of thy saluation, and stablish me with thy k free Spirit.

13 Then shall I teach thy l wayes vnto the wicked, and sinners shalbe conuerted vnto thee.

14 Deliuer me from m blood, O God, which art the God of my saluation, and my tongue shall sing ioyfully of thy righteousnesse.

15 n Open thou my lippes, O Lorde, and my mouth shall shewe forth thy praise.

16 For thou desirest no sacrifice, though I would giue it: thou delitest not in burnt offring.

17 The sacrifices of God are a o contrite spirit: a contrite and a broken heart, O God, thou wilt not despise.

18 Bee fauourable vnto p Zion for thy good pleasure: builde the walles of Ierusalem.

1 David describeth the arrogant tyrannie of his aduersarie Doeg: who by false surmises caused Abimelech with the rest of the Priestes to bee slaine. 5 David prophecieth his destruction. 6 And incourageth the faithfull to put their confidence in God, whose iudgements are most sharpe against his aduersaries. 9 And finally he rendreth thankes to God for his deliuerance. In this Psalme is liuely set forth the kingdome of Antichrist.

To him that excelleth. A Psalme of Dauid to giue instruction. When Doeg the Edomite came and shewed Saul, and said to him, Dauid is come to the house of Abimelech.

¶ To him that excelleth on Neginoth. A Psalme of Dauid to giue instruction.

HEare [a] my prayer, O God, and hide not thy selfe from my supplication.

2 Hearken vnto me, & answere me: I mourne in my prayer, and make a noyse,

3 For the [b] voyce of the enemie, and for the vexation of the wicked, because [c] they haue brought iniquitie vpon me, and furiously hate me.

4 Mine heart trembleth within mee, and the terrours of death are fallen vpon me.

5 Feare and trembling are come vpon mee, and an horrible feare hath [d] couered me.

This Psalme partly conteineth meditations, whereby Dauid encourageth himselfe to trust in God against the assaults of tentations. And because our mindes are easily drawen from God by the allurements of the world, he sharpely reproueth the vanitie, to the intent he might cleaue fast to the Lord.

17 The charets of God are twentie thousand thousand Angels, and the Lorde is among them, as in the Sanctuarie of Sinai.

a The Prophet sheweth that although God suffereth the wicked tyrants to oppresse his Church for a time, yet at length he will be reuenged of them.

b He sheweth that when God declareth his power against the wicked, that it is for the commoditie and saluation of his Church, which prayse him therefore.

c Iah and Iehouah are the names of God, which doe signifie his essence and maiestie incomprehensible, so that hereby is declared that all idols are but vanitie, and that the God of Israel is the onely true God.

f He teacheth that Gods fauour peculiarly belongeth to his Church, as appeareth by their wonderful deliuerance out of Egypt.

g God blessed the land of Canaan because he had chosen that place for his Church.

PSAL. LXIX.

1 The complaints, prayers, feruent zeale and great anguiſh of Dauid is ſet forth as a figure of Chriſt and all his members: 21 The malicious cruelties of the enemies, 22 And their puniſhment alſo, 26 Where Iudas and ſuch traitours are accurſed. 30 Hee gathereth courage in his affliction, and offereth prayſes vnto God, 32 Which are more acceptable then all ſacrifices: wherof all the afflicted may take comfort. 35 Finally he doeth prouoke all creatures to prayſes, prophecying of the kingdome of Chriſt, and the preſeruation of the Church, where all the faithfull, 37 And their ſeede ſhall dwell for euer.

¶ To him that excelleth vpon [a] Shoſhannim.
A Pſalme of Dauid.

SAue mee, O God: for the [b] waters are entred euen to my ſoule.

2 I ſticke faſt in the deepe myre, where no [c] ſtaie is: I am come into deepe waters, and the ſtreames runne ouer me.

3 I am wearie of crying: my throte is drie: mine [d] eyes faile, whiles I waite for my God.

4 They that hate me without a cauſe, are moe then the haires of mine head: they that would deſtroy me, and are mine enemies [e] falſely, are mightie, ſo that I reſtored that which I [f] tooke not.

5 O God, thou knoweſt my [g] fooliſhneſſe, and my faultes are not hid from thee.

6 Let not them that truſt in thee, O Lorde God of hoſtes, be aſhamed for [h] me: let not thoſe that ſeeke thee, be confounded through mee, O God of Iſrael.

7 For thy ſake haue I ſuffred reproofe: ſhame hath couered my face.

8 I am become a ſtranger vnto my brethren, euen an aliant vnto my mothers ſonnes.

9 [i] For the zeale of thine houſe hath eaten me, and the rebukes of them that rebuked thee, are fallen vpon me.

10 I [k] wept and my ſoule faſted, but that was to my reproofe.

11 I put on a ſacke alſo: and I became a prouerbe vnto them.

12 They that [l] ſate in the gate, ſpake of mee, and the drunkardes ſang of me.

13 But Lorde, I make my prayer vnto thee in an [m] acceptable time, euen in the multitude of thy mercie: O God, heare me in the trueth of thy ſaluation.

14 Deliuer mee out of the myre, that I ſinke not: let me be deliuered from them that hate me, and out of the [n] deepe waters.

15 Let not the water flood drowne mee, neither let the deepe ſwallow me vp: and let not the pit ſhut her mouth vpon me.

16 Heare me, O Lord, for thy louing kindnes is good: turne vnto me according to the multitude of thy tender mercies.

17 And [o] hide not thy face from thy ſeruant, for I am in trouble: make haſte and heare me.

18 Draw neere vnto my ſoule and redeeme it: deliuer me becauſe of mine enemies.

19 Thou haſt knowen my reproofe and my ſhame, and my diſhonour: all mine [p] aduerſaries are before thee.

20 Rebuke hath broken mine heart, and I am full of heauineſſe, and [q] I looked for ſome to haue pitie on me, but there was none: and for comforters, but I found none.

21 For they gaue me gall in my meate, and in my thirſt they gaue me vineger to drinke.

22 Let their [r] table be a ſnare before them, and their proſperitie their ruine.

23 Let their eyes be blinded that they ſee not: and make their [s] loynes alway to tremble.

24 Powre out thine anger vpon them, and let thy wrathfull diſpleaſure take them.

25 * Let their [t] habitation be voyde, and let none dwell in their tents.

26 For they perſecute him, whom thou haſt ſmitten: and they adde vnto the ſorowe of them, whom thou haſt wounded.

27 Lay [u] iniquitie vpon their iniquitie, and p Thou ſeeſt that I am beſet as a ſheepe among many wolues.

q He ſheweth that it is in vaine to put our truſt in men in our great neceſſities, but that our comfort onely dependeth of God: for man rather increaſeth our ſorowes, then diminiſheth them. Iohn 16.33.

PSAL. LXX.

1 Hee prayeth to bee right speedily deliuered. 2 He desireth the shame of his enemies, 4 And the ioyfull comfort of all those that seeke the Lord.

¶ To him that excelleth. A Psalme of Dauid to put in a remembrance.

a Which might put him in remembrance of his deliuerance.

O * God, b haste thee to deliuer mee: make haste to helpe me, O Lord.

* Psalm. 40. 13.

b He teacheth vs to be earnest in praier though God seeme to stay: for at his time he will heare vs.

2 Let them be c confounded & put to shame, that seeke my soule: let them be turned backward and put to rebuke, that desire mine hurt.

c He was assured that the more they raged, the neerer they were to destruction, and he the neerer to his deliuerance.

3 Let them be turned backe for a rewarde of their d shame, which said, Aha, aha.

d Hereby we are taught not to mocke at others in their miserie, lest the same fall on our owne neckes.

4 But let all those that seeke thee, bee ioyfull and glad in thee, and let all that loue thy saluation, say alwayes, God be praysed.

5 Now I am e poore and needie: O God, make haste to mee: thou art mine helper, and my deliuerer: O Lord, make no tarying.

e Because he had felt Gods helpe before, he groundeth on experience and boldly seeketh vnto him for succour.

PSAL. LXXI.

1 Hee prayeth in faith, established by the worde of the promist, 5 And confirmed by the worke of God from his youth. 10 He complaineth of the cruelties of his enemies, 17 And desireth God to continue his grace toward him, 22 Promising to be mindefull and thankefull for the same.

*Psalm 31. 1.

a He prayeth to God with full assurance of faith, that he will deliuer him from his aduersaries.

b By declaring thy selfe true of promise.

c Thou hast infinite meanes, and all creatures are at thy commandement: therefore shew some signe, whereby I shall be deliuered.

d That is, from Absalom, Ahithophel and that conspiracie.

e He strengthepeth his faith by the experience of Gods benefites, who did not onely preserue him in his mothers belly, but tooke him thence and euer since hath preserued him.

IN * a thee, O Lord, I trust: let me neuer be ashamed.

2 Rescue me and deliuer me in thy b righteousnesse: incline thine eare vnto me and saue me.

3 Be thou my strong rocke, whereunto I may alway resort: thou c hast giuen commaundement to saue me: for thou art my rocke, & my fortresse.

4 Deliuer me, O my God, out of the hand d of the wicked: out of the hand of the euill and cruell man.

5 For thou art mine hope, O Lord God, euen my e trust from my youth.

6 Vpon thee haue I bene stayed from the wombe: thou art he that tooke me out of my mothers bowels: my prayse shalbe alwayes of thee.

7 I am become as it were a f monster vnto many: but thou art my sure trust.

f All the worlde wondreth at me because of my miseries, aswell they in authoritie as the common people, yet being assured of thy fauour I may be stedfast.

8 Let my mouth be filled with thy prayse, and with thy glory euery day.

9 Cast me not off in the time of g age: forsake me not when my strength faileth.

g Thou that didst helpe me in my youth, when I had more strength, helpe me now in much the more in mine olde age and weakenesse.

10 For mine enemies speake of me, & they that lay wait for my soule, take their counsel together, 11 Saying, h God hath forsaken him: pursue and take him, for there is none to deliuer him.

h Thus the wicked both blaspheme God, and triumph against his Sainte, as though he had forsaken them, if he suffer them to fall into their hands.

12 Goe not farre from me, O God: i my God, haste thee to helpe me.

i In calling him his God, he putteth backe the false reportes of the aduersaries, that said, God had forsaken him.

13 Let thē be confounded and consumed that are against my soule: let them be couered with reproofe and confusion, that seeke mine hurt.

14 But I will waite continually, and wil praise thee more and more.

15 My mouth shall dayly rehearse thy righteousnesse, and thy saluation: k for I knowe not the nomber.

k Because thy benefites toward me are innumerable, I can not but continually meditate & rehearse them.

16 I will l goe forward in the strength of the Lord God, and will make mention of thy righteousnesse, euen of thine onely.

l I will remayne stedfast, being vpholden with the power of God.

17 O God, thou hast taught mee from my youth euen vntill now: therefore will I tell of thy wonderous workes, 18 m Yea, euen vnto mine olde age and gray head, O God: forsake me not, vntil I haue declared thine arme vnto this generation, and thy power to all them, that shall come.

m He fetcheth that as he hath begun, he would so continue his benefits, that his liberalitie may haue perfite praise.

19 And thy n righteousnes, O God, I will exalt on high: for thou hast done great things: o O God, who is like vnto thee!

n Thy iust performance of thy promise.

20 Which hast shewed me great troubles and paduersities, but thou wilt returne, and reuiue me, and wilt come againe, and take mee vp from the depth of the earth.

o His faith breaketh through all tentations, and by this exclamation he prayseth the power of God.

21 Thou wilt increase mine honour, & returne and comfort me.

22 Therefore will I praise thee for thy q faithfulnesse, O God, vpon instrument and viole: vnto thee will I sing vpon the harpe, O Holy one of Israel.

p As he confesseth that God is only autour of his deliuerance: so he acknowledgeth that these euils were sent vnto him by Gods prouidence.

q He confesseth that his long tariance was well recompensed, when God performed his promise.

23 My lippes will reioyce when I sing vnto thee, and my r soule, which thou hast deliuered.

24 My tongue also shall talke of thy righteousnesse dayly: for they are confounded and brought vnto shame, that seeke mine hurt.

r For there is no true praysing of God except it come from the heart: and therefore he promiseth to delite in nothing but wherein God may be glorified.

PSAL. LXXII.

1 He prayeth for the prosperous estate of the kingdome of Salomon, who was the figure of Christ. 4 Vnder whom shall be righteousnesse, peace and felicitie, 10 Vnto whom all Kings and all nations shall doe homage. 17 Whose name and power shall endure for euer, and in whom all nations shall be blessed.

¶ A Psalme a of Salomon.

a Composed by Dauid as touching the reigne of his sonne Salomon.

GIue thy b iudgements to the King, O God, and thy righteousnesse to the Kings c sonne.

b Endue the King with the Spirite of wisedome and iustice, that he reigne not as doe the worldly tyrants.

2 Then shall he iudge thy people in righteousnesse, and the poore with equitie.

3 The d mountaines and the hilles shall bring peace to the people by iustice.

c To wit, to his posteritie.

d When iustice reigneth, euen the places most barren shalbe enriched with thy blessings.

4 He shall e iudge the poore of the people: he shall saue the children of the needie, and shal subdue the oppressor.

e He sheweth wherefore the sworde is committed to Kings: to wit, to defend the innocent, and suppresse the wicked.

5 They shall f feare thee as long as the sunne

f The people shall imbrace thy true religion, when thou giuest a King, that ruleth according to thy worde.

and & moone endureth, frō generation to generation.

6 He shall come g downe like the raine vpon the mowen grasse, and as the showers that water the earth.

7 In his dayes shall the righteous florish, and abundance of peace sh. lbe so long as the moone endureth.

8 His dominion shalbe also from h sea to sea, and from the Riuer vnto the endes of the land.

9 They that dwell in ỹ wildernes, shall kneele before him, and his enemies shal licke the dust.

10 The Kings of i Tarshish & of the yles shall bring presents: the Kings of Sheba and Seba shal bring gifts.

11 Yea, all kings shal worship him: all nations shall serue him.

12 For he shal deliuer the poore when he crieth: the needie also, and him that hath no helper.

13 He shall be merciful to the poore and needie, and shall preserue the soules of the poore.

14 He shall redeeme their soules from deceite and violence, and l deare shall their blood bee in his sight.

15 Yea, he shall liue, and vnto him shall they giue of the m gold of Sheba: they shall also pray for him continually, and daily blesse him.

16 An handfull of corne shall be sowen in the earth, euen in the toppe of the mountaines, and the n fruit thereof shal shake like the trees of Lebanon: and the children shall florish out of the citie like the grasse of the earth.

17 His name shall be for euer: his name shall endure as long as the sunne: al nations shall blesse o him, and be blessed in him.

18 Blessed be the Lord God, euen the God of Israel, which onely doeth p wonderous things.

19 And blessed be his glorious Name for euer: and let all the earth be filled with his glory. So be it, euen so be it.

HERE END THE q prayers of Dauid, the sonne of Ishai.

g As this is true in all godly kings, so is it chiefly verified in Christ, who with his heauenly dewe maketh his Church euer to florish.

h That is, from the red Sea to the sea called Syriacum, and from Euphrates forwarde: meaning, that Christs kingdome should be large and vniuersall.

i Of Cilicia, and of all other countries beyond the sea, which be meaneth by the yles.

k That is of Arabia that rich countrey, whereof Sheba was a part bordering vpon Ethiopia.

l Though tyrants passe not to shed blood, yet this godly king shall preserue his subiects from all kind of wrong.

m God will both prosper his life, and also make the people most willing to obey him.

n Vnder such a King shalbe most great plentie, both of fruite and also of the increase of mankind.

o They shal pray to God for his continuance, and knowe that God doeth prosper them for his sake.

p He confesseth that except God miraculously preserue his people, that neyther the King nor the kingdome can continue.

q Concerning his sonne Salomon.

PSAL. LXXIII.

1 The Prophet teacheth by his example that neyther the worldlie prosperitie of the vngodly, 14 Nor yet the affliction of the good ought to discourage Gods children: but rather ought to moue vs to consider our Fathers prouidence, and to cause vs to reuerence Gods iudgements, 19 For as much as the wicked vanish away, 24 And the godly enter into life euerlasting, 28 In hope whereof he resigneth himselfe into Gods hands.

¶ A Psalme committed to Asaph.

YEt a God is good to Israel: euen, to the pure in heart.

2 As for me, my feete were almost gone: my steps had well neere slipt.

3 For I freated at the foolish, when I saw the prosperitie of the wicked.

4 For there are b no bands in their death, but they are lustie and strong.

5 They are not in trouble as other men, neyther are they plagued with other men.

6 c Therefore pride is as a chaine vnto them, and crueltie couereth them as a garment.

7 Their eyes stande out for fatnesse: † they haue more then heart can wish.

8 They are licentious, and speake wickedly of their oppression: they talke presumptuously.

a As it were betweene hope and despaire he bursteth forth into this affection, being assured that God would continue his fauour toward such as were godly in deede, and not hypocrites.

b The wicked in this life liue at pleasure, and are not drawen to death like prisoners: that is by sickenesse, which is deaths messenger.

c They glorie in their pride, as some doe in their chaines: and in crueltie, as some doe in apparell. † Hebr. they passe the desires of the heart.

9 They d set their mouth against heauen, and their tongue walketh through the earth.

10 Therefore his people turne hither: for waters of a full cup are wrung out to them.

11 And they e say, How doeth God know it? or is there knowledge in the most High?

12 Loe, these are the wicked, yet prosper they alway, and increase in riches.

13 Certainely I haue cleansed mine heart in vaine, and washed mine hands in innocencie.

14 For dayly haue I bene punished, and chastened euery morning.

15 If I say, I will iudge thus, beholde the generation of thy children: I haue trespassed.

16 Then thought I to know this, but it was too painefull for me, 17 Vntill I went into the h Sanctuary of God: then vnderstoode I their ende.

18 Surely thou hast set them in slipperie places, and castest them downe into desolation.

19 How suddenly are they destroyed, perished and i horribly consumed, 20 As a dreame when one awaketh! O Lord, when k thou raisest vs vp, thou shalt make their image despised.

21 Certainely mine heart was vexed, and I was pricked in my reines:

22 So foolish was I & ignorant: I was a l beast before thee.

23 Yet I was alway m with thee: thou hast holden me by my right hand.

24 Thou wilt guide me by thy counsell, and afterward receiue me to glory.

25 Whom haue I in n heauen but thee? and I haue desired none in the earth with thee.

26 My flesh fayleth and mine heart also: but God is the strength of mine heart, and mine o portion for euer.

27 For lo, they that withdrawe themselues from thee, shall perish: thou destroyest all them that p goe a whoring from thee.

28 As for mee, it is good for mee q to drawe neere to God: therefore I haue put my trust in the Lord God, that I may declare all thy workes.

d They blaspheme God and feare not his power, & raile vpon men, because they esteeme themselues aboue all others.

e Not onely the reprobate, but also the people of God oftentimes fall backe, seeing the prosperous estate of the wicked, and are ouerwhelmed with sorowes, thinking that God considereth not right the state of the godly.

f Thus the flesh moueth euen the godly to dispute with God touching their poore estate and the prosperitie of the wicked.

g If I giue place to this wicked thought, I offend against thy prouidence, seeing thou disposest all things most wisely, and preseruest thy children in their greatest dangers.

h Vntill I entred into thy schoole and learned by thy worde and holy Spirite, that thou orderest all things most wisely, and iustly.

i By thy fearefull iudgement.

k When thou openest our eyes to consider thy heauenly felicitie, wee contemne all their vaine pompe.

l For the more that man goeth about by his owne reason to seeke out Gods iudgements, the more doth hee declare himselfe a beast.

m By faith I was assured that thy prouidence did watch alwaies ouer me to preserue me.

n He sought neither helpe nor comfort of any saue of God onely.

o He teacheth vs to denie our selues, to haue God our whole sufficiencie, and onely contentment.

p That is, forsake thee to seeke others.

q Though all the world shrinke from God, yet he promiseth to trust in him, and to magnifie his workes.

PSAL. LXXIIII.

1 The faithfull complaine of the destruction of the Church and true religion, 2 Vnder the name of Zion, and the temple destroyed: 11 And trusting in the might and free mercies of God, 20 By his couenant, 21 They require helpe and succour for the glory of Gods holy Name, for the saluation of his poore afflicted seruants, 23 And the confusion of his proud enemies.

9 We see not our signes: there is not one Prophet more, nor any with vs that knoweth f how long.

15 Thou brakest vp the fountaine and riuer: thou dryedst vp mightie riuers.
16 The m day is thine, and the night is thine: thou hast prepared the light and the sunne.
17 Thou hast set all the borders of the earth: thou hast made summer and winter.
18 Remember this, that the enemie hath reproched the Lorde, and the foolish people hath blasphemed thy Name.
19 Giue not the soule of thy n turtle doue vnto the beast, and forget not the Congregation of thy poore for euer.

1 Hee ſheweth how God of his mercie choſe his Church of the poſteritie of Abraham, 8 Reproching the ſtubburne rebellion of their fathers, 9 that the children might not onely vnderſtand, 12 That God of his free mercie made his couenant with their anceſtours, 17 But alſo ſeeing them ſo malicious and peruerſe, might be aſhamed, and ſo turne wholy to God. In this Pſalme the holy Ghoſt hath comprehended, as it were, the ſumme of all Gods benefites, to the intent the ignorant and groſſe people might ſee in fewe wordes the effect of the whole hiſtories of the Bible.

A Pſalme to giue inſtruction, [a] committed to [b] Aſaph.

HEare my [b] doctrine, O my people: incline your eares vnto the wordes of my mouth.

2 I will open my mouth in a parable: I will declare high ſentences of olde.

3 Which we haue heard and knowen, & our [c] fathers haue tolde vs.

4 We will not hide them from their children, but to the generation to come wee will ſhew the praiſes of the Lord, his power alſo, and his wonderfull workes that he hath done.

5 How he eſtabliſhed a [d] teſtimony in Iaakob, and ordeined a Law in Iſrael, which he commanded our fathers, ỹ they ſhould teach their children:

6 That the [e] poſteritie might knowe it, and the children, which ſhould be borne, ſhould ſtand vp, and declare it to their children:

7 That they might [f] ſet their hope on God, and not forget the workes of God, but keepe his commandements:

8 And not to be as their [g] fathers, a diſobedient and rebellious generation: a generation that ſet not their heart aright, and whoſe ſpirite was not faithfull vnto God.

9 The children of [h] Ephraim being armed and ſhooting with the bowe, turned backe in the day of battell.

10 They kept not the couenant of God, but refuſed to walke in his Lawe, 12 Hee did marueilous things in the ſight of their [i] fathers in the lande of Egypt: euen in the fielde of Zoan.

13 * He diuided the Sea, & led them through: he made alſo the waters to ſtand as an heape.

14 * In the day time alſo hee led them with a cloude, and all the night with a light of fire.

15 * He claue the rockes in the wildernes, and gaue them drinke as of the great depths.

16 *He brought floods alſo out of the ſtonie rocke, ſo that he made the waters to deſcend like the riuers.

17 Yet they [k] ſinned ſtil againſt him, and prouoked the Higheſt in the wilderneſſe, 18 And tempted God in their hearts in [l] requiring meate for their luſt.

19 *They ſpake againſt God alſo, ſaying, Can God [m] prepare a table in the wilderneſſe?

20 *Behold, he ſmote the rocke, that the water guſhed out, and the ſtreames ouerflowed: can he giue bread alſo? or prepare fleſh for his people?

21 Therefore the Lord heard and was angrie, and the *fire was kindled in Iaakob, & alſo wrath came vpon Iſrael, 23 Yet he had commaunded the [o] cloudes aboue, and had opened the doores of heauen, 24 And had rained downe MAN vpon them for to eate, and had giuen them of the wheate of heauen.

25 * Man did eate the bread of Angels: hee ſent them meate ynough.

26 He cauſed the [p] Eaſtwinde to paſſe in the heauen, and through his power he brought in the Southwinde.

27 Hee rained fleſh alſo vpon them as duſt, and feathered foule as the ſand of the ſea.

28 And he made it fall in the middes of their campe, euen round about their habitations.

29 So they did eate and were well filled: for he gaue them their deſire.

52 But hee made his people to goe out like sheepe, & led them in the wildernes like a flocke.

55 *He cast out the heathen also before them, and caused them to fall to the lot of his inheritance, and made the tribes of Israel to dwell in their tabernacles.

56 Yet they tempted, and prouoked the most high God, and kept not his testimonies,

2 Before Ephraim & Beniamin and Manasseh stirre vp thy strength, and come to helpe vs.

3 c Turne vs againe, O God, and cause thy face to shine that we may be saued.

4 O Lord God of hostes, how long wilt thou be d angry against the prayer of thy people?

5 Thou hast fedde them with the bread of teares, and giuen them teares to drinke with great measure.

6 Thou hast made vs a e strife vnto our neighbours, and our enemies laugh at vs among themselues.

14 Returne we beseech thee, O God of hosts: looke downe k from heauen and beholde and visite this vine, 15 And the vineyard, that thy right hand hath planted, and the yong vine, which thou madest l strong for thy selfe.

16 It is burnt with fire and cut downe: and they perish at the m rebuke of thy countenance.

17 Let thine hand be vpon the n man of thy right hand, and vpon the sonne of man, whome thou madest strong for thine owne selfe.

18 So will not we goe backe from thee: o reuiue thou vs, and we shall call vpon thy Name.

10 (For I am the Lord thy God, which brought thee out of the land of Egypt: i open thy mouth wide, and I shal fill it.)

11 But my people would not heare my voyce, and Israel would none of me.

12 So I gaue them vp vnto the hardnes of their heart, & they haue walked in their owne counsels.

13 k Oh that my people had hearkened vnto me, and Israel had walked in my wayes,

1 The people of Israel pray vnto the Lord to deliuer them from their enemies both at home and farre off, which imagined nothing but their destruction. 9 And they desire that all such wicked people may, according as God was accustomed, bee striken with the stormie tempest of Gods wrath, 18 That they may knowe that the Lord [u] most high vpon the earth.

14 Lorde, why doest thou reiect my soule, and hidest thy face from me?

15 I am afflicted and at the point of death:

a God did chuse that place among the hilles to establish Ierusalem and his Temple. b Though thy glorious estate doe not yet appeare, yet waite with patience and God will accomplish his promes. c That is, Egypt and these other countreis shall come to the knowledge of God. d It shall be said of him, that is regenerate and come to the Church, that he is as one that was borne in the Church. e Out of all quarters they shall come into the Church, and be counted as citizens. f When hee calleth by his worde them into the Church, whome hee had elected and written in his booke. g The Prophet setteth his whole affections and comfort in the Church.

* 2 King. 4 31. Psal. 53.

a That is to humble. It was the beginning of a song, by the tune whereof this Psalme was sung. b Though many cry in their sorowes, yet they cry not earnestly to God for remedy as he did: whom he confessed to be the autor of his saluation. c For he that is dead, is free from all cares and busines of this life: and thus he saith, because he was vnprofitable for all matters concerning mans life, and as it were cut off from this world. d That is, from thy prouidence and care, which is meant according to the iudgement of the flesh. e The flowres of thy wrath haue ouerwhelmed me. f He attributeth the losse and displeasure of his friends to Gods prouidence, whereby he partly punisheth and partly tryeth him. g I see none ende of my sorowes. h Mine eyes and face declare my sorowes. i Hee sheweth that the time is more conuenient for God to helpe, when men call vnto him in their dangers, then to tary till they be dead, and then raise them vp againe. k That is, in the graue, where onely the body lyeth without all sense and remembrance.

a Dauid persecuted of Saul, thus prayed, leaning the same to the Church as a monument, how to seeke redresse against their miseries. b I am not enemie to them, but pitie thē though they be cruel toward me. c Which was a sure token that he beleeued that God would deliuer him d He doeth confesse that God is good to all, but onely merciful to poore sinners. e By crying and calling continually, he sheweth how we may not be weary, though God graunt not forthwith our requests, but that we must earnestly and often call vpon him. f He condemneth all Idoles, forasmuch as they can doe no workes to declare that they are gods. g This proueth that Dauid prayed in the Name of Christ the Messias, of whose kingdom he doeth here prophecie. h He confesseth himselfe ignorant till God hath taught him, and his heart variable and separate from God, till God ioyne it to him and confirme it in his obedience. i That is, from most great danger of death: out of the which none, but onely the mightie hand of God could deliuer him. k He sheweth that there can be no moderation nor equitie, where proude tyrants reigne, and that the lacke of Gods feare is as a priuiledge to all vice and crueltie. l Hee boasteth not of his owne vertues, but confesseth that God of his free goodnesse hath euer bene merciful vnto him & giuen him power against his enmies, as to one of his owne household.

l I am euer in great dangers and sorowes, as though my life should vtterly be cut off euery moment.

† Ebr. were in darknes.

a Though the horrible confusion of things might cause them to despaire of Gods fauour, yet the manifolde examples of his mercies cause them to trust in God, though to mans iudgement they saw none occasion.

b As he that surely beleeued in heart.

c As thine inuisible heauen is not subiect to any alteration and change: so shall the trueth of thy promes be vnchangeable.

d The Prophet sheweth what was the promes of God, whereon he grounded his faith.

e The Angels shall praise thy power and faithfulnesse in deliuering thy Church.

f That is, in the heauens.

g Meaning the Angels.

h If the Angels tremble before Gods maiestie and infinite iustice, what earthly creature by oppressing the Church, dare set himselfe against God?

i For as he deliuered the Church by the red Sea, and by destroying Rahab, that is, the Egyptians: so will he eftsoone deliuer it, when the dangers be great.

k Tabor is a mountaine Westward from Ierusalem, and Hermon Eastward: so the Prophet signifieth that all parts and places of the world shall obey Gods power for the deliuerance of his Church.

l For hereby he iudgeth the worlde and sheweth himselfe a mercifull Father and faithfull protectour vnto his.

m Feeling in their conscience that God is their Father.

n They shall be preserued by thy Fatherly prouidence.

o In that they are preserued and continue, they ought to giue the praise and glory onely to thee.

p In that that our King hath power to defende vs, is the gift of God.

q To Samuel and to others, to whom that Dauid was thy chosen one.

u His power, glory and estate.

x He shall enioy the land round about.

y His excellent dignitie shall appeare herein that he shall be named the Sonne of God, and the first borne, wherein he is a figure of Christ.

z Though for the sinnes of the people the state of this kingdome decayed: yet God reserued still a roote, till he had accomplished this promes in Christ.

* 2. Sam. 7. 14.

a Though the faithfull answere not in all points to their profession, yet God will not breake his couenant with them.

† Ebr. If he vnto Dauid: which is a maner of othe.

c As long as the sunne and moone endure, they shall be witnesses to me of this promes.

d Because of the horrible confusion of things, the Prophet complaineth to God as though he sawe not the performance of his promes. And thus discharging his cares on God, he resisteth doubt and impatiencie.

e By this he meaneth the horrible disruption and renting of the kingdome which was vnder Ieroboam: or els by the spirite of prophecie Ethan speaketh of those great miseries, which came soone afterwarde to passe at the captiuitie of Babylon

f He sheweth that the kingdome fell before it came to perfection or was ripe.

g The Prophet in ioyning prayer with his complaint, sheweth that his faith neuer failed.

1 from my youth I suffer thy terrours, doubting of my life.

16 Thine indignations goe ouer me, and thy feare hath cut me off.

17 They came rounde about me dayly like water, and compassed me together.

PSAL. LXXXIX.

1 With many wordes doeth the Prophet prayse the goodnesse of God, 23 For his testament and couenant, that he had made betweene him and his elect by Iesus Christ the sonne of Dauid: 38 Then doeth he complaine of the great ruine, and desolation of the kingdome of Dauid, so that to the outwarde appearance the promes was broken. 46 Finally he prayeth to be deliuered from his afflictions, making mention of the shortnesse of mans life, and confirming himselfe by Gods promises.

a I Will sing the mercies of the Lorde for euer: with my mouth will I declare thy trueth from generation to generation.

2 For b I said, Mercie shalbe set vp for euer: thy trueth shalt thou c establish in the very heauens.

3 d I haue made a couenant with my chosen: I haue sworne to Dauid my seruant,

4 Thy seede will I stablish for euer, and set vp thy throne from generation to generation. Selah.

5 O Lord, euen the e heauens shall praise thy wonderous worke: yea, thy trueth in the f Congregation of the Saints.

6 For who is equal to the Lord in the heauen? and who is like the Lorde among the g sonnes of the gods?

7 God is very terrible in the assemblie of the h Saintes, and to be reuerenced aboue all, that are about him.

8 O Lorde God of hostes, who is like vnto thee, which art a mightie Lorde, and thy trueth is about thee?

9 i Thou rulest the raging of the sea: when the waues thereof arise, thou stillest them.

10 Thou hast beaten downe Rahab as a man slaine: thou hast scattered thine enemies with thy mightie arme.

11 The heauens are thine, the earth also is thine: thou hast laid the foundation of the world, and all that therein is.

12 Thou hast created the North and the South: k Tabor and Hermon shall reioyce in thy Name.

13 Thou hast a mightie arme: strong is thine hand, and high is thy right hand.

14 l Righteousnesse and equitie are the stablishment of thy throne: mercie and trueth goe before thy face.

15 Blessed is the people, that can m reioyce in thee: they shall walke in the light of thy n countenance, O Lord.

16 They shall reioyce continually in thy Name, and in thy righteousnesse shall they exalt themselues.

17 For thou art the o glorie of their strength, and by thy fauour our hornes shalbe exalted.

18 For our p shield appertaineth to the Lord, and our King to the holy one of Israel.

19 Thou spakest then in a vision vnto q thine Holy one, and saydest, I haue layde helpe vpon one that is r mightie: I haue exalted one chosen out of the people.

20 I haue found Dauid my seruant: with mine holy oyle haue I anoynted him.

21 Therefore mine hand shall be established with him, and mine arme shall strengthen him.

22 The enemie shall not oppresse him, neither shall the wicked hurt him.

23 But I will s destroy his foes before his face, and plague them that hate him.

24 My trueth also and my t mercie shall bee with him, and in my Name shall his u horne bee exalted.

25 I will set his hand also in the sea, and his right hand in the x floods.

26 He shall cry vnto me, Thou art my y Father, my God and the rocke of my saluation.

27 Also I will make him my first borne, higher then the Kings of the earth.

28 My mercie will I keepe for him for euermore, and my couenant shal stand fast with him.

29 His seede also will I make to endure z for euer, and his throne as the dayes of heauen.

30 But if his children forsake my Lawe, and walke not in my iudgements:

31 * If they breake my statutes, and keepe not my commandements:

32 Then will I visite their transgression with the rod, and their iniquitie with strokes.

33 a Yet my louing kindenesse wil I not take from him, neither will I falsifie my trueth.

34 My couenant will I not breake, nor b alter the thing that is gone out of my lips.

35 I haue sworne once by mine holines, † that I will not faile Dauid, saying, 36 His seede shall endure for euer, and his throne shall be as the sunne before me.

37 He shall be established for euermore as the moone, and as a faithfull c witnes in the heauen. Selah.

38 But thou hast reiected and abhorred, thou hast bene angry with thine Anoynted.

39 Thou hast d broken the couenant of thy seruant, and profaned his e crowne, casting it on the grounde.

40 Thou hast broken downe all his walles: thou hast layde his fortresses in ruine.

41 All that goe by the way, spoyle him: he is a rebuke vnto his neighbours.

42 Thou hast set vp the right hand of his enemies, and made all his aduersaries to reioyce.

43 Thou hast also turned the edge of his sworde, and hast not made him to stande in the battell.

44 Thou hast caused his dignitie to decay, and cast his throne to the grounde.

45 The dayes of his f youth hast thou shortned, and couered him with shame. Selah.

46 g Lord, how long wilt thou hide thy selfe, for euer? shall thy wrath burne like fire?

47 Remember h of what time I am: wherefore shouldest thou create in vaine all the children of men?

48 What man liueth, and shall not see death? shall hee deliuer his soule from the hand of the graue? Selah.

49 Lord, where are thy former mercies, which thou swarest vnto Dauid in thy truth?

50 Remember, O Lord, the rebuke of thy seruants, which I beare in my i bosome of all the mightie people.

51 For k thine enemies haue reproched thee, O Lord, because they haue reproched the l footesteps of thine Annointed.

52 Praised be the Lord for euermore. So be it, euen so be it.

h Seeing mans life is short, and thou hast created man to bestowe thy benefites vpon him, except thou hast to help, death will preuent thee.
i He meaneth that Gods enemies did not onely slander him behinde his backe: but also mocked him to his face, and as it were cast their iniuries in his bosome.
k So he calleth them that persecute the Church.
l They laugh at vs, which patiently wayte for the comming of thy Christ.

PSAL. XC.

1 Moses in his prayer setteth before vs the eternall fauour of God toward his, 3 Who are neither admonished by the breuitie of their life, 7 Nor by his plagues to be thankefull, 12 Therefore Moses prayeth God to turne their hearts and continue his mercies toward them, and their posteritie for euer.

¶ A prayer of Moses, the a man of God.

LOrd, thou hast bene our b habitation from generation to generation.

2 Before the c mountaines were made, and before thou hadst formed the earth, and the worlde, euen from euerlasting to euerlasting thou art our God.

3 Thou d turnest man to destruction: againe thou sayest, Returne, ye sonnes of Adam.

4 e For a thousand yeeres in thy sight are as yesterday when it is past, & as a watch in f night.

5 Thou hast ouerflowed them: they are as a sleepe: in the morning he groweth like the grasse:

6 In the morning it flourisheth and groweth, but in the euening it is cut downe and withereth.

7 For we g are consumed by thine anger, and by thy wrath are we troubled.

8 Thou hast set our iniquities before thee, and our secret sinnes in the light of thy countenance.

9 For all our dayes are past in thine anger: we haue h spent our yeeres as a thought.

10 The time of our life is threescore yeeres and ten, and if they be of strength, i fourescore yeres: yet their strength is but labour and sorowe: for it is cut off quickely, and we flee away.

11 k Who knoweth the power of thy wrath? for according to thy feare is thine anger.

12 Teach vs so to number our dayes, that we may apply our hearts vnto l wisedome.

13 Returne (O Lord, m how long?) and be ‖pacified toward thy seruants.

14 Fill vs with thy mercie in the morning: so shall we reioyce and be glad all our dayes.

15 Comfort vs according to the dayes that thou hast afflicted vs, and according to the yeeres that we haue seene euill.

16 n Let thy worke bee seene toward thy seruants, and their glorie vpon their o children.

17 And let the p beautie of the Lord our God be vpon vs, & q direct thou the worke of our hands vpon vs, euen direct the worke of our hands.

a Thus the Scripture vseth to call the Prophets.
b Thou hast bene as an house and defence vnto vs in all our troubles & trauels now this foure hundreth yeeres.
c Thou hast chosen vs to be thy people before the foundations of the world were layed.
d Moses by lamenting the frailtie and shortnesse of mans life moueth God to pitie.
e Though man thinke his life long, which is in deede most short, yea, though it were a thousand yeeres: yet in Gods sight it is as nothing, & as the watch that lasteth but three houres.
f Thou takest them away suddenly as with a flood.
g Thou callest vs by thy rods to consider the shortnesse of our life, and for our sinnes thou abridgest our daies.
h Our dayes are not onely short, but miserable, for as much as our sinnes dayly prouoke thy wrath.
i Meaning, according to the common state of life.
k If mans life for the miserie be miserable, much more, if thy wrath lie vpon it, as they, which feare thee, only know.
l Which is, by considering the shortnesse of our life, and by meditating the heauenly ioy.
m Meaning, wilt thou bee angry?
‖ Or, take comfort to thy seruants.
n Euen thy mercie, which is thy chiefest worke.
o As Gods promises apperteined as well to their posteritie as to them, so Moses prayeth for the posterite.
p Meaning that it was obscured, when he ceased to doe good to his Church.
q For except thou guide vs with thine holy Spirit, our enterprises can haue no good successe.

PSAL. XCI.

1 Here is described in what assurance he liueth that putteth his whole trust in God, and committeth himselfe wholly to his protection in all tentations. 14 A promise of God to those that loue him, knowe him and trust in him, to deliuer them, and giue them immortall glorie.

VVHo so dwelleth in the a secrete of the most High, shall abide in the shadowe of the Almightie.

2 b I will say vnto the Lord, O mine hope, and my fortresse: he is my God, in him will I trust.

3 Surely he will deliuer thee from the c snare of the hunter, and from the noysome pestilence.

4 Hee will couer thee vnder his wings, and thou shalt be sure vnder his feathers: his d trueth shall be thy shield and buckler.

5 e Thou shalt not be afraide of the feare of the night, nor of the arrowe that flyeth by day:

6 Nor of the pestilence that walketh in the darkenesse: nor of the plague that destroyeth at noone day.

7 A thousand shall fall at thy side, and tenne thousand at thy right hand, but it shall not come neere thee.

8 Doubtlesse with thine f eyes shalt thou beholde and see the reward of the wicked.

9 For thou hast said, The Lord is mine hope: thou hast set the most High for thy refuge.

10 There shall none euill come vnto thee, neither shall any plague come neere thy tabernacle.

11 g For he shall giue his Angels charge ouer thee to keepe thee in all thy wayes.

12 They shall beare thee in their hands, that thou hurt not thy foote against a stone.

13 Thou shalt walke vpon the lyon and aspe: the h yong lyon and the dragon shalt thou treade vnder feete.

14 i Because he hath loued me, therefore will I deliuer him: I will exalt him because hee hath knowen my Name.

15 He shall call vpon me, & I will heare him: I will be with him in trouble: I will deliuer him, and glorifie him.

16 With k long life will I satisfie him, and shewe him my saluation.

a He that walketh in God his defence and trust, shall perceiue his protection to be a most sure safegarde.
b Being assured of this protection, he prayeth vnto the Lord.
c That is, Gods helpe is most readie for vs, whether Satan assaile vs secretely, which he calleth a snare, or openly, which is here meant by the pestilence.
d That is, his faithfull keeping of promise to helpe thee in thy necessitie.
e The care that God hath ouer his, is most sufficient to defend them from all dangers.
f The godly shall haue some experience of Gods iudgement against the wicked, euen in this life, but fully they shall see it at that day, when all things shall be reuealed.
g God hath not appointed euery man one Angel, but many to be ministers of his prouidence to keepe his and defend them in their vocation, which is the way to walke in without tempting God.
h Thou shalt not only be preserued from all euill, but ouercome it whether it be secret or open.
i To assure the faithfull of Gods protection, hee bringeth in God to confirme the same.
k For hee is contented with that life, that God giueth: for by death the shortnesse of this life is recompensed with immortalitie.

PSAL. XCII.

1 This Psalme was made to be sung on the Sabbath, to stirre vp the people to acknowledge God and to praise him in his workes: the Prophet reioyceth therein. 6 But the wicked is not able to consider that the vngodly, when he is most flourishing, shall most perdith perish. 12 In the end is described the felicitie of the iust, planted in the house of God to praise the Lord.

¶ A Psalme or song for the a Sabbath day.

IT is a good thing to praise the Lord, and to sing vnto thy Name, O most High,

2 To declare thy louing kindenesse in the b morning, and thy trueth in the night,

3 Vpon an c instrument of tenne strings, and vpon the viole with the song vpon the harpe.

4 For thou, Lord, hast made me glad by thy d workes, and I will reioyce in the workes of thine handes.

5 O Lord, how glorious are thy workes! and thy thoughts are very deepe.

6 An e vnwise man knoweth it not, and a a Which teacheth that the vse of the Sabbath standeth, in praising God, and not onely in ceasing from worke.

b For Gods mercie and faithfulnesse in his promises toward his, binde them to praise him continually both day and night.
c These instruments were then permitted, but after Christes comming abolished.
d Shee sheweth what is the vse of the Sabbath day: to wit, to meditate Gods workes.
e That is, the wicked consider not Gods workes, nor his iudgements against them, and therefore must needs perish.

foole doeth not vnderstand this,

7 (When the wicked grow as the grasse, and all the workers of wickednesse doe flourish) that they shall be destroyed for euer.

8 But thou, O Lord, art [f] most High for euermore.

9 For loe, thine enemies, O Lord: for loe, thine enemies shall perish: all the workers of iniquitie shall be destroyed.

10 [g] But thou shalt exalt mine horne, like the vnicornes, and I shalbe anointed with fresh oyle.

11 Mine eye also shall see my desire against mine enemies: and mine eares shal heare my wish against the wicked, that rise vp against me.

12 The righteous shall [h] flourish like a palme tree, and shall grow like a cedar in Lebanon.

13 Such as bee planted in the house of the Lord, shall flourish in the courtes of our God.

14 They shall still bring foorth fruite in their [i] age: they shall be fat and flourishing, 15 To declare that the Lord my rocke is righteous, and that none iniquitie is in him.

PSAL. XCIII.

1 Hee praiseth the power of God in the creation of the worlde, and beateth downe all people which list them vp against his maiestie. 5 And prouoketh to consider his promises.

THe Lord [a] reigneth, and is clothed with maiestie: the Lord is clothed, and girded with power: the world also shall be established, that it cannot be mooued.

2 Thy [b] throne is established of olde: thou art from euerlasting.

3 [c] The floods haue lifted vp, O Lord: the floods haue lifted vp their voyce: the floods lift vp their waues.

4 The waues of the sea are marueilous through the noyse of many waters, yet the Lord on High is more mightie.

5 Thy [d] testimonies are very sure: holinesse becommeth thine House, O Lord, for euer.

PSAL. XCIIII.

1 He prayeth vnto God against the violence and arrogancie of tyrants, 10 Warning them of Gods iudgements. 12 Then doeth he comfort the afflicted by the good issue of their afflictions, as he felt in himselfe, and did see in others, and by the ruine of the wicked, 23 Whom the Lord will destroy.

O Lord God [a] the auenger, O God the auenger, shew thy selfe [b] clearely.

2 Exalt thy selfe, O Iudge of the world, and render a reward to the proude.

3 Lord, how long shal the wicked, how long shall the wicked [c] triumph?

4 They prate and speake fiercely: all the workers of iniquitie vaunt themselues.

5 They, [d] smite downe thy people, O Lord, and trouble thine heritage.

6 They slay the widowe and the stranger, and murther the fatherlesse.

7 [e] Yet they say, The Lord shall not see: neither will the God of Iaakob regard it.

8 Vnderstand ye vnwise among the people: and ye fooles, when will ye be wise?

9 Hee that [f] planted the eare, shall he not heare? or he that formed the eye, shall he not see?

10 Or he that chastiseth the [g] nations, shall he not correct? hee that teacheth man knowledge, shall he not knowe?

11 The Lord knoweth the thoughts of man, that they are vanitie.

12 Blessed is the man whom thou [h] chastisest, O Lord, and teachest him in thy Lawe, 13 That thou mayest giue him rest from the dayes of euill, whiles the pitte is digged for the wicked.

14 Surely the Lord will not faile his people, neither will he forsake his inheritance, 15 For [i] iudgement shal returne to iustice, and all the vpright in heart shall follow after it.

16 Who will rise vp with me against the wicked? or who will take my part against the workers of iniquitie?

17 If the Lord had not [k] holpen me, my soule had almost dwelt in silence.

18 When I said, [l] My foote slideth, thy mercie, O Lord, stayed me.

19 In the multitude of my [m] thoughts in mine heart, thy comfortes haue reioyced my soule.

20 Hath the throne of iniquitie [n] fellowship with thee, which forgeth wrong for a Lawe?

21 They gather them together against the soule of the righteous, and condemne the innocent blood.

22 But the Lord is my refuge, and my God is the rocke of mine hope.

23 And hee will recompense them their wickednes, and [o] destroy them in their owne malice, yea, the Lord our God shall destroy them.

PSAL. XCV.

1 An earnest exhortation to praise God. 4 For the gouernment of the world, and the election of his Church. 8 An admonition not to follow the rebellion of the olde fathers, that tempted God in the wildernesse: 11 For the which they might not enter into the land of promise.

COme, let vs reioyce vnto the Lord: let vs sing [a] aloude vnto the rocke of our saluation.

2 Let vs come before his face with prayse; let vs sing loud vnto him with Psalmes.

3 For the Lord is a great God, and a great King aboue all [b] gods.

4 In whose hande are the deepe places of the earth, and the [c] heights of the mountaines are his:

5 To whome the Sea belongeth: for he made it, and his hands formed the dry land.

6 Come, let vs [d] worship and fall downe, and kneele before the Lord our maker.

7 For he is our God, and we are the people of his pasture, and the sheepe of his [e] hand: to day, if ye will heare his voyce,

8 [f] Harden not your heart, as [‖] in Meribah, and as in the day of [‖] Massah in the wildernesse.

9 Where your fathers [*] tempted me, proued me, though they had seene my worke.

10 Fourtie yeeres haue I contended with this generation, and said, They are a people that [g] erre in heart, for they haue not knowen my wayes.

11 Wherefore I sware in my wrath, saying, Surely they shall not enter into my [h] rest.

---

f Thy iudgements are most constant against the wicked, and passe our reach.

g Thou wilt strengthen them with al power, and blesse them with all felicitie.

h Though the faithfull seeme to wither and be cut downe by the wicked: yet they shall grow againe and flourish in the Church of God as the Cedars doe in mount Lebanon.

i The children of God shall haue a power aboue nature, and their age shall bring foorth most fresh fruits.

1 As God by his power and wisedome hath made and gouerneth the world: so must the same be our defence against all enemies and dangers.

b Wherein thou fittest and gouernest the world.

c Gods power appeareth in ruling the furious waters.

d Besides Gods power and wisdome in creating and gouerning, his great mercie also appeareth in that he hath giuen his people his word and couenant.

a Whose office it is to take vengeance on the wicked.

b Shew by effect that thou art Iudge of the world to punish the wicked.

c That is, bragge of their crueltie and oppression: or esteeme themselues aboue all other.

d Seeing the Church was then so sore oppressed, it ought not to seeme strange to vs, if we see it so now, and therefore we must call to God, to take our cause in hand.

e He sheweth that they are desperate in malice, forasmuch as they feared not God, but gaue themselues wholly to do wickedly. f He sheweth that it is impossible, but God should heare, see and vnderstand their wickednesse. g If God punish whole nations for their sinnes it is meere folly for any one man, or els a fewe to thinke that God will spare them.

h God hath couered his, and chastiseth them, for their wealth, that they should not perish for euer with the wicked.

i God will restore the state and gouernement of things to their right vse, and then the godly shall followe him chearefully.

k He complaineth of them, which would not helpe him to resist the enemies, yet was assured that Gods helpe would not faile.

l When I thought there was no way but death.

m In my trouble and distresse, I euer found thy present helpe.

n Though the wicked Iudges pretend iustice in oppressing the Church, yet they haue not that authoritie of God.

o It is a great token of Gods iudgement, when the purpose of the wicked is broken, but most, when they are destroyed in their owne malice.

a He sheweth how Gods seruice standeth not in dead ceremonies, but chiefely in the sacrifice of praise and thanksgiuing.

b Euen the Angels (who in respect of men are thought as gods) are nothing in his sight: much lesse the idoles which mans braine inuenteth.

c All things are gouerned by his prouidence.

d By these three words he signifieth one thing: meaning, that they must wholly giue themselues to serue God.

e That is, the flocke whome he gouerneth with his owne hand. He sheweth wherein they are Gods flocke: that is, if they heare his voyce. f By the contemning of Gods worke.

‖ Or, in strife: whereof the place was called. [*] Exodus 17.2. numbers 14.22. [*] Or, tentation, reade Exodus 17.7.

g They were without iudgement and counsell.

h That is, into the land of Canaan, where he promised them rest.

PSAL. XCVI.

1 An exhortation both to the Iewes and Gentiles to praise God for his mercie. And this specially ought to be referred to the kingdome of Christ.

SIng [a] vnto the Lord a new song: sing vnto the Lord all the earth.

2 Sing vnto the Lord, and praise his Name: declare his saluation from day to day.

3 Declare his glory among all nations, and his wonders among all people.

4 For the Lord is [b] great and much to be praised: he is to be feared aboue all gods.

5 For all the gods of the people are ‖ idoles: but the Lord [c] made the heauens.

6 [d] Strength and glory are before him: power and beautie are in his Sanctuarie.

7 Giue vnto the Lord, ye families of the people: giue vnto the Lord glory and [e] power.

8 Giue vnto the Lord the glory of his Name: bring [f] an offering, and enter into his courtes.

9 Worship the Lord in the glorious Sanctuarie: tremble before him all the earth.

10 Say among the [g] nations, The Lord reigneth: surely [h] world shalbe stable, and not moue, and he shall iudge the people [i] in righteousnesse.

11 Let the heauens reioyce, and let the earth be glad: let the sea roare, and all that therein is.

12 Let the field be ioyfull, and all that is in it: let all the [i] trees of the wood then reioyce

13 Before the Lord: for he commeth, for hee cōmeth to iudge the earth: he wil iudge the world with righteousnes and the people in his trueth.

a The Prophet sheweth that the time shall come, that all nations shal haue occasion to praise the Lord for the reueiling of his Gospel.

b Seeing he will reueile himselfe to all nations contrary to their owne expectation, they ought all to worship him contrary to their owne imaginations, and onely as he hath appointed.

‖ Or, vanities.

c Then the idoles, or whatsoeuer made not the heauens, are not God.

d God cannot be knowen, but by his strength & glory: the signes whereof appeare in his Sanctuarie.

e As by experience ye see that it is onely due vnto him.

f By offering vp your selues wholy vnto God, declare that you worship him onely. g Hee prophecieth that the Gentiles shall be partakers with the Iewes of Gods promes. h He shall regenerate them anew with his Spirit, and restore them to the image of God. i If the insensible creatures shall haue cause to reioyce, when God appeareth, much more we, from whome he hath taken maledition and sinne.

PSAL. XCVII.

1 The Prophet exhorteth all to reioyce for the comming of the kingdome of Christ, 7 Dreadfull to the rebels and idolaters, 8 And ioyfull to the iust, whome he exhorteth to innocencie, 12 To reioycing and thankesgiuing.

THe [a] Lord reigneth: let the earth reioyce: let the [b] multitude of the yles be glad.

2 [c] Cloudes and darkenes are rounde about him: righteousnesse and iudgement are the foundation of his throne.

3 There shall goe a fire before him, and burne vp his enemies round about.

4 His lightnings gaue light vnto the worlde: the earth saw it and was [d] afraide.

5 The mountaines melted like waxe at the presence of the Lord, at the presence of the Lord of the whole earth.

6 The heauens declare his righteousnes, and al the people see his glory.

7 [e] Confounded be all they that serue grauen images, and that glory in idoles: worship him [f] all ye gods.

8 Zion heard of it, and was glad: and the [g] daughters of Iudah reioyced, because of thy iudgements, O Lord, 9 For thou, O Lord, art most High aboue all the earth: thou art much exalted aboue all gods.

10 Ye that [h] loue the Lorde, hate euill: hee preserueth the soules of his Saints: he will deliuer them from the hand of the wicked.

11 [i] Light is sowen for the righteous, and ioye for the vpright in heart.

12 Reioyce ye righteous in the Lorde, and giue thankes for his holy [k] remembrance.

a He sheweth that where God reigneth, there is all felicitie, and spirituall ioy.

b For the Gospel shall not be onely preached in Iudea, but through all yles & countreis.

c He is thus described to keepe his enemies in feare, which commonly contemne Gods power.

d This feare bringeth not the wicked to true obedience, but maketh them to runne away from God.

e He signifieth that Gods iudgements are in a readines to destroy the idolaters.

f Let all that which is esteemed in the world, fall downe before him.

g The Iewes shall haue occasion to reioyce that the Gentiles are made partakers with them of Gods fauour. h Hee requireth two things of his children: the one that they detest vice, the other, that they put their trust in God for their deliuerance. i Though Gods deliuerance appeare not suddenly, yet it is sowen and laide vp in store for them.

k Be mindefull of his benefits, and onely trust in his defence.

PSAL. XCVIII.

1 An earnest exhortation to all creatures to praise the Lord for his power, mercie and iustice in his promes by Christ, 10 By whome he hath communicated his saluation to all nations.

¶ A Psalme.

SIng [a] vnto the Lorde a new song: for he hath done marueilous things: * his right hand, and his holy [b] arme haue gotten him the victorie.

2 The Lord declared his [c] saluation: his righteousnes hath he reueiled in [‖] the sight of the nations.

3 Hee hath [d] remembred his mercie and his trueth towarde the house of Israel: all the ends of the earth haue seene the saluation of our God.

4 All the earth, sing ye loude vnto the Lord: crie out and reioyce, and sing prayses.

5 Sing praise to the Lord vpon the harpe, euen vpon the harpe with a singing voyce.

6 With [e] shalmes and sound of trumpets sing loude before the Lord the King.

7 Let the sea roare, and all that therein is: the world, and they that dwell therein.

8 Let the floods clap their hands, and let the mountaines reioyce together

9 Before the Lord: for he is come to iudge the earth: with righteousnesse shal he iudge the world, and the people with equitie.

a That is, some song newly made in token of their wonderfull deliuerance by Christ. * Isa. 59.16.

b He preserueth his Church miraculously.

c For the deliuerance of his Church.

d God was moued by none other meanes to gather his Church of the Iewes and Gentiles, but because he would performe his promes.

e By this repetition and earnest exhortation to giue prayses with instruments, and also of the dumme creatures, he signifieth that the world is neuer able to praise God sufficiently for their deliuerance.

PSAL. XCIX.

1 He commendeth the power, equitie, and excellencie of the kingdome of God by Christ our the Iewes and Gentiles, 5 And prouoketh them to magnifie the same and to serue the Lorde, 6 Following the example of the ancient Fathers, Moses, Aaron, Samuel, who calling vpon God, were heard in their prayers.

THe Lord reigneth, let the [a] people tremble: he sitteth betweene the * Cherubims, let the earth be mooued.

2 The Lord is great in Zion, and he is high aboue all the people.

3 They shall [b] prayse thy great and fearefull Name (for it is holy)

4 And the kings power, that loueth iudgement: for thou hast prepared equitie: thou hast executed iudgemement and iustice in Iaakob.

5 Exalt the Lord our God, and fall downe before his [c] footestoole: for he is holy.

6 Moses and Aaron were among his Priestes, [d] and Samuel among such as cal vpon his Name: these called vpon the Lord, and he heard them.

7 Hee spake vnto them in the cloudie pillar: they kept his testimonies, and the Lawe that hee gaue them.

8 Thou heardest them, O Lord our God: thou wast a fauourable God vnto them, though thou didst take vengeance for [e] their inuentions.

9 Exalt the Lorde our God, and fall downe before his holy Mountaine: for the Lorde our God is holy.

a When God deliuereth his Church, all the enemies shall haue cause to tremble. *Exod. 15.12.

b Though the wicked rage against God, yet the godly shall praise his Name and mightie power.

c That is before his Temple or Arke, where he promised to heare, when they worshipped him, as nowe he promiseth his spirituall presence, whatsoeuer his Church is assembled.

d Vnder these three he comprehendeth the whole people of Israel, with whome God made his promes. e For the more liberally that God dealeth with his people, the more doeth he punish them that abuse his benefites.

PSAL. C.

1 He exhorteth all to serue the Lorde, 3 Who hath chosen vs and preserued vs, 4 And to enter into his assemblies to praise his Name.

¶ A Psalme of praise.

SIng [a] ye loude vnto the Lord, all the earth.

2 Serue the Lord with gladnesse: come before him with ioyfulnesse.

a He prophecieth that Gods benefite in calling the Gentiles, shall be so great, that they shall haue wonderful occasion to praise his mercie & reioyce

3 Knowe ye that euen the Lorde is God: hee hath [b] made vs, and not we our selues: we are his people, and the sheepe of his pasture.

4 [c] Enter into his gates with praise, and into his courts with reioycing: praise him and blesse his Name.

5 For the Lord is good: his mercie is [d] euerlasting, and his trueth is from generation to generation.

b He chiefly meaneth, touching the spirituall regeneration, whereby wee are his sheepe and people.
c He sheweth that God will not be worshipped, but by that meanes, which he hath appointed. d He declareth that we ought neuer to be wearie in praysing him, seeing his mercies towards vs last for euer.

PSAL. CI.

1 Dauid disscribeth what gouernement he will obserue in his house and kingdome. 5 He will punish and correct, by rooting foorth the wicked, 6 And cherishing the godly persons.

¶ A Psalme of Dauid.

I Will [a] sing mercie and iudgement: vnto thee, O Lord, will I sing.

2 I will doe wisely in the perfite way, [b] till thou commest to me: I wil walke in the vprightnes of mine heart in the middes of mine house.

3 I will set no wicked thing before mine eyes: I hate [c] the worke of them that fall away: it shall not cleaue vnto me.

4 A froward heart shall depart from me: I will knowe none euill.

5 Him that priuily [d] slandereth his neighbour, will I destroye: him that hath a proude looke and hie heart, I cannot suffer.

6 Mine eyes shalbe vnto the [e] faithfull of the land, that they may dwell with me: he that walketh in a perfite way, he shall serue me.

7 There shall no deceitfull person dwell within mine house: hee that telleth lies, shall not remaine in my sight.

8 [f] Betimes will I destroy all the wicked of the land, that I may cut off all the workers of iniquitie from the Citie of the Lord.

a Dauid considereth what maner of King he would be, when God should place him in the throne, promising openly, that he would be mercifull and iust.
b Though as yet thou deferrest to place me in the Kingly dignitie, yet will I giue my selfe to wisedome and vprightnesse being a priuate man.
c He sheweth that magistrates doe not their duties, except they be enemies to all vice.
d In promising to punish those vices, which are most pernicious in them that are about Kings, hee declareth that hee will punish all.
e He sheweth what is the true vse of the sword: to punish the wicked and to maintaine the good. f Magistrates must immediatly punish vice, least it growe to further inconuenience: and if heathen magistrates are bound to do this, howe much more they that haue the charge of the Church of God?

PSAL. CII.

1 It seemeth that this praier was appointed to the faithfull to pray in the captiuitie of Babylon. 16 A consolation for the building of the Church: 18 Whereof followeth the praise God to be published vnto all posteritie. 22 The conuersion of the Gentiles, 28 And the stablitie of the Church.

¶ A prayer [a] of the afflicted, when hee shall be in distresse, and poure foorth his meditation before the Lorde.

O Lord, heare my prayer, and let my [b] cry come vnto thee.

2 Hide not thy face from mee in the time of my trouble: incline thine eares vnto me: when I call, make haste to heare me.

3 For my dayes are [c] consumed like smoke, and my bones are burnt like an herth.

4 Mine heat is smitten and withereth like grasse, because I forgare [d] to eate my bread.

5 For the voyce of my groning my bones doe cleaue to my skinne.

6 I am like a [e] pelicane of the wildernesse: I am like an owle of the deserts.

7 I watch and am as a sparrow alone vpon the house toppe.

8 Mine enemies reuile me dayly, and they that rage against me, haue [f] sworne against me.

9 Surely I haue [g] eaten ashes as bread, and mingled my drinke with weeping,

10 Because of thine [h] indignation and thy wtath: for thou hast heaued mee vp, and cast me downe.

11 My dayes are like a shadow that fadeth, and I am withered like grasse.

12 But thou O Lord, doest [i] remaine for euer, and thy remembrance from generation to generation.

13 Thou wilt arise and haue mercie vpon Zion: for the time to haue mercie thereon, for the [k] appointed time is come.

14 For thy seruants delite in the [l] stones thereof, and haue pitie on the dust thereof.

15 Then the heathen shall feare the Name of the Lord, and al the Kings of the earth thy glory,

16 When the Lorde shall build vp Zion, and shall appeare [m] in his glory, 17 And shall turne vnto the prayer of the desolate, and not despise their prayer.

18 This shall be written for the generation to come: and the people, which shalbe [n] created, shall prayse the Lord.

19 For he hath looked downe from the height of his Sanctuarie: out of the heauen did the Lord behold the earth,

20 That he might heare the mourning of the prisoner, and deliuer the [o] children of death:

21 That they may declare the Name of the Lorde in Zion, and his praise in Ieruselem, 22 When the people shalbe gathered [p] together, and the kingdomes to serue the Lord.

23 Hee [q] abated my strength in the way, and shortened my dayes.

24 And I said, O my God, take me not away in the middes of my dayes: thy yeeres endure from generation to generation.

25 Thou hast aforetime layde the foundation of the earth, and the heauens are the worke of thine handes.

26 [r] They shall perish, but thou shalt endure: euen they all shall waxe olde as doeth a garment: as a vesture shalt thou change them, and they shal be changed.

27 But thou art the same, and thy yeeres shall not faile.

28 The children of thy seruants shal continue, and their seede shall stand [s] fast in thy sight.

a Whereby is signified, that albeit we be in neuer so great miseries, yet there is euer place left for prayer.
b He declareth that in our prayer we must liuely feele that, which wee desire and stedfastly beleeue to obteine.
c These excessiue kindes of speech shewe how much the affliction of the Church ought to wound the hearts of the godly.
d My sorowes were so great, that I passed not for mine ordinarie foode. e Euer mourning, and solitarie, casting out fearefull cries. f Haue conspired my death.
g I haue not taken out of my mourning to take my refection.
h He sheweth that the afflictions did not onely thus moone him, but chiefly the feeling of Gods displeasure.
i How soeuer we be fraile: yet the promes is sure and the remembrance thereof shall confirme vs for euer.
k That is, the seuentie yeeres, which by the Prophet Ieremie thou didest appoint, Iere. 29. 12.
l The more that the Church is in miserie and desolation, the more ought the faithfull to loue & pitie it.
m That is, when hee shall haue drawen his Church out of the darknes of death.
n The deliuerance of the Church is a most excellent benefite, & therefore he compareth it to a new creation: for in their banishment the body of the Church seemed to haue bene dead, which by deliuerance was as it were created anewe.
o Who now in their banishment could looke for nothing but death.
p Hee sheweth that Gods Name is neuer more praysed, then when religion florisheth and the Church increaseth: which thing is chiefly accomplished vnder the kingdome of Christ, which was Christ. q The Church lament that they see not the time of promised, but haue but fewe yeeres and short dayes. r If heauen and earth perish, much more man shall perish: but the Church by reason of Gods promes endureth for euer. f Seeing thou hast chosen thy Church out of the worlde, and ioyned it to thee, it cannot but continue for euer: for thou art everlasting.

PSAL. CIII.

1 He prouoketh all to prayse the Lorde, which hath pardoned his sinnes, & nourred him from destruction, and giuen him sufficient of all good things. 10 Then he addeth the tender mercie of God, which he sheweth like a most tender Father towardes his children. 14 The frailtie of mans life. 20 An exhortation to man and Angels praise the Lord.

¶ A Psalme to Dauid.

MY soule, [a] praise thou the Lorde, and all that is within me, praise his holy Name.

2 My soule, praise thou the Lorde, and forget not all his benefites.

3 Which [b] forgiueth all thine iniquitie, and healeth all thine infirmities.

4 Which redeemeth thy life from the [c] graue, and crowneth thee with mercie and compassions.

a He willeth his soule to praise God, knowing that both vnderstanding and affections, mouth and heart are too little to set forth his praise.
b This is the beginning and chiefest of all benefites: remission of sinne. c For before that we haue remission of our sinnes, we are as dead men in the grave.

5 Which satisfieth thy mouth with good things: and thy [d] youth is renued like the eagles.

6 The Lord executeth righteousnes & iudgement to all that are oppressed.

7 He made his wayes knowen vnto [e] Moses, and his workes vnto the children of Israel.

8 The Lord is full of compassion and mercie, slowe to anger and of great kindnesse.

9 He will not alway [f] chide, neither keepe his anger for euer.

10 He hath not [g] deale with vs after our sinnes, nor rewarded vs according to our iniquities.

11 For as high as the heauen is aboue [h] earth, so great is his mercie toward them that feare him.

12 As farre as [h] the East is from the West: so farre hath he remooued our sinnes from vs.

13 As a father hath compassion on his children, so hath the Lorde compassion on them that feare him.

14 For he knoweth whereof we be made: hee remembreth that we are but dust.

15 The dayes of [i] man are as grasse: as a flowre of the field, so florisheth he.

16 For the wind goeth ouer it, and it is gone, and the place thereof shall know it no more.

17 But the louing kindnesse of the Lord endureth for euer and euer vpon them that feare him, and his [k] righteousnesse vpon childrens children, 18 Vnto them that keepe his [l] couenant, and thinke vpon his commandements to doe them.

19 The Lord hath prepared his throne in heauen, and his Kingdome ruleth ouer all.

20 Prayse the Lord, ye [m] his Angels, that excel in strength, that do his commandement in obeying the voyce of his worde.

21 Prayse the Lord all ye his hosts, ye his seruants that doe his pleasure.

22 Prayse the Lord all ye his works, in all places of his dominion: my soule, prayse thou the Lorde.

PSAL. CIIII.

1 An excellent Psalme to prayse God for the creation of the world, and the gouernance of the same by his marueilous prouidence. 35 Wherein the Porophet prayeth against the wicked, who are occasions that God diminisheth his blessings.

MY soule, prayse thou the Lord: O Lorde my God, thou art exceeding great, thou art [a] clothed with glorie and honour.

2 Which couereth himselfe with light, as with a garmẽt, and spreadeth [b] heauens like a curtaine.

3 Which layeth the beames of his chambers in the waters, and maketh the clouds his chariot, and walketh vpon the wings of the wind.

4 Which [b] maketh his spirits his messengers, and a flaming fire his ministers.

5 He set the earth vpon her foundations, so that it shall neuer moue.

6 Thou coueredst it with the [c] deepe as with a garment: the [d] waters woulde stand aboue the mountaines.

7 But at thy rebuke they flee: at the voyce of thy thunder they haste away.

8 And the mountaines ascend, and the valleis descend to the place which thou hast established for them.

9 But thou hast set them a bounde, which they shall not passe: they shall not returne to couer the earth.

10 Hee sendeth the springs into the valleis, which runne betweene the mountaines.

11 They shall giue drinke to all the [e] beasts of the field, & the wild asses shal quench their thirst.

12 By these [f] springs shal the foules of the heauen dwell, and sing among the branches.

13 Hee watereth the mountaines from his [g] chambers, and the earth is filled with the fruite of thy workes.

14 He causeth grasse to growe for the cattell, and herbe for the vse of [h] man, that he may bring forth bread out of the earth,

15 And wine that maketh glad the heart of man, and oyle to make the face to shine, and bread that strengthened mans heart.

16 The high trees are satisfied, euen the cedars of Lebanon, which he hath planted, 17 That [i] birds may make their nestes there: the storke dwelleth in the firre trees.

18 The high mountaines are for the ‖ goates: the rocks are are a refuge for the conies.

19 He appoynted the [j] moone for certaine seasons: [k] the sunne knoweth his going downe.

20 Thou makest darkenesse, and it is night, wherein all the beastes of the forest creepe forth.

21 The lions roare after their pray, and seeke their meate [l] at God.

22 When the sunne riseth, they retire, and couche in their dennes, 23 [m] Then goeth man forth to his worke, and to his labour vntill the euening.

24 O Lord, how [n] manifolde are thy workes! in wisedome hast thou made them all: the earth is full of thy riches.

25 So is this sea great and wide: for therein are things creeping innumerable, both small beastes and great.

26 There goe the ships, yea, that ‖ Leuiathan, whom thou hast made to play therein.

27 [o] All these waite vpon thee, that thou maiest giue them foode in due season.

28 Thou giuest it to them, and they gather it: thou openest thine hand, and they are filled with good things.

29 But if thou [p] hide thy face, they are troubled: if thou take away their breath, they dye and returne to their dust.

30 Againe if thou [q] send forth thy spirit, they are created, & thou renewest the face of the earth.

31 Glorie be to the Lord for euer: let the Lord reioyce in his workes.

32 He looketh on the earth and it trembleth: he toucheth the mountaines, and they [r] smoke.

33 I will sing vnto the Lord all my life. I will praise my God, while I liue.

34 Let my wordes be acceptable vnto him: I will reioyce in the Lord.

35 Let the sinners be [s] consumed out of the earth, and the wicked till there be no more. O my soule, prayse thou the Lord. Prayse ye the Lord.

PSAL. CV.

1 How prayse and thanksgiuing vnto God, who hath of all the people of the world chosen a peculiar people to himself: and how ready he is to performe his promises.

Prayse

---

[a] As the eagle, when her beake is growen crooked, breaketh blood, and so is renued in strength, euen so God miraculously giueth strength to his Church aboue all mans expectation.

[b] As to his chiefe minister and next to his people.

[c] He sheweth first his seuere iudgement, but so soone as the sinner is humbled, he receiueth him to mercie.

[d] We haue prooued by continuall experience, that his mercie hath euer prouailed against our offences.

[e] As great as the world is, so full is it of signes of Gods mercie toward his faithfull when he hath remooued their sinnes.

[f] He declareth that man hath nothing in him selfe to moue God to mercie, but onely the confession of his infirmitie and miserie.

[g] His iust and faithfull keeping of his promise.

[h] To whom he giueth grace to feare him, and to obey his word.

[i] In that that we, which naturally are slow to prayse God, exhort the Angels, which willingly do it, we stirre vp our selues to consider our duetie, and awake out of our sluggishnesse.

[a] The Prophet sheweth that we needle not to enter into the heauens to seeke God, for almost in all the order of nature, with the proprietie and placing of the elements, are most lively mirrours to see his wisedome in.

[b] As the Prophet here sheweth that all visible powers are ready to serue God: so the Apostle to the Ebre. 1. hath holden in this glasse howe the very Angels also are obedient to his commaundement.

[c] Thou makest the sea to be an ornament vnto the earth.

[d] If by thy power thou diddest not bridle the rage of the waters, it were not possible, but the whole world should be destroyed.

[e] If God prouide for the very beasts, much more will he extende his prouident care to man.

[f] There is no part of the world so barren, where most euident signes of Gods blessings appeare not.

[g] From the cloudes.

[h] He describeth Gods prouident care ouer man, who doeth not onely prouide necessarie things for him, as herbes and other meate: but also things to reioyce and comfort him as wine and oyle or ointments, ‖ Or, dates, nuts, and such like.

[i] As to separate the night from the day, and to note dayes, moneths and yeeres.

[k] That is, by his course, either farre or neere, it noteth summer, winter and other seasons.

[l] That is, they onely finde meate according to Gods prouidence, who careth euen for the brute beasts.

[m] To wit, when the day springeth, for the light is as it were a shield to defend men gainst the tyrannie and fiercenesse of beasts.

[n] He confesseth that no tongue is able to expresse Gods works, nor minde to comprehend them. ‖ Or, what.

[o] God is a most nourishing Father, who prouideth for all creatures their dayly foode.

[p] As by the presence all things haue life: so if thou withdrawe thy blessings, they all perish.

[q] As the death of creatures is ouer the, so we are nothing of our selues to the generation of them, but that we are created to the glorie of God.

[r] The mountaines are burnt with the sweete commeuance betweene the mountaines.

[s] Who is set the worke so cause God that he cannot reioyce in his workes.

PRayse the Lord, and call vpon his Name: [a] declare his works among the people.

2 Sing vnto him, sing prayse vnto him, and talke of all his wonderous workes.

3 Reioyce in his holy Name: let the heart of them that seeke the Lord, reioyce.

4 Seeke the Lord and his [b] strength: seeke his face continually.

5 Remember his [c] marueilous workes, that hee hath done, his wonders, and the [d] iudgements of his mouth,

6 Ye seede of Abraham his seruant, ye children of Iaakob, which are his elect.

7 He is the Lorde our God: his iudgements are through all the earth.

8 He hath alway remembred his couenant, & promes, that he made to a thousand generations,

9 Euen that which he [e] made with Abraham, and his oth vnto Izhak:

10 And since hath confirmed it to Iaakob for a lawe, and to Israel for an euerlasting couenant, 11 Saying, [f] Vnto thee will I giue the land of Canaan, the lot of your inheritance.

12 Albeit they were fewe in nomber, yea very fewe and strangers in the land,

13 And walked about from nation to nation, from one kingdome to another people,

14 Yet suffered he no man to do them wrong, but reproued [g] Kings for their sakes: saying,

15 Touch not mine [h] anointed, and doe my [i] Prophets no harme.

16 Moreouer, he called a famine vpon the land, and vtterly brake the [k] staffe of bread.

17 But he sent a man before them: Ioseph was sold for a slaue.

18 They held his fette in the stockes, and he was laid in yrons, 19 Vntill [l] his appointed time came, and the counsell of the Lord had tryed him.

20 The King sent and loosed him: euen the Ruler of the people deliuered him.

21 He made him lord of his house, and ruler of all his substance,

22 That he shoulde binde his [m] princes vnto his will, and teacheth his Ancients wisedome.

23 Then Israel came to Egypt, and Iaakob was a stranger in the land of Ham.

24 And he increased his people exceedingly, and made them stronger then their oppressours.

25 [n] He turned their heart to hate his people, and to deale craftily with his seruants.

26 Then sent he Moses his seruant, and Aaron whome he had chosen.

27 They shewed among them the message of his signes, and wonders in the land of Ham.

28 He sent darkenesse, and made it darke: and they were not [o] disobedient vnto his commission.

29 * He turned their waters into blood, and slewe their fish.

30 * Their land brought foorth frogs, euen in their kings chambers.

31 He [p] spake, and there came swarmes of flies and lice in all their quarters.

32 He gaue them [q] haile for raine, and flames of fire in their land.

33 Hee smote their vines also and their figge trees, and brake downe the trees in their coastes.

34 [r] He spake and the grashoppers came, and caterpillers innumerable,

35 And did eate vp all the grasse in their land, and deuoured the fruit of their ground.

36 * He smote also all the first borne in their land, euen the beginning of all their strength.

37 He brought thē forth also with siluer & gold, and there was [s] none feeble among their tribes.

38 Egypt was [t] glad at their departing: for the feare of them had fallen vpon them.

39 He spred a cloud to be a couering, and fire to giue light in the night.

40 They [u] asked, and he brought quailes, and he filled them with the bread of heauen.

41 He opened the rocke, and the waters flowed out, and raine in the drye places like a riuer.

42 For he remembred his holy [x] promise to Abraham his seruant,

43 And hee brought foorth his people with [y] ioy, and his chosen with gladnesse,

44 And gaue them [z] lands of the heathen, and they tooke the labours of [z] people in possession, 45 That they might [a] keepe his statutes, and obserue his Lawes. Prayse the Lord.

a For as much as the Israelites were exempted from the common condemnation of the world, and were elected to be Gods people, the Prophet willeth them to shew themselues mindfull by thanksgiuing.
b By the strength and face, he meaneth the Arke where God declared his power and his presence.
c Which he hath wrought in the deliuerance of his people.
d Because his power was thereby as liuely declared, as if he should haue declared it by mouth.
e The promise which God made to Abraham to be his God, and the God of his seede after him, he renued and repeated it againe to his seede after him.
f He sheweth that they should not enioy the land of Canaan by any other meanes, but by reason of his couenant made with their fathers.
g That is, the King of Egypt and the King of Gerar, Gene. 12. 17. and 20. 3.
h Those whome I haue sanctified to be my people.
i Meaning the old fathers, to whom God shewed him selfe plainely, and who were setters forth of his word.
k Eyther by sending scarcitie, or by taking away the strength and nourishment thereof.
l So long he suffered aduersitie as God had appointed, and till he had tryed sufficiently his patience.
m That the very princes of the countrey should be at Iosephs commandement and learne wisedome of him.
n So it is in Gods eyther to mooue the hearted of the wicked to loue or to hate Gods children.
o Meaning, Moses and Aaron. *Exod. 7. 20. *Exod. 8. 6.
p So that this vermine came not by fortune, but as God had appointed, and his Prophet Moses spake.
q It was strange to see raine in Egypt, much more it was fearefull to see hayle.
r He shewed that all creatures are armed against man, when God is his enemie: as at his commandement the grashoppers destroyed the land *Exod. 12. 29.
s When their enemies felt Gods plagues, his children by his prouidence were exempted.
t For Gods plagues caused them rather to depart with the Israelites, then with their liues.
u Not for necessitie, but for tasting of their lust.
x Which he confirmeth to the posteritie, in whom after a sort the dead liue and enioy the promises.
y When the Egyptians lamented and were destroyed.
z This is the end, why God preserueth his Church, because they should worship, and call vpon him in this world.

PSAL. CVI.

1 The people dispersed vnder Antiochus doe magnifie the goodnesse of God among the iust and repentant: 4 Desiring to be brought againe into the lande by Gods mercifull visitation. 8 And after the manifold marueiles of God wrought in their deliuerance foorth of Egypt, and the great ingratitude of the people rehearsed, 47 They doe pray and desire to be gathered from among the heathen, to the intent they may prayse the Name of the God of Israel.

Prayse ye the Lord.

PRayse [a] ye the Lord because he is good, for his mercie endureth for euer.

2 Who can expresse the noble actes of the Lord, or shewe forth all his prayses?

3 Blessed are they that [b] keepe iudgement, and doe righteousnesse at all times.

4 Remember me, O Lorde, with the [c] fauour of thy people: visite me with thy saluation,

5 That I may see the felicitie of thy chosen, and reioyce in the ioy of thy people, and glorie with thine inheritance.

6 We haue [d] sinned with our fathers: we haue committed iniquitie, and done wickedly.

7 Our fathers vnderstoode not thy wonders in Egypt, neyther remembred they the multitude of thy mercies, but rebelled at the Sea, euen at the red Sea.

8 Neuertheless he [e] saued them for his Names sake, that he might make his power to be knowen.

9 And he rebuked the red Sea, and it was dryed vp, and he led them in the deepe, as in the wildernesse,

10 And he saued them from [f] aduersaries hand, and deliuered them from the hand of the enemie.

11 * And [g] waters couered their oppressours: not one of them was left.

12 Then beleeued they his wordes, and sang prayse vnto him.

13 But incontinently they forgate his works: they waited not for his [g] counsell.

a The Prophet exhorteth the people to prayse God for his benefites past, that thereby their mindes may be strengthened against all present troubles and despaire.
b He sheweth that it is not ynough to prayse God with mouth, except the whole heart agree thereunto, and all our life be therunto framed.
c Let the good will that thou beareste to thy people, extend vnto me, that thereby I may be receiued into the number of thine.
d By earnest confession a we do their owne, as of their fathers sinnes, then they that they had hope that God according to his promise would pardon them.
e The inestimable goodnesse of God appeareth in this, that he would change the order of nature, rather then his people should not be deliuered: though they were wicked. *Exo. 14. 27.
f The wonderful worke of God caused them to beleeue for a time, and to prayse him.
g They would not abide to see the effect of his wisedome and prouidence.

14 But lusted with concupiscence in the wildernesse, and tempted God in the desert.

15 Then he gaue them their desire: but he sent h leannesse into their soule.

16 They enuied Moses also in the tentes, and Aaron the holy one of the Lord.

17 Therefore the earth opened & i swallowed vp Dathan, and couered the company of Abiram.

18 And the fire was kindled in their assembly: the flame burnt vp the wicked.

19 They made a calfe in Horeb, and worshipped the molten image.

20 Thus they turned their k glory into the similitude of a bullocke, that eateth grasse.

21 They forgate God their Sauiour, which had done great things in Egypt, 22 Wonderous workes in the land of Ham, and fearefull things by the red Sea.

23 Therefore he minded to destroy them, had l not Moses his chosen stood in the breach before him to turne away his wrath, lest hee should destroy them.

24 Also they contemned that m pleasant land, and beleeued not his worde, 25 But murmured in their tentes, and heatkened not vnto the voyce of the Lord.

26 Therefore n he lifted vp his hand against them, to destroy them in the wildernesse, 27 And to destroy their seede among the nations, & to scatter them throughout the countries.

28 They ioyned themselues also vnto o Baalpeor, and did eate the offrings of the p dead.

29 Thus they q prouoked him vnto anger with their owne inuentions, and the plague brake in vpon them.

30 But r Phinehas stoode vp, and executed iudgement, and the plague was staied.

31 *And it was s imputed vnto him for righteousnesse from generation to generation for euer.

32 They angred him also at the waters of *Meribah, so that t Moses was punished for their sakes, 33 Because they vexed his spirite, so that hee spake vnaduisedly with his lippes.

34 Neither destroyed they the people, as the Lord had commaunded them,

35 But were mingled among the heathen, and learned their workes, 36 And serued their idoles, which were their ruine.

37 Yea, they offered their u sonnes, and their daughters vnto deuils, 38 And shed innocent blood, euen the blood of their sonnes, and of their daughters, whom they offered vnto the idoles of Canaan, and the lande was defiled with blood.

39 Thus were they stained with their owne workes, and went x a whoring with their owne inuentions.

40 Therefore was the wrath of the Lord kindled against his people, and he abhorred his owne inheritance.

41 And hee gaue them into the hand of the heathen: and they that hated them, were lordes ouer them.

42 Their enemies also oppressed them, and they were humbled vnder their hand.

43 Many y a time did hee deliuer them, but they prouoked him by their counsels: therefore they were brought downe by their iniquities.

44 Yet he sawe when they were in affliction, and he heard their crie.

45 And he remembred his couenant towarde them, and z repented according to the multitude of his mercies, 46 And gaue them fauour in the sight of all them that led them captiues.

47 Saue vs, O Lorde our God, and a gather vs from among the heathē, that we may praise thine holy Name, and glory in thy prayse.

48 Blessed be the Lorde God of Israel for euer and euer, and let all the people say, So be it. Praise ye the Lord.

vs constancie vnder the crosse, that with one consent wee may all prayse thee.

PSAL. CVII.

1 The Prophet exhorteth all those that are redeemed by the Lorde, and gathered vnto him, to giue thankes, 9 For this mercifull prouidence of God, gouerning all things at his good pleasure, 20 Sending good and euill, prosperitie and aduersitie to bring men vnto him. 42 Therefore as the righteous thereat reioyce, so shall the wicked haue their mouthes stopped.

PRaise a the Lorde, because he is good: for his mercie endureth for euer.

2 Let them, b which haue bene redeemed of the Lord, shew how he hath deliuered them from the hand of the oppressour,

3 And gathered them out of the lands, from the East and from the West, from the North and from the ‖ South.

4 When they wandred in the desert and wildernesse out of the way, and founde no citie to dwell in,

5 c Both hungry and thirstie, their soule fainted in them.

6 Then they cried vnto the Lord in their trouble, & he deliuered them from their distresse,

7 And led them forth by the right way, that they might goe to a citie of habitation.

8 Let them therefore confesse before the Lord his louing kindnesse, and his wonderfull workes before the sonnes of men.

9 For he satisfied the thirstie soule, and filled the hungrie soule with goodnesse.

10 They that dwell in darkenesse and in the shadowe of death, being bounde in miserie and yron,

11 Because they d rebelled against the wordes of the Lorde, and despised the counsell of the most High,

12 When he humbled their heart with heauines, then they fell downe and there was no helper.

13 Then they e cryed vnto the Lorde in their trouble, & he deliuered them from their distresse.

14 He brought them out of darkenesse, & out of the shadowe of death, and brake their bandes asunder.

15 Let them therefore confesse before the Lorde his louing kindnesse, and his wonderfull workes before the sonnes of men.

16 For he hath broken the f gates of brasse, and brast the barres of yron asunder.

h The abundance of God gaue them, profited not, but made them pine away, because God pursued it.

i By the greatnes of the punishment the haynous offence may be considered: for they that rise against Gods ministers, rebell against him.

k Hee sheweth that all idolaters renounce God to be their glorie, when in steade of him they worship any creature, much more wood, stone, metall or calues.

t Is so notable a Prophet of God escape not punishment though others prouoked him to sinne, how much more shall they be subiect to Gods iudgements, which cause Gods children to sinne?

u Hee sheweth how most rous a thing idolatrie is, which can winne vs to things abhorring to nature, whereas Gods worde cannot obteine most small things.

x Then true godlinie is to cleaue wholely and onely vnto God.

y The Prophet sheweth that neither by menaces, nor promises we can come to God, except we be altogether newly reformed, and that his mercie ouercome and hide our malice.

z Not that God is changeable in him selfe, but that then he seemeth to vs to repent, when he altereth his punishment, and forgiueth vs.

a Gather thy Church, which is dispersed, and giue vs constancie vnder the crosse, that with one consent wee may all prayse thee.

c Hee sheweth that there is none affliction so grieuous, out of the which God will not deliuer his, and also exhorteth them that are deliuered, to be mindefull of so great a benefite.

d Then the true way to obey God, is to followe his expresse commandement: also hereby all are exhorted to descende into themselues, forasmuch as none are punished, but for their sinnes.

e Hee sheweth that the cause why God doeth punish vs extremely, is because we can be brought vnto him by none other meanes.

32 And let them exalt him in the p Congregation of the people, and praise him in the assembly of the Elders.

33 He turneth the floods into a wildernesse, and the springs of waters into drinesse, 34 And a fruitfull land into ‖ barrennesse for the wickednesse of them that dwell therein.

35 Againe he q turneth ỹ wildernes into pooles of water, and the drie land into water springs.

36 And there he placeth the hungry, and they build a citie to dwell in,

37 And sowe the fieldes, and plant vineyards, which bring foorth fruitfull r increase.

38 For he blesseth them, and they multiply exceedingly, and he diminisheth not their cattell.

39 s Againe men are diminished, and brought lowe by oppression, euill and sorowe.

PSAL. CVIII.

This Psalme is composed of two other Psalmes before, the seuen and fiftieth and the sixtieth. The matter here contained is, 1 That David giueth himselfe with heart and voyce to praise the Lorde, 7 And assureth himselfe of the promes of God concerning his kingdome ouer Israel, and his power against other nations: 11 Who though he seeme to forsake vs for a time, yet he alone will in the ende cast downe our enemies.

¶ A song or Psalme of Dauid.

O God, mine heart is x prepared, so is ‖ my tongue: I will sing and giue praise.

2 Awake viole and harpe: I will awake early.

3 I will praise thee, O Lord, among the y people, and I will sing vnto thee among the nations.

4 For thy mercy is great aboue the heauens, and thy trueth vnto the cloudes.

5 z Exalt thy selfe, O God, aboue the heauens, and let thy glory be vpon all the earth,

6 That thy beloued may be deliuered: a helpe with thy right hand and heare me.

7 God hath spoken in his b holinesse: therefore I will reioyce, I shall deuide Shechem and measure the valley of Succoth.

10 Who will leade mee into the strong citie? who will bring me vnto Edom?

11 d Wilt not thou, O God, e hast haddest forsaken vs, and diddest not goe forth, O God, with our armies?

12 Giue vs helpe against trouble: for vaine is the helpe of man.

PSAL. CIX.

1 Dauid being falsly accused by flatterers vnto Saul, prayeth God to helpe him & to destroy his enemies. 8 And vnder them he speaketh of Iudas the traitour vnto Iesus Christ, and of all the like enemies of the children of God: 27 And desireth so to be deliuered, that his enemies may knowe the worke to be of God. 30 Then doeth he promise to giue prayses vnto God.

¶ To him that excelleth. A Psalme of Dauid.

HOlde not thy tongue, O God of my f praise.

2 For the mouth of the wicked, and the mouth full of deceite are opened vpon me: they haue spoken to me with a lying tongue.

3 They compassed me about also with wordes of hatred, and fought against me without a cause.

4 For my friendship they were mine aduersaries, g but I gaue my selfe to prayer.

5 And they haue rewarded me euill for good, and hatred for my friendship.

6 h Set thou the wicked ouer him, and let the aduersarie stand at his right hand.

7 When he shalbe iudged, let him be condemned, and let his i prayer be turned into sinne.

8 Let his dayes be fewe, and let another take his k charge.

9 Let his children be fatherlesse, and his wife a widowe.

10 Let his children be vagabonds and beg and seeke bread, comming out of their places destroied.

11 Let l the extortioner catch all that he hath, and let the strangers spoile his labour.

12 Let there be none to extend mercie vnto him: neither let there be any to shew mercie vpon his fatherlesse children.

13 Let his posteritie be destroyed, and in the generation following let their name be put out.

14 m Let the iniquitie of his fathers be had in remembrance with the Lord: and let not the sinne of his mother be done away.

b By healing them hee declareth his good will toward them.

k Praise and confession of Gods benefites are the true sacrifices of the godly.

l He sheweth by the sea what care God hath ouer man, for in that that he deliuereth them from the great dangers of the sea, he deliuereth them, as it were from a thousand deathes.

m Their feare and danger is so great.

n When their arte and meanes faile them. they are compelled to confesse that onely Gods prouidence doth preserue them.

o Though before euery drop seemed to fight one against another, yet at his commandement they are as still, as though they were frosen.

p This great benefite ought not only to be considered particularly, but magnified in all places & assemblies.

‖ Or, saltnesse.

q For he loue that he beareth to his Church he changeth the order of nature for their commoditie.

r Continuall increase and yeerely.

s As God by his prouidence doth exalt men so doth he a so humble them by afflictions to know themselues.

t For their wickednes & tyrannie he causeth the people and subiects to contemne them.

u They, whose faith is lightened by Gods spirite, shall reioyce to see Gods iudgments against the wicked and vngodly.

c When he'r it were Doeg or Saul, yet some familiar friend that had betraied him, he praieth not of priuate affection, but moued by Gods Spirite, that God would take vengeance vpon him.

d As to the end all things turne to the profite of the reprobate of those things that are good, tende to their damnation.

This punisheth the 16 Because [h] he remembred not to shew mercie, but persecuted the afflicted and poore man, and the sorowfull hearted to slay him.

17 As he loued cursing, [i] so shall it come vnto him, and as he loued not blessing, so shall it bee farre from him.

18 As hee clothed himselfe with cursing like a rayment, so shall it come into his bowels like water, and like oyle into his bones.

19 Let it be vnto him as a garmẽt to couer him, & for a girdle, wherwith he shalbe alway girded.

20 Let this be the reward of mine aduersarie [k] from the Lord, and of them, that speake euill against my soule.

21 But thou, O Lord my God, deale with mee according vnto thy [l] Name: deliuer me, (for thy mercie is good)

22 Because I am poore and needie, and mine heart is wounded within me.

23 I depart like the shadowe that declineth, and am shaken off as the [m] grashopper.

24 My knees are weake through fasting, and my flesh [n] hath lost all fatnesse.

25 I became also a rebuke vnto them: they that looked vpon me, shaked their heads.

26 Helpe me, O Lord my God: [o] saue me according to thy mercie.

27 And they shal know, that this is thine hand, and that thou, Lord, hast done it.

28 Though they [p] curse, yet thou wilt blesse: they shall arise & be confounded, but thy seruant shall reioyce.

29 Let mine aduersaries bee clothed with shame, and let them couer themselues with their confusion, as with a cloke.

30 I wil giue thanks vnto the Lord greatly with my [q] mouth, & praise him among the multitude.

31 For he will stand at the right hand of the poore, to saue him from them that woulde [r] condemne his soule.

h He sheweth how God accustometh to plague them after a strange sort that shewe themselues cruell toward other.

i Thus giueth the Lorde to euery man the thing, wherein he delighteth, that the reprobate cannot accuse God of wrong, when they are giuen vp to their lustes and reprobate mindes.

k For being destitute of mans helpe, he fully trusted in the Lorde, that he would deliuer him.

l As thou art named mercifull, gracious and long suffering, so shewe thy selfe in effect.

m Meaning that he hath no stay nor assurance in this world.

n For hunger, that came of sorowe, he was leane, and his naturall moisture failed him.

o The more griefe that Satan assayled him, the more earnest and fastant was he in prayer.

p They shal gaine nothing by cursing me.

q Not onely in confessing it secretly in my selfe, but also in declaring it before all the Congregation.

r Hereby he sheweth that he had not to do with them, that were of litle power, but with the iudges & princes of the world.

PSAL. CX.

1 Dauid prophecieth of the power and euerlasting kingdome giuen to Christ, 4 And of his Priesthood, which should put an end to the Priesthood of Leui.

¶ A Psalme of Dauid.

THe [a] Lord said vnto my Lord, Sit thou at my right hand, vntill I make thine enemies thy footestoole.

2 The Lorde shall send the rod of thy power out of [b] Zion: be thou ruler in the middes of thine enemies.

3 Thy people shall come willingly at the time of assembling [c] thine armie in holy beautie: the youth of thy wombe shalbe as the morning dewe.

4 The Lord sware & will not repent, Thou art a Priest for euer after [d] order of Melchi-zedek.

5 The Lorde, that is at thy right hand, shall wound kings in the day of his wrath.

6 He shalbe iudge among the heathen: hee shal fill all with dead bodies, and smite the head ouer great countreis.

7 He shall [f] drinke of the brooke in the way: therefore shall he lift vp his head.

a Iesus Christ in the two and twentie of Matth. verse 44 giueth the interpretation hereof, and sheweth that this cannot properly be applied vnto Dauid, but to him selfe.

b And thence it shall stretch through all the world: and this power chiefely standeth in the preaching of his word.

c By thy word thy people shalbe assembled into thy Church, whose increase shalbe so abundant and wonderful, as the drops of the dewe.

d As Melchi-zedek the figure of Christ was both King and Priest: so the effect cannot be accomplished in any king saue onely in Christ, Hebr. 7. 26.

e No power shalbe able to resist him.

f Vnder this similitude of a captayne, that is so greedie to destroy his enemies, that hee will not scarce drinke by the way, he sheweth how God will destroy his enemies.

PSAL. CXI.

1 He giueth thanks to the Lord for his mercifull workes toward his Church, 10 And declareth wherein true wisedome and right knowledge consisteth. ¶ Prayse ye the Lord.

I Will [a] praise the Lord with my whole heart in the assemblie and Congregation of the iust.

2 The workes of the Lorde are [b] great, and ought to be sought out of al thẽ that loue them.

3 His worke is beautiful and glorious, and his righteousnesse endureth for euer.

4 He hath made his wonderfull workes to be had in remembrance: the Lorde is mercifull and full of compassion.

5 He hath giuen [c] a ‖ portion vnto them that feare him: he wil euer be mindful of his couenant.

6 He hath shewed to his people [y] power of his works in giuing vnto thẽ the heritage of [y] heathẽ.

7 The [d] workes of his handes are trueth and iudgement: all his statutes are true.

8 They are stablished for euer and euer, and are done in trueth and equitie.

9 Hee sent redemption vnto his people: hee hath commanded his couenant for euer: holy and fearefull is his Name.

10 [e] The beginning of wisedome is the feare of the Lorde: all they that obserue [f] them, haue good vnderstanding: his praise endureth for euer.

a The Prophet declareth that he will prayse God both priuatly and openly, and that from the heart, as he that consecrateth himselfe wholy and only vnto God.

b He sheweth that Gods workes are a sufficient cause, wherefore we should prayse him, but chiefely his benefites toward his Church.

c God hath giuen to his people all that was necessarie for them, and will doe still euen for his couenants sake, and in this sense the Ebrewe word is taken, Pro. 30. 8. & 31. 15. Or, pray, and foode.

d As God promised to take the care of his Church: so in effect doth he declare himselfe iust & true in the gouernment of the same.

e They only are wise, that feare God, & none haue vnderstanding, but they that obey his word.

f To wit, his commandements, as verse 7.

PSAL. CXII.

1 Hee prayseth the felicitie of them that feare God, 10 And condemneth the cursed state of the contemners of God.

¶ Prayse ye the Lord.

BLesse*d is* the man, that [a] feareth the Lord, and deliteth greatly in his commandements.

2 His seede shall be mightie vpon earth: the generation of the righteous shalbe blessed.

3 [b] Riches and treasures shalbe in his house, and his righteousnesse endureth for euer.

4 Vnto the [c] righteous ariseth light in darkenes: he is merciful & ful of cõpassion & righteous.

5 A good man is merciful and [d] lendeth, and will measure his affaires by iudgement.

6 Surely hee shall neuer bee moued: but the righteous shalbe had in euerlasting remẽbrance.

7 He will not be afraid of euill tidings: for his heart is fixed, and beleeueth in the Lord.

8 His heart is stablished: therefore he will not feare, vntill he see his desire vpon his enemies.

9 Hee hath [e] distributed and giuen to the poore: his righteousnesse remaineth for euer: his [f] horne shalbe exalted with glory.

10 The wicked shal see it and bee angrie: hee shall gnash with his teeth, and [g] consume away: the desire of the wicked shall perish.

a He meaneth that reuerent feare, which is in the children of God, which caused them to delite only in the word of God.

b The godly shall haue abundance and contentment, because their heart is satisfied in God onely.

c The faithfull in all their aduersities know that all shall goe well with them: for God will be mercifull and iust.

d He sheweth what is the fruit of mercie: to lend freely and not for gaine, and so to measure his doings, that he may be able to helpe where need requireth, and not to bestow all on himselfe.

e The godly pinch not nigardly, but distribute liberally, as the necessitie of the poore requireth, and as his power is able.

f His power and prosperous estate.

g The blessings of God vpon his children shall cause the wicked to die for enuie.

PSAL. CXIII.

1 An exhortation to prayse the Lorde for his prouidence, 7 In that that contrary to the course of nature he worketh in his Church.

¶ Prayse ye the Lord.

PRayse, O ye seruants of the Lorde, [a] praise the Name of the Lord.

2 Blessed bee the Name of the Lorde from henceforth and for euer.

3 The Lords Name is praised from the rising of the sunne, vnto the going downe of the same.

a By this often repetition he stirreth vp our cold dulnesse to prayse God, seeing his workes are so wonderfull: and that we are exercised for the same cause.

4 The

4 The Lorde is high aboue all [b] nations, and his glory aboue the heauens.

5 Who is like vnto the Lorde our God, that hath his dwelling on high,

6 Who abaseth himselfe to behold things in the heauen and in the earth!

7 Hee raiseth the needie out of the dust, and lifteth vp the [c] poore out of the dung,

8 That he may set him with the princes, euen with the princes of his people.

9 He maketh the barren woman to dwel with a familie, and a ioyfull mother of children. Prayse ye the Lord.

b If Gods glorie shine through all the world and therefore of all ought to be praysed, what great condemnation were it to his people, among whome chiefely it shineth, if they should not earnestly extoll his Name?

c By preferring the poore to high honour, and giuing the barren children, he sheweth that God worketh not onely in his Church by ordinary meanes, but also by miracles.

PSAL. CXIIII.

4 The [c] mountaines leaped like rams, and the hils as lambes.

5 What ailed thee, O Sea, that thou fleddest? O Iorden, why wast thou turned backe?

6 Yee mountaines why leaped ye like rams, and ye hils as lambes?

7 The [d] earth trembled at the presence of the Lord, at the presence of the God of Iaakob, 8 Which [e] turneth the rocke into waterpooles, and the flint into a fountaine of water.

*Exod. 13.3.

a That is, from them that were of a strange language.

b The whole people were witnesses of his holy maiestie, in adopting them, and of his mightie power in deliuering them.

c Seeing that these dead creatures felt Gods power, and after a sort sawe it, much more his people ought to consider it and glorifie him for the same.

d Ought then his people to be insensible, when they see his power and maiestie? e That is, caused miraculously water to come our of the rocke in most abundance, Exod. 17.6.

PSAL. CXV.

1 A prayer of the faithful oppressed by Idolatrous tyrants, against whom they desire that God would succour them, 9 Trusting most constantly that God wil preserue them in this their need, seeing that he hath adopted and receiued them to his fauour, 18 Promising finally that they will not bee vnmindful of so great a benefite if it would please God to heare their prayer, and deliuer them by his omnipotent power.

NOt [a] vnto vs, O Lord, not vnto vs, but vnto thy Name giue the glorie, for thy louing mercie and for thy trueths sake.

2 Wherefore shall the heathen say, [b] Where is now their God?

3 But our God is in heauen: hee doeth what soeuer he [c] will.

4 Their idoles are [d] siluer and golde, euen the worke of mens hands.

5 They haue a mouth and speake not: they haue eyes and see not.

6 They haue eares and heare not: they haue noses and smell not.

7 They haue [e] handes and touch not: they haue feete and walke not: neyther make they a sound with their throte.

8 They that make them are [f] like vnto them: so are all that trust in them.

9 O Israel, trust thou in the Lorde: for hee is their helpe and their shielde.

a Because God promised to deliuer them, not for their sakes, but for his name, Isa. 48.11. therefore they ground their prayer vpon this promise.

b When the wicked see that God accomplisheth not his promise as they imagine, they thinke there is no God.

c No impediments can let his worke, but he vseth euen the impediments to serue his will.

d Seeing that neither the matter, nor the forme can commend the idoles, it followeth that there is nothing, why they shoulde be esteemed. e Hee sheweth what great vanitie it is to aske helpe of them, which not onely haue no helpe in them, but lacke sense and reason. f As much without sense, as blocks and stones.

10 [g] O house of Aaron, trust ye in the Lord: for he is their helpe and their shield.

11 Ye that feare the Lorde, trust in the Lorde: for he is their helper and their shield.

12 The Lord hath bene mindfull of vs: he wil blesse, he [h] will blesse the house of Israel, hee will blesse the house of Aaron.

13 He will blesse them that feare the Lorde, both small and great.

14 The Lorde will increase his graces towarde you, euen toward you and toward your children.

15 Ye are blessed of the Lorde, which [i] made the heauen and the earth.

16 The [k] heauens, euen the heauens are the Lords: but he hath giuen the earth to the sonnes of men.

17 The dead prayse not the Lord, neyther any that [l] goe downe into the place of silence.

18 But we will prayse the Lorde from henceforth and for euer. Prayse ye the Lord.

g For they were appointed by God as instructours and teachers of faith and religion for others to follow.

h That is, he will continue his graces toward his people.

i And therefore doeth still gouerne and continue all things therein.

k And they declare ynough his sufficiencie, so that the worlde seeketh him nothing, but to shew his fatherly care toward men

l Though the dead set forth Gods glory, yet he meaneth here, that they prayse him not in his Church and Congregation.

PSAL. CXVI.

1 Dauid being in great danger of Saul in the desert of Maon, perceiuing the great and inestimable loue of God toward him, magnifieth such great mercies, 13 And protesteth that hee will be thankefull for the same.

I [a] Loue the Lorde, because hee hath heard my voyce and my prayers.

2 For he hath inclined his eare vnto me, when I did call vpon him [b] in my dayes.

3 When the snares of death cõpassed me, and the griefes of the graue caught me: when I found trouble and sorowe,

4 Then I called vpon the Name of the Lord, saying, I beseech thee, O Lord, deliuer my soule.

5 The Lord is [c] mercifull and righteous, and our God is full of compassion.

6 The Lorde preserueth the simple: I was in miserie and he saued me.

7 Returne vnto thy rest, O [d] my soule: for the Lord hath bene beneficiall vnto thee,

8 Because thou hast deliuered my soule from death, mine eyes from teares, and my feete from falling.

9 I shall [e] walke before the Lord in the lande of the liuing.

10 [f] I beleeued, therefore did I speake: for I was sore troubled.

11 I said in my [g] feare, All men are lyers.

12 What shall I render vnto the Lord for all his benefites toward me?

13 I will [h] take the cup of saluation, and call vpon the Name of the Lord.

14 I will pay my vowes vnto the Lorde, euen now in the presence of all his people.

15 Precious in the sight of the Lorde is the [i] death of his Saints.

16 Beholde, Lord: for I am thy seruant, I am thy seruant, and the sonne of thine handmaide: thou hast broken my bonds.

17 I will offer to thee a sacrifice of prayse, and will call vpon the Name of the Lord.

18 I will pay my [k] vowes vnto the Lord, euen now in the presence of all his people, 19 In the courts of [§] Lords house, euen in the middes of thee, O Ierusalem. Praise ye the Lord.

a He graunteth that no pleasure is so great, as to feele Gods helpe in our necessitie, neyther that any thing more stirreth vp our loue toward him.

b That is, in conuenient time to seeke helpe, which was when he was in distresse.

c He sheweth forth the fruite of his loue in calling vpon him, confessing him to be iust and mercifull, and to helpe them that are destitute of aide and counsell.

d Which was vnquieted before, now rest vpon the Lord, for he hath bene beneficiall towards thee.

e The Lord will preserue me, and saue my life.

f I felt all these things, and therefore was moued by faith to confesse them, 2. Cor. 4.13.

g In my great distresse I thought God would not regard man, which is but lies and vanitie, yet I ouercame this temptation, and felt the contrary.

h In the Law they vsed to make a banket, when they gaue solemne thankes to God, and to take the cuppe and drinke in signe of thanksgiuing.

i I perceiue that God hath a care ouer his, so that he both disposeth their death, and taketh an account.

k I will thanke him for his benefites for that is a iust payment, to confesse that we owe all to God.

PSAL. CXVII.

1 He exhorteth the Gentiles to praise God, because he hath accomplished as well to them as to the Iewes, the promes of life everlasting by Iesus Christ.

ALl * nations, praise ye the Lord: all yee people, prayse him.

2 For his louing kindnesse is great toward vs, and the a trueth of the Lorde endureth for euer. Praise ye the Lord.

PSAL. CXVIII.

1 Dauid reioyced of Saul and of the people, at the time appointed obtained the kingdome. 4 For the which hee biddeth all them, that feare the Lord, to be thankfull. And vnder his person in all this was Christ likely set forth, who should be of his people reioyced.

PRaise a ye the Lorde, because he is good: for his mercie endureth for euer.

2 Let Israel now say, That his mercy endureth for euer.

3 Let the house of Aaron now say, That his mercie endureth for euer.

4 Let them that feare the Lorde, now say, That his mercie endureth for euer.

5 I called vpon the Lord in b trouble, & the Lord heard me, and set me at large.

6 The Lorde is with me: therefore I will not feare what c man can doe vnto me.

7 The Lorde is w me among them that helpe me: therfore shal I see my desire vpō mine enemies.

8 It is better to trust in the Lord, then to haue confidence d in man.

9 It is better to trust in the Lorde, then to haue confidence in princes.

10 All nations haue compassed me: but in the Name of the Lord shall I destroy them.

11 They haue compassed mee, yea they haue compassed mee: but in the Name of the Lorde I shall destroy them.

12 They came about me like bees, but they were quenched as a fire of thornes: for in the Name of the Lord I shall destroy them.

13 e Thou hast thrust sore at me, that I might fall: but the Lord hath holpen me.

14 The Lord is my strength and f song: for he hath bene my deliuerance.

15 The g voyce of ioy and deliuerance shalbe in the tabernacles of the righteous, saying, The right hand of the Lord hath done valiantly.

16 The right hand of the Lord is exalted: h the right hand of the Lord hath done valiantly.

17 I shall not die, but liue, and declare the workes of the Lorde.

18 The Lord hath chastened me sore, but hee hath not deliuered me to death.

19 Open ye vnto me the i gates of righteousnes, that I may goe into them, & praise the Lord.

20 This is the gate of the Lord: the righteous shall enter into it.

21 I will praise thee: for thou hast heard me, and hast bene my deliuerance.

22 * The stone, which the builders k refused, is the head of the corner.

23 This was the Lordes doing, and it is marueilous in our eyes.

24 This is the l day, which the Lorde hath made: let vs reioyce and be glad in it.

25 m O Lord, I pray thee, saue now: O Lord, I pray thee now giue prosperitie.

26 Blessed be he, that commeth in the Name of the Lorde: n wee haue blessed you out of the house of the Lord.

27 The Lorde is mightie, and hath giuen vs o light: binde the sacrifice with cordes vnto the hornes of the altar.

28 Thou art my God, and I will praise thee, euen my God: therefore I will exalt thee.

29 Praise ye the Lord, because he is good: for his mercie endureth for euer.

PSAL. CXIX.

1 The Prophet exhorteth the children of God to frame their liues according to his holy worde. 123 Also hee sheweth wherein the true seruice of God standeth: that is, who we serue him according to his word, and not after our owne fantasies.

ALEPH.

BLessed are those that are vpright in their way, and walke in the Law of the Lord.

2 Blessed are they that keepe his testimonies and seeke him with their whole heart.

3 Surely they worke b none iniquitie, but walke in his wayes.

4 Thou hast commaunded to keepe thy precepts diligently.

5 c Oh that my wayes were directed to keepe thy statutes!

6 Then should I not be confounded, when I haue respect vnto all thy commaundements.

7 I will praise thee with an vpright d heart, when I shall learne the e iudgements of thy righteousnesse.

8 I will keepe thy statutes: forsake mee not f ouerlong.

BETH.

9 Wherewith shall a a yong man redresse his way? in taking heede thereto according to thy worde.

10 With my whole heart haue I sought thee: let me not wander from thy commandements.

11 I haue b hid thy promes in mine heart, that I might not sinne against thee.

12 Blessed art thou, O Lorde: teache me thy statutes.

13 With my lippes haue I declared all the iudgements of thy mouth.

14 I haue had as great c delight in the way of thy testimonies, as in all riches.

15 I wil meditate in thy precepts, and consider thy wayes.

16 I will delite in thy statutes, and I will not forget thy worde.

GIMEL.

17 Be beneficiall vnto thy seruant, that I may a liue and keepe thy worde.

18 Open mine eyes, that I may see the wonders of thy Lawe.

19 I am a b stranger vpon earth: hide not thy commandements from me.

20 Mine heart breaketh for the desire to thy iudgements alway.

o Rom.15.11. p That is, the most certaine and continuall testimonies of his Fatherly grace.

q Because God by casting Dauid King, shewed his mercie toward his afflicted Church, the Prophet doeth not onely himselfe thanke God, but exhorteth all the people to doe the same.

r Wee are here taught, that the more troubles oppresse vs, the more ought we to bee instant in prayer.

s Being exalted to this estate, he assured himselfe to haue man euer to be his enemie. Yet he doubted not, but God would maintaine him, because he had placed him.

t He sheweth that he had trusted in vaine, if he had put his confidence in man, to haue bene preferred to the kingdome, and therefore he put his trust in God and obteined.

u He noteth Saul his chiefe enemie.

v In that he was deliuered, it came not of himself, nor of the power of man, but onely of Gods fauour, therfore he will praise him.

w He promiseth both to reader graces himselfe, and to cause others to doe the same, because that in his person the Church was restored.

x So that all, that are both farre and neere, may see his mightie power.

y He willeth the doores of the Tabernacle to be opened, that he may declare his thankfull minde.

z Isai.28.16. matth.21.42. actes 4.11. romans.9.33. 1.peter 2.6,7.

a Thogh Saul and the chiefe powers refused me to be King, yet God hath preferred me aboue them all.

b Wherein God hath shewed chiefly his mercie, by appointing me King, and delinering his Church.

m The people pray for y prosperitie of Dauids kingdome, who was the figure of Christ.

n Which are the Priestes, and haue the charge thereof, as Num.6.23.

o Because he hath restored vs from darkenesse to light, we will offer sacrifices and prayses vnto him.

a Here they are not called blessed, which thinke themselues wise in their owne iudgement, not which imagine to themselues a certaine holinesse, but they whose conuersation is without hypocrisie.

b For they are ruled by Gods Spirite and imbrace no doctrine but his.

c Dauid acknowledgeth his imperfection, desiring God to reforme it, that his life may be conformable to Gods worde.

d For true religion standeth without hypocrisie.

e That is, thy precepts, which conteine perfite righteousnesse.

f He refuseth not to be tryed by tentations, but he feareth to faint, if God succour not his infirmitie in time.

a Because youth is most giuen to licentiousnesse, he chiefly warneth them to frame their liues betime to Gods worde.

b If Gods worde be grauen in our hearts, we shall be more able to resist the assaults of Satan: and therefore the Prophet desireth God to instruct him dayly more and more therein.

c The Prophet doeth not boast of his vertues, but setteth foorth an example for others to followe Gods woorde and leane worldely vanities.

a Hee sheweth that we ought and to desire to liue, but to serue God, and that we can not serue him aright, except he open our eyes and mindes.

b Seeing mans life in this worlde is but a pilgrimage, what should be of it, if thy worde were not his guide?

c In all ages thou hast plagued all such, which maliciously and contemptuously depart from thy trueth.

21 Thou c hast destroyed the proude: cursed are they that doe erre from thy commandements.

22 Remoue from mee shame and contempt: for I haue kept thy testimonies.

23 d Princes also did sit, and speake against me: but thy seruant did meditate in thy statutes.

d When the powers of the worlde gaue false sentence against me, thy worde was a guide and counseller to teache me what to doe, and to comfort me.

24 Also thy testimonies are my delite, and my counsellers.

DALETH.

a That is, it is almost brought to the graue, & without thy worde I cannot liue.

25 My soule cleaueth to the a dust: quicken me according to thy worde.

b I haue confessed mine offences, and no w depend wholy on thee.

26 I haue b declared my wayes, and thou heardest me: teache me thy statutes.

c If God did not maintein vs by his worde, our life would drop away like water.

27 Make me to vnderstand ỹ way of thy precepts, & I wil meditate in thy wonderous workes.

28 My soule melteth for heauinesse: raise me vp according vnto thy c worde.

d Instruct me in thy worde, whereby my minde may be purged from vanitie, and taught to obey thy will.

29 Take from mee the d way of lying, and graunt me graciously thy Lawe.

30 I haue chosen the way of trueth, and thy iudgements haue I laied before me.

31 I haue cleaued to thy testimonies, O Lord: confound me not.

32 I will runne the way of thy commaundements, when thou e shalt enlarge mine heart.

e By this hee sheweth that we can neither chuse good, cleaue to Gods worde, nor runne forwarde in his way, except hee make our hearts large to receiue his grace, and willing to obey.

HE.

a He sheweth that he cannot followe on to the ende, except God teache him oft times, and leade him forward

33 Teache a me, O Lorde, the way of thy statutes, and I will keepe it vnto the ende.

b Not onely in outward conuersation, but also with inward affection.

34 Giue mee vnderstanding, and I will keepe thy Law: yea, I wil keepe it with my whole b heart.

35 Direct me in the path of thy commaundements: for therein is my delite.

c Hereby meaning all other vices, because that couetousnesse is the roote of all euill.

36 Incline mine heart vnto thy testimonies, and not to c couetousnesse.

d Meaning all his senses.

37 Turne away mine d eyes from regarding vanitie, and quicken me in thy way.

38 Stablish thy promes to thy seruant, because he feareth thee.

e Let me not fall to thy dishonour, but let mine heart still delite in thy gracious worde.

39 Take away e my rebuke that I feare: for thy iudgements are good.

f Giue mee strength to continue in thy worde euen to the ende.

40 Beholde, I desire thy commaundements: f quicken me in thy righteousnesse.

VAV.

a Hee sheweth that Gods mercy and loue is the first cause of our saluation.

41 And let thy a louing kindnesse come vnto me, O Lord, and thy saluation according to thy promesse.

b By trusting in Gods worde he alureth himselfe to bee able to confute the slanders of his aduersaries.

42 So shall I b make answere vnto my blasphemers: for I trust in thy worde.

43 And take not the worde of trueth vtterly out of my mouth: for I wayte for thy iudgements.

44 So shall I alway keepe thy Lawe for euer and euer.

c They that simplie walke after Gods worde haue no leysure to intangle them, whereas they that doe contrary, are euer in nettes and fares.

45 And I will c walke at libertie: for I seeke thy precepts.

d Hee sheweth that the children of God ought not to suffer their fathers glorie to be obscured by the vaine pompe of Princes.

46 I will speake also of thy testimonies before d Kings, and will not be ashamed.

47 And my delite shalbe in thy commaundements, which I haue loued.

48 Mine handes also will I lift vp vnto thy commaundements, which I haue loued, and I wil meditate in thy statutes.

ZAIN.

a Though hee feele Gods hand still to lie vpon him, yet he relieth on his promes, and comforteth himselfe therein.

49 Remember a the promesse made to thy seruant, wherein thou hast caused me to trust.

50 It is my comfort in my trouble: for thy promes hath quickened me.

b Meaning the wicked, which contemne Gods worde, and treade his religion vnder foote.

51 The b proude haue had me exceedingly in derision: yet haue I not declined from thy Law.

c That is, the examples, whereby thou declarest thy selfe to be iudge of the worlde.

52 I remembred thy c iudgements of olde, O Lord, and haue bene comforted.

d That is, a vehement zeale to thy glory, and indignation against the wicked.

53 d Feare is come vpon mee for the wicked, that forsake thy Lawe.

54 Thy statutes haue beene my songs in the house of my e pilgrimage.

e In the course of this life and sorowfull exile.

55 I haue remembred thy Name, O Lorde, in the f night, and haue kept thy Lawe.

f Euen when other sleepe.

56 g This I had because I kept thy precepts.

g That is, all these benefites.

CHETH.

a I am perswaded that to keepe thy Law is an heritage and great gaine for me.

57 O Lord, that art my a portion, I haue determined to keepe thy wordes.

b He sheweth that none can imbrace the worde of God, except he consider his owne imperfections & wayes.

58 I made my supplication in thy presence with my whole heart: be mercifull vnto mee according to thy promes.

c They haue gone about to draw me into their cõpanie.

59 I haue considered my b wayes, and turned my feete into thy testimonies.

d Not onely in mutuall consent, but also with aide and succour.

60 I made haste and delayed not to keepe thy commaundements.

e For the knowledge of Gods worde is a singular tokẽ of his fauour.

61 The bandes of the wicked haue c robbed me: but I haue not forgotten thy Lawe.

62 At midnight wil I rise to giue thanks vnto thee, because of thy righteous iudgements.

63 I am d companion of all them that feare thee, and keepe thy precepts.

64 The earth, O Lorde, is full of thy mercie: e teache me thy statutes.

TETH.

a Hauing proued by experience that God was true in his promesse, he desireth that hee would increase in him knowledge and iudgement.

65 O Lorde, thou hast delt a graciously with thy seruant according vnto thy worde.

66 Teach me good iudgement & knowledge: for I haue beleeued thy commandements.

b So Ieremie saith that before the Lord touched him, he was like a calfe vntamed: so that the vse of Gods roddes is to call vs home to God.

67 Before I was b afflicted, I went astray: but now I keepe thy worde.

68 Thou art good and gracious: teach me thy statutes.

c Their heart is indurate and hardened, puffed vp with prosperitie and vaine estimation of themselues.

69 The proud haue imagined a lie against me: but I wil keepe thy precepts with my whole heart.

d Hee confesseth that before that he was chastened, he was rebellious, as man by nature is.

70 c Their heart is fatte as grease: but my delite is in thy Law.

71 It is d good for mee, that I haue bene afflicted, that I may learne thy statutes.

72 The Law of thy mouth is better vnto me, then thousands of golde and siluer.

IOD.

a Because God leaueth not his worke, that he hath begun, hee desireth a newe grace: that is, that he would continue his mercies.

73 Thine hands haue a made me and facioned me: giue me vnderstanding therefore, that I may learne thy commandements.

b When God sheweth his grace toward any, he testifieth to others that he faileth not them that trust in him.

74 So they that b feare thee, seeing mee, shall reioyce, because I haue trusted in thy worde.

75 I knowe, O Lord, that thy iudgements are right, and that thou hast afflicted me † iustly.

76 I pray thee that thy mercy may comfort me according to thy promes vnto thy seruant.

77 Let thy tender mercies come vnto me, that I may c liue: for thy Law is my delite.

78 Let the proude be ashamed: for they haue

† Ebr. in truethe.

c Hee declareth, that when hee felt not Gods mercies, hee was as dead.

dealt

d That is, be comforted by mine example.
e He sheweth that there can be no true feare of God without the knowledge of his word.

dealt wickedly and falsly with me: but I meditate in thy precepts.
79 Let such as feare thee d turne vnto me, and they that e knowe thy testimonies.
80 Let mine heart be vpright in thy statutes, that I be not ashamed.

CAPH.

81 My soule a fainteth for thy saluation: yet I wait for thy word.
82 Mine eyes faile for thy promise, saying, When wilt thou comfort me?
83 For I am like a b bottle in the smoke: yet doe I not forget thy statutes.
84 How many are the c dayes of thy seruant? When wilt thou execute iudgement on them that persecute me?
85 The proude haue d digged pittes for me, which is not after thy Law.
86 All thy commaundements are true: they persecute me falsely: e helpe me.
87 They had almost consumed f me vpon the earth: but I forsooke not thy precepts.
88 Quicken me according to thy louing kindnesse: so shal I keepe the testimony of thy mouth.

a Though my strength faile me, yet my soule groweth and figheth, resting still in thy word.
b Like a skinne-bottle, or bladder that is parched in the smoke.
c How long wilt thou afflict thy seruant?
d They haue not onely oppressed me violently, but also craftily conspired against me.
e He assureth himselfe, that God will deliuer his and destroy such as vniustly persecute them.
f Finding no help in earth, he lifteth vp his eyes to heauen.

LAMED.

89 O Lorde, thy worde endureth for euer in a heauen.
90 Thy trueth is from generation to generation: thou hast layed the foundation of the earth, and it abideth.
91 They b continue euen to this day by thine ordinances: for all are thy seruants.
92 Except thy Law had bin my delite, I should now haue perished in mine affliction.
93 I wil neuer forget thy precepts: for by them thou hast quickened me.
94 I am c thine, saue me: for I haue sought thy precepts.
95 The wicked haue wayted for me to destroy me: but I will consider thy testimonies.
96 I d haue seene an ende of all perfection: but thy commandement is exceeding large.

a Because none should esteeme Gods word according to the changes of things in this worlde, he sheweth that it abideth in heauen, and therefore is immutable.
b Seeing the earth and all creatures remaine in that estate where in thou hast created them, much more thy trueth remaineth constant and vnchangeable.
c He proueth by effect, that hee is Gods childe, because he seeketh to vnderstand his word. d There is nothing so perfect in earth, but it hath an ende: onely Gods word lasteth for euer.

MEM.

97 Oh howe loue I thy Lawe! a it is my meditation continually.
98 By thy commandements thou hast made me wiser then mine enemies: for they are euer w me.
99 I haue had more b vnderstanding then al my teachers: for thy testimonies are my meditation.
100 I vnderstoode more then the ancient, because I kept thy precepts.
101 I haue refrained my feete from euery euil way, that I might keepe thy word.
102 I haue not declined from thy iudgements: for c thou didst teach me.
103 Howe sweete are thy promises vnto my mouth! yea, more then honie vnto my mouth.
104 By thy precepts I haue gotten vnderstanding: therefore I hate all the wayes of falshoode.

a He sheweth that we cannot loue Gods word, except we exercise our selues therein and practise it.
b Whosoeuer doth submit himselfe only to Gods word, shall not onely be safe against the practises of his enemies, but also learne more wisedome, then they that professe it, and are men of experience.
c So then of our selues we can do nothing, but when God doth inwardly instruct vs with his Spirite, wee feele his graces sweeter then honie.

NVN.

105 Thy worde is a a lanterne vnto my feete, and a light vnto my path.
106 I haue b sworne and will performe it, that I will keepe thy righteous iudgements.
107 I am very sore afflicted: O Lord, quicken me according to thy word.
108 O Lord, I beseech thee accept the c free offrings of thy mouth, and teach mee thy iudgements.
109 My d soule is continually in mine hand: yet doe I not forget thy Law.
110 The wicked haue layde a snare for mee: but I swarued not from thy precepts.
111 Thy testimonies haue I taken as an e heritage for euer: for they are the ioy of mine heart.
112 I haue applied mine heart to fulfill thy statutes alway, euen vnto the ende.

a Of our selues we are but darkenes, and cannot see, except we be lightened with Gods word. b So all the faithfull ought to binde themselues to God by a solemne oath & promise, to stirre vp their zeale to imbrace Gods word.

c That is, my prayers & thanksgiuing, which sacrifice Hosea calleth the calues of the lippes, Chap. 14. verse 3. d That is, I am in continuall danger of my life.
e I esteemed no worldly things, but made thy worde mine inheritance.

SAMECH.

113 I hate a vaine inuentions: but thy Lawe doe I loue.
114 Thou art my refuge and shield, and I trust in thy word.
115 b Away from mee, yee wicked: for I will keepe the commandements of my God.
116 Stablish me according to thy promes, that I may liue, and dissappoynt me not of mine hope.
117 c Stay thou mee, and I shall be safe, and I will delite continually in thy statutes.
118 Thou hast troden downe all them that depart from thy statutes: for their d deceit is vaine.
119 Thou hast taken away al the wicked of the earth like e drosse: therfore I loue thy testimonies.
120 My flesh f trembleth for feare of thee, and I am afraid of thy iudgements.

a Whosoeuer will imbrace Gods word aright, must abhorre all fantasies and imaginations both of himselfe and others.
b And hinder me not to keepe the Law of the Lord.
c Hee desireth Gods continuall assistance, least he should faint in this race, when he had begun.
d The craftie practises of them that contemne thy Lawe, shall be brought to nought.
e Which infected thy people, as drosse doth the mettall. f Thy iudgements do not onely teach me obedience, but cause me to feare, considering mine owne weakenesse, which feare causeth repentance.

AIN.

121 I haue executed iudgement and iustice: leaue me not to mine oppressours.
122 a Answere for thy seruant in that, which is good, and let not the proud oppresse me.
123 Mine eyes haue failed in waiting for thy saluation, and for thy iust promise.
124 Deale with thy b seruant according to thy mercie, and teach me thy statutes.
125 I am thy seruant: graunt mee therefore vnderstanding, that I may know thy testimonies.
126 It is c time for thee, Lord, to worke: for they haue destroyed thy Lawe.
127 Therefore loue I thy commaundements aboue golde, yea, aboue most fine golde.
128 Therefore I esteeme all thy precepts most iust, and hate all false d wayes.

a Put thy selfe betweene mine enemies and me, as if thou were my pledge.
b He boasteth not that he is Gods seruant, but hereby putteth God in minde, that as he made him his by his grace, so hee would continue his fauor toward him.
c The Prophet sheweth that when the wicked haue brought all things to confusion, and Gods word to vtter contempt, then is it Gods time to helpe and send remedie. d That is, whatsoeuer differeth from the puritie of thy word.

PE.

129 Thy testimonies are a wonderfull: therefore doth my soule keepe them.
130 The entrance into thy b wordes sheweth light, and giueth vnderstanding to the simple.
131 I opened my mouth and c panted, because I loued thy commandements.
132 Looke vpon me and be mercifull vnto me, as thou vsest to do vnto those that loue thy Name.
133 Direct my steppes in thy word, and let none iniquitie haue dominion ouer me.
134 Deliuer me from the oppression of men, and I will keepe thy precepts.
135 Shew the light of thy countenance vpon thy seruant, and teach me thy statutes.

a Containing high and secret mysteries, so that I am moued with admiration and reuerence.
b The simple-hearted, that submit themselues to God, haue their eyes opened, and their mindes illuminated, so soone as they beginne to vnderstande Gods word.
c My zeale to heare thy word was so great.

d Hee sheweth what ought to be the zeale of Gods

136 Mine eyes gush d out with riuers of water, because they keepe not thy Lawe.

children, when they see his word contemned.

T SADDI.

137 Righteous art thou, O Lord, and iust are thy iudgements.

a We cannot confesse God to be righteous, except we liue vprightly and truely, as he hath commanded. *Psal.69.9. Iohn 2.17.

138 Thou hast commaunded a iustice by thy testimonies and trueth especially.

b Golde hath needs to be fined, but thy word is perfection it selfe.

139 *My zeale hath euen consumed me: because mine enemies haue forgotten thy words.

c This is the true trial, to praise God in aduersitie.

140 Thy word is proued b most pure, and thy seruant loueth it.

d So that the life of man without the knowledge of God is death.

141 I am c small and despised: yet do I not forget thy precepts.

142 Thy righteousnesse is an euerlasting righteousnesse, and thy Law is trueth.

143 Trouble and anguish are come vpon me: yet are thy commandements my delite.

144 The righteousnes of thy testimonies is euerlasting: grant me vnderstanding, & I shall d liue.

K O P H.

a He sheweth that all his affections and whole heart were bent to God-ward for to haue helpe in his dangers.

145 I haue a cried with my whole heart: heare me, O Lord, and I will keepe thy statutes.

146 I called vpon thee: saue mee, and I will keepe thy testimonies.

147 I preuented the morning light, and cried: for I waited on thy word.

b He was more earnest in the studie of Gods word, then they that kept the watch were in their charge.

148 Mine eyes b preuent the night watches to meditate in thy word.

149 Heare my voice according to thy louing kindnesse: O Lord, quicken me according to thy ‖ iudgement.

‖ Or, custome.

c He sheweth the nature of the wicked to be to persecute against their conscience.

150 They drawe neere, that follow after c malice, and are farre from thy Law.

d His faith is grounded vpon Gods word, that hee would euer be at hand when his children be oppressed.

151 Thou art neere, O Lord: for all thy commandements are true.

152 I haue knowen long since d by thy testimonies, that thou hast established them for euer.

R E S H.

153 Beholde mine affliction, and deliuer me: for I haue not forgotten thy Law.

a For without Gods promise there is no hope of deliuerance.

154 Pleade my cause, and deliuer me: quicken me according vnto thy a word.

b According to thy promise made in the law, which because the wicked lacke, they can haue no hope of saluation.

155 Saluation is farre from the wicked, because they seeke not thy statutes.

c My zeale consumed me, when I saw their malice and contempt of thy glorie.

156 Great are thy tender mercies, O Lorde: quicken me according to thy b iudgements.

d It is a sure signe of our adoption, when we loue the Lawe of God.

157 My persecutours and mine oppressours are many: yet do I not swarue from thy testimonies.

e Since thou first promisedst, euen to the ende all thy sayings are true.

158 I saw the transgressours, and was c grieued, because they kept not thy word.

159 Consider, O Lord, how I d loue thy precepts: quicken mee according to thy louing kindenesse.

160 The e beginning of thy word is trueth, and all the iudgements of thy righteousnesse endure for euer.

S C H I N.

a The threatnings and persecutions of princes could not cause mee to shrinke to confesse thee, whom I more feare then men.

161 Princes haue a persecuted mee without cause, but mine heart stoode in awe of thy words.

b That is, often and sundry times.

162 I reioyce at thy word, as one that findeth a great spoyle.

c For the conscience affareth them, that they please thee, whereas they, that loue not thee, haue the contrary.

163 I hate, falsehoode and abhorre it, but thy Lawe doe I loue.

164 b Seuen times a day doe I praise thee, because of thy righteous iudgements.

165 They that c loue thy Law, shall haue great prosperitie, and they shall haue none hurt.

d He sheweth that we must first haue faith before we can worke and please God.

166 Lord, I haue d trusted in thy saluation, and haue done thy commandements.

e I had no respect of men, but set them alwayes before mine eyes, as the iudge of my doings.

167 My soule hath kept thy testimonies: for I loue them exceedingly.

168 I haue kept thy preceps and thy testimonies: e for all my wayes are before thee.

T A V.

a As thou hast promised to be the scholemaster vnto all them that depend vpon thee.

169 Let my complaint come before thee, O Lord, and giue me vnderstanding a according vnto thy word.

b The word signifieth to powre forth continually.

170 Let my supplication come before thee, and deliuer me according to thy promise.

c All his prayer, and desire is, to profit in the word of God.

171 My lippes shall b speake praise, when thou hast c taught me thy statutes.

172 My tongue shall intreate of thy word: for all thy commandements are righteous.

173 Let thine hand helpe me: for I haue chosen thy precepts.

174 I haue longed for thy saluation, O Lord, and thy Law is my delite.

175 Let my soule liue, and it shall praise thee, and thy d iudgements shall helpe me.

d That is, thy prouident care ouer me, and wherewith thou wilt iudge mine enemies.

176 I haue e gone astray like a lost sheepe: seeke thy seruant, for I doe not forget thy commandements.

e Being chased to and fro by mine enemies, and hauing no place to rest in.

PSAL. CXX.

1 The prayer of Dauid being vexed by the false reports of Sauls flatterers. 5 And therfore he lamenteth his long abode among those infidels, 7 Who were giuen to all kinde of wickednesse and contention.

¶ A song of a degrees.

a That is, of lifting vp the tune and rising in singing.

I Called vnto the Lord in my b trouble, and he heard me.

b Albeit the children of God ought to reioyce when they suffer for righteousnes sake, yet it is a great griefe to the flesh to heare euill for well doing.

2 Deliuer my soule, O Lord, from lying lippes, and from a deceitfull tongue.

c He assured himselfe that God would turne their craft to their owne destruction.

3 What doeth thy c deceitfull tongue bring vnto thee? or what doeth it auaile thee?

d Hee sheweth that there is nothing so sharpe to pierce nor so hote to set on fire, as a slanderous tongue.

4 It is as the d sharpe arrowes of a mightie man, and as the coales of iuniper.

e These were people of Arabia, which came of Iaphet, Genesis 10.2.

5 Woe is to me that I remaine in e Meshech, and dwell in the tents of f Kedar.

f That is, of the Ishmaelites.

6 My soule hath too long dwelt with him that hateth peace.

g He declareth what he meaneth by Meshech, and Kedar: to wit, the Israelites, which had degenerate from their godly fathers, and hated and contended against the faithfull.

7 I seeke g peace, and when I speake thereof, they are bent to warre.

CHAP. CXXI.

1 This Psalme teacheth that the faithfull ought onely to looke for helpe at God, 7 Who onely doeth maintaine, preserue and prosper his Church.

¶ A song of degrees.

‖ Or, about the mountaines: meaning, that there is nothing so high in this world, wherein he can trust, but onely in God.

I Will lift mine eyes ‖ vnto the mountaines, from whence mine helpe shall come.

a He accuseth mans ingratitude, which cannot depend on Gods power.

2 Mine helpe commeth from the Lord, which hath made the a heauen and the earth.

b He sheweth that Gods prouidence not only watcheth ouer his Church in generall, but also 3 He will not suffer thy foote to slippe: for he that keepeth thee, will not b slumber.

4 Beholde, he that keepeth Israel, will neither slumber nor sleepe.

5 The Lord is thy keeper: the Lord is thy shadow at thy right hand.

6 The sunne shall not c smite thee by day, nor the moone by night.

ouer euery member therof. c Neither heat nor cold, nor any incommoditie shall be able to destroy Gods Church, albeit for a time they may molest it.

7 The Lorde shall preserue thee from all euill: he shall keepe thy soule.

8 The Lorde shall preserue thy [d] going out, and thy comming in from henceforth & for euer.

d Whatsoeuer thou doest enterprise, shall haue good successe.

PSAL. CXXII.

1 Dauid reioyceth in the name of the faithfull, that God hath accomplished his promes and placed his Arke in Zion. 5 For the which he giueth thanks, 8 And prayeth for the prosperitie of the Church.

¶ A song of degrees, or Psalme of Dauid.

I [a] Reioyced when they sayd to me, We wil go into the house of the Lorde.

2 Our [b] feete shall stand in thy gates, O Ierusalem.

3 Ierusalem is builded as a citie, that is [c] compact together in it selfe:

4 Whereunto [d] the Tribes, euen the Tribes of the Lord goe vp according to the testimonie to Israel, to prayse the Name of the Lord.

5 For there are thrones set for iudgment, euen the thrones of the house of [e] Dauid.

6 Pray for the peace of Ierusalem: let them prosper that loue thee.

7 Peace be within thy [f] walles, and prosperitie within thy palaces.

8 For my [g] brethren and neighbours sakes I will wish thee now prosperitie.

9 Because of the House of the Lord our God, I will procure thy wealth.

*1 Chro.29.9.

a He reioyceth that God had appointed a place, where the Arke should still remaine.

b Which were wont to wander to and fro, as the Arke remoued.

c By the artificiall ioyning and beautie of the houses, he meaneth the concorde, and loue that was betweene the citizens.

d All the tribes according to Gods couenant shall come and pray there.

e In whose house God placed the throne of Iustice, and made it a figure of Christes kingdome. f The fauour of God prospet thee both within and without. g Not onely for mine owne sake, but for all the faithfull.

PSAL. CXXIII.

1 A prayer of the faithfull, which were afflicted either in Babylon or vnder Antiochus by the wicked worldlings and contemners of God.

¶ A song of degrees.

I Lift vp mine eyes to thee, that dwellest in the heauens.

2 Behold, as [ỹ] eyes of [a] seruants looke vnto the hand of their masters, and as the eyes of a mayden vnto [ỹ] hand of her mistres: so our eyes waite vpon [ỹ] Lord our God vntill he haue mercy vpon vs.

3 Haue mercy vpon vs, O Lorde, haue mercie vpon vs: for we haue [b] suffered too much contempt.

4 Our soule is filled too full of the mocking of the wealthy, & of the despitefulnes of [ỹ] proude.

a He compareth the condition of the godly to seruants that are destitute of all helpe, assuring that when all other helpes faile, God is euer at hand and like himselfe.

b He declareth that when the faithful are so full, that they can no more endure the oppressions, and scornings of the wicked, there is alway helpe aboue, if with hungry desires they call for it.

PSAL. CXXIIII.

1 The people of God, escaping a great perill, doe acknowledge themselues to be deliuered, not by their owne force, but by the power of God. 4 They declare the greatnesse of the perill, 6 And prayse the Name of God.

¶ A song of degrees, or Psalme of Dauid.

I F the Lord had not [a] bene on our side, (may Israel now say)

2 If the Lord had not bene on our side, when men rose vp against vs,

3 They had then swallowed vs vp [b] quicke, when their wrath was kindled against vs.

4 Then the [c] waters had drowned vs, and the streame had gone ouer our soule.

5 Then had the swelling waters gone ouer our soule.

6 Prayse be the Lorde, which hath not giuen vs as a praye vnto their teeth.

7 Our soule is escaped, euen as a bird out of the [d] snare of the foulers: the snare is broken, and we are deliuered.

8 Our helpe is in the Name of the Lorde, which hath made heauen and earth.

a He sheweth that God was ready to helpe at neede, and y there was none other way to be saued, but by his onely meanes.

b So vnable were we to resist.

c He vseth most proper similitudes to expresse y great danger that the Church was in, and one of the which God miraculously deliuerd them.

d For the wicked did not onely furiously rage against y faithful, but craftily imagined to destroy them.

PSAL. CXXV.

1 He describeth the assurance of the faithfull in their afflictions, 4 And desireth their wealth, 5 And the destruction of the wicked.

¶ A song of degrees.

THey that trust in the Lorde, shalbe as mount Zion, which can not be [a] remooued, but remaineth for euer.

2 As the mountaines are about Ierusalem: so is the Lord about his people from henceforth and for euer.

3 For the [b] rod of the wicked shall not rest on the lot of the righteous, least the righteous put forth their hand vnto wickednes.

4 Doe well, O Lord, vnto those that be good and true in their hearts.

5 [c] But these that turne aside by their crooked wayes, them shall [ỹ] Lord leade with the workers of iniquitie: but peace shalbe vpon Israel.

a Though the world be subiect to mutations, yet the people of God shall stand sure and be defended by Gods prouidence.

b Though God suffer his to be vnder the crosse, least they should imbrace wickednes, yet this crosse shal not so rest vpon them, that it should driue them from hope.

c He desireth God to purge his Church from hypocrites & such as haue no zeale of the trueth.

PSAL. CXXVI.

1 This Psalme was made after the returne of the people from Babylon, and sheweth that the meane of their deliuerance was wonderfull after the seuentie yeres of captiuitie spoken by Jeremie chap.25.12. and 29.10.

¶ A song of degrees, or Psalme of Dauid.

WHen the Lord brought againe the captiuitie of Zion, we were like them [ỹ] a dreame.

2 Then was our mouth [b] filled with laughter, and our tongue with ioy: then sayd they among the [c] heathen, The Lorde hath done great things for them.

3 The Lorde hath done great things for vs, whereof we reioyce.

4 O Lord, bring againe our captiuitie, as the [d] riuers in the South.

5 They that sowe in teares, shall reape in ioy.

6 They went weeping and caried [e] precious seede: but they shall returne with ioye and bring their sheaues.

a Their deliuerance was as a thing incredible, & therefore tooke away all excuse of ingratitude.

b Hee sheweth howe the godly ought to reioyce, when God gathereth his Church or deliuereth it.

c If the infidels confesse Gods wonderful worke, the faithfull can neuer shew them selues sufficiently thankfull.

d It is no more impossible to God to deliuer his people, then to cause the riuers to runne in the wildernes and barren places.

e That is, seede which was scarce and deare: meaning, that they which trusted in Gods promes to returne, had their desire.

PSAL. CXXVII.

1 He sheweth that the whole estate of the world, both domesticall and politicall standeth by Gods meere prouidence and blessing, 3 And that to haue children well nurtred, is an especiall grace and gift of God.

¶ A song of degrees, or Psalme of Salomon.

EXcept the Lord [a] build the house, they labour in vaine that build it: except the Lorde keepe the [b] citie, the keeper watcheth in vaine.

2 It is in vaine for [c] you to rise earely, and to lie downe late, and eate the bread [d] of sorow: but he will surely giue [d] rest to his beloued.

3 Beholde, children are the inheritance of the Lord, and the fruite of the wombe his rewarde.

4 As are the arrowes in the hand of the strong man: so are the [f] children of youth.

5 Blessed is the man that hath his quiuer full of them: for they [g] shall not be ashamed, when they speake with their enemies in the gate.

a That is, gouerne and dispose all things pertaining to the familie.

b The publique estate of the commonwealth.

c Which watch and warde, and are also magistrates, and rulers of the citie.

d Either that, which is gotten by hard labour, or eaten with griefe of minde.

e Not exempting them from labour, but making their labours comfortable, and as it were a rest. f That is, indued with strength and vertues from God: for these are signes of Gods blessings, and not the number. g Such children shall be able to stoppe their aduersaries mouthes, when their godly life is maliciously accused before Iudges.

PSAL. CXXVIII.

1 He sheweth that blessednes appertaineth not to all vniuersally, but to them only that feare the Lorde, and walke in his wayes.

¶ A song of degrees.

BLessed is euery one that feareth the Lorde and walketh in his [a] wayes.

2 When thou eatest the labours of thine [b] hands, thou shalt be blessed, and it shall be well with thee.

3 Thy wife shalbe as the fruitfull vine on the sides of thine house, and thy [c] children like the olive plantes round about thy table.

4 Lo, surely thus shal the man be blessed, that feareth the Lord.

5 The Lord out of Zion shal [d] blesse thee, and thou shalt see the wealth of [e] Ierusalem all the dayes of thy life.

6 Yea, thou shalt see thy childrens children, and peace vpon Israel.

a God approueth not our life except it be reformed, according to his worde.
b The world esteemeth them happie, which line in wealth and idlenes: but the holy Ghost approueth them best, that liue of the meane profite of their labours.
c Because Gods fauour appeareth In none outward thing, more then in increase of children, he promiseth to enrich the faithfull with this gift. d Because of the spiritual blessing, which God hath made to his Church, these temporall things shalbe granted. e For except God blessed his Church publikely, this priuate blessing were nothing.

PSAL. CXXIX.

1 Hee admonisheth the Church to reioyce though it be afflicted. 4 For by the righteous Lord it shall be deliuered. 6 And the enemies for all their glorious shew, shal suddenly be destroyed.

¶ A song of degrees.

THey haue often times afflicted me from my youth (may [a] Israel now say)

2 They haue often times afflicted me from my youth: but they could not preuaile against me.

3 The plowers plowed vpon my backe, and made long furrowes.

4 But the [b] righteous Lord hath cut the cords of the wicked.

5 They that hate Zion, shalbe all ashamed and turned backward.

6 [c] They shalbe as the grasse on the house tops, which withereth afore it comneth forth.

7 Whereof the mower filleth not his hand, neither the glainer his lap:

8 [d] Neither they which goe by, say, The blessing of the Lord be vpon you, or, We blesse you in the Name of the Lorde.

a The Church nowe afflicted ought to remember, how her condition hath euer bene such from the beginning: to be molested most grieuously by the wicked, yet in time it hath euer bene deliuered.
b Because God is righteous, he can not but plague his aduersaries, and deliuer his, as oxen out of the plough.
c The enemies that lift themselues most high, and as it were approche neere to the sunne, are consumed with the heate of Gods wrath, because they are not grounded in godly humilitie. d That is, the wicked shal perish and none shall passe for them.

PSAL. CXXX.

1 The people of God from their bottomles miseries doe cry vnto God, and are heard. 3 They confesse their sinnes and flee vnto Gods mercie.

¶ A song of degrees.

OVt of the [a] deepe places haue I called vnto thee, O Lord.

2 Lorde, heare my voyce: let thine eares attend to the voyce of my prayers.

3 If thou, O Lord, straightly markest iniquities, O Lord, [b] who shall stand?

4 But mercy is with thee, that thou [c] mayest be feared.

5 I haue waited on the Lorde: my soule hath waited, and I haue trusted in his worde.

6 My soule waiteth on the Lorde more then the morning watch watcheth for the morning.

7 Let Israel waite on the Lorde: for with the Lorde is [d] mercie, and with him is great redemption.

8 And he shall redeeme Israel from all his iniquities.

a Being in great distresse & sorow.
b He declareth that we can not be iust before God, but by forgiuenes of sinnes.
c Because of nature thou art mercifull: therefore the faithfull reuerence thee.
d He sheweth to whome the mercy of God doeth apperteine: to Israel, that is, to the Church and not to the reprobate.

PSAL. CXXXI.

1 Dauid charged with ambition and greedy desire to reigne, professeth his humilitie and modestie before God, and teacheth all men what they should doe.

¶ A song of degrees or Psalme of Dauid.

LOrde, [a] mine heart is not hautie, neither are mine eyes loftie, neither haue I walked in great [b] matters and hid from me.

2 Surely I haue behaued my selfe, like one wained from his mother, and kept silence: I am in my selfe as one that is [c] wained.

3 Let Israel waite on the Lorde from henceforth and for euer.

a He setteth forth his great humilitie, as an example to all rulers and gouernours.
b Which passe the measure & limits of his vocation.
c He was voyde of ambition and wicked desires.

PSAL. CXXXII.

1 The faithfull grounding on Gods promes made vnto Dauid, desire that he would establish the same, both as touching his posteritie and the building of the Temple, to pray there as was foretspoken, Deut. 12. 5.

¶ A song of degrees.

LOrd, remember Dauid with all his [a] affliction.

2 Who sware vnto the Lorde, and vowed vnto the mightie God of Iaakob, saying,

3 I [b] will not enter into the Tabernacle of mine house, nor come vpon my pallet or bed,

4 Nor suffer mine eyes to sleepe, nor mine eye lids to slumber:

5 Vntill I finde out a place for the [c] Lorde, an habitation for the mightie God of Iaakob.

6 Lo, we heard of it in [d] Ephrathah, and found it in the fieldes of the forest.

7 We wil enter into his Tabernacles, and worship before his footestoole.

8 Arise, O Lord, to come into thy [e] rest, thou, and the Arke of thy strength.

9 Let thy Priests be clothed with [f] righteousnesse, and let thy Saints reioyce.

10 For thy [g] seruant Dauids sake refuse not the face of thine Anointed.

11 The Lord hath sworne in trueth vnto Dauid, and he wil not shrinke from it, saying, Of the fruite of thy body will I set vpon thy throne.

12 If thy sonnes keepe my couenant, and my testimonies, that I shall teach them, their sonnes also shall sit vpon thy throne for [h] euer.

13 For the Lord hath chosen Zion, and loued to dwell in it, saying, 14 This is my rest for euer: here will I dwell, for I haue a [i] delight therein.

15 I wil surely blesse her vitailes, and will satisfie her poore with bread, 16 And will clothe her Priestes with [k] saluation, and her Saints shall shoute for ioy.

17 There wil I make [l] horne of Dauid to bud: for I haue ordeined a light for mine Anoynted.

18 His enemies wil I clothe with shame, but on him his crowne shall florish.

a That is, with howe great difficultie he came to the kingdome, and with howe great zeale and care hee went about to build thy Temple.
b Because ỹ chiefe charge of the King was to set foorth Gods glory, hee sheweth, that hee could take no rest, neither would goe about any worldly thing, were it neuer so necessarie, before he had executed his office.
c That is, ỹ Arke, which was a figure of Gods presence.
d The common brute was, that the Arke should remaine in Ephrathah: that is, in Beth-lehem a plentifull place: but after we perceiued that thou wouldest place it in Ierusalem, which was barren as a forest and compassed about only with hilles.
e That is, Ierusalem, because that afterward his Arke should remoue to none other place.
f Let the effect of thy grace both appeare in the Priest and in the people.
g As thou first madest promes to Dauid, so continue it to his posteritie, that what soeuer they shal aske for their people, it may be granted. h Because this cannot be accomplished but in Christ, it followeth that the promes was spirituall. i Meaning, for his own sake, and not for ỹ plentifulnes of the place: for he promiseth to blesse it, declaring before, that it was barren. k That is, with my protection, whereby they shalbe safe. l Though his force for a time seemed to be broken, yet hee promiseth to restore it.

PSAL. CXXXIII.

1 This Psalme conteineth the commendation of brotherly amitie among the seruants of God.

¶ A song of degrees or Psalme of Dauid.

BEholde, howe good and howe comely a thing it is, brethren to dwell euen [a] together.

though some fauoured him, yet when he was established King, at length they ioyned all together like brethren: and therefore he sheweth by these similitudes the commoditie of brotherly loue.

a Because ỹ greatest part were against Dauid, b The ointment was a figure of the graces which come from Christ the head vnto his Church.

2 It is like to the precious b ointment vpon the head, that runneth downe vpon the beard, euen vnto Aarons beard, which went downe on the border of his garments:

c By Hermon and Zion he meaneth the plentifull countrey about Ierusalem.

3 And as the dew of c Hermon, which falleth vpon the mountaines of Zion: for d there the Lord appoynted the blessing and life for euer.

d Where there is such concord.

PSAL. CXXXIIII.

1 Hee exhorteth the Leuites watching in the Temple, to praise the Lord.

¶ A song of degrees.

BEholde, praise ye the Lord, all ye a seruants of the Lord, ye that by night stand in the house of the Lord.

a Ye that are Leuites and chiefly appoynted to this office.

2 Lift vp your b hands to the Sanctuarie, and praise the Lord.

b For their charge was not onely to keepe the Temple, but to pray there and to giue God thankes.

3 The Lord, that hath c made heauen and earth, blesse thee out of Zion.

c And therefore hath all power, blesse thee with his Fatherly loue declared in Zion. Thus the Leuites vsed to praise the Lord, and blesse the people.

PSAL. CXXXV.

1 He exhorteth all the faithfull, of what estate so euer they bee, to praise God for his marueilous workes, 12 And specially for his graces toward his people, wherein he hath declared his maiestie, 15 To the confusion of all idolaters and their idoles.

¶ Praise ye the Lord.

PRaise the Name of the Lord: ye seruants of the Lord, praise him.

a Ye Leuites that are in his Sanctuary.

2 Ye that stand in the a House of the Lord, and in the b courtes of the House of our God.

b Meaning, the people: for the people and Leuites had their courtes, which were places of the Temple apparte.

3 Praise yee the Lord: for the Lord is good: sing praises vnto his Name: for it is a comely thing.

c That is, hath freely loued the posteritie of Abraham.

4 For the Lord hath c chosen Iaakob to himselfe, and Israel for his chiefe treasure.

5 For I know that the Lord is great, and that our Lord is aboue all gods.

d He ioyneth Gods power with his will, to the intent that we should not separate them: and hereby he willeth Gods people to depend on his power, which he confirmeth by examples.

6 Whatsoeuer pleased the Lord, that d did he in heauen & in earth, in the sea, and in all the depths.

7 He bringeth vp the cloudes from the e endes of the earth, & maketh the * lightnings for the raine: he draweth foorth the winde out of his treasures.

8 * He smote the first borne of Egypt both of man and beast.

9 Hee hath sent tokens and wonders into the middes of thee, O Egypt, vpon Pharaoh, & vpon all his seruants.

10 * He smote many nations, and slew mightie Kings:

11 As Sihon King of the Amorites, and Og King of Bashan, & all the kingdomes of Canaan:

12 And c gaue their land for an inheritance, euen an inheritance vnto Israel his people.

13 Thy Name, O Lord, endureth for euer: O Lord, thy remembrance is from generation to generation.

14 For the Lord will f iudge his people, and be pacified toward his seruants.

15 The g idoles of the heathen are siluer and golde, euen the worke of mens handes.

16 They haue a mouth, and speake not: they haue eyes and see not.

17 They haue eares and heare not, neither is there any breath in their mouth.

18 They that make them, are like vnto them: so are all that trust in them.

19 Praise the Lord, ye house of Israel: praise the Lord, ye house of Aaron.

20 Praise the Lord, ye house of Leui: ye that feare the Lord, praise the Lord.

e He sheweth what fruite the godly conceiue of Gods power, whereby they see how he destroyeth his enemies, and deliuereth his people.

f That is, gouerne and defend his people.

g By shewing what punishment God appointeth for the heathen idolaters, he warneth his people to beware the like offence, seeing that idoles haue neither power nor life, and that their deliuerance came not by idoles, but by the mightie power of God. Reade Psalme 115. verse 4.

21 Praised bee the Lorde out of Zion, which dwelleth in Ierusalem. Praise ye the Lord.

PSAL. CXXXVI.

1 A most earnest exhortation to giue thankes vnto God for the creation and gouernance of all things, which standeth in confessing that he giueth vs all of his meere liberalitie.

PRaise ye the Lord, because he is good: for his a mercie endureth for euer.

a By this repetition he sheweth that the least of Gods benefites binde vs to thankesgiuing: but chiefly his mercie, which is principally declared toward his Church.

2 Praise ye the God of gods: for his mercie endureth for euer:

3 Praise ye the Lord of lordes: for his mercie endureth for euer:

4 Which onely doeth great wonders: for his mercie endureth for euer:

5 Which by his wisedome made the heauens: for his mercie endureth for euer:

6 Which hath stretched out the earth vpon the waters: for his b mercie endureth for euer:

b This was a common kinde of thanksgiuing, which the whole people vsed, when they had receiued any benefite of God, as 1. Chr. 7. 6. & 20. 21: meaning that God was not onely mercifull to their fathers, but also continued the same to their posteritie.

7 Which made great lightes: for his mercie endureth for euer:

8 As the sunne to rule the day: for his mercie endureth for euer:

9 The moone and the Starres to gouerne the night: for his mercie endureth for euer:

10 Which smote Egypt with their first borne, (for his mercie endureth for euer)

11 And c brought out Israel from among them (for his mercie endureth for euer:

c Gods mercifull prouidence toward man appeareth in all his creatures, but chiefly in that that he deliuered his Church from the tyrannie of their enemies.

12 With a mightie hand and d stretched out arme: for his mercie endureth for euer:

d In doing such a worke as was neuer done before, nor that any other could doe.

13 Which diuided the red Sea in two partes: for his mercie endureth for euer:

14 And made Israel to passe through the mids of it: for his mercie endureth for euer:

15 And ouerthrewe Pharaoh and his hoste in the red Sea: for his mercie endureth for euer:

16 Which led his people through the e wilderneſse: for his mercie endureth for euer:

e Where for the space of fourtie yeeres he shewed infinite and most strange wonders.

17 Which smote great Kings: for his mercie endureth for euer:

18 And slewe f mightie Kings: for his mercie endureth for euer:

f Declaring that by no power nor authoritie was so deare vnto him, as the loue of his Church.

19 As Sihon King of the Amorites: for his mercie endureth for euer:

20 And Og the King of Bashan: for his mercie endureth for euer:

21 And gaue their land for an heritage: for his mercie endureth for euer:

22 Euen an heritage vnto Israel his seruant: for his mercie endureth for euer:

g In our greatest affliction & slanderie, when we looked for nothing lesse, then to haue had any succour.

23 Which remembred vs in our g base estate: for his mercie endureth for euer:

24 And hath rescued vs from our oppressours: for his mercie endureth for euer:

h Seeing that God prouideth euen for the beastes, much more hath he care ouer him.

25 Which giueth foode to all h flesh: for his mercie endureth for euer:

i Seeing that all ages haue had most plaine testimonies of Gods benefites.

26 i Praise ye the God of heauen: for his mercie endureth for euer.

PSAL. CXXXVII.

1 The people of God in their banishment seeing Gods true religion decay, lined in great anguish & sorow of heart: the which grieue the Chaldeans did so vile vse, 5 That they rather beseeched the same daily with taunts, reproches and blasphemies against God. 7 Wherefore the Israelites desire God sharply to punish the Edomites, who prouoked the Babylonians against them. 8 And moued by the Spirit of God, prophecie the destruction of Babylon, where they were hardly holden in captiuitie.

BY the riuers of Babel we a sate, and there we wept, when we remembred Zion.

a That is, we abode a long time, and after that the countrey was pacified.

2 Wee hanged our harpes vpon the willowes

b To wit, of that countrey.
c The Babylonians spake thus in mocking vs, as though by our silence we should signifie that we hoped no more in God.
d Albeit the faithfull are touched with their particular griefes, yet the common sorowe of the Church is most grieuous vnto them, and is such as they cannot but remember and lament.
e The decay of Gods religion in their countrey was so grieuous, that no ioy couldе make them glad, except it were restored. f According as Ezekiel 25.13. and Ieremie 49.7. verse prophecied: and Obadiah, verse 10 Iheweth that the Edomites, which came of Esau, conspired with the Babylonians against their brethren and kinsfolke. g When thou didst visite Ierusalem. h Hee alludeth to Isaiahs prophecie, Chapter 13. and 16. verse, promising good successe to Cyrus and Darius, whome ambition mooued to fight against Babylon: but God vsed them as his rods to punish his enemies.

in the middes b thereof.

3 Then they that ledde vs captiues, c required of vs songs and mirth, when wee had hanged vp our harpes, saying, Sing vs one of ỹ songs of Zion.

4 How shall we sing, said we, a song of the Lord in a strange land?

5 d If I forget thee, O Ierusalem, let my right hand forget to play.

6 If I doe not remember thee, let my tongue cleaue to the roofe of my mouth: yea, if I preferre not Ierusalem to my e chiefe ioy.

7 Remember the children of f Edom, O Lord, in the g day of Ierusalem, which said, Raze it, raze it to the foundation thereof.

8 O daughter of Babel, worthie to be destroyed, blessed shall he be that rewardeth thee, as thou hast serued vs.

9 h Blessed shal he be that taketh and dasheth thy children against the stones.

PSAL. CXXXVIII.

1 Dauid with great courage praiseth the goodnesse of God toward him, the which is so great, 4 That it is knowen to foreyen Princes, who shall praise the Lord together with him. 6 And he is assured to haue like comfort of God in the time following, as he hath had heretofore.

¶ A Psalme of Dauid.

I Will praise thee with my whole heart: euen before the a gods will I praise thee.

2 I will worship toward thine holy b Temple and praise thy Name, because of thy louing kindenesse and for thy trueth: for thou hast magnified thy name aboue all things by thy word.

3 When I called, then thou heardest me, and hast c encreased strength in my soule.

4 All the d Kings of the earth shal praise thee, O Lord: for they haue heard ỹ words of thy mouth.

5 And they shall sing of the wayes of the Lord, because the glory of the Lord is great.

6 For the Lord is high: yet he beholdeth the lowly, but the proude he knoweth e afarre off.

7 Though I walke in the middes of trouble, yet wilt thou reuiue me: thou wilt stretch foorth thine hand vpon the wrath of mine enemies, and thy right hand shall saue me.

8 The Lord will f performe his worke towarde me: O Lorde, thy mercie endureth for euer: forsake not the workes of thy handes.

a Euen in the presence of Angels and of them, that haue authoritie among men.
b Both the Temple and ceremoniall seruice at Christes comming were abolished: so that now God will be worshipped only in spirite and trueth, Ioh 4.23.
c Thou hast strengthened me against mine outward and inward enemies.
d All the world shall confesse that thou hast wonderfully preserued me, and performed thy promise.
e Distance of place cannot hinder God to shew mercy to his, & to iudge the wicked, though they thinke that he is farre off. f Though mine enemies rage neuer so much, yet the Lord, which hath begun his worke in me, will continue his grace to the ende.

PSAL. CXXIX.

1 Dauid to cleanse his heart from all hypocrisie, sheweth that there is nothing so hid, which God seeth not, 13 Which hee confirmeth by the creation of man. 14 After declaring his zeale and feare of God, he protesteth to be enemie to all them that contemne God.

¶ To him that excelleth. A Psalme of Dauid.

O Lord, thou hast tried me and knowen me.

2 Thou knowest my a sitting and my rising: thou vnderstandest my thought a farre off.

3 Thou b compassest my pathes, and my lying downe, and art accustomed to all my wayes.

4 For there is not a word in my c tongue, but loe, thou knowest it wholly, O Lord.

a He confesseth that neither our actions, thoughts, or any part of our life can be hid to God, though he seeme to be farre off.
b So that they are euidently knowen to thee. c Thou knowest my meaning before I speake.

5 Thou holdest mee straite behinde and before, and layest thine d hand vpon me.

6 Thy knowledge is too wonderfull for mee: it is so high, that I cannot attaine vnto it.

7 Whither shall I goe from thy e Spirite? or whither shall I flee from thy presence?

8 If I ascende into heauen, thou art there: if I lye downe in hell, thou art there.

9 Let me take the wings of the morning, and dwell in the vttermost parts of the sea:

10 Yet thither shal thine f hand leade me, and thy right hand hold me.

11 If I say, Yet the darknes shal hide me, euen the night shalbe g light about me.

12 Yea, the darkenesse hideth not from thee: but the night shineth as the day: the darkenesse and light are both alike.

13 For thou hast h possessed my reines: thou hast couered me in my mothers wombe.

14 I will praise thee, for I am i fearefully and wonderously made: marueilous are thy workes, and my soule knoweth it well.

15 My bones are not hid from thee, though I was made in a secrete place, and facioned k beneath in the earth.

16 Thine eyes did see me, when I was without forme: l for in thy booke were all things written, which in continuance were facioned, when there was none of them before.

17 Howe m deare therefore are thy thoughtes vnto me, O God! how great is ỹ summe of them!

18 If I should count them, they are moe then the sand: when I wake, n I am still with thee.

19 Oh that thou wouldest slay, O God, the wicked & bloody men, to whō I say, Depart ye frō me:

20 Which speake wickedly of the, and being thine enemies are lifted vp in vaine.

21 Doe not I o hate them, O Lord, that hate thee? and doe not I earnestly contend with those that rise vp against thee?

22 I hate them with an vnfained hatred, as they were mine vtter enemies.

23 Trie mee, O God, and know mine heart: prooue me and know my thoughtes, 24 And consider if there be any p way of wickednesse in me, and leade me in the q way for euer.

d Thou fo guidest me w thine hand, that I can turne no way, but where thou appoyntest mee.
e From thy power and knowledge.
f Thy power doth so fast holde me, that I can escape by no meanes from thee.
g Though darknes be no hinderance to mans sight, yet it seeth thine eyes as well as the light.
h Thou hast made me in all partes, and therfore most needes know me.
i Considering thy wonderfull worke in forming mee, I cannot but praise thee, and feare thy mightie power.
k That is, in my mothers wombe, which he compareth to the inward parts of the earth.
l Seeing that thou diddest know me before I was composed of either flesh or bone, much more nowe must thou know me when thou hast facioned me.
m How ought we to esteeme the excellent declaration of thy wisdome in the creatiō of man? n I continually see newe occasions to meditate in thy wisedome, and to praise thee.
o He teacheth vs boldly to cōtemne all the hatred of the wicked, and p Or any heinous way or rebellious: meaning, that though he were subiect to sinne, yee was he not giuen to wickednesse and to prouoke God by rebellion. q That is, continue thy fauour towards me to the ende.

PSAL. CXL.

1 Dauid complaineth of the cruelnesse, falshoode and iniuries of his enemies. 8 Against the which he praieth vnto the Lord, and affirmeth himselfe of his helpe and succour. 12 Wherefore he prouoketh the iust to praise the Lord, and to assure themselues of his tuition.

¶ To him that excelleth. A Psalme of Dauid.

DEliuer me, O Lord, from the euill man: preserue me from the a cruel man:

2 Which imagine euill things in their b heart, and make warre continually.

3 They haue sharpened their tongues like a serpent: c adders poyson is vnder their lips. Selah.

4 Keepe d mee, O Lorde, from the handes of the wicked: preserue mee from the cruell man, which purposeth to cause my steppes to slide.

5 The proude haue layde a snare for mee, and spred a nette with cordes in my pathway, and set grennes for me. Selah.

6 Therefore I said vnto the Lord, Thou art my God: heare, O Lord, the voyce of my praiers.

a Which persecuteth me of malice and without cause.
b That is, by their false cauillations and lies they kindle the hatred of the wicked against me.
c He sheweth what weapons the wicked vse, when power and force faile them.
d He declareth what is the remedie of the godly, when they are oppressed by the worldlings.

7 O Lord

7 O Lord God the ſtrength of my ſaluation, thou [c] haſt couered mine head in ỹ day of battel.

8 Let not the wicked haue his deſire, O Lord: [f] perfourme not his wicked thought, leaſt they be proude. Selah.

9 As for [g] the chiefe of them, that compaſſe me about, let the miſchiefe of their owne lippes come vpon them.

10 Let coles fal vpon them: let [b] him caſt them into the fire, & into the deepe pits, ỹ they riſe not.

11 For the backbiter ſhall not be eſtabliſhed vpon the earth: euill ſhall [i] hunt the cruell man to deſtruction.

12 I know that the Lord will auenge the afflicted, and iudge the poore.

13 Surely the righteous ſhal prayſe thy Name, and the iuſt ſhall [k] dwell in thy preſence.

c Hee calleth to God with liuely faith, being aſſured of his mercies, becauſe hee had beforetime prooued, that God helped him euer in his dangers.

f For it is in Gods hand to ouerthrowe the counſels and enterpriſes of the wicked.

g It ſeemeth that he alludeth to Saul.

h To wit, God: for Dauid ſawe that they were reprobate, and that there was no hope of repentance in them.

i Gods plagues ſhall light vpon him in ſuch ſort, that he ſhal not eſcape.

k That is, ſhall be defended and preſerued by thy fatherly prouidence and care.

PSAL. CXLI.

Dauid being grieuouſly perſecuted vnder Saul, onely fleeth vnto God to haue ſuccour, 3 Deſiring him to bridle his affections, that he may patiently abide till God take vengeance of his enemies.

¶ A Pſalme of Dauid.

O Lord, I [a] call vpon thee: haſte thee vnto me: heare my voyce, when I cry vnto thee.

2 Let my prayer be directed in thy ſight as incenſe, and the [b] lifting vp of mine hands as an euening ſacrifice.

3 Set a watch, O Lorde, before my mouth, and keepe the [c] doore of my lips.

4 Incline not mine heart to euill, ỹ I ſhould commit wicked workes with men that worke iniquitie: and let me not eate of their [d] delicates.

5 Let ỹ righteous ſmite me: for that is a benefite: & let [e] him reprooue me, and it ſhalbe a precious oyle, that ſhall not breake mine head: for within a while I ſhall euen [f] pray in their miſeries.

6 When their iudges ſhalbe caſt downe in ſtony places, they ſhal [g] heare my wordes, for they are ſweete.

7 Our bones lie ſcattered at the [h] graues mouth, as he that heweth wood or diggeth in the earth.

8 But mine eyes looke vnto thee, O Lord God: in thee is my truſt: leaue not my ſoule deſtitute.

9 Keepe me from the ſnare, which they haue layde for me, and from the grennes of the workers of iniquitie.

10 Let the wicked fall into [i] his nettes [k] together, whiles I eſcape.

a Hee ſheweth ỹ there is none other refuge in our neceſſities, but onely to flee vnto God for cõfort of ſoule.

b He meaneth his earneſt zeale and geſture, which he vſed in prayer: alluding to the ſacrifices, which were by Gods commandement offered in the olde Law.

c He deſireth God to keepe his thoughtes and wayes either from thinking or executing vengeance.

d Let not their proſperitie allure me to be wicked as they are.

e He could abide all corrections, that came of a louing heart.

f By patiẽce I ſhal ſee the wicked ſo ſharply handled, that I ſhal for pitie pray for them.

g The people, which followed their wicked rulers in perſecuting the Prophet, ſhal repent & turne to God, when they ſee their wicked rulers puniſhed.

h Here appeareth ỹ Dauid was miraculouſly deliuered out of many deaths, as 2. Cor. 1. 9. 10.

i Into Gods nets, whereby he catcheth the wicked in their owne malice.

k So that none of them eſcape.

PSAL. CXLII.

The Prophet neither aſtonied with feare, nor carried away with anger, nor forced by deſperation, would kill Saul: but with a quiet minde directed his earneſt prayer to God, who did preſerue him.

¶ A Pſalme of Dauid, to giue inſtruction, and a prayer, when he was in the caue.

I Cryed vnto the Lord with my voyce: with my voyce I [a] prayed vnto the Lord.

2 I powred out my meditation before him, and declared mine affliction in his preſence.

a Dauids patience and inſtant prayer to God condemneth their wicked rage, which in their troubles either deſpaire and murmure againſt God, or els ſeeke to others then to God, to haue redreſſe in their miſeries.

3 Though my ſpirit † was in perplexitie in me, yet thou kneweſt my path: in the way wherein I walked, haue they priuily layde a ſnare for me.

4 I looked vpon my right hand, and beheelde, but there was none that would knowe me: all refuge failed me, and none ‖ cared for my ſoule.

5 Then cryed I vnto thee, O Lord, and ſayde, thou art mine [b] hope, and my portion in the land of the liuing.

6 Hearken vnto my crye, for I am brought very lowe: deliuer me from my perſecuters, for they are too ſtrong for me.

7 Bring my ſoule out of [e] priſon, that I may prayſe thy Name: then ſhall the righteous [d] come about me, when thou art beneficiall vnto me.

† Eb. Was folded or wrapped in mine meaning, as a thing that could haue no iſſue.

‖ Or, ſought for my ſoule.

b Though all meanes failed him, yet hee knewe that God would neuer forſake him.

c For he was on all ſides beſet with his enemies, as though he had bin in a moſt ſtraight priſon.

d Either to ioyce at my wonderfull deliuerance, or to ſet a crowne vpon mine head.

PSAL. CXLIII.

An earneſt prayer for remiſſion of ſinnes, acknowledging that the enemies did thus cruelly perſecute him by Gods iuſt iudgement. 8 Hee deſireth to be reſtored to grace, 10 To be gouerned by his holy Spirit, that he may ſpend the remnant of his life in the true feare and ſeruice of God.

¶ A Pſalme of Dauid.

HEare my prayer, O Lorde, and hearken vnto my ſupplication: anſwere me in thy [a] trueth and in thy [b] righteouſnes.

2 (And enter not into iudgment [c] with thy ſeruant: for in thy ſight ſhal none ỹ liueth, be iuſtified)

3 For the enemie hath perſecuted my ſoule: he hath ſmitten my life downe to the earth: hee hath laide me in the darkenes, as they that haue bene dead [d] long agoe:

4 And my ſpirit was in perplexitie in me, and mine [e] heart within me was amaſed.

5 Yet doe I remember the time [f] paſt: I meditate in all thy workes, yea, I doe meditate in the workes of thine hands.

6 I ſtretch foorth mine hands vnto thee: my ſoule deſireth after thee, as the thirſty land. Selah.

7 Heare me ſpeedily, O Lorde, for my ſpirit faileth: hide not thy face from me, els I ſhall be like vnto them that go downe into the pit.

8 Let mee heare thy louing kindneſſe in the [g] morning, for in thee is my truſt: [h] ſhewe mee the way, that I ſhould walke in, for I lift vp my ſoule vnto thee.

9 Deliuer me, O Lorde, from mine enemies: for [i] I hid me with thee.

10 [k] Teach me to [l] doe thy will, for thou art my God: let thy good Spirit leade mee vnto the land of righteouſneſſe.

11 Quicken me, O Lord, for thy Names ſake, and for thy righteouſneſſe bring my ſoule out of trouble.

12 And for thy mercy [m] ſlay mine enemies, and deſtroy all them that oppreſſe my ſoule: for I am thy [n] ſeruant.

a That is, as thou haſt promiſed to be faithfull in thy promes to all that truſt in thee.

b That is, according to thy free goodnes, whereby thou defendeſt thine.

c He knewe that his afflictions were Gods meſſengers to call him to repentance for his ſinnes, though toward his enemies he was innocent, and that in Gods ſight all men are ſinners.

d He acknowledgeth that God is the onely and true phyſicion to healp him: and that he is able to raiſe him to life, though he were dead long agoe, and turned to aſhes.

e So that only by faith, and by the grace of Gods Spirit he was vpholden.

f To wit, thy great benefites of olde, and thy manifolde examples of thy fauour toward thine.

g That is, ſpeedily and in due ſeaſon.

h Let thine holy Spirit counſell me how to come foorth of theſe great mes, and troubles.

i I hid my ſelfe vnder the ſhadow of thy wings, that I might be defended by thy power.

k He confeſſeth that both the knowledge and obedience of Gods wil commeth by the Spirit of God, who teacheth vs by his worde, igneth vnderſtanding by his Spirit, and frameth our hearts by his grace to obey him.

l That is, iuſtly and aright: for ſo ſoone as we decline from Gods wil, we fall into errour.

m Which ſhalbe a ſigne of thy Fatherly kindneſſe towarde me.

n Reſigning my ſelfe wholy vnto thee, and truſting in thy protection.

PSAL. CXLIIII.

He prayſeth the Lorde with great affection and humilitie for his kingdome reſtored, and for his victories obteined, 5 Demaunding helpe and the deſtruction of the wicked, 9 Promiſing to acknowledge the ſame with ſongs of prayſe, 13 And declareth wherein the felicitie of any people conſiſteth.

¶ A Psalme of Dauid.

BLessed be the Lord my strength, which [a] teacheth mine hands to fight, and my fingers to battell.

2 He is my goodnesse and my fortresse, my towre and † my deliuerer, my shield, and in him I trust, which subdueth my [b] people vnder me.

3 Lorde, what is man that thou [c] regardest him! or the sonne of man that thou thinkest vpon him!

4 Man is like to vanitie: his dayes are like a shadow, that vanisheth.

5 [d] Bow thine heauens, O Lorde, and come downe: touch the mountaines & they shal smoke.

6 [e] Cast forth the lightning and scatter them: shoote out thine arrowes, and consume them.

7 Send thine hand from aboue: deliuer mee, and take me out of the great [f] waters, and from the hand of strangers,

8 Whose mouth talketh vanitie, & their right hand is a right hand [g] of falsehood.

9 I wil sing a [h] new song vnto thee, O God, and sing vnto thee vpon a viole, and an instrument of ten strings.

10 It is he that giueth deliuerance vnto Kings, and rescueth Dauid his seruant from the hurtfull sworde.

11 Rescue me, and deliuer me from the hand of strangers, whose mouth talketh vanitie, and their right hand is a right hand of falsehood:

12 That our [k] sonnes may be as ỹ plants growing vp in their youth, and our daughters as ỹ corner stones, grauen after the similitude of a palace:

13 That our [l] cornets may be full and abounding [m] diuers sorts, and that our sheepe may bring forth thousands and ten thousand in our streetes:

14 That our [m] oxen may be strong to labour: that there be none inuasion, nor going out, nor no crying in our streetes.

15 Blessed are the people, that be [n] so, yea, blessed are the people, whose God is the Lord.

a Who of a poore shepheard hath made me a valiant warriour & mightie conquerour.
† Ebr. my deliuerer vnto me: for the Prophet can not fulfil himselfe with any wordes.
b He confesseth that neither by his owne authoritie nor policie his kingdome was quiet, but by ỹ secret grace of God.
c To giue vnto God iust prayse is to confesse our selues to be vnworthie of so excellent benefits, & that he bestoweth them vpon vs of his free mercy.
d He desireth God to continue his graces and to send helpe for the present necessitie.
e By these maner of speeches hee sheweth that all the lets in ỹ world can not hinder Gods power, which he apprehended by faith.
f That is, deliuer me from the tumultes of them that should be my people, but are corrupt in their iudgement and enterprises, as though they were strangers.
g For though they shake hands, yet they keepe not promes.
h That is, a rare and excellent song, as thy great benefites deserue.
i Though wicked kings be called Gods seruants, as Cyrus, Isai. 45.1. forasmuch as he vseth them to execute his iudgments: yet Dauid because of Gods promes, and they, that rule godly, are properly so called, because they serue not their owne affections but set forth Gods glory.
k He desireth God to continue his benefites toward his people, counting the procreation of children and their good education among the chiefest of Gods benefits.
l That the very corners of our houses may be ful of store for the great abundance of thy blessings.
m He attributeth not onely the great commodities, but euen the least also to Gods fauour.
n And if God giue not to all his children all these blessings, yet he recompenseth them with better things.

PSAL. CXLV.

This Psalme was composed when the kingdome of Dauid florished. c Wherein hee describeth the wonderfull prouidence of God, aswell in gouerning man as in preserning all the rest of his creatures. 17 He prayseth God for his iustice and mercy, 18 But specially for his saluing kindnesse toward those that call vpon him, that feare him, and loue him: 21 For the which he promiseth to prayse him for euer.

¶ A Psalme of Dauid of prayse.

O My God and King, [a] I will extoll thee, and will blesse thy Name for euer and euer.

2 I will blesse thee dayly, & prayse thy Name for euer and euer.

3 [b] Great is the Lord, and most worthy to be prayed, and his greatnes is incomprehensible.

4 Generation shal praise thy workes vnto gea He stirreth vp himselfe & all his affections to prayse God.

b That God may haue the whole praise, wherein he forbiddeth al vaine cõfidence, shewing that of nature wee are more inclined to put our trust in creatures, then in God the Creator.
c As their vaine opinions, whereby they flattered themselues, and so imagined wicked enterprises.

neration, and declare thy power.

5 I wil meditate of the beautie of thy glorious maiestie, and thy wonderfull workes,

6 And they shall speake of the power of thy [d] fearefull actes, and I wil declare thy greatnes.

7 They shall breake out into the mention of thy great goodnesse, and shall sing aloude of thy righteousnesse.

8 * The Lord is gracious and [e] mercifull, slow to anger, and of great mercy.

9 The Lord is good to all, and his mercies are ouer all his workes.

10 All thy workes prayse thee, O Lord, & thy Saints blesse thee.

11 [f] They shewe the glory of thy kingdome, and speake of thy power, 12 To cause his [g] power to be knowen to the sonnes of men, and the glorious renoume of his kingdome.

13 Thy *kingdome is an euerlasting kingdom, and thy dominion endureth throughout all ages.

14 The Lord vpholdeth all [h] that fall, and lifteth vp all that are ready to fall.

15 The eyes of [i] all waite vpon thee, and thou giuest them their meate in due season.

16 Thou openest thine hand, and fillest all things liuing of thy good pleasure.

17 The Lord is [k] righteous in all his wayes, and holy in all his workes.

18 The Lorde is neere vnto all that call vpon him: yea, to all that call vpon him in [l] trueth.

19 He will fulfill ỹ [m] desire of them that feare him: he also wil heare their cry, and wil saue them.

20 The Lorde preserueth all them that loue him: but he will destroy all the wicked.

21 [n] My mouth shall speake the prayse of the Lorde, and all [n] flesh shall blesse his holy Name for euer and euer.

d Of thy terrible iudgments against the wicked.
* Exod. 34. c.
e He describeth after what sort God sheweth him selfe to all his creatures, though our sinnes haue prouoked his vengeance against all: to wit, mercifull, not only in pardoning the sinnes of his elect, but in doing good euen to the reprobate, albeit they cannot feele the sweete comfort of the same.
f The prayse of thy glory appeareth in all thy creatures: and though the wicked would obscure the same by their silence, yet the faithful are euer mindfull of the same.
g Hee sheweth that all things are out of order, but onely where God reigneth.
* Luke 1.33 dan. 7.14.
h Who being in miserie & affliction would faint and fall away, if God did not vpholde them, and therefore they ought to reuerence him, that reigneth in heauen, and suffer themselues to be gouerned by him.
i To wit, as well of man, as of beast.
k He prayseth God, not only for that he is beneficiall to all his creatures, but also in ỹ that he iustly punisheth the wicked, & mercifully examineth his by the crosse, giuing them strength & delinering them.
l Which only appertaineth to the faithfull: & this vertue is contrary to infidelitie, doubting, impatiencie and murmuring.
m For they will aske or wish for nothing, but according to his will, 1. Iohn 5.14.
n That is, all men shalbe bound to prayse him.

PSAL. CXLVI.

1 Dauid declareth his great zeale that hee hath to prayse God, 3 And teacheth, not to trust in man, but onely in God almightie, 7 Which deliuereth the afflicted, 9 Defendeth the strangers, comforteth the fatherles, and the widowes, 10 And reigneth for euer.

¶ Prayse ye the Lorde.

PRayse thou the Lorde, O my [a] soule.

2 I wil prayse the Lorde during my life: as long as I haue any being, I wil sing vnto my God.

3 Put not your trust in [b] princes, nor in the sonne of man, for there is none helpe in him.

4 His breath departeth, and hee returneth to his earth: then his [c] thoughtes perish.

5 Blessed is he, that hath the God of Iaakob for his helpe, whose hope is in the Lord his God.

6 Which made [d] heauen & earth, the sea, & all that therein is: which keepeth his fidelitie for euer,

7 Which executeth iustice [e] for the oppressed: which giueth bread to the hungry: the Lorde looseth the prisoners.

8 The Lorde giueth sight to the blinde: the d He encourageth the godly to trust onely in the Lord, both is able to deliuer them from all danger, and for his promes sake his will is most ready to doe it.

e Whose faith & patience for a while he trieth, but at length he punisheth the aduersaries, that he may be knowen to be iudge of the world.

Lord raised vp the crooked: the Lorde f loueth the righteous.

9 The Lorde keepeth the g strangers: he relieueth the fatherlesse & widow: but he ouerthroweth the way of the wicked.

10 The Lorde shall h reigne for euer: O Zion, thy God endureth from generation to generation. Prayse ye the Lord.

f Though he visite them by affliction, hunger, imprisonment, and such like, yet his fatherly loue and pitie neuer faileth them, yea rather to his these are tokens of his loue.

g Meaning, all them that are destitute of worldly meanes and succour. h Hee assureth the Church that God reigneth for euer for the preseruation of the same.

PSAL. CXLVII.

1 The Prophet prayseth the bountie, wisdome, power, iustice and prouidence of God vpon all his creatures, 2 But specially vpon his Church, which he gathereth togither after their dispersion, 19 Declaring his worde and iudgements so vnto them, as he hath done to none other people.

PRayse ye the Lorde, for it is good to sing vnto our God: for it is a a pleasant thing, and praise is comely.

2 The Lord doeth build vp b Ierusalem, and gather together the dispersed of Israel.

3 He healeth those that are c broken in heart, and bindeth vp their sores.

4 He d counteth the number of the starres, and calleth them all by their names.

5 Great is our Lord, and great is his power: his wisedome is infinite.

6 The Lord releeueth the meeke, and abaseth the wicked to the e ground.

7 Sing vnto the Lord with praise: sing vpon the harpe vnto our God,

8 Which f couereth the heauen with cloudes, and prepareth raine for the earth, and maketh the grasse to growe vpon the mountaines:

9 Which giueth to beastes their foode, and to the yong rauens that g crie.

10 He hath not pleasure in the h strength of an horse, neither delighteth he in the legs of man.

11 But the Lorde deliteth in them that feare him, and attend vpon his mercie.

12 Praise the Lorde, O Ierusalem: prayse thy God O Zion.

13 For he hath made the barres of thy gates i strong, and hath blessed thy childre within thee.

14 He setteth peate in thy borders, and satisfieth thee with the † floure of wheate.

15 He sendeth foorth his k commandement vpon earth, and his worde runneth very l swiftly.

16 He giueth snowe like wooll, and scattereth the hoare frost like ashes.

17 He casteth foorth his yce like morsels: who can abide the colde thereof?

18 He sendeth his worde and melteth them: he causeth his winde to blow, and the waters to flow.

19 He sheweth his m word vnto Iacob, his statutes and his iudgements vnto Israel.

20 He hath not dealt so with euery nation, neither haue they n knowen his iudgements. Praise ye the Lord.

a He sheweth wherein we ought to exercise our selues continually, and to take our pastime: to wit, in praysing God. b Because the Lord is the founder of the Church, it cannot be destroyed, though the members thereof be dispersed, and seeme, as it were for a time to be cut off. c With affliction, or sorow for sinne. d Though it seeme to man incredible, that God should assemble his Church, being so dispersed, yet nothing can be too hard to him, that can nomber and name all the starres. e For the more high that the wicked clime, the greater is their fall in the ende. f He sheweth by the examples of Gods mightie power, goodnesse and wisedome, that we can neuer want most iust occasion to praise God.

g For their crying is as it were a confession of their needs, which cannot be releeued, but by God onely: then if God shewe himselfe mindfull of the most contemptible soules, can he suffer them to die with famine, whome he hath assured of life euerlasting? h Though to vse lawfull meanes is both profitable and pleaseth God, yet to put our trust in them, is to defraude God of his honour. i He doeth not onely furnish his Church with all things necessarie, but preserueth also the same, and maketh it strong against all outwarde force. † Ebr. fat. k His secrete working in all creatures is as a commandement to keepe them in order, and to giue them moouing and force. l For immediately and without resisting all things obey him. m As before he called Gods secret working in all his creatures his worde: so he meaneth here by his worde, the doctrine of life euerlasting, which he hath left to his Church, as a most precious treasure. n The cause of his difference is Gods free mercie, which hath elected his in his sonne Christ Iesus to saluation: and his iust iudgement, whereby he hath appointed the reprobate to eternal damnation.

PSAL. XLVIII.

1 He prouoketh all creatures to prayse the Lord in heauen and earth and all places, 14 Specially his Church, for the power that he hath giuen to the same, after that he had chosen them and ioyned them vnto him.

¶ Prayse ye the Lord.

PRayse ye the Lord from the heauen: prayse ye him in the high places.

2 Prayse ye him, all ye a his Angels: praise him, all his armie.

3 Prayse ye him, b sunne and moone: prayse ye him all bright starres.

4 Prayse ye him, c heauens of heauens, and d waters, that be aboue the heauens.

5 Let them prayse the Name of the Lord: for he commanded, and they were created.

6 And hee hath established them for euer and euer: he hath made an ordinance, which shall not passe.

7 Prayse ye the Lord from the earth, ye e dragons and all depths:

8 f Fire and haile, snowe and vapours, stormie winde, which execute his worde:

9 Mountaines and all hils, fruitefull trees and all cedars:

10 Beasts and all cattell, creeping things and fethered foules:

11 g Kings of the earth and all people, princes and all iudges of the world:

12 Yong men and maidens, also olde men and children:

13 Let them prayse the Name of the Lord: for his Name onely is to be exalted, and his prayse aboue the earth and the heauens.

14 For he hath exalted the h horne of his people, which is a prayse for all his Saints, euen for the i children of Israel, a people that is neere vnto him. Prayse ye the Lord.

a Because they are members of the same body, he setteth them before our eyes, which are most willing hereunto, and by their prompt obedience teache vs to doe our duetie. b In that Gods glory shineth in these insensible creatures, this their beautie is as a continuall praysing of God. c Not that there are diuers heauēs, but because of the spheres and of the situation of the fixed starres and planets, he comprehendeth by this worde the whole heauen. d That is, the raine, which is in the middle region of the aire, which he here comprehendeth vnder the name of the heauens. e Meaning, the great and monstrous fishes, as whales and such like. f Which come not by chance or fortune, but by Gods appointed ordinance. g For the greater giftes that any hath receiued, and the more high that one is preferred, the more bound is he to praise God for the same: but neither high nor lowe condition or degree can be exempted from this duetie. h That is, the dignitie, power and glory of his Church. i By reason of his couenāt made with Abraham.

PSAL. CXLIX.

1 An exhortation to the Church to praise the Lorde for his victorie and conquest, that he giueth his Saintes against all mans power.

¶ Prayse ye the Lorde.

SIng ye vnto the Lorde a newe song: let his prayse be heard in the Congregation of Saints.

2 Let Israel reioyce in him that b made him, and let y children of Zion reioyce in their c King.

3 Let them prayse his Name with † flute: let them sing prayses vnto him with the timbrel & harpe.

4 For the Lorde hath pleasure in his people: he will make the meeke glorious by deliuerance.

5 Let the Saintes be ioyfull with glory: let them sing loud vpon their d beds.

6 Let the high Actes of GOD bee in their mouth, and the two edged sworde in their hands, a For his rare and manifolde benefites bestowed on his Church. b In that that they were preferred before all other nations, it was as a newe creation, and therefore Psalme 95.7. they were called the sheepe of Gods handes. c For God as he is the Creator of the soule and bodie, so will he that both two serue him, and that his people be continually subiect vnto him, as to their most lawfull King. d He alludeth to that continuall rest and quietnesse, which they should haue, if they would suffer God to rule them. e This is chiefly accomplished in the kingdome of Christ, when Gods people for iust causes execute Gods iudgements against his enemies: and it giueth no libertie to any to reuenge their priuate injuries. f Not onely the people, but the kings that were their enemies, should be destroyed.

PSAL. CL.

1 An exhortation to praiſe the Lord without ceaſe by all maner of wayes for all his mightie and wonderfull workes.

¶ Prayſe ye the Lord.

PRayſe ye God in his a Sanctuarie: prayſe yee him in the b firmament of his power.

2 Prayſe ye him in his mightie Actes: prayſe ye him according to his excellent greatneſſe.

3 Prayſe ye him in the ſound of the c trumpet: prayſe ye him vpon the viole and the harpe.

4 Praiſe ye him with timbrell and flute: prayſe ye him with virginals and organs.

5 Prayſe yee him with ſounding cymbales: prayſe ye him with high ſounding cymbales.

6 Let euery thing that hath d breath prayſe the Lorde. Prayſe ye the Lord.

a That is, in the heauen.
b For his wonderfull power appeareth in the firmament, which in Ebrew is called a ſtretching out, or ſpreading abroade, wherein the mightie worke of God ſhineth.
c Ehorting the people only to reioyce in praying God, he maketh mention of thoſe inſtruments which by Gods commandement were appoynted in the old Lawe, but vnder Chriſt the vſe thereof is aboliſhed in the Church.
d He ſheweth that all the order of nature is bound to this duety, and much more Gods children, who ought neuer to ceaſe to prayſe him, till they be gathered into that kingdome, which he hath prepared for his, where they ſhall ſing euerlaſting prayſe.

THE * PROVERBES OF SALOMON.

* This word Prouerbe, or parable ſignifieth a graue and notable ſentence, worthie to be kept in memorie: and is ſometime taken in the euill part for a mocke or ſcoffe.

THE ARGVMENT.

THe wonderful loue of God toward his Church is declared in this booke: foraſmuch as the ſumme & effect of the whole Scriptures is here ſet foorth in theſe briefe ſentences, which partly containe doctrine, and partly maners, and alſo exhortations to both: Whereof the nine firſt Chapters are as a preface full of graue ſentẽces, & deepe myſteries, to allure the hearts of men to the diligẽt reading of the parables that follow: which are left as a moſt precious iewel to the Church, of thoſe three thouſand p rables mentioned 1. King. 4. 32. & were gathered & cõmitted to writing by Salomons ſeruants & indued by him.

CHAP. I.

1 The power and vſe of the word of God. 7 Of the feare of God and knowledge of his worde. 10 Wee may not conſent to the enticing of ſinners. 20 Wiſedome complaineth that ſhe is contemned. 24 The puniſhment of them that contemne her.

THe Parables of Salomon the ſonne of Dauid King of Iſrael,

2 To know wiſdome, a and inſtruction, to vnderſtand the words b of knowledge,

3 To receiue c inſtruction to do wiſely, by d iuſtice and iudgement and equitie,

4 To giue vnto the e ſimple, ſharpenes of wit, and to the childe knowledge and diſcretion.

5 A wiſe man ſhall heare and increaſe in learning, and a man of f vnderſtanding ſhall attaine vnto wiſe counſels,

6 To vnderſtand a parable, & the interpretation, the words of the wiſe, & their darke ſayings.

7 ¶ * The feare of the Lord is the beginning of knowledge: but fooles deſpiſe wiſedome and inſtruction.

8 My ſonne, heare thy g fathers inſtruction, and forſake not thy h mothers teaching.

9 For they ſhalbe † a comely ornament vnto thine head, and as chaines for thy necke.

10 ¶ My ſonne, i if ſinners do intiſe thee, conſent thou not.

11 If they ſay, Come with vs, we wil lay waite for k blood, and lie priuily for the innocent without a cauſe:

12 We wil ſwallow them vp aliue like a l graue euen whole, as thoſe that go downe into the pit:

13 We ſhal find all precious riches, and fill our houſes with ſpoyle:

14 Caſt in thy lot among vs: we will all haue one m purſe:

15 My ſonne, walke not thou in the way with them: reſtraine thy foote from their n path.

a That is, what we ought to know and follow, and what we ought to refuſe.
b Meaning, the worde of God wherein is the onely true knowledge.
c To learne to ſubmit our ſelues to the correction of thoſe that are wiſe.
d By liuing iuſtly, and rendring to euery man that which appertaineth vnto him.
e To ſuch as haue not diſcretion to rule themſelues.
f As he ſheweth that theſe parables conteyning the effect of religion as touching maners and doctrine doe appertaine to the ſimple people: ſo doeth he declare that the ſame is alſo neceſſarie for them that are wiſe and learned.
* Pſal 111. 10. Eccles. 1. 16.
g He ſpeaketh this in the Name of God, which is the vniuerſall Father of all creatures, or in the name of the paſtor of the Church, who is as a father.
h That is, of the Church, wherein the faithful are begotten by the incorruptible ſeede of Gods worde. † Ebr. Increaſe of grace.
i To wit, the wicked which haue not the feare of God.
k He ſpeaketh not onely of the ſhedding of blood with hand, but of all craftie practiſes which tend to the detriment of our neighbour.
l As the graue is neuer ſatiate, ſo the auarice of the wicked and their cruelnes hath none end.
m He ſheweth whereby the wicked are allured to ioyne together, becauſe they haue euery one part of the ſpoyle of the innocent.
n That is, haue nothing at all to doe with them.

16 For their feete run to euill, and make haſte to ſhed blood.

17 Certainely as without cauſe the net is ſpred before the eyes of all that hath wing:

18 So they lay waite for blood and lie priuily for o their liues.

19 Such are the wayes of euery one that is greedie of gaine: he would take away the p life of the owners thereof.

20 ¶ q Wiſdome cryeth without: ſhe vttereth her voyce in the r ſtreetes.

21 Shee calleth in the hye ſtreete, among the preaſe in the entrings of the gates, and vttereth her wordes in the citie, ſaying, 22 O ye ſ fooliſh, howe long will ye loue fooliſhnes? and the ſcornefull take their pleaſure in ſcorning? and the fooles hate knowledge?

23 (Turne you at my correction: loe, I will powre out my minde vnto you, and make you vnderſtand my words)

24 Becauſe I haue called, & ye refuſed: I haue ſtretched out mine hand, & none would regarde.

25 But yee haue deſpiſed all my counſell, and would none of my correction.

26 I will alſo t laugh at your deſtruction, and mocke when your feare commeth,

27 When u your feare commeth like ſudden deſolation, and your deſtruction ſhall come like a whirle winde: when affliction and anguiſh ſhall come vpon you,

28 Then ſhall they call vpon me, but I will not anſwere: they ſhall ſeeke me earely, but they ſhall not x finde me, 29 Becauſe they hated knowledge, and did not chuſe the feare of the Lord.

30 They would none of my counſel, but y deſpiſed all my correction.

31 Therefore ſhal they eate of z the fruit of their owne way, and be filled with their owne deuiſes.

32 For a eaſe ſlayeth the fooliſh, and the proſperitie of fooles deſtroyeth them.

33 But he that obeyeth me, ſhall dwell ſafely, and be quiet from feare of euill.

o He ſheweth that there is no cauſe to moue theſe wicked to ſpoyle the innocent, but their owne rice and cruelnie.
p Whereby he concludeth that the couetous man is a murtherer.
q This wiſdome is the eternall word of God.
r So that none can pretend ignorance.
ſ Wiſdome reproueth three kinds of men: the fooliſh or ſimple which erre of ignorance, and the mockers that cannot ſuffer to be taught, and the fooles which are drowned in worldly luſtes, and hate the knowledge of godlineſſe.
t This is ſpoken according to our capacitie, ſignifying that the wicked, which mocke and ieſt at Gods word, ſhall haue the iuſt reward of their mocking.
u That is your deſtruction, which thing you feared.
x Becauſe they ſought not with an affection to God, but for eaſe of their owne griefe.
y Shewing that without faith and obedience, we can not call vpon God aright.
z They ſhall feele what commoditie their wicked life ſhall giue them.
a That is, the proſperitie, and fooliſh aliſe, wherein they delite.

20 Therefore walke thou in the way of good men, and keepe the waies of the righteous.
21 For the iust shal dwel in the o land, and the vpright men shall remaine in it.
22 But the wicked shall be cut off from the earth, & the transgressors shalbe rooted out of it.

To them that are dead in bodie and soule. o They shal enioy the temporall and spirituall promises of God, as the wicked shalbe voyde of thē.

CHAP. III.

1 The worde of God giueth life. 5 Trust in God. 7 Feare him. 9 Honour him. 11 Suffer his correction. 22 To them that followe the worde of God, all things succeede well.

MY sonne, forget not thou my Lawe, but let thine heart * keepe my commandements.
2 For they shall increase the length of thy a dayes and the yeeres of life, and thy prosperitie.
3 Let not b mercie and trueth forsake thee: binde them on thy c necke, and write them vpon the table of thine d heart.
4 So shalt thou finde fauour and good vnderstanding in the sight of GOD and man.
5 ¶ Trust in the Lorde with all thine heart, and leane not vnto thine owne wisedome.
6 In all thy wayes acknowledge him, and he shal direct thy wayes.
7 ¶ Be not wise in thine owne eies: but feare the Lord, and depart from euill.
8 So health shalbe vnto thy e nauel, and marowe vnto thy bones.

*Deu.8.1. & 30.16
a Long life is the blessing of God which he giueth to his, so far foorth as it is expedient for them.
b By mercy and trueth, he meaneth the comandements of the first and second table: or els the mercy & faithfulnes ỹ we ought to vse toward our neighbours.
c Keepe them as a most precious iewell.
d Haue them euer in remembrance.
e By this part hee comprehendeth the whole body, as by health hee meaneth all the benefites promised in the Law both corporall and spirituall.

9 f Honour the Lorde with thy riches, and with thy first fruits of all thine increase.
10 So shal thy barns be filled with abundāce, and thy presses shall g burst with newe wine.
11 ¶ My sonne, refuse not the chastening of the Lord, neither be grieued with his correction.
12 *For the Lorde correcteth him, whom he loueth, euen as the father doeth the child in whom he del teth.
13 Blessed is the man that findeth wisedome, and the man that getteth vnderstanding.
14 For the marchandise thereof is better then the marchandise of siluer, and the gaine thereof is better then golde.
15 It is more precious then pearles: and all things that thou canst desire, are not to be compared vnto her.
16 Length of daies is in her right hand, h and in her left hand riches and glorie.
17 Her wayes are wayes of pleasure, and al her paths prosperitie.
18 She is a tree i of life to them that lay hold on her, and blessed is he that retaineth her.
19 The Lorde by wisedome hath layde the k foundation of the earth, and hath stablished the heauens through vnderstanding.
20 By his knowledge the depths are broken vp, and the clouds drop downe the dewe.
21 My sonne, let not these things depart from thine eyes, but obserue wisedome and counsell.
22 So they shalbe life to thy soule, and grace vnto thy ‖ necke.
23 Then shalt thou walke safely by thy way: and thy foote shall not stumble.
24 If thou sleepest, thou shalt not be afraide: and when thou sleepest, thy sleepe shalbe sweete.
25 Thou shalt not feare for any sudden feare, neither for the l destruction of the wicked, when it commeth.
26 For the Lorde shal be for thine assurance, and shall preserue thy foote from taking.
27 ¶ Withhold not the good from m the owners therof, though there be power in thine hand to do it.
28 Say not vnto thy neighbour, Go and come againe, and to morrowe will I giue thee, if thou now haue it.
29 ¶ Intend none hurt against thy neighbor, seeing he doth dwel n without feare by thee.
30 ¶ Striue not with a man causeles, when he hath done thee no harme.
31 ¶ Be not o enuious for the wicked man, neither chuse any of his wayes.
32 For the froward is abomination vnto the Lord: but his p secret is with the righteous.
33 The curse of the Lorde is in the house of the wicked: but he blesseth the habitation of the righteous.
34 With the scornefull q he scorneth, but hee giueth grace vnto the humble.
35 The wise shall inherite glorie: but fooles dishonour, though they be exalted.

f As was commanded in the Lawe, Exod.23.19. Deut. 26.2. and by this they acknowledged that God was the giuer of all things, & that they were ready to bestow al at his commandement.
g For to the faithful distributer God giueth in greater abundance.
*Heb.12.5. Rev.3.19
h Meaning, that he that seeketh wisedome, that is, suffereth himselfe to be gouerned by the word of God, shall haue all prosperitie both corporall and spirituall.
i Which bringeth foorth such fruits that they that eate thereof, haue life: and he alludeth to the tree of life in paradise.
k Hereby he sheweth that this wisedome, whereof he speaketh, is euerlasting, because it was before all creatures, and that all things, euen the whole world were made by it.
‖ Or, throughout. Gen. Chap. 1.2.
l For when God destroyeth the wicked, he will saue his, as he did Lot in Sodome.
m Not only from them to whom the possession belongeth, but also thou shalt not keepe it from them, which haue need of the vse thereof.
n That is, putteth his trust in thee.
o Desire not to be like vnto him.
p That is, his couenant and fatherly affection which is hid and secret from the world.
q He will shewe by his plagues, that their scornes shall turne to their owne destruction, as Chap.1.24.

CHAP. IIII.

1 Wisedome and her fruites ought to be searched. 14 The way of the wicked must be resisted. 20 By the worde of God the heart, eies and course of life must be guided.

HEare, O ye children, the instruction of a a father, and giue care to learne vnderstanding.

a He speaketh this in the person of a Preacher and Minister which is as a father vnto the people, reade Chapter 1.8.

2 For I do giue you a good doctrine: therefore forsake ye not my lawe.

3 For I was my fathers sonne, tender and deare in the sight of my mother, b Meaning, Dauid his father.

4 When he [b] taught me, and said vnto mee, Let thine heart holde fast my wordes: keepe my commandements, and thou shalt liue.

5 Get wisdome: get vnderstanding: forget not, neither decline from the words of my mouth.

6 Forsake her not, and she shall keepe thee: loue her and she shal preserue thee.

c He sheweth that we must first begin at Gods worde, if so be we wil that other things prosper with vs, contrary to the iudgemēt of ỹ worlde, which make it their last studie, or else, care not for it at all.

7 [c] Wisedome is the beginning: get wisdome therefore: and aboue all thy possession get vnderstanding.

8 Exalt her, and she shal exalt thee: she shall bring thee to honour, if thou embrace her.

9 She shal giue a comely ornamēt vnto thine head, yea she shal giue thee a crowne of glorie.

d Salomon declareth what care his father had to bring him vp in the true feare of God: for this was Dauids professation.

10 ¶ Heare, my sonne, and receiue my words, and the yeeres of thy life shalbe many.

11 I haue [d] taught thee in ỹ way of wisdome, and led thee in the pathes of righteousnesse.

e Thou shalt walk at libertie without offence.

12 When thou goest, thy gate shall not bee [e] strait, & when thou runnest, thou shalt not fall.

13 Take holde of instruction, and leaue not: keepe her, for she is thy life.

14 ¶ Enter not into the way of the wicked, and walke not in the way of euil men.

15 Auoide it, and goe not by it: turne from it, and passe by.

f Meaning, that to doe euill is more proper & naturall to the wicked, thē to sleepe, eate or drinke.

16 For they cannot [f] sleepe, except they haue done euill, and their sleepe departeth except they cause some to fall.

g Gotten by wicked meanes and cruel oppression.

17 For they eate the bread of [g] wickednesse, and drinke the wine of violence.

h Signifying, that the godly increase daily in knowledge & profession, till they come to full perfection, which is, when they shalbe ioyned to their head in the heauens.

18 But the way of the righteous shineth as the light, that [h] shineth more and more vnto the perfite day.

i That is, they shall haue health of body: vnder the which al other blessings promised in the law are contained.

19 The way of the wicked is as the darknes: they know not wherein they shall fall.

k For as the heart is either pure or corrupt, so is the whole course of mans life.

20 ¶ My sonne, hearken vnto my wordes, incline thine eare vnto my sayings.

21 Let them not depart from thine eyes, but keepe them in the middes of thine heart.

22 For they are life vnto those that finde them, and health vnto all their [i] flesh.

l Keepe a measure in all thy doings.

23 Keepe thine heart with all diligence: for thereout commeth [k] life.

24 Put away from thee a froward mouth, and put wicked lippes farre from thee.

25 Let thine eyes beholde the right, and let thine eye liddes direct thy way before thee.

26 [l] Ponder the path of thy feete, and let all thy wayes be ordered aright.

27 Turne not to the right hande, nor to the left, but remooue thy foote from euill.

CHAP. V.

3 Whoredome forbidden, 9 And prodigalitie. 15 He willeth a man to liue on his labours and to helpe others. 18 To loue his wife. 22 The wicked taken in their owne wickednesse.

MY sonne, hearken vnto my wisdome, and incline thine eare vnto my ‖ knowledge, ‖ Or, vnderstanding.

2 That thou mayest regard counsel, and thy lippes obserue knowledge.

a That is, an harlot which giueth her selfe to another then to her husband.

b By oile and honie he meaneth flattering & craftie intisements.

3 For the lips [a] of a strange woman drop as an hony combe, & her mouth is more soft thē [b] oile, c All her doings leade to destruction.

4 But the end of her is bitter as wormwood, and sharpe as a two edged sword.

5 Her [c] feete goe downe to death, and her steps take holde on hell,

6 She weigheth not the way of life: her paths are [d] mouueable: thou canst not know them.

d She hath euer new meanes to allure to wickednes.

7 Heare yee me now therefore, O children, and depart not from the words of my mouth.

8 Keepe thy way farre from her, and come not neere the doore of her house, e That is, thy strength & goods to her that will haue no pitie vpon thee: as it is read of Samson, and the prodigall sonne.

9 Lest thou giue thine [e] honor vnto others, and thy yeeres to the cruell:

f The goodes gotten by thy trauell.

10 Lest the stranger should be filled with thy strength, and thy [f] labours bee in the house of a stranger, g Although I was faithfully instructed in the truth, yet had I almost fallen to vtter shame, and destruction, notwithstanding my good bringing vp in the assembly of the godly.

11 And thou mourne at thine end, (whē thou hast consumed thy flesh and thy body)

12 And say, How haue I hated instruction, and mine heart despised correction!

13 And haue not obeyed the voyce of them that taught mee, nor inclined mine eare to them that instructed me!

14 I was almost brought into all euill in the mids of the Congregation and [g] assemblie.

h He teacheth vs sobrietie, exhorting vs to liue of our owne labours and to be beneficiall to the godlie that want.

15 ¶ Drinke the water of [h] thy cisterne, & of the riuers out of the mids of thine owne well.

i Distribute them not to the wicked and infidels, but reserue them for thy selfe, thy familie, and them that are of the household of faith.

16 Let thy fountaines flow foorth, and the riuers of waters in the streetes.

17 But let them be thine, euen [i] thine onely, and not the strangers with thee.

k Thy children which shall come of thee in great abundance, shewing that God blesseth marriage, and curseth whoredome.

18 Let thy [k] fountaine be blessed, and reioice with the wife of thy [l] youth.

l Which thou didest marrie in thy youth.

19 Let her be as the louing hind and pleasant roe: let her breasts satisfie thee at all times, and delite in her loue continually.

‖ Or, goe astray with a stranger?

20 For why shouldest thou ‖ delite, my sonne, in a strange woman, or embrace the bosome of a stranger?

m He declareth that except man doe ioyne to his wife both in heart and in outward conuersation, that hee shall not escape the iudgements of God.

21 For the wayes of man are before the [m] eies of the Lord, and he pondereth all his paths.

n Because he will not giue eare to Gods worde and be admonished.

22 His owne iniquities shall take the wicked himselfe, and he shall be holden with the cordes of his owne sinne.

23 He shal [n] die for fault of instruction, and shall goe astray through his great follie.

CHAP. VI.

1 Instruction for sureties. 6 The slouthfull and sluggish is stirred to worke. 12 He describeth the nature of the wicked. 16 The things that God hateth. 20 To obserue the word of God. 24 To flee aduulterie.

MY sonne, if thou be suretie for thy neighbor, and hast striken hands with the stranger, a He forbiddeth vs not to become suretie one for an other, according to the rule of charitie, but that we cōsider for whom and after what sort, so that the creditour may not be defrauded.

2 Thou art [a] snared with the wordes of thy mouth: thou art euen taken with the wordes of thine owne mouth.

3 Doe this nowe, my sonne, and deliuer thy selfe: seeing thou art come into the hand of thy neighbour, go, and humble thy selfe, and solicite thy friends.

4 Giue no sleepe to thine eyes, nor slumber to thine eielids.

5 Deliuer thy selfe as a doe from ỹ hand of the hunter, and as a bird from the hand of the fouler.

b If the worde of God cannot instruct thee, yet learne at the little pismire to labour for thy selfe and not to burden others.

6 ¶ Go to [b] the pismire, O sluggard: behold her waies, and be wise.

7 For she hauing no guide, gouernour, nor ruler,

8 Prepareth her meate in the summer, and gathereth her foode in haruest.

9 How long wilt thou sleepe, O sluggarde? when when wilt thou arise out of thy sleepe?

10 * For a little sleepe, a little slumber, c a litle folding of the hands to sleepe.

11 Therefore thy powertie commeth as one that d trauaileth by the way, and thy necessitie like e an armed man.

12 The vnthriftie man f and the wicked man walketh with a froward mouth.

13 He maketh a signe with his eyes: he † signifieth with his feet: he instructeth with his fingers.

14 Lewd things are in his heart: he imagineth euill at all times, and raiseth vp contentions.

15 Therefore shall his destruction come speedily: he shall be destroyed suddenly without recouerie.

16 ¶ These sixe things doeth the Lorde hate: yea, his soule abhorreth seuen:

17 The hautie eyes, a lying tongue, and the hands that shed innocent blood,

18 An heart that imagineth wicked enterprises, h feete that be swift in running to mischiefe, 19 A false witnesse that speaketh lyes, and him that raiseth vp contentions among ‖ brethren.

20 ¶ My sonne, keepe thy fathers commandement, and forsake not thy mothers instruction.

21 Binde them alway vpon thine i heart, and tye them about thy necke.

22 It shall leade thee, when thou walkest: it shall watch for thee when thou sleepest, and when thou wakest, it shall talke with thee.

23 For the k commandement is a lanterne, and instruction a light: and l corrections for instruction are the way of life,

24 To keepe thee from the wicked woman, & from the flattery of † tongue of a strange woman, 25 Desire not her beautie in thine heart, neither let her take thee with her m eye lids.

26 For because of the whorish woman a man is brought to a morsell of bread, and a woman will hunt for the precious life of a man.

27 n Can a man take fire in his bosome, and his clothes not be burnt?

28 Or can a man go vpon coales, and his feete not be burnt?

29 So he that goeth in to his neighbours wife, shall not be innocent, whosoeuer toucheth her.

30 Men doe not o despise a thiefe, when he stealeth, to satisfie his p soule, because he is hungrie.

31 But if he be founde, he shall restore seuen fold, or he shal giue al the substance of his house.

32 But he that committeth adultery with a woman, he † is destitute of vnderstanding: he that doeth it, destroyeth his owne soule.

33 He shall finde q a wounde and dishonour, and his reproch shall neuer be put away.

34 For iealousie is the rage of a man: therefore he will not r spare in the day of vengeance.

35 He cannot beare the sight of any raunsome: neither will he consent, though thou augment the giftes.

o Chap.24.33.

c He expresseth liuely the nature of the sluggards, which though they sleepe neuer so long, yet haue neuer ynough, but ouer seeke occasion thereunto.

d That is, suddenly, and when thou lookest not for it.

e It shall come in such sort as thou art not able to resist it.

f He sheweth to what inconuenience the idle persons and sluggards come, by calling them vnthriftie, or the men of Belial, and slanderous.

g Thus all his gesture tendeth to wickednesse.

h Meaning, the raging affections, which cary a man away in such sort that he cannot tell what he doeth.

‖ Or, neighbours.

i Reade Chap. 3.3.

k By the commandement he meaneth the worde of God: and by the instruction, the preaching and declaration of the same, which is committed to the Church.

l And reprehensions when the worde is preached bring vs to life.

m With her wanton lookes and gesture.

n Meaning, that thee will neuer cease, till she haue brought thee to beggerie, and then seeke thy destruction.

o He prooueth not theft, but sheweth that it is not so abhominable as whoredome, forasmuch as theft might be redeemed: but adulterie was a perpetuall infamie, and death by the lawe of God.

p Meaning, for very necessitie.

† Hebr. faileth in heart.

q That is, death appointed by the Lawe.

r He sheweth that man by nature seeketh his death, that hath abused his wife, & so concludeth that neither Gods Lawe nor the Law of nature admitteth any ransome for the adulterie.

CHAP. VII.

1 An exhortation to wisedome and to the worde of God, 5 Which will preserue vs from the harlot, 6 Whose manners are described.

MY sonne, keepe my words, and hide my commandements with thee.

2 Keepe my commandements, and thou shalt liue, & mine instruction as the apple of thine eye.

3 Binde them vpon thy fingers, and write them vpon the table of thine heart.

4 Say vnto wisedome, thou art my sister: and call vnderstanding thy kinswoman,

5 That they may keepe thee from the strange woman, euen from the stranger that is smooth in her wordes.

6 ¶ b As I was in the window of mine house, I looked through my window,

7 And I sawe among the fooles, and considered among the children a yong man destitute of vnderstanding,

8 Who passed through the streete by her corner, and went toward her house,

9 In the twilight in the euening, when the night began to be c blacke and darke.

10 And behold, there met him a woman with an harlots ‖ behauiour, and ‖ subtill in heart.

11 (She d is babling and loud: whose feete can not abide in her house.

12 Now she is without, nowe in the streetes, and lyeth in waite at euery corner)

13 So she caught him & kissed him and † with an impudent face said vnto him, 14 I haue e peace offerings: this f day haue I payed my vowes.

15 Therefore came I foorth to meete thee, that I might seeke thy face: and I haue found thee.

16 I haue deckt my bed with ornaments, ‖ carpets and laces of Egypt.

17 I haue perfumed my bedde with myrrhe, aloes, and cynamom.

18 Come, let vs take our fill of loue vntill the morning: let vs take our pleasure in daliance.

19 For mine husbande is not at home: hee is gone a iourney farre off.

20 He hath taken † with him a bagge of siluer, and will come home at the day appointed.

21 Thus with her great craft she caused him to yeeld, and with her flattering lips she entised him.

22 And he followed her straightwayes, as an oxe that goeth to the slaughter, and h as a foole to the stockes for correction,

23 Till a dart strike through his liuer, as a bird hasteth to the snare, not knowing that † hee is in danger.

24 ¶ Heare me now therefore, O children, and hearken to the wordes of my mouth.

25 Let not thine heart decline to her wayes: wander thou not in her paths.

26 For shee hath caused many to fall downe wounded, & the i strong men are al slaine by her.

27 Her house is the way *vnto † graue, which goeth downe to the chambers of death.

a By this discretion of wordes I do meane that nothing ought to be so deare vnto vs, as the wordes of God, not that we looke on any thing more, nor made any thing so much.

b Salomon vseth this parable to declare their follie, that suffer themselues to be abused by harlots.

c He sheweth that there was almost none so impudent, but they were afraide to be seene, & also their owne consciences did accuse them which caused them to seeke the night to couer their filthinesse.

‖ Or, garment.

d He describeth certaine conditions, which are peculiar to harlots.

† Ebr. she fortified her face.

e Because that in peace offerings a portion returned to them that offered, she sheweth him that she hath meate at home to make good cheere with: or els she woulde vse some cloke of holinesse till she had gotten him in her trappes.

f Which declareth that harlots outwardly will seeme holy and religious: both because they may the better deceiue others, and also thinking by obseruing of ceremonies and offerings to make satisfaction for their sinnes.

‖ Or, we need not be.

g Which thinking he goeth to the pasture, goeth willingly to his owne destruction.

h Which goeth carelessly, not knowing that he shall be snareed.

† Ebr. it is for his life.

i Neither wit nor strength can deliuer them that fall into the hands of the harlot. * Chap.2.18.

CHAP. VIII.

1 Wisedome declareth her excellencie, 11 Riches, 15 Power, 22 Eternitie. 32 She exhorteth all to loue and follow her.

DOeth * not a wisedome crie? and vnderstanding vtter her voyce?

2 Shee standeth in the top of the high places by the way in the place of the paths.

3 She cryeth besides b the gates before the citie at the entrie of the doores.

4 O men, I call vnto you, and vtter my voyce to the children of men.

* Chap.1.20.

a Salomon declareth that man is cause of his owne perdition, and that he can pretend no ignorance, forasmuch as God teacheth vs plainely by his worde, and by his workes.

b Where the people did most resort, and which was the place of iustice.

e Meaning, that the wordes of God is easie vnto all, that haue a desire vnto it, and which are not blinded by the prince of this worlde.

d That is, except a man haue wisedome, which is the true knowlege of God, he can neither be prudent nor good counseller.

e So that he that doeth not feare euill, feareth not God.

f Whereby he declareth that honors, dignitie or riches come not of mans wisedome or industrie, but by the prouidence of God.

g That is, study the word of God diligently, and with a desire to profite.

h Signifying, that he chiefly meaneth the spirituall treasures and heauenly riches.

i For there can be no true iustice or iudgement, which is not directed by this wisedome.

k He declareth hereby the diuinitie and eternitie of this wisedome, which he magnifieth and prayseth through this booke: meaning thereby the eternall sonne of God Iesus Christ our Sauiour whome Saint Iohn calleth the worde that was in the beginning, Ioh. 1.1.

l He declareth the eternitie of the Sonne of God, which is meant by this worde Wisedome, who was before all time, and euer present with the Father.

m Some reade a chiefe worker: signifying that this Wisedome, euen Christ Iesus, was equall with God his father, and created, preserueth & still worketh with him, as Iohn 5.17.

n Whereby is declared that the worke of the creation was no paine, but a solace vnto the wisedome of God.

o By earth he meaneth man, which is the worke of God in whome wisedome tooke pleasure: in so much as for mans sake the Diuine wisdome tooke mans nature, and dwelt among vs, and filled vs with vnspeakeable treasures: and this is that solace and pastime whereof is here spoken.

5 O ye foolish men, vnderstande wisedome, and ye, O fooles, be wise in heart.

6 Giue eare, for I will speake of excellent things, and the opening of the lippes shall teache things that be right.

7 For my mouth shall speake the trueth, and my lippes abhorre wickednesse.

8 All the wordes of my mouth are righteous: there is no lewdenesse, nor frowardnesse in them.

9 They are all e plaine to him that will vnderstande, and straight to them that woulde finde knowledge.

10 Receiue mine instruction, and not siluer, and knowledge rather then fine golde.

11 For wisdome is better then precious stones: and all pleasures are not to be compared vnto her.

12 I wisedome dwel with d prudence, and I find forth knowledge and counsels.

13 The feare of the Lorde is to hate e euill, as pride, and arrogancie, and the euill way: and a mouth that speaketh lewde things, I doe hate.

14 I haue counsell and wisedome: I am vnderstanding, and I haue strength.

15 By me, Kings f reigne, and princes decree iustice.

16 By me princes rule, and the nobles, and all the iudges of the earth.

17 I loue them that loue me: and they that seeke me g earely, shall finde me.

18 Riches and honour are with me: h euen durable riches and righteousnesse.

19 My fruite is better then gold, euen then fine golde, and my reuenues better then fine siluer.

20 I cause to walke in the way of righteousnes, and in the middes of the paths of i iudgement, 21 That I may cause them that loue me, to inherite substance, and I will fill their treasures.

22 The Lord hath possessed me in the beginning of his way: I was k before his workes of old.

23 I was set vp from euerlasting, from the beginning and before the earth.

24 When there were no depths, was I begotten, when there were no fountaines abounding with water.

25 Before the mountaines were setled: and before the hilles, was I begotten.

26 He had not yet made the earth, nor the open places, nor the height of the dust in the worlde.

27 When he prepared ẏ heauens, I was l there, when he set the compasse vpon the deepe.

28 When hee established the cloudes aboue, when he confirmed the fountaines of the deepe,

29 When he gaue his decree to the Sea, that the waters shoulde not passe his commandement: when he appointed the foundations of the earth,

30 Then was I with him m as a nourisher, and I was dayly his delight reioycing alway before him, 31 And tooke my n solace in the compasse of his earth: and my delite is with the children of men.

32 Therefore nowe hearken, O children, vnto me: for blessed are they that keepe my wayes.

33 Heare instruction, and be ye wise, and refuse it not: blessed is the man that heareth mee, watching dayly at my gates, & giuing attendance at the postes of my doores.

34 For he that findeth me, findeth life, and shal obteine fauour of the Lord.

35 But he that sinneth against me hurteth his owne soule: and all that hate me, loue death.

CHAP. IX.

2 Wisedome calleth all to her feast. 7 The scorner will not bee corrected. 10 The feare of God. 13 The conditions of the harlot.

WIsedome hath built her a house, and hewen out her b seuen pillars.

a Christ hath prepared him a Church.

2 Shee hath killed her vitailes, drawen her wine, and c prepared her table.

b That is, many chiefe staies and principall parts of his Church, as were the Patriarkes, Prophets, Apostles, Pastors, and Doctors.

3 She hath sent foorth her d maidens and cryeth vpon the highest places of the citie, saying,

4 Who so is e simple, let him come hither, and to him that is destitute of wisedome, she saith, c He compareth wisedome with great princes that keepe open house for all that come.

5 Come, and eate of my f meate, and drinke of the wine that I haue drawen.

6 Forsake your way, yee foolish, and yee shall liue: and walke in the way of vnderstanding.

d Meaning true preachers, which are not infected with mans wisedome.

7 He that reproueth a scorner, purchaseth to himselfe shame: and he that rebuketh the wicked, getteth himselfe a g blot.

e He that knoweth his owne ignorance, and is voyde of malice.

8 Rebuke not a h scorner, least hee hate thee: but rebuke a wise man, and he will loue thee.

f By the meate and drinke, is meant the worde of God and the ministration of the sacraments, whereby God comforteth his seruants in his house, which is the Church.

9 Giue admonition to the wise, and he will be the wiser: teach a righteous man, and he will increase in learning.

g For the wicked will contemne him and labour to defame him.

10 The beginning of wisedome is the feare of the Lorde, and the knowledge of holy things, is i vnderstanding.

h Meaning them that are incorrigible, which Christ calleth dogges and swine: or he speaketh this in comparison, not that the wicked should not be rebuked, but he sheweth their malice, and the small hope of profite.

11 For thy dayes shalbe multiplied by me, and the yeeres of thy life shalbe augmented.

12 If thou be wise, thou shalt be wise for k thy selfe, and if thou be a scorner, thou alone shalt suffer.

i He sheweth what true vnderstanding is, to knowe the will of God in his worde, which is meant by holy things.

13 ¶ A l foolish woman is troublesome: she is ignorant, and knoweth nothing.

k Thou shalt haue the chiefe profite and commoditie thereof.

14 But she sitteth at the doore of her house on a seate in the hie places of the citie, l By the foolish woman, some vnderstand the wicked preachers, who counterfaite the worde of God, as appeareth verse 16, which were the wordes of the true preachers, as verse 4: but their doctrine is but as stollen waters: meaning that they are but mens traditions, which are more pleasant to the flesh then the worde of God: and therefore they themselues boast thereof.

15 To call them that passe by the way, that go right on their way, saying,

16 Who so is simple, let him come hither, & to him that is destitute of wisedome, she saith also,

17 Stollen waters are sweete, and hid bread is pleasant.

18 But he knoweth not, that ẏ dead are there, and that her ghests are in the depth of hell.

CHAP. X.

In this Chapter and all that followe vnto the thirtieth, the wise man exhorteth by diuers sentences, which hee calleth Parables to followe vertue, and flee vice: and also sheweth what profite commeth of wisedome, and what hinderance proceedeth of foolishnes.

i Meaning, abundance of all things.
k Wisdome ouercommeth strength and confidence in worldly things.
l He chargeth him that liue by wishing and desiring all things, but will take no paine to get ought.

27 The * sacrifice of the wicked is an abomination: how much more when he bringeth it with a wicked minde?

28 * A false witnesse shall perish: but he that heareth, m speaketh continually.

29 A wicked man hardeneth his face: but the iust, he will direct his way.

30 There is no wisedome, neyther vnderstanding, nor counsell against the Lord.

31 The horse is prepared against the day of battell: but saluation is of the Lord.

CHAP. XXII.

A * Good name is to be chosen aboue great riches, and a louing fauour is aboue siluer and aboue gold.

2 * The rich and poore b meete together: the Lord is the maker of them all.

3 * A prudent man seeth the c plague, and hideth himselfe: but the fooolish go on still, and are punished.

4 The rewarde of humilitie, and the feare of God is riches, and glory, and life.

5 Thornes and snares are in the way of the frowarde: but he that regardeth his soule, will depart farre from them.

6 Teach a childe d in the trade of his way, and when he is old, he shall not depart from it.

7 The rich ruleth the poore, and the borower is seruant to the man that lendeth.

8 He that soweth iniquitie, shall reape affliction, and the e rod of his anger shall faile.

9 * He that hath a good f eye, he shalbe blessed: for he giueth of his bread vnto the poore.

10 Cast out the scorner, and strife shall go out: so contention and reproch shall cease.

11 Hee that loueth pureneſse of heart for the grace of his lippes, the g King shalbe his friend.

12 The eyes of the Lorde h preserue knowledge: but hee ouerthroweth the wordes of the transgressour.

13 The slouthfull man saith, i A lyon is without, I shall be slaine in the streete.

14 The mouth of strange women is as a deepe pit: he with whom the Lord is angry, k shall fall therein.

15 Foolishnesse is bounde l in the heart of a childe: but the rodde of correction shall driue it away from him.

16 Hee that oppresseth the poore to increase himselfe, and giueth vnto the riche, shall surely come to pouertie.

17 ¶ Incline thine eare, & heare ỹ words of the wise, and apply thine heart vnto my knowledge.

18 For it shalbe pleasant, if thou keepe thē in thy bellie, and if they be directed together in thy lips.

19 That thy confidence may be in m the Lord, I haue shewed thee this day: thou therefore take heede.

20 Haue not I written vnto thee n three times in counsels and knowledge, 21 That I might shewe thee the assurance of the words of trueth to answere the words of truth to them that send to thee?

22 Robbe not the poore, because he is poore, neither oppresse the afflicted † in iudgement.

23 For the Lord * will defend their cause, and spoile the soule of those that spoile them.

24 Make o no friendship with an angry man, neither goe with the furious man, 25 Least thou learne his wayes, and receiue destruction to thy soule.

26 Be not thou of them that p touch the hand, nor among them that are surety for debts.

27 If thou hast nothing to pay, why causest thou that he should take thy bed from vnder thee?

28 Thou shalt not * remoue the auncient bounds which thy fathers haue made.

29 Thou seest that a diligent man in his businesse standeth before Kings, and standeth not before the base sort.

CHAP. XXIII.

WHen thou sittest to eat with a ruler, a consider diligently what is before thee,

2 b And put the knife to thy throte, if thou be a man giuen to the appetite.

3 Be not desirous of his deintie meates: c for it is a deceiuable meate.

4 Trauaile not too much to be rich: but cease from thy d wisdome.

5 Wilt thou cast thine eyes vpon it, which is nothing? for riches taketh her to her wings, as an eagle, and flieth into the heauen.

6 Eate thou not the breade of him that hath an e euill eye, neither desire his deintie meates.

7 For as though he thought it in his heart, so will hee say vnto thee, Eate and drinke: but his heart is not with thee.

8 Thou shalt vomit thy f morsels that thou hast eaten, and thou shalt lose thy sweete words.

9 Speake not in the eares of a foole: for hee will despise the wisedome of thy words.

10 * Remoue not the ancient boundes, and enter not into the fields of the fatherlesse.

11 For he that redeemeth them, is mighty: he will * defend their cause against thee.

12 Applie thine heart to instruction, and thine eares to the words of knowledge.

13 * Withhold not correction from thy child: if thou smite him with the rodde, he shal not die.

14 Thou shalt smite him with the rodde, and shalt deliuer his soule from g hell.

15 My sonne, if thine heart be wise, mine heart shall reioyce, and I also.

16 And my reines shall reioyce, when thy lips speake righteous things.

17 * Let not thine heart bee enuious against sinners: but let it be in the feare of the Lord continually.

18 For surely there is an ende, h and thy hope shall not be cut off.

19 O thou my sonne, heare, and bee wise, and guide thine heart in the i way.

20 Keepe not company with † drunkards, nor with † gluttons.

21 For the drunkard and the g'utton shall be poore, and the sleeper shalbe clothed with ragges.

22 Obey thy father that hath begotten thee, and despise not thy mother when she is old.

23 Buy k the trueth, but sell it not: likewise wisdome, and instruction and vnderstanding.

24 The father of the righteous shal greatly reioyce, and he that begetteth a wise childe, shall haue ioy of him.

25 Thy father and thy mother shall bee glad, and she that bare thee shall reioyce.

26 My sonne, giue mee l thine heart, and let thine eyes delight in my wayes.

i He derideth them that inuent vaine excuses, because they would not do their duties.

k So God punisheth one sinne by another, when he suffereth the wicked to fall into the acquaintance of an harlot.

b Bridle thine appetite, as it were by force and violence.

c For oft times the rich, when they bid their inferiors to their tables, it is not for the loue they beare them, but for their owne secret purposes.

d Bellow not the gifts that god hath giuen thee, to get worldly riches.

e That is, couetous, as contrarie a good eie is taken for liberall, as Chap. 22. 9.

strange woman is as a narrow pit.

28 *Also she lieth in wait as for a pray, [m] and she increaseth the transgressers among men.

29 To whome is woe? to whome is sorow? to whom is strife? to whom is murmuring? to whom are woundes without cause? and to whom is the redneſſe of the eyes?

30 Euen to them that tarie long at the wine, to them that goe, [n] and seeke mixt wine.

31 Looke not thou vpon the wine, when it is red, and when it sheweth his colour in the cup, or goeth downe pleasantly.

32 In the ende thereof it will bite like a serpent, and hurt like a cockatrise.

33 Thine [o] eyes shall looke vpon strange women, and thine heart shall speake lewd things.

34 And thou shalt be as one that sleepeth in the middes of the [p] sea, and as he that sleepeth in the top of the mast.

35 They haue stricken me, shalt thou say, but I was not sicke: they haue beaten mee, but I knew not, when I awoke: therefore will I [q] seeke it yet still.

CHAP. XXIIII.

BEe * not thou enuious against euill men, neither desire to be with them.

2 For their heart imagineth destruction, and their lippes speake mischiefe.

3 Through wisdome is an house builded, and with vnderstanding it is established.

4 And by knowledge shall the chambers be filled with all precious, and pleasant riches.

5 A wise man is strong: for a man of vnderstanding increaseth his strength.

6 *For with counsel thou shalt enterprise thy warre, and in the multitude of them that can giue counsell is health.

7 Wisdome is hie to a foole: therefore he can not open his mouth in the [a] gate.

8 Hee that imagineth to doe euill, men shall call him an authour of wickednesse.

9 The wicked thought of a foole is sinne, and the scorner is an abomination vnto men.

10 If thou be [b] faint in the day of aduersitie, thy strength is small.

11 Deliuer them that are drawen [c] to death: and wilt thou not preserue them [y] are led to be slaine?

12 If thou say, Beholde, we knew not of it: he that pondereth the heartes, doeth not hee vnderstand it? and he that keepeth thy soule, knoweth he it not? will not he also recompense euery man according to his workes?

13 My sonne, eate [d] hony, for it is good, and the hony combe, for it is sweet vnto thy mouth.

14 So shall the knowledge of wisdome be vnto thy soule if thou finde it, and there shall bee an ‖ end, and thine hope shall not be cut off.

15 Lay no wait, O wicked man, against [y] house of the righteous, and spoyle not his resting place.

16 For a iust man [e] falleth seuen times, and riseth againe: but the wicked fall into mischiefe.

17 Be thou not glad when thine enemie falleth, and let not thine heart reioyce when hee stumbleth, 18 Least the Lorde see it, and it displease him, and he turne his wrath [f] from him.

19 *Fret not thy selfe because of the malicious, neither be enuious at the wicked.

20 For there shall bee none ende of plagues to the euill man: * the light of the wicked shall bee put out.

21 My sonne feare the Lord, and the King, and meddle not with them that are seditious.

22 For their destruction shal rise suddenly, and who knoweth the ruine of them [g] both?

23 ALSO THESE THINGS PERTEINE TO THE WISE, It is not good † to haue respect of any person in iudgement.

24 He that saith to the wicked, * Thou art righteous, him shall the people curse, and the multitude shall abhorre him.

25 But to them that rebuke him, shall be pleasure, and vpon them shall come the blessing of goodnesse.

26 They shall kisse the lippes of him that answereth vpright words.

27 Prepare thy worke without, and make readie thy thinges in the fielde, [h] and after, builde thine house.

28 Be not a witnes against thy neighbor without cause: for wilt thou deceiue with thy lippes?

29 *Say not, I wil doe to him, as he hath done to mee, I [i] will recompence euery man according to his worke.

30 I passed by [y] field of the slouthful, & by the vineyard of the man destitute of vnderstanding.

31 And lo, it was al growen ouer with thornes, and nettles had couered the face thereof, and the stone wall thereof was broken downe.

32 Then I beholde, and considered it well: I looked vpon it, and [k] receiued instruction.

33 Yet a litle sleepe, [l] a litle slumber, a litle folding of the hands to sleepe.

34 So thy pouertie commeth as one that trauelleth by the way, and thy necessitie like an armed man.

CHAP. XXV.

1 THESE ARE ALSO PARABLES of Salomon, which the [a] men of Hezekiah King of Iudah [b] copied out.

THE glorie of God is to [c] conceale a thing secret: but the [d] Kings honour is to search out a thing.

3 The heauens in height, & the earth in deepnes, and the [e] Kings heart can no man search out.

4 Take the [f] drosse from the siluer, and there shall proceede a vessell for the finer.

5 Take [g] away the wicked from the King, and his throne shalbe stablished in righteousnesse.

6 Boast not thy selfe before the King, & stand not in the place of great men.

7 *For it is better, that it be said vnto thee, Come vp hither, then thou to be put lower in the presence of the prince whō thine eyes haue seene.

8 Goe not foorth hastily to strife, least thou know not what to doe in the ende therof, when thy neighbour hath put thee to shame.

9 Debate thy matter with thy neighbour, and discouer not the secret to another,

10 Least he that heareth it put thee to shame, and thine infamie doe not [h] cease.

13 He that hideth his sinnes, shall not prosper: but he that confesseth, and forsaketh them, shall haue mercy.

14 Blessed is the man that g feareth alway: but he that hardeneth his heart, shall fall into euill.

15 As a roaring lyon, and an hungry beare, so is h a wicked ruler ouer the poore people.

16 A prince destitute of vnderstanding, is also a great oppressour: but hee that hateth couetousnes, shall prolong his dayes.

17 A man that doeth violence against the blood of a person, shall flee vnto the graue, and they shall not i stay him.

k He will be abused for nothing. l Meaning him that is couetous.

21 To haue respect of persons is not good: for that man will transgresse for a piece of k bread.

22 A man with a wicked l eye hasteth to riches, and knoweth not, that pouertie shall come vpon him.

23 He that rebuketh a man, shall finde more fauour at the length, then he that flattereth with his tongue.

24 Hee that robbeth his father and mother, and sayth, It is no transgression, is the companion of a man that destroyeth.

25 Hee that is of a proude heart, stirreth vp strife: but hee that trusteth in the Lorde, shall bee m fatte.

m Shall haue all things in abundance.

26 Hee that trusteth in his owne heart, is a foole: but he that walketh in wisedome, shall bee deliuered.

27 Hee that giueth vnto the poore, shall not lacke: but he that hideth his eyes, shall haue many curses.

5 A man that flattereth his neighbour, a spreadeth a net for his steps.

6 In the transgression of an euill man is his b snare: but the righteous doeth sing and reioyce.

7 The righteous knoweth the cause of the poore: but the wicked regardeth not knowledge.

10 Bloodie men hate him that is vpright: but the iust haue care of his soule.

11 A foole powreth out all his minde: but a wise man keepeth it in till afterward.

2 To humble our selues in consideration of Gods worke. 5 The worde of God is perfite. 11 Of the wicked and hypocrites. 15 Of things that are neuer satisfie. 18 Of others that are wonderfull.

THE VVORDES OF [a] AGVR THE SONNE OF IAKEH.

THe prophecie which the man spake vnto Ithiel, euen to [b] Ithiel, and Vcal.

2 Surely I am more [c] foolish then any man, and haue not the vnderstanding of a man in me.

3 For I haue not learned wisedome, nor atteined to the knowledge of holy things.

4 Who hath ascended vp to [d] heauē, & descended? Who hath gathered the wind in his fists? Who hath bound the waters in a garment? Who hath established all the ends of the world? What is his name, & what is his sonnes name, if thou canst tel?

5 * Euery worde of God is pure: he is a shield to those that trust in him.

6 * Put nothing vnto his wordes, least hee reproue thee, and thou be found a lyar.

7 Two [e] things haue I required of thee: deny me them not before I die.

8 Remoue farre from mee vanitie and lyes: giue me not pouertie, nor riches: feede mee with foode conuenient for me,

9 Least I be full, & denie thee, and say, [f] Who is the Lorde? or least I be poore and steale, and take the Name of my God in vaine.

10 Accuse not a seruant vnto his master, lest he curse thee, [g] when thou hast offended.

11 There is a generation that curseth their father, and doeth not blesse their mother.

12 There is a generation that are pure in their owne conceite, and yet are not washed from their filthinesse.

13 There is a generation whose eies are hauty, and their eye liddes are lifted vp.

14 There is a generation, whose teeth are as swordes, and their chawes as kniues to eate vp the afflicted out of the earth, and the poore from among men.

[a] Who was an excellent man in vertue and knowledge in the time of Salomon.
[b] Which were Agurs schollers or friendes.

[f] Meaning, that they that put their trust in their riches, forget God, and that by too much wealth men haue an occasion to the same.
[g] In accusing him without cause.

15 The horseleach hath two [h] daughters which crie, Giue, giue. There be three things that wil not be satisfied: yea, foure that say not, It is ynough.

16 The graue, and the barren wombe, the earth that cannot be satisfied with water, and the fire that saith not, It is ynough.

17 The eye that mocketh his father and despiseth the instruction of his mother, let ỹ rauens of the valley picke it out, and the yong eagles eate it.

18 There be three things hid from me: yea, foure that I know not,

19 The way of an Eagle in the aire, the way of a serpent vpon a stone, the way of a ship in ỹ mids of the sea, and the way of a man with a maide.

20 Such is the way also of an adulterous woman: she eateth and [k] wipeth her mouth, and saith, I haue not committed iniquitie.

21 For three things the earth is moued: yea, for foure it cannot susteine it selfe.

22 For [l] a seruant when he reigneth, & a foole when he is filled with meate, 23 For the hateful woman, when she is maried, & [m] for a handmaid that is heire to her mistres.

24 These be foure smal things in the earth, yet they are [n] wise, and full of wisedome.

25 The pismires a people not strong, yet prepare they their meate in sommer:

26 The conies a people not mighty, yet make they their houses in the rocke:

27 The grashopper hath no King, yet go they forth all by bandes:

28 The spider taketh holde [o] with her hands, and is in Kings palaces.

29 There be three things that order wel their going: yea, foure are comely in going,

30 A lyon which is strong among beasts, and turneth not at the sight of any:

31 A lusty grayhound, and a goate, and a King against whom there is no rising vp.

32 If thou hast bene foolish in lifting thy selfe vp, and if thou hast thought wickedly, lay thine hand [p] vpon thy mouth.

33 When one churneth milke, hee bringeth foorth butter: and he that wringeth his nose, causeth blood to come out: so he that forceth wrath, bringeth forth strife.

[h] The leach hath two sorkes in her tongue, which here he calleth her two daughters, whereby she sucketh the blood, and is neuer satiate: euen so are the couetous extortioners insatiable.
[i] Which haunt in the valley for carious.

[l] These commonly abuse the state whereunto they are called.
[m] Which is maried to her master after the death of her mistres.
[n] They conteine great doctrine and wisedome.
[o] If man be not able to compasse these common things by his wisedome, we cannot attribute wisdome to man but follie.

1 THE VVORDES OF KING [a] LEmuel: The [b] prophecie which his mother taught him.

WHat my sonne? & what the sonne of [c] my wombe? and what, O sonne of my desires?

3 Giue not thy strength vnto women, [d] nor thy wayes, which is to destroy Kings.

4 It is not for Kings, O Lemuel, it is not for Kings to drinke wine, nor for princes strōg drink,

5 Lest he drinke and forget the decree, and change the iudgement of all the children of affliction.

6 Giue ye strong drinke vnto him that is readie to perish, and wine vnto them that haue griefe of heart.

7 Let him drinke, that he may forget [e] his pouertie, and remember his misery no more.

8 Open thy mouth for the [g] dumme in the cause

[a] That is, of Salomon, who was called Lemuel, that is of God, because God had ordeined him to be king ouer Israel.
[b] The doctrine which his mother Bath sheba taught him.
[c] By this offring his petition of one thing she declareth her motherly affection.
[d] Meaning, that women are the destruction of Kings, if they haue them.

12 She will doe him good, and not euill all the dayes of her life.

13 She seeketh wool and flaxe, and laboureth cheerefully with her hands.

14 She is like the shippes of marchants: shee bringeth her foode from a farre.

15 And she riseth, whiles it is yet night: and giueth ‖the portion to her household, and the [i] ordinarie to her maides.

16 She considereth a field, and [k] getteth it: and with [l] fruit of her hands she planteth a vineyard.

17 She girdeth her loynes with strength, and strengtheneth her armes.

18 She feeleth that her marchandise is good: her candle is not put out by night.

19 She putteth her hands to the wheele, and her hands handle the spindle.

20 She stretcheth out her hand to the poore, and putteth forth her hands to the needie.

21 She feareth not the snowe for her familie: for all her familie is clothed with ‖skarler.

22 She maketh her selfe carpets: fine linen and purple is her garment.

23 Her husband is known in the [i] gates, when he sitteth with the Elders of the land.

24 She maketh ‖ sheetes, and selleth them, and giueth girdles vnto the marchant.

30 Fauour is deceitful, & beautie is vanity: but a woman [p] feareth the Lord, she shalbe praysed.

ECCLESIASTES, OR THE PREACHER.

THE ARGVMENT.

Salomon as a Preacher & one that desired to instruct all in the way of saluation, describeth the deceiueable vanities of this world: that man should not be addicted to any thing vnder the sunne, but rather inflamed with the desire of the heauenly life: therfore he confuteth their opinions, which set their felicitie, either in knowledge, or in pleasures, or in dignitie and riches. Shewing that mans true felicitie consisteth in that that he is vnited with God, and shal enioy his presence: so that al other things must be reiected, saue in as much as they further vs to attaine to this heauenly treasure, which is sure and permanent, and cannot be founde in any other saue in God alone.

CHAP. I.

1 All things in this worlde are full of vanitie, and of none endurance. 13 All mans wisedome is but follie and griefe.

a Salomon is here called a Preacher, or one that assembleth the people, because hee teacheth the true knowledge of God and how men ought to passe their life in this transitorie world.

THe wordes of the [a] Preacher, the sonne of Dauid King in Ierusalem.

2 [b] Vanitie of vanities, saith the Preacher: vanitie of vanities, all is vanitie.

3 What remaineth vnto man in all his [c] trauaile, which he suffereth vnder [d] sunne?

4 One generation passeth, and another generation succeedeth: but the earth remayneth for euer.

5 The sunne riseth, & the sunne goeth down, and [d] draweth to his place, where he riseth.

6 The [e] winde goeth toward the South, and compasseth toward the North: the winde goeth round about, and returneth by his circuites.

7 * All the riuers go into the sea, yet the sea is not full: for the riuers go vnto the place, [f] whence they returne, and goe.

8 All things are full of labour: man cannot vtter it: the eye is not satisfied with seeing, nor the eare filled [g] with hearing.

9 [g] What is it that hath bene? that that shall be: and what is it that hath bin done? that which shalbe done: and there is no newe thing vnder the sunne.

b He condemneth the opinions of all men that set felicitie in any thing, but in God alone, seeing that in this worlde all things are as vanitie and nothing.

c Salomon doeth not condemne mans labour or diligence, but sheweth that there is no full contentation in any thing vnder the heauen, nor in any creature, forasmuch as all things are transitorie.

d One man dieth after another, and the earth remaineth longest, euen to the last day, which yet is subiect to corruption. e By the sunne, wind, and riuers he sheweth that the greatest labours and longest hath an ende and therefore there can bee no felicitie in this world. * Eccles. 40. 11. f The sea which compasseth all the earth, filleth the veines thereof, the which powre out springs and riuers into the sea againe. g He speaketh of times and seasons, and things done in them, which as they haue bene in times past, so come they to passe againe.

h He proueth that if any could haue attained to felicitie in this world by labour and studie, he chiefly should haue obteined it, because he had giftes and aides of God thereunto aboue all other.

i Man of nature hath a desire to knowe and yet is not able to come to the perfection of knowledge, which is the punishment of sinne, to humble man, and to teach him to depend only vpon God.

k Man is not able by all his diligence to cause things to go otherwise then they doe: neither can he number the faultes that are committed, much lesse remedy them.

l That is, vayne things, which serued vnto pleasure, wherein was no commoditie, but griefe and trouble of conscience. m Wisedome and knowledge cannot be come by without great paine of body and minde: for when a man hath attained to the highest, yet is his minde neuer fully content: therefore in this world is no true felicitie.

10 Is there any thing, whereof one may say, Beholde this, it is newe? it hath bene already in the olde time that was before vs.

11 There is no memorie of the former, neither shall there be a remembraunce of the latter that shalbe, with them that shal come after.

12 ¶ [h] I the Preacher haue beene king ouer Israel in Ierusalem:

13 And I haue giuen mine heart to search and find out wisdome by all things that are done vnder the heauen: (this sore trauaile hath GOD giuen to the sonnes of men, [i] to humble them thereby.)

14 I haue considered all the workes that are done vnder the sunne, and beholde, all is vanity, and vexation of the spirite.

15 That which is [k] crooked, can none make straight: & that which faileth cannot be numbred.

16 I thought in mine heart, and said, Behold, I am become great, and excel in wisedome all them that haue bene before me in Ierusalem: and mine heart hath seene much wisdome and knowledge.

17 And I gaue mine heart to know wisedome and knowledge, [l] madnes and foolishnes: I knew also that this [m] a vexation of the spirit.

18 For in the multitude of wisedome is much [m] griefe: and he that increaseth knowledge, increaseth sorowe.

CHAP. II.

Pleasures, sumptuous buildings, riches and possessions are but vanitie. 14 The wise and the foole haue both one end touching the bodily death.

I Said in mine heart, Goe to now, I will proue a thee with ioy: therefore take thou pleasure in pleasant thing: and behold, this also is vanitie.

2 I said of laughter, Thou art mad: & of ioy, What is this that thou doest?

3 I sought in mine heart †to giue my selfe to wine, and to leade mine heart in b wisdome, and to take hold of follie, til I might see where is that goodnesse of the children of men, which they enioy vnder the sunne: the whole nomber of the dayes of their life.

4 I haue made my great workes: I haue built me houses: I haue planted me vineyards.

5 I haue made mee gardens and †orchards, and planted in them trees of all fruite.

6 I haue made me cisternes of water, to water therewith the woods that grow with trees.

7 I haue gotten seruants and maids, and had children borne in the house: also I had great possession of beeues and sheepe aboue all that were before me in Ierusalem.

8 I haue gathered vnto mee also siluer and gold, and the chiefe treasures of Kings & prouinces: I haue prouided me men singers and women singers, and the d delites of the sonnes of men, as a woman e taken captiue, & women taken captiues.

9 And I was great, & increased aboue all that were before me in Ierusalem: also my wisedome f remained with me.

10 And whatsoeuer mine eies desired, I withheld it not from them: I withdrew not mine heart from any ioy: for mine heart reioiced in all my labour: & this was my g portion of all my trauell.

11 Then I looked on all my works that mine hands had wrought, and on the trauell that I had laboured to doe: and behold, all is vanitie and vexation of the spirit: and there is no profite vnder the sunne.

12 ¶ And I turned to behold h wisdome, & madnes & follie: (for who is the man ‖that will come after the King in things, which men now haue done?)

13 Then I saw that there is profit in wisdome, more then in follie: as the light is more excellent then darknesse.

14 * For the wise mans i eyes are in his head, but the foole walketh in darknes: yet I know also that the same k condition falleth to them all.

15 Then I thought in mine heart, It befalleth vnto me, as it befalleth to ‖the foole. Why therefore doe I then labour to be more wise? And I sayd in mine heart, that this also is vanitie.

16 For there shalbe no remembrance of the wise, nor of the foole l for euer: for that that now is, in the dayes to come shall all be forgotten. And m how dieth the wise man, as doeth the foole?

17 Therefore I hated life: for the worke that is wrought vnder the sunne is grieuous vnto me: for all is vanitie, and vexation of the spirit.

18 I hated also all my labour, wherein I had trauelled vnder the sunne, which I shall leaue to the man that shall be after me.

19 And who knoweth whether he shalbe wise or foolish? yet shall he haue rule ouer all my labour, wherein I haue trauelled, and wherein I haue shewed my selfe wise vnder the sunne. This is also vanitie.

20 Therfore I went about to make mine heart n abhorre all the labour, wherein I had trauailed vnder the sunne.

21 For there is a man whose trauell is in wisedome, and in knowledge and in equitie: o yet to a man that hath not trauailed therein, shal he giue his portion: this also is vanitie and a great griefe.

22 For what hath man of all his trauell and griefe of his heart, wherein he hath trauailed vnder the sunne?

23 For all his dayes are sorowes, and his trauell griefe: his heart also taketh not rest in the night: which also is vanitie.

24 There is no profit to man: but ‖ he eate, & drinke, & p delight his soule with the profit of his labor: I saw also this, ‖ it was of the hand of God.

25 For who could eate, and who could haste to q outward things more then I?

26 Surely to a man that is good in his sight, God giueth wisdome, and knowledge, and ioy: but to the sinner hee giueth paine, to gather, and to heape to giue to him that is good before God: this is also vanitie, and vexation of the spirit.

a Salomon maketh this discourse with himselfe, as though he would trye whether there were contentation in ease & pleasures.
†Ile draw my flesh to wine.
b Albeit I gaue my selfe to pleasures, yet I thought to keepe wisdome and the feare of God in mine heart, and gouerne mine affaires by the same.
†Ile doe.
‖Ile paradise.
c Meaning, of the seruants or slaues, which hee had bought: so the children borne in their seruitude, were the masters.
d That is, whatsoeuer men take pleasure in.
e Which were the most beautiful of them that were taken in warre, as Iudges 5.30. Some vnderstād by these wordes, no women but instruments of musicke.
f For all this God did not take his gift of wisedome from me.
g This was the fruite of all my labour, a certaine pleasure mixt with care, which he calleth vanitie in the next verse.
h I bethought vp my selfe whether it were better to followe wisdome, or mine owne affections and pleasures, which hee calleth madnes.
*Or, compare with the King.
*Prouerb. 17.24.
i He foreseeth things, which the foole cannot for lacke of wisdome.
k For both dye and are forgotten, as verse 16. or they both alike haue prosperitie or aduersitie.
l Meaning, in this worlde.
m He wondreth that men forget a wise man, being dead, assoone as they doe a foole.
n That I might seeke the true felicitie which is in God.
o Among other griefes this was not the least, to leaue that which he had gotten by great trauell, to one that had taken no paine therfore, and whom he knew not whether he were a wise man or a foole.
p When man hath all laboured, he can get no more then food, and refreshing, yet hee confesseth also that this commeth of Gods blessing, as Chap. 3.13.
q Meaning, to pleasures.

CHAP. III.

1 All things haue their time. 14 The workes of God are perfit, and cause vs to feare him. 17 God shall iudge both the iust, and vniust.

TO all things there is an a appointed time, and a time to euery purpose vnder the heauen.

2 A time to be borne, & a time to die: a time to plant, & a time to plucke vp that which is plāted.

3 A time to slay, and a time to heale: a time to breake downe, and a time to build.

4 A time to weepe, and a time to laugh: a time to mourne, and a time to dance.

5 A time to cast away stones, and a time to gather stones: a time to embrace, & a time to bee farre from embracing.

6 A time to seeke, and a time to lose: a time to keepe, and a time to cast away.

7 A time to rent, and a time to sowe: a time to keepe silence, and a time to speake.

8 A time to loue, and a time to hate: a time of warre, and a time of peace.

9 What profite hath he that worketh, of the thing wherein he trauaileth?

10 I haue seene the trauell that God hath giuen to ‖ the sonnes of men b to humble them therby.

11 He hath made euery thing beautiful in his time: also hee hath set the c world in their heart, yet can not man finde out the worke that God hath wrought frō the beginning euen to the end.

12 I know that there is nothing good in them, but to reioyce, and to doe good in his life.

13 And also that euery man eateth and drinketh, and seeth the commoditie of all his labour: this is the d gift of God.

14 I know that whatsoeuer God shall doe, it shalbe for e euer: to it can no man adde, & from it can none diminish: for God hath done it, that they should feare before him.

15 What is that that hath bene? that is now: and that that shalbe, hath now bene: for God ‖ requireth that which is past.

16 And moreouer I haue seene vnder ‖ the sunne the place of iudgement, where was wickednesse, and the place of iustice where was iniquitie.

17 I thought in mine heart, God wil iudge the iust a He speaketh of this diuersitie of time for two causes, first to declare that there is nothing in this world perpetual: next, to teach vs not to be grieued, if we haue not all things at once according to our desires, neither enioy them so long as we would wish.

b Read Chap. 1.13.
c God hath giuen man a desire, and affection to seeke out the things of this world, and to labour therein.
d Read Chap. 2.24 & these places declare that we should do all things with cheerefulnesse, and in the feare of God, acknowledging that the good which we haue, is the gift of God.
e That is, man shall neuer be able to let Gods worke, but as he hath determined, so it shall come to passe.
f That is, by consideration, which is past to require.

g Meaning, w God, howsoeuer man neglect his duetie.
h And made them pure to their first creation.
i Man is not able by his reason, and iudgement to put difference betweene man and beast as touching those things whereunto both are subiect: for the eye cannot iudge any otherwise of a man being dead, then of a beast, which is dead: yet by the worde of God and fayth wee easily knowe the differtitie, as verse 21.
k Meaning, that reason cannot comprehend that which faith beleeueth herein.
l By the often repetition of this sentence, as Chap. 2, 24. and Chap. 3. 12, 22. Chap. 5. 17. and Chap. 8. 15. hee declareth that man by reason can comprehend nothing better in this life then to vse the gifts of God soberly and comfortably: for to knowe farther is a speciall gift of God reuelled by his Spirit.

iust and the wicked: for time is g there for euery purpose and for euery worke.

18 I considered in mine heart the state of the children of men that God had h purged them: yet to see to, they are in themselues as beastes.

19 For the condition of the children of men, and the condition of beasts are euen as one i condition vnto them. As the one dyeth, so dyeth the other: for they haue all one breath and there is no excellencie of man aboue ỹ beast: for all is vanity.

20 All goe to one place, & all was of the dust, and all shall returne to the dust.

21 Who k knoweth whether the spirit of man ascend vpward, and the spirit of the beast descend downeward to the earth?

22 Therefore I see that there is nothing better then that a man should l reioyce in his affaires, because that is his portion. For who shall bring him to see what shalbe after him?

CHAP. IIII.

2 The innocents are oppressed. 4 Mens labours are full of a buie and vanitie. 9 Mans societie is necessarie. 13 A yong man poore, and wise, is to be preferred to an olde King that is a foole.

a He maketh here another discourse with himselfe concerning the tyrannie of them that oppressed the poore.
b Because they are no more subiect to these oppressions.
c Hee speaketh according to the iudgement of the flesh, which cannot abide to seele, or see troubles.
d The more perfite that the worke is, the more is it enuied of the wicked.
e For idlenesse he is compelled to destroy himselfe.
f For sinnen as when man is alone, he can neither help himselfe nor others: hee sheweth that men ought to liue in mutuall societie, to the intent they may be profitable one to another, and that their things may increase.
g By this prouerbe he declareth how necessarie it is, that men should liue in societie.
h That is, from a poore and base estate, or out of trouble, and prison, as Ioseph did, Gen. 41. 14.
i Meaning, that is borne a King.

a SO I turned and considered all the oppressions that are wrought vnder the sunne, and behold the teares of the oppressed, and none comforteth them: & lo, the strength is of the hand of them ỹ oppresse them, & none comforteth them.

2 Wherefore I praysed the b dead which now are dead, aboue the liuing, which are yet aliue.

3 And I count him c better then them both, which hath not yet bin: for he hath not seen the euil works which are wrought vnder the sunne.

4 Also I beheld all trauaile, & all d perfection of works that this is the enuie of a man against his neighbour: this also is vanitie & vexation of spirit.

5 The foole foldeth his hands, and e eateth vp his owne flesh.

6 Better is an handfull with quietnesse, then two handfuls with labour and vexation of spirit.

7 Againe I returned, and sawe vanitie vnder the sunne.

8 There is one alone, & there is not a second, which hath neither sonne nor brother, yet is there none end of all his trauaile, neither can his eye be satisfied with riches: neither doeth he thinke, For whom doe I trauaile & defraud my soule of pleasures? this also is vanitie, and this is an euil trauaile.

9 f Two are better then one: for they haue better wages for their labour.

10 For if they fal, the one wil lift vp his felow: but wo vnto him that is alone: for he falleth, and there is not a second to lift him vp.

11 Also if two sleepe together, then shall they haue heat: but to one, how should there be heate?

12 And if one ouercome him, two shall stand against him: and a threefold g coard is not easilie broken.

13 Better is a poore and wise child, then an old and foolish King, which will no more be admonished.

14 For out of the h prison he commeth forth to reigne: when as be that is i borne in his kingdome, is made poore.

15 I beheld all the liuing, which walke vnder the sunne, k with the second childe, which shall stand vp in his place.

16 There is none l ende of all the people, nor of all that were before them, and they that come after, shall not reioyce in him: surely this is also vanitie and vexation of spirit.

17 Take heede to thy m foote when thou entrest into the house of God, and be more neere to heare then to giue the sacrifice of n fooles: for they know not that they doe euill.

k Which follow & flatter the kings sonne, or him that shall succeede, to enter into credite with them in hope of gaine.
l They neuer cease by al meanes to creepe into fauour: but when they obteine not their grediedesires, they thinke themselues abused, as other haue bene in time past, and so care no more for him.
m That is, with what affection thou commest to heare the woorde of God.
n Meaning, of the wicked, which thinke to please God with ceremonies, and haue neither faith nor repentance.

CHAP. V.

1 Not to speake lightly, chiefly in Gods matters. 9 The couetous can neuer haue inough. 11 The labourers sleepe is sweete. 14 Man when hee dyeth, taketh nothing with him. 18 To liue ioyfully, and with a contented minde, is the gift of God.

a Either in vowing or in praying: meaning, that we should vse all reuerence to God-warde.
b He heareth thee not for thy many wordes sake, or often repetitions, but considereth thy faith, and feruent minde.
*Deut. 23. 21. c He speaketh of vowes, which are approued by Gods word and serue to his glory.
d Cause not thy selfe to sinne by vowing rashly: as they doe which make a vowe to liue vnmarried, and such like.
e That is before Gods messenger, when he shall examine thy doings: as though thy ignorance should be a iust excuse.
f Meaning, that God will redresse these things, and therefore we must depend vpon him.
g The reuenues of the earth are to be preferred aboue all things which appertaine to this life.
h Kings and Princes cannot maintaine their estate without tillage, which thing commendeth the excellencie of tillage.
i That is his great abundance of riches, or the inriching, which commeth by his great feeding.
k When couetous men heape vp riches, which turne to their destruction.

BE not a rash with thy mouth, nor let thine heart bee hastie to vtter a thing before God: for God is in the heauens, and thou art on the earth: therefore let thy words be b few.

2 For as a dreame commeth by the multitude of businesse: so the voyce of a foole is in the multitude of wordes.

3 * When thou hast vowed a vowe to God, deferre not to pay it: for he deliteth not in fooles: pay therefore that thou hast c vowed.

4 It is better that thou shouldest not vowe, then that thou shouldest vowe and not pay it.

5 Suffer not thy mouth to make thy d flesh to sinne: neither say b fore the c Angel, that this is ignorance: wherefore shall God bee angrie by thy voyce, and destroy the worke of thine hand?

6 For in the multitude of dreames, and vanities are also many wordes: but feare thou God.

7 If in a countrey thou seest the oppression of the poore, and the defrauding of iudgement and iustice, be not astonied at the matter: for hee that is f higher then the highest, regardeth, and there be higher then they.

8 And the g abundance of the earth is ouer all: the King h also consisteth by the field that is tilled.

9 He that loueth siluer, shall not be satisfied with siluer, and he that loueth riches, shalbe without the fruite thereof: this also is vanitie.

10 When goods increase, they are increased that eate them: and what good commeth to the owners thereof, but the beholding thereof with their eyes?

11 The sleepe of him that trauelleth, i is sweete, whether he eate litle or much: but the i satietie of the rich will not suffer him to sleepe.

12 There is an euil sickenesse that I haue seene vnder the sunne: to wit, riches k reserued to the owners thereof for their euill.

13 And these riches perish by euil trauell, and he begetteth a sonne, and in his hand is nothing.

14 * As he came foorth of his mothers belly, he shall returne naked to goe as he came, and shal beare away nothing of his labour, which he hath caused to passe by his hand.

15 And this also is an euill sickenes that in all points as he came, so shall he goe, and what profit hath he that he hath traueiled for the m wind?

16 Also all his dayes he eateth in n darkenesse l He doeth not enioy his fathers riches. * Iob 1. 21. wisdom, 7. 6. 1. timoth. 6. 7.

m Meaning, in vaine, and without profit.
n In affliction and griefe of minde.

with

with much griefe, and in his sorow and anger.

17 Beholde then, what I haue seene good, that it is comely to o eate, and to drinke, and to take pleasure in all his labour, wherin he trauaileth vnder the sun, the whole number of the dayes of his life, which God giueth him: for this is his portion.

18 Also to euery man to whom God hath giuen riches and treasures, and giueth him power to eate thereof, and to take his part, and to enioy his labour: this is the gift of God.

19 Surely hee will not much remember the dayes of his p life, because God answereth to the ioy of his heart.

o Reade Chap. 3. 22.

p He will take no great thought for the paines that he hath indured in time past.

CHAP. VI.

The miserable estate of him to whom God hath giuen riches, and not the grace to vse them

THere is an euill, which I sawe vnder the sun, and it is much among men:

2 A man to whom God hath giuen riches and treasures & honor, & he wanteth nothing for his soule of all that it desireth: but a God giueth him not power to eate therof, but a strange man shall eate it vp: this is vanity: & this is an euil sickneſſe.

3 If a man beget an hundreth children & liue many yeeres, & the dayes of his yeeres be multiplied, and his soule bee not b satisfied with good things, and he bee not c buried, I say that an vntimely fruite is better then he.

4 For d hee commeth into vanitie, and goeth into darkeneſſe: and his name shall be couered with darkeneſſe.

5 Also he hath not seene the sun, nor knowen it: therefore this hath more rest then the other.

6 And if he had liued a thousand yeeres twise tolde, and had seene no good, shall not all goe to one place?

7 All the labour of man is for his mouth: yet the e soule is not filled.

8 For what hath the wise man more then the foole? what hath the poore that f knoweth howe to walke before the liuing?

9 The g sight of the eyes is better then to walk in y lustes: this also is vanity, & vexation of spirit.

10 What is that that hath bene? the name thereof is nowe named: and it is known that it is man: and he cannot striue with him that is h stronger then he.

a There is no state, wherein man can liue to haue perfite quietneſſe in this life.
* Iob.14.2. psal.144.4.
* Pro 22.1.
b Hee speaketh thus after the iudgement of the flesh, which thinketh death to be the end of all euils: or else, because that this corporall death is the entring into life euerlasting.
c Where we may see the hand of God, and learne to examine our liues.

11 Better it is to heare y rebuke of a wise man, then that a man should heare the song of fooles.

8 For like y noise of the thorns vnder the pot, so is the laughter of the foole: this also is vanitie.

9 Surely oppreſſion maketh a wise man * mad: and the reward destroyeth the heart.

10 The end of a thing is better then the beginning thereof, and the patient in spirit is better then the proude in spirit.

11 Be not thou of an hastie spirit to be angry: for anger resteth in the bosome of fooles.

12 Say not thou, Why is it that the former dayes were better then these? for thou doest not enquire g wisely of this thing.

13 Wisedome is good with an h inheritance, and excellent to them that see the sunne.

14 For man shal rest in the shadowe of wisedome, and in the shadowe of siluer: but the excellencie of the knowledge of wisedome giueth life to the possessers thereof.

15 Beholde the worke of God: for who can make * straight y which he hath made crooked?

16 In the day of wealth bee of good comfort, and in the day of affliction i consider: God also hath made this contrary to that, to the intent that man should find k nothing after him.

17 I haue seene all things in the dayes of my vanitie: there is a iust man that perisheth in his l iustice, and there is a wicked man that continueth long in his malice.

18 Be not thou iust m ouermuch, neither make thy selfe ouerwise: wherefore shouldest thou bee desolate?

19 Bee not thou wicked n ouermuch, neither be thou foolish: wherefore shouldest thou perish not in thy time?

20 It is good that thou lay hold on o this: but yet withdrawe not thine hand from p that: for he that feareth God, shal come forth of them all.

21 Wisedome shall strengthen the wise man more then ten mighty princes that are in the city.

22 * Surely there is no man iust in the earth, that doeth good and sinneth not.

23 Giue not thine q heart also to all the words that men speake, lest thou doe heare thy seruant cursing thee.

24 For often times also thine heart knoweth that thou likewise hast ‖ cursed others.

25 All this haue I proued by wisedome: I thought I will be wise, but it went farre from me.

26 It is farre off, what may r it be? and it is a profound deepeneſſe, who can finde it?

27 I haue compassed about, both I and mine heart to know and to enquire and to search wisedome, and reason, and to know the wickednesse of follie, and the foolishnesse of madnesse,

28 And I find more bitter then death the woman whose heart is as nettes and snares, and her hands as bands: he that is good before God, shall be deliuered from her, but the sinner shall be taken by her.

29 Beholde, saith the Preacher, this haue I found, seeking one by one to s finde the count:

30 And yet my soule seeketh, but I finde it not: I haue found one man of a thousand, but a woman among them all haue I not found.

31 Onely loe, this haue I founde, that God hath made man righteous, but they haue sought many t inuentions.

d Which crakle for a while and profite nothing.
e A man that is esteemed wise, when he falleth to oppression, becommeth like a beast.
f He noteth their lightnes which enterprise a thing, & suddenly leaue it off againe.
g Murmure not against God when he sendeth aduersities for mans sinnes.
h He answereth to them that esteeme not wisedome, except riches beioyned therewith, shewing that both are the giftes of God, but that wisedome is farre more excellent, and may be without riches.
* Chap.1.15.
i Consider wherefore God doeth send it, and what may comfort thee.
k That man should be able to controle nothing in his workes.
l Meaning, that cruell tyrants put the godly to death, and let the wicked goe free.
m Boast not too much of thine owne iustice and wisedome.
n Tarie not long when thou art admonished to come out of the way of wickednesse.
o To wit, on these admonitions that goe before.

CHAP. VIII.

1 To obey Princes and Magistrates. 17 The workes of God passe mans knowledge.

WHo is as the wise man? & who knoweth the interpretation of a thing? the wisedome of a man doth make his [a] face to shine: and the [b] strength of his face shalbe changed.

2 I aduertise thee to take heed to the [c] mouth of the King, and to the word of the othe of God.

3 [d] Haste not to go forth of his sight: stande not in an euill thing: for he will doe what soeuer pleaseth him.

4 Where [ỹ] word of the king is, there is power, and who shal say vnto him, What doest thou?

5 He that keepeth the commandement, shall know none euill thing, and the heart of the wise shal know the [e] time and iudgement.

6 For to euery purpose there is a time and iudgement, because the [f] miserie of man is great vpon him.

7 For he knoweth not that which shalbe: for who can tell him when it shalbe?

8 Man is not lorde [g] ouer the spirit to retaine the spirite: neither hath hee power in the day of death, nor deliuerance in the battell, neither shal wickednesse deliuer the possessers thereof.

9 All this haue I seene, and haue giuen mine heart to euery worke, which is wrought vnder the sunne, and I saw a time that man ruleth ouer man to his owne [h] hurt.

10 And likewise I saw the wicked buried, and [i] they returned, and they that came from the holy [k] place, were yet forgotten in the citie where they had done right: this also is vanitie.

11 Because sentence against an euill worke is not [l] executed speedily, therefore the heart of the children of men is fully set in them to doe euill.

12 Though a sinner doe euill an hundreth times, and God prolongeth his dayes, yet I know that it shalbe well with them that feare the Lord, and doe reuerence before him.

13 But it shall not be well to the wicked, neither shal he prolong his dayes: he shalbe like a shadowe, because he feareth not before God.

14 There is a vanitie, which is done vpon the earth, that there bee righteous men to whome it commeth according to the [m] work of the wicked: and there bee wicked men to whom it commeth according to the worke of the iust: I thought also that this is vanitie.

15 And I praysed ioy: for there is no goodnesse to man vnder the sunne, saue [n] to eate and to drinke and to reioyce: for this is adioyned to his labour, the dayes of his life that God hath giuen him vnder the sunne.

16 When I applied mine heart to know wisdome, and to beholde the busines that is done on earth, that neither day nor night the eyes of man take sleepe,

17 Then I beheld the whole worke of God, that man cannot find out the work [ỹ] is wrought vnder the sunne: for [o] which man laboureth to seeke it, and cannot finde it: yea, and though the wise man thinke to know it, he cannot finde it.

a That is, doeth get him fauour and prosperitie.
b Whereas before he was proud and arrogant, he shall become humble and meeke.
c That is, that thou obey the King, and keepe the othe that thou hast made for the same cause. d Withdraw not thy selfe lightly from the obedience of thy prince.
e That is, when time is to obey, and howe farre he should obey.
f Man of himselfe is miserable, and therefore ought to doe nothing to increase the same, but to worke al things by wisedome and counsell.
g Man hath no power to saue his owne life, and therefore must not rashly cast him selfe into danger.
h As commeth oft times to tyrants, and wicked rulers.
i That is, others as wicked as they.
k They that feared God, and worshipped him according as he had appoynted.
l Where iustice is delayed, there sinne reigneth.
m Which are punished as though they were wicked, as Chap. 7. 17.
n Reade Chap. 3. 22.

CHAP. IX.

1 By no meanes can man know whome God loueth or hateth. 12 No man knoweth his ende. 16 Wisedome excelleth strength.

I Haue surely giuen mine heart to all this, and to declare all this, that the iust, and the wise, and their workes are in the hand of God: and no man knoweth either loue or [a] hatred of all that is before them.

2 All thinges come alike to all: and the same condition is to the iust and to the wicked, to the good and to the pure, and to the polluted, and to him that sacrificeth, and to him that sacrificeth not: as is the good, so is the sinner, he that sweareth, as he that feareth an othe.

3 This is euill among all that is done vnder the sunne, that there is one [b] condition to al, and also the heart of the sonnes of men is full of euill, and madnes is in their hearts whiles they liue, and after that, they goe to the dead.

4 Surely whosoeuer is ioyned to all the liuing, there is hope: for it is better to a [c] liuing dog, then to a dead lyon.

5 For the liuing knowe that they shall dye, but the dead knowe nothing at all: neither haue they any more a reward: for their remembrance is forgotten.

6 Also their loue, and their hatred, and their enuie is now perished, and they haue no more portion for euer, in all that is done vnder the sunne.

7 Goe, eate thy bread with ioy, & drinke thy wine with a cheerefull heart: for God nowe [d] accepteth thy workes.

8 At all times let thy garments be [e] white, and let not oyle be lacking vpon thine head.

9 † * Reioyce [ẅ] the wife whom thou hast loued all [ỹ] daies of the life of thy vanitie, which God hath giuen thee vnder the sun al the dayes of thy vanitie: for this is thy portion in the life, & in thy trauaile wherein thou labourest vnder the sunne.

10 All that thine hande [ſ] finde to doe, doe it with all thy power: for there is neither worke nor inuention, nor knowledge, nor wisedome in the graue whither thou goest.

11 I returned, and I [ſ]awe vnder the sunne that the race is not to the swift, nor the battell to the strong, nor yet bread to the wise, nor also riches to men of vnderstanding, neither yet fauour to men of knowledge: but time and [f] chance commeth to them all.

12 For neither doth man know his [ꝑ]time, but as the fishes which are taken in an euill net, and as the birdes that are caught in the snare: so are the childrē of men snared in the euil time when it falleth vpon them suddenly.

13 I haue also seene this wisedome vnder the sunne, and it is great vnto me.

14 A litle citie and fewe men in it, and a great king came against it, and compassed it about, and builded fortes against it.

15 And there was found therein a poore and wise man, and hee deliuered the citie by his wisedome: but none remembred this poore man.

16 Then said I, Better is wisdom then strength: yet the wisedome of the poore is despised, and his words are not heard.

17 The wordes of the wise are more heard in quietnes, then the crie of him that ruleth among fooles.

18 Better is wisedome then weapons of warre but one sinner destroyeth much good.

a Meaning, what things he ought to chuse or refuse, or man knoweth not by these outward things, that is, by prosperitie or aduersitie, whē God doeth fauour or hate: for he seeth them alwel to the wicked as to the godly.
b In outwarde things, as riches and powertie, sickenesse and health, there is no difference between the godlie and the wicked: but the difference is that the godly are assured by faith of Gods fauour and assistance.
c He noteth the Epicures, and carnall men, which made their belly their god, and had no pleasure but in this life, wishing rather to be an abiect, and vile person in this life, then a man of authoritie, and so to die, which is meant by the dog and lyon.
d They flatter themselues to be in Gods fauour, because they haue all things in abundance.
e Reioyce, be merie, and spare for no cost, thus speake the wicked belly-gods.
† Ebr. regard the life.
* Chap. 5. 18.
f Thus the worldlings say to proue that all things are lawfull for them, and attribute that, to chance and fortune, which is done by the prouidence of God.
g That is, he doeth not foresee what shal come.

CHAP. X.

1 The difference of foolishnesse and wisedome. 11 A slanderer is like a serpent that cannot be charmed. 16 Of foolish kings, and drunken princes. 17 And of good Kings and princes.

Dead

DEad flies cause to stinke, & putrifie the ointment of ỹ apoticarie: so doeth a litle follie him that is in estimation for wisedome, and for glorie.

2 The heart of a [a] wise man is at his right hand: but the heart of a foole is at his left hand.

3 And also when the foole goeth by the way, his heart faileth, and he [b] telleth vnto all that he is a foole.

4 If the [c] spirite of him that ruleth, rise vp against thee, leaue not thy place: for gentlenes pacifieth great sinnes.

5 There is an euil that I haue seene vnder the sunne, as an [d] error that proceedeth from the face of him that ruleth.

6 Follie is set in great excellencie, and the [e] rich set in the lowe place.

7 I haue seene seruants on horses, and princes walking as seruants on the ground.

8 [f] He that diggeth a pit, shall fall into it, and he that breaketh ỹ hedge, a serpent shall bite him.

9 Hee that remooueth stones, shal hurt himselfe thereby, and he that cutteth wood, shall bee in danger thereby.

10 If the iron be blunt, & one hath not whet the edge, he must then put to more [f] strength: but the excellencie to direct a thing is wisedome.

11 If the serpent bite, when he is not charmed: no better is a babbler.

12 The words of the mouth of a wise man haue grace: but the lips of a foole deuour himselfe.

13 The beginning of the words of his mouth is foolishnesse, and the latter end of his mouth is wicked madnesse.

14 For the foole multiplieth wordes, saying, Man knoweth not what shalbe: and who can tell him what shall be after him?

15 The labour of the foolish doth wearie him: for he knoweth not to goe into the [g] citie.

16 Woe to thee, O land, when thy King is a [h] child, and thy princes [i] eate in the morning.

17 Blessed art thou, O land, when thy King is the sonne [k] of nobles, & thy princes eate in time, for strength and [l] not for drunkennesse.

18 By slouthfulnesse the roofe of the house goeth to decay, and by the idlenesse of the handes the house droppeth through.

19 They prepare bread for laughter, and wine comforteth the liuing, but siluer answereth to all.

20 Curse not the King, no not in thy thought, neither curse the rich in thy bed chamber: for the [m] foule of the heauen shall carie the voice, & that which hath wings, shal declare the matter.

CHAP. XI.

1 To be liberall to the poore. 4 Not to doubt of Gods prouidence. 8 All worldly prosperitie is but vanitie. 9 God will iudge all.

CAst thy bread vpon the [a] waters: for after many dayes thou shalt find it.

2 Giue a portion to seuen, & also to eight: for thou knowest not what euil shalbe vpon ỹ earth.

3 If the [b] clouds be ful, they wil powre foorth raine vpon the earth: and if the [c] tree doe fall toward the South, or toward the North, in the place that the tree falleth, there it shalbe.

4 He that obserueth the [d] wind, shal not sow, and he that regardeth the cloudes, shal not reape.

5 As thou knowest not which is ỹ way of the [e] spirit, nor how the bones doe grow in the wombe of her that is with child: so thou knowest not the worke of God that worketh all.

6 In the morning sowe thy seede, and in the euening let not thine hand [e] rest: for thou knowest not whether shall prosper, this or [f] that, or whether both shalbe alike good.

7 Surely the light is a pleasant thing, [g] and it is a good thing to the eies to see the sunne.

8 Though a man liue many yeeres, and in them all he reioyce, yet hee shall remember the dayes of [g] darkenesse, because they are many, all that commeth is vanitie.

9 [h] Reioyce, O yong man, in thy youth, and let thine heart cheere thee in the dayes of thy youth: and walke in the wayes of thine heart, and in the sight of thine eies: but know that for all these things, God wil bring thee to iudgement.

10 Therefore take away [i] griefe out of thine heart, and cause euil [k] to depart from thy flesh: for childhood and youth are vanitie.

CHAP. XII.

1 To thinke on God in youth, and not to deferre till age. 7 The soule returneth to God. 11 Wisedome is the gift of God, and consisteth in feuring him and keeping his commandements.

REmember nowe thy Creator in the dayes of thy youth, whiles the euil daies come not, nor the yeeres approch, wherein thou shalt say, I haue no pleasure in them:

2 Whiles the sunne is not darke, nor the light, nor the moone, nor the starres, nor the [a] cloudes returne after the raine.

3 When the [b] keepers of the house shal tremble, and the [c] strong men shal bow themselues, & the [d] grinders shal cease, because they are few, & they waxe darke that looke out by the windowes:

4 And the [f] doores shall be shut without by the base sound of the [g] grinding, and he shall rise vp at the voyce of the [h] birde: and all the [i] daughters of singing shalbe abased.

5 Also they shalbe afraid of the [k] hie things, and feare shalbe in the way, and the [l] almond tree shall [m] flourish, and [n] the grashopper shall be a burden, and concupiscence shall be driuen away: for man goeth to the house of his age, and the mourners goe about in the streete.

6 Whiles the [o] siluer coard is not lengthened, nor the golden [p] ewer broken, nor the [q] pitcher broken at the [r] well, nor the [s] wheele broken at the [t] cisterne:

7 And dust returne to the earth as it was, and the [u] spirite returne to God that gaue it.

8 Vanitie of vanities, saieth the Preacher, all is vanitie.

9 And the more wise the preacher was, the more he taught the people knowledge, and caused them to heare, and searched foorth, and prepared many parables.

10 The Preacher sought to find out pleasant words, and an vpright writing, euen the words of trueth.

11 The words of the wise are like goades, and like nailes [x] fastened by the masters of the assemblies, which are giuen by one [y] pastour.

AN EXCELLENT SONG WHICH WAS SALOMONS.

† Ebr. a song of songs: so called because it is the chiefest of these 1005. which Salomon made, as is mentioned, 1. King 4. 32.

THE ARGVMENT.

IN this Song, Salomon by most sweete and comfortable allegories and parables describeth the perfite loue of Iesus Christ, the true Salomon and King of peace, and the faithful soule or his Church, which he hath sanctified and appointed to be his spouse, holy, chaste and without reprehension. So that here is declared the singular loue of the bridegrome toward the bride, and his great and excellent benefits, wherewith he doeth enrich her of his pure bountie and grace without any of her deseruings. Also the earnest affection of the Church which is inflamed with the loue of Christ, desiring to be more and more ioyned to him in loue, and not to be forsaken for any spot or blemish that is in her.

CHAP. I.

1 The familiar talke and mysticall communication of the spirituall loue betweene Iesus Christ and his Church. 5 The domesticall enemies that persecute the Church.

a This is spoken in the person of the Church, or of the faithfull soule inflamed with the desire of Christ, whom she loueth.

LEt a him kisse me with the kisses of his mouth: for thy loue is better then wine.

2 Because of the b sauour of thy good ointments, thy name is as an ointment powred out: therefore the c virgins loue thee.

b The feeling of thy great benefits.

c They that are pure in heart and conuersation.

3 d Drawe me: we will runne after thee: the King hath brought me into his e chambers: we wil reioyce and be glad in thee: we will remember thy loue more then wine: the righteous do loue thee.

d The faithfull confesse that they cannot come to Christ except they be drawen.

e Meaning, the secret ioy that is not knowen to the world.

4 I am f blacke, O daughters of Ierusalem, but comely, as the tentes of g Kedar, and as the h curtaines of Salomon.

f The Church confesseth her owne and sinne, at hath Conscience in the sauour of Christ.

g Kedar was Ishmaels sonne, of whom came the Arabians that dwelt in tents.

h Which within were all set with precious stones and iewels.

5 Regard ye mee not because I am i blacke: for the k sunne hath looked vpon me. The l sonnes of my mother were angry against me: they made me the keeper of the vines: but I m kept not mine owne vine.

i Consider not the Church by the outward appearance.

k The corruption of nature through sinne and afflictions.

l Mine owne brethren, which should haue most fauoured me.

m She confesseth her owne negligence.

6 n Shewme, O thou, whom my soule loueth, where thou feedest, where thou liest at noone: for why should I bee as one that turneth aside to the flocks of o thy companions?

n The spouse seeling her fault, fleeeth to her husband onely for succour.

o Whom thou hast called to the dignitie of pastours, and they set foorth their owne dreames in stead of thy doctrine.

7 p If thou know not, O thou the faireſt among women, get thee foorth by the steps of the flocke, and feede thy kiddes by the tentes of the shepheards.

p Christ speaketh to his Church, bidding them that are ignorant, to go to the pastors to learne.

8 I haue compared thee, O my loue, to the troupe of horses in the q charets of Pharaoh.

q For thy spirituall beautie & excellencie there was no worldly treasure to be compared vnto thee.

9 Thy cheekes are comelie with rowes of stones, and thy necke with chaines.

10 Wee will make thee borders of gold with stoods of siluer.

11 r Whiles the King was at his repast, my spikenard gaue the smell thereof.

r The Church reioyceth that she is admitted to the company of Christ.

12 My welbeloued is as a bundle of myrrhe vnto me: he shall lie betweene my s breasts.

s Hee shall be most deare vnto me.

13 My welbeloued is as a cluster of camphire vnto me in the vines of Engedi.

14 My loue, beholde, thou art t faire: behold, thou art faire: thine eies are like the doues.

t Christ accepteth his Church & commendeth her beautie.

15 My welbeloued, behold, thou art faire: and pleasant: also our u bed is greene:

u That is, the heart of the faithfull wherein Christ dwelleth by his Spirit.

16 The beames of our house are cedars, and our rafters are of fire.

CHAP. II.

3 The Church desireth to rest vnder the shadowe of Christ. 8 She heareth his voyce. 14 She is compared to the doue, 15 And the enemies to the foxes.

I Am the rose of the field, and the lillie of the valleis.

2 Like a lillie among the thornes, so is my a loue among the daughters.

a Thus Christ preferreth his Church aboue all other things.

3 b Like the apple tree among the trees of the forrest, so is my welbeloued among the sonnes of men: vnder his shadow had I delite, & sate downe: and his fruite was sweete vnto my mouth.

b The spouse testifieth her great desire toward her husband, but her strength faileth her, and therefore she desireth to be comforted, and felt it.

4 He brought me into the wine cellar, and loue was his banner ouer me.

5 Stay me with flagons, and comfort me with apples: for I am sicke of loue.

6 His left hand is vnder mine head, and his right hand doeth imbrace me.

c Christ chargeth them which haue to doe in the Church, as it were by a solemne othe, that they trouble not the quietnesse thereof.

7 c I charge you, O daughters of Ierusalem, by the roes and by the hindes of the field, that ye stirre not vp, nor waken my loue, vntil she please.

8 d It is the voyce of my welbeloued: behold, hee commeth leaping by the mountaines, and skipping by the hils.

d This is spoken of Christ, who tooke vpon him our nature to come to helpe his Church.

9 My welbeloued is like a roe, or a yong hart: loe, he e standeth behind our wall, looking foorth of the windowes, shewing himselfe through the f grates.

e For asmuch as his diuinitie was hid vnder the cloke of our flesh.

f So that we can not haue full knowledge of him in this life.

10 My welbeloued spake and said vnto me, Arise, my loue, my faire one, and come thy way.

11 For beholde, g winter is past: the raine is changed, and is gone away.

g That is sinne and errour is driuen backe by the cōming of Christ, which is here described by the spring time, when all things flourish.

12 The flowers appeare in the earth: the time of the singing of birdes is come, and the voyce of the turtle is heard in our land.

13 The figtree hath brought foorth her yong figs: and the vines with their small grapes haue cast a sauour: arise my loue, my faire one, and come away.

h Thou that art ashamed of thy sinnes, come and shew thy selfe vnto me.

14 My doue, that art in the h holes of ỹ rocke, in the secrete places of the staires, shew mee thy sight, let me heare thy voyce: for thy voyce is sweete, and thy sight comely.

15 Take vs the foxes, the i little foxes, which destroy the vines: for our vines haue small grapes.

i Suppresse the heretiques, while they are yong, that is, whē they begin to shew their malice & destroy the vine of the Lord.

16 My welbeloued is mine, and I am his: hee feedeth among the lillies.

17 Vntil the day breake, & the shadowes flee away: returne, my welbeloued, and be like a k roe, or a yong hart vpon the mountaines of Bether.

k The Church desireth Christ to be most readie to helpe her in all dangers.

CHAP.

ISAIAH.

THE ARGVMENT.

God, according to his promes, Deut.18.15. that he would neuer leaue his Church destitute of a Prophet, hath from time to time accomplished the same: whose office was not onely to declare vnto the people the things to come, whereof they had a specialll reuelation, but also to interprete and declare the Law, and to apply particularly the doctrine conteined briefly therein, to the vtilitie and profit of those, to whom they thought it chiefly to appertaine, and as the time and state of things required. And principally in the declaration of the Lawe they had respect to three things, which were the ground of their doctrine: First to the doctrine contained briefly in the two tables: secondly to the promises and threatnings of the Law: and thirdly, to the couenant of grace and reconciliation, grounded vpon our Sauiour Iesus Christ, who is the ende of the Law. Whereunto they neither added nor diminished, but faithfully expounded the sense and meaning thereof. And according as God gaue them vnderstanding of things, they applied the promises particularly for the comfort of the Church and the members thereof, and also denounced the menaces against the enemies of the same: not for any care or regard to the enemies, but to assure the Church of their safegard by the destruction of their enemies. And as touching the doctrine of reconciliation, they haue more clearely intreated it then Moses, and set forth more lively Iesus Christ, in whom this couenant of reconciliation was made. In all these things Isaiah did excell all the Prophets, and was most diligent to set out the same, with most vehement admonitions, reprehensions, and consolations: euer applying the doctrine, as he sawe that the disease of the people required. Hee declareth also many notable prophecies which he had receiued of God, as touching the promes of the Messiah, his office, and his kingdome. Also of the fauour of God toward his Church, the vocation of the Gentiles, and their vnion with the Iewes. Which are as most principall points contained in this booke, and a gathering of his sermons that he preached. Which after certaine dayes that they had stood vpon the Temple doore (for the maner of the Prophets was to set vp the summe of their doctrine for certaine dayes that the people might the better marke it, as Isa.8.1. and Habak.2.2.) the Priests tooke it downe and reserued it among the registers: and so by Gods prouidence these bookes were preserued as a monument to the Church for euer. As touching his person and time, he was of the Kings stocke (for Amoz his father was brother to Azariah King of Iudah, as the best writers agree) and prophecied more then 64. yeeres from the time of Vzziah vnto the reigne of Manasseh, whose father in law he was (as the Ebrewes write) and of whom he was put to death. And in reading of the Prophets, this one thing among other is to be obserued, that they speake of things to come as though they were nowe past, because of the certaintie thereof, and that they could not but come to passe, because God had ordeined them in his secret counsell, and so reueiled them to his Prophets.

CHAP. I.

1 Isaiah reprooueth the Iewes of their ingratitude and stubbornesse, that neither for benefits nor punishments would amend. 11 He sheweth why their sacrifices are reiected, and wherein Gods true seruice standeth. 24 Hee prophecieth of the destruction of Ierusalem, 25 And of the restitution thereof.

a That is, a reuelation or prophecie, which was one of the two meanes, whereby God declared himselfe to his seruants in olde time, as Num.12.6. and therefore the Prophets were called Seers, 1.Sam.9.9.

b Isaiah was chiefly sent to Iudah and Ierusalem, but not onely: for in this booke are prophecies concerning other nations also.

c Called also Azariah, 2.Kings 15.1. of these Kings reade, 2.Kings from Chap.14. vnto Chap.21. and 2.Chron. from Chap.25. vnto Chap.33.

d Because men were obstinate and insensible, hee calleth to the dumme creatures, which were more prompt to obey Gods worde, as Deut.32.1.

e He declareth his great mercy toward the Iewes, forasmuch as he chose them aboue all other nations to be his people and children, as Deut.10.15.

f The most brutish and dull beastes doe more acknowledge their duetie toward their masters, then my people doe toward me, of whome they haue receiued benefites without comparison.

g They were not onely wicked, as were their fathers, but vtterly corrupt, and by their euill example infected others.

h That is, him that sanctifieth their heart.

i What auaileth it to seeke to amende you by punishment, seeing the more I correct you, the more ye rebell?

THE a Vision of Isaiah, the sonne of Amoz, which he sawe b concerning Iudah and Ierusalem: in the dayes of c Vzziah, Iotham, Ahaz, and Hezekiah Kings of Iudah.

2 Heare, O d heauens, and hearken, O earth: for the Lorde hath sayde, I haue nourished and brought vp e children, but they haue rebelled against me.

3 The foxe knoweth his owner, and the asse his masters crib: but Israel hath not knowen: my people hath not vnderstood.

4 Ah, sinfull nation, a people laden with iniquitie: a g seede of the wicked, corrupt children: they haue forsaken the Lorde: they haue prouoked f h holy one of Israel to anger: they are gone backewarde.

5 Wherefore shoulde yee be i smitten any more? for ye fall away more and more: the whole k head is sicke, and the whole heart is heauie.

6 From the l sole of the foote vnto the head, there is nothing whole therein, but wounds, and swelling, and sores full: they haue not been m wrapped, nor bound vp, nor mollified with oyle.

7 Your land is waste: your cities are burnt with fire: strangers deuoure your land in your presence, and it is desolate like the ouerthrowe n of strangers.

8 And the daughter of o Zion shall remaine like a cottage in a vineyarde, like a lodge in a garden of cucumbers, and like a besieged citie.

9 Except the Lorde of hostes p had reserued vnto vs, euen a small remnant: wee should haue bene q as Sodom, and should haue bene like vnto Gomorah.

10 Heare the worde of the Lorde, O r princes of Sodom: hearken vnto the Law of our God, O people of Gomorah.

11 What haue I to doe with the multitude of your sacrifices, sayth the Lorde? I am full of the burnt offerings of rams, & of the fat of fed beasts: and I s desire not the blood of bullockes, nor of lambs, nor of goates.

12 When ye come to appeare before me, who k By the chiefe partes of the body, he signifieth, that there was no part of the whole body of the Iewes free from his rods.

l Euery part of the body, as well the least as the chiefest was plagued.

m Their plagues were so grieuous that they were incurable, and yet they would not repent.

n Meaning, of them that dwell farre off, which, because they looke for no aduantage of that which remaineth, destroy all before them.

o That is, Ierusalem.

p Because that he wil euer haue a Church to call vpon his Name.

q That is, all destroyed.

required this of your hands to tread in my courts?

13 Bring no mo oblations, c in vaine: incense is an abomination vnto me: I can not suffer your new moones, nor Sabbaths, nor solemne dayes (it is iniquitie) nor solemne assemblies.

14 My soule hateth your d newe moones and your appointed feastes: they are a burden vnto me: I am weary to beare them.

15 And when you shal stretch out your hands, I will hide mine eyes from you: and though yee make many prayers, I will not heare: for your hands are full e of blood.

16 f Wash you, make you cleane: take away the euill of your workes from before mine eyes: cease to doe euill.

17 Learne to g doe well: seeke iudgement, relieue the oppressed: iudge the fatherlesse and defend the widowe.

18 Come nowe, h and let vs reason together, sayth the Lord: though your sinnes were as crimsin, they shall be made i white as snowe: though they were red like skarlet, they shalbe as woll.

19 If ye k consent and obey, ye shall eate the good things of the land.

20 But if ye refuse and be rebellious, ye shalbe deuoured with the sword: for the mouth of the Lord hath spoken it.

21 Howe is the l faithfull citie become an harlot? it was full of iudgement, & iustice lodged therein, but nowe m they are murtherers.

22 Thy n siluer is become drosse: thy wine is mixt with water.

23 Thy Princes are rebellious and companions of o theeues: euery one loueth giftes, and followeth after rewardes: they iudge not the fatherlesse, neither doeth the widowes cause come before them.

24 Therefore sayth the Lorde God of hostes, the p mightie one of Israel, Ah, I wil q ease me of mine aduersaries, & auenge me of mine enemies.

25 And I wil r reach mine hand vpon thee, and purge out thy drosse as it s be purged, & take away all thy tinne.

26 t And I wil restore thy iudges as at the first, and thy counsellers as at the beginning: afterward shalt thou be called u citie of righteousnes, and a faithfull citie.

27 Zion shalbe redeemed in iudgement, and they that returne in her, in x iustice.

28 And the y destruction of the transgressers and of the sinners shalbe together: and they that forsake the Lord, shalbe consumed.

29 For they shalbe confounded for the z okes, which ye haue desired, and ye shalbe ashamed of the gardens, that ye haue chosen.

30 For ye shalbe as an oke, whose leafe fadeth: and as a garden that hath no water.

31 And the strong shalbe as a towe, and the maker thereof, as a sparke: and they shall both burne together, and none shall quench them.

a Know it & doe, seeing you without cause.

b Least sinners should pretende any rigour on Gods part, he only willeth them to be pure in heart, and he wil forgiue all their sinnes, were they neuer so many or great.

c He sheweth that whatsoeuer aduersitie man indureth, it ought to be attributed to his owne incredulitie and disobedience.

d That is, Ierusalem, which had promised fidelitie vnto me, as a wife to her husband, by blood, ver. 15.

e Giuen to couetousnes & extortion, which he signified before f Whatsoeuer was pure in thee before, is now corrupt, though they haue an outward shew.

g That is, they maintaine the wicked & the extortioners, & not only doe not punish them, but are themselues such.

h When God will shew himself merciful to his Church, hee calleth himselfe, The holy one of Israel: but when he hath to doe with his enemies, he is called Mightie, as against whom no power is able to resist.

i I wil take vengeance of mine aduersaries the Iewes, & so satisfie my desire by punishing them. Which thing yet he doeth with a griefe because of his couenant.

k Least the faithfull among them should be ouercome with this threatning, he addeth this consolation.

l It is onely the workes of God to purifie the heart of man, which thing he doeth because of his promes, made concerning the saluation of his Church.

m By iustice, is meant Gods faithfull promes which is the cause of the deliuerance of his Church.

n The wicked are no partakers of Gods promes, Psal. 1.5.

o That is, the trees & pleasant places, where ye commit idolatrie, which was forbidden, Deut. 16.21.

p The false gods wherein ye put your confidence shalbe confounded as easily as sparks of towe.

a Micah 7.4. a The decree and ordinance of God, touching the restauration of the Church, which is chiefly meant of the time of Christ.

b In an euident place to be seene and discerned.

c When the kingdome of Christ shalbe enlarged by the preaching of the doctrine. Here also is declared the zeale of the chil. dren of God, when they are called.

d Alluding to mount Zion, where the visible Church then was.

e Micah 4.2. e Meaning the whole doctrine of saluation.

f This was accomplished, when the Gospel was first preached in Ierusalem, and from thence went thorow all the world.

g The Lord, which is Christ, shall haue all power giuen him.

h That they may acknowledge their sinnes & turne to him.

i He sheweth the froite of the peace, which the Gospel should bringe with it, that men should doe good euen one another, where as before they were enemies.

k He speaketh not against the vse of weapons & warre, but sheweth how the hearts of the godly shalbe affected one towarde another, which peace and loue doeth begin with our Lord Christ Iesus.

l Seeing the Gentiles will be so ready, make you haste and follow them the way to worship God.

m The Prophet seeing the small hope that the Iewes would conuert, complaineth to God, as though hee had vtterly forsaken them for their sinnes.

n Full of the corruption that reigned chiefly in the East partes.

o They altogether gaue themselues to the lusions of other nations.

p The Prophet first condemned their superstition and idolatrie: then their couetousnes, and thirdly their vaine trust in worldly meanes.

q Hee meaneth the nature of the idolaters, which are neuer satisfied in their superstition.

r Thus the Prophet spake, being inflamed with the zeale of Gods glory, that he might feare them with Gods iudgement.

s Meaning, as soone as God shall beginne to execute his iudgements.

t By hie trees and mountaines are meant them that are proude and lostie, and thinke themselues most strong in the world.

u Hee condemneth their vaine confidence, which they had in their holdes, and in their rich marchandise, which brought in vaine pleasures, with meanes to abuse them to idolatrie.

vpon all pleasant pictures.

17 And the hautinesse of men shalbe brought low, and the loftinesse of men shalbe abased, and the Lord shall onely be exalted in that day.

18 And the idoles will he vtterly destroy.

19 Then they shall goe [o] into the holes of the rockes, & into the caues of the earth, from before the feare of the Lord, and from the glory of his maiestie, when he shall arise to destroy the earth.

20 At that day shall man cast away his siluer idoles, and his golden idoles (which they had made themselues to worship them) [z] to the mowles and to the backes,

21 To go into the holes of the rockes, and into the toppes of the ragged rockes from before the feare of the Lord, and from the glorie of his maiestie, when he shall rise to destroy the earth.

22 Cease you from the man whose [y] breath is in his nostrels: for wherein is he to be esteemed?

CHAP. III.

[1] For the sinne of the people God will take away the wise men, and giue them foolish princes. 14 The contemptuousnesse of the gouernours. 16 The pride of the women.

FOr loe, the Lord God of hostes will take away from Ierusalem and from Iudah the stay [a] and the strength: euen all the staye of bread, and all the stay of water,

2 The strong man, and the man of warre, [b] the iudge and the prophet, the prudent and the aged,

3 The captaine of fiftie, and the honourable, and the counseller, and the cunning artificer, and [c] the eloquent man.

4 And I will appoynt [d] children to bee their princes, and babes shall rule ouer them.

5 The people shalbe [e] oppressed one of another, and euery one by his neighbour: the children shall presume against the ancient, and the vile against the honourable.

6 When euery one shall [f] take holde of his brother of the house of his father, and say, Thou hast clothing: thou shalt be our prince, and let this fall be vnder thine hand:

7 In [g] y day he shall sweare, saying, I cannot be an helper: for there is no bread in mine house, nor clothing: therfore make me no prince of y people.

8 Doubtlesse Ierusalem is fallen, and Iudah is fallen downe, because their tongue & workes are against the Lord, to prouoke the eies of his glory.

9 The [h] triall of their countenance testifieth against them, yea, they declare their sinnes, as Sodom, they hid them not. Wo be vnto their soules: for they haue rewarded euill vnto themselues.

10 [i] Say ye, Surely it shalbe well with the iust: for they shall eate the fruite of their workes.

11 Woe be to the wicked, it shalbe euill with him: for the reward of his hands shalbe giuen him.

12 [k] Children are extortioners of my people, they that leade thee, cause thee to erre, & destroy the way of thy paths.

13 The Lord standeth vp to pleade, yea, hee standeth to iudge the people.

14 The Lord shall enter into iudgement with the [l] Ancients of his people & the princes thereof: for ye haue eaten vp the vineyard: the spoyle of the poore is in your houses.

15 What haue ye to do, that ye beate my people to pieces, [m] and grinde the faces of the poore, saith the Lord, euen the Lord of hostes?

16 The Lord also saith, [n] Because the daughters of Zion are hautie, and walke with [p] stretched out neckes, and with [q] wanton eyes, walking and [q] mincing as they goe, and making a [r] tinkeling with their feete, 17 Therefore shall the Lord make the heads of the daughters of Zion balde, and the Lorde shall discouer their secret partes.

18 In that day shall the Lord take away the ornament of the slippers, and the calles, and the round tyres,

19 The sweete balles, and the bracelets, and the bonnets,

20 The tyres of the head, and the sloppes, and the head bands, and the tablets, and the earerings,

21 The rings and the mufflers,

22 The costly apparell and the vailes, and the wimples, and the crisping pinnes,

23 And the glasses and the fine linnen, and the hoodes and the [s] launes.

24 And in steade of sweete sauour, there shall be stinke, and in steade of a girdle, a rent, and in steade of dressing of the heare, baldnesse, and in steade of a stomacher, a girding of sackecloth, and burning in steade of beautie.

25 Thy men [t] shall fall by the sword, and thy strength in the battell.

26 Then shall her gates mourne and lament, and she, being desolate, shall sit vpon the ground.

[a] Because they trusted in their abundance and prosperity, he sheweth that they should be taken from them.
[b] The temporall gouernour and the minister.
[c] by these he meaneth that God would take away euery thing that was in any estimation, and wherein they had any occasion to vaunt themselues.
[d] Not onely in age, but in wit, maners, knowledge and strength.
[e] For lacke of good regimente and order.
[f] He sheweth that their plague shalbe so horrible, that contrary to the common maner of men, which by nature are ambitious, none shalbe found able or willing to be their gouernour.
[g] Feare shall rather cause him to forsweare himself, then to take such a dangerous charge vpon him.
[h] When God shal examine their workes whereupon they now set an impudent face, he shall finde the marke of their impietie in their foreheads.
[i] Yet that are godly assured that God will defend you in the middes of these troubles.
[k] Because the wicked people were more addict to their princes, then to the commandements of God, he sheweth that he would giue them such princes, by reason whereof they should haue no helpe, but that shoulde be manifest tokens of his wrath, because they should be fooles & effeminate.
[l] Meaning that y rulers & gouernours had destroyed his Church, & not preserued it, according to their duetie.
[m] That is, you shewe all crueltie against them.
[n] He nameth the people, because of the arrogancie and pride of their women, which gaue them occasion to all wantonnesse and dissolution.
[o] Which declared their pride.
[p] As a signe, that they were not chaste.
[q] Which shewed their wantonnesse.
[r] They dallied them in slippers that did creake, or had little plates sowed vpon them, which tinkled as they went.
[s] In reckoning all these things particularly, he sheweth the lightnesse and vanitie of such as cannot be content with comely apparell according to their degree.
[t] Meaning, that God will not only punish the women, but their husbands, which haue suffred this dissolutenesse, and also the common weale, which hath not remedied it.

CHAP. IIII.

[1] The small remnant of men after the destruction of Ierusalem. [2] The graces of God vpon them that remaine.

ANd in y day shall [a] seuen women take hold of one man, saying, We wil eate our own bread, and we will weare our own garments: only let vs be called by thy name, & take away our [c] reproch.

2 In that day shall the [d] budde of the Lord be beautifull and glorious, and the fruite of the earth shalbe excellent and pleasant for them that are escaped of Israel.

3 Then hee that shalbe left in Zion, and hee that shall remaine in Ierusalem, shalbe called holy, and euery one shalbe [e] written among the liuing in Ierusalem,

4 When the Lord shall wash the filthinesse of the daughters of Zion, and purge the [f] blood of Ierusalem out of the middes thereof by the spirit of [g] iudgement, and by the spirit of burning.

5 And the Lord shall create vpon euery place of mount Zion, and vpon the assemblies thereof, [h] a cloude and smoke by day, and the shining of a flaming fire by night: for vpon all the [i] glorie shall be a defence.

6 And a couering shalbe for a shadowe in the day for the heate, and a place of refuge and a couert for the storme [k] and for the raine.

[a] When God shall execute the vengeance, there shall not be one man found to lay the head to many women, and they contrary to womanly shamefastnesse, shall seke vnto men, and offer themselues to any condition.
[b] Be thou our husband, and let vs be called thy wiues.
[c] For so they thought it to be without an head and husband.
[d] He comforteth the Church in that desolation, which shall spring vp like a bud, signifying that Gods graces should be as plentifull toward the faithfull, as though they sprang out of the earth, as Chap. 45.8. Some by the budde of the Lord meane Christ.
[e] He alludeth to the booke of life, whereof reade Exod. 32.32: meaning Gods secret counsell, wherein is set downe who are predestinate to life euerlasting.
[f] That is, the crueltie, extortion, and all wickednesse.
[g] When things shalbe redressed they were to suffer.
[h] He alludeth to the pillar of the cloude, Exod. 13.21, meaning, that Gods fauour and protection should appeare in euery place.
[i] The faithfull are called the glory of God, because his image, and tokens of his grace shine in them.
[k] God promiseth to be the defence of his Church against all troubles and dangers.

CHAP. V.

1 Vnder the similitude of the vine, he describeth the state of the people. 8 Of their auarice. 11 Their drunkennesse, 13 Of their captiuitie.

NOwe will a I sing to my b beloued a song of my beloued to his vineyard: My beloued had a c vineyard in a very fruictfull hill,

2 And hee hedged it, and gathered out the stones of it, and hee planted it with the best plants, d and hee built a towre in the middes thereof, and made a wine presse therein: then he looked that it should bring foorth grapes: but it brought e foorth wilde grapes.

3 Now therefore, O inhabitants of Ierusalem and men of Iudah, iudge, I pray you, f betweene me, and my vineyard.

4 What could I haue done any more to my vineyard that I haue not done vnto it? why haue I looked that it should bring foorth grapes, and it bringeth foorth wilde grapes?

5 And nowe I will tell you what I will doe to my vineyard: I g will take away the hedge thereof, and it shall be eaten vp: I will breake the wall thereof, and it shalbe troden downe:

6 And I will lay it waste: it shall not be cut, nor digged, but briers, and thornes shall grow vp: I will also commaund the cloudes that they raine no raine vpon it.

7 Surely the vineyard of the Lorde of hostes is the house of Israel, and the men of Iudah are his pleasant plant, and hee looked for h iudgement, but beholde oppression: for righteousnesse, but beholde i a crying.

8 Woe vnto them that ioyne house to house, and laye fielde to fielde, till there be no k place, that ye may be placed by your selues in the mids of the earth.

9 This is in mine l eares, saith the Lorde of hostes. Surely many houses shalbe desolate, euen great and faire without inhabitant.

10 For ten acres of vines shall yeeld one m bath, and the seede of an homer shal yeeld an o ephah.

11 ¶ Woe vnto them, that p rise vp earely to followe drunkennesse, and to them that continue vntill q night, till the wine doe inflame them.

12 And the harpe and viole, timbrel, and pipe, and wine are in their feasts: but they regard not the r worke of the Lord, neither consider the worke of his hands.

13 Therefore my people s is gone into captiuitie, because they had t no knowledge, and the glorie thereof are men famished, and the multitude thereof is dried vp with thirst.

14 Therfore u hel hath inlarged it selfe, & hath opened his mouth, without measure, & their glorie, and their multitude, and their pompe, and hee that reioyceth among them, shal descend into it.

15 And man shalbe brought downe, and man shalbe humbled, euen the eyes of the proude shall be humbled.

16 And the Lorde of hostes shalbe exalted in iudgement, and the holy God shalbe sanctified in iustice.

17 Then shall x the lambes feede after their manner, and the strangers shall eate the desolate places of the fat.

18 ¶ Woe vnto them, that draw iniquitie with y cordes of vanitie, and sinne, as with cart ropes:

19 Which say, z Let him make speede: let him hasten his worke, that we may see it: and let the counsell of the holy one of Israel draw neere and come, that we may knowe it.

20 Woe vnto them that speake good of euill, a and euill of good, which put darkenes for light, and light for darkenes, that put bitter for sweete, and sweete for sowre.

21 Woe vnto them that are b wise in their owne eyes, and prudent in their owne sight.

22 Woe vnto them that are c mightie to drinke wine, and to them that are strong to powre in strong drinke:

23 Which iustifie the wicked for a reward, & take away ỹ righteousnes of ỹ righteous frō him.

24 Therefore as the flame of fire deuoureth the stubble, & as the chaffe is consumed of the flame: so their d roote shalbe as rottennesse, and their bud shall rise vp like dust, because they haue cast off the Lawe of the Lorde of hostes, and contemned the worde of the holy one of Israel.

25 Therefore is the wrath of the Lord kindled against his people, and he hath stretched out his e hand vpon them, and hath smitten them that the mountaines did tremble: and their carkases were torne in the middes of the streetes. And for all this his wrath was not turned away, but his hand was stretched out still.

26 And hee will lift vp a signe f vnto the nations a farre, and wil hisse vnto them from the ende of the earth: and beholde, they shal come hastily with speede.

27 None shall g faint nor fall among them: none shall slumber nor sleepe, neither shall the girdle of his loynes be loosed, nor h the latchet of his shooes be broken:

28 Whose arrowes shalbe sharpe, and all his bowes bent: his horses hooues shalbe thought like flint, and his wheeles like a whirlewinde.

29 His roaring shall be like a lyon, and he shall roare like lyons whelps: they shal i roare, and lay holde of the praye: he shall take it away, and none shall deliuer it.

30 And in that day they shal roare vpon them, as the roaring of the sea: and if k they looke vnto the earth, behold darkenesse, and sorowe, and the light shalbe darkened in the heauens.

CHAP. VI.

1 Isaiah sheweth his vocation by the vision of the diuine maiestie. 9 He sheweth the obstinacie of the people. 11 The destruction of the land. 13 The remnant reserued.

IN the yeere of the death of King Vzziah, a I saw also the Lord sitting vpon an b high throne, and lifted vp, and the lower c partes thereof filled the Temple.

2 The d Seraphims stoode vpon it: euery one had sixe wiggs: with twaine he couered his e face, and with twaine he couered his f feete, and with twaine he did g flie.

a The Prophet by this song doth set before the peoples eyes their ingratitude, and Gods mercie.
b That is, to God. Iere. 2.21. Mat. 21.33
c Meaning, that he had planted his Church in a place most plentiful and abundant.
d He spared no diligence nor cost.
e In the seuenth verse he declareth what they were.
f He maketh them iudges in their owne cause, for as much as it was euident that they were the cause of their owne ruine.
g I will take no more care for it: meaning, that he would take from them his word and ministers, and all other comforters, and send them contrary plagues.
h Iudgement and righteousnesse are true fruites of the feare of God, and therefore in the cruell oppressers there is no religion.
i Of them that are oppressed.
k To wit, for the poore to dwell in.
l I haue heard the complaint and crie of the [illegible]
m Which measureth about three bushels: so ỹ euery acre should but yeeld one pottel.
n Which conteineth an hundreth pottels.
o An Ephah conteineth ten pottels, and is in dry things as much as bath is in licours.
p That spare no pain nor diligence to solow their lustes.
q Which are neuer weary of their rioting and excessiue pleasures: but vse all meanes to prouoke to the same.
r They regard not the prouident care of God ouer the[m]. s That is, shal certainely go: for so the Prophets vse to speake, as though the thing which shall come to passe, were done already.
t Because they would not obey the word of God.
u Meaning, the grave shal swallow vp them that shal die for huger & thirst, & yet for al this great destruction it shal neuer be satisfied.
x God comforteth the poore lambes of his Church, which had bin strangers in other countries, promising that they should dwel in those places againe, whereof they had bin depriued by the fat and cruel tyrant[s].
y Which vse all allurements, persuasions, and excuses to harden their consciences in sin.
z He sheweth what are the words of the wicked, when they are menaced with Gods iudgements. 2. Peter 3.4.
a Which are not ashamed of sinne, not care for honestie, but are growen to a desperate impietie.
b Which are contemners of all doctrine and admonition.
c Which are neuer weary, but shew their strength, and bragge in gloriously and drunkennes.
d Both they and their posterity, so that nothing shal be left.
e He sheweth that God had so sore punished this people, that the dumbe creatures, if they had bene so plagued, would haue bene more sensible, and therefore his plagues must continue, till they beginne to feele them.
f He will make the Babylonians to come against them at his becke, and to fight vnder his standerd.
g They shall be prompt, and lusty to execute Gods vengeance.
h The enemie shall haue none impediment.
i Whereby is declared the cruelty of the enemie.
k The Iewes shall finde no succour.
l In the land of Iudah.

a God sheweth not himselfe to man in his maiestie, but according as mans capacitie is able to comprehend him: that is, by visible figures, as Iohn Baptist saw the holy Ghost in the forme of a done. b As a Iudge ready to giue sentence. c Of his garment, or of his throne. d They were Angels, so called, because they were of a fierie colour, to signify that they burnt in the loue of God, or were light as fire to execute his will. e Signifying, that they were not able to endure the brightnesse of Gods glorie. Whereby was declared that man was not able to see the brightnesse of God in [illegible]. g Which thing declareth the prompt obedience of the Angels to [illegible] Gods commandement.

3 And

h This oft repetition signifieth, that if holy Angels can not satisfie themselues in praysing God, to teach vs that in all our liues we should giue our selues to the continuall prayse of God.

i His glory doeth not onely appeare in the heauens, but through all the world, and therefore all creatures are bound to praise him.

k Which things were to confirme the Prophet, that it was not the voyce of man: and by the smoke was signified the blindnes that should come vpon the Iewes.

l He speaketh this for two causes: the one, because hee that was a mortall creature, & therefore had more neede to glorifie God then the Angels, did it not: and the other, because the more neere that man approcheth to God, the more doeth hee know his owne sinne and corruption.

m Of the burnt offerings, where the fire neuer went out.

3 And one cryed to another, and sayd, Holy, holy, holy is the Lorde of hostes: the whole i world is full of his glory.

4 And the lintels of the doore cheekes k moued at the voyce of him that cryed, and the house was filled with smoke.

5 Then I sayd, l Wo is me: for I am vndone, because I am a man of polluted lips, & I dwell in the middes of a people of polluted lips: for mine eyes haue seene the King, and Lord of hostes.

6 Then flewe one of the Seraphims vnto mee with an hote cole in his hand, which hee had taken from the m altar with the tongs:

7 And he touched my mouth, and sayd, Loe, this hath touched thy lips, & thine iniquitie shall be taken away, and thy n sinne shalbe purged.

8 Also I heard the voyce of the Lord, saying, Whome shall I send? and who shall goe for vs? Then I sayd, Here am I, send me.

9 And he sayd, Goe, and say vnto this people, o Ye shall heare in deede, but yee shall not vnderstand: ye shall plainely see, and not perceiue.

10 Make p heart of this people fat, make their eares heauie, & shut their eyes, lest they see with their eyes, & heare with their eares, & vnderstand with their hearts, and conuert, and he heale them.

11 Then sayd I, Lorde, q howe long? And he answered, Vntill the cities be wasted without inhabitant, and the houses without man, and the land be vtterly desolate, 12 And the Lord haue removed men farre away, and there be a great desolation in the mids of the land.

13 But yet in it shalbe r a tenth, and shall returne, & shalbe eaten vp as an elme r or as an oke, which haue a substance in them, when they cast their leaues: so the holy seede shall be the substance thereof.

n This declareth that man cannot render true obedience to God till he haue purged vs.

o Whereby is declared that for the malice of man God wil not immediatly take away his worde, but hee wil cause it to be preached to their condemnation, when as they wil not learne thereby to obey his wil, and be saued: hereby he exhorteth the ministers to doe their duetie, and answereth to the wicked murmurers, that through their owne malice their heart is hardened. Matt. 13. 14. 28. 26. rom. 11 8.

p As hee was mooued with the zeale of Gods glory, so was he touched with a charitable affection toward the people.

q Meaning, the tenth part: or as some write, it was reuealed to Isaiah for the confirmation of his prophecie, that ten Kings should come before their captiuitie, as were from Vzziah to Zedekiah.

r For the fewnesse they shall seeme to be eaten vp: yet they shall after florish as a tree, which in winter looseth his leaues, and seemeth to be dead, yet in sommer is fresh, and greene.

CHAP. VII.

1 Ierusalem besieged. 4 Isaiah comforteth the King. 14 Christ is promised.

a 2 Kings 16. 5.

b Or, Syria.

c To wit, the second time: for in the first battell Ahaz was ouercome, d Meaning, the Kings house.

e That is, Israel, because that Tribe was the greatest, Gene. 49. 3.

f For feare.

g That is to say, the rest shall seruice, which Isaiah gaue his sonne, to signifie that the rest of the people should returne out of their captiuitie.

A Nd in the dayes of a Ahaz, the sonne of Iotham, b sonne of Vzziah king of Iudah, Rezin the King of b Aram c came vp, and Pekah the sonne of Remaliah King of Israel, to Ierusalem to fight against it, but he could not ouercome it.

2 And it was tolde the house of d Dauid, saying, Aram is ioyned with e Ephraim: therefore his heart was d moued, and the heart of his people, as the trees of the forest are moued by the winde.

3 ¶ Then sayde the Lorde vnto Isaiah, Goe forth nowe to meete Ahaz (thou and g Sheariashub thy sonne) at the ende of the conduit of the vpper poole, in the path of the fullers fielde,

4 And say vnto him, Take heede, and be still: feare not, neither be faint hearted for the two tailes of the smoking f firebrands, for the furious wrath of Rezin and of Aram, and of Remaliahs sonne:

5 Because Aram hath taken wicked counsell against thee, and Ephraim, and Remaliahs sonne, saying,

6 Let vs goe vp against Iudah, and let vs warken them vp, and make a breach therein for vs, and set a King in the mids thereof, euen the sonne of s Tabeal.

7 Thus sayth the Lorde God, It shall not stand, neither shall it be.

8 For the head of Aram is Damascus, and the head of Damascus is Rezin: and within fiue and t threescore yeere, Ephraim shall be destroyed from being a people.

9 And the head of Ephraim is Samaria, and the head of Samaria is Remaliahs sonne. If ye beleeue not, surely ye shall not be established.

10 ¶ And the Lord spake againe vnto Ahaz, saying,

11 Aske i a signe for thee of the Lorde thy God: aske it, either in the depth beneath, or in the height aboue.

12 But Ahaz sayd, I will not aske, neither will I k tempt the Lord.

13 Then he sayd, Heare you now, O house of Dauid, Is it a small thing for you to grieue l men, that ye will also grieue my God?

14 Therefore the Lorde m himselfe will giue you a signe. Beholde, the virgine shall conceiue and beare a sonne, and she shal call his name ‖ Immanuel.

15 n Butter and hony shal he eate, till he haue knowledge to refuse the euill, and to chuse the good.

16 For afore the o childe shall haue knowledge to eschew the euill, and to chuse the good, the land, that thou abhorrest, shall be forsaken of both her Kings.

17 The Lord shall bring vpon thee, and vpon thy people, and vpon thy fathers house (the dayes that are not come from the day that p Ephraim departed from Iudah) euen the King of q Asshur.

18 And in that day shall the Lorde hisse for the r flie that is at the vttermost part of the floods of Egypt, and for the bee which is in the land of Asshur, 19 And they shall come and shall light all in the desolate valleys, and in the holes of the rockes, and vpon all thorny places, and vpon all bushy f places.

20 In that day shall the Lord shaue with a razor that is hired, euen by them beyond the Riuer, by the King of Asshur, the head and the haire of the t feete, and it shall consume the beard.

21 And in the same day shall a man u nourish a yong kowe, and two sheepe.

22 And for the x abundance of milke, that they shall giue, hee shall eate butter: for butter and hony shal euery one eate, which is left within the land.

h Which haue but a little smoke and shall quickly be quenched.

i Which was an Israelite, & to whom they should resort, enemies to the house of Dauid.

k Counting from the fiue and twentieth yeere of the reigne of Vzziah, at what time Amos prophecied this thing, and now Isaiah confirmeth that the Israelites should be led into perpetuall captiuitie, which thing came to passe within twentie yeere after that Isaiah did this message.

l For the confirmation of this thing, that their enemies shall be destroyed and thou preserued.

m Not to beleeue Gods worde without a signe, is to tempt God: but to refuse a signe when God offereth it for the ayde & helpe of our infirmitie, is to rebell against him.

n You thinke you haue to doe with men, when ye contemne Gods messengers: but in deede God against whom you bend your selues.

o For as much as thou art vnable thy, ‖ Lord for his owne promise will giue a signe, which shalbe that Christ the Sauiour of his Church shall be the end of all figures & types which shalbe reuealed.

‖ Or, God with vs, which name was agree to none, but to him that is both God and man.

p Meaning, that Christ is not onely God, but man also, because he should be nourished as other men, vntill he came to yeeres of discretion.

q Not meaning Christ, but any childe: for before a childe can come to the yeeres of discretion, the Kings of Samaria & Syria shalbe destroyed.

p Since the time that the ten Tribes rebelled vnder Roboam.

q In whome thou hast put thy trust.

r Meaning the Egyptians: for by reason the countrey is hote & moyst, it is full of flies, as Assyria is full of bees.

s Signifying, that no place shall be free from them.

t That is, that which is from the belly downeward, meaning, that God would destroy both great & small.

u He that before had a great number of cattel, shall be content with on kowe and two sheepe.

x The number of men shall be so small, that a seuen beastes shalbe able to nourish all aboundantly.

33 And at the same day euery place, wherein shalbe a thousand vines, shalbe at a thousand pieces of siluer: so it shalbe for the briers and for the thornes,

24 With arrowes and with y bowe shall one come thither: because all the land shall be briers and thornes.

25 But on z all the mountaines, which shalbe digged with the mattocke, there shall not come thither the feare of briers and thornes: but they shalbe for the sending out of bullocks, & for the treading of sheepe.

MOreouer, the Lord said vnto me, Take thee a a great roll, & write in it b with a mans pen, Make speede to the spoyle: haste to the praye.

2 Then I tooke vnto me c faithfull witnesses to recorde, Vriah the Priest, and Zechariah the sonne of Ieberechiah.

3 After, I came vnto the d Prophetesse, which conceiued, and bare a sonne. Then sayd the Lord to me, Call his name, ‖ Maher-shalal hash-baz.

4 For before the e childe shall haue knowledge to crye, My father, & my mother, f he shall take away the riches of Damascus, and the spoyle of Samaria, before the king of Asshur.

5 ¶ And the Lord spake yet againe vnto me, saying,

6 Because this people hath refused the waters of g Shiloah that runne softly, and reioyce with Rezin, and the sonne of Remaliah,

7 Nowe therefore, beholde, the Lorde bringeth vp vpon them the waters of h the Riuer mightie and great, euen the King of Asshur with all his glory, and he shall come vp vpon all their riuers, and goe ouer all their banks,

8 And shall breake into Iudah, and shal ouerflowe and passe through, and shal come vp to the i necke, and the stretching out of his wings shall fill the breadth of thy land, O k Immanu-el.

9 Gather together on heapes, O ye l people, and ye shalbe broken in pieces, and hearken all ye of farre countreys: gird your selues, and you shalbe broken in pieces: gird your selues, and you shalbe broken in pieces.

10 Take counsell together, yet it shall be brought to nought: pronounce a decree, yet shall it not stand: for God is with vs.

11 For the Lorde spake thus to me in taking m of mine hand, and taught me, that I should not walke in the way of this people, saying,

12 Say ye not, A n confederacie to all them, to whome this people sayth a confederacie, neither feare you o their feare, nor be afrayd of them.

13 p Sanctifie the Lord of hostes, and let him be your feare, and let him be your dread,

14 And he shall be as a q Sanctuarie: but as a stumbling stone, and as a rocke to fall vpon, to both the houses of Israel, and as a snare and as a net to the inhabitants of Ierusalem.

15 And many among them shall stumble, and shal fall and shalbe broken and shalbe snared and shalbe taken.

16 r Binde vp the testimonie: seale vp the Law among my disciples.

17 Therefore I wil waite vpon the Lorde that hath hid his face from the house of Iaakob, and I will looke for him.

18 Beholde, I and the s children whome the Lorde hath giuen me, are as signes and as wonders in Israel, t by the Lorde of hostes, which dwelleth in mount Zion.

19 And when they shal say vnto you, Enquire at them that haue a spirit of diuination, and at the soothsayers, which whisper & murmure, u Should not a people enquire at their God? from the x liuing to the dead?

20 To the y Law, and to the testimonie, if they speake not according to this worde: it is because there is no z light in them.

21 Then he that is afflicted & famished, shall go to and fro in a it: and when he shalbe hungry, hee shall euen fret himselfe, b and curse his King and his gods, and shall looke vpward.

22 And when hee shall looke to the earth, beholde trouble, and c darkenes, vexation and anguish, and he is driuen to darkenes.

a That thou mayest write in great letters to the intent it may be more easily read.
b Meaning, after the common facion: because all men might reade it.
c Because the thing was of great importance hee tooke these two witnesses, which were of credite with the people, when he set this vp vpon the doore of the temple, albeit Vriah was a flattering hypocrite, 2 King. 16. 11.

m To encourage me that I should not shrinke for the infidelitie of this people, & so neglect mine office.
n Consent not ye that are godly, to the league & friendship that this people seeke with strangers & idolaters.
o Meaning, that they should not feare the thing that they feared, which haue no hope in God.
p In putting your trust onely in him, in calling vpon him in aduersitie, patiently looking for his helpe, and fearing to doe any thing contary to his will.
q He wil defend you which are his elect, and reiect all the rest, which is meat of Christ, against whom y Iewes should stumble & fal, Luk. 2. 34. Rom. 9. 33. 1. Pet. 2. 7, 8.
r Though all forsake me, yet saue those that are mine, keepe my worde sure sealed in your hearts.
s Meaning, them that were willing to heare and obey the word of God, whome the world hated, as though they were monsters and not worthy to liue.
t This was a consolation in their troubles, knowing that nothing could come vnto them, but by the will of the Lord.
u Answere the wicked thus, Should not Gods people seeke in our only at him?
x That is, wil they refuse to be taught of the Prophet, who is the mouth of God, and seeke helpe at the dead, which is the illusion of Satan?
y Seeke remedie in the worde of God where his will is declared.
z They haue no knowledge, but are blinde leaders of the blinde.
a That is, in Iudah, where they should haue had rest, if they had not thus grieuously offended God.

2 The people that d walked in darkenes, haue seene a great e light: they that dwelled in the land of the shadowe of death, vpon them hath the f light shined.

3 Thou hast g multiplied the nation, and not increased their ioye: they haue reioyced before thee according to the ioye in harueste, and as men reioyce when they diuide a spoyle.

4 For the h yoke of their burthen, and the staffe of their shoulder and the rod of their oppressour hast thou broken, as in y day of Midian.

5 Surely euery battell of the warriour is with noyse, & with tumbling of garments in blood: but this shalbe i with burning and deuouring of fire.

d Which were captiue in Babylon: and the Prophet speaketh of that thing which should come to passe three score yeeres after, as though it were now done.
e Meaning, the comfort of their deliuerance.
f This captiuitie and deliuerance were figures of our captiuitie by sinne, and of our deliuerance by Christ through the preaching of the Gospel, Mat. 4. 15, 16.
g Their number was greater when they were into captiuitie then when they returned, but their ioy was greater at their returning, Hag. 2. 4.
h Thou gauest them perfit ioy, by deliuering them and by destroying the tyrants that had kept them in cruell bondage, as thou didst deliuer them by Gideon from the Midianites, Iud. 7. 22.

his ſhoulder, and he ſhall call his name Wonderfull, Counſeller, The mightie God, The euerla-

7 The increaſe of his gouernement and peace ſhall haue none end: he ſhall ſit vpon the throne of Dauid, and vpon his kingdome, to order it, and to ſtabliſh it with iudgement & with iuſtice, from henceforth, euen for euer: i the zeale of the Lord of hoſtes will perfourme this.

8 ¶ The Lord hath ſent a worde into Iaakob, and it hath lighted vpon m Iſrael.

9 And all the people ſhall knowe, euen Ephraim, and the inhabitant of Samaria, that ſay in the pride and preſumption of the heart,

10 The n brickes are fallen, but we will builde it with hewen ſtones: the wilde figge trees are cut downe, but we will change them into cedars.

11 Neuertheles, the Lord will raiſe vp the aduerſaries of o Rezin againſt him, and ioyne his enemies together.

12 Aram before & the Philiſtims behinde, and they ſhall deuoure Iſrael with open mouth: yet for all this his wrath is not turned away, but his hande is ſtretched out ſtill.

13 For p people turneth not vnto him ſ ſmiteth them, neither do they ſeeke ſ Lord of hoſtes.

14 Therefore wil the Lord cut off from Iſrael head and taile, branche and ruſh in one day.

15 The ancient and the honorable man, he is the head: and the prophet that teacheth lies, he is the taile.

16 For the leaders of the people cauſe them to erre: and they that are led by them, are deuoured.

17 Therefore ſhal the Lord haue no pleaſure in their yong men, neither will he haue compaſsion of their fatherleſſe & of their widowes: for euery one is an hypocrite and wicked, and euery mouth ſpeaketh folly: yet for all this his wrath is not turned away, but his hand is ſtretched out ſtill.

18 For wickedneſſe p burneth as a fire: it deuoureth the briers and the thornes, and will kindle in the thicke places of the foreſt: and they ſhall mount vp like the lifting vp of ſmoke.

19 By the wrath of the Lord of hoſtes ſhal the land be darkened, and the people ſhall be as the meate of the fire: no man ſhall q ſpare his brother.

20 And he ſhall ſnatch at the right hand, and be hungrie: and hee ſhall eate on the left hand, and ſhall not be ſatisfied: euery one ſhall eate the r fleſh of his owne arme.

21 Manaſſeh Ephraim: and Ephraim Manaſſeh, and they both ſhalbe againſt Iudah: yet for al this his wrath is not turned away, but his hand is ſtretched out ſtill.

CHAP. X.

1 Of wicked lawmakers. 5 God will puniſh his people by the Aſſyrians and after deſtroy them. 21 The remnant of Iſrael ſhalbe ſaued.

WO vnto them that decree wicked decrees, and s write grieuous things,

2 To keepe backe the poore from iudgement, and to take away the iudgement of the poore of my people, that widowes may be their pray, and that they may ſpoyle the fatherleſſe.

3 What will ye doe now in the day of viſitation, & of deſtructio, which ſhal come from t farre? to whom will yee flee for helpe? and where wil ye leaue your u glorie?

4 v Without mee euery one ſhall fall among them that are bounde, and they ſhal fall downe among the ſlaine: yet for all this his wrath is not turned away, but his hand is ſtretched out ſtill.

5 ¶ O x Aſhur, the rodde of my wrath: and the ſtaffe in their hands is mine indignation.

6 I will ſende y him to a diſſembling nation, and I wil giue him a charge againſt the people of my wrath to take the ſpoyle & to take the pray, and to tread them vnder feete like the mire in the ſtreete.

7 But he thinketh not ſo, neither doeth his heart eſteeme it ſo; but hee imagineth to deſtroy and to cut off not a few nations.

8 For he ſaith, Are not my princes altogether Kings?

9 Is not Calno as z Carchemiſh? Is not Hamath like Arpad? Is not Samaria as Damaſcus?

10 Like as mine hand hath founde the kingdomes of the idoles, ſeeing their idoles were aboue Ieruſalem, and aboue Samaria:

11 Shall not I, as I haue done to Samaria, and to the idoles thereof, ſo doe to Ieruſalem and to the idoles thereof?

12 ¶ But when the Lorde hath accompliſhed a all his worke vpon mount Zion and Ieruſalem, I wil viſit the fruit of ſ proude heart b of the King of Aſſhur, and his glorious and proude lookes,

13 Becauſe he ſaid, By the power of mine owne hand haue I done it, & by my wiſedome, becauſe I am wiſe: therefore I haue remoued the borders of the people, & haue ſpoiled their treaſures, & haue pulled downe the inhabitants like a valiant man,

14 And mine hand hath founde as a neſt the riches of the people, and as one gathereth egges that are left, ſo haue I gathered all the earth: and there was none to moue the wing or to open the mouth, or to whiſper.

15 Shal the c axe boaſt it ſelfe againſt him that heweth therewith? or ſhall the ſawe exalt it ſelfe againſt him that moueth it? as if the rod ſhoulde lift vp it ſelfe againſt him that taketh it vp, or the ſtaffe ſhould exalt it ſelfe, as it were no wood.

16 Therefore ſhal the Lord God of hoſtes ſend among his fatte men, leannes, and vnder his glory he ſhal kindle a burning, like the burning of fire.

17 And the light of Iſrael ſhalbe as a d fire, and the Holy one thereof as a flame, and it ſhal burne, and deuoure e his thornes & his briers in one day:

18 And ſhall conſume the glory of his foreſt, and of his fruitful fields both ſoule n and fleſh: and he ſhalbe as the o fainting of a ſtandard bearer.

19 And the reſt of the trees of his foreſt ſhalbe fewe, that a childe may tell them.

20 ¶ And at that day ſhal the remnant of Iſrael, & ſuch as are eſcaped of the houſe of Iaakob, ſtay no more vpon him that ſmote them, but ſhall p ſtay vpon ſ Lord, the holy one of Iſrael in truth.

21 The remnant ſhal returne, euen the remnant of Iaakob vnto the mightie God.

22 For though thy people, O Iſrael, be as the ſand of the ſea, yet ſhall the remnant of them returne. The conſumption q decreed ſhall ouerflow with righteouſneſſe.

23 For the Lord God of hoſtes ſhall make the conſumption, euen r determined, in the middes of all the land.

m This is another propheſie againſt them of Samaria, which were mockers and contemners of Gods promiſes & menaces.

n We were but meeke, when the enemie ouercame vs, but we will make our ſelues ſo ſtrong, that we wil neither care for our enemies, nor feare Gods threatnings.

o Rezin King of Syria, who was in league with Iſrael, was ſlaine by the Aſſyrians, after whoſe death, Aram, that is, the Syrians were againſt Iſrael, which on the other ſide were aſſailed by the Philiſtims.

p Wickedneſſe as a bellowes kindleth the fire of Gods wrath, which conſumeth all his obſtinate enemies.

q Though there were no foren enemie, yet they ſhall deſtroy one another r Their greedines ſhalbe inſatiable, ſo that one brother ſhal eate vp another, as though he ſhoulde eate his owne fleſh.

t To wit, from Aſſyria.

u Your riches & victorie, ſ they may be ſafe, & that ye may receiue them againe.

d Becauſe they haue forſaken me, ſome ſhall goe into captiuitie, and the reſt ſhalbe ſlaine.

e God calleth for the Aſſyrians to be the executioners of his vengeance.

f That is, the Aſſyrians againſt the Iewes, which are but hypocrites: and in this ſixt and ſeuenth verſe is declared the difference of the work of God, and of the wicked in one very thing and altogether for Gods intention is to chaſtiſe them for their amendement, and the Aſſyrians purpoſe to deſtroy them to enriche themſelues: thus in reſpect of Gods iuſtice, it is Gods worke, but in reſpect of their owne malice, it is ſ work of the deuill.

g Seeing that I haue ouercome, alwell one citie as another, ſo that none coulde reſiſt, ſhall Ieruſalem be able to eſcape mine hands?

h When he hath ſufficiently chaſtiſed his people (for he beginneth at his owne houſe) then will he burne the rodes.

i Meaning, of Sanacherib.

k Here we ſee that no creature is able to doe any thing, but as God appointeth him, and that they are all but his inſtrumets to doe his worke, though the intentions be diuers, as verſe 6.

l Meaning, that God is a light to comfort his people and a fire to burne his enemies.

m That is, the Aſſyrians.

n To wit, body and ſoule vtterly.

o When the battell is loſt, and the ſtandard taken.

p This is the ende of Gods plagues towards his, to bring them to him and to forſake all truſt in others.

q This final number which ſeemed to be conſumed, and yet according with righteouſneſſe.

to Gods decree is ſaued, ſhalbe ſufficient to fill all the worlde

r God will deſtroy this land as he hath determined, and after ſaue a final portion.

24 Therfore thus saith the Lord God of hostes, O my people, that dwellest in Zion, be not afraid of Asshur: he shal smite thee with a rod, & shal lift vp his staffe against thee after ỹ maner of ſ Egypt.

25 But yet a very litle time, and the wrath shal be consumed, & mine anger in their destruction.

26 And the Lorde of hostes shall raise vp a scourge for him, according to the plague of t Midian in ỹ rocke Oreb: and as his staffe was vpon ỹ u Sea, so he will lift it vp after ỹ maner of Egypt.

27 And at that day shall his burden bee taken away from off thy shoulder, and his yoke from off thy necke: and the yoke shalbe destroyed because of x the anoynting.

28 He is come y to Aiath: he is passed into Migron: at Michmash shall he lay vp his armour.

29 They haue gone ouer the foord: they lodged in the lodging at Geba: Ramah is afraid: Gibeah of Saul is fled away.

30 Lift vp thy voyce, O daughter Gallim, cause Laish to heare, O poore Anathoth.

31 Madmenah is remoued: the inhabitants of Gebim haue gathered themselues together.

32 Yet there is a time that he will stay at Nob: he shall lift vp his hand toward the mount of the daughter Zion, the hill of Ierusalem.

33 Behold, the Lord God of hostes shal cut off the z bough with feare, and they of high stature shalbe cut off, and the hie shalbe humbled.

34 And he shall cut away the thicke places of the forest with yron, and Lebanon shall haue a mightie fall.

CHAP. XI.

1 Christ borne of the roote of Iſhai. 8 His vertues & kingdome. 6 The fruites of the Gospel. 10 The calling of the Gentiles.

BVt there shall come a a rodde foorth of the stocke of Ishai, and a graffe shall growe out of his roótes.

2 And the Spirit of the Lorde shall rest vpon him: the spirite of wisedome and vnderstanding, the Spirite of counsell and strength, the Spirite of knowledge, and of the feare of the Lord,

3 And shall make him prudent in the feare of the Lord: for he shal not iudge after ỹ sight of his eyes, neither reproue by the hearing of his eares.

4 But with righteousnesse shall he iudge the poore, and with equitie shall he reproue for the meeke of the earth: and he shall b smite the earth with the rod of his mouth, and with the breath of his lippes shall he slay the wicked.

5 And iustice shall be the girdle of his loynes, and faithfulnesse the girdle of his reines.

6 The c wolfe also shall dwel with the lambe, and ỹ leopard shall lie with the kid, and the calfe, and the lyon, and the fat beast together, and a litle childe shall leade them.

7 And the kowe and the beare shall feede: their yong ones shall lie together: and the lyon shall eate strawe like the bullocke.

8 And the sucking childe shall play vpon the hole of the aspe, and the wained childe shall put his hand vpon the cockatrice hole.

9 They shall none hurt nor destroy in all the mountaine of mine holines: for the earth shall be full of the knowledge of the Lord, as d the waters that couer the sea.

10 And in that day the roote of Iſhai, which shall stand vp for a signe vnto the e people, the nations shall seeke vnto it, and his f rest shal bee glorious.

11 And in the same day shall the Lord stretche out his hand againe the seconde time, to possesse the remnant of his people, (which shalbe left) of Asshur, and of Egypt, & of Pathros, and of Ethiopia, and of Elam, and of Shinear, and of Hamath, and of the yles of the sea.

12 And hee shall set vp a signe to the nations, and assemble the dispersed of Israel, and gather the scattered of Iudah from the foure corners of the worlde.

13 The hatred also of Ephraim shall depart, & the aduersaries: of Iudah shalbe cut off: Ephraim shal not enuie h Iudah, neither shal Iudah vexe Ephraim:

14 But they shal flee vpon the shoulders of the Philistims toward the West: they shal spoile them of the East together: Edom and Moab shal be the stretching out of their hands, and the children of Ammon in their obedience.

15 The Lorde also shall vtterly destroy the i tongue of the Egyptians sea, and with his mightie wind shall lift vp his hand k ouer the riuer, and shall smite him in his seuen streames, and cause men to walke therein with shooes.

16 And there shalbe a path to the remnant of his people, which are left of Asshur, like as it was vnto Israel in the day that he came vp out of the land of Egypt.

CHAP. XII.

y He describeth by what way the Assyrians should come against Ierusalem, to confirme the faithfull, when it should come to passe, that as their plague was come so should they be deliuered.

z Feare and destruction shall come vpon Iudah: for the princes and the people shall all be led away captiues.

a Because the captiuitie of Babylon was a figure of the spirituall captiuitie vnder sinne, he sheweth that our true deliuerance must come by Christ: for as David came out of Ishai a man without dignitie: so Christ shoulde come of a poore carpenters house as out of a dead stocke, Chap. 53.2.

b All these properties can agree to none but onely vnto Christ: for it is he that toucheth the hearts of the faithfull and mortifieth their concupiscences: and to the wicked he is the sauour of death, and to them that shall perish: so that all the world shall be smitten with this rodde, which is his word.

c Men because of their wicked affections are named by the names of beastes, wherein the like affections reigne: but Christ by his Spirit shall reforme them, and worke in them such mutuall charitie, that they shall be like lambes, fauouring and loving one another, and cast off all their cruell affections, Chap. 65.25 d It shalbe in as great abundance as the waters in the sea.

g For God had deliuered his people out of Egypt, and now promiseth to deliuer them out of their enemies hands as from the Parthians, Persians, Caldeans and them of Antiochia, among whom they were dispersed: and this is chiefly meant of Christ, who calleth his people being dispersed through all the worlde.

h Here he declareth the concord that shalbe in his Church, and their victorie against their enemies.

d Ye that are of the Church.

a That is, the great calamitie, which was prophecied to come on Babel, as a most grieuous burden, which they were not able to beare. In these twelue chapters following, he speaketh of the plagues, wherewith God would smite the strange nations, whome they knewe to declare that God chastised the Israelites as his children, and their other as his enemies: & also that if God spare not those that are ignorant, they must not thinke strange, if he punish them, which haue knowledge of his Lawe, and keepe it not. b To wit, the Medes and the Persians. c That is, prepared and appointed to execute my iudgements. d Which willingly goe about the worke whereunto I appoint them, but howe the wicked doe hate trade chap. 10.6.

4 The noise of a multitude is in the mountaines, like a great people: a tumultuous voice of the kingdoms of the nations gathered together: the Lord of hostes numbreth the hoste of the battell.

5 They come from a farre country, from the end of the heauen: euen the Lord with the c weapons of his wrath to destroy the whole land.

6 Howle f you, for the day of the Lord is at hand: it shall come as a destroyer from the Almightie.

7 Therefore shal al hands be weakened, and all mens hearts shall melt,

8 And they shalbe afraid: anguish and sorow shal take them, & they shall haue paine, as a woman that trauaileth: euery one shal be amased at his neighbour, and their faces shal be like g flames of fire.

9 Beholde, the day of the Lorde commeth, cruel, with wrath and fierce anger to lay the land waste: and he shall destroy the sinners out of it.

10 For the h starres of heauen and the planets thereof shal not giue their light: the sunne shal be darkened in his going foorth, and the moone shal not cause her light to shine.

11 And I wil visite the wickednesse vpon the i world, and their iniquitie vpon the wicked, and I will cause the arrogancie of the k proude to cease, and will cast downe the pride of tyrants.

12 I wil make a l man more precious then fine gold, euen a mā aboue the wedge of gold of Ophir.

13 Therefore I will shake the heauen, and the earth shal remoue out of her place in the wrath of the Lord of hosts, & in the day of his fierce anger.

14 And m it shall be as a chaſed doe, and as a sheepe that no man taketh vp, euery man shall turne to his owne people, and flee eche one to his owne land.

15 Euery one that is founde, shal be striken through: and whosoeuer ioyneth himselfe, shall fall by the sword.

16 * Their n children also shall be broken in pieces before their eyes: their houses shalbe spoiled, and their wiues rauished.

17 Behold, I will stirre vp the Medes against them, which shal not regarde siluer, nor be desirous of gold.

18 With bowes also shall they destroy the children, and shall haue no compassion vpon the fruit of the wombe, and their eies shall not spare the children.

19 And Babel the glorie of kingdomes, the beautie and pride of the Chaldeans, shalbe as the destruction of God * in Sodom and Gomorah.

20 It shall not be inhabited for euer, neither shall it be dwelled in from generation to generation: neither shall the o Arabian pitch his tents there, neither shall the shepeheardes make their foldes there.

21 But p Zijm shal lodge there, and their houses shalbe ful of Ohim: Ostriches shal dwel there, and the Satyres shall dance there.

22 And Ijm shal crie in their palaces, and dragons in their pleasant palaces: and the time thereof is readie to come, and the dayes thereof shall not be prolonged.

CHAP. XIIII.

1 The returne of the people from captiuitie. 4 The derision of the King of Babylon. 11 The death of the King. 29 The destruction of the Philistims.

FOr * the Lorde will haue compassion of Iakob, and will yet chuse Israel, and cause them to rest in their owne land: and the stranger b shal ioyne himselfe vnto them, and they shall cleaue to the house of Iaakob.

2 And the people shal receiue them & bring them to their owne place, and the house of Israel shall possesse them in the land of the Lorde, for c seruants & handmaids: and they shal take them prisoners, whose captiues they were, and haue rule over their oppressours.

3 ¶ And in that day when the Lord shal giue thee rest from thy sorrowe, and from thy feare, and from the sore bondage, wherein thou diddest serue,

4 Then shalt thou take vp this prouerbe against the King of Babel, and say, How hath the oppressor ceased? & the gold-thirsty Babel rested?

5 The Lorde hath broken the rodde of the wicked, and the scepter of the rulers:

6 Which smote the people in anger with a continuall plague, and ruled the nations in wrath: if any were persecuted, he did d not let.

7 The whole world is at e rest and is quiet: they sing for ioy.

8 Also the firre trees reioyced of thee, and the cedars of Lebanon, saying, Since thou art laide downe, no hewer came vp against vs.

9 Hel beneath is moued for thee to f meete thee at thy comming, raising vp the dead for thee, euen all the princes of the earth, and hath raised from their thrones all the Kings of the nations.

10 All they shall crie, and say vnto thee, Art thou become weake also as we? art thou become like vnto vs?

11 Thy pomp is brought down to the graue, and the sound of thy violes: the wormes is spread vnder thee, and the wormes couer thee.

12 How art thou fallen from heauen, O h Lucifer, sonne of the morning? and cutte downe to the ground, which diddest cast lottes vpon the nations?

13 Yet thou saydest in thine heart, I will ascend into heauen, and exalt my throne aboue beside the starres of God: I will sitte also vpon h the mount of the Congregation in the sides of the i North.

14 I will ascend aboue the height of the cloudes, and I will be like the most high.

15 But thou shalt be brought downe to the graue, to the sides of the pit.

16 They that see thee, shal k looke vpon thee and consider thee, saying, Is this the man that made the earth to tremble, and that did shake the kingdomes?

17 He made the worlde as a wildernesse, and destroyed the cities thereof, and opened not l the house of his prisoners.

18 All the Kings of the nations, euen they all sleepe in glorie, euery one in his owne house.

19 But thou art m cast out of thy graue like an abominable branch: like the rayment of those that are slame, and thrust thorow with a sworde, which goe downe to the stones of the pit, as a carkeise troden vnder feete.

21 [a] Prepare a slaughter for his children, for the iniquitie of their fathers: let them not rise vp nor possesse the land, nor fil the face of the world with enemies.

22 ¶ For I wil rise vp against them (saieth the Lord of hosts) and wil cut off from Babel the name and the remnant and the sonne, and the nephew, saith the Lord:

23 And I will make it a possession to the ‖ hedgehog, and pooles of water, and I wil sweep it with the besome of destruction, saith the Lorde of hostes.

24 The Lorde of hostes hath sworne, saying, Surely like as I haue purposed, so shall it come to passe, and as I haue consulted, it shall stand:

25 [o] That I wil breake to pieces Asshur in my land, and vpon my mountaines will I treade him vnder foote: so that his yoke shall depart from [p] them, and his burden shall be taken from off their shoulder.

26 This is the counsell that is consulted vpon the whole worlde, and this is the hand stretched out ouer all the nations, 27 Because the Lord of hostes hath determined it, and who shall disanul it? and his hande is stretched out, and who shal turne it away?

28 ¶ In the yeere that king Ahaz dyed, was this [q] burden.

29 Reioyce not, (thou whole [r] Palestina) because the rod of him [s] did beat thee, is broken: for out of the serpents roote shal come forth a cockatrise, & the fruit therof shalbe a firy flying serpẽt.

30 For the [t] first borne of the poore shall be fed, and the needie shall lie downe in safety: and I wil kill thy roote with famine, and [t] it shall slay thy remnant.

31 Howle, O gate, crie, O citie: thou whole land of Palestina art dissolued, for there shall come from the [u] North a smoke, and none shal be [x] alone, at his time appointed.

32 What shal then one answere [y] the messengers of [s] Gentiles? That the Lord hath stablished [z] Zion, and the poore of his people shal trust in it.

CHAP. XV.

A prophecie against Moab.

THe [a] burden of Moab. Surely [b] Ar of Moab was destroyed, and brought to silence in a night: surely Kir of Moab was destroyed, and brought to silence in a night.

2 [c] He shall go vp to the temple, & to Dibon to the hie places to weepe: for [d] Nebo and for Medeba shal Moab howle: vpon al [e] their heads shalbe baldnesse, and euery beard shauen.

3 In their streetes shall they be girded with sackecloth: on the toppes of their houses, and in their streetes euery one shall howle, and come downe with weeping.

4 And Heshbon shal crie, and Elealeh: their voyce shall bee heard vnto Iahaz: therefore the warriers of Moab shall showt: the soule of euerie one shall lament in himselfe.

5 Mine [f] heart shall crie for Moab: his fugitiues shal flee vnto Zoar [g] an heiffer of three yere olde: for they shall goe vp with weeping by the mounting vp of Luhith: and by the way of Horonaim they [h] shall raise vp a crie of destruction.

6 For the waters of Nimrim shalbe dried vp: therefore the grasse is withered, the herbs consumed, and there was no greene herbe.

7 Therefore what euery man hath left, and their substance shal they beare to the [i] brooke of the willowes.

8 For the crie went round about the borders of Moab: and the howling thereof vnto Eglaim, and the skriking thereof vnto Beer Elim.

9 Because the waters of Dimon shall be full [k] of blood: for I will bring more vpon Dimon, euen lyons [l] vpon him that escapeth of Moab, and to the remnant of the land.

CHAP. XVI.

The causes wherefore the Moabites are destroyed.

SEnd [a] yee a lambe to the ruler of the worlde from the rocke of the wildernesse, vnto the mountaine of the daughter Zion.

2 For it shalbe as a birde that [b] flieth, and a nest forsaken: the daughters of Moab shall be at the foordes of Arnon.

3 Gather a counsek, execute iudgement: [c] make thy shadow as the night in the midday: hide them that are chased out: bewray not him that is fled.

4 Let my banished dwel with thee: Moab be thou their couert from the face of the destroyer: for the extortioner [d] shall ende: the destroyer shalbe consumed, and the oppressour shall cease out of the land.

5 And in mercy shal the throne be prepared, [e] and he shall sit vpon it in stedfastnesse, in the tabernacle of Dauid, iudging, and seeking iudgement, and hasting iustice.

6 We haue heard of the pride of Moab (hee is very proud) euen his pride, and his arrogancie, and his indignation, but his [f] lies shal not be so.

7 Therefore shall Moab howle vnto Moab: euery one shall howle: for [g] foundations of Kirhareseth shal ye mourne, yet they shalbe stricken.

8 For [g] vineyards of Heshbon are cut down, and the vine of Sibmah: [h] the lordes of the heathen haue broken the principall vines thereof: they are come vnto [i] Iaazer: they wandred in the wildernesse: her goodly branches stretched out themselues, and went ouer the sea.

9 Therefore wil [k] I weepe with the weeping of Iaazer, & of the vine of Sibmah, O Heshbon: and Elealeh, I will make thee drunke with my teares, because vpon thy summer fruits, and vpon thy harueste [l] a showting is fallen.

10 And gladnes is taken away, and ioy out of the plentifull field: and in the vineyardes shal be no singing nor showting for ioy: the treader shal not tread wine in the wine presses: I haue caused the reioycing to cease.

11 Wherefore, my [m] bowels shal sound like an harpe for Moab, and mine inward partes for Kerhareth.

12 And when it shal appeare that Moab shal be wearie of his hie places, then shall he come to his [n] temple to pray, but he shall not preuaile.

13 This is the worde that the Lorde hath spoken against Moab since that time.

14 And now the Lorde hath spoken, saying, a He calleth to the Medes & Persians, and all those that should execute Gods vengeance.

b The chiefe citie, whereby the whole countrey was meant.

c The Moabites shall flee to their idoles for succour, but it shall be too late.

d Which were cities of Moab.

e For as in the West partes the people vsed to let their haire growe long, when they mourned, so in the East partes they cut it off.

f The Prophet speaketh this in the person of the Moabites, or as one that felt the great iudgement of God that should come vpon them.

g Meaning, that it was a citie that euer lived to pleasure, and neuer felt sorowe.

h He describeth the miserable confusion and flight of the Moabites.

i To hide themselues, and their goods there.

k Of them that are slaine.

l So that by no means they should escape the hand of God: thus wil God punish [s] enemies of his Church.

a That is, offer a sacrifice: whereby he derideth their long delay, which would not appear when the Lord called them, shewing them that it is now too late, seeing the vengeance of God is vpon them.

b There is no remedie, but you must flie.

c Hee sheweth what Moab should haue done, when Israel their neighbour was in affliction, to whom because they would giue no shadow nor comfort, they are now left comfortlesse.

d The Assyrians shall oppresse the Israelites, but for a while.

e Meaning Christ.

f Their vaine confidence, and proud bragges shall deceiue them, as Iere. 48.2.

g For all your mourning, yet the citie shalbe destroyed, euen ruin the foundations.

h That is, the Assyrians, and other enemies.

i Meaning, that the countrey of Moab was now destroyed, & all the precious things thereof were caried into the borders, yea into other countries, and ouer the sea.

k He sheweth that their plague was so great, that it would haue moued any man to lament with them, as Psal. 69.27.

l The enemies are come vpon thee, and shoute for ioy, when they carry thy commodities from thee, as Ierem 48.33.

m For very sorowe and compassion.

n They shall vse all meanes to seeke help of their idoles and al in vaine: for Chemos their great god shall not be able to helpe them.

o He appointed a certaine time to punish the enemies in.
p Who will obserue iustly the time for the which he is hired, and serue no longer, but will euer long for it.

o In three yeeres, as the yeeres of a p hireling, and the glorie of Moab shall be contemned, in all the great multitude, and the remnant shalbe very small and feeble.

CHAP. XVII.

1 A prophecie of the destruction of Damascus and Ephraim. 7 Exhortatio mourneth to repentance.

THe a burden of b Damascus. Behold, Damascus is taken away from being a citie, for it shall be a ruinous heape.

a Reade Chap. 13. 1.
b The chiefe citie of Syria.

2 The cities of c Aroer shall be forsaken: they shalbe for the flockes: for they shal lye there, and none shall make them afraide.

c It is was a country of Syria by the riuer Arnon.
d It foreseeth that the Prophet would comfort the Church in declaring the destruction of these two kings of Syria and Israel, when as they had conspired the ouerthrow of Iudah.

3 The munition also shall cease from d Ephraim, and the kingdome from Damascus, and the remnant of Aram shalbe as the e glorie of the children of Israel, saith the Lord of hostes.

e The ten Tribes gloried in their multitude, and alliance with other nations: therefore he saith that they shall be brought downe and the Syrians also.

4 And in that day the glorie of f Iaakob shall be impouerished, and the fatnes of his flesh shall be made leane.

f Meaning of the ten tribes, which boasted themselues of their nobilitie prosperitie, strength and multitude.

5 And it shall be as when the harueſt man gathereth g the corne, and reapeth the eares with his arme, and he shalbe as hee that gathereth the eares in the valley of h Rephaim.

g In the abundance of corne do they not feare the hurtfull men that should cut it downe: so more shall the multitude of Israel make the enemies to shrink, whom God shall appoint to destroy them.
h Which valley was plentifull and fertile.

6 Yet a gathering of grapes shall i be left in it, as the shaking of an oliue tree, two or three berries are in the top of the vpmost boughes, & foure or fiue in the hie branches of the fruite thereof, saieth the Lord God of Israel.

i Because God would haue his enemies stable, he promiseth to reserue some of this people and to bring them to repentance.

7 At that day shal a man looke to his k maker, and his eies shal looke to the holy one of Israel.

k He sheweth that Gods correctiō euer bring forth some fruite, and cause his to cease from their euils, to humble themselues to him.

8 And hee shall not looke to the altars, the workes of his owne hands, neither shall he looke to those things, which his own fingers haue made, as groues and images.

9 In that day shall the cities of their strength be as the forsaking of boughes & branches, which l they did forsake, because of the children of Israel, and there shalbe desolation.

l The Canaanites left their cities, when God did place the Israelites there, so the seing of Israel shall no more be able to defend their inhabitants, then bushes, when God shall send the enemie to plague them.

10 Because thou hast forgotten the God of thy saluation, and hast not remembred the God of thy strength, therefore shalt thou set pleasant plants, and shalt graffe strange m vine branches:

m Which are excellent, and brought out of the countries.

11 In the day shalt thou make thy plant to growe, and in the morning shalt thou make thy seede to florish: but the harueſt shall bee gone in the day of possession, and there shalbe desperate sorrowe.

12 n Ah, the multitude of many people, they shall make a sounde like the noyse of the sea: for the noyse of the people shall make a sounde like the noyse of mightie waters.

n As the Lord threatneth the wicked in his Law, Leuit. 26.

13 The people shall make a sounde like the noyse of many waters: but God shal o rebuke them, and they shall flee farre off, and shalbe chased as the chaffe of the mountaines before the winde, and as a rolling thing before the whirlewinde.

o The Prophet lamenteth, considering the horrible plague that was prepared for Israel by the Assyrians, which were infinite in number, and gathered many nations.

14 And loe, in the euening there is p trouble: but afore q morning it is gone. This is r portion of him that spoyle vs, & the lot of the that rob vs.

p He addeth this for the consolation of the faithfull, which might haue fainted.
q He compareth the enemies the Assyrians to a tempest, which rose by night, and in the morning is gone.

CHAP. XVIII.

1 Of the vocatio of the Church. 7 And of the vocation of the Gentiles.

OH, the a lande shadowing with wings, which is beyond the riuers of Ethiopia, a Hee meaneth y part of Ethiopia which lyeth towarde the Sea, which was so full of shippes, that the sayles (which he compareth to wings) seemed to shadow the sea.

2 Sending ambassadours by the Sea, euen in vessels of b reedes vpon the waters, saying, c Go, ye swift messengers, to a nation that is scattered abroade, and spoyled, vnto a terrible d people from their beginning euen hitherto: a nation by litle and little, euen troden vnder foote, whose land the floods haue spoyled.

b Which in those countreyes were great: insomuch as they made ships of them for swiftnesse.
c This may be taken that they sent other to counsell the Iewes, and to promise them helpe against their enemies, and so the Lord did threaten to take away their strength that the Iewes should not trust therein, or that they did solicite the Egyptians, and promised them aide to goe against Iudah.
d To wit, the Iewes, who because of Gods plagues made all other nations estraide of the like, as God threatned, Deut. 28. 37.

3 All yee the inhabitants of the world and dwellers in the earth, shall see when e hee setteth vp a signe in the mountaines, and when he bloweth the trumpe, ye shal heare.

e Meaning, the Assyrians, as chap. 8. 7.

4 For so the Lord saide vnto me, I will f rest and beholde in my tabernacle, as g the heate drying vp the raine, and as a cloude of dewe in the heate of harueſt.

f When the Lorde prepareth to fight against the Ethiopians.
g I wil stay a while from punishing the wicked. h Which two seasons are most profitable for the riping of fruites: whereby hee meaneth, that he will see me to fauour them, and giue them abundance for a time, but he will suddenly cut them off.

5 For afore the harueſt when the floure is finished, and the fruite is riping in the floure, then he shall cut downe the branches with hookes, and shal take away, and cut off the boughes.

6 They shal be left together vnto the foules of the mountaines, & to the i beastes of the earth: for the foule shal summer vpon it, and euery beast of the earth shal winter vpon it.

i Not onely men shall contemne them, but the brute beastes.

7 At that time shall a k present be brought vnto the Lord of hostes, (a people that is scattered abroade, and spoyled, & of a terrible people from their beginning hitherto, a nation, by litle and litle euen troden vnder foote, whose land the riuers haue spoyled) to the place of the Name of the Lord of hostes, euen the mount Zion.

k Meaning, that God will pitie his Church, and receiue that little remnant as an offering vnto himselfe.

CHAP. XIX.

1 The destruction of the Egyptians by the Assyrians. 18 Of their conuersion to the Lord.

THe a burden of Egypt. Behold, the Lord b rideth vpon a swift cloude, and shal come into Egypt, and the idoles of Egypt shal be moued at his presence, and the heart of Egypt shal melt in the mids of her.

a Reade chap. 13. 1.
b Because the Egyptians trusted in the defence of their countrey, in the multitude of their idoles, and in the valiantnesse of their men, the Lord threateneth that he will cause confusion of counsell, mischiefe, swift cloude, and that their idoles shall tremble at his comming, and their mens hearts to shall faint.

2 And I will set the Egyptians against the Egyptians: so euery one shall c fight against his brother, and euery one against his neighbour, citie against citie, and kingdome against kingdome.

c As he caused the Ammonites, Moabites, and Edomites to kill one another, when they came to destroy the Church of God, 2. Chron. 20. 22. chap. 49. 26.

3 And the d spirite of Egypt shal fayle in the middes of her, and I will destroy their counsel, and they shall seeke at the idoles, and at the sorcerers, and at them that haue spirits of diuination, and at the soothsayers.

d Meaning, their politike, and wisedome.

4 And I will deliuer the Egyptians into the hand of the cruell lords, and a mightie King shal rule ouer them, saith the Lord God of hostes.

e He sheweth that the Sea and Riuer of Nilus, wherein they thought themselues most sure, should not be able to defende them from his anger, but that he would find out other meanes, that should destroy them, as floods, f Or, Nilus, which is diuided into seuen streames, as though they were so many riuers.

5 Then the waters of the sea shal e fayle, and the riuer shal be dryed vp, and wasted.

6 And the riuers f shall goe farre away: the riuers of defence shalbe emptied and dried vp: the reedes and flagges shall be cut downe.

7 The graſſe in the riuer, and at the g head of the riuers, and all that groweth by the riuer ſhall wither, and be driuen away, and be no more.

8 The fiſhers alſo ſhall [h] mourne, and all they that caſt angle into the riuer, ſhall lament, & they that ſpred their net vpon the waters, ſhall be weakened.

9 Moreouer, they that worke in flaxe of diuers ſortes, ſhalbe confounded, & they [y] weaue nettes.

10 For their nettes ſhalbe broken, and al they, that make pondes, ſhalbe heauy in heart.

11 Surely the princes of [i] Zoan are fooles: the counſell of the wiſe counſellers of Pharaoh is become fooliſh: how ſay ye vnto Pharaoh, I [k] am the ſonne of the wiſe? I am the ſonne of the ancient Kings?

12 Where are nowe thy wiſe men, that they may tell thee, or may knowe what the Lorde of hoſtes hath determined againſt Egypt?

13 The princes of Zoan are become fooles: the princes of [l] Noph are deceiued, they haue deceiued Egypt, euen the [m] corners of [y] tribes thereof.

14 The Lord hath mingled among them the ſpirite [n] of errours: and they haue cauſed Egypt to erre in euery worke thereof, as a drunken man erreth in his vomite.

15 Neither ſhal there be any worke in Egypt, which the head may [o] do, nor the taile, the branch nor the ruſh.

16 In that day ſhall Egypt be like vnto women: for it ſhalbe afraide and feare becauſe of the mouing of the hand of the Lorde of hoſtes, which he ſhaketh ouer it.

17 And the land of Iudah ſhall be a feare [p] vnto Egypt: euery one that maketh mention of it, ſhalbe afraid thereat, becauſe of the counſel of the Lord of hoſts, which he hath determined vpon it.

18 In that day ſhall fiue cities in the lande of Egypt [q] ſpeake the language of Canaan, and ſhal [r] ſweare by the Lord of hoſtes: one ſhal be called the citie of [ſ] deſtruction.

19 In that day ſhall the altar of the Lorde be in the mids of the land of Egypt, and [t] a pillar by the border thereof vnto the Lord.

21 And the Lord ſhalbe knowen of the Egyptians, and the Egyptians ſhal knowe the Lorde in that day, and do [x] ſacrifice and oblation, and ſhal vowe vowes vnto the Lord, and performe them.

22 So the Lord ſhall ſmite Egypt, he ſhal ſmite and heale it: for he ſhal returne vnto the Lord, & he ſhalbe intreated of them, and ſhall heale them.

23 In that day ſhal there be a path from [y] Egypt to Aſſhur, and Aſſhur ſhal come into Egypt, and Egypt into Aſſhur: ſo the Egyptians ſhall worſhip with Aſſhur.

24 In that day ſhall Iſrael be the third with Egypt and Aſſhur, euen a bleſſing in the middes of the land.

25 For the Lord of hoſtes ſhall bleſſe it, ſaying, Bleſſed be my people Egypt and Aſſhur, the worke of mine hands, and Iſrael mine inheritance.

3 And the Lord ſaide, Like as my ſeruant Iſaiah hath walked naked, & barefoote three yeeres, as a ſigne and wonder vpon Egypt, and Ethiopia,

4 So ſhall the King of Aſſhur take away the captiuitie of Egypt, and the captiuitie of Ethiopia, both yong men & old men, naked & barefoot, with their buttockes vncouered, to [y] ſhame of Egypt.

5 And they ſhal feare, and be aſhamed of [e] Ethiopia their expectation, & of Egypt [f] their glory.

6 Then ſhal the inhabitant of this [g] yle ſay in that day, Behold, ſuch is our expectation, whither we fledde for helpe to be deliuered from the King of Aſſhur, and howe ſhal we be deliuered?

1 Hee prophecieth of the destruction of Ierusalem by Nebuchad-nezzar. 15 A threatning against Shebna, 20 To whose office Eliakim is preferred.

THe burden of the a valley of vision. What b aileth thee now that thou art wholy gone vp vnto the house toppes?
2 Thou that art full of c noise, a citie ful of brute, a ioyous citie: thy slaine men shall not be slaine d with sword, nor die in battell.
3 All thy princes shal flee together from the bowe: they shalbe e bound: al that shalbe found in thee, shal be bound together, which haue fled from f farre.
4 Therfore said I, Turne away from me: I wil weepe g bitterly, labour not to comfort mee for the destruction of the daughter of my people.
5 For it is a day of trouble, and of ruine, and of perplexitie by the Lorde God of hostes in the valley of vision, breaking downe the citie: and a h crying vnto the mountaines.
6 ¶ And Elam i bare the quiuer in a mans charet w horsemen, and Kir vncouered the shield.
7 And thy chiefe valleis were full of charets, and the horsemen set themselues in aray against the gate.
8 And hee discouered the k couering of Iudah: and thou diddest looke in that day to the armour of the house of the forest.
9 And yee haue seene l the breaches of the citie of Dauid: for they were many, and ye gathered the waters of the lower poole.
10 And yee numbred the houses m of Ierusalem, and the houses haue yee broken downe to fortifie the wall.
11 And haue also made a ditch betweene the two walles, for the n waters of the old poole, and haue not looked vnto the maker thereof, neither had respect vnto him that formed it of olde.
12 And in that day did the Lord God of hostes call vnto weeping and mourning, and to baldnes and girding with sackecloth.
13 And behold, ioy and gladnes, slaying oxen and killing sheepe, eating flesh, & drinking wine, eating and drinking: for to morow we shal die.
14 And it was declared in o eares of the Lord of hostes. Surely this iniquitie shal not be purged from you, till ye die, saith the Lord God of hostes.
15 Thus saieth the Lord God of hostes, Goe, get thee to that q treasurer, to Shebna, the steward of the house, and say,
16 What hast thou r here? and whome hast thou here? that thou shouldest here hewe thee out a sepulchre, as he that heweth out his sepulchre in an hie place, or that graueth a habitation for himselfe in a rocke?
17 Beholde, the Lord will carrie thee away with a great captiuitie, and wil surely coner thee.
18 Hee will surely rolle and turne thee like a ball in a large countrey: there shalt thou die, and there the charets of thy glorie shalbe the s shame of thy lords house.
19 And I will driue thee from thy station, and out of thy dwelling will he destroy thee.
20 And in that day will I t call my seruant Eliakim the sonne of Hilkiah, 21 And with thy garments will I clothe him, and with thy girdle will I strengthen him: thy power also will I commit into his hand, and hee shalbe a father of the inhabitants of Ierusalem, and of the house of Iudah.
22 And the u key of the house of Dauid will I lay vpon his shoulder: so hee shall open, and no mã shal shut: & he shal shut, & no man shal open.
23 And I will fasten him as a y naile in a sure place, and he shalbe for the throne of glorie to his fathers house.
24 And they shall hang vpon him al the glorie of his fathers house, euen of the nephews and posterities z all smal vessels, from the vessels of the cuppes, euen to all the instruments of musike

8 Who hath decreed this against Tyrus (that [m] crowneth men), whose marchants are princes? whose chapmen are the nobles of the worlde?

9 The Lord of hostes hath decreed this, to staine the pride of al glorie, and to bring to contempt all them that be glorious in the earth.

10 Passe through thy land like a flood to the [n] daughter of Tarshish: there is no more strength.

11 He stretched out his hand vpon the sea: he shooke the kingdomes: the Lorde hath giuen a commaundement concerning the place of marchandise, to destroy the power thereof.

12 And he saide, Thou shalt no more reioyce when thou art oppressed: [o] O virgin [p] daughter of Zidon: rise vp, go ouer vnto Chittim: yet there thou shalt haue no rest.

13 Behold the land of the Caldeans: this was no people: [q] Asshur founded it by the inhabitants of the wildernesse: they set vp the towers thereof: they raised the palaces thereof, and hee [r] brought it to ruine.

14 Howle ye shippes of Tarshish, for your [s] strength is destroyed.

16 Take an harpe, and go about the city: (thou harlot that hast bene forgotten) [u] make sweete melody, sing moe songs, that thou mayest be remembred.

17 And at the ende of seuentie yeeres shall the Lord visite Tyrus, [v] and shee shall returne to her [w] wages, and shall commit fornication with al the kingdomes of the earth, that are in the world.

18 Yet her occupying and her wages shall be [z] holy vnto the Lord: it shall not be laide vp nor kept in store, but her marchandise shal be for them that dwel before the Lorde, to eate sufficiently, and to haue durable clothing.

CHAP. XXIIII.

A prophesie of the curse of God for the sinnes of the people. 13 A remnant reserued shal praise the Lord.

[a] BEhold, the Lord maketh the earth emptie, & he maketh it waste, he turneth it vpside down, and scatereth abroad the inhabitants thereof.

2 And there shalbe like people, like [b] Priest, and like seruant, like master, like maide, like mistresse, like buier, like seller, like lender, like borrower, like giuer, like taker to vsurie.

3 The earth shalbe cleane emptied, & vtterly spoiled: for the Lord hath spoken this worde.

4 The earth lamenteth and fadeth away: the worlde is feeble and decayed: the proude people of the earth are weakened.

5 The earth [c] also deceiueth, because of the inhabitants thereof: for they transgressed the lawes: they changed the ordinances, and brake the euerlasting couenant.

6 Therefore hath the [d] curse deuoured the earth, and the inhabitants thereof are desolate. Wherefore the inhabitants of the land are [e] burned vp, and few men are left.

7 The wine faileth, the vine hath no might: all that were of merie heart, do mourne.

8 The mirth of tabrets ceaseth: the noise of them that reioyce, endeth: the ioy of the harpe ceaseth.

9 They shall not drinke wine with mirth: strong drink shal be bitter vnto them that drinke it.

10 The citie of [f] vanity is broken downe: euery house is shut vp, that no man may come in.

11 There is a crying for wine in the streets: all ioy is darkened: the [g] mirth of the world is gone away.

12 In the cities is left desolation, and the gate is smitten with destruction.

13 ¶ Surely thus shall it be in the mids of the earth, among the people, [h] as the shaking of an olive tree, & as the grapes whe the vintage is ended.

14 They shall lift vp their voice: they shall shout for the magnificence of the Lord: they shal reioyce from the sea.

15 Wherefore praise yee the Lord in the valleis, euen the name of the Lorde God of Israel, in the yles of the sea.

16 From the vttermost part of the earth wee haue heard praises, euen glorie to the [k] iust, and I said, My leannesse, my leannesse, woe is me: the transgressours haue offended: yea, the transgressours haue grieuously offended.

17 Feare, and the pit, and the snare are vpon thee, O inhabitant of the earth,

18 And hee that fleeth from the noise of the feare, shall fall into the pit: and he that commeth vp out of the pit, shalbe taken in the snare: for the [m] windowes from on high are open, and the foundations of the earth do shake.

19 The earth is vtterly broken downe: the earth is cleane dissolued: the earth is mooued exceedingly.

20 The earth shal reele to and fro like a drunken man, and shalbe remoued like a tent, and the iniquitie thereof shal be heauie vpon it: so that it shall fall, and rise no more.

21 ¶ And in that day shall the Lorde [n] visite the hoste aboue that is on hie, euen the Kings of the world that are vpon the earth.

22 And they shalbe gathered together, as the prisoners in the pit: and they shalbe shut vp in the prisons, and after many dayes shal they be [o] visited.

23 ¶ Then the moone shalbe abashed, and the sunne ashamed, when the Lorde of hostes shall reigne in mount Zion and in Hierusalem: and glorie shalbe before his ancient men.

k Because these two countries were ioyned in league together.

l Tyrus willeth other marchants to goe to Cilicia, and to come no more there.

m Who maketh her marchants like Princes.

n Thy strength will no more serue thee: therefore flee to other countries for succour.

o For Tyrus was neuer touched nor afflicted before.

p Because Tyrus was built by them of Zidon.

q The Caldeans which dwelt in tentes in the wildernesse, were gathered by the Assyrians into cities.

r The people of the Caldeans destroyed the Assyrians: whereby the Prophet meaneth, that seeing the Caldeans were able to ouercome the Assyrians, which were so great a nation, much more shall these two nations of Caldea and Assyria be able to ouerthrow Tyrus.

s That is, Tyrus by whom ye are enriched.

t Tyrus shall be destroyed seuenty yeeres, which he calleth the reigne of one King or a mans age.

u Shal vse al craft and subtiltie to entise men againe to her.

x She shall labour by all meanes to recouer her credites an harlot when shee is long forgotten.

y Though she haue bene chastised of the Lord, yet she shall returne to her olde wicked practises, and for gaine shall giue her selfe to al mens lusts like an harlot.

z He sheweth that God yet by the preaching of the Gospel will call Tyrus to repentance, and turne her heart from auarice and filthie gaine vnto the true worshipping of God and liberalitie toward his Saints.

a This prophesie is as a conclusion of that which hath been threatned to the Iewes & other nations from the 13. chap. and therefore by the earth, he meaneth those lands, which were before named.

b Because this was a name of dignitie, it was also applyed to them, which were not of Aarons familie, and so signifieth also a man of dignitie, as 2. Sam. 8. 18. and 20. 24. 1. chro. 18. 17. and by these wordes the Prophet signifieth an horrible confusion, where there shalbe neither religion, order, nor policie, Hosea 4. 9.

c That is, reuolted not her fruites as the sinne of the people, whose the earth deceiued of their nourishment because they refused God and his honour.

d Written in the Law, as Leuit. 26. deut. 28. 15. that the Prophets vse to apply particularly the menaces & promises which are generall in the lawe.

e With heate and drought, as did that they were consumed with the fire of Gods wrath, which as it was without order, so now should it be brought to desolation and confusion: and this was not onely meant of Hierusalem, but of all the other wicked cities.

f Because they did not vse Gods benefits aright, their pleasures should faile, and they fall to mourning.

g He comforteth the faithfull, declaring that in the great desolation the Lord will assemble his church, which shall praise his Name, as chap. 10. 22.

h From the vttermost coasts of the world where the Gospel shalbe preached, as verse 16.

i Meaning, God who will publish his gospel through al the world.

k I am confounded with care, considering my selfe now in the church, both by forreine enemies, and domestical. Some reade, my secret, my secretaries, it was reuealed to the Prophet, by the good shall be preserued, and the wicked destroyed.

l Meaning, that Gods wrath and vengeance shall be ouer and vnder them: so that they shoulde not escape.

m There is no power so high or mighty, but God will visite him with his rodde.

n Not with his rodde, as verse 21. but shalbe comforted.

o When God shall restore his Church, the glorie thereof shal so shine and his ministers (which are called the ancient men) that the sunne and the moone shalbe darke in comparison thereof.

CHAP. XXV.

A thanksgiuing to God in that that he sheweth himself iudge of the world, by punishing the wicked and maintaining the godly.

O Lord, thou a art my God: I will exalt thee, I will prayse thy Name: for thou hast done wonderful things, according to the counsels of old, with a stable trueth.

2 For thou hast made of a b citie an heape, of a strong citie, a ruine: euen the palace c of strangers of a citie, it shall neuer be built.

3 Therefore shall the mightie people giue glory vnto thee: the citie of the strong nations shall feare thee.

4 For thou hast bene a strength vnto the poore, euen a strength to the needie in his trouble, a refuge against the tempest, a shadow against the heate: for the blast c of the mightie is like a storme against the wall.

5 Thou shalt bring downe the noyse of the strangers, as the heate in a dry place: he wil bring downe the song of the mightie, as the heate in the shadowe of a cloude.

6 And in this h mountaine shall the Lord of hostes make vnto all people a feast of fat things, euen a feast of fined wines, and of fat things full of marow, of wines fined and purified.

7 And he wil destroy in this mountaine i the couering that coureth all people, and the vaile that is spread vpon all nations.

8 He wil destroy death for euer: and the Lord God wil k wipe away the teares from all faces, and the rebuke of his people wil he take away out of all the earth: for the Lord hath spoken it.

9 And in that day shall men say, Loe, this is our God: we haue waited for him, and he will saue vs. This is the Lorde, we haue waited for him: we wil reioyce and be ioyfull in his saluation.

10 For in this mountaine shal the hand of the Lord rest, and l Moab shalbe thresshed vnder him, euen as strawe is thresshed in m Madmenah.

11 And he shall stretch out his hand in the middes of them (as he that swimmeth stretcheth them out to swimme) and with the strength of his hands shall he bring downe their pride.

12 The defence also of the height of thy walles shall he bring downe and lay lowe, and cast them to the ground, euen vnto the dust.

a Thus the Prophet giueth thankes to God, because he will bring vnder subiection these nations by discomfiture, and make them of his Church which before were his enemies.

b Not only of Ierusalem, but also of these other cities, which haue bene mine enemies.

c That is, a place where at all vagabondes may liue without danger, as it were, at ease in a palace.

d The arrogant and proude, which before would not know thee, shal by thy corrections feare and glorifie thee.

e The rage of the wicked is furious, till God breake the force thereof.

f Meaning, that as the heate is abated by the raine, so shal God bring downe the rage of the wicked.

g As a clonde shadoweth from the heate of the sunne, so shal God asswage the reioycing of the wicked against the Godly.

h To wit, in Zion, whereby he meaneth his Church, which should vnder Christ be assembled of the Iewes & the Gentiles, and is here described vnder a figure of a costly banket, as Matth. 22, 2.

i Meaning, that ignorance and blindenesse, whereby we are kept backe from Christ.

k He will take away all occasions of sorowe and all his with perfite ioye, Reuelat. 7. 17. and 21. 4.

l By Moab are meant all the enemies of his Church.

m There were two cities of this name: one in Iudah, 2 Chron. 25. 9 and an other in the land of Moab, Ieremie 48. 2. which seemeth to haue bene a plentifull place of corne, Chapter 10. 31.

CHAP. XXVI.

A song of the faithfull, wherein is declared, in what consisteth the saluation of the Church, and wherein they ought to trust.

IN that day shall a this song be sung in the land of Iudah, We haue a strong citie: b saluation shal God set for walles and bulwarkes.

2 c Open ye the gates that the righteous nation, which keepeth the trueth, may enter in.

3 By an assured d purpose wilt thou preserue perfite peace, because they trusted in thee.

4 Trust in the Lord for euer: for in the Lord God is strength for euermore.

5 For he will bring downe them that dwell on hie: e the hie citie he will abase, euen vnto the ground wil he cast it downe, & bring it vnto dust.

6 The foote shall treade it downe, euen the feete of the f poore, and the steppes of the needie.

7 The way of the iust is righteousnesse: thou g wilt make equall the righteous path of the iust.

8 Also we, O Lorde, haue waited for thee in the way of thy h iudgements: the desire of our soule is to thy Name, and to the remembrance of thee.

9 With my soule haue I desired thee in the night, and with my spirit within mee will I seeke thee in the morning: for seeing thy iudgements are in the earth, the inhabitants of the world shal learne i righteousnesse.

10 Let mercie j be shewed to the wicked, yet hee will not learne righteousnesse: in the land of vprightnesse wil he doe wickedly, and wil not beholde the maiestie of the Lord.

11 O Lorde, they will not beholde thine hie hand: but they shall see it, and bee confounded with k the zeale of the people, and the fire of thine enemies shall deuoure them.

12 Lord, vnto vs thou wilt ordeine peace: for thou also hast wrought all our works for vs.

13 O Lord our God, other m lords beside thee, haue ruled vs, but wee will remember thee onely, and thy Name.

14 The n dead shall not liue, neither shall the dead arise, because thou hast visited and scattered them, and destroyed all their memorie.

15 Thou hast increased o the nation, O Lord: thou hast increased the nation: thou art made glorious: thou hast enlarged all the coastes of the earth.

16 Lorde, in trouble haue they p visited thee: they powred out a prayer when thy chastening was vpon them.

17 Like as a woman with childe, that draweth neere to the trauaile, is in sorow, and cryeth in her paines, so haue we bene in thy q sight, O Lord.

18 We haue c͠ceiued, we haue borne in paine, as though we should haue brought forth r winde: there was no helpe in the earth, neither did the inhabitants of s the world fall.

19 ¶ t Thy dead men shall liue: euen with my body shall they rise. Awake, and sing, ye that dwel in dust: for thy u dew is as the dew of herbes, and the earth shall cast out the dead.

20 Come, my people: x enter thou into thy chambers, and shut thy doores after thee: hide thy selfe for a very litle while, vntill the indignation passe ouer.

21 For lo, the Lord commeth out of his place, to visite the iniquitie of the inhabitants of the earth vpon them: y and the earth shall disclose her blood, and shall no more hide her slaine.

e He abateth the godly to returne after the captiuitie to Ierusalem.

f Thou hast decreed, and thy purpose cannot be changed.

g God will set the poore afflicted ouer the power of the wicked.

h We haue continually a bid in the aduersities wherewith thou hast afflicted vs.

i Meaning, that by afflictions men shall learne to feare God.

j The wicked though God shew them euident signes of his grace, shal be neuer the better.

k Through enuie and indignation against thy people.

l The fire and vengeance, wherewith thou doest destroy thine enemies.

m The Babylonians, which haue not gouerned according to thy worde.

n Meaning that the reprobate, euen in this life shall kane the beginning of euerlasting death.

o To wit, the companie of the faithfull by the calling of the Gentiles.

p That is, the faithfull by thy rods, were moued to pray vnto thee for deliuerance.

q To wit, in extreme sorowe.

r Our sorowes had none end, neyther did we enioy the comfort that we looked for.

s The wicked and men without religion were not destroyed.

t He comforteth the faithful in their afflictions, shewing them that euen in death they shall haue life: and that they should most certainely rise to glory: the contrary should come to the wicked, as vers. 14.

u As herbes dead in winter, flourish againe by the raine in the spring time: so they that lie in the dust, shall rise vp to ioy when they feele the dewe of Gods grace.

x He exhorteth the faithfull to be patient in their afflictions, and to waite vpon Gods worke.

y The earth shall vomit and cast out the innocent blood, which it hath drunke, that it may cry for vengeance against the wicked.

CHAP. XXVII.

A prophecie against the kingdome of Satan, & And of the wife of the Church for their deliuerance.

IN that a day the Lorde with his sore and great and mightie b sword shal visite Leuiathan, that pearcing serpent, euen Leuiathan, that croked serpent, and he shal slay the dragon that is in the sea.

2 In that day sing of the vineyarde c of red wine.

3 I the Lorde doe keepe it: I will water it euery moment: least any assaile it, I wil keepe it night and day.

a At the time appointed b That is, by his mightie power & by his word. Hee prophecieth here of the destruction of Satan and his kingdome vnder the name of Leuiathan, Assur and Egypt.

c Meaning, of the best wine, which this vineyarde, that is, the Church, should bring foorth as most agreeable to the Lord.

4 Anger [d] is not in mee: who would set the briers & the thornes against me in battel? I would go through them, I would burne them together.

5 Or wil he [e] seeke my strength, that he may make peace with me, and be at one with mee?

6 [f] Hereafter, Iaakob shall take roote: Israel shall florish and growe, and the world shal be filled with fruite.

7 Hath he smitten [g] him as he smote those that smote him? or is hee slaine according to the slaughter of them that were slaine by him?

8 In [h] measure in the branches thereof wilt thou contende with it, when he bloweth with his rough wind in the day of the East wind.

9 By this therefore shal the iniquitie of Iaakob be purged, and this is all the [i] fruit the taking away of his sinne: when he shal make al the stones of the altars, as chalke stones broken in pieces, that the groues and images may not stand vp.

10 Yet the [k] defenced citie shalbe desolate, and the habitation shalbe forsaken, and left like a wildernes. There shal the calfe feede, and there shall he lie, and consume the branches thereof.

11 When the boughes of it are drie, they shal be broken: the [l] women come, and set them on fire: for it is a people of none vnderstanding: therefore he that made them, shall not haue compassion of them, and hee that formed them, shall haue no mercy on them.

12 And in that day shall the Lord thresh from the chanel of the [m] Riuer vnto the riuer of Egypt, and ye shalbe gathered, one by one, O children of Israel.

13 In that day also shall the great trumpe bee [n] blowen, and they shall come, which perished in the land of Asshur: and they that were chased into the land of Egypt, and they shall worship the Lord in the holy Mount at Ierusalem.

CHAP. XXVIII.

Against the pride and drunkennesse of Israel. 9 The vntowardnesse of them that shoulde learne the word of God. 24 God dooth all things in time and place.

WOe to the [a] crowne of pride, the drunkards of Ephraim: for his glorious beautie shalbe a fading flowre, which is vpon the head of the [b] valley of them that be fat, and are ouercome with wine.

2 Beholde, the Lorde hath a mightie and [c] strong hoste, like a tempest of haile, and a whirlewinde that ouerthroweth, like a tempest of mightie waters that ouerflowe, which throwe to the ground mightily.

3 They shall be troden vnder foote, euen the crowne & the pride of the drunkards of Ephraim.

4 For his glorious beautie shall be a fading flowre, which is vpon the head of the valley of them that be fatte, and as [d] the hastie fruite afore summer, which when he that looketh vpon it, seeth it, while it is in his hand, he eateth it.

5 In that day shall the Lorde of hostes be for a crowne of glory, and for a diademe of beautie vnto the [e] residue of his people:

6 And for a spirite of iudgement to him that sitteth in iudgement, and for [f] strength vnto them that turne away the batel to the gate.

7 But [g] they haue erred because of wine, and are out of the way by strong drinke: the priest and the prophet haue erred by strong drinke: they are swallowed vp with wine: they haue gone astray through strong drinke: they faile in vision: they stumble in iudgement.

8 For all their tables are ful of filthie vomiting: no place is cleane.

9 [h] Whome shall he teach knowledge? and whome shall hee make to vnderstande the things that he heareth? them that are wained from the milke, and drawen from the breastes.

10 For [i] precept must be vpon precept, precept vpon precept, line vnto line, line vnto line, there a litle, and there a litle.

11 For with a stammering [k] tongue and with a strange language shall he speake vnto this people.

12 Vnto whome [l] he sayd, [m] This is the rest: [n] giue rest to him that is weare: and this is the refreshing, but they would not heare.

13 Therefore shall the worde of the [o] Lord be vnto them precept vpon precept, precept vpō precept, line vnto line, line vnto line, there a litle, and there a litle, that they may goe, and fal backward, and be broken, and be snared, and be taken.

14 Wherefore, heare the worde of the Lorde ye scornefull men that rule this people, which is at Ierusalem.

15 Because ye haue said, We haue made a [p] couenant with death, and with hell are we at agreement: though a scourge runne ouer, and passe through, it shall not come at vs: for we haue made [q] falshood our refuge, & vnder vanitie are we hid,

16 Therefore thus saith the Lord God, Behold, I will lay in Zion a stone, a [r] tried stone, a precious corner stone, a sure foundation. Hee that beleeueth, shall not make haste.

17 Iudgement also will I lay to the rule, and [s] righteousnesse to the balance, and the [u] haile shal sweepe away the vaine confidence, and the waters shal ouerflowe [x] the secret place.

18 And your couenant with death shalbe disanulled, and your agreement with hell shall not stand: when a scourge shall runne ouer and passe through, then shall ye be trode downe by it.

19 When it passeth ouer, it shall take you away: for it shall passe through euery morning in the day, and in the night, and there shall be onely [y] feare to make you to vnderstand the hearing.

20 For the bed is [z] streighe that it cannot suffice, and the couering narowe that one can not wrappe himselfe.

21 For the Lord shal stand as in mount [a] Perazim: he shall be wroth as in the valley [b] of Gibeon, that he may do his worke, his [s] strāge worke, and bring to passe his acte, his strange acte.

22 Nowe therefore be no mockers, least your bondes increase: for I haue heard of the Lord of hostes a consumption, euen determined vpon the whole earth.

23 Hearken ye, and heare my voyce; hearken ye, and heare my speach.

d Therefore hee will destroy the kingdome of Satan, because hee loueth his Church for his owne mercies sake, and can not be angry with it, but wilbeth that he may powre his anger vpon the wicked infidels, whom he meaneth by byers and thornes.

e He marueileth, that Israel will not come by gentlenesse, except God make them to feele his rods, and so bring them vnto him.

f Though I afflict and diminish my people for a time, yet shall the roote spring againe and bring foorth in great abundance.

g He sheweth that God punisheth his in mercie, and his enemies in iustice.

h That is, thou wilt not destroy the roote of thy Church, though the branches thereof seeme to perish by the sharpe winde of affliction.

i He theweth that there is no true repentance, nor full reconciliation to God, till the heart be purged from al idolatrie, and the monuments thereof destroyed.

k Notwithstanding his fauour that hee will shewe them after, yet Ierusalem shall be destroyed, and grasse for cattel shall growe in it.

l God shall not haue needе of mightie enemies: for the very women shall doe it, to their great shame

m Hee shall destroy all from Euphrates to Nilus: for some fled toward Egypt, thinking to haue escaped.

n In the time of Cyrus, by whom they should be deliuered: but this was chiefly accomplished vnder Christ.

a Meaning, the proude kingdome of the Israelites, which were drunken with worldly prosperitie.

b Because the Israelites for the most part dwelt in plentiful valleys, he meaneth here by the valley of them, that had abundance of worldly prosperitie, and were, as it were crowned therewith, as with garlands.

c He seemeth to meane the Assyrians, by whome the tenne tribes were caried away.

d Which is not of long continuance, but is soone ripe, and first eaten.

e Signifying, that the faithfull, which put not their trust in any worldly prosperitie, but made God their glory, shalbe preserued.

f He will giue counsell to the gouernour, & strength to the captains, to driue the enemies in at their owne gates.

g Meaning, the hypocrites, which were amongthem, and were altogether corrupt in life & doctrine, which is here meant by drunkennes and vomiting.

h For there was none that was able to vnderstand any good doctrine: but were foolish, and as vnmeete as yong babes.

i They must haue one thing oftimes tolde.

k Let one teach what he can, yet they shall no more vnderstand him, then if he spake in a strāge language.

l That is, the Prophet whome God should sende.

m This is the doctrine, wherewith ye ought to stay and rest.

n Shewe to them that are weary and haue need of rest, what is the true rest.

o Because they wil not receiue the word of God, whē it is offred, it commeth of their owne malice, il after their hearts be so hardened, that they care not for it, as before Chap. 6.9.

p They thought they had shiftes to auoyde Gods iudgements, and that they could escape though all other perished.

q Though the Prophets condemned their idoles, and vaine trust, of falshode, and vanitie, yet the wicked thought in themselues that they would trust in these things.

r That is, Christ by whom all the building must be tried, & vpholden. Psa. 118.22. mat. 21. 42. acts 4.11. rom. 9.33. 1. pet. 2.6.

s He shalbe quiet, & seeke none other remedies, but be content with Christ.

t In the restitution of his Church, iudgement, and iustice shall reigne.

u Gods corrections and affliction.

x Affliction shall discouer their vaine confidence, which they kept secret to themselues.

y Terrour and dolefulnesse shall make you to learne that, which exhortations and gentlenesse could not bring you vnto.

z Your affliction shalbe so sore, that you are not able to endure it.

a When Dauid ouercame the Philistims, 2 Sam. 5. 20. 1. Chron. 14. 11.

b Where Iosh. discomfited fiue Kings of the Amorites, Iosh. 10. 10.

24 Doth the plowe man plowe all the day, to sowe? doeth hee open, and breake the clots of his ground?

25 When he hath made it c plaine, will he not then sowe the fitches, and sowe cummin, and cast in wheat by measure, and the appointed barely & rye in their place?

26 For his God doth instruct him to haue discretion, and doeth teach him.

27 For fitches shall not bee threshed with a threshing instrument, neither shall a cart wheele be turned about vpon the cummin: but the fitches are beate out with a staffe, and cummin with a rodde.

28 Bread corne when it is threshed, hee doeth not alway thresh it, neither doeth the wheele of his cart still make a noyse, neither will he breake it with the teeth thereof.

29 This also commeth from the Lord of hosts, which is wonderfull in counsell, and excellent in workes.

c As the plowe man hath his appointed time, and diuers instruments for his labour, so hath the Lord for his vengeance: for he punisheth some at one time, and some at another, some after one sort, and some after another, so that his chosen seede is beaten, and tried, but not broken, as are the wicked.

CHAP. XXIX.

1 A prophecie against Ierusalem. 13 The vengeance of God on them that follow the traditions of men.

AH a altar, altar of the citie where Dauid dwelt: adde yeere vnto yeere: b let them kill lambs.

2 But I will bring the altar into distresse, and there shalbe heauines and sorowe, and it shall bee vnto me like c an altar.

3 And I will besiege thee as a circle, and fight against thee on a mount, & will cast vp rampars against thee.

4 So shalt thou bee humbled, and shalt speake out of the d ground, and thy speach shalbe as out of the dust: thy voyce also shall bee out of the ground like him that hath a spirite of diuination, and thy talking shall whisper out of the dust.

5 Moreouer, the multitude of thy e strangers shalbe like smal dust, and the multitude of strong men shalbe as chaffe that passeth away, and it shal be in a moment, euen suddenly.

6 Thou shalt be visited of the Lorde of hostes with thunder, and shaking, and a great noyse, a whirlewinde, and a tempest, and a flame of a deuouring fire.

7 And the f multitude of all the nations that fight against the altar, shalbe as a dreame or vision by night: euen all they that make the warre against it, and strong holdes against it, and lay siege vnto it.

8 And it shall be like as an hungry man dreameth, and beholde, g he eateth: and when he awaketh, his soule is emptie: or like as a thirstie man dreameth, and loe, hee is drinking, and when he awaketh, behold he is faint, and his soule longeth: so shal the multitude of al nations be that fight against mount Zion.

9 h Stay your selues, and wonder: they are blinde, & make you blinde: they are drunken, but not i with wine: they staggar, but not by strong drink.

10 For the Lord hath couered you with a spirit of slumber, and hath shutte vp your eyes the Prophet, and your chiefe Seers hath he couered.

11 And the vision of them all is become vnto you, as the wordes of a booke that is sealed vp, which they deliuer to one that can reade, saying, Reade this, I pray thee. Then shall hee say, I can not: for it is sealed.

12 And the booke is giuen vnto him that can not reade, saying, Reade this, I pray thee. And hee shall say, I cannot reade.

13 Therefore the Lorde said, Because this people k come neere vnto me with their mouth, and honour mee with their lippes, but haue remooued their heart farre from me, and their l feare toward me was taught by the precept of men,

14 Therefore beholde, I wil againe doe a marueilous worke in this people, euen a marueilous worke, and a wonder: for the wisedome of their wise man shall m perish, and the vnderstanding of their prudent men shalbe hid.

15 Woe vnto them that n seeke deepe to hide their counsell from the Lorde: for their workes are in darkenes, and they say, Who seeth vs? and who knoweth vs?

16 Your turning of deuises shal it not be esteemed o as the potters clay? for shal the worke say of him that made it, Hee made me not? or the thing formed, say of him that fashioned it, He had none vnderstanding?

17 Is it not yet but a litle while, and Lebanon shall be p turned into Carmel? and Carmel shalbe counted as a forest?

18 And in that day shall the deafe heare the wordes of the booke, and the eyes of the blinde shall see out of obscuritie, and out of darkenesse.

19 The meeke in the Lord shall receiue ioy againe, and the poore men shall reioyce in the holy one of Israel.

20 For the cruel man shall cease, & the scornefull shall be consumed: and al that hasted to iniquitie, shalbe cut off:

21 Which made a mā to sinne in the q word, and tooke him in a snare: which reproued them in the gate, & made the iust to fall without cause.

22 Therefore thus saith the Lorde vnto the house of Iaakob, euen hee that redeemed Abraham, Iaakob shal no: now be cōfounded, neither now shall his face be pale.

23 But when he seeth his children, the worke of mine hands, in the mids of him, they shall sanctifie my Name, and sanctifie the holy one of Iaakob, and shall feare the God of Israel.

24 Then they that erred in spirite, r shall haue vnderstanding, and they that murmured, shall learne doctrine.

CHAP. XXX.

1 Hee reproueth the Iewes which in their aduersitie vseth their owne counsell. 3 And sought helpe of the Egyptians. 10 Despising the Prophets 16 Therefore hee sheweth what destruction shall come vpon them, 18 But offreth mercie to the repentant.

WOe to the a rebellious children, saith the Lorde, that take counsel, but not of mee, and b couer with a couering, but not by my spirit, that they may lay sinne vpon sinne:

2 Which walke foorth to goe downe into Egypt (and haue not asked at my mouth) to strengthen themselues with the strength of Pharaoh, and trust in the shadowe of Egypt.

3 But the strength of Pharaoh shall bee your shame, and the trust in the shadow of Egypt your confusion.

4 For his c princes were at Zoan, and his Ambassadours came vnto Hanes.

5 They shalbe all ashamed of the people that cannot profite them, nor helpe nor do the good, but shalbe a shame and also a reproche.

b The Ebrewe word Ariel signifieth the Lyon of God, and signifieth the Altar, because the Altar seemed to deuoure the sacrifice that was offred to God, as Ezek. 43.16.

b Your vaine confidence in your sacrifices shall not last long.

c Your citie shall befall of blood, as an altar whereon they sacrifice.

d Thy speach shall be no more so loftie, but abased, and low as the very charmers, which vse in low places, and whisper, so that their voyce can scarse be heard.

e Thine hired souldiers, in whom thou trustest, shall be destroyed, as dust or chaffe in a whirlewinde.

f The enemies that I will bring to destroy thee, and that which thou makest thy vaine trust, shall come at vnawares, euen as a dreame in the night. Some reade, as if this were a comfort to the Church for the destruction of their enemies.

g That is be thinketh he eateth.

h Muse hereon as long as ye list, yet shall ye finde nothing but occasion to be astonished: for your Prophets are blinde, and therefore cannot direct you.

i Meaning, that it is all alike, subiect to reade, or not to reade, except God open the heart to vnderstand.

k Because they are hypocrites and not sincere in heart, as Matt. 15. 8.

l That is, their religion was learned by mans doctrine and not by my word.

m Meaning, that where as God is not worshipped according to his word, but magistrates and ministers are but fooles and without vnderstanding.

n This is spoken of them, which in heart despited Gods worde, and mocked at the admonitions but outwardly bared a good face.

o For all your craft, saith the Lord, you cannot be able to escape mine handes no more then the clay, that is in the potters hands, hath power to deliuer it selfe.

p Shall these not be a change of all things? and Carmel, that is a plentifull place in respect of that it shal be then, may be taken as a forrest, as Chap. 32. 15. and thus he speaketh to comfort the faithfull.

q They that were about to find faulte with the Prophets words, and would not abide admonitions, but would intangle them and bring them into danger.

r Signifying, that except God giue vnderstanding and knowledge, man cannot but still erre, and murmure against him.

a Who contrary to their promise, take not me for their protectour, and contrarie to my commandement, seeke helpe at strangers.

b They seeke shiftes to cloke there doings, and not godly meanes.

c The chiefe of Israel went into Egypt in Ambassage to seeke helpe, and abode at those cities.

6 ¶ The f burden of the beastes of the South, in a land of trouble & anguish, from whence shall come the yong and olde lyon, the viper and fiery flying serpent against them that shall beare their riches vpon the shoulders of the coltes, and their treasures vpon the bounches of the camels, to a people that cannot profite, 7 For the Egyptians are vanitie, and they shal helpe in vaine. Therefore haue I cryed vnto g her, Their strength h is to sit still.

8 Now go, and write i it before them in a table, and note it in a booke that it may be for the k last day for euer and euer:

9 That it is a rebellious people, lying children, and children that would not l heare the law of the Lord,

10 Which say vnto the Seers, See not: and to the Prophets, Prophecie not vnto vs right things: but speake flattering things vnto vs: prophecie m errours.

11 Depart out of the way: goe aside out of the path: cause the holy one of Israel to cease from vs.

12 Therefore thus saith the holy one of Israel, Because you haue cast off this worde, and trust in n violence, and wickednes, and stay thereupon,

13 Therefore this iniquitie shalbe vnto you as a breache that falleth, or a swelling in a hie wall, whose breaking commeth suddenly in a moment.

14 And the breaking thereof is like the breaking of a potters pot, which is broken without pitie, and in the breaking thereof is not founde o a shrad to take fire out of p hearth, or to take water out of the pit.

15 For thus said the q Lorde God, the Holy one of Israel, In rest and quietnesse shall ye be saued: in quietnes and in confidence shall bee your strength, but ye would not.

16 For ye haue sayd, No, but we wil flee away vpon r horses. Therefore shal ye flee. We wil ride vpon the swiftest. Therefore shal your persecuters be swifter.

17 A thousand at one shal flee at the rebuke of one: at the rebuke of fiue shal ye flee, til ye be left as a ship maste vpon the s toppe of a mountaine, and as a beaken vpon a hill.

18 Yet therefore will the Lord waite, that he may haue t mercy vpon you, and therefore wil he be exalted, u he may haue compassion vpon you: for the Lord is the God of x iudgement. Blessed are all they that waite for him.

19 Surely a people shall dwell in Zion, and in Ierusalem: thou shalt weepe no more: he will certainely haue mercie vpon thee at the voyce of thy cry: when he heareth thee, he will answere thee.

20 And when the Lord hath giuen you the bread of aduersitie, and the water of affliction, thy raine shall be no more kept backe, but thine eies shall see thy raine.

21 And thine eares shall heare a word behinde thee, saying, This is the way, y walke ye in it, when thou turnest to the right hand, & when thou turnest to the left.

22 And yee shall z pollute the couering of the images of siluer, and the riche ornament of thine images of gold, & cast thē away as a menstruous cloth, and thou shalt say vnto it, a Get thee hence.

23 Then shall hee giue raine vnto thy seede, when thou shalt sow the ground, and bread of the increase of the earth, and it shalbe fat and plenteous: in that day shal the cattel be fed in large pastures.

24 The oxen also and the young asses, that till the ground, shall eate cleane prouender, which is winowed with the shouel and with the fanne.

25 And vpon euery hie b mountaine, and vpon euery hie hil shall there be riuers and streames of waters, in the day of the great slaughter, when the towers shall fall.

26 Moreouer, the light of the moone shal be as the light of the c sunne, and the light of the sunne shalbe seuen fold, and like the light of seuen dayes in the day that the Lord shall binde vp the breach of his people, and heale the stroke of their wound.

27 Beholde, d the Name of the Lord commeth from farre, his face is burning, & the burden thereof is heauie: his lips are full of indignation, and his tongue is as a deuouring fire.

28 And his spirit is as a riuer that ouerfloweth vp to the necke: it deuideth asunder, to fanne the e nations with the fanne of vanitie, and there shall be a bridle to cause them to erre in the chawes of the people.

29 But there shal be a song vnto you as in the f night, when a solemne feast is kept: and gladnesse of heart, as hee that commeth with a pipe to goe vnto the mount of the Lorde, to the mightie one of Israel.

30 And g Lord shall cause his glorious voyce to be heard, & shall declare the lighting down of his arme with the anger of his countenance, and flame of a deuouring fire, with scattering & tempest, and haile stones.

31 For with the voyce of the Lord shal Asshur be destroyed, which smote with the h rod.

32 And in euery place that the staffe shal passe, it shall i cleaue fast, which the Lord shal lay vpon him with k tabrets and harpes: and with battels, and lifting vp of hands shall he fight l against it.

33 For m Tophet is prepared of olde: it is euen prepared for the n King: hee hath made it o deepe and large: the burning thereof is fire and much wood: the breath of the Lord, like a riuer of brimstone, doeth kindle it.

t God shal direct all thy wayes and appoint thee howe to goe either hither or thither.

v Shewing that there can be no true repentance except both in heart & deede we shew our selues enemies to idolatrie.

w By these diuers maners of speech he sheweth that the felicitie of the Church shalbe so great, that none is able sufficiently to expresse it.

x When the Church shalbe restored, the glory thereof shal passe seuen times the brightnes of the sunne: for by the sunne and moone, which are two excellent creatures, he sheweth what shall be the glory of the children of God in the kingdome of Christ.

CHAP. XXXI.

1 He curseth them that forsake God, and seeke for the helpe of men.

VVOe vnto them that a goe downe into Egypt for helpe, and staye vpon horses, and trust in charets, because they are many, and in horsemē, because they be very strōg: but they looke not vnto b holy one of Israel, nor c seeke vnto d Lord.

2 But he yet is e wisest: therefore hee wil bring euil, and not turne backe his word, but he wil arise against the house f of the wicked, and against the helpe of them that worke vanitie.

Deut. 17.16 and 28.68. least they should forget the benefite of their redemption: and secondly, least they should be corrupted with the superstition and idolatrie of the Egyptians & so forsake God. Iere. 2.18.

b Meaning that they forsake the Lord, that put their trust in worldly things: for they cannot trust in both.

c And knoweth their crafty enterprises, and wil bring al to nought.

d Meaning both the Egyptians and the Israelites.

a He sheweth the Lawes, but if they would put their trust in him, he is so able, that none can resist his power: and so carefull ouer them, as a birde ouer her yong, which euer flyeth about the for their defence: which similitude the scripture vseth in diuers places, as Deut. 32. 11. mat 23. 37.

The conditions of good rulers and officers described by the gouernment of Hezekiah, who was the figure of Christ.

a This prophecie is of Hezekiah, who was a figure of Christ, & therefore it ought chiefly to be referred to him.

c Where men are weary with trauelling for lacke of water.

d He promiseth to giue the true light, which is the pure doctrine of Gods word, and vnderstanding, and zeale of the same, contrary to the threatnings against the wicked, Chap. 6. 9. and 19. 10.

e Vice shall no more be called vertue, nor vertue esteemed by power and riches.

f He prophecieth of such calamities to come, that they will not spare the women, & childre, and therefore willeth them to take heede & prouide.

g Meaning, that the affliction should continue long and when one yeere were past, yet they should looke for newe plagues.

h Because you made you to contemne him: to wit, abundance of worldly goods.

i By the teares he meaneth the plentifull fields, whereby men are nourished, & children with the fatte or, the mothers for sorowe, and leanesse shall lacke milke.

BEholde, a a King shall reigne in iustice, and the princes shall rule b in iudgement.

2 And that man shall bee as an hiding place from the winde, and as a refuge for the tempest: as riuers of water in a dry place, and as the shadowe of a great rocke in c a weatie land.

3 The eyes of d the seeing shal not be shut, and the eares of them that heare, shall hearken.

4 And the heart of the foolish shall vnderstand knowledge, and the tongue of the stutters shalbe ready to speake distinctly.

5 e A nigard shall no more be called liberall, nor the churle rich.

6 But the nigarde will speake of nigardnesse, and his heart wil worke iniquitie, and do wickedly, and speake falsely against the Lorde, to make emptie the hungrie soule, and to cause the drinke of the thirstie to faile.

7 For the weapons of the churle are wicked: hee deuiseth wicked counsels to vndoe the poore with lying words: and to speake against the poore in iudgement.

8 But the liberall man will deuise of liberall things: and he will continue his liberalitie.

9 ¶ Rise vp, ye women that are at ease: heare my voice, ye careles daughters: hearken to my words.

11 Yee women, that are at ease, be astonied: feare, O yee careless women: put off the clothes: make bare, and gird sackcloth vpon the loynes.

15 Vntil the k Spirit be powred vpon vs from aboue, and the wildernes become a fruitfull field, and the l plenteous fielde be counted as a forest.

16 And iudgement shal dwel in the desert, and iustice shall remaine in the fruitfull fielde.

17 And m worke of iustice shalbe peace, euē the worke of iustice & quietnes, & assurance for euer.

18 And my people shall dwell in the tabernacle of peace, and in sure dwellings, and in safe resting places.

19 When it haileth, it shall fall on the forest, and the n citie shalbe set in the low place.

20 Blessed are yee o that sowe vpon all waters, and o drive thither the feete of the oxe & the asse.

m They y had some beginning of godlines, shal bring forth fruits that their former life shal seeme but as a wildernes, where no fruits were. n They shal not neede to build it in hie places for feare of the enemies: for God will defend it, and turne away the stormes from hurting of their commodities. o That is, vpon fat ground and wel watered, which bringeth forth in abundance: or in places which before were couered with waters & now made dry for your vses. o The fields shalbe so rankle, that they shall sende out their cattel to eat vp the first crop, which abundance shalbe signes of Gods fauour and louing towards them.

CHAP. XXXIII.

1 The destruction of him by whom God hath punished his Church.

WOe to thee that a spoylest, and wast not spoyled: and doest wickedly, and they did not wickedly against thee: when thou shalt b cease to spoyle, thou shalt be spoiled: when thou shalt make an ende of doing wickedly, c they shal do wickedly against thee.

3 At the noise of the tumult, the f people fled: at thine g exalting the nations were scattered.

4 And your spoyle shall be gathered like the gathering of h caterpillers: and i hee shall gone against him like the leaping of grashoppers.

5 The Lord is exalted: for hee dwelleth on hie: he hath filled Zion with iudgement & iustice.

6 And there shal be stabilitie of k thy times, strength, saluation, wisdome and knowledge: for the feare of the Lord shalbe his treasure.

z Let vs be content with this smal riuer of Shiloah, and not desire the great streames and riuers, wherby the enemies may bring in shippes and destroy vs.

COme neere, ye [a] nations and heare, and hearken, ye people: let the earth heare & all that is therein, the world & al that proceedeth therof.

4 And all the hoste of heauen [c] shalbe dissolued, and the heauens shalbe folden like a booke: and all their hostes shall fall as the leafe falleth from the vine, and as it falleth from the figtree.

5 For my sword shalbe [d] drunken in the heauen: beholde, it shall come downe vpon Edom, euen vpon the people of [e] my curse to iudgement.

6 The sword of the Lord is filled with blood: it is made fat with the fat & with the blood of the lambes & the goates, with the fat of the kidneis of the rams: for the Lord hath a sacrifice in Bozrah, and a great slaughter in the land of Edom.

7 And the [h] vnicorne shall come downe with them and the heiffers with the bulles, and their land shall be drunken with blood, and their dust made fat with fatnesse.

5 Then shall the eies of the [f] blinde be lightened, and the eares of the deafe be opened.

6 Then shal the lame man leape as an hart, & the dumme mans tongue shal sing: for in the wildernes shal waters breake out, & riuers in [g] desert.

a He prophecieth of the destruction of the Edomites, and other nations which were enemies to the Church

b God hath determined in his counsel, and hath giuen sentence for their destruction.

c He speaketh this in respect of mans iudgement, who in great feare & horrible troubles thinketh that heauen and earth perisheth.

d I haue determined in my secret counsell and in the heauens to destroy them till my sworde be wearie with shedding blood.

e They had an opinion of holinesse because they came of the Patriarke Izhak, but in effect were accursed of God, and enemies vnto his Church as the Papists are.

a He prophecieth of the ful restauration of the Church both of the Iewes and Gentiles vnder Christ, which shal be fully accomplished at the last day: albeit as yet it is compared to a desert and wildernes.

b The Church which was before compared to a barren wildernes shal by Christ be made most plenteous and beautiful.

c He sheweth that the presence of God is the cause that the Church doeth bring forth fruite and florish.

d He willeth all to encourage one another, and specially the ministers to exhort and strengthen the weake, that they may patiently abide the comming of God, which is at hand.

e To destroy your enemies.

f When the graces of God shall haue them giuen by Christ.

7 And the drie ground shall be as a poole, and the thirstie as springs of water in the habitation of dragons, where they lay, shall be a place for reedes and rushes.

8 And there shall be a path and a way, and the way shal be called [b] holy: the polluted shall not passe by it: for [i] he shalbe with them, and walke in the way, and the fooles shall not erre.

9 There shall bee [k] no lyon, nor noysome beastes shall ascend by it, neither shall they bee found there, that the redeemed may walke.

10 Therefore the [l] redeemed of the Lord shall returne and come to Zion with prayse: and euerlasting ioye shall bee vpon their heads: they shall obtaine ioye and gladnesse, and sorow and mourning shall flee away.

CHAP. XXXVI.

1 Sancherib sendeth Rabshakeh to besiege Ierusalem. 15 His blasphemies against God.

NOw [a] in the [b] fourteenethyeere of King Hezekiah, Sancherib King of Asshur came vp against al the strong cities of Iudah, & took them.

2 And the King of Asshur sent Rabshakeh from Lachish toward Ierusalem vnto King Hezekiah, with a great hoste, & he stood by [y] conduite of the vpper poole in the path of the fullers field.

3 Then came foorth vnto him Eliakim the [c] sonne of Hilkiah the [c] steward of the house, and Shebna [d] the chanceller, and Ioah the sonne of Asaph the recorder.

4 And [e] Rabshakeh saide vnto them, Tell you Hezekiah, I pray you, Thus sayth the great King, the King of Asshur, What confidence is this, wherein thou trustest?

5 I say, [f] Surely I haue eloquence, but counsel and strength are for the warre: on whom then doest thou trust, that thou rebellest against me?

6 Loe, thou trustest in this broken staffe of reede, on Egypt, whereupon if a man leane, it will goe into his hand and pearce it: so is Pharaoh King of Egypt, vnto all that trust in him.

7 But if thou say to me, We trust in the Lord our God, is not that he, whose hie places & whose altars Hezekiah tooke downe, & said to Iudah & to Ierusalem, Yee shall worship before this altar?

8 Nowe therefore giue hostages to my lorde the King of Asshur, and I wil giue thee two thousand horses, if thou be able on thy part to set riders vpon them.

9 For howe canst thou [‖] despise any captaine of the [b] least of my lordes seruants? and put thy trust on Egypt for charets and for horsemen?

10 And am I now come vp without the Lorde to this land to destroy it? The Lord said vnto me, [i] Goe vp against this land and destroy it.

11 ¶ Then said Eliakim, and Shebna and Ioah vnto Rabshakeh, [k] Speake, I pray thee, to thy seruants in the Aramites language, (for wee vnderstand it) & talke not with vs in the Iewes tongue, in the audience of the people that are on the wal.

12 Then said Rabshakeh, Hath my master sent mee to thy master, and to thee to speake these wordes, and not to the men that sit on the wall: that they may eate their owne doung, and drinke their owne † pisse with you?

13 So Rabshakeh stood, & cryed with a loude voyce in the Iewes language, and sayd, Heare the wordes of the great King, of the King of Asshur.

14 Thus sayeth the King, Let not Hezekiah deceiue you: for he shall not be able to deliuer you.

15 Neither let Hezekiah make you to trust in the Lord, saying, The Lord will surely deliuer vs: this citie shall not be giuen ouer into the hand of the King of Asshur.

16 Hearken not to Hezekiah: for thus sayth the King of Asshur, Make [l] appointment with me, and come out to me, that euery man may eate of his owne vine, & euery man of his owne figtree, and drinke euery man the water of his owne wel,

17 Till I come and bring you to a land like your owne land, euen a land of wheate, and wine, a land of bread and vineyardes,

18 Least Hezekiah deceiue you, saying, The Lord will deliuer vs. Hath any of the gods of the nations deliuered his land out of the hand of the King of Asshur?

19 Where is the god of [m] Hamath, and of Arpad? where is the god of Sepharuaim? or how haue they deliuered Samaria out of my hand?

20 Who is hee among all the gods of these landes, that hath deliuered their countrey out of mine hand, that the Lorde should deliuer Ierusalem out of mine hande?

21 Then they [n] kept silence, and answered him not a worde: for the Kings commandement was, saying, Answere him not.

22 Then came Eliakim the sonne of Hilkiah the steward of the house, and Shebna the chanceller, and Ioah the sonne of Asaph the recorder, vnto Hezekiah with rent clothes, and tolde him the wordes of Rabshakeh.

AND * when the King Hezekiah heard it, hee [a] rent his clothes, and put on sackecloth and came into the House of the Lord.

2 And hee sent Eliakim the stewarde of the house, & Shebna the chanceller, with the Elders of the Priestes, clothed in sackecloth vnto [b] Isaiah the Prophet, the sonne of Amoz.

3 And hee sayd vnto him, Thus saith Hezekiah, This day is a day of tribulation and of rebuke and blasphemie: for the children are come to the [c] birth, & there is no strēth to bring forth.

4 If so be the Lord thy God hath [d] heard the wordes of Rabshakeh, whom the King of Asshur his master hath sent to raile on the liuing God, and to reproche him with wordes which the Lord thy God hath heard, then [e] lift thou vp thy prayer for the remmant that are left.

5 So the seruants of the King Hezekiah came to Isaiah.

6 And Isaiah saide vnto them, Thus say vnto your master, Thus saith the Lord, Be not afraid of the words that thou hast heard, wherewith the seruants of [y] King of Asshur haue blasphemed mee, a This historie is rehearsed, because it is as a seale and confirmation of the doctrine afore, both for the threatnings and promises: to wit, that God would suffer his Church to be afflicted, but at length would send deliverance.

¶ When he had abolished superstition, and idolatrie, and restored religion, yet God would exercise his Church to trie their faith and patience.

e For he was now restored to his office, as Isaiah had prophecied, Chap. 22.20.

d This declareth that there were fewe godly to bee found in the Kings house, when hee was driuen to send this wicked man in such a weightie a matter.

e Sancheribs chiefe captaine.

f Hee speaketh this in the person of Hezekiah falsly charging him, that he put his trust in his wit and eloquence, whereas his onely confidence was in the Lorde.

g Satan laboured to pull the godly King from one vaine confidence to another: to wit, from trust in the Egyptians, whose power was weake and would deceiue them, to yeelde himselfe to the Assyrians, and so not to hope for any helpe of God.

† Or, vrine backe.

h He reprocheth to Hezekiah his small power, which is not able to resist one of Sancheribs least captaines.

i Thus the wicked to deceiue vs, will pretend the Name of the Lorde: but we must trie the spirits, whether they be of God or no.

k They were afraide, least by his wordes he should haue stirred the people against the King, and also pretended to growe to some appointment with him.

† Ebr. the water of their feete.

l The Ebrewe word signifieth blessing: whereby this wicked captaine would haue perswaded the people, that their condition should be better vnder Sancherib then vnder Hezekiah.

m That is, of Antiochia in Syria, of the which these two other cities also were: hereby we see howe euery towne had his peculiar idole, and how the wicked make God an idole, because they do not vnderstand that God maketh them his scourge, and punisheth cities for sinne.

n Not that they did not shewe by euident signes that they did detest his blasphemie: for they had now rent their clothes, but they knew it was in vaine to vse long reasoning with this infidel, whose rage they sawe had so much prouoked.

a 2 Kings. 19.2.

a Signe of griefe and repentance.

b To haue comfort of him by the word of God, that his faith might be confirmed, and so his prayer be more earnest: teaching hereby that in all dangers these two are the onely remedies, to seeke vnto God and his ministers.

c We are in as great sorowe as a woman that trauaileth of childe, and can not be deliuered.

d That is, will declare by effect that hee hath heard it: for when God defereth to punish, it seemeth to the flesh, that hee knoweth not the sinne, or heareth not the cause.

e Declaring that the ministers office doeth not onely stande in comforting by the worde, but also in praying for the people.

7 Beholde, I will ſend a blaſt vpon him, and he ſhall heare a f noyſe, and returne to his owne land, and I will cauſe him to fal by the ſworde in his owne land.

8 ¶ So Rabſhakeh returned, and found the King of Aſſhur fighting againſt g Libnah: for he had heard that he was departed from Lachiſh.

9 Hee heard alſo men ſay of Tirhakah, King of Ethiopia, Beholde, hee is come out to fight againſt thee: and when hee heard it, he ſent other meſſengers to Hezekiah, ſaying,

10 Thus ſhal ye ſpeake to Hezekiah King of Iudah, ſaying, Let not thy God h deceiue thee, in whom thou truſteſt, ſaying, Ieruſalem ſhall not be g uen into the hand of the King of Aſſhur.

11 Beholde, thou haſt heard what the Kings of Aſſhur haue done to all landes in deſtroying them, and ſhalt thou be deliuered?

12 Haue the gods of the nations deliuered them, which my fathers haue deſtroyed? as i Gozan, and k Haran, and Rezeph, and the children of Eden, which were at Telaſſar?

13 Where is the King of Hamath, and the King of Arpad, and the King of the citie of Sepharuaim, Hena, and Iuah?

14 ¶ So Hezekiah receiued the letter of the hand of the meſſengers and read it, and he went vp into the Houſe of the Lorde, and Hezekiah ſpread it before the Lord.

15 And Hezekiah prayed vnto the Lorde, ſaying,

16 O Lorde of hoſtes, God of Iſrael, which l dwelleſt betweene the Cherubims, thou art very God alone ouer all the kingdomes of the earth: thou haſt made the heauen and the earth.

17 Encline thine eare, O Lord, and heare: open thine eyes, O Lorde, and ſee, and heare all the wordes of Sancherib, who hath ſent to blaſpheme the liuing God.

18 Trueth it is, O Lorde, that the Kings of Aſſhur haue deſtroyed al lands, & m their countrie, 19 And haue caſt their gods in the fire: for they were no gods, but the worke of mans hands, euen wood & ſtone, therefore they deſtroyed them.

20 Now therefore, O Lorde our God, ſaue thou vs out of his hand, that n all the kingdomes of the earth may knowe, that thou onely art the Lord.

21 ¶ Then Iſaiah the ſonne of Amoz ſent vnto Hezekiah ſaying, Thus ſayth the Lord God of Iſrael, Becauſe thou haſt prayed vnto mee, concerning Sancherib king of Aſſhur,

22 This is the word that the Lord hath ſpoken againſt him, the o virgine, the daughter of Zion, hath deſpiſed thee, & laughed thee to ſcorne: the daughter of Ieruſalē hath ſhakē her head at thee

23 Whome haſt thou railed on and blaſphemed? and againſt whome haſt thou exalted thy voyce, & lifted vp thine eyes on hie? euen againſt the p holy one of Iſrael.

24 By thy ſeruaunts haſt thou railed on the Lord, and ſayde, By the multitude of my charets I am come vp to the top of the mountaines to the ſides of Lebanon, and will cut downe the hie cedars thereof, and the faire firre trees thereof, and I will goe vp to the heightes of his top and to the foreſt of his fruitfull place.

25 I haue digged q and drunke the waters, and with the plant of my feete haue I dried all the riuers cloſed in.

26 Haſt thou not heard howe I haue of olde time made it, r and haue formed it long agoe? and ſhould I now bring it, that it ſhould be deſtroyed, and ſayde on ruinous heapes, as cities defenſed?

27 Whoſe inhabitants † haue ſmall power, and are afraide & confounded: they are like the graſſe of the field & greene herbe, or graſſe on the houſe tops, or corne blaſted ſafore it be groweu.

28 But I know thy dwelling, and thy † going out, and thy comming in, & thy fury againſt me.

29 Becauſe thou rageſt againſt me, and thy tumult is come vp vnto mine eares, therefore wil I put mine u hooke in thy noſtrels, and my bridle in thy lips, & will bring thee backe againe the ſame way thou x cameſt.

30 And this ſhalbe a y ſigne vnto thee, O Hezekiah, Thou ſhalt eate this yere ſuch as growe h of it ſelfe: and the z ſecond yeere, ſuch thinges as growe without ſowing: and in the third yeere, ſowe ye and reape, and plant vineyards, and eate the fruit thereof.

31 And a the remnant that is eſcaped of the houſe of Iudah, ſhall againe take roote downward and beare fruite vpward.

32 For out of Ieruſalem ſhall goe a remnant, & they that eſcape out of mount Zion: the zeale of the Lord of hoſtes ſhal doe this.

33 Therefore thus ſaith the Lord, concerning the King of Aſſhur, Hee ſhall not enter into this city, nor ſhoote an arrowe there, nor come before it with ſhield, nor caſt a mount againſt it.

34 By the ſame way that he came, he ſhall returne, & not come into this citie, ſaith the Lord, 35 For I will defende this citie to ſaue it, for min owne ſake, and for my ſeruant b Dauids ſake.

36 ¶ * Then the Angel of the Lord went out, and ſmote in the campe of Aſſhur an huudreth foureſcore, & fiue thouſād: ſo whē they aroſe early in ỹ morning, behold, they were al dead corpſes.

37 So Sancherib king of Aſſhur departed, and went away and returned and dwelt at c Nineueh.

38 And as hee was in the temple worſhipping of Niſroch his god, Adramelech and Sharezer his ſonnes * ſlewe him with the ſworde, and they eſcaped into the land of ‖ Ararat: and d Eſarhaddon his ſonne reigned in his ſteade.

b For his heart was touched with feare of Gods iudgement, ſeeing he had appointed him to die, ſo quickely after his deliuerance from ſo great calamitie, as one vnworthy to remaine in that eſtate, & alſo foreſeeing the great change that ſhoulde come in the Church, for aſmuch as he left no ſonne to reigne after him: for as yet Manaſſeh was not borne: and when he reigned, we ſe what a tyrant he was.

d For Hezekiah had asked, for the confirmation of his faith a signe, as verse 22. & 2 King. 20. 8 whereunto he was moued by the singular motion of Gods spirit.

e Reade 2 King. 20. 10.

f He left this song of his lamentation and thankesgiuing to all posteritie, as a monument of his owne infirmitie and thankefull heart for Gods benefites, as Dauid did, Psal 51.

g At what time it was told me, that I should die.

h I shall no more praise the Lord here in his Temple among the faithfull: thus God suffereth his deerest children to want his consolation for a time, that his grace afterward may the more appeare whē they feele their owne weakenesse.

i By my sinne I haue prouoked God to take my life from me.

k That is, in one day, or shortly.

l Once night I thought y I should line till morning but my pangs in y night perswaded me the contrary: he sheweth the horror y the faithfull haue when they apprehend Gods iudgement against their sinne.

m I was so oppressed with sorow, that I was not able to vtter my wordes, but onely to grone and sigh.

n To wit, sorow and griefe both of body and minde.

o God hath declared by his Prophet that I shall die, and therefore I will yeeld vnto him.

p I shal haue no release, but continuall sorowes whiles I liue.

q They shal ouerliue the men that are now aliue and all they that are in these yeeres shal acknowledge this benefite.

r That after that thou hadst condemned me to death, thou restoredst me to life.

s Whereas I thought to haue liued in rest and ease being deliuered from mine enemies I had griefe vpon griefe.

t He esteemeth more the remission of his sinnes, and Gods fauour then a thousand liues.

u For as much as God hath placed man in this world to glorifie him, the godly take it as a signe of his wrath when their daies were shortened, either because that they seemed vnworthy for their sinnes to liue lōger in his seruice, or for their zeale to Gods glory, seeing that there are so few in earth that do regard it, as Psal. 6. 5. and 115. 17.

x All posterity shall acknowledge, and the fathers according to their duetie toward their children shall instruct them in thy graces, and mercies toward me.

3 And sayd, I beseech thee, Lorde, remember nowe howe I haue walked before thee in trueth, and with a perfite heart, & haue done that which is good in thy sight: and Hezekiah wept sore.

4 ¶ Then came the worde of the Lorde to Isaiah, saying,

5 Goe, and say vnto Hezekiah, Thus saith the Lord God of Dauid thy father, I haue heard thy prayer, and seene thy teares: beholde, I will adde vnto thy dayes fifteene yeeres.

6 And I will deliuer thee c out of the hand of the King of Asshur, and this citie: for I wil defend this citie.

7 And d this signe shalt thou haue of the Lord, that y Lord wil do this thing that he hath spokē.

11 I sayde, h I shal not see the Lorde, euen the Lord in the land of the liuing: I shall see man no more among the inhabitants of the world.

12 Mine habitation is departed, and is remoued from me, like a shepheards tent: I i haue cut off like a weauer my life: he will cut me off from the height: from day k to night, thou wilt make an end of me.

13 I reckoned l to the morning: but he brake all my bones, like a lyon: from day to night wilt thou make an end of me.

14 Like a crane or a swallow, so did I m chatter: I did mourne as a doue: mine eyes were lift vp on high: O Lord, n it hath oppressed me, comfort me.

15 What shal I say? o for he hath said it to me, and he hath done it: I shal walke p weakly all my yeeres in the bitternes of my soule.

16 O Lord, q to them that ouerliue them, and to all that are in them, the life of my spirite shalbe knowen, that thou causest me to r sleepe and hast giuen life to me.

17 Beholde, for s felicitie I had bitter griefe, but it was thy pleasure to deliuer my soule frō the pit of corruption: for thou hast cast al my t sinnes behind thy backe.

18 For the graue cannot confesse thee: death cannot praise thee: they that goe downe into the pit, c annot hope for thy trueth.

19 But the liuing, the liuing, he shal confesse thee, as I doe this day: the father to the x children shal declare thy trueth.

20 The Lord was ready to saue me: therefore we wil sing my song, all the dayes of our life in the house of the Lord.

21 Then said Isaiah, Take a lumpe of dry figs and z lay it vpon the boyle, and he shal recouer.

CHAP. XXXIX.

Hezekiah is reproued because he shewed his treasures vnto the ambassadours of Babylon.

AT a the same time, a Merodach Baladan, the b sonne of Baladan, King of Babel, sent b letters, and a present to Hezekiah: for he had heard that he had bene sicke, and was recouered.

2 And Hezekiah was c glad of them, & shewed them the house of the treasures, the siluer, and the golde, and the spices, and the precious ointment, and all the house of his armour, and al that was found in his treasures: there was nothing in his house, nor in all his kingdome that Hezekiah shewed them not.

3 Then came Isaiah the Prophet vnto King Hezekiah, & said vnto him, What said these men? and from whence came they to thee? And Hezekiah saide, They are come from a farre countrey vnto me, from Babel.

4 Then saide he, What haue d they seene in thine house? And Hezekiah answered, All that is in mine house haue they seene: there is nothing among my treasures, that I haue not shewed them.

5 And Isaiah sayde to Hezekiah, Heare the word of the Lord of hostes,

6 Beholde, the dayes come, that all that is in thine house, and which thy fathers haue laid vp in store vntil this day, shalbe e caried to Babel: nothing shalbe left, saith the Lord.

7 And of thy sonnes, that shall proceede out of thee, and which thou shalt beget, shall they take away, and they shalbe f eunuches in the palace of the King of Babel.

a 2 King. 20. 12.

a This was the first King of Babylon which ouercame the Assyrians in the tenth yere of his reigne.

d He asketh him of the particulars to make him vnderstand the craft of the wicked, which he before being ouercome with their flattery, and blinded with ambition could not see.

a This is a consolation for the Church, assuring them that they shal be neuer destitute of prophets, wherby he exhorteth the true ministers of God that then were, & those also that should come after him, to comfort the poore afflicted, and to assure them of their deliuerance both of body and soule.

b The time of her affliction.

14 Of whom tooke he counſell, and who inſtructed him and taught him in the way of iudgement? or taught him knowledge, and ſhewed vnto him the way of vnderſtanding?

15 Behold, the nations are as a drop of a bucket, and are counted as the duſt of the balance: behold, he taketh away the yles as a litle duſt.

19 The workeman melteth an image, or the goldſmith beateth it out in gold, or the goldſmith maketh ſiluer plates.

20 Doth not x the poore chuſe out a tree that will not rot, for an oblation? he ſeeketh alſo vnto him a cunning workeman, to prepare an image, that ſhall not be moued.

21 Knowe ye nothing? haue ye not heard y it? hath it not bene tolde you from the beginning? haue ye not vnderſtood it by the z foundation of the earth?

22 He ſitteth vpon the circle of the earth, and the inhabitants thereof are as graſſhoppers, hee ſtretcheth out the heauens, as a curtain, & ſpreadeth them out, as a tent to dwell in.

23 Hee bringeth the princes to nothing, and maketh the iudges of the earth, as vanitie,

24 As though they were not plāted, as though they were not ſowen, as though their ſtock tooke no roote in the earth: for he did euen a blowe vpon them, and they withered, and the whirlewinde will take them away as ſtubble.

25 To whome nowe will yee liken me, that I ſhould be like him, ſaith the Holy one?

26 Lift vp your eyes on hie, and beholde who hath created theſe things, and bringeth b out their armies by number, and calleth them al by names: by the greatnes of his power and mighty ſtrength nothing faileth.

27 Why ſayeſt thou, O Iaakob, and ſpeakeſt O Iſrael, c My way is hid from the Lorde, and my iudgement is paſſed ouer of my God?

28 Knoweſt thou not? or haſt thou not heard, that the euerlaſting God, the Lorde hath created the d endes of the earth? he neither fainteth, nor is wearie: there is no ſearching of his e vnderſtāding.

30 f Euen the young men ſhall faint, and bee wearie, and the yong men ſhal ſtumble and fall.

m Though conſidering the frailtie of mans nature many of the Iewes ſhould periſh, and ſo not be partakers of this deliuerance, yet Gods promes ſhould be fulfilled, and they that remained, ſhould feele the fruite thereof.

n To publiſh this benefite through all the world.

o He ſheweth at one worde the perfection of all mans felicitie, which is to haue Gods preſence.

p His power ſhall be ſufficient without helpe of any other, and ſhall haue all meanes in himſelfe to bring his will to paſſe.

q He ſhall ſhew his care and fauour ouer them that are weake and tender.

r Declaring that as God onely hath all power, ſo doth he vſe the ſame for the defence and maintenance of his Church.

ſ Hee ſheweth Gods infinite wiſdome for the ſame end and purpoſe.

t He ſpeaketh all this to the intent that they ſhould neither feare man, nor put their truſt in any, ſaue onely in God.

u Hereby he armeth them againſt the idolatrie, wherewith they ſhould be tempted in Babylon.

x He ſheweth the rage of the idolaters, ſeeing that the poore that haue not to ſuffice their owne neceſſities, wil defraud themſelues to ſerue their idoles.

y Haue ye not the worde of God, which plainely condemneth idolatrie?

z Can you not learne by the viſible creatures whome God hath made to ſerue your vſe, that you ſhoulde not ſerue them nor worſhip them?

a So that his power appeareth in euery place where ſoeuer we turne our eyes.

b Who hath ſet in order the infinite number of ſtarres.

c He rebuketh the Iewes, becauſe they did not reſt on the promiſes of God, but thought that he had forſaken them in their troubles.

d And therefore all power is in his hand to deliuer, when his time commeth.

e Shewing that man muſt patiently abide, and not curiouſly ſeeke out the cauſe of Gods delay in our afflictions.

f They that truſt in their owne vertue, and do not acknowledge that al commeth of God.

a God, as though he pleaded his cauſe with all nations, requireth ſilence that he may bee heard in his right.

b That is, gather all their power and ſupports.

c Who called Abraham (who was the paterne of Gods iuſtice in deliuering his Church) from the idolatrie of the Caldeans to go to and fro at his commandement, and placed him in the land of Canaan?

d Who hath created man and maintained his ſucceſſion.

e Though the world ſet vp neuer ſo many gods, yet they diminiſh nothing of my glory: for I am all one, vnchangeable, which haue euer been, and ſhalbe for euer.

f Conſidering mine excellent workes among my people.

g They aſſembled themſelues, and conſpired againſt me to maintaine their idolatrie.

h He noteth the obſtinacie of the idolaters to maintaine their ſuperſtitions.

i And therefore oughteſt not to polute thy ſelfe with the ſuperſtition of the Gentiles.

k That is, by the force of my promes, in the performance whereof I will ſhew my ſelfe faithfull and iuſt.

l Becauſe they ſhalbe deſtroyed.

m Thus hee calleth them becauſe they were contemned of all the worlde, and that they conſidering their owne poore eſtate, ſhould ſeeke vnto him for helpe.

men of Israel: I will helpe thee, saith the Lord and thy redeemer the holy one of Israel.

15 Behold, I will make thee a toller, & a new threshing instrument hauing teeth: thou shalt thresh the [n] mountaines, and bring them to pouder, and shalt make the hilles as chaffe.

16 Thou shalt fanne them, and the winde shal carie them away, and the whirlewind shal scatter them: and thou shalt reioyce in the Lord, & shalt glory in the holy one of Israel.

17 When [o] the poore & the needie seeke water, & there is none (their tongue faileth for thirst: I the Lorde will heare them: I the God of Israel will not forsake them)

18 I will open riuers in the toppes of the hils, and fountaines in the middes of the valleis: I will make the wildernesse as a poole of water, and the waste [p] land as springs of water.

19 I wil set in the wildernesse the cedar, the Shittah tree, and the mirre tree, and the pine tree, and I will set in the wildernesse the firre tree, the elme and the boxe tree together.

20 Therefore let them see and knowe, and let them consider and vnderstand together that the hand of the Lord hath done this, & the holy one of Israel [q] hath created it.

21 [r] Stand to your cause, saith the Lord: bring forth your strong reasons, saith [s] King of Iakob.

22 Let them bring foorth, and let them tel vs what shall come: let them shew the former things what they bee, that wee may consider them, and knowe the later ende of them: eyther declare vs things for to come.

23 Shew the things that are to come hereafter, that we may know that you are gods: yea, doe good or doe euill, that wee may declare, and beholde it together.

24 Behold, ye are of no value, and your making is of nought: man hath [t] chosen an abomination by them.

25 ¶ I haue raised vp [u] from the North, and he shal come: from the East sunne shal [v] he call vpon my name, & shal come vpon [x] princes as vpō clay, and as the potter treadeth myre vnder the foote.

26 Who hath declared from the beginning, that we may know? or before time, that wee may say, He is righteous? Surely there is none [y] sheweth: surely there is none [y] declareth: surely there is none that heareth [y] your wordes.

27 I am the first, that saith to Zion, Beholde, behold [z] them: and I will giue to Ierusalem [a] one that shal bring good tidings.

28 But when [b] I beheld, there was none, & whē I enquired of thē, there was no counsellor, & whē I demaunded of them, they answered not a word.

29 Beholde, they are all vanitie: their worke is of nothing, their images are winde and confusion.

CHAP. XLII.

1 The obedience and humilitie of Christ. 6 Why hee was sent into the world. 11 The vocation of the Gentiles.

BEholde, [a] my seruant: [b] I will stay vpon him: mine elect, in whom my soule [c] deliteth: I haue put my Spirit vpon him: hee shall bring foorth [d] iudgement to the Gentiles.

2 He shal not [e] crie, nor lift vp, nor cause his voyce to be heard in the streete.

3 A [f] bruised reede shall hee not breake, and the smoking [g] flaxe shall hee not quench: he shall bring forth iudgement in [h] trueth.

4 He shall not faile nor be discouraged till he haue [i] set iudgement in the earth: and the [k] yles shall waite for his law.

5 Thus saith God the Lord (hee that created the heauens and spred them abroad: he that stretched forth the earth, and the buddes thereof: hee that giueth breath vnto the people vpon it, and spirit to them that walke therein)

6 I the Lorde haue called thee in [l] righteousnes, and will hold [m] thine hand, and I will keepe thee, and giue thee for a [n] couenāt of the people, and for a light of the Gentiles,

7 That thou maist open the eyes of the blind, and bring out the prisoners from the prison: and thē that sit in darkenes, out of the prison house.

8 I am the Lorde, this is my Name, and my [o] glory will not giue to another, neither my praise to grauen images.

9 Beholde, the former things are [p] come to passe, and new things do I declare: before they come forth, I tell you of them.

10 Sing vnto the Lord a newe song, and his prayse from the end of the earth: yee that goe downe to the sea, and all that is therein: the yles and the inhabitants thereof.

11 Let the wildernesse and the cities thereof lift vp their voyce, the townes that [q] Kedar doeth inhabite: let the inhabitans of the rocks sing: let them shoute from the top of the mountains.

12 Let him giue glory vnto the Lorde, and declare his praise in the ylands.

13 The Lord shal go forth as a [r] gyant: he shall stirre vp his courage like a man of warre: he shall shoute and crie, and shall preuaile against his enemies.

14 I haue a long time holden my peace: I haue bene still and refrained my selfe: nowe will I crie like a [s] trauailing woman: I will destroy and deuour at once.

15 I will make waste mountaines, and hilles, and drie vp all their herbes, and I will make the floods ylands, and I will drie vp the pooles.

16 ¶ And I will bring the [t] blinde by a way, that they knew not, and leade them by paths that they haue not knowen: I will make darkenesse light before them, and crooked things straight. These things will I doe vnto them, and not forsake them.

17 They shall be turned backe: they shall be greatly ashamed, that trust in grauen images, and say to the molten images, Ye are our gods.

18 ¶ Heare, ye deafe: and ye blinde, regard, that ye may see.

19 Who is blind but my [u] seruant? or deafe as my [x] messenger, that I sent? who is blinde as the [y] perfit, and blind as the Lords seruant?

20 Seeing many things, but thou keepest them not? opening the eares, but he heareth not?

a I wil make thee able to destroy all thine enemies, be they neuer so mightie: and this chiefly is referred to the kingdome of Christ.

o That is, they that shalbe afflicted in the captiuitie of Babylon.

p God wil rather change the order of nature, then they should want any thing, that crie to him by true faith in their miseries: declaring to them hereby ỹ they shal lack nothing by ỹ way, whē they returne frō Babylon.

q That is, hath appointed, & determined that it shall come so to passe.

r He biddeth the idolaters to proue their religion, and to bring foorth their idoles, ỹ they may be tried whether they know all things, and can doe all things: which if they cannot do, he concludeth that they are no gods, but vile idoles.

s So that a man can not make an idole, but he must doe ỹ which God detesteth, & abhorreth: for he chuseth his owne deuises, and forsaketh ỹ Lords.

t Meaning, the Chaldeans.

u That is, Cyrus, who shall doe all things in my name, & by my direction: whereby he meaneth ỹ both their captiuitie, and deliuerance, shall be ordered by Gods prouidence & appoyntment.

x Both of ỹ Chaldeans and others.

y Meaning, that none of the Gentiles gods can worke any of these things.

z That is, the Israelites which returne frō the captiuitie. a To wit, a continual succession of Prophets and ministers. b When I looked whether the idoles could doe these things, I found that they had neyther wisdome nor power to doe any thing: therefore he concludeth that all are wicked, that trust in such vanity.

a That is, Christ, who in respect of his manhoode is called here seruant. The Prophets vse to make mention of Christ after ỹ they haue declared any great promes, because he is ỹ foundation wherupō al ỹ promises are made & ratified. b For I haue cōmitted al my power to him, as to a most faithful steward. Some read, I will establish him: to wit, his office, by gining him the fulnes of my Spirit. c He onely is acceptable vnto me and they that come vnto me by him: for there is no other meanes of reconciliation, Matt. 12. 18. ephes. 1. 4.

d He shal declare himselfe gouernor ouer the Gentiles, and call them by his word, and rule them by his Spirit.

e His comming shall not be with pompe and noise, as earthly princes.

f He will not hurt the weake and feeble, but support & comfort them.

g Meaning the weeke oi a lampe or candle which is almost out, but he will cherish it and souffe it, that it may shine brighter.

h Although he fauour the weake, yet will he not spare the wicked, but will iudge them according to trueth and equitie.

i Till he haue set all things in good order.

k The Gentiles shall be desirous to receiue his doctrine.

l Meaning, vnto a lawfull and iust vocation.

m To assist and guide thee.

n As him, by whom the promise, made to all nations in Abraham, shall be fulfilled.

o I will not suffer my glory to be diminished: which I should doe if I were not faithfull in performing the same, and the idolaters thereby would exxol their idoles aboue me.

p As in time past I haue bene true in my promises, so wil I be in time to come.

q Meaning, the Arabians, vnder whom he comprehendeth all the people of the East.

r He sheweth the zeale of the Lord, and his power in the conseruation of his Church.

s I will haste to execute my vengeance, which I haue so long deferred, as a woman ỹ trauelleth.

t That is, my poore people, which are in perplexitie and care. u To wit, Israel, which should haue most light because of my Lawe. x The Priest to whom my worde is committed, which should not onely heare it himselfe, but cause others to heare it. y As the Priests and Prophets that should be lights to others?

a Because they wil not acknowledge this benefit of the Lord, who is ready to deliuer them, he suffereth them to be spoiled of the enemies through their owne fault and incredulitie.
a There shall be none to succour them, or to wil the enemie to restore that which he hath spoiled.
b Meaning, Gods wrath.

21 The Lord is willing for his righteousnesse sake that he may magnifie the Law, and exalt it.
22 But this people is z robbed & spoiled, and shalbe all snared in dungeons, and they shalbe hid in prison houses: they shalbe for a pray, and none shal deliuer: a spoile, and none shal say, a Restore.
23 Who among you shal hearken to this, and take heed, and heare for b afterwards?
24 Who gaue Iaakob for a spoile, and Israel to the robbers? Did not y Lord, because we haue sinned against him? for they would not walke in his wayes, neither be obedient vnto his Lawe.
25 Therefore hee hath powred vpon him his fierce wrath, and the strength of battel: and it set him on fire round about, and he knew not, and it burned him vp, yet he considered not.

CHAP. XLIII.

1 The Lord comforteth his people. He promiseth deliuerance to the Iewes. 11 There is no God but one alone.

BVt now thus saith the Lord a that created thee, O Iaakob: and he that formed thee, O Israel, b Feare not: for I haue redeemed thee: I haue called thee by thy name, thou art mine.
2 When thou passest through the c waters, I wil be with thee, & through the floods, that they doe not ouerflowe thee. When thou walkest through the very fire, thou shalt not be burnt, neither shall the flame kindle vpon thee.
3 For I am the Lord thy God, the holy one of Israel, thy Sauiour: I gaue d Egypt for thy ransome, Ethiopia, and Seba for thee.
4 Because thou wast precious in my sight, and thou wast honorable, and I loued thee, therefore wil I giue e man for thee, and people for thy sake.
5 Feare not, for I am with thee: I will bring thy seed from the f East, and gather thee from the West.
6 I will say to the North, Giue: and to the South, Keepe not backe: bring my sonnes from farre, & my daughters from the ends of the earth.
7 Euery one shall be called by my g Name: for I created him for my glorie, formed him and made him.
8 I will bring forth the blind people, & they shal haue eies, & the deafe & they shal haue eares.
9 Let all the nations be gathered h together, & let the people be assembled: who among them can declare this and shew vs former things? let them bring forth their i witnesses, that they may be iustified: but let them kheare, & say, It is truth.
10 You late my witnesses, saith the Lord, and my m seruant, whom I haue chosen: therefore ye shall know and beleeue mee, and ye shall vnderstand that I am: before me there was no God formed, neither shall there be after me.
11 I, euen I am the Lord, and beside me there is no Sauiour.
12 I haue declared, and I haue saued, and I haue shewed, when there was no strange god among you: therefore you are my witnesses, saieth the Lord, that I am God.
13 Yea, before the day was, I am, and there is none that can deliuer out of mine hand: I wil doe it, and who shall let it?
14 Thus saith the Lord your redeemer, the holy one of Israel, For your sake I haue sent to Babel, and n brought it downe: they are all fugitiues, and the Caldeans crie in o the ships.
15 I am the Lorde your holy one, the creator of Israel, your King.
16 Thus saieth the Lorde which maketh a way in p the Sea, and a path in the mighty q waters.
17 When hee r bringeth out the s charet and horse, the armie and the power lie together, and shal not rise, they are extinct, & quenched as tow.
18 Remember ye not the former things, neither regard the things of old.
19 Behold, I do a new thing: now shal it come foorth: shal you not know it? I wil euen make a way in the t desert, and floods in the wildernesse.
20 The wilde u beastes shall honour mee, the dragons and the ostriches, because I gaue water in the desert, and floods in the wildernesse to giue drinke to my people, euen to mine elect.
21 This people haue I formed for my selfe: they shall shew foorth my prayse.
22 And thou hast not x called vpon mee, O Iaakob, but thou hast y wearied me, O Israel.
23 Thou z hast not brought me the sheepe of thy burnt offerings, neither hast thou honoured me with thy sacrifices. I haue not caused thee to serue w an offring, nor wearied thee with incense.
24 Thou boughtest mee no sweete a sauour with money, neither hast thou made me drunke with the fat of thy sacrifices, but thou hast made mee to b serue with thy sinnes, and wearied mee with thine iniquities.
25 I, euen I am he that putteth away thine iniquities for mine owne sake, and will not remember thy sinnes.
26 Put me in c remembrance: let vs be iudged together: count thou that thou maiest be iustified.
27 Thy d first father hath sinned, and thy e teachers haue trespassed against me.
28 Therefore I haue f prophaned the rulers of the Sanctuarie, & haue made Iaakob a curse, and Israel a reproch.

2 After these threatnings he promiseth deliuerance to his Church, because he hath regenerate them, adopted them, and called them.
b When thou feelest dangers & conspiracies on all sides, remember this benefite and the loue of thy God, and it shall encourage thee.
c By water and fire, he meaneth all kind of troubles and perils.
d I turned Sanheribs power against these countries, & made them to suffer affliction which thou shouldest haue done, & so were as the paiment of thy ransome, chap. 37 9.
e I wil not spare any man, rather then thou shouldest perish: for God more esteemeth one of his faithfull, then all the wicked in the world.
f He prophecieth of their deliuerance frō the captiuitie of Babylon, and so of the calling of the vniuersall Church, alluding to that which is written, Deut. 30, 3.
g Meaning, that he could not be vnmindful of them, except he would reiect his owne Name and glorie.
h Signifying, that no power can resist him in doing this miraculous worke, nor all their idoles are able to do the like, as Chap. 41, 22.
i To prooue that the things which are spoken of them, are true.
k Shewing, that the malice of the wicked hinereth them in the knowledge of the trueth, because they wil not heare when God speaketh by his word.
l The Prophets and people to whom I haue giuen my Lawe.
m Meaning specially Christ, and by him all the faithfull.
n By Darius and Cyrus.
o They shall cry, when they would escape by water, seeing that the course of Euphrates is turned another way by the enemie.
p When he deliuered Israel from Pharaoh, Exod. 14. 22.
q When the Israelites passed through Iorden, Iosh. 3. 17.
r When he deliuered his people out of Egypt.
s Pharaoh & his mightie armie.
t Meaning that their deliuerance out of Babylon should be more famous then that from Egypt was, Ier 23. 7 hag. 2. 10. 2. cor. 5. 17. reuel. 21. 5, 7.
u They shall haue such abundance of all things as they returne home, euen in the drie and barren places, that the very beasts shall feele my benefits, and shall acknowledge them: much more men ought to be thankful for the same.
x Thou hast not worshipped me as thou ought'est to haue done.
y Because thou hast not willingly receiued y which I did commaund thee, thou didst grieue me. Where by he sheweth that his mercies were the onely cause of their deliuerance, forasmuch as they had deserued the contrary.
z Meaning in true faith and obedience.
a Either for the composition of the sweete ointment, Exod. 30. 34. or for the sweete incense, Exod. 30 7.
b Thou hast made me to heare an heauie burden by thy sinnes.
c If I forget any thing that may make for thy iustification, put mee in remembrance and speake for thy selfe.
d Thine ancestors.
e Thy Priests and thy Prophets.
f That is reiected, abhorred and destroied them in the wilderues, and at other times.

CHAP. XLIIII.

5 The Lord promiseth comfort, and that hee will assemble his Church of diuers nations, 9 The vanitie of idoles. 17 The beastlinesse of idolaters.

YEt now heare, O Iaakob my seruant, and Israel, whom I haue chosen.
2 Thus saieth the Lord, that made thee, and formed a thee from the wombe: he will helpe thee. Feare not, O Iaakob, my seruant, and thou righteous, b whom I haue chosen.
3 For I will powre water vpon the c thirstie, and floods vpon the drie ground: I wil powre my Spirit vpon thy seed, & my blessing vpō thy buds.
4 And they d shal grow as among the grasse, and as the willowes by the riuers of waters.
5 One shall say, I am the Lordes: another a He created and chose thee from the beginning of his owne mercie, and before thou couldest merite any thing.

b Whom God accepteth as righteous: or which had best occasion thereunto because of the Law, and of thine holy vocation.
c Because man of himselfe is as the dry and barren land, he promiseth to moisten him with the waters of his holy Spirite, Ioel 2 28. Iohn 7. 38. acts 2 17.
d That is, thy children and posteritie shall increase wonderfully after their deliuerance from Babylon.

a By this diuersitie of speach hee meaneth one thing, that is, that the people shalbe holy and receiue the true religio of God, as Psal. 87. 5.

f I am alwayes like my selfe, that is, mercifull to vphold my Church, and mightie able to maintaine it, as chap. 41. 4. & 48. 12. reuel. 1. 17. and 22. 13.

g And appoynt them that shall deliuer the Church.

h That is, declare vnto me howe I ought to proceede herein.

i God calleth the Israelites ancient, because he preferred them to all other in his eternall election.

k Meaning, their idoles.

l Reade chap. 43. 10.

m Whatsoeuer they bestow vpon their idoles to make them to seeme glorious.

n That is, the idolaters seeing their idoles blinde, must needes bee witnesses of their owne blindnesse, and feeling that they are not able to helpe them, must confesse that they haue no power.

o Meaning, that whatsoeuer is made by the hand of man, if it be esteemed as God, is most detestable.

p Whereby appeareth their blasphemie, which call images the bookes of the laitie, seeing that they are not onely here called vnprofitable, but chap. 41. 24. abominable: and Ieremie calleth them the worke of errours, Ierem. 10. 15. Habakkuk, a lying teacher. 2. 18.

q That is, which by any way consent either to the making or worshipping.

r Signifying, that the multitude shall not then saue the idolaters, when God will take vengeance, although they excuse themselues thereby among men.

s shal be called by the name of Iaakob: and another shall subscribe with his hand vnto the Lord, and name himselfe by the name of Israel.

6 Thus saith the Lord the King of Israel and his redeemer, the Lorde of hostes, f I am the first, and I am the last, & without me there is no God.

7 And who is like mee, that shall g call and shall declare it, and set h it in order before mee, since I appointed the ancient people? and what is at hand, and what things are to come? let k them shew vnto them.

8 Feare ye not, neither be afraide: haue not I tolde thee of old, and haue declared it? l you are euē my witnesses, whether there be a God beside me, and that there is no God that I know not.

9 All they that make an image, are vanitie, and m their delectable things shall nothing profite: & they are their owne witnesses, n for they see not nor know: therefore they shalbe confounded.

10 Who hath made o a god, or molten an image, that is p profitable for nothing?

11 Beholde, all that are of the q fellowship thereof, shalbe confounded: for the workemen themselues are men: let them bee gathered together, and r stande vp, yet they shall feare, and bee confounded together.

12 The smith taketh an instrument, and worketh in the coles, and facioneth it with hammers, & worketh it with the strength of his armes: yea, he is an s hungred, and his strength faileth: hee drinketh no water, and is faint.

13 The carpenter stretcheth out a line: he facioneth it with a red thread, he planeth it, and he purtreieth it with the compasse, and maketh it after ỹ figure of a man, and according to the beautie of a man that it may remaine in t an house.

14 He will hewe him downe cedars, and take the pine tree and the oke, and taketh courage among the trees of the forest: he planteth a firre tree, and the raine doeth nourish it.

15 And man burneth thereof: for he wil take thereof and u warme himselfe: he also kindleth it & baketh bread, yet he maketh a god, & worshippeth it: he maketh it an idole and boweth vnto it.

16 Hee burneth the halfe thereof euen in the fire, and vpon the halfe thereof hee x eateth flesh: he rosteth the roste and is satisfied: also hee warmeth himselfe and saith, Aha, I am warme, I haue bene at the fire,

17 And the residue thereof he maketh a god, euen his idole: hee boweth vnto it, and worshippeth and prayeth vnto it, and saith, Deliuer me: for thou art my god.

18 They haue not knowen, nor vnderstand: y for God hath shut their eies that they cannot see, and their hearts, that they cannot vnderstand.

19 And none † considereth in his heart, neyther is there knowledge nor vnderstāding to say, I haue burnt halfe of it, euen in the fire, and haue baked bread also vpon the coles thereof: I haue rosted flesh, and eaten it, and shal I make the residue thereof an abomination? shal I bowe to the stocke of a tree?

20 He feedeth z of ashes: a seduced heart hath deceiued him, that he cānot deliuer his soule, nor say, Is there not a lie in my right hand?

21 a Remember these (O Iaakob and Israel) for thou art my seruant: I haue formed thee: thou art my seruant: O Israel forget me not.

22 I haue put away thy transgressions like a cloude, and thy sinnes, as a mist: turne vnto mee, for I haue redeemed thee.

23 b Reioyce, ye heauens: for the Lorde hath done it: shoute, ye lower parees of the earth: breast foorth into prayses, yee mountaines, O forest and euery tree therein: for the Lorde hath redeemed Iaakob and will be glorified in Israel.

24 Thus saith the Lord, thy redeemer and he that formed thee from the wombe, I am the Lord, that made all thinges, that spred out the heauens alone, and stretched out the earth by my selfe.

25 I destroy the c tokens of the southsayers, and make them that coniecture, fooles, and turne the wise men backward, and make their knowledge foolishnesse.

26 ¶ He confirmeth the word of his d seruant & performeth the counsel of his messengers, saying to Ierusalem, Thou shalt be inhabited: and to the cities of Iudah, Yee shalbe built vp, and I will repaire the decayed places thereof.

27 He saith to the e deepe, Be drie and I will drie vp the floods.

28 He saith to f Cyrus, Thou art my shepherd: and he shal performe all my desire: saying also to Ierusalem, Thou shalt be built: and to the Temple, Thy foundation shall be surely laide.

t To place it in some Temple.

u Hee setteth foorth the obstinacie and malice of the idolaters, which though they see by daily experience that their idoles are no better then the rest of the matter whereof they are made, yet they refuse the one part and make a god of the other, as the Papistes make their cake god, and the rest of their idoles.

x That is, he either maketh a table or trenchers.

y The Prophet giueth here an answere to all them that wonder howe it is possible that any should bee so blinde to commit such abomination, saying, that God hath blinded their eyes, and hardened their hearts.

† Heb. turneth to.

z He is abused as one that wonlde eate ashes, thinking to satisfie his hunger.

a Shewing that mans heart is most inclined to idolatrie, and therefore hee warneth his people by these examples, that they should not cleaue to any but to the liuing God, when they should be among the idolaters.

b Hee sheweth that the worke of the Lord toward his people shall be so great, that the insensible creatures shal be mooued therewith.

c He warneth them against the southsayers of Babylon, which would haue borne them in hand, that they knewe by the starres that God would not deliuer them, and that Babylon shoulde stand.

d Of Isaiah and the rest of his Prophets, which did assure the Church of Gods fauour and deliuerance.

e He sheweth that Gods worke shoulde bee no lesse notable in his their deliuerance, then when hee brought them out of Egypt through the Sea.

f To assure them of their deliuerance, he nameth the person by whom it should be, more then an hundreth yeere before he was borne.

CHAP. XLV.

1 The deliuerance of the people by Cyrus. 9 God is iust in all his workes. 20 The calling of the Gentiles.

THus saith the Lord vnto a Cyrus his b anoynted, whose right hand I haue holden to c subdue nations before him: therefore will I weaken the loynes of Kings, and open the doores before him, and the gates shall not be shut.

2 I will goe before thee and make the d crooked streight: I will breake the brasen doores, and burst the yron barres.

3 And I will giue thee the treasures of darkenesse. & the things hid in secret places, that thou maiest e know that I am the Lord which cal thee by thy name, euen the God of Israel.

4 For Iaakob my seruants f sake, and Israel mine elect, I will euen call thee by thy name and name thee, though thou hast not knowen me.

5 I am the Lorde and there is none other: there is no God besides me: I girded thee though thou hast not knowen me,

6 That they may knowe from the rising of the sunne, and from the West, that there is none besides me. I am the Lord, & there is none other.

7 I forme the h light and create darkenesse: I a To assure the Iewes of their deliuerance against the great tentations that they should abide, he nameth the person & the meanes.

b Because Cyrus should execute the office of a deliuerer, God called him his anoynted for a time, but after another sort then he called Dauid.

c To guide him in the deliuerance of my people.

d I wil take away all impediments and lets.

e Not that Cyrus did know God to worship him aright, but he had a certaine particular knowledge as prophane men may haue of his power, & so was compelled to deliuer Gods people.

f Nor for any thing that is in thee, or for thy worthines.

g I haue giuen thee strength, power and authoritie.

h I send peace and warre, prosperitie and aduersitie, as Amos 3. 6.

make make peace and create euill: I the Lorde doe all these things.

8 Ye heauens, send the dewe from aboue, and let the cloudes droppe downe i righteousnesse: let the earth open, and let saluation and iustice grow foorth: let it bring them foorth together: I the Lord haue k created him.

9 l Woe be vnto him that striueth with his maker, the potsherd with the potsherds of ỹ earth: shall the clay say to him that facioneth it, What makest thou? or thy worke, m It hath none hands?

10 Woe vnto him that sayeth to his father, What hast thou begotten? or to his mother, What hast thou brought forth?

11 Thus saith the Lord, the holy one of Israel, and his maker, Aske me n of things to come concerning my sonnes, and concerning the works of mine hands: command you me.

12 I haue made the earth, and created man vpon it: I, whose hands haue spred out the heauens, I haue euen commanded all their o armie.

13 I haue raised p him vp in righteousnes, and I will direct all his waies: he shall build my citie, and hee shall let goe my captiues, not for q price nor reward, saith the Lord of hostes.

14 Thus saith the Lorde, The labour r of Egypt, and the marchandise of Ethiopia, and of the Sabeans, men of stature shall come vnto thee, and they shall be ſ thine: they shall followe thee, and shall goe in chaines: they shall fall downe before thee, and make supplication vnto thee, saying, Surely God is in thee, and there is none other God besides.

15 Verily thou, O God, t hidest thy selfe, O God, the Sauiour of Israel.

16 All they shalbe ashamed and also confounded: they shal go to confusion together, that are the makers of images.

17 But Israel shall be saued in the Lord, with an euerlasting saluation: ye shall not be ashamed nor confounded world without end.

18 For thus saith the Lorde (that created heauen, God himselfe, that formed the earth, & made it: he that prepared it, hee created it not it vaine: he formed it to be u inhabited) I am the Lord, and there is none other.

19 I haue not spoken in secrete, neither x in a place of darkenes in the earth: I said not in vaine vnto thee seede of Iaakob, Seeke you me: I the Lorde doe speake righteousnes, and declare righteous things.

20 Assemble your selues, & come: draw neere together, y yee abiect of the Gentiles: they haue no knowledge, that set vp the wood of their idole, and pray vnto a god, that cannot saue them.

21 Tell ye and bring them, and let them take counsell together, who hath declared this from the beginning? or hath tolde it of olde? Haue not I the Lord? and there is none other God beside me, a iust God, and a Sauiour: there is none beside me.

22 Looke vnto me, and yee shall be saued: all the endes of the earth shall bee saued: for I am God, and there is none other.

23 I haue sworne by my selfe: the worde is gone out of my mouth in a righteousnesse, and shall not returne, That euery b knee shal bow vnto me, and euery tongue shal sweare by me.

24 Surely c hee shall say, In the Lorde haue I righteousnesse and strength: he shall come vnto him, and all that d prouoke him, shalbe ashamed.

25 The whole seede of Israel shal be iustified, and glory in the Lord.

He comforteth the Iewes, as if he would say, Though when yee looke to the heauens and earth for succour, yee see nothing nowe but signes of Gods wrath, yet I will cause them to bring foorth most certaine tokens of your deliuerance, and of the performance of my promes, which is meant by righteousnesse.

k I haue appoynted Cyrus to this vse and purpose.

l Hereby hee brideleth their impatiencie, which in aduersitie and trouble murmure against God, and will not tarie his pleasure: willing that man should matche with his like, and not contend against God.

m That is, it is not perfitely made.

n In steade of murmuring, humble your selues, and aske what yee will for the consolation of my children, and you shall be sure of it, as yee are of these things which are at your commandement. Some reade it with an interrogation, and make it the application of the similitude.

o That is, the starres.

p To wit, Cyrus, that I may shewe by him the faithfulnesse of my promes in deliuering my people.

q Meaning, freely and without raunsome, or any grieuous condition.

r These people were tributaries to the Persians, and so King Artahshashte gaue this money toward the building of the Temple, Ezra 7.21.

ſ Whereas tofore they were thine enemies, they shall nowe honour thee, and thou shalt rule them: which was accomplished in the time of Christ.

t Hereby he exhorteth the Iewes to patience, though their deliverance be deferred for a time: shewing that they should not repent their long patience, but the wicked and idolaters shall be destroyed.

u To wit, of man, but chiefly of his Church.

x As do the false gods, which giue vncertaine answeres.

y All ye idolaters, which though you seeme to haue neuer so much worldly dignitie, yet in Gods sight you are vile and abiect.

z Hee calleth idolaters to repentance, willing them to looke vnto him with the eye of faith.

a That is, that the thing, which I haue promised, shalbe faithfully performed.

b The knowledge of God and the true worshipping shall be through all the world, Rom. 14.11. Phil. 2.10. whereby he signifieth that we must not onely serue God in heart, but declare the same also by outward profession.

c Meaning, the faithfull shall confesse and confesse this.

d All the contemners of God.

CHAP. XLVI.

t The destruction of Babylon and of their idoles. 3 He calleth the Iewes to the consideration of his works.

BEl is bowed downe: a Nebo is fallen: their idoles were vpon the b beastes, and vpon the cattell: they which did beare you, were laden with a wearie burden.

2 c They are bowed downe, and fallen together: for they could not rid them of the burden, and their d soule is gone into captiuitie.

3 Heare yee me, O house of Iaakob, & all that remaine of the house of Israel, which are e borne of me from the wombe, and brought vp of mee from the birth.

4 Therefore vnto olde age, I the same, euen I wil beare you vntill the hoare haires: I haue made you: I wil also beare you, and I wil carie you f and I wil deliuer you.

5 ¶ To whom wil yee make me like, or make me equal, or g cõpare me, ỹ I should be like him?

6 They drawe gold out of the bagge & weigh siluer in the balance, and hire a goldsmith to make a god of it, and they bowe downe, and worship it.

7 They beare it vpon the shoulders: they carie him and set him in his place: so doeth he stand, and cannot remoue from his place. Though one crie vnto him, yet can he not answere, nor deliuer him out of his tribulation.

8 Remember this, and be ashamed: bring it againe h to minde, O you transgressers.

9 Remember the former things of old: for I am God, and there is none other God, and there is nothing like me,

10 Which declare the last thing from the beginning: and from of olde, the things that were not done, saying, My counsell shall stande, and I will doe whatsoeuer I will.

11 I call a i birde from the East, and the man of my k counsell from farre: as I haue spoken, so will I bring to passe: I haue purposed it, and I will doe it.

12 Heare mee ye stubburne hearted, that are farre from l iustice.

13 I bring m neere my iustice: it shall not bee farre off, and my saluation shall not tarie: for I will giue saluation in Zion, and my glory vnto Israel.

a These were the chiefe idoles of Babylon.

b Because they were of golde and siluer, the Medes and Persians caried them away.

c The beasts that caried the idoles, fell downe vnder their burden.

d He decideth the idoles, which had neither soule nor sense.

e He sheweth the difference betweene the idoles and the true God: for they must bee caried of others, but God himselfe carieth his, as Deu. 32.11.

f Seeing I haue begotten you, I will nourish and preserue you for euer.

g The people of God, seeing their owne calamitie and the flourishing estate of the Babylonians, should be tempted to thinke that their God was not so mightie as the idoles of their enemies: therefore he describeth the original of all ỹ idoles, to make them to be abhorred of all men: shewing that the most that can be spoken in their commendation, is but to proue them vile, Baruch. 6.25.

h Become wise, meaning, that all idolaters are without wit or sense, like madde men.

i That is, Cyrus, which shall come as swift as bird and fight against Babylon.

k Him by whome I haue appointed to execute that, which I haue determined.

l Which by your incredulitie would let the performance of my promes.

m He sheweth that mans incredulitie can not abolish the promes of God, Rom. 3.3.

CHAP. XLVII.

The destruction of Babylon and the causes wherefore.

COme downe and sit in the dust: O a virgine, daughter Babel, sit on the ground: there is no throne, a Which hast liued in wealth, and wantonnesse, and hast not yet beene ouercome by anie enemie.

b throne, throne, O daughter of the Chaldeans: for thou shalt no more be called, Tender and delicate.

2 Take the mill stones, and c grinde meale:
loose thy lockes: d make bare the feete: vncouer the leg, and passe through the floods.

3 Thy filthinesse shall be discouered, and thy shame shall be seene: I will take vengeance, and I will not meete thee as a e man.

4 f Our redeemer, the Lord of hostes is his Name, the holy one of Israel.

5 g Sit still, and get thee into darkenesse, O daughter of ỹ Chaldeans: for thou shalt no more be called, The ladie of kingdoms.

6 I was wroth with my people: I haue polluted mine inheritance, and giuen them into thine hand: thou diddest shew them no h mercy, but thou diddest lay thy very heauie yoke vpó the ancient.

7 And thou saidst, I shall be a ladie for euer, so ỹ thou diddest not set thy minde to these things, neither diddest thou remẽber ỹ latter end thereof.

8 Therefore now heare, thou that art giuen to pleasures, and dwellest careleſse, She saieth in her heart, I am & none els: I shall not sit as a widow, neither shal know the losse of children.

9 But these two things shal come to thee suddenly on one day, the losse of children & widowhood: they shall come vpon thee in their i perfection, for the multitude of thy diuinations, and for the great abundance of thine inchanters.

10 For thou hast trusted in thy wickednesse:
thou hast said, None seeth me. Thy k wisdome and thy knowledge, they haue caused thee to rebel, & thou hast said in thine heart, I am, and none els.

11 Therefore shall euil come vpon thee, and thou shalt not know the morning thereof: destruction shal fal vpon thee, which thou shalt not be able to put away: destruction shal come vpon thee suddenly, or thou beware.

12 Stand now among thine inchanters, & in ỹ multitude of thy southsaiers (w̃ whõ thou hast l weried thy selfe from thy youth) if so be thou maiest haue profit, or if so be thou maiest haue strength.

13 Thou art wearied in the multitude of thy counsels: let now the astrologers, the starre gasers, and prognosticators stand vp, and saue thee from these things, that shal come vpon thee.

14 Beholde, they shall be as stubble: the fire shal burne them: they shal not deliuer their owne liues from the power of the flame: there shalbe no coles m to warme at, nor light to sit by.

15 Thus shal they serue thee, with whom thou hast wearied thee, euen thy marchants from thy youth: euery one shal wander to his owne n quarter: none shal saue thee.

CHAP. XLVIII.

1 The hypocrisie of the Iewes is reproued. 11 The Lord alone will be worshipped. 20 Of their deliuerance out of Babylon.

HEare ye this, O house of Iaakob, which are a called by the name of Israel, and are come out of b the waters of Iudah: which sweare by the Name of the Lord, and make mention of the God of Israel, but not in trueth, nor in righteousnes.

2 For they are called of the holy citie, & staie themselues c vpon the God of Israel, whose Name is the Lord of hostes.

3 I haue declared ỹ former things of olde, and they went out of my mouth, & I shewed d them:
I did them suddenly, and they came to passe.

4 Because I knew, that e thou art obstinate, & thy necke is an iron sinew, & thy brow brasse,

5 Therfore I haue declared it to thee of old:
before it came to passe, I shewed f it thee, least thou shouldest say, Mine idole hath done them, and my carued image, and my molten image hath commanded them.

6 Thou hast heard, behold all this, & will not ye g declare it? I haue shewed thee newe things, euen now, & hid things, which thou knewest not.

7 They are created now, and not of olde, and euen before this thou heardest them not, lest thou shouldest say, Behold, I h knew them.

8 Yet thou heardest them not, neither diddest know them, neither yet was thine eare opened of olde: for I knew that thou wouldest grieuously transgresse: therefore haue I called thee a trans-gressour from the i wombe.

9 For my Names sake wil I deferre my wrath, and for my prayse will I refraine it from thee,
k that I cut thee not off.

10 Behold, I haue fined thee, but l not as siluer:
I haue m chosen thee in the fornace of affliction.

11 For mine owne sake, for mine owne sake wil I doe it: for how should my Name n be polluted? o surely I wil not giue my glory vnto another.

12 Heare me, O Iaakob and Israel, my called, p I am, I am the first, and I am the last.

13 Surely mine hand hath laide ỹ foundation of the earth, and my right hand hath spanned the heauens: whẽ I cal them, q they stand vp together.

14 All you, assemble your selues, and heare:
which among them hath declared these things?
The Lord hath loued r him: he wil doe his will in Babel, and his arme shalbe against the Chaldeans.

15 I, euen I haue spoken it, and I haue called him: I haue brought him, and his way shal prosper.

16 Come neere vnto me: heare ye this: I haue not spoken it in secret from the s beginning: from the time that the thing was, I was there, and nowe the Lord God and his Spirit hath t sent me.

17 Thus saith the Lord thy redeemer, the Holy one of Israel, I am the Lorde thy God, which teach thee u to profite, and lead thee by the way, that thou shouldest goe.

18 Oh that thou hadst hearkened to my com-mandements! then had thy prosperitie bene as the flood, & thy righteousnes as the waues of the sea.

19 Thy seede also had bene as the sande, and the fruite of thy body like the grauell thereof: his x name should not haue bene cut off nor destroyed before me.

20 y Goe yee out of Babel: flee yee from the Chaldeans, with a voyce of ioy: tel & declare this:
shewe it foorth to the ende of the earth: say yee,
The Lord hath redeemed his seruant Iaakob.

21 And they z were not thirstie: he led them through the wildernesse: he caused the waters to flowe out of the rocke for them: for he claue the rocke, and the water gushed out.

22 There is no a peace, sayth the Lorde, vnto the wicked.

b The gouernement shalbe taken from thee.
c Thou shalt be brought to most vile seruitude: or to turne the mill was the office of slaues.
d The things wherein she setteth her greatest pride, shalbe made vile, euen from the head to the foote.
e I will vse no humanitie nor pitie toward thee.
f The Israelites shal confesse, that the Lord doth this for his Churches sake.
g For very shame, & hide thy selfe.
h They abused Gods iudgements, thinking that he punished the Israelites, because he would vtterly cast them off, & therefore, lost in stead of pitying their miserie, thou diddest increase it.
i So that thy punishment shall be so great, as is possible to be imagined.
k Thou diddest thinke that thine owne wisedome & policie would haue saued thee.
l He derideth their vaine confidence, that put their trust in any thing, but in God, condemning also such vaine sciences, which serue to no vse, but to delude the people, and to bring them from depending onely on God.
m They shal vtterly perish, & no part of them remaine.
n They shall flee euery one to that place, which he thought by his speculations to be most sure: but that shal deceiue them.

a He detecteth their hypocrisie, which vaunted themselues to be Israelites & were not so in deed.
b Meaning, the fountaine and flocke.
c They make a shew, as though they would haue none other God.
d He sheweth that they could not accuse him in any thing, for as much as he had performed whatsoeuer he had promised.

e I haue done for thee more then I promised, that thy stubbernesse and impudencie might haue bene ouercome.
f How thou shouldest be deliuered out of Babylon.
g Wil ye not acknowledge this my benefite and declare it vnto others?
h Shewing that mans arrogancie is the cause why God doeth not declare all things at once, lest they should attribute this knowledge to their owne wisedome.
i From the time that I brought thee out of Egypt for that deliuerance was as the birth of ỹ Church.
k As it was my free mercy that I did chuse thee: so is it my free mercy that must saue thee.
l For I had respect to thy weakenesse and infirmitie: for in siluer there is some pureness, but in vs there is nothing but drosse.
m I tooke thee out of the fornace where thou shouldest haue bene consumed.
n God ioyneth the saluation of his ỹ his owne honours: so that they can not perish, but his glory should be diminished, as Deut. 32.27.
o Read Chap. 42.8.
p Read Chap. 41.4
q To obey me, & to doe whatsoeuer I commaund them.
r Meaning, Cyrus, whom he had chosen to destroy Babylon.
s Since the time that I declared my selfe to your fathers.
t Thus the Prophet speaketh for himselfe, and to assure them of the se things.
u What things shal do thee good.

x That is, the prosperous estate of Israel. y After that he had forewarned them of their captuitie, and of the cause thereof, hee sheweth them the great ioy, that shall come of their deliuerance. z He sheweth that it shall be as easie to deliuer them, as he did their fathers out of Egypt. a Thus he speaketh that the wicked hypocrites should not abuse Gods promise, in whom was neither faith nor repentance, as Chapter 57.21.

CHAP. XLIX.

1 The Lorde exhorteth all nations to beleeue his promise. 6 Christ

6 Christ is the saluation of all that beleeue, and wil deliuer them from the tyrannie of their enemies.

HEare ye mee, O yles, and hearken, yee people from farre. The Lord hath called [a] me from [b] the wombe, and made mention of my name from my mothers bellie.

2 And he hath made my mouth like a sharpe [c] sword: vnder the shadowe of his hand hath hee [d] hid me, and made me a chosen shaft, and hid me in his quiuer,

3 And said vnto me, Thou art my seruant, [e] Israel, for I wil be glorious in thee.

4 And I said, I haue laboured in vaine: I haue spent my strength in vaine and for nothing: but my iudgement is with the Lord, and my worke with my God.

5 And now saieth the Lord, that formed mee from the wombe to be his seruaunt, that I may bring Iaakob againe to him (though Israel be not gathered, yet shal I be glorious in the eies of the Lord: and my God shalbe my strength)

6 And he sayd, It is a small thing that thou shouldest be my seruaunt, to raise vp the tribes of Iaakob, and to restore the desolations of Israel: I will also giue [h] thee for a light of the Gentiles, that thou maiest be my saluation vnto the end of the world.

7 Thus saieth the Lord the redeemer of Israel, and his Holie one, to him that is despised in soule, to a nation that is abhorred, to a [i] seruant of rulers, Kings shall see, and [k] arise, and princes shal worship, because of the Lord, that is faithful: & the Holy one of Israel, which hath chosen thee.

8 Thus saieth the Lord, [l] In an acceptable time haue I heard thee, and in a day of saluation haue I helped thee: and I wil preserue thee, and wil giue [m] thee for a couenant of the people, that thou maiest raise vp the [n] earth, and obtaine the inheritance of the desolate heritages:

9 That thou maiest say to the [o] prisoners, Goe foorth: and to them that are in darkenesse, Shew your selues: they shall feed in the wayes, & their [p] pastures shall be in all the tops of the hils.

10 They shal not be hungrie, neither shal they be thirstie, neither shall the heate smite them, nor the sunne: for he that hath compassion vpon them, shall lead them: euen to the springs of waters shal he driue them.

11 And I will make all my mountaines, as a way, and my paths shalbe exalted.

12 Behold, these shall come from farre: and loe, these from the North and from the West, and these from the land of [r] Sinim.

13 Reioyce, O [s] heauens: and bee ioyfull, O earth: braste foorth into praise, O mountaines: for God hath comforted his people, and will haue mercie vpon his afflicted.

14 But Zion said, The Lorde hath [t] forsaken me, and my Lord hath forgotten me.

15 Can a woman forget her child, & not haue compassion on the sonne of her wombe? though they should forget, yet wil I not forget thee.

16 Behold, I haue grauen thee vpon the palme of mine [u] hands: thy [x] walles are euer in my sight.

17 Thy builders make [y] haste: thy destroyers and they that made thee waste, are departed from thee.

18 Lift vp thine eies round about and behold: all these gather themselues together and come to thee: as I liue, saieth the Lord, thou shalt surelie [z] put them all vpon thee as a garment, & gird thy selfe with them like a bride.

19 For thy desolations, and thy waste places, and thy land destroyed, shal surely be now narow for them that shal dwel in it, and they that did deuoure thee, shalbe farre away.

20 The children of thy barrennesse shall say againe in thine eares, The place is streait for me: giue place to me that I may dwel.

21 Then shalt thou say in thine heart, Who hath begotten me these, seeing I am barren and desolate, a captiue and a wanderer to and fro? and who hath nourished them? behold, I was left alone: whence are these?

22 Thus saith the Lord God, Beholde, I will lift vp mine hand to the [a] Gentiles, and set vp my standart to the people, and they shall bring thy sonnes in their armes: and thy daughters shall be caried vpon their shoulders.

23 And Kings [b] shall be thy nursing fathers, and Queenes shalbe thy nources: they shal worship thee with their faces toward the earth, and licke vp the [c] dust of thy feete: and thou shalt know that I am the Lorde: for they shall not bee ashamed that waite for me.

24 Shall the pray be [d] taken from the mightie? or the iust captiuitie deliuered?

25 But thus saieth the Lord, Euen the captiuitie of the mightie shall be taken away: and the pray of the tyrant shalbe deliuered: for I will contend with him that contendeth with thee, and I will saue thy children, 26 And will feede them that spoile thee, with [f] their owne flesh, and they shall be drunken with their owne blood, as with sweete wine: and all flesh shall know that I the Lorde am thy sauiour and thy redeemer, the mightie one of Iaakob.

CHAP. L.

1 The Iewes forsaken for a time. 2 Yet the power of God is not diminished. 5 Christes obedience and victorie.

THus saieth the Lorde, Where is that [a] bill of your mothers diuorcement, [b] whom I haue cast off? or who is the creditour [c] to whom I sold you? Behold, for your iniquities are ye sold, & because of your transgressiõs is your mother forsaken.

2 *Wherefore came I, and there was no man? I called, & none answered: is mine hand so [e] shortened, that it cannot helpe? or haue I no power to deliuer? Behold, at my rebuke I drie vp the Sea: I make the floods desert: their fish rotteth for want of water, and dieth for thirst.

3 I clothe the heauens with darknesse, and make a [f] sacke their couering.

4 The Lorde God hath giuen [g] me a tongue of the learned, that I should know to minister a word in time to him that is [h] wearie: he will raise a This is spoken in the person of Christ to assure the faithfull, that these promises should come to passe: for they were al made in him, and in him should be performed.

b This is meant of the time that Christ should be manifested to the world, as Psal. 2.7.
c By the sworde and shaft, he signifieth the vertue & efficacie of Christes doctrine.
d God hath taken me to his protection and defence: this chiefly is meant of Christ, & may also be applied to the ministers of his word.
e By Israel is meant Christ, and all the body of the faithful, as the members & their head.
f Thus Christ in his members complaineth, that his labour and preaching take none effect, yet he is contented that his doings are approued of God.
g Though the Iewes refuse my doctrine, yet God will approue my ministerie.
h To declare my Gospel to the Gentiles, Chap. 42.6. acts 13.47. luk. 2.32.
i Meaning, the Iewes whom tyrants kept in bondage.
k The benefite of their deliuerance shalbe so great, that great & small shall acknowledge it and reuerence God for it.
l Thus he speaketh of his Church, which he would shew his mercy toward it, 2. Cor. 6.2.
m Meaning, Christ alone.
n Signifying, that before Christ renew the earth by his worde, there is nothing but confusion & disorder.
o To them that are in the prison of sinne, and death.
p Being in Christs protection they shalbe safe against all dangers, and free from the feare of the enemies.
q Meaning, that there should be nothing in their way from Babylon, that should hinder or hurt them: but this is accomplished spiritually.
r Meaning, the South countrey, so that Christ shall deliuer his from all the parts of the worlde.
s Reade Chap. 44.23
t Hee obiecteth what the faithfull might say in their long affliction, and answereth thereunto to comfort them, with a most proper similitude, and full of consolation.
u Because I will not forget you.
x Meaning, in good order as policie & discipline.
y I haue a continuall care to build thee vp again, and to destroy thine enemies.
z Hee sheweth what are the ornaments of the Church: to haue many children which are assembled by the worde of God and gouerned by his Spirit.
a He sheweth that Christ will not only gather this great number of the Iewes but also of the Gentiles.
b Meaning, that Kings shalbe conuerted to the Gospel and bestowe their power, and authoritie for the preseruation of the Church.
c Being ioyned with the Church they shall humble themselues to Christ their head, and giue him all honour.
d He maketh this as an obiection, as though the Caldeans were strong, and had them in iust possession.
e This is the answere to their obiection, that none is stronger then the Lord, neither hath a more iust title vnto them.
f I will cause them to destroy one another, as Iudg. 7.22. 2. Chro. 20.22. chap. 19.2.
a Meaning, that he had not forsaken her, but through her owne occasion, as Hosea 2.2.
b Which should declare that I haue cut her off: meaning, that they could shew none.
c Signifying, that he sold them not for any debt or powertie, but that they solde themselues to serue to buy their owne lustes & pleasures.
d Hee came by his prophets and ministers, but they would not beleeue me vp in the morning: in the morning he will waken mine eare to heare, i as the learned.

5 The Lord God hath opened mine eare and I was not rebellious, neither turned I backe.

6 I gaue my backe vnto the k smiters, and my cheekes to the nippers: I hidde not my face from shame and spitting.

7 For the Lord God will helpe me, therefore shall I not be confounded: therefore haue I set my face like a flint, and I know that I shall not be ashamed.

8 He is neere that iustifieth mee: who will contend with me? Let vs stande together: who is mine aduersarie? let him come neere to me.

9 Beholde, the Lord God will helpe me: who is he that can condemne me? loe, they shall waxe olde as a garment: the mothe shall eate them vp.

10 l Who is among you that feareth the Lord? let him heare the voice of his seruant: he that walketh in darkenes, & hath no light, let him trust in the Name of the Lord, and stay vpon his God.

11 Beholde, all you kindle m a fire, and are compassed about with sparkes: walke in the light of your fire, and in the sparkes that ye haue kindled. This shall ye haue of mine hand: ye shall lye downe in sorowe.

CHAP. LI.

1 To trust in God alone by Abrahams example. 7 Not to feare men. 17 The great affliction of Ierusalem, and her deliuerance.

HEare me, ye a that follow after righteousnesse, and ye that seeke the Lord: looke vnto the b rocke, whence ye are hewen, and to the hole of the pit, whence ye are digged.

2 Consider Abraham your father, and Sarah that bare you: for I called him alone, and blessed him, and increased him.

3 Surely the Lord shall comfort Zion: he shal comfort all her desolations, and he shal make her desert c like Eden, and her wilderneſse like the garden of the Lord: ioye and gladneſse shall be found therein: prayse, and the voyce of singing.

4 Hearken ye vnto mee, my people, and giue eare vnto me, O my people: for a d Lawe shall proceede from mee, and I will bring foorth my iudgement for the light of the people.

5 My e righteousnesse is neere: my saluation goeth foorth, and mine f armes shall iudge the people: the yles shall waite for me, and shall trust vnto mine arme.

6 Lift vp your eyes to the heauens, and looke vpon the earth beneath: for the g heauens shall vanish away like smoke, and the earth shall waxe olde like a garment, and they that dwell therein, shall perish in like maner: but my saluation shall be for euer, and my righteousnesse shall not bee abolished.

7 Hearken vnto me, ye that know righteousnesse, the people in whose heart is my Lawe. Feare ye not the reproch of men, neither be ye afraide of their rebukes.

8 For the moth shall eate them vp like a garment, and the worme shall eate them like woll: but my righteousnesse shalbe for euer, and my saluation from generation to generation.

9 Rise vp, rise vp, and put on strength, O arme of the Lord: rise vp as h in the olde time in the generations of the worlde. Art not thou the same, that hath cutte i Rahab, and wounded the h dragon?

10 Art not thou the same, which hath dried the Sea, euen the waters of the great deepe, making the depth of the Sea a way for the redeemed to passe ouer?

11 Therefore the redeemed of the Lord shall returne, and come with ioy vnto Zion, and euerlasting ioy shalbe vpon their head: they shall obtaine ioy, and gladneſse: and sorow and mourning shall flee away.

12 I, euen I am he, that comfort you. Who are thou, that thou shouldest feare a mortal man, and the sonne of man, which shalbe made as grasse?

13 And forgettest the Lord thy maker, that hath spred out the heauens, and layde the foundations of the earth? and hast feared continually all the day, because of the rage of the oppressour, which is ready to destroy? Where is now the rage of the oppressour?

14 The captiue m hasteneth to be loosed, and that he should not die in the pitte, nor that his bread should faile.

15 And I am the Lord thy God that diuided the Sea, when his waues roared: the Lord of hostes is his Name.

16 And I haue put my words in thy n mouth, and haue defended thee in the shadowe of mine hand, that I may plant the o heauens, and lay the foundation of the earth, and say vnto Zion, Thou art my people.

17 Awake, awake, and stand vp, O Ierusalem, which hast drunke at the hand of the Lorde the p cup of his wrath: thou hast drunken the dregges of the cup of trembling, and wrung them out.

18 There is none to guide her among all the sonnes, whome she hath brought foorth: there is none that taketh her by the hand of al the sonnes that she hath brought vp.

19 These two q things are come vnto thee: who will lament thee? desolation and destruction and famine, and the sword: by whome shall I comfort thee?

20 Thy sonnes haue fainted, and lye at the head of all the streetes as a wilde bull in a nette, and are full of the wrath of the Lord, and rebuke of thy God.

21 Therefore heare nowe this, thou miserable and drunken, but r not with wine.

22 Thus saith thy Lord God, euen God that pleadeth the cause of his people, Beholde, I haue taken out of thine hand the cuppe of trembling, euen the dregges of the cuppe of my wrath: thou shalt drinke it no more.

23 But I will put it into their hand that spoyle thee: which haue said to thy soule, Bowe downe, that wee may goe ouer, and thou hast layde thy bodie as the grounde, and as the streete to them that went ouer.

CHAP. LII.

1 A consolation to the people of God. 7 Of the messengers thereof.

ARise, arise: put on thy strength, O Zion: put on the garments of thy beautie, O Ierusalem, the holy citie: for hencefoorth there shall no a more come into thee the vncircumcised and the vncleane.

2 Shake thy selfe from the b dust: arise, and sit downe, O Ierusalem: loose the bandes of thy necke, O thou captiue daughter, Zion.

i As they that are taught, and made meete by him. k I did not shrinke from God for any persecution or calamitie. Whereby he sheweth, that the true ministers of God can looke for none other recompence of the wicked but after this sort, and also what is their comfort. l Shewing that it is a rare thing that any should obey aright Gods true ministers, though they labour to bring them from hell to heauen. m You haue sought desolation by your owne deuises, and haue refused the light, and consolation which God hath offered: therefore ye shall remaine in sorowe, and not be comforted.

a He comforteth the Church, that they should not be discouraged for their small number. b That is, to Abraham, of whom ye were begotten, and to Sarah, of whome ye were borne.

c As plentifull as Paradise, Gen. 2. 3.

g He forewarneth them of the horrible changes and mutations of all things, and how he will preserue his Church in the midst of all these dangers.

i From Babylon.

m He comforteth them by the short time of their banishment: for in seuenty yeeres they were restored, and the greatest empire of the worlde destroyed.

n Meaning of Iehouah, and of all true ministers, who are defended by his protection.

o All things may be restored in heauen and earth. Ephes. 1. 10.

p Thou hast beene iustly punished and sufficiently, as Chap. 40. 2. and this punishment in the elect is by measure, and according as God giueth grace to beare it: but in the reprobate it is the iust vengeance of God to drive them to an insensible nesse and madnes, as Ier. 5. 15. 18.

q Whereof the one is outward, as of the things that come to the body, as warre and famine: & the other is inward, and appertaineth to the minde: that is, to be without comfort: therefore he saith, How shall thou be cõforted?

4 For thus ſaith the Lorde God, My people went d downe afore time into Egypt to ſoiourne there, and Aſſhur e oppreſſed them without cauſe.

5 Nowe therefore what haue I here, ſaith the Lorde, that my people is taken away for nought, and they that rule ouer them, make them to howle, ſaith the Lord? and my Name all the day continually is f blaſphemed?

6 Therefore my people ſhal know my Name: therefore they ſhall knowe in that day, that I am he that doe ſpeake: beholde, it is I.

7 How g beautifull vpon the mountaines are the feete of him, that declareth and publiſheth peace? that declareth good tidings, and publiſheth ſaluation, ſaying vnto Zion, thy God reigneth!

8 h The voyce of thy watchmen ſhalbe heard: they ſhall lift vp their voyce, and ſhoute together: for they ſhall ſee eye to eye, when the Lord ſhall bring againe Zion.

9 O ye deſolate places of Ieruſalem, bee glad and reioyce together: for the Lord hath comforted his people: he hath redeemed Ieruſalem.

10 The Lord hath made i bare his holy arme in the ſight of all the Gentiles, and all the endes of the earth ſhall ſee the ſaluation of our God.

11 k Depart, depart ye: go ye out from thence and touch no vncleane thing: goe out of the middes of her: be ye cleane, that l beare the veſſels of the Lord.

12 For ye ſhall not go out m with haſte, nor depart by fleeing away: but the Lord will go before you, & the God of Iſrael wil gather you together.

13 Behold, my n ſeruant ſhall proſper: he ſhall be exalted and extolled, and be very hie.

14 As many were aſtonied at thee (his viſage was ſo o deformed of men, and his forme of the ſonnes of men) ſo p ſhall he ſprinkle many nations: the Kings ſhall ſhut their q mouthes at him: for that which had not bene tolde them, ſhall they ſee, and that which they had not heard, ſhall they r vnderſtande.

4 Surely hee hath borne our infirmities, and caried f our ſorowes: yet wee did iudge him, as g plagued, and ſmitten of God, and humbled.

5 But hee was wounded for our tranſgreſſions, he was broken for our iniquities: the h chaſtiſement of our peace was vpon him, and with his ſtripes we are healed.

6 All wee like ſheepe haue gone aſtray: wee haue turned euery one to his owne way, and the Lord hath layd vpon him the i iniquitie of vs all.

7 Hee was oppreſſed and he was afflicted, yet did he not k open his mouth: hee is brought as a ſheepe to the ſlaughter, and as a ſheepe before her ſhearer is dumme, ſo he openeth not his mouth.

8 Hee was taken out from l priſon, and from judgement: m and who ſhall declare his age? for he was cut out of the land of the liuing: for the tranſgreſſion of my people was he plagued.

9 n And he made his graue with the wicked, & with the rich in his death, though he had done no wickednes, neither was any deceit in his mouth.

10 Yet the Lord would breake him, and make him ſubiect to infirmities: when o hee ſhall make his ſoule an offering for ſinne, he ſhal ſee his ſeede and ſhall prolong his dayes, and the will of the Lord ſhall proſper in his hand.

11 He ſhall ſee of the p trauaile of his ſoule, and ſhall be ſatisfied: by his knowledge ſhall my q righteous ſeruant iuſtifie many: for hee ſhall beare their iniquities.

12 Therefore will I giue him a portion with the great, and he ſhall diuide the ſpoyle with the ſtrong, becauſe hee r hath powred out his ſoule vnto death: and hee was counted with the tranſgreſſers, and hee bare the ſinne ſ of many, and prayed for the treſpaſſers.

God of the whole g world.

f His glory shall shine through the whole worlde, which seemed before to be shut vp in Iudea.

6 For the Lord hath called thee, being as a woman forsaken, & afflicted in spirit, and as a h yong wife when thou wast refused, sayth thy God.

h As a wife which wast forsaken in thy youth.

7 For a litle while haue I forsaken thee, but with great compassion will I gather thee.

8 For a moment, in mine anger, I hid my face from thee for a litle season, but with euerlasting mercy haue I had compassion on thee, sayth the Lorde thy redeemer.

i As sure as the promes that I made to Noah, that the waters should no more ouerflowe the earth.

9 For this is vnto me as the i waters of Noah: for as I haue sworne that the waters of Noah should no more goe ouer the earth, so haue I sworne that I would not be angrie with thee, nor rebuke thee.

10 For the mountaines shall remoue and the hilles shall fall downe: but my mercy shall not depart from thee, neither shall the couenant of my peace fall away, sayth the Lord, he hath compassion on thee.

11 O thou afflicted and tossed with tempest, that hast no comfort, behold, I wil lay thy stones with the k carbuncle, and lay thy foundation with saphirs, k Hereby he declareth the excellent estate of the Church vader Christ.

p Signifying hereby that man can doe nothing, but so farre as God giueth power: for seeing that all are his creatures, he must needes gouerne and guide them.

17 But all the weapons that are made against thee, shall not prosper: and euery tongue that shall rise against thee in iudgement, thou shalt condemne. This is the heritage of the Lords seruants, and their righteousnesse is of mee, sayth the Lorde.

CHAP. LV.

1 An exhortation to come to Christ. 8 Gods counseth are not as mans. 12 The ioy of the faithfull.

HO, euery one that a thirsteth, come ye to the waters, & ye that haue b no siluer, come, bye and eate: come, I say, bye c wine and milke without siluer and without money.

a Christ by proposing his graces and giftes to his Church exempteth the hypocrites which are full with their imagined workes, and the Epicures, which are full with their worldly lustes, and so thirst not after these waters.

b Signifying, that Gods benefits can not be bought for money.

2 Wherefore doe ye lay out siluer and not for bread? d and your labour without being satisfied? hearken diligently vnto me, and eate that which is good, and let your soule delite in e fatnesse.

c By waters, wine, milke and bread, he meaneth all things necessarie to the spirituall life, as these are necessarie to this corporall life. d Hee reproueth their ingratitude which refuse those things that God offereth willingly, & in the meane time spare neither cost nor labour to obteine those, which are nothing profitable. e You shalbe fed abundantly. f The same couenant, which through my mercie, I ratified and confirmed to Dauid, that it should be eternall, 2. Sam. 7. 13. actes 13. 34. g Meaning Christ, of whome Dauid was a figure.

3 Encline your eares, and come vnto mee: heare, and your soule shall liue, and I wil make an euerlasting couenant with you, euen the f sure mercies of Dauid.

4 Beholde, I gaue g him for a witnes to the people, for a prince and a master vnto the people.

5 Beholde, thou shalt call a nation that thou knowest not, h and a nation that knew not thee, shall runne vnto thee, because of the Lorde thy God, and the holy one of Israel: for hee hath glorified thee.

h To wit, the Gentiles, which before thou didst not receiue to be thy people.

6 Seeke ye the Lord while he may i be found: call ye vpon him while he is neere.

i When he offereth himselfe by y preaching of his word.

7 Let the wicked k forsake his wayes, and the vnrighteous his owne imaginations, and returne vnto the Lord, and he wil haue mercy vpon him: and to our God, for he is very ready to forgiue.

k Hereby he sheweth that repentance must be ioyned with faith, & how we cannot call vpon God aright, except the frutes of our faith appeare.

8 For my l thoughtes are not your thoughts, neither are your wayes my wayes, sayth the Lord.

l Although you are not soone reconciled one to an other & iudge me by your selues, yet I am most easie to be reconsiled, yea I offer my mercies to you.

9 For as the heauens are higher then y earth, so are my wayes higher then your wayes, and my thoughtes aboue your thoughts.

10 Surely as the raine commeth downe and the snow from heauen, and returneth not thither but watereth the earth and maketh it to bring forth and bud, that it may giue seede to the sower, and bread vnto him that eateth,

11 So shall my m worde be, that goeth out of my mouth: it shall not returne vnto me voyde, but it shall accomplish that which I will, and it shall prosper in the thing whereto I sent it.

m If these small things haue their effect, as dayly experience sheweth, much more shall my promes which I haue made and confirmed, bring to passe the thing which I haue spoken for your deliuerance.

12 Therefore ye shall goe out with ioy, and be led forth with peace: the n mountaines and the hilles shall breake foorth before you into ioye, and all the trees of the fielde shall clap their handes.

n Reade Chap. 44. 23 and 49. 13.

13 For thornes there shall grow firre trees: for nettles shall growe the myrrhe tree, and it shalbe to the Lorde o for a name, and for an euerlasting p signe that shall not be taken away.

o To set foorth his glory.

p Of Gods deliuerance, and that he wil neuer forsake his Church.

CHAP. LVI.

1 An exhortation to iudgement and iustice. 10 Against shepheards that deuoure their flocke.

THus sayth the Lorde, a Keepe iudgement and doe iustice: for my saluation is at hand to come, and my b righteousnes to be reueiled.

a God sheweth what he requireth of them after that he hath deliuered them: to wit, the workes of charitie whereby true faith is declared.

b Which I will declare towarde you and powre into your hearts by my Spirit.

2 Blessed is the man that doeth this, and the sonne of man which layeth holde on it: hee that keepeth the c Sabbath and polluteth it not, and keepeth his hand from doing any euill.

c Vnder the Sabbath he comprehendeth y whole seruice of God and true religion.

3 And let not the sonne of the stranger, which d is ioyned to the Lord, speake and say, The Lord hath surely separate me from his people: neither let the Eunuch say, Beholde, I am a dry tree.

d Let none thinke himselfe vnmeete to receiue the graces of the Lorde: for the Lord will take away all impediments, and wil forsake none which wil keepe his true religion and beleeue in him.

4 For thus saith the Lord vnto the Eunuches, that keepe my Sabbaths, and chuse the thing that pleaseth me, and take holde of my couenant,

5 Euen vnto them will I giue in mine e House and within my walles, a place and a f name better then of the sonnes and of the daughters: I will giue them an euerlasting name, that shall not be put out.

e Meaning, in his Church.

f They shall be called after my people and be of the same religion.

6 Also the strangers that cleaue vnto y Lord, to serue him, and to loue the Name of the Lorde, and to be his seruants: euery one that keepeth the Sabbath, and polluteth it not, and imbraceth my couenant,

7 Them will I bring also to mine holy mountaine, and make them ioyfull in mine House of prayer: their burnt g offerings and their sacrifices shall be accepted vpon mine altar: for mine yea, vnder Christ the dignitie of the faithfull shall be greater then the fewes were at that time. g Hereby hee meaneth the spirituall seruice of God, to whome the faithfull offer continuall thanksgiuing, yea themselues and all that they haue, as a lively and acceptable sacrifice.

house shall be called an house of prayer for [h] all people.

8 The Lord God saieth, which gathereth the scattered of Israel, Yet wil I gather to them those that are to be gathered to them.

9 All ye [i] beasts of the field, come to deuoure, euen all ye beasts of the forest.

10 Their [k] watchmen are all blind: they haue no knowledge: they are all dumme dogs: they can not barke: they lie & sleepe & delight in sleeping.

11 And these greedie dogges can neuer haue ynough: and these shepheards cannot vnderstand: for they all looke to their owne way, euery one for his aduantage, and for his owne purpose.

12 Come, I wil bring wine, and we wil fill our selues with strong drinke, and to [l] morow shal be as this day, and much more abundant.

h Not onely for the Iewes but for all others, Matth. 21.13.

i Meaning, the enemies of the Church, as the Babyloniaus, Assyrians, &c. thus hee speaketh to feare the hypocrites and to assure the faithfull, that when this commeth, they may know it was tolde them before.

k Hee sheweth that this affliction shall come through the fault of the gouernours, Prophets and pastours, whose ignorance, negligence, auarice, & obstinacie prouoked Gods wrath against them.

l We are well yet, and to morowe shall be better: therefore let vs not feare the plagues before they come: thus the wicked contemned the admonitions and exhortations which were made them in the Name of God.

CHAP. LVII.

1 God taketh away the good, that he should not see the horrible plagues to come. 3 Of the wicked idolatrers, 9 And their vaine confidence.

THe righteous perisheth, and no man considereth it in heart: and mercifull men are taken away, and no man vnderstandeth that the righteous is taken away [a] from the euil to come.

2 [b] Peace shall come: they shall rest in their beds, euery one that walketh before him.

3 But you [c] witches children, come hither, the seed of the adulterer and of the whore.

4 On whome haue yee iested? vpon whom haue yee gaped and thrust out your tongue? are not ye rebellious children, and a false seed?

5 Inflamed with idoles vnder euery greene tree? and sacrificing the [d] children in the valleys vnder the tops of the rocks?

6 Thy portion is in the smooth stones [e] of the riuer: they, they are thy lot: euen to them hast thou powred a drinke offering: thou hast offered a sacrifice. Should I delite in [f] these?

7 Thou hast made thy [g] bed vpon a very hie mountaine: thou wentest vp thither, euen thither wentest thou to offer sacrifice.

8 Behinde the [h] doores also and postes hast thou set vp thy remembrance: for thou hast discouered thy selfe to another then me, and wentest vp, and diddest [i] enlarge thy bed, and make a couenant betweene thee & them, and louedst their bed in euery place where thou sawest it.

9 Thou wentest [k] to the Kings with oyle, and diddest increase thine oyntments and sende thy messengers farre off, and diddest humble thy selfe vnto hell.

10 Thou weariedst thy selfe in thy manifolde iourneys, yet saydest thou not, [l] There is no hope: thou [m] hast found life by thine hand, therefore thou wast not grieued.

11 And whome diddest thou reuerence or feare, seeing thou hast [n] lyed vnto me, and hast not remembred me, neither set thy minde thereon? is it not because I holde my peace, & that of long [o] time? therefore thou fearest not me.

12 I will declare thy [p] righteousnes and thy workes, and they shall not profite thee.

13 When thou cryest, let them that thou hast gathered together deliuer thee: but the winde shal [q] take them all away: vanitie shal pull them away: but hee that trusteth in me, shall inherite the land, and shall possesse mine holy Mountaine.

14 [r] And he shall say, Cast vp, cast vp: prepare the way: take vp the stumbling blocks out of the way of my people.

15 For thus saith he that is hie & excellent, he that inhabiteth the eternitie, whose Name is the Holy one, I dwell in the hie and holy place: with him also that is of a contrite and humble spirite to reuiue the spirite of the humble, and to giue life to them that are of a contrite heart.

16 For I will not contende for euer, neither will I be alwayes wroth, [f] for the spirite should faile before me: and I haue made the breath.

17 For his wicked [t] couetousnesse I am angry with him, and haue smitten him: I hid mee and was angry, yet hee went away, and turned after the way of his owne heart.

18 I haue seene his wayes, and wil [u] heale him: I wil leade him also, & restore comfort vnto him, and to those that lament him.

19 I create the [x] fruite of the lips, to be peace: peace vnto them that are [y] farre off, and to them that are neere, sayth the Lorde: for I will heale him.

20 But the wicked are like the raging sea, that can [z] not rest, whose waters cast vp myre and dirt.

21 There is no peace, sayth my God, to the wicked.

b The soule of the righteous shall be in ioy and their body shall rest in the graue vnto the time of the resurrection, because they walked before the Lord.

c He threatneth the wicked hypocrites, who vnder the pretence of the name of Gods people derided Gods worde & his promises: boasting openly that they were the children of Abraham, but because they were not faithfull and obedient as Abraham was, hee called them bastards, and the children of sorcerers, which forsooke God and fled to wicked meanes for succour.

CRye [a] aloude, spare not: lift vp thy voyce like a trumpet, and shewe my people their transgression, and to the house of Iakob, their sinnes.

2 Yet they [b] seeke me dayly, and will knowe my wayes, euen as a nation that did righteously, and had not forsaken the statutes of their God: they aske of me the ordinances of iustice: they will drawe neere vnto God, saying,

4 Beholde, ye fast to strife and debate, and to smite with the fist of wickednesse: yee shall not fast as ye doe to day, to make your voyce to be heard aboue.

b They wil seeme to worship me and haue outward holinesse.

c He setteth forth the malice and disdaine of the hypocrites which grudge against God, if their workes be not accepted.

downe his head, as a bull rush, and to lie downe in sackecloth and ashes? wilt thou call this a fasting, or an acceptable day to the Lord?

6 Is not this the fasting, that I haue chosen, to loose the bands of wickednesse, to take off the heauie burdens, and to let the oppressed go free, and that ye breake euery f yoke?

7 Is it not to deale thy bread to the hungry, and that thou bring the poore that wander, vnto thine house? when thou seest the naked, that thou couer him, and hide not thy selfe from g thine owne flesh?

8 Then shall thy h light breake foorth as the morning, and thine health shal grow speedily: thy i righteousnes shall goe before thee, and the glorie of the Lord shall embrace thee.

9 Then shalt thou cal, & the Lord shal answere: thou shalt cry, and he shall say, Here I am: if thou take away frō the mids of thee the yoke, the putting forth of the k finger, and wicked speaking:

10 If thou l powre out thy soule to the hungry, and refresh the troubled soule: then shal thy light spring out in the m darkenes, and thy darknes shalbe as the noone day.

11 And the Lord shal guide thee continually, and satisfie thy soule in drought, and make fat thy bones: and thou shalt be like a watred garden, & like a spring of water, whose waters faile not.

12 And they shalbe of thee, that shall builde the olde n waste places: thou shalt raise vp the foundations for many generations, and thou shalt be called the repairer of the breach and the restorer of the pathes to dwell in.

CHAP. LIX.

1 The wicked perish through their owne iniquities. 12 The confession of sinnes. 16 God alone will preserue his Church, though all men faile.

BEholde, * the Lordes hand is not shortened, that it cannot saue: neither is his eare heauie, that it cannot heare.

2 But * your iniquities haue separated betweene you and your God, and your sinnes haue hidde his face from you, that he will not heare.

3 For your handes are defiled with a blood, and your fingers with iniquitie: your lips haue spoken lies & your tongue hath murmured iniquity.

4 No man calleth for iustice: no man b contendeth for trueth: they trust in vanitie, & speake vaine things: they conceiue mischiefe, and c bring foorth iniquitie.

5 They hatch cockatrice d egges, and weaue the spiders ewebbe: he that eateth of their egges, dieth, and that which is trode vpon, breaketh out into a serpent.

6 Their webbes shall be no garment, neither shal they couer themselues with their labours: for their workes are works of iniquities, & the worke of crueltie is in their handes.

7 Their feete runne to euill, and they make haste to shed innocent blood: their thoughts are wicked thoughts: desolation and destruction is in their paths.

8 The way of peace they know not, & there is none equitie in their goings: they haue made them crooked paths: whosoeuer goeth therein, shall not know peace.

9 Therefore is f iudgement farre from vs, neither doeth g iustice come neere vnto vs: we waite for light, but loe, it is darkenes: for brightnes, but we walke in darkenesse.

10 Wee grope for the wall like the h blinde, and we grope as one without eyes: we stumble at the noone day as in the twilight: we are in solitarie places, as dead men.

11 We roare all like i beares, and mourne like doues: we looke for equitie, but there is none; for health, but it is farre from vs.

12 For our trespasses are many before thee, and our k sinnes testifie against vs: for our trespasses are with vs, and we know our iniquities

13 In trespassing and lying against the Lord, and we haue departed away from our God, and haue spoken of crueltie and rebellion, conceiuing and vttering out of the heart false l matters.

14 Therefore m iudgement is turned backeward, and iustice standeth farre off: for trueth is fallen in the streete, and equitie cannot enter.

15 Yea, trueth faileth, and he that refraineth from euill, maketh himselfe n a praye: and when the Lord sawe it, it displeased him, that there was no iudgement.

16 And when he sawe that there was no man, he wondered that none woulde offer him selfe. o Therefore his arme did p saue it, and his righteousnes it selfe did sustaine it.

17 For he put on righteousnes, as an habergeon, and an q helmet of saluation vpon his head, and he put on the garments of vengeance for clothing, and was clad with zeale as a cloke.

18 As to make recompence, as to requite the furie of the aduersaries with a recompence to his enemies: he will fully repaye the r ylands.

19 So shall they feare the Name of the Lorde from the West, and his glorie from the rising of the sunne: for the enemie shal s come like a flood: but the Spirit of the Lord shall chase him away.

20 And the Redeemer shall come vnto Zion, and vnto t them that turne from iniquitie in Iaakob, saith the Lord.

21 And I will make this my couenant with them, saith the Lord, My Spirit that is vpon thee, and my wordes, which I haue put in thy mouth, u shall not depart out of thy mouth, nor out of the mouth of thy seede, nor out of the mouth of the seede of thy seede, saith the Lord, from henceforth euen for euer.

5 Then thou shalt see and shine: thine heart shall be astonied [e] and enlarged, because the multitude of the sea shalbe conuerted vnto thee, and the riches of the Gentiles shall come vnto thee.

6 The [f] multitude of camels shall couer thee: and the dromedaries of Midian and of Ephah: all they of Sheba shall come: they shall bring golde and incense, and shew foorth the prayses of the Lorde.

7 All the sheepe of [g] Kedar shall be gathered vnto thee: the rams of Nebaioth shall serue thee: they shall come vp to be accepted vpon mine [h] altar: and I wil beautifie the house of my glorie.

8 Who are these [i] that flee like a cloude, and as the doues to their windowes?

10 And the sonnes of strangers shall build vp thy walles, and their [l] Kings shall minister vnto thee: for in my wrath I smote thee, but in my mercie I had compassion on thee.

11 Therfore thy gates shalbe open continually: neither day nor night shall they be shut, that men may bring vnto thee the riches of the Gentiles, and that their Kings may be brought.

12 For the nation and the [m] kingdome, that will not serue thee, shall perish: and those nations shalbe vtterly destroyed.

13 The [n] glory of Lebanon shall come vnto thee, the firre tree, the elme and the boxe tree together, to beautifie the place of my Sanctuarie: for I will glorifie the place of my [o] feete.

14 The sonnes also of them that afflicted thee, shall come and bowe vnto thee: and all they that despised thee, shal fall [p] downe at the soules of thy feete: and they shall call thee, The citie of the Lord, Zion of the Holy one of Israel.

15 Where as thou hast bene forsaken and hated, so that no man went by thee, I will make thee an eternall glory, and a ioye from generation to generation.

16 Thou shalt also sucke [q] milke of the Gentiles, and shalt sucke the [q] breastes of Kings: and thou shalt know, that I the Lord am thy Sauiour, and thy Redeemer, the mightie one of Iaakob.

17 For brasse will I bring golde, and for yron will I bring siluer, and for wood brasse, and for stones yron. I will also make thy gouernement [r] peace, and thine exactours righteousnesse.

18 Violence shall no more be heard of in thy land, neither desolation, nor destructiō within thy borders: but thou shalt [s] call saluation, thy walles, and prayse, thy gates.

20 Thy sunne shal neuer go down, neither shal thy moone be hid: for [u] the Lord shalbe thine euerlasting light, & the daies of thy sorow shalbe ended.

21 Thy people also shalbe all righteous: they shall possesse the land for euer, the [v] graffe of my planting shalbe the worke of mine handes, that I may be glorified.

22 A little one shall become as a [x] thousand, and a small one as a strong nation: I the Lord wil hasten it in due time.

a This prophecie is against the Idumeans, and enemies which persecuted the Church, on whome God will take vengeance, and is here set forth al bloody after that he hath destroyed them in Bozrah, the chiefe citie of the Idumeans: for these were the greatest enemies, and vnder the title of circumcision and the kinred of Abraham claimed to themselues the chiefe religion, and hated the true worshippers. Psal. 137.7.
b God answereth them that asked this question, Who is this? &c. and saith, Be sure none preuenteth me in deede the vengeance which my Prophets threatned.
c Another question to the which the Lorde answereth.

3 I haue troden the wine presse alone, and of all people there was none with mee: for I will treade them in mine anger, and tread them vnder foote in my wrath, and their blood shalbe sprinkled vpon my garments, and I will staine all my raiment.

4 For the day of vengeance is in mine heart, and the [d] yeere of my redeemed is come.

5 And I looked, and there was none to helpe, and I wondered that there was none to vpholde: therefore mine owne [e] arme helped me, and my wrath it selfe sustained me.

6 Therefore I will treade downe the people in my wrath, and make them [f] drunken in mine indignation, and will bring downe their strength to the earth.

7 I will [g] remember the mercies of the Lord and the prayses of the Lorde according vnto all that the Lorde hath giuen vs, and for the great goodnesse toward the house of Israel, which hee hath giuen them according to his tender loue, and according to his great mercies.

8 For he sayde, Surely they are my [h] people, children that wil not lie: so he was their Sauiour.

9 In all their troubles he was [i] troubled, and the Angel [k] of his presence saued them: in his loue and in his mercie he redeemed them, and he bare them and caried them alwayes continually.

10 But they rebelled and vexed his holy Spirit: therefore was hee turned to be their enemie and he fought against them.

11 Then he [l] remembred the olde time of Moses and his people, saying, Where is hee that brought them vp out of the Sea with the [m] shepheard of his sheepe? where is he that put his holy Spirit within [n] him?

12 He led them by the right hand of Moses: with his owne glorious arme, diuiding the water before them, to make himselfe an euerlasting Name.

13 Hee led them through the deepe, as an [o] horse in the wildernesse, that they should not stumble.

14 As the beast goeth downe into the valley, the Spirit of the Lorde gaue them rest: so diddest thou leade thy people, to make thy selfe a glorious Name.

15 [p] Looke downe from heauen, and beholde from the dwelling place of thine holines, and of thy glory. Where is thy [q] zeale and thy strength, the multitude of thy mercies, and of thy compassions? they are restrained from [r] me.

16 Doubtles thou art our Father: though [s] Abraham be ignorant of vs, and Israel knowe vs not, yet thou, O Lord, art our Father, and our redeemer: thy Name is for euer.

17 O Lorde, why hast [t] thou made vs to erre from thy wayes? and hardened our heart from thy feare? Returne for thy [u] seruants sake, and for the tribes of thine inheritance.

1 The Prophet prayeth for the sinnes of the people. 6 Mans righteousnesse is like a filthie cloth.

OH, that thou wouldeſt [b] breake the heauens, and come downe, and that the mountaines might melt at thy preſence!

2 As the melting fire burned, as the fire cauſed [b] the waters to boyle, (that thou mighteſt declare thy Name to thy aduerſaries) the people did tremble at thy preſence.

3 When thou diddeſt terrible things, which we looked not for, thou cameſt downe, and the mountaines melted at thy preſence.

6 But we haue all bene as an vncleane thing, and all our [h] righteouſnes is as filthie cloutes, and we all doe fade like a leafe, and our iniquities like the winde haue taken vs away.

7 And there is none that calleth vpon thy Name, neither that ſtirreth vp himſelfe to take holde of thee: for thou haſt hid thy face from vs, and haſt conſumed vs becauſe of our iniquities.

8 But now, O Lord, thou art our Father: wee are the [i] clay, and thou art our potter, and we all are the worke of thine handes.

IEREMIAH.

THE ARGVMENT.

THe Prophet Ieremiah borne in the citie of Anathoth in the countrey of Beniamin, was the sonne of Hilkiah, whome some thinke to be he that founde out the booke of the Lawe, & gaue it to Iosiah. This Prophet had excellent gifts of God, & most euident reuelations of prophesie, so that by the commandement of the Lorde he began very yong to prophesie, that is, in the thirteenth yeere of Iosiah, and continued eighteene yeere vnder the saide King, and three moneths vnder Iehoahaz, and vnder Iehoiakim eleuen yeeres, and three moneths vnder Iehoiachin, and vnder Zedekiah eleuen yeeres: vnto the time that they were caried away into Babylon. So that this time amounteth to aboue fourtie yeere, besides the time that he prophecied after the captiuitie. In this booke he declareth with teares, and lamentation the destruction of Ierusalem, and the captiuitie of the people, for their idolatrie, couetousnes, subtiltie, crueltie, excesse, rebellion, and contempt of Gods worde, and for the consolation of the Church, reuealeth the iust time of their deliuerance. And here chiefly are to be considered three things. First the rebellion of the wicked, which waxe more stubburne and obstinate, when the Prophets doe admonish them most plainely of their destruction. Next how the Prophets and ministers of God ought not to be discouraged in their vocation, though they be persecuted and rigorously handled of the wicked for Gods cause. And thirdly though God shewe his iust iudgement against the wicked, yet wil he euer shewe himselfe a preseruer of his Church, and when all meanes seeme to mans iudgement to be abolished, then wil he declare himselfe victorious in preseruing his.

CHAP. I.

1 In what time Ieremiah prophesied. 6 He acknowledgeth his imperfection, and is strengthened of the Lorde. 11 The Lord sheweth him the destruction of Ierusalem. 17 He commandeth him to preach his worde without feare.

THe [a] wordes of Ieremiah the sonne of [b] Hilkiah one of the Priests that were at [c] Anathoth in the lande of Beniamin.

2 To whom the [d] worde of the Lorde came in the dayes of Iosiah the sonne of Amon King of Iudah in the thirteenth yeere of his reigne:

3 And also in the dayes of Iehoiakim the [e] sonne of Iosiah King of Iudah vnto the ende of the eleuenth yeere of Zedekiah, the sonne of Iosiah King of Iudah, euen vnto the carrying away of Ierusalem captiue in the fift [f] moneth.

4 Then the word of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

5 Before I [g] formed thee in the wombe, I knewe thee, and before thou camest out of the wombe, I sanctified thee, and ordeined thee to be a Prophet vnto the [h] nations.

6 Then said I, [i] Oh, Lord God; behold, I can not speake, for I am a childe.

7 But the Lord said vnto me, Say not, I am a childe: for thou shalt goe to all that I shall send thee, and whatsoeuer I command thee, shalt thou speake.

8 Be not afraide of their faces: for I am with thee to deliuer thee, saith the Lord.

9 Then the Lorde stretched out his hand and [k] touched my mouth, and the Lord said vnto me, Behold, I haue put my wordes in thy mouth.

10 Beholde, this day haue I set thee ouer the nations and ouer the kingdomes to plucke vp, and to roote out, and to destroy & throw down, to builde, and to plant.

11 After this the word of the Lord came vnto me, saying, Ieremiah, what seest thou? And I said, I see a [m] rod of an almond tree.

12 Then said the Lorde vnto me, Thou hast seene aright: for I will hasten my worde to performe it.

13 Againe the worde of the Lord came vnto me the second time, saying, What seest thou? And I saide, I see a seething [o] pot looking out of the North.

14 Then said the Lorde vnto me, Out of the [o] North shall a plague be spread vpon all the inhabitants of the land.

15 For loe, I will call all the families of the kingdomes of the North, saith the Lord, and they shall come, and euery one shal set his throne in the entring of the gates of Ierusalem, and on all the walles thereof round about, and in all the cities of Iudah.

16 And I will declare vnto them my [p] iudgements touching all the wickednesse of them that haue forsaken me, and haue burnt incense vnto other gods, and worshipped the workes of their owne handes.

17 Thou therefore trusse vp thy loynes, and arise and speake vnto them all that I commaunde thee: be not afraide of their faces, lest I confound thee before them.

c This was a citie about three miles distant from Ierusalem, and belonged to the Priests, the sonnes of Aaron, Iosh. 21.18.

d This is spoken to confirme his vocation and office: so farforth as he did not presume of himselfe to preache, and prophesie, but was called thereunto by God.

e Meaning, the nephewe of Iosiah: for Iehoahaz was his father, who reigned but three moneths, and therefore is not mentioned, no more is Ioachin that raigned no longer.

g The scripture vseth this maner of speach to declare, that God hath appointed his ministers to their offices before they were borne, as Isa. 49.1 Gal. 1.15.

h For Ieremiah did not onely prophesie against the Iewes, but also against the Egyptians, Babylonians, Moabites, and other nations.

i Considering the great iudgements of God, which according to his threatnings shoulde come vpon the world, he was moued with a certaine compassion on the one side to pitie them that shoulde thus perish, and on the other side by the infirmitie of mans nature, knowing how hard a thing it was to enterprise such a charge, as Isa. 6.11. Exod. 3.11. and 4.1.

k Which declareth, that God maketh them meete, and ableth them, whome he calleth to set forth his glory: giuing them all meanes necessarie for the same, Exod. 4.12. Isa. 8.7.

l He sheweth what is the authoritie of Gods true ministers, which by his word haue power to beate downe whatsoeuer lifteth it selfe vp against God: and to plant and edifie the humble, and such as giue themselues to the obedience of Gods worde, 2. Corinth. 10.4. Ebr. 4.12. and these are the keyes which Christ hath left to loose and bind. Mat. 18.18.

m He inforceth the signe with the worde for a more ample confirmation: signifying by the rod of the almond tree, which fast budded, the hastie comming of the Babylonians against the Iewes.

CHAP. II.

2 God rehearseth his benefites done vnto the Iewis. 8 Against the Priests and false Prophets. 12 The Iewes are destroyed, because they forsake God.

MOreouer, the worde of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

2 Go, and crie in the eares of Ierusalem, saying, Thus saieth the Lord, I remember thee, the a kindnesse of thy youth and the loue of thy marriage, when thou wentest after me in the wildernesse b in a land that was not sowen.

3 Israel was as a thing c halowed vnto the Lord, and his first fruits: all they d that eate it, shal offend: euil shal come vpon them, saith the Lord.

4 Heare ye e word of the Lord, O house of Iaakob, and all the families of the house of Israel.

5 Thus saith the Lord, What iniquitie haue your fathers founde in mee, that they are gone f farre from me, and haue walked after vanitie, and are become f vaine?

6 For they saide not, Where is the Lord that brought vs vp out of the land of Egypt? that led vs through the wildernesse, through a desert, and waste land, through a drie land, and g by the shadowe of death, by a lande that no man passed through, and where no man dwelt?

7 And I brought you into a plentifull countrie, to eate the fruit thereof, & the commodities of the same: but when ye entred, ye defiled h my land, and made mine heritage an abomination.

8 The Priests said not, i Where is the Lord? and they that should minister the k Lawe, knew me not: the i pastours also offended against mee, and the Prophets prophecied in m Baal, and went after things that did not profite.

9 Wherefore I will yet n pleade with you, saith the Lord, and I will pleade with your childrens children.

10 For go ye to the yles of o Chittim, & beholde, and send vnto p Kedar, and take diligent heede, and see whether there be such things.

11 Hath any nation changed their gods, which yet are no gods? but my people haue changed their q glorie, for that which doth not r profite.

12 O ye heauens, be astonied at this: bee afraid and vtterly confounded, saith the Lord.

13 For my people haue committed two euils:

a According to that gate, and fauour, which I shewed thee from the beginning, when I did first chuse thee to be my people, and married thee to my selfe, Ezek. 16. 8.

b When I had deliuered thee out of Egypt.

c Chosen aboue all other to serue the Lord only, and the first offered to the Lord of all other nations.

d Whosoeuer did challenge this people, or else did annoy them, was punished.

e That is, fallen to most vile idolatry.

f Altogether giuen to vanitie, and are become blinde and insensible as idoles, that they serue.

g Where for lacke of all things necessarie for life, ye could look for nothing euery houre but present death.

k As the Scribes, which should haue expounded the Law to y people.

l Meaning the princes and ministers: signifying, that all estates were corrupt.

m That is, spake vaine things, and brought the people from the true worship of God to serue idoles: for by Baal, which was the chiefe idoll of the Moabites, are meant all idoles.

n Signifying, that he would not as he might, straightway condemne them, but sheweth them by euident examples their great ingratitude, that they might be ashamed, and repent.

q That is, God which is their glory, and who maketh them glorious aboue all other people: reproouing the sauage, that they were lesse diligent to keepe their vaine God, then were the idolaters to honor their vanities.

r Meaning the idoles, which were their destruction, Psal. 106. 28.

s He sheweth, that the insensible creatures abhorre this vile ingratitude, and do feare, tremble for feare of Gods grieued iudgements against the same.

14 Is Israel a u seruant, or is hee borne in the house? why then is he spoiled?

15 The x lyons roared vpon him and yelled, and they haue made his land waste: his cities are burnt without y an inhabitant.

16 Also the children of z Noph and Tahapanes haue a broken thine head.

17 Hast not thou procured this vnto thy selfe, because thou hast forsaken the Lorde thy God, when he b led thee by the way?

18 And what hast thou now to do in the way of c Egypt? to drinke the water of Nilus? or what makest thou in the way of Ashur? to drinke the water of the d Riuer?

19 Thine owne wickednes shal e correct thee, and thy turnings backe shal reprooue thee: know therefore and behold, that it is an euill thing, and bitter, that thou hast forsaken the Lord thy God, and that my feare is not in thee, saith the Lorde God of hostes.

20 For of old time I haue broken thy yoke, and burst thy bondes, and thou saidest, f I wil no more transgresse, but like an harlot thou runnest about vpon al hie hilles, & vnder all greene trees.

21 Yet I had planted thee, a noble vine, whose g plants were all naturall: how then art thou turned vnto me into the plants of a strange vine?

22 Though thou wash thee with h nitre, and take thee much sope, yet thine iniquity is marked before me, saith the Lord God.

23 Howe canst thou say, I am not polluted, neither haue I i followed Baalim? beholde thy wayes in the valley, and knowe, what thou hast done: thou art like a swift k dromedary, that runneth by his wayes:

24 And as a wilde l asse, vsed to the wildernesse, that snuffeth vp the winde by occasion at her pleasure: who can turne her backe? all they that seeke her, will not wearie themselues, but wil finde her in her m moneth.

25 Keep thou thy feet from n barenesse, and thy throte from thirst: but thou saidst desperatly, No, for I haue loued strangers, & them wil I followe.

26 As the o thiefe is ashamed, whē he is found, so is the house of Israel ashamed, they, their kings, their Princes and their Priests, & their Prophets, t Signifying, that when men turne from Gods worde, which is the fountaine of life, they reiect God himselfe, and so fall to their owne inuentions, and vaine confidence, and procure to themselues destruction, Ioan. 2. 8. zecha. 10. 2.

g Though thou vse all the punishments and ceremonies of the Law, thou canst not escape punishment, h Meaning, that hypocrites denie that they worship the idoles, but that they honour God in them, & therefore they call their doings Gods seruice.

i Hee compareth the idolaters to these beasts, because they neuer cease running to and fro: for both vallies and hilles are full of their idolatrie.

k Hee compareth the idolatrous to a wilde asse: for she can neuer be tamed, nor yet wearied: for as she runneth, she can take her winde at euery occasion.

l That is, when she is with foale, and therefore the hunters waite their time: so though thou canst not be turned backe downe from thine idolatrie, yet when thine iniquitie shal be at the full, God will meete with thee.

m Signifieth by he warne them that they should not goe into strange countries to seeke helpe: for they should but spend their labour, and hurt themselues, which is here meant by the bare foote and thirst. Isa. 57. 10.

n As a theefe will not acknowledge his fault, til he be taken with the deede, and ready to be punished, so they will not confesse their idolatrie, till the plagues due to the same light vpon them.

30 I haue smitten your children in vaine, they receiued no correction: your r owne sword hath deuoured your Prophets like a destroying lyon.

CHAP. III.

God calleth his people vnto repentance. 14 He promiseth the restitution of his Church. 20 He reproueth Iudah & Israel, comparing them to a woman disobedient to her husband.

a According as it is written, Deut. 24. 4.
b If he take such one to wife again.
c That is, with idoles, and with them, whom thou hast put thy confidence in.
d And I will not cast thee off but receiue thee, according to my mercie.
e Which dwelleth in tentes and waiteth for them that passe by to spoile them.
f As God threatned by his Lawe, Deut. 28. 24.
g Thou wouldest neuer be ashamed of thine actes and repent: and this impudencie is common to idolaters, which will not giue ouer, though they be neuer so manifestly conuicted.
h He sheweth that the wicked in their miseries will crie vnto God and vse outward praier as the godly do, but because they turne not from their euill, they are not heard, Isa. 58. 3, 4.

1 They say, If a man put away his wife, & she go from him, and become another mans, shall he returne againe vnto her? shall not this land b be polluted? but thou hast played the harlot with many c louers: yet d turne againe to me, saith the Lord.

2 Lift vp thine eies vnto the hie places, & behold, where thou hast not played the harlot: thou hast sit waiting for thẽ in the waies, as ye e Arabia in the wildernes: and thou hast polluted the land with thy whoredomes, and with thy malice.

3 Therefore the showres haue beene restrained, and the f latter raine came not, & thou hadest a g whores forehead: thou wouldest not be ashamed.

4 Diddest thou not stil crie h vnto me, Thou art my father, and the guide of my youth?

5 Will he keepe his anger for euer? will he reserue it to the ende? thus hast thou spoken, but thou doest euill, euen more and more.

6 The Lord said also vnto me, in the daies of Iosiah the King, Hast thou seene what this rebel Israel hath done? for she hath gone vp vpon euery high mountaine, and vnder euery greene tree, and there plaied the harlot.

7 And I said, when shee had done all this, Turne thou vnto me: but she returned not, as her rebellious sister Iudah sawe.

8 When I sawe, howe that by all occasions rebellious Israel had played the harlot, I cast her away, and gaue her a bill of diuorcement: yet her rebellious sister Iudah was not afraide, but shee went also, and plaied the harlot.

9 So that for the i lightnes of her whordome she hath euen defiled the land: for she hath committed fornication with stones and stockes.

10 Neuertheles for all this, her rebellious sister Iudah hath not returned vnto me with k her whole heart, but fainedly, saith the Lord.

11 And the Lord said vnto me, The rebellious Israel hath l iustified her selfe more then the rebellious Iudah.

12 Go and crie these wordes towarde o the North and say, Thou disobedient Israel, returne, saieth the Lorde, and I wil not let my wrath fall vpon you: for I am merciful, saith the Lorde, and I will not alway keepe mine anger.

13 But knowe thine iniquitie: for thou hast rebelled against the Lord thy God, & hast p scattered thy wayes to the straunge gods vnder euerie greene tree, but yee would not obey my voice, saieth the Lord.

14 O ye disobedient children, turne againe, saieth the Lorde, for I am your Lorde, and I will take you one of a citie, and two of a tribe and wil bring you to Zion,

15 And I will giue you pastours according to mine heart, which shall feede you with knowledge and vnderstanding.

16 Moreouer, when ye be increased and multiplied in the land in those daies, saith the Lorde, they shall say no more, The q Arke of the conenant of the Lorde: for it shall come no more to minde, neither shall they remember it, neither shall they visite it, for that shall bee no more done.

17 At that time they shal call Ierusalem, r The throne of the Lord, & all the nations shall be gathered vnto it, euen to the Name of the Lord in Ierusalem: and thence foorth they shall folow no more the hardnes of their wicked heart.

18 In those dayes the house of Iudah shall walke with the house of Israel, & they shal come together out of the land of the s North, into the land, that I haue giuen for an inheritance vnto your fathers.

19 But I saide, How did I take thee for children and giue thee a pleasant land, euen the glorious heritage of the armies of the heathen, and saide, Thou shalt call me, saying, My father, and shalt not turne from me?

20 But as a woman rebelleth against her t husband: so haue ye rebelled against me, O house of Israel, saith the Lord.

21 u A voice was heard vpon the hie places, weeping and supplications of the children of Israel: for they haue peruerted their way, and forgotten the Lord their God.

22 O yee disobedient children, returne and I wil heale your rebellions. x Behold, we come vnto thee, for thou art the Lord our God.

23 Truely the hope of the hilles is but vaine, nor the multitude of mountaines: but in the Lord our God is the health of Israel.

CHAP. IIII.

1 True repentance. 4 Hee exhorteth to the circumcision of the heart. 5 The destruction of Iudah is prophecied, for the malice of their hearts. 19 The Prophet lamenteth it.

OIsrael, if thou returne, a returne vnto me, saith the Lorde: and if thou put away thine abominations out of my sight, then shalt thou remoue.

2 And thou shalt b sweare, the Lorde liueth in trueth, in iudgement, and in righteousnesse, and the nations shall be blessed in him, and shall glorie in him.

3 For thus saith the Lorde to the men of Iudah, and to Ierusalem,

4 Breake vp c your fallowe ground, and sowe not among the thornes: bee circumcised to the Lord, and take away the foreskinnes of your hearts, ye men of Iudah, and inhabitants of Ierusalem, lest my wrath come foorth like fire, and burne, that none can quench it, because of the wickednes of your inuentions.

5 d Declare in Iudah, and shewe foorth in Ierusalem, and say, Blowe the trumpet in the land: cry, and gather together, and say, Assemble your selues, and let vs goe into streng cities.

6 Set vp the Standart in Zion: e prepare to flee, and stay not: for I will bring a plague from the North, and a great destruction.

7 The f lyon is come vp from his denne, and the destroyer of g Gentiles is departed, and gone forth of his place to lay thy lande waste, and thy cities shalbe destroyed without an inhabitant.

8 Wherefore girde you with sackecloth: lament, and howle, for the fierce wrath of the Lord is not turned backe from vs.

9 And in that day, saieth the Lorde, the heart of the King shall perish, and the heart of the princes and the Priestes shall be astonished, and the g Prophets shall wonder.

10 Then said I, Ah, Lord God, surely thou hast h deceiued this people, & Ierusalē, saying, Ye shall haue peace, & the sword pearceth vnto the heart.

11 At that time shall it be saide to this people and to Ierusalem, A drie i winde in the hie places of the wildernes commeth toward the daughter of my people, but neither k to fanne nor to clense.

12 A mightie winde shall come vnto me from those places, and nowe will I also giue sentence vpon them.

13 Beholde, he shall come vp as the l cloudes, and his charets shalbe as a tempest: his horses are lighter then eagles. m Woe vnto vs, for wee are destroyed.

14 O Ierusalem, wash thine heart from wickednes, that thou mayest be saued: how long shall thy wicked thoughts remaine within thee?

15 For a voyce declareth from n Dan, and publisheth affliction from mount o Ephraim, 16 Make ye mention of the heathen, and publish in Ierusalem, Behold, the skouters come from a farre country, and crie out against the cities of Iudah.

17 They haue compassed her about as the watchmen of the p fielde, because it hath prouoked me vnto wrath, saith the Lorde.

18 Thy wayes and thine inuentions haue procured thee these things, such is thy wickednesse: therefore it shall be bitter, therefore it shall perce vnto thine heart.

19 My bely, q my bely, I am pained, euen at the very heart: mine heart is troubled within me: I cannot be stil: for my soule hath heard r sound of the trumpet, and the alarme of the battell.

20 Destruction vpon destruction is cryed, for the whole land is wasted: suddenly are my s tents destroyed, and my curtaines in a moment.

21 Howe long shall I see the standert, and heare the sounde of the trumpet?

22 For my people is foolish, they haue not knowen me: they are foolish children, and haue none vnderstanding: t they are wise to doe euill, but to doe well they haue no knowledge.

23 I haue looked vpon the earth, and lo, it was without forme and u voyde: and to the heauens, and they had no light.

24 I beheld the mountaines: and lo, they trembled, and all the hilles shooke.

25 I beheld, and loe, there was no man, and all the birdes of the heauen were departed.

26 I beheld, and loe, the fruitfull place was a wildernesse, and all the cities thereof were broken downe at the presence of the Lorde, and by his fierce wrath.

27 For thus hath the Lorde saide, The whole lande shalbe desolate: yet will I x not make a full ende.

28 Therefore shal the earth mourne, and the heauens aboue shall be darkened, because I haue pronounced it: I haue thought it, and will not repent, neither will I turne backe from it.

29 The whole citie shall flee, for the noyse of the horsemen and bowe men: they shall goe into thickets, and clime vp vpon the rockes: euery city shalbe forsaken, and not a man dwell therein.

30 And when thou shalt be destroyed, what wilt thou doe? Though thou y clothest thy selfe with skarlet, though thou deckest thee with ornaments of golde, though thou paintest thy face with colours, yet shalt thou trimme thy selfe in vaine: for thy louers will abhorre thee and seeke thy life,

31 For I haue heard a noyse as of a woman trauailing, or as one labouring of her first child, euen the voyce of the daughter Zion that sigheth and stretcheth out her handes: z woe is me nowe: for my soule fainteth because of the murtherers.

CHAP. V.

1 In Iudah no righteous man is founde neither among the people nor the rulers. 15 Wherefore Iuda is destroyed of the Caldeans.

s Their wisdome and policie tend to their owne destruction, and pulleth them frō God.

t By these maner of speeches hee sheweth the horrible destruction that should come vpon the land, and also condemneth the obstinacie of the people, who repent not at the feare of these terrible tydings, seeing that the insensible creatures are moued therewith, as if the order of nature should be changed, Isa. 13.13. & 24.23. 3 O Lord, are not thine eies vpō the [c] truethe thou hast [d] striken them, but they haue not sorowed: thou hast consumed them, but they haue refused to receiue correctiō: they haue made their faces harder then a stone, and haue refused to returne.

4 Therfore I said, Surely they are poore, they are foolish, for they knowe not the way of the Lorde, nor the iudgement of their God.

5 I will get me vnto the [e] great men, and will speake vnto them: for they haue knowen the way of the Lord, and the iudgement of their God: but these haue altogether broken the yoke, and burst the bondes.

6 Wherefore [f] a lyon out of the forest shall slay them, and a wolfe of the wildernesse shall destroy them: a leopard shal watch ouer their cities: euery one that goeth out thence, shalbe torne in pieces, because their trespasses are many, and their rebellions are increased.

7 Howe should I spare thee for this? thy children haue forsaken me, and sworne by them that are no gods: though I fed them to the full, yet they committed adulterie, and assembled themselues by companies in the harlots houses.

8 They rose vp in the morning like fed horses: for euery man *neyed after his neighbours wife.

9 Shall I not visite for these things, saith the Lorde? Shall not my soule be auenged on such a nation as this?

10 [h] Clime vp vpon their walles, and destroy them, but make not a full ende: [i] take away their batilments, for they are not the Lords.

11 For the house of Israel, and the house of Iudah haue grieuously trespassed against me, saith the Lord.

12 They haue [k] denied the Lord, and saide, It is not he, neither shall the plague come vpon vs, neither shall we see sword nor famine.

13 And the Prophets shalbe as [l] winde, & the worde is [m] not in them: thus shall it come vnto them.

14 Wherefore thus sayeth the Lorde God of hostes, Because ye speake such wordes, Behold, I will put my wordes into [n] thy mouth, like a fire, and this people shall be as wood, and it shall deuour them.

15 Loe, I will bring a nation vpon you, [o] from farre, O house of Israel, saith the Lord, which is a mightie nation, and an ancient nation, a nation whose language thou knowest not, neither vnderstandest what they say.

16 Whose quiuer is as an open sepulchre: they are all very strong.

17 And they shall eate thine harueste and thy bread: they shal deuoure thy sonnes & thy daughters: they shal eate vp thy sheep and thy bullocks: they shall eate thy vines and thy figge trees: they shall destroy with the sworde thy fenced cities, wherein thou didst trust.

18 Neuertheles, at those dayes, saith the Lorde, I will not make a full ende of [q] you.

19 And when* ye shal say, Wherfore doeth the Lord our God do these things vnto vs? then shalt [r] thou answere them, Like as ye haue forsaken me and serued strange gods in your land, so shall yee serue strangers in a land that is not yours.

20 Declare this in the house of Iaakob, and publish it in Iudah, saying, 21 Heare nowe this, O foolish people, and † without vnderstanding, which haue *eyes and see not, which haue eares and heare not.

22 Feare ye not me, saith the Lord? or will ye not be afraide at my presence, which haue placed the sand for the *bounds of the sea by the perpetuall decree that it cannot passe it, and though the waues thereof rage, yet can they not preuaile, though they roare, yet can they not passe ouer it?

23 But this people hath an vnfaithfull and rebellious heart: they are departed and gone.

24 For they say not in their heart, Let vs now feare the Lord our God, that giueth rayne both earely and late in due season: he reserueth vnto vs the appoynted weekes of the harueste.

25 Yet your [s] iniquities haue turned away these things, and your sinnes haue hindred good things from you.

26 For among my people are founde wicked persons, that lay waite as he that setteth snares: they haue made a pit, to catch men.

27 As a cage is full of birdes, so are the houses ful of deceite: thereby they are become great and waxen rich.

28 They are waxen fat and shining: they doe ouerpasse the deedes of the wicked: * they execute no iudgement, no not the iudgement of the fatherlesse: yet they [t] prosper, though they execute no iudgement for the poore.

29 Shall I not visite for these things, sayth the Lord? or shall not my soule be auenged on such a nation as this?

30 An horrible and filthie thing is committed in the land.

31 The [u] Prophets prophesie lies, & the Priests receiue giftes in their handes, and my people delite therein. What will ye then doe in the ende thereof?

CHAP. VI.

1 The comming of the Assirians and Caldeans. 16 He exhorteth the Iewes to repentance.

O Ye children of [a] Beniamin, prepare to flee out of the middes of Ierusalem, and blow the trumpet in [b] Tekoa: set vp a standart vpon [c] Bethhaccerem: for a plague appeareth out of [y] North and great destruction.

2 I haue compared the daughter of Zion to [d] a beautifull and daintie woman.

3 The Pastors with their flocks [e] shal come vnto her: they shal pitch their tents round about by her, and euery one shall feede in his place.

4 [f] Prepare warre against her: arise, and let vs go vp toward the South: wo vnto vs: for the day declineth, and the shadowes of the euening are stretched out.

5 Arise, and let vs goe vp by night, and destroy her palaces.

6 For thus hath the Lord of hostes said, Hewe downe wood, and cast a mount against Ierusalem: this citie must be visited: all oppression is in the mids of it.

7 As the fountaine casteth out her waters, so she casteth out her malice: [g] crueltie and spoyle is continually heard in her before me with sorow and strokes.

8 Be thou instructed, O [h] Ierusalem, lest my soule depart from thee, lest I make thee desolate as a land, that none inhabiteth.

9 Thus saith the Lorde of hostes, They shall gather as a vine, the residue of Israel: turne backe thine hand as the grape gatherer into the baskets.

10 Vnto whom shall I speake, and admonish that they may heare? behold, their eares are vncircumcised, and they cannot hearken: beholde, the worde of the Lord is vnto them as a reproch: they haue no delite in it.

11 Therefore I am full of the wrath of the Lord: I am weary with holding it: [l] I wil powre it out vpon the [m] children in the streete, and likewise vpon the assembly of the yong men: for the husband shall euen bee taken with the wife, and the aged with him that is full of dayes.

12 And their houses with their landes, and wiues also shalbe turned vnto strangers: for I wil stretch out mine hand vpon the inhabitants of the land, saith the Lord.

13 For from the least of them, euen vnto the greatest of them, euery one is giuen vnto couetousnesse, and from the Prophet euen vnto the Priest, they all deale falsely.

14 They haue healed also the hurte of the daughter of my people with sweete wordes, saying, [n] Peace, peace, when there is no peace.

15 Were they ashamed when they had committed abomination? nay, they were not ashamed, no neither coulde they haue any shame: therefore they shall fall among the † slaine: when I shall visite them, they shalbe cast downe, saieth the Lord.

16 Thus saieth the Lorde, Stand in the wayes and behold, and aske for the [o] olde way, which is the good way, and walke therein, and yee shall finde rest for your soules: but they saide, We will not walke therein.

17 Also I set [p] watchmen ouer you, which said, Take heede to the sound of the trumpet: but they said, We will not take heede.

18 Heare therefore, yee [q] Gentiles, and thou Congregation knowe, what is among them.

19 Heare, O earth, beholde, I will cause a plague to come vpon this people, euen the fruite of their owne imaginations: because they haue not taken heede vnto my words, nor to my Law, but cast it off.

20 To what purpose bringest thou mee incense from Sheba, and sweete calamus from a far countrey? Your burnt offerings are not pleasant, nor your sacrifices sweete vnto me.

21 Therefore thus saieth the Lorde, Beholde, I will lay stumbling blockes before this people, and the fathers and the sonnes together shall fall vpon them: the neighbour and his friend shall perish.

22 Thus saieth the Lorde, Beholde, a people commeth from the [r] North countrey, and a great nation shall arise from the sides of the earth.

23 With bowe and shield shall they be weaponed: they are cruell and will haue no compassion: their voyce roareth like the sea, and they ride vpon horses, well appointed, like men of warre against thee, O daughter Zion.

24 We haue heard their fame, and our handes waxe feeble: sorowe is come vpon vs, as the sorowe of a woman in trauaile.

25 Goe not forth into the field, nor walke by the way: for the sword of the enemie and feare is on euery side.

26 O daughter of my people, girde thee with sackecloth, and wallowe thy selfe in the asshes: make lamentation, and bitter mourning, as for thine onely sonne: for the destroyer shal suddenly come vpon vs.

27 I haue set [u] thee for a defence and fortresse among my people, that thou mayest knowe and trie their wayes.

28 They are all rebellious traitours, walking craftily: they are brasse, and yron, they all are destroyers.

29 The [x] bellowes are burnt: the lead is consumed in the fire: the founder melteth in vaine: for the wicked are not taken away.

30 They shall call them reprobate siluer, because the Lord hath reiected them.

CHAP. VII.

2 Ieremiah is commanded to shewe vnto the people the worde of God, which trusteth in the outward seruice of the Temple. 13 The euils that shall come to the Iewes, for the despising of their Prophets. 21 Sacrifices doth not the Lorde chiefly require of the Iewes, but that they should obey his word.

THe wordes that came to Ieremiah from the Lord, saying,

2 Stande in the gate of the Lordes house and crie this worde there, and say, Heare the worde of the Lord, all yee of Iudah that enter in at these gates to worship the Lord.

3 Thus saith the Lord of hostes, the God of Israel, * Amend your wayes and your works, and I will let you dwell in this place.

4 Trust not in [a] lying wordes, saying, The Temple of the Lorde, the Temple of the Lorde: this is the Temple of the Lord.

5 For if you amend and redresse your wayes and your workes: if you execute iudgement betweene a man and his neighbour,

6 And oppresse not the stranger, the fatherlesse and the widow, and shed no innocent blood in this place, neither walke after other gods to your destruction,

7 Then [b] will I let you dwell in this place in the land that I gaue vnto your fathers, for euer and euer.

8 Behold, you trust in lying words, that cannot profite.

9 Wil you steale, murder, and commit adulterie, and sweare falsely, and burne incense vnto Baal, and walke after other gods whom ye know not?

10 And come and stand before mee in this House, whereupon my Name is called, and say, We are deliuered, though we haue done all these abominations?

11 Is this House become [c] a den of theeues, whereupon my Name is called before your eies? Beholde, euen I see it, saith the Lord.

12 But goe ye now vnto my place which was in Shilo, [d] where I set my Name at the beginning, and beholde what I did to it for the wickednesse of my people Israel.

13 Therefore now because ye haue done all these works, saith the Lord, (and I [e] rose vp early and spake vnto you: but when I spake, ye would not heare me, neither when I called, would ye answer)

[b] God sheweth how what condition he made his promes to this Temple: that they should be an holy people vnto him as hee would be a faithfull God to them.
[c] As theeues hid in holes and dennes thinke themselues safe, so when you are in my Temple, you thinke to be couered with the holines therof, and that I can not see your wickednesse, Matt. 21. 13.
[d] Because they depended so much on the Temple, which was for his promes, that he would be present and defend them where he [illegible] was, he sendeth them to Gods iudgements against this, where [illegible] had remained 400 yeares.
[e] That is, I never ceased to warne you, as Ier. 25. 4. and 26. 5. and 29. 19. and 35. 14. and 44. 4.

14 Therefore wil I do vnto this house, where-vpon my Name is called, wherein also ye trust, e-uen vnto the place that I gaue to you & to your fathers, as I haue done vnto Shilo.

15 And I will cast g you out of my sight, as I haue cast out all your brethren, euen the whole seede of Ephraim.

16 Therefore thou shalt not h pray for this people, neither lift vp crie or prayer for them, neither intreate me, for I will not heare thee.

17 Seest thou not what they doe in the cities of Iudah and in the streetes of Ierusalem?

18 The children gather wood, and the fathers kindle the fire, and the women knede the dough to make cakes to i the Queene of heauen and to powre out drinke offerings vnto other gods, that they may prouoke me vnto anger.

19 Doe they prouoke me to anger, saith the Lorde, and not themselues to the confusion of their owne faces?

20 Therfore thus saith the Lord God, Behold, mine anger and my wrath shall be powred vpon this place, vpon man and vpon beast, and vpon the tree of the field, and vpon the fruit of the ground, and it shall burne and not be quenched.

21 Thus saith the Lord of hostes, the God of Israel, Put your burnt offerings vnto your sacri-fices, and eate the flesh.

22 For k I spake not vnto your fathers, nor commanded them, when I brought them out of the land of Egypt, concerning burnt offrings and sacrifices.

23 But this thing commaunded I them, say-ing, Obey my voice, and I will be your God, and yee shall be my people: and walke yee in all the waies which I haue commanded you, that it may be well vnto you.

24 But they would not obey, nor incline their eare, but went after the counsels and the stubber-nesse of their wicked heart, and went backeward and not forward.

25 Since the day that your fathers came vp out of the land of Egypt, vnto l this day, I haue euen sent vnto you all my seruants the Prophets, m rising vp euerly euery day, and sending them.

26 Yet would they not heare me nor encline their eare, but hardned their necke & did worse then their fathers.

27 Therfore shalt thou speake all these words vnto them, but they n will not heare thee: thou shalt also crie vnto them, but they will not an-swere thee.

28 But thou shalt say vnto them, This is a na-tion that heareth not the voice of the Lorde their God, nor receiueth discipline: trueth is perished, and is cleane gone out of their mouth.

29 Cut off thine o haire, O Ierusalem, and cast it away, and take vp a complaint on the hie pla-ces: for the Lord hath reiected and forsaken the generation of his p wrath.

30 For the children of Iudah haue done euill in my sight, saith the Lord: they haue set their a-bominations in the House, whereupon my Name is called, to pollute it.

31 And they haue built the hie place of q To-pheth, which is in the valley of Ben-Hinnom to burne their sonnes and their daughters in the fire, which I r commanded them not, neither came it in mine heart.

32 Therefore behold, the dayes come, saith the Lord, that it shal no more be called Topheth, nor the valley of Ben-Hinnom, but the valley of slaughter, for they shall bury in Topheth til there be no place.

33 And the carkeises of this people shall be meate for the fowles of the heauen and for the beasts of the earth, & none shal fray them away.

34 * Then I will cause to cease from the ci-ties of Iudah and from the streetes of Ierusalem the voice of mirth and the voice of gladnesse, the voice of the bridegrome and the voice of the bride: for the land shalbe desolate. * Reu. 18.23.

CHAP. VIII.

1 The destruction of the Iewes. 4 The Lorde moueth the people to amendment. 10 Hee reprehendeth the lying do-ctrine and the contauntnesse of the Prophets and Priests.

AT that time, saieth the Lord, they shall bring out the bones of the kings of Iudah, and the bones of their princes, & the bones of the Priests and the bones of the Prophets, and the bones of the inhabitants of Ierusalem out of their a graues,

2 And they shal spread them before s sunne and the moone, and all the host of heauen, whom they haue loued, and whome they haue serued, and whome they haue followed, and whom they haue sought, and whome they haue worshipped: they shal not be gathered nor be buried, but shall be as doung vpon the earth.

3 And death shall be desired b rather then life of all the residue that remaineth of this wic-ked familie, which remaine in al the places where I haue scattered them, saieth the Lord of hostes.

4 Thou shale say vnto them also, Thus sayeth the Lord, Shall they c fall and not arise? shall hee turne away and not turne againe?

5 Wherefore is this people of Ierusalem tur-ned backe by a perpetuall rebellion? they haue themselues to deceit, and would not returne.

6 I hearkened and heard, but none spake a-right: no man repented him of his wickednesse, saying, What haue I done? euery d one turned to their race, as the horse rusheth into the battell.

7 Euen the storke in the aire knoweth her appointed times, and the turtle and the crane and the swallowe obserue the time of their comming, but my people knoweth not the e iudgement of the Lord.

9 The wise men are ashamed: they are afraid and taken. loe, they haue reiected the word of the Lord, and what wisedome is in them?

10 Therefore will I giue their wiues vnto o-thers, and their fieldes to them that shall possesse them: * for euery one from the least euen vnto the greatest is giuen to couetousnesse, and from the Prophet euen vnto the Priest, euery one dea-leth falsely.

12 Were they ashamed when they had com-mitted abomination? nay, they were not asha-med, neither could they haue any shame: there-fore shall they fall among the slaine: when I shall visite them, they shall be cast downe, saieth the Lord.

OH, that mine head were full of s waters and mine eyes a fountaine of teares, that I might weepe day and night for the slaine of the daughter of my people.

2 Oh, that I had in the wildernes a t cottage of wayfaring men, that I might leaue my people, and goe from them: for they bee all u adulterers, and an assembly of rebels.

3 And they bende their tongues like their bowe for x lyes: but they haue no courage for the truth vpon the earth: for they proceede from euill to worse, and they haue not knowen mee, sayth the Lord.

4 Let euery one take heede of his neighbour, and trust you not in any y brother: for euery brother will vse deceite, and euery friend will deale deceitfully.

5 And euery one will deceiue his friende, and will not speake the truth: for they z haue taught their tongue to speake lies, and take great paynes to doe wickedly.

6 Thine habitation is in the middes of deceiuers: a because of their deceit they refuse to know me, saith the Lord.

7 Therefore thus saith the Lord of hostes, Behold, I will b melt them, & trie them: for what should I else do for the daughter of my people?

8 Their tongue is c as an arrowe shot out, and speaketh deceite: one speaketh peaceably to his neighbour with his mouth, but in his heart hee layeth waite for him.

13 And the Lord saith, Because they haue forsaken my Law, which I set before them, and haue not obeyed my voice, neither walked therein, 14 But haue walked after the stubbernesse of their owne heart, and after Baalims, which their fathers taught them.

15 Therefore thus sayeth the Lorde of hostes, the God of Israel, Beholde, I will feede this people with wormewoode, and giue them waters of gall g to drinke.

16 I will scatter them also among the heathen, whom neither they nor their fathers haue known, and I will send a sword after them, till I haue consumed them.

17 Thus sayeth the Lorde of hostes, Take heede and call for h the mourning women, that they may come, and send for skilfull women, that they may come,

18 And let them make haste, & let them take vp a lamentation for vs, that our eyes may cast out teares, and our eye lidds gush out of water.

19 For a lamentable noyse is heard out of Zion, How are we destroyed, and vtterly confounded, for we haue forsaken the land, and our dwellings i haue cast vs out.

20 Therefore heare the word of the Lorde, O ye women, and let your eares regard the words of his mouth, & k teach your daughters, to mourne, and euery one her neighbour to lament.

21 For death is come vp into our l windowes, and is entred into our palaces, to destroy the children without, and the young men in the streetes.

22 Speake, Thus saith the Lorde, The carkeises of men shall lye euen as the doung vpon the field, and as the handfull after the mower, and none shall gather them.

23 Thus saith the Lord, Let not the wise man glorie in his wisedome, nor the strong man glorie in his strength, neyther the rich man glorie in his riches.

24 But let him that glorieth, glorie in this, that he vnderstandeth, and knoweth me, for I am the Lorde, which m shewe mercie, iudgement and a That is, hath brought vs into extreme affliction, and thus they shal not attribute this plague to fortune, but to Gods iust iudgement, Chap. 5. 12. 13. & 5. b Chap. 23. 19. Ioele Chap. 4. 15.

c God threatneth to send the Babylonians among them, who shall vtterly destroy them in such sort as by no meanes they shall escape.

e That the Lord speaketh.

f The people wonder that they haue so long time looked for succour in vaine.

g The Prophet speaketh this.

h Meaning, that the Prophet sheweth the great compassion that he had toward this people seeing that he could neuer sufficiently lament the destruction that he saw to come vpon them. Which is a special note to discerne the true pastours from the hirelings, Reade Chap. 4. 19. In that he sheweth that it is not enough to be sorie, vnles it be ioyned with the wilde desire that is among the true beleeuers, that all prophanitie and deceite, with the cause thereof may be remoued. Reade Chap. 6. 14. i That is, that God had iustly stirred him to this charge. k Vtterly turned from God.

l To beleue and follow their owne deuises.

m Meaning, that all is ouerthrowen by deceite, that is, by leaning to their owne wisedome.

n Meaning, that all were corrupt & none could find an honest man. o They haue, that they cannot forsake it. p They had rather forsake God, than leaue their wicked trade.

a With the fire of affliction.

b Psal. 12. 2. and 120. 4.

c Signifying that all the places about Ierusalem should be destroyed.

d Meaning, that they are all without sense and vnderstanding, & that God hath taken his spirit from them.

e He sheweth that the children can not excuse themselues by their fathers: for both father, and childe if they be wicked, shall perish.

f Reade Cha. 8. 14.

g Seeing you can not lament your owne sinnes, call for those foolish women, whom of a superstition you haue to lament for the dead, that they by their fayned teares may prouoke you to some sorow.

h As though they were weary of vs, because of our iniquities, Lem. 18. 22. and 20. 22.

i He deriseth the superstition of the women, which made an arte of mourning, and taught to weepe with fained teares.

k Signifying, that there is no meanes to deliuer the wicked from Gods iudgement: but when they thinke to be most safe, & most farre off, they are they soonest taken.

l For as much as none can saue him selfe by his owne labour or any worldly meanes, he sheweth that it is in vaine to put our trust therein, but that we trust in the Lord, and reioyce in him, who only can deliuer vs, 1. Cor. 1. 31. 2. cor. 10. 17.

m These three points are necessarie to know aright of his mercy, wherein consisteth our saluation: his iudgement, which he executeth continually against his wicked, & his iustice, whereby he defendeth & maintaineth the faithfull.

righteousnes in the earth: for in these things I delite, saith the Lord.

25 Beholde, the dayes come, saieth the Lorde, that I will visite all them, which are circumcised with the vncircumcised:

26 Egypt and Iudah, and Edom, and the children of Ammon, and Moab, and all the vtmost corners of them that dwell in the wildernesse: for all these nations are vncircumcised, and all the house of Iſrael are vncircumcised in the heart.

CHAP. X.

2 The conſtellations of the ſtarres are not to bee feared. 5 The weaknesse of idoles, and of the power of God. 21 Their Paſtours are become brute beaſtes.

HEare ye the worde of the Lorde that he ſpeaketh vnto you, O houſe of Iſrael.

2 Thus ſaieth the Lorde, Learne not the way of the heathen, and be not afraid for the [a] ſignes of heauen, though the heathen be afraid of ſuch.

3 For the [b] cuſtomes of the people are vaine: for one cutteth a tree out of the foreſt (which is the work of the hands of the carpenter) with the axe,

4 And another decketh it [c] with ſiluer, and with gold: they faſten it with nailes, and hammers, that it fall not.

5 The idoles ſtand vp as the palme tree, but ſpeake not; they are borne because they can not goe: feare them not, for they cannot do euill, neither can they do good.

6 There is none like vnto thee, O Lorde: [d] thou art great, and thy Name is great in power.

7 Who would not feare thee, O king of nations? for to thee appertaineth the dominion: for among all the wiſe men of the Gentiles, and in all their kingdomes there is none like thee.

8 But altogether they dote, and are fooliſh: for the ſtocke is a [e] doctrine of vanitie.

9 Siluer plates are brought from Tarſhiſh, and golde [f] from Vphaz, for the worke of the workeman, and the handes of the founder: [g] the blewe ſilke, and the purple of their clothing: all theſe things are made by cunning men.

10 But the Lord is the God of trueth: he is the liuing God, and an euerlaſting King: at his anger the earth ſhall tremble, and the nations cannot abide his wrath.

11 (Thus ſhall you ſay vnto them, The gods that haue not made the heauens and the earth, ſhall periſh from the earth, and from vnder theſe heauens)

12 He hath made the earth by his power, and eſtabliſhed the world by his wiſedome, and hath ſtretched out the heauen by his diſcretion.

13 Hee giueth by his voyce the multitude of waters, in the heauen, and he cauſeth the cloudes to aſcend from the endes of the earth: he turneth lightnings to rayne, and bringeth foorth the wind out of his treaſures.

14 Euery man is [h] beaſt by his owne knowledge: euery founder is confounded by the grauen image: for his melting is but falſehood, and there is no breath therein.

15 They are vanitie, and the worke of errours: in the time of their viſitation they ſhall periſh.

16 The [i] portion of Iaakob is not like them: for he is the maker of all things, and Iſrael is the rodde of his inheritance: the Lorde of hoſtes is his Name.

17 ¶ [k] Gather vp thy wares out of the land, O thou that dwelleſt in the ſtrong place.

18 For thus ſayth the Lorde, Beholde, at this time I will throwe as with a ſling the inhabitants of the land, and will trouble them, and they ſhall finde it ſo.

19 Woe is me for my deſtruction, and my grieuous plague: but I thought, Yet it is my ſorowe, and I will beare it.

20 [m] My Tabernacle is deſtroyed, and all my cordes are broken: my children are gone from me, and are not: there is none to ſpread out my tent any more, and to ſet vp my curtaines.

21 For the Paſtors [n] are become beaſts, and haue not ſought the Lorde: therefore haue they none vnderſtanding: and all the flockes of their paſtures are ſcattered.

22 Beholde, the noyſe of the bruite is come, and a great commotion out of the [o] North countrey to make the cities of Iudah deſolate, and a denne of dragons.

23 O Lord, I knowe, that [p] the way of man is not in himſelfe, neither is it in man to walke and to direct his ſteps.

24 O Lorde, correct mee, but with [q] iudgement not in thine anger, leaſt thou bring mee to nothing.

25 Powre out [r] thy wrath vpon the heathen that knowe thee not, and vpon the families that call not on thy Name: for they haue eaten vp Iaakob and deuoured him & conſumed him, & haue made his habitation deſolate.

a God forbiddeth his people to giue credite or feare the conſtellations and coniunctions of ſtarres and planets, which haue no power of themſelues, but are gouerned by him, and their ſecrete motions and influences are not knowen to man, and therfore there can be no certaine iudgement therof, Deut. 18.9.

b Meaning not only in the obſeruation of the ſtars, but their Lawes and ceremonies whereby they confirme their idolatrie, which is forbidden Deut. 12.30.

c The Prophets vſe thus plainely and ſimply to ſet forth the vile abſurditie of the idolaters, that men might learne to be aſhamed of that, whereunto their corrupt nature is moſt ſubiect, reade Iſa. 44.12.

d He teacheth the people to lift vp their eyes to God, who hath al power, and therefore ought onely to be feared: and herein he ſheweth the not onely the euill that they ought to eſchewe, but the good which they ought to ſeke, Reuel. 15.4.

e Becauſe the people thought that to haue images, was a meane to ſerue God and to bring them to the knowledge of him, he ſheweth that nothing more diſpleaſeth God, nor bringeth man into greater errours and ignorance of God: and therefore he calleth them the doctrine of vanitie, the worke of errors, ver. 15. & Habak. 2.18. calleth the the teachers of lies: contrary to that wicked opinion, that they are the bookes of the lay people.

f Whereas they found the beſt gold: ſhewing y they thought nothing too deare for their idols: ſome reade Ophir, as 1. Ki 9.28.

g This declareth, that all that hath bin in this Chapter ſpoken of idoles, was to arme the Iewes when they ſhould be in Caldea among the idolaters, & now with one ſentence he inſtructeth the both how to proteſt their owne religion againſt the idolaters, and how to anſwere them to their ſhame which ſhould exhort them to idolatrie, and therefore he writeth this ſentence in the Caldeans tongue for a memoriall, whereas all the reſt of his writing is Ebrew.

h The more that man thinketh to do any thing well by his owne wiſdome, and not as God inſtructeth him, the more doth he proue himſelfe to be a vile beaſt.

i By theſe words Portion & Rod he ſignifieth that in inheritance & ruling y God ſhould be ſufficient for them, & that their felicitie conſiſted in him alone, & therefore they ought to renounce all other helpes & ſuccours as of idoles, &c. D. 10,32. 33. 34. 35. & The Prophet willeth the Iewes to prepare themſelues to this captiuitie ſhewing that it was now at hand, that they ſhould feele the things, whereof he had told them.

k It is my iuſt plague, and therefore I will take it patiently: whereby he teacheth the people how to behaue themſelues toward God.

m Hee ſheweth howe Ieruſalem ſhall lament.

n The gouernors and miniſters.

o Read Chap. 4.15.

p Hee ſpeaketh this becauſe that Nebuchad-nezzar purpoſed to haue made warre againſt the Moabites and Ammonites, but hearing of Zedekiahs rebellion, he turned his power to go againſt Ieruſalem, Ezek. 21.21. therefore the Prophet ſayeth, that this was the Lordes direction.

q Conſerning that God had reuealed vnto him the certitude of their captiuitie, Chap. 7.16 he onely prayeth that he would punish them with mercy, which Iſaiah calleth, in meaſure, Chap. 27.8 meaſuring his rods by their infirmitie, 1. Cor. 10.13 for here by iudgement is meant not onely the puniſhment, but alſo the merciful moderation of the ſame, as Chap. 30.11. God cannot onely be knowen and glorified by his mercie, that he vieth towards his Church, but alſo by his iuſtice, in puniſhing his enemies: hee prayeth that his glory may fully appeare both in the one and the other, Pſal. 79.6.

CHAP. XI.

3 A curſe of them that obey not the words of Gods Couenant. 10 The people of Iudah, following the ſteppes of their fathers, worſhip ſtrange gods. 15 The Lorde forbiddeth Ieremiah to pray for them.

THE worde that came to Ieremiah from the Lord, ſaying,

2 Heare ye the wordes of this couenant, and ſpeake vnto the men of Iudah, and to the inhabitants of Ieruſalem,

3 And ſay thou vnto them, Thus ſayeth the Lord God of Iſrael, [a] Curſed bee the man that obeyeth not the words of this couenant,

4 Which I commaunded vnto your fathers, when I brought them out of the land of Egypt, from the yron fornace, ſaying, Obey my voyce, and doe according to all theſe things, which I commaund you: ſo ſhall ye be my people, and I will be your God, a He calleth the Iewes to the conſideration of Gods mercies, whereby thoſe that make a concluſion of euerlaſtinge felicitie with them, and how he doeth performe it on his behalfe, and howe they haue ſhewed themſelues rebellious and ingrate towards him & brake it on their part, & ſo are fallen vnder the curſe of the Liwe, Deut. 27.26.

5 That

4 That I might confirme the oth which I haue sworne vnto your fathers, to giue them a lande, which floweth with milke and honie, as appeareth this day. Then answered h I and saide, So be it, O Lord.

h Thus he speaketh in the person of the people, which agreed to the couenant.

6 Then the Lorde said vnto me, Cry all these words in the cities of Iudah, and in the streetes of Ierusalem, saying, Heare yee the words of this couenant, and doe them.

7 For I haue protested vnto your fathers, whe
I brought them vpout of the land of Egypt vnto this day, e rising early and protesting, saying, O bey my voyce.

e Reade Chap. 7. 13.

8 Neuertheless they would not obey, nor en-cline their eare: but euery one walked in the stubbernesse of his wicked d heart: therefore I will bring vpon them all the f wordes of this counant, which I commanded them to doe, but they did it not.

d According to his owne fantasie, and not as my worde appointed him.

f Meaning, the curses and curse conteined in the Lawe, Leuit. 26. deut. 28.

9 And the Lorde sayde vnto me, A f conspi-racie is founde among the men of Iudah, and among the inhabitants of Ierusalem.

f That is, a generall consent to rebell against me.

10 They are turned backe to the iniquities of their forefathers, which refused to heare my wordes: and they went after other gods to serue them: thus the house of Israel, & the house of Iudah haue broken my couenant, which I made with their fathers.

11 Therefore thus saith the Lord, Beholde, I will bring a plague vpon them, which they shall not be able to escape, and though they crie vnto me, g I will not heare them.

g Because they will not pray with true faith and repentance, but for the smart & griefe, which they feele, Prou. 1. 28.

12 Then shall the cities of Iudah, and the inhabitants of Ierusalem goe, and crie vnto the gods vnto whome they offer incense, but they shal not be able to help them in the time of their trouble.

13 h For according to the number of thy cities were thy gods, O Iudah, and according to the number of the streetes of Ierusalem haue yee set vp altars of confusion, euen altars to burne incense vnto Baal.

h Reade Chap. 2. 28.

14 Therefore thou shalt not i pray for this people, neither lift vp a crye, or prayer for them: for when they crye vnto me in their trouble, I will not heare them.

i Reade Chap. 7. 16. and 14. 11.

15 What shoulde my k beloued tarie in mine house, seeing they haue committed abomination with many? and the holy flesh l goeth away from thee: yet when thou doest euill, thou reioycest.

k My people of Israel whome I haue hitherto so greatly loued.

l Meaning, that they offer not in the Temple to God, but vpon the altars of Baal and the idoles, and so reiected in their wickednes.

16 The Lorde called thy name, A greene olive tree, faire, and of goodly fruite, but with m noyse and great tumult he hath set fire vpon it, and the branches of it are broken.

m Of the Babilonians and Caldeans.

17 For the Lorde of hostes that planted thee, hath pronounced a plague against thee, for the wickednes of the house of Israel, and of the house of Iudah, which they haue done against themselues to prouoke me to anger in offring incense vnto Baal.

18 And the Lorde hath taught mee, and I knowe it, euen then thou shewedst mee n their practises.

n Which went about priuily to compasse my death.

19 But I was like a lambe, or a bullocke, that is brought to the slaughter, and I knewe not that they had deuised thus against mee, saying, Let vs o destroy the tree with the fruite thereof, and cut him out of the lande of the liuing, that his name may be no more in memorie.

o Let vs destroy the Prophet and his doctrine. Some reade, let vs corrupt his meat with wood, meaning, poyson.

20 But O Lorde of hostes, that iudgest righteously, and wiest the reines & the heart, let me see thy p vengeance on them: for vnto thee haue I opened my cause.

p Thus he speaketh not for hatred, but being moued with the Spirit of God, he desireth the aduancement of Gods glory and the verifying of his worde, which is by the destruction of his enemies.

21 The Lorde therefore speaketh thus of the men of q Anathoth, (that seeke his life, and say, r Prophesie not in the name of the Lord, that thou die not by our handes)

q To wit both the Priests and the rest of the people: for this towne was the Priestes, and r Thus they could not abide to heare God named: (for herein they woulde shewe themselues most holy) but because they could not abide to be sharply reproued, and therefore desired to bee sincerely taught, Esa. 30. 10. and to be maintained in their pleasures, Mich. 2. 11. and not to heare vice condemned, Amos 7. 12.

22 Thus therefore saith the Lorde of hostes, Beholde, I will visite them: the young men shall die by the sword: their sonnes & their daughters shall die by famine.

23 And none of them shall remaine: for I will bring a plague vpon the men of Anathoth, euen the yeere of their visitation.

CHAP. XII.

1 The Prophet murmureth at the prosperitie of the wicked, although he confesse God to be righteous. 7 The Iewes are forsaken of the Lorde. 10 He speaketh against pastors and preachers, that seduce the people. 14 The Lorde threatneth destruction vnto the nations that troubled Iudah.

O Lorde, if I dispute with thee, thou art a righteous: yet let mee talke with thee of thy iudgements: wherefore doeth the way of the wicked b prosper? why are all they in wealth that rebelliously transgresse?

a The Prophet confesseth God to be iust in all his doings, although man be not able to giue reason of all his acts.

b This question hath bene alway a great tentation to the godly, to see the wicked enemies of God in prosperitie, and his deare children in aduersitie, as Iob 21. 7. psalm. 37. 1 and 73. 3. Habac. 1. 2.

2 Thou hast planted them, and they haue taken roote: they grow, and bring forth fruite: thou art neere in their mouth, and farre from their c reines.

c They professe God in mouth but deuye him in heart, which is here meant by the reines, Esa. 29. 13. matth 15. 8.

3 But thou, Lord, knowest me: thou hast seen me, and tried mine heart towarde thee: pull them out like sheepe for the slaughter, and d prepare them for the day of slaughter.

d The Ebrewe word is, sanctifie them, meaning, that God woulde be sanctified in the destruction of the wicked, to whom God for a while giueth prosperitie, that afterwarde they should the more feele his heauie iudgements when they lacke their riches, which were a signe of his mercy.

4 How long shall the lande mourne, and the herbes of euery fielde wither, for the wickednes of them that dwell therein? the beastes are consumed and the birdes, because they sayd, e He will not see our last ende.

e Abusing Gods lenitie & his promises, they flattered themselues as though God would euer be merciful, and not vtterly destroy them: therefore they hardened themselues in sinne, till at length the beastes and insensible creatures felt the punishment of their stubburne rebellion against God.

5 If thou hast runne with the f footemen, and they haue wearied thee, then howe canst thou match thy selfe with horses? and if thou thought-est thy selfe safe in a peaceable lande, what wilt thou doe in the swelling of Iorden?

f Some thinke that GOD reproueth Ieremiah in this, that he would reason with him, saying, that if he were not able to matche with men, that he were farre vnable to dispute with God. Others, by the foote men, meane them of Anathoth, and by the horsemen them of Ierusalem, which should trouble the Prophet worse then his owne countrey men did.

6 For euen thy brethren, and the house of thy father, euen they haue dealt vnfaithfully with thee, and they haue cryed out altogether vpon thee: but beleeue them not, though they speake faire to thee.

7 I haue forsaken g mine house: I haue left mine heritage: I haue giuen the dearely beloued of my soule into the hands of her enemies.

g God willeth the Prophet to denounce his iudgements against Ierusalem, notwithstanding that they had both by threatning and flatteries labour to put him to silence.

8 Mine heritage is vnto mee, as a h lion in the forest: it crieth out against mee, therefore haue I hated it.

h Hauing Gods lenitie & his promises, they flattered themselues as though God would euer be merciful, and not vtterly destroy them: therefore they hardened themselues in sinne, till at length the beastes and insensible creatures felt the punishment of their stubburne rebellion against God.

10 Many pastors haue destroyed my k vineyarde, and troden my portion vnder foote: of my pleasant portion they haue made a desolate wildernesse.

11 They haue layde it waste, and it, being waste, mourneth vnto me: and the whole lande lyeth waste, because no man letteth it minde on l it.

12 The destroyers are come vpon all the high places in the wildernesse: for the sworde of the Lord shal deuoure from the one ende of the land, euen to the other ende of the land: no flesh shall haue peace.

13 m They haue sowen wheate, and reaped thornes: they were n sicke, and had no profite: and they were ashamed of o your fruites, because of the fierce wrath of the Lord.

14 Thus saith the Lorde against all mine euill p neighbours, that touch the inheritance, which I haue caused my people Israel to inherite, Beholde, I will plucke them out of their lande, and plucke out the house of Iudah from among them.

15 And after that I haue plucked them out, I q will returne, and haue compassion on them, and will bring againe euery man to his heritage, and euery man to his land.

16 And if they will learne the r wayes of my people, to sweare by my Name, (The Lorde liueth, as they taught my people to sweare by Baal) then shal they be built s in the middes of my people.

17 But if they will not obey, then will I vtterly pulcke vp, and destroy that nation, saieth the Lord.

18 Say vnto the t King and to the Queene, Humble your selues, sit downe, for the crowne of your glory shall come downe from your heads.

19 The cities of u the South shall bee shut vp, and no man shall open them: all Iudah shall bee caried away captiue: it shall be wholy caried away captiue.

20 Lift vp your eies and beholde them that come fro the North: where is the x flocke that was giuen thee, euen thy beautifull flocke?

21 What wilt thou saye, when hee shall visite thee? (for thou hast y taught them to be captaines and as chiefe ouer thee) shall not sorow take thee as a woman in trauaile?

22 And if thou say in thine heart, Wherefore come these things vpon me? For the multitude of thine iniquities are thy skirts z discouered and thy heeles made bare.

23 Can the blacke Moore change his skin, or the leopard his spots? then may ye also doe good, that are accustomed to doe euill.

24 Therefore will I scatter them, as the stubble that is taken away with the South winde.

25 This is thy portion, and a part of thy measures from me, saith the Lorde, because thou hast forgotten me and trusted in lies.

26 Therefore I haue also discouered thy skirts vpon thy face, b that thy shame may appeare.

27 I haue seene thine adulteries, and thy c neyings, the filthinesse of thy whoredome on the hils in

CHAP. XIII.

The destruction of the Iewes is prefigured. 11 Why Israel was receiued to be the people of God, and why they were forsaken. 13 He exhorteth them to repentance.

THus saith the Lorde vnto mee, Goe, and buy thee a linnen girdle, & put it vpon thy loines, and put it not in water.

2 So I bought the girdle according to the commandement of the Lord, and put it vpon my loynes.

3 And the word of the Lorde came vnto mee the second time, saying,

4 Take the girdle that thou hast bought, which is vpon thy loynes, and arise, goe toward a Perath, and hide it there in the cleft of the rocke.

5 So I went, and hid it by Perath, as the Lorde had commanded me.

6 And after many dayes, the Lorde sayde vnto mee, Arise, goe towarde Perath, and take the girdle from thence, which I commanded thee to hide there.

7 Then went I to Perath, and digged, & tooke the girdle from the place where I had hid it, and behold, the girdle was corrupt, and was profitable for nothing.

8 Then the word of the Lorde came vnto me, saying,

9 Thus saith the Lord, After this maner will I b Euery one of you shall be filled with spirituall drunkennes, and be without all knowledge to seeke how to helpe your selues.

c It shall be impossible for me to destroy the greatest and the strongest, as it is for a man to breake earthen bottels.

d That is affliction and misery by the Babylonians, Iere. 22.

e Meaning for helpe and support of the Egyptians.

f You shal surely be led away captiue, and I, according to mine affection toward you, shall weepe and lament for your stubbernesse.

g For Ieboiakim and his mother rendred themselues by Ieremiahs counsell to the king of Babylon, 2. King. 24. 12.

h That is, of Iudah, which lieth Southward from Babylon.

i He asketh the King, where his people is become.

k By seeking to strangers for helpe thou hast made them skilfull to fight against thee.

l Thy cloke of hypocrisie shall be pulled off, and thy shame seene.

m As thine iniquities haue bene manifested to all the world: so shal thy shame and punishment.

n He compareth idolaters to horles inflamed after mares.

o There is no place so hie nor low, whereas the markes & signes of their idolatrie appeare not.

CHAP. XIIII.

Of the dearth that should come, 7 The prayer of the people acknowledging the sinnes of the Lande. 10 The vnfaithfull people are not heard. 11 Of prayer, fasting, and of false prophets that seduce the people.

THe worde of the Lord that came vnto Ieremiah, concerning the a ‖ dearth.

a Which came for lacke of raine, as verse 4. Prouisions.

2 Iudah hath mourned, & the gates thereof are desolate, they haue bene b brought to heauines vnto the ground, & the cry of Ierusalem goeth vp.

b The word signifieth to be made blacke, & so is here taken for extreme sorow.

3 And their nobles haue sent their inferiours to the water, who came to the welles, and founde no water: they returned with their vessels emptie: they were ashamed and confounded, and c couered their heads.

c To wit, with ashes in token of sorow.

4 For the grounde was destroyed, because there was no rayne in the earth: the plowmen were ashamed, and couered their heads.

5 Yea, the hinde also calued in the fielde, and forsooke d it, because there was no grasse.

d Meaning, that the brute beasts for drought were compelled to forsake their yong, contrary to nature, & to go seeke water, which they could not find.

6 And the wilde asses did stande in the high places, & drew in their winde like e dragons: their eyes did faile, because there was no grasse.

e Which are so hote of nature, that they cannot be cooled with drinking of water, but still gape for the aire to refresh them.

7 f O Lorde, though our iniquities testifie against vs, deale with vs according to thy Name: for our rebellions are many, we sinned against thee.

f He sheweth the only way to remedie Gods plagues, which is by vnfained confession of our sinnes, & returning to him by repentance.

8 O thou hope of Israel, the sauiour thereof in the time of trouble, why art thou as g a sträger in y land, as one that passeth by to tary for a night?

g That taketh no care of it.

9 Why art thou as a man astonied, and as h a strong man that cannot helpe? yet thou, O Lord, art in the middes of vs, and thy Name is called vpon vs: forsake vs not.

h As one that hath strength to helpe, and yet is afraide to put to his hand.

10 Thus sayth the Lord vnto his people, Thus haue they delited to wander: they haue not refrained their feete, therefore the Lorde hath no delight in them: but he will now remember their iniquitie, and visite their sinnes.

i Reade Chap. 7. 16. & 11. 14.

11 Then sayd the Lord vnto me, i Thou shalt not pray to doe this people good.

12 When they fast, I will not heare their cry, and when they offer burnt offering, and an oblation, I will not accept them: but I will consume them by the sworde, and by the famine and by the pestilence.

k He pitieth the people, & accuseth the false prophets, which deceiued them: but the Lord answered, that both the prophets, which deceiued, & the people, which suffered themselues to be seduced, shall perish, Chap. 23. 15. & 27. 8. & 29. 8.

13 Then answered I, Ah Lorde God, beholde, the k prophets say vnto them, Ye shall not see the sworde, neither shall famine come vpon you, but I will giue you assured peace in this place.

l Chap. 23. 21. and 29. 19, 23. & 29. 9.

14 Then the Lord said vnto me, The prophets prophecie lyes in my Name: * I haue not sent them, neither did I command them, neither spake I vnto them, but they propheçie vnto you a false vision, and diuination, and vanitie, and deceitfulnesse of their owne heart.

15 Therefore thus sayth the Lord, Concerning the prophets that prophecie in my Name, whom I haue not sent, yet they say, Sworde and famine shall not be in this land, by sword and famine shall those prophets be consumed.

16 And the people to whome these prophets doe propheçie, shall be cast out in the streetes of Ierusalem, because of the famine, & the sword, and there shall be none to bury them, both they, and their wiues, and their sonnes, and their daughters: for I will powre their wickednes vpon them.

17 Therefore thou shalt say this worde vnto them, Let mine eyes drop downe l teares night & day without ceasing: for the virgine daughter of my people is destroyed with a great destruction, and with a sore grieuous plague.

l The false prophets promised peace, & assurance, but Ieremiah calleth to teares, and repentance for their affliction, which is a hard, as Chap. 9. 1. Lamen. 1. 16 and 2. 18.

18 For if I go into the field, behold, the slaine with the sworde: and if I enter into the citie, behold them that are sicke for hunger also: moreouer the Prophet also & the Priest goe a wandring m into a land that they know not.

m Both hie and lowe shalbe led captiues into Babylon.

19 Hast thou vtterly reiected n Iudah, or hath thy soule abhorred Zion? why hast thou smitten vs, that we cannot be healed? o We looked for peace, and there is no good, and for the time of health, and behold trouble.

n Though the Prophet knewe that God had cast off the multitude, which were hypocrites, and bastarde children, yet hee was assured that for his promes sake he would haue stil a Church, for the which he praieth.

20 We o acknowledge, O Lorde, our wickednesse and the iniquitie of our fathers: for we haue sinned against thee.

o He teacheth the Church a forme of prayer to humble themselues to God by true repentance, which is the only meane to auoyd this famine, which was the beginning of Gods plagues.

21 Doe not abhorre vs: for thy Names sake cast not downe the throne of thy glory: remember and breake not thy couenant with vs.

22 Are there any among the p vanities of the Gentiles, that can giue raine? or can the heauens giue showres? is it not thou, O Lorde our God? therefore we will waite vpon thee: for thou hast made all these things.

p Meaning, their idoles, read Chap. 10. 15.

CHAP. XV.

1 The Lord would heare no prayer for the Iewes, 3 But threatneth to destroy them with foure plagues.

THen sayd the Lord vnto me, a Though Moses and Samuel stoode before mee, yet mine affection could not be towarde this people: cast them out of my sight, and let them depart.

a Meaning, that if there were any man liuing moued with so great zeale toward the people, as were these two, yet that he would not grant this request, forasmuch as he had determined the contrary, Ezek. 14. 14. *Zech 11. 9.

2 And if they say vnto thee, Whither shal we depart? then tell them, Thus saith the Lord, *Such as are appointed to death, vnto death: and such as are for the sworde, to the sworde: and such as are for the famine, to the famine: and such as are for the captiuitie, to the captiuitie.

b The dogges, birdes and beastes should deuoure them that were slaine.

3 And I wil appoint ouer the c foure kinds, sayth the Lord, the sword to slay, and the b dogs to teare in pieces, and the foules of the heauen, and the beastes of the earth to deuoure, and to destroy.

c The word signifieth to ruine to & fro for feare & vnquietnesse of conscience, as did Kain.

4 I will c scatter them also in all kingdomes of the earth, d because of Manasseh the sonne of Hezekiah King of Iudah, for that which he did in Ierusalem.

d Not that the people was punished for the Kings sinne onely, but for their owne sinne also, because they consented to his wickednes, 2. Kin. 21. 9.

5 Who shal then haue pitie vpon thee, O Ierusalem? or who shal be sorie for thee? or who shal goe to pray for thy peace?

e That is, I will not call backe my plagues, or spare thee any more.

6 Thou hast forsaken me, sayth the Lord, and gone backward: therefore wil I stretch out mine hand against thee, and destroy thee: for I e am weary with repenting.

f Meaning, the cities.

7 And I will scatter them with the fanne f in the gates of the earth: I haue wasted, and destroyed my people yet they would not returne from their wayes.

g Because I had slaine their husbands.

8 Their widowes are g increased by mee aboue the sand of the sea: I haue brought vpon them, and against the ‖ assembly of the yong men a destroyer at noone day: I haue caused him to fall vpon them, and the citie suddenly, and ‖ speedily.

Or, mother.

Or, flourishing.

h She that had many, lost all her children.

9 Shee that hath borne h seuen, hath bene made weake: her heart hath failed, the sunne hath failed i her, whiles it was day: she hath bene confounded, and ashamed, and the residue of them i She was destroyed in the midst of her prosperitie.

k These are the prophets words, complaining of the obstinacie of the people, & that he was reserued to so wicked a time: wherein also he sheweth what is the condition of Gods ministers, to wit, to haue all the world against them, though they giue none occasion.

l Which is an occasion of contention and hatred.

m In this perplexitie the Lord comforted me, and said that my last daies should be quiet: and by the enemie he meaneth here, Nebuzardan the chiefe captaine of Nebuchad-nezzar, who gaue Ieremiah the choise either to remaine in his countrey, or to goe whither he would: or by the enemy he meaneth the Iewes, which should afterward know Ieremiahs fidelitie, and therefore fauour him.

n As for the people, though they seemed strong as yron, yet should they not be able to resist the hard yron of Babylon, but should be led captiues.

‖ Or, ransome.

o He speaketh not this for desire of reuengeance, but wishing that God would deliuer his Church of them whom he knew to be hardened, and incorrigible.

p I received them with as great ioy as he, that is affamished, eateth meate.

q I had nothing a doe with the wicked contemners of thy word, but lamented bitterly for thy plagues: shewing what the faithful should do when they see tokens of Gods anger.

r And hast not assisted me according to thy promise? wherein appeareth, that in the Saints of God is imperfection of faith, which through impatiencie is oft times assailed, as Chap. 20. 7.

s If thou forget these carnall considerations & faithfully execute thy charge.

t That is, seeke to winne the good from the bad.

u To wit, as my mouth hath pronounced, Chap. 1. 18. & as here followeth, ver. 20.

x Conforme not thy selfe to their wickednes, but let them followe thy godly example.

y I will arme thee with an inuincible strength & constancie, so that al the powers of the world shal not ouercome thee.

will I deliuer vnto the sword before their enemies, saith the Lord.

10 ¶ Woe is me, my mother, that thou hast borne me, a contentious man, and a man that striueth with the whole earth: I haue neither lent on vsurie, nor men haue lent vnto me on vsurie: yet euery one doeth curse me.

11 The Lord said, in Surely thy remnant shall haue wealth: surely I will cause thine enemie to intreate thee in the time of trouble, & in the time of affliction.

12 Shall the n yron breake the yron, and the brasse that commeth from the North?

13 Thy substance and thy treasures wil I giue to be spoyled without ‖ gaine, and that for all thy sinnes euen in all thy borders.

14 And I wil make thee to go with thine enemies into a land that thou knowest not: for a fire is kindled in mine anger, which shall burne you.

15 O Lord, thou knowest, remember me, and visite me, & reuenge me of my o persecuters: take me not away in the continuance of thine anger: know that for thy sake I haue suffered rebuke.

16 Thy wordes were founde by me, and I did p eate them, and thy worde was vnto me the ioy and reioycing of mine heart: for thy Name is called vpon me, O Lord God of hosts.

17 I sate not in the assembly of the mockers, neither did I reioyee, but sate alone q because of thy plague: for thou hast filled me w indignation.

18 Why is mine heauines continuall ? and my plague desperate and cannot bee healed ? wilt art thou vnto me r as a liar, and as waters that faile?

19 Therefore thus saith the Lord, If thou s returne, then wil I bring thee againe, and thou shalt stand before me: and if thou take away the t precious from the vile, thou shalt be u according to my worde: let them returne x vnto thee, but returne not thou vnto them.

23 And I will make thee vnto this people a strong brasen wall, & they shal fight against thee, but they shal not y preuaile against thee: for I am w thee to saue thee & to deliuer thee, saith y Lord.

21 And I will deliuer thee out of the hand of the wicked, and I will redeeme thee out of the hand of the tyrants.

CHAP. XVI.

2 The Lord forbidding Ieremiah to marrie, sheweth him what should be the afflictions vpon Iudah. 13 The captiuity of Babylon. 15 Their deliuerance. 19 The calling of the Gentiles.

THe worde of the Lorde came also vnto mee, saying,

2 Thou shalt not take a thee a wife, nor haue sonnes nor daughters in this place.

3 For thus saith the Lorde concerning the sonnes, and concerning the daughters that are borne in this place, and concerning their mothers that beare them, and concerning their fathers that beget them in this land,

4 They shall die of deathes and diseases: they shal not be lamented, neither shal they be buried, but they shalbe as dung vpon the earth, and they shalbe consumed by the sword, and by famine, and their carkeises shall be meate for the foules of the heauen, and for the beasts of the earth.

5 For thus saith the Lord, b Enter not into the house of mourning, neither goe to lament, nor bee moued for thē: for I haue taken my peace frō this people, saith the Lord, euen mercy & compassion.

6 Both the great, and the smal shall die in this land: they shall not be buried, neyther shall men lament for them c nor cut themselues, nor make themselues bald for them.

7 They shal not stretch out the hands for thē in the mourning to comfort them for the dead, neither shal they giue them the d cup of consolation to drinke for their father or for their mother.

8 Thou shalt not also goe into the house of feasting to sit with them to eate and to drinke.

9 For thus sayth the Lord of hostes, the God of Israel, Beholde, I will cause to cease out of this place in your eyes, euen in your dayes the voyce of myrth, and the voice of gladnesse, the voice of the bridegrome and the voyce of the bride.

10 And when thou shalt shewe this people all these words, and they shal say vnto thee, *Wherefore hath the Lorde pronounced all this great plagues against vs ? or what is e our iniquitie ? and what is our sinne that we haue committed against the Lord our God?

11 Then shalt thou say vnto them, Because your fathers haue forsaken me, sayth the Lord, & haue walked after other gods, and haue serued them, and worshipped them, & haue forsaken me, and haue not kept my Law,

12 (*And ye haue done worse thē your fathers: for beholde, you walke euery one after the stubbernesse of his wicked heart, & wil not heare me)

13 Therefore will I driue you out of this land into a lande that ye knowe not, neither you, nor your fathers, & there shall ye serue other gods day and night: for I will shew you no grace.

14 *Behold therfore, saith the Lord, the dayes come that it shal no more be sayde, The Lord liueth, which brought vp the children of Israel out of the land of Egypt,

15 But the Lorde liueth, that brought vp the children of Israel f from the lande of the North, and from all the landes where hee had scattered them, and I wil bring them againe into their land that I gaue vnto their fathers.

16 Behold, saith the Lord, I will send out many g fishers, and they shall fish them, and after, will I send out many hunters, & they shall hunt them from euery mountaine and from euery hill, and out of the caues of the rockes.

17 For mine eies are vpon all their wayes: they are not hid from my face, neither is their iniquity hid from mine eies.

18 And first I will recompense their iniquitie and their sinne double, because they haue defiled my land, and haue filled mine inheritance with their filthie h carions and their abominations.

19 O Lord, thou art my i force, & my strength & my refuge in the day of affliction: the Gentiles shall come vnto thee from the ends of the world, & shal say, Surely our fathers haue inherited k lies, and vanitie, wherein was no profite.

20 Shall a man make gods vnto him selfe, and they are no gods?

21 Beholde,

z Meaning, that the affliction should be so horrible in Ierusalem, that wife and children should be but increase his sorow.

b Signifying that affliction should be so great, that one should not haue leisure to comfort another.

c That is, should not rent their clothes in signe of mourning.

d For in the great extremities all consolation and comfort shall be in vaine.

* Chap. 5. 19.

e Because the wicked are alwayes rebellious and dissemble their owne sinnes, and murmure against Gods iudgements as though hee had no iust cause to punish them, he sheweth him what to answere.

* Chap. 7. 26.

* Chap. 2. 27.

f Signifying the benefite of their deliuerance out of Babylon should be so great, that it should abolish y remembrance of their deliuerance from Egypt: but he hath here chiefly respect to the spirituall deliuerance vnder Christ.

g By the fishers & hunters are meant the Babylonians & Caldeans, who should destroy the in such sort, that if they escaped the one, the other should take them.

h That is, their sonnes and daughters, which they offered to Molech.

i He wondreth at the great mercy of God in this deliuerance, which shall not only extend to the Iewes, but also to the Gentiles.

k Our fathers were most vile idolaters: therfore it commeth onely of Gods mercie, that he performeth his promise, and hath not vtterly cast vs off.

21 Beholde, therefore I will this once i teach them: I will shewe them mine hande and my power, and they shall knowe that my Name is the Lord.

i They shal once againe feele my power, and mercy for their deliverance, that they may learne to worship me.

CHAP. XVII.

1 The frowardnesse of the Iewes. 5 Cursed bee those that put their confidence in man. 9 Mans heart is wicked. 10 God is the searcher of the heart. 13 The liuing waters are forsaken. 21 The right keeping of the Sabbath commanded.

THe sinne of Iudah is a written with a pen of yron, and with the poynt of a dyamonde, and grauen vpon the b table of their heart, and vpon the hornes of your c altars.

2 d They remember their altars as their children, with their groues by the greene trees vpon the hilles.

3 e O my mountaine in the fielde, I will giue thy substance, and all thy treasures to be spoyled, for the sinne of thy hie places throughout all thy borders.

4 And thou shalt rest, f and in thee shall bee rest from thine heritage that I gaue thee, and I will cause thee to serue thine enemies in the land, which thou knowest not: for yee haue kindled a fire in mine anger, which shall burne for euer.

5 ¶ Thus saith the Lord, g Cursed be the man that trusteth in man, and maketh flesh his arme, and withdraweth his heart from the Lord.

6 For he shall be like the heath in the wildernesse, and shal not see when any good commeth, but shall inhabite the parched places in the wildernesse, in a salt land, and not inhabited.

7 Blessed be the man that trusteth in the Lord, and whose hope the Lord is.

8 h For he shall be as a tree that is planted by the water, which spreadeth out her rootes by the riuer, and shall not feele when the heate commeth, but her leafe shall bee greene, and shall not care for the yeere of drought, neither shall cease from yeelding fruite.

9 i The heart is deceitfull and wicked aboue all things, who can knowe it?

10 I the Lord search the heart, and try k reines, euen to giue euery man according to his wayes, and according to the fruite of his workes.

11 k As the Partriche gathereth the young, which she hath not brought forth: so he that getteth riches, and not by right, shall leaue them in the middes of his dayes, and at his ende shall bee a foole.

12 As a glorious throne l exalted frō the beginning, so is the place of our Sanctuarie.

13 O Lorde, the hope of Israel, all that forsake thee, shall be confounded: they that depart from thee, shalbe written m in the earth, because they haue forsaken the Lord, the fountaine of liuing waters.

14 Heale me, O Lorde, and I shall bee whole: n saue me and I shall bee saued: for thou, art my prayse.

a The remembrance of their contempt of God cannot passe, albeit for a time he defer the punishment, for it shall be manifest to men and Angels.

b In stead of the Law of God, they haue written idolatries and all abominations in their heart.

c Your sinnes appeare in all the altars that you haue erected to idoles.

d Some read, So that their children remember their altars, that is, follow their fathers wickednesse.

e Thou that was my mountaine shall now be left as a waste field.

f Because thou wouldest not giue the land rest at such times, dayes, and yeeres as I appointed, thou shalt hereafter be caried away, and it shall rest for lacke of labourers.

g The Iewes were giuen to worldly policies, & thoght to make themselues strong by the friendship of the Egyptians, Ie. 31.2 and strangers, and in the meane season did not depend on God, and therefore he denounceth Gods plagues against them, shewing that they preferre corruptible man to God, which is immortall. k As the Partriche by calling gathereth others, which forsake her, when they see that shee is not their dammet, so the couetous man is forsaken of his riches because he commeth by them falsely.

m Their names shall not be registred in the booke of life.

n He desireth God to protect him, that he fall not, and to confirm him considering the great contempt of Gods worde, and the malice

15 Beholde, o they say vnto me, Where is the word of the Lord? let it come nowe.

16 But p I haue not thrust in my selfe for a pastour after thee, neither haue I desired the day of miserie, thou knowest: that which came out of my lips, was right before thee.

17 Be not q terrible vnto mee: thou art mine hope in the day of aduersitie.

18 Let them bee confounded, that persecute me, but let not me be confounded: let them be afraid, but let not me be afraide: bring vpon them the day of aduersitie, r and destroy them with double destruction.

19 Thus hath the Lord said vnto me, Goe and stande in the s gate of the children of the people, whereby the Kings of Iudah come in, and by the which they goe out, & in all t gates of Ierusalem, 20 And say vnto them, Heare the word of the Lord, ye Kings of Iudah, and all Iudah, and all the inhabitants of Ierusalem, that enter in by the gates.

21 Thus sayth the Lord, Take heede to your soules, and beare no burden in the u Sabbath day, nor bring it in by the gates of Ierusalem.

22 Neither cary foorth burdens out of your houses in the Sabbath day: neither doe yee any worke, but sanctifie the Sabbath, as I commanded your fathers.

23 But they obeyed not, neither inclined their eares, but made their neckes stiffe and would not heare, nor receiue correction.

24 Neuertheles if ye will heare me, sayth the Lorde, and beare no burden through the gates of the citie in the Sabbath day, but sanctifie the Sabbath day, so that ye doe no worke therein,

25 Then shall the Kings and the Princes enter in at the gates of this citie, and shall sit x vpon the throne of Dauid, and shall ride vpon charets, and vpon horses, both they and their princes, the men of Iudah, and the inhabitants of Ierusalem: and this citie shall remaine for euer.

26 And they shall come from the cities of Iudah, and from about Ierusalem, and from the land of Beniamin, and from the plaine, and from the mountaines, and from y South, which shall bring burnt offerings, and sacrifices, and meate offrings, and incense, and shall bring sacrifice of praise into the house of the Lord.

27 But if you wil not heare me to sanctifie the Sabbath day, and not to beare a burden nor to go throught the gates of Ierusalem in the Sabbath day, then will I kindle a fire in the gates thereof, and it shall deuoure the palaces of Ierusalem, and it shall not be quenched.

o The wicked say that my prophecie shal not come to passe because thou deferrest the time of thy vengeance.

p I am assured of my vocation, and therefore knowe that the thing which thou speakest by me, shall come to passe, and that I speake not of any worldly affection.

q How soeuer the wicked deale tirannously with me, yet let me finde comfort in thee.

CHAP. XVIII.

1 God sheweth by the example of a potter, that it is in his power to destroy the despisers of his worde. 18 The conspiracie of the Iewes against Ieremiah. 19 His prayer against his aduersaries.

THe worde which came to Ieremiah from the Lorde, saying,

2 Arise, and goe downe into the potters house, and there shall I shewe thee my wordes.

3 Then I went downe to the potters house, & beholde, he wrought a worke on the wheeles.

4 And the vessell that he made of a clay, was broken in the hand of the potter. so hee returned, and made it another vessel, as seemed good to the potter to make it.

5 Then the word of the Lorde came vnto me, saying, a As the potter hath power ouer the clay to make of it what pot he will, or to breake them, when he hath made them: so haue I power ouer you to doo with you as seemeth good vnto me. Ie. 45.9. Rom. 9.20. 21.

6 O house of Israel, cannot I doe with you as this potter, saith the Lord? beholde, as the clay is in the potters hande, so are you in mine hande, O house of Israel.

7 I will speake suddenly against a nation, or against a kingdome to plucke it vp, and to roote it out and to destroy it.

8 But if the nation, against whom I haue pronounced, turne from their wickednesse, I wil b repent of the plague that I thought to bring vpon them.

9 And I wil speake suddenly concerning a nation, and concerning a kingdome to builde it and to plant it.

10 But if it doe euil in my sight and heare not my voyce, I will repent of the good ỹ I thought to doe for them.

11 Speake thou nowe therefore vnto the men of Iudah, and to the inhabitants of Ierusalem, saying, Thus saith ỹ Lord, beholde, I prepare a plague for you, and purpose a thing against you: returne you therefore euery one from his euill way, and make your wayes and your workes good.

12 But they sayde c desperately, Surely wee will walke after our owne imaginations, and doe euery man after ỹ stubburnes of his wicked heart.

13 Therefore thus saith the Lord, Aske now among the heathen, who hath heard such thinges? the virgin of Israel hath done very filthily.

14 Wil a man forsake the snowe of Lebanon, which commeth from the rocke of the fielde? d or shall the colde flowing waters, that come from another place, be forsaken?

15 Because my people hath forgotten me, and haue burnt incense to vanitie, and their Prophets haue caused them to stumble in their wayes from the e ancient wayes, to walke in the paths and way that is not troden,

16 To make their land desolate and a perpetuall derision, so that euery one that passeth thereby, shalbe astonished and wagge his head,

17 I will scatter them with an East winde before the enemie: I wil shewe them the backe, and f not the face in the day of their destruction.

18 Then sayde they, Come, and let vs imagine some deuise against Ieremiah: for the Lawe g shal not perish from the Priest, nor counsell from the wise, nor the worde from the Prophet: come, and let vs smite him with the h tongue, and let vs not giue heede to any of his words.

19 Hearken vnto mee, O Lorde, and heare the voyce of them that contend with me.

20 Shall euill bee recompensed for goods? for they haue digged a pit for my soule: remember that I stood before thee, to speake good for them and to turne away thy wrath from them.

21 Therefore, i deliuer vp their children to famine, and let them drop away by the force of the sworde, and let their wiues be robbed of their children, and be widowes: and let their husbands be put to death, and let their yong men be slaine by the sword in the battel.

22 Let the cry bee heard from their houses, when thou shalt bring an hoste suddenly vpon them: for they haue digged a pit to take me, and hid snares for my feete.

23 Yet Lord thou knowest all their counsel against me tendeth to death: forgiue not their iniquitie, neither put out their sinne from thy sight, but let them bee ouerthrowen before thee; deale thus with them in the time of thine anger.

CHAP. XIX.

Hee prophecieth the destruction of Ierusalem for the contempt and despising of the word of God.

THus sayd the Lorde, Goe, and buy an earthen bottel of a potter, and take of the ancients of the people, and of the ancients of the Priestes,

2 And goe foorth vnto the valley of Ben-hinnom, which is by the entrie of the [a]East gate: and thou shalt preache there the wordes, that I shall tell thee,

3 And shalt say, Heare yee the worde of the Lorde, O a Kings of Iudah, and inhabitantes of Ierusalem, Thus sayth the Lorde of hostes, the God of Israel, Behold, I will bring a plague vpon this place, ỹ which whosoeuer heareth, this eares shall b tingle.

4 Because they haue forsake me, & prophaned this place, & haue burnt incense in it vnto other gods, whome neither they, nor their fathers haue knowen, nor the Kings of Iudah (they haue filled this place also with the blood of innocents,

5 And they haue built the hie places of Baal, to burne their sonnes with fire for burnt offrings vnto Baal, which Ic commanded not, not spake it, neither came it into my minde)

6 Therefore behold, the dayes come, sayth the Lord, that this place shal no more be called d Topheth, nor the valley of Ben-hinnom, but the valley of slaughter.

7 And I will bring the counsell of Iudah and Ierusalem to nought in this place, and I will cause them to fal by the sworde before their enemies, & by the hande of them that seeke their liues: and their carkeises wil I giue to be meate for ỹ fowles of the heauen, and to the beastes of the fielde.

8 * And I will make this citie desolate and an hissing, so that euery one that passeth thereby, shalbe astonished & hisse because of all ỹ plagues thereof.

9 *And I will feede them ỽ the flesh of their sonnes and with the flesh of their daughters, and euery one shall eate the flesh of his friende in the siege and straitnes, wherewith their enemies that seeke their liues, shal holde them strait.

10 Then shalt thou breake the bottell in the sight of the men that goe with thee,

11 And shalt say vnto them, Thus saith ỹ Lord of hostes, Euen so will I breake this people and this citie, as one breaketh a e potters vessell, that cannot be made whole againe, and they shal bury them in Topheth till there be no place to bury.

12 Thus will I doe vnto this place, sayth the Lorde, and to the inhabitantes thereof, and I wil make this citie like Topheth.

13 For the houses of Ierusalem, and the houses of the Kings of Iudah shall be defiled as the place of Topheth, because of all the f houses vpo whose g roofes they haue burnt incense vnto all the hoste of heauen, and haue powred out drinke offrings vnto other gods.

14 Then came Ieremiah frõ Topheth, where the Lord had sent him to prophesie, and he stood in the court of the Lordes house, and sayde to all the people,

15 Thus

b When ỹ scripture attributeth repentance vnto God, it is not that he doeth contrary to that which he hath ordained in his secrete counsell: but when he threateneth, it is a calling to repentance, and when he giueth man grace to repent, the threatning (which euer conteineth a condition in it) taketh no place: and this the scripture calleth repentance in God because it so appeareth to mans iudgement.

c As men that had no remorse, but were altogether bent to rebellion, and to their owne selfe will.

d As no man that hath thirst, refuseth fresh conduit waters which he hath at home, to goe and seeke waters abroad to quench his thirst: so they ought not to seeke for helpe and succour at strangers & leaue God, which was present with them.

CHAP. XX.

2 Ieremiah is smitten and cast into prison for preaching of the worde of God. 3 He prophecieth the captiuitie of Babylon. 7 He complaineth that he is a mocking stocke for the worde of God. 8 He is compelled by the fire in his preach the worde.

WHen Pashur, the sonne of Immer, the priest, which was appointed gouernor in the house of the Lorde, heard that Ieremiah prophecied these things,

2 Then Pashur smote Ieremiah the Prophet, and put him in the a stockes that were in the hie gate of Beniamin which was by the House of the Lord.

3 And on the morning, Pashur brought Ieremiah out of the stockes. Then saide Ieremiah vnto him, The Lorde hath not called thy name Pashur, but ‖ Magor-missabib.

4 For thus saith the Lord, Behold, I wil make thee to be a terrour to thy self, & to all thy friends, and they shall fall by the sword of their enemies, and thine eyes shal beholde it, and I will giue all Iudah into the hand of the King of Babel, and he shal cary them captiue into Babel, and shall slay them with the sword.

5 Moreouer, I will deliuer all the substance of this citie, & all the labours therof, and all the precious thinges therof, and all the treasures of the Kings of Iudah will I giue into the hand of their enemies, which shall spoyle them, and take them away and cary them to Babel.

6 And thou Pashur, and all that dwel in thine house, shal go into captiuitie, & thou shalt come to Babel, and there thou shalt die, and shalt be buried there, thou and all thy b friendes, to whom thou hast propheciedst lyes.

7 O Lord, thou hast deceiued me, & I am deceiued: thou art stronger then I, & hast c preuayled: I am in derision daily: euery one mocketh me.

8 For since I spake, I cried out of wrong, and proclaimed d desolation: therfore the word of the Lord was made a reproch vnto me, and in derision daily.

9 Then I sayde, I will not make mention of him, nor speake any more in his Name. But his word was in mine heart as a burning fire shut vp in my bones, and I was weary with forbearing, and I could not stay.

10 For I had heard the rayling of many, and feare on euery side. Declare, said they, and we will declare it: all my familiars watched for mine halting, saying, It may be that he is deceiued, so we shall preuaile against him, and we shal execute our vengeance vpon him.

11 But the Lorde is with me like a mighty geant: therfore my persecuters shall be ouerthrowen, and shall not preuaile, and shall be greatly confounded: for they haue done vnwisely, and their euerlasting shame shal neuer be forgotten.

12 But, O Lorde of hostes, that tryest the righteous, and seest the reines and the heart, let me see thy vengeance on them: for vnto thee haue I opened my cause.

13 Sing vnto the Lord, praise ye the Lord: for he hath deliuered the soule of the poore from the hand of the wicked.

14 ¶ Cursed be the day wherein I was borne: and let not the day wherein my mother bare me be blessed.

15 Cursed be the man that shewed my father, saying, A man child is borne vnto thee, and comforted him.

16 And let that man be as the i cities, which the Lord hath ouerturned and repented not: and let him heare the crie in the morning, and the showting at noone tide,

17 Because he hath not slaine me, euen from the wombe, or that my mother might haue bene my graue, or her wombe a perpetual k conception.

18 How is it, that I came forth of the wombe, to see labour and sorowe, that my dayes shoulde be consumed with shame?

CHAP. XXI.

He prophecith that Zedekiah shall be taken, and the city burned.

THE worde which came vnto Ieremiah from the Lord, when king Zedekiah sent vnto him Pashur, the sonne of Malchiah, and Zephaniah, the sonne of Maasciah the Priest, saying,

2 a Inquire, I pray thee, of the Lorde for vs, (for Nebuchad-nezzar King of Babel maketh warre against vs) if so be that the Lord wil deale with vs according to all his wonderous workes, that he may returne vp from vs.

3 Then said Ieremiah, Thus shall you say to Zedekiah,

4 Thus saith the Lord God of Israel, Behold, I wil b turne back the weapons of warre that are in your hands, wherewith yee fight against the King of Babel, and against the Caldeans, which beliege you without the walles, and I will assemble them into the mids of this citie.

5 And I my selfe will fight against you with an outstretched hand, & with a mighty arme euen in anger and in wrath, and in great indignation.

6 And I will smite the inhabitants of this citie, both man and beast: they shall die of a great pestilence.

7 And after this, saith the Lord, I will deliuer Zedekiah the King of Iudah, & his seruants, and the people, and such as are left in this citie, from the pestilence, from the sworde & from y famine into the hand of Nebuchad-nezzar king of Babel, and into the hand of their enemies, and into the hand of those that seeke their liues, and hee shall smite them with the edge of the sword: he shall not spare them, neither haue pitie nor compassion.

8 ¶ And vnto this people thou shalt say, Thus saith the Lord, Behold, I set before you the c way of life, and the way of d death.

9 * He that abideth in this citie, shall die by the sworde and by the famine, and by the pestilence: but he that goeth out, and falleth to the Caldeans, that beliege you, he shall liue, and his life shall be vnto him for a prey.

10 For I haue set my face against this citie, for euill and not for good, saith the Lord: it shall be giuen into the hande of the King of Babel, and he shal burne it with fire.

11 ¶ And say vnto the house of the King of Iudah, Heare ye the word of the Lord,

12 O house of Dauid, thus saith the Lorde, e Execute iudgement in the morning, and deliuer the oppressed out of the hande of the oppressor,

CHAP. XXII.

2 He exhorteth the King to iudgement and righteousnesse. 9 Why Ierusalem is brought into captiuitie. 11 The death of Shallum the sonne of Iosiah is prophecied.

THus saide the Lord, Goe downe to the house of the King of Iudah, and speake there this thing,

2 And say, Heare the worde of the Lorde, O King of Iudah, that sittest vpon the throne of Dauid, thou and thy seruants, and thy people that enter in by these gates.

3 Thus saith the Lorde, * Execute yee iudgement and a righteousnesse, and deliuer the oppressed from the hande of the oppressor, and vexe not the stranger, the fatherles, nor b widow, doe no violence, nor shead innocent blood in this place.

4 For if ye doe this thing, then shall the kings sitting vpon the throne of Dauid enter in by the gates of this House, * and ride vpon chariots, and vpon horses, both he and his seruants and his people.

5 But if yee will not heare these wordes, I c sweare by my selfe, sayeth the Lorde, that this House shalbe waste.

6 For thus hath the Lorde spoken vpon the Kings house of Iudah, Thou art d Gilead vnto me, & the head of Lebanon, yet surely I wil make thee a wildernes and as cities not inhabited,

7 And I will e prepare destroyers against thee, euery one with his weapons, and they shall cut downe thy chiefe f cedar trees, and cast them in the fire.

8 g And many nations shall passe by this citie, and they shall say euery man to his neighbour, Wherefore hath the Lorde done thus vnto this great citie?

9 Then shall they answere, Because they haue forsaken the couenant of the Lorde their God, & worshipped other gods, and serued them.

10 ¶ Weepe not for the dead, & be not moued for them, but weepe for him h that goeth out: for he shall returne no more, nor see his natiue countrey.

11 For thus saith i Lord, As touching k Shallum the sonne of Iosiah King of Iudah, which reigned for Iosiah his father, which went out of this place, he shall not returne thither, 12 But he shall die in the place, whither they haue ledde him captiue, and shall see this lande no more.

13 ¶ Woe vnto him that buildeth his house l by vnrighteousnesse, and his chambers without equitie: he vseth his neighbour without wages, and giueth him not for his worke.

14 He saith, I will build me a wide house and large chambers: so hee will make him selfe large windowes, and seeling with cedar, and paint them with vermilion.

15 Shalt thou reigne, because thou closest thy selfe in cedar? did not thy m father eate and drinke and prosper, when he executed iudgement and iustice?

16 When he iudged the cause of the afflicted and the poore, he prospered: was not this because he knew me, saith the Lord?

17 But thine eyes and thine heart are but only for thy couetousnesse, and for to sheade innocent blood, and for oppression, and for destruction, euen to doe this.

18 Therefore thus sayth the Lord against Iehoiakim, the sonne of Iosiah king of Iudah, They shall not lament n him, saying, Ah, my brother, or ah, sister: neither shall they mourne for him, saying, Ah, lord, or ah, his glorie.

19 He shalbe buryed, as an asse o is buryed, euen drawen and cast foorth without the gates of Ierusalem.

20 ¶ Goe vp to p Lebanon, and cry: showte in q Bashan, and crye by the passages: for all thy louers are destroyed.

21 I spake vnto thee when thou wast in prosperitie: but thou saidest, I will not heare: this hath beene thy maner from thy youth, that thou wouldest not obey my voyce.

22 The wind shall feede all thy pastors, r and thy louers shall goe into captiuitie: and then shalt thou be ashamed and confounded of all thy wickednesse.

23 Thou that dwellest in Lebanon, and makest thy nest in the s cedars, how beautifull shalt thou be when sorowes come vpon thee, as the sorowe of a woman in trauaile?

24 As I liue, saith the Lord, though t Coniah the sonne of Iehoiakim King of Iudah, were the signet of my right hand, yet would I plucke thee thence.

25 And I will giue thee into the hande of them that seeke thy life, and into the hande of them, whose face thou fearest, euen into the hand of Nebuchad-nezzar king of Babel, and into the hand of the Caldeans.

26 And I will cause them to cary thee away, and thy mother that bare thee, into another country, where ye were not borne, and there shall ye die.

27 But to the lande, whereunto they desire to returne, they shall not returne thither.

28 Is not this man Coniah a despised and broken idole? or a vessell wherein is no pleasure? wherefore are they caryed away, hee and his seede, and cast out into a lande that they know not?

29 O earth, earth, earth, heare the worde of the Lorde.

30 Thus saith the Lorde, Write this u man destitute of children, a man that shall not prosper in his dayes: for there shall be no man of his seede that shall prosper and sit vpon the throne of Dauid, or beare rule any more in Iudah.

u He threatneth that know not their vp false prophets to bring the people from God.

x Let the false prophet declare that it is his owne fantasie, and not slander my word as though it were a cloke to couer his lies.

y Meaning that it is not sufficient for Gods ministers to abstaine from lies and to speake the word of God but that there be iudgement in alleaging it, and that it may appeare to be applied to the same purpose that it was spoken, Ezek 3.17. 1. Cor. 3.13 & 9.22. 2. Tim. 2.15. 1 Pet. 4.11, 11.

z Which set forth in my name that which I haue not commanded.

a To wit, the Lord.

b The Prophets called their threatnings Gods burden, which the sinners were not able to susteine: therefore the wicked in deriding the word, would aske of the Prophets, what was the burden? as though they would say, You seeke nothing els but to lay burdens on our shoulders: and thus they reiected the word of God as a grieuous burden.

c Because this word was brought to contempt and derision, I will teach them another maner of speech, and will cause this word Burden to cease, and teach them to make with reuerence, What saieth the Lord?

WOe vnto a the pastors that destroy and scatter b the sheepe of my pasture, saieth the Lord.

2 Therefore thus saieth the Lord God of Israel vnto the pastours that c feed my people, Ye haue scattred my flocke and thrust them out, and haue not visited them: beholde, I will visite you for the wickednes of your works, saieth the Lord.

3 And I will gather the d remnant of my sheepe out of all countries, whither I had driuen them, and wil bring them againe to their folde, and they shall growe and encrease.

11 For both the prophet and the Priest ‖ doe wickedly: and their wickednesse haue I found in mine i House, saieth the Lord.

12 Wherefore their way shalbe vnto them as slipperie wayes in the darkenesse: they shalbe driuen foorth and fall therein: for I will bring a plague vpon them, euen the yeere of their visitation, saieth the Lord.

13 And I haue seene foolishnesse in the prophets of Samaria, that prophecied in Baal, & caused my people Israel to erre.

14 I haue seene also in the prophets of Ierusalem k filthines: they commit adulterie & walke in lies: they strengthen also the hands of the wicked that none can † returne from his wickednesse: they are all vnto l me as Sodome, and the inhabitants thereof as Gomorah.

15 Therefore thus saieth the Lord of hostes concerning the prophetes, Beholde, I will feede them with m wormewood, & make them drinke the water of gall: for from the prophets of Ierusalem is ‖ wickednes gone forth into all the land.

16 Thus saith the Lord of hosts, Heare not the wordes of the prophets that prophecie vnto you, and teach you vanitie: they speake the vision of their owne n heart, and not out of the mouth of the Lord.

17 They say still vnto them that despite me, The Lord hath sayd, Ye o shall haue peace: and they say vnto euery one that walketh after the stubbernnesse of his owne heart, No euill shall come vpon you.

18 For p who hath stood in the counsell of the Lord that hee hath perceiued & heard his word? Who hath marked his word and heard it?

19 Beholde, the tempest of the Lorde goeth forth in his wrath, and a violent whirlewind shall fall downe vpon the head of the wicked.

20 The anger of the Lorde shall not returne vntil he haue executed, and till he haue performed the thoughts of his heart: in the latter dayes ye q shal vnderstand it plainly.

21 * I haue not sent these prophets, saieth the Lord, yet they ranne: I haue not spoken to them, and yet they prophecied.

22 But if they had stood in my counsell, and r had declared my words to my people, then they should haue turned them from their euil way, and from the wickednesse of their inuentions.

23 Am I a God at hand, saieth the Lord, and not a God † farre off?

24 Can any hide himselfe in secrete places, that I shall not see him, saith the Lord? Doe not I fill heauen and earth, saith the Lord?

25 I haue heard what the prophets said, that prophecie lies in my Name, saying, I t haue dreamed, I haue dreamed.

26 How long? † Doe the prophets deuise to prophecie lies, euen prophecying the deceite of their owne heart?

27 Thinke they to cause u my people to forget my Name by their dreames, which they tell euery man to his neighbour, as their forefathers haue forgotten my Name for Baal?

28 The prophet that hath a dreame, let him x tell a dreame, and hee that hath my word, let him speake my worde faithfully: y what is the chaffe to the wheate, saieth the Lord?

29 Is not my word euen like a fire, saieth the Lord? and like an hammer, that breaketh the stone?

30 Therefore beholde, I will come against the prophets, saieth the Lorde, that z steale my wordes euery one from his neighbour.

31 Beholde, I will come against the prophets, saith the Lord, which haue sweete tongues, and say, a He saieth.
